★APPENDIX G*GENERAL LEDGER CROSSWALK FOR THE STATEMENT OF FINANCING

The following explains the information included in the columns of the crosswalk (all ending balances are preclosing balances):

- A. Column (1) represents the line number on the statement.
- B. Column (2) identifies the title of the line number on the statement.
- C. Column (3) identifies if the United States Government Standard General Ledger (USSGL) account is preclosing (Pre) or postclosing (Post).
- D. Column (4) indicates the balance or value selected for each account (E = End of period balance, B = Beginning of period balance, E-B = End of period balance less the beginning of period balance).
- E. Column (5) reflects the USSGL account numbers included on each line of the statement.
- F. Column (6) identifies the title of the USSGL account.
- G. Column (7) additional information to be used in developing the presentation of the identified data.

	Comment No. 12: If “costs capitalized on the balance sheet: Property, plant and equipment” line 2.C cannot be derived from the change in the asset accounts, an optional method is to tag the asset transactions that affect this line. The transactions identified thus far that affect “costs capitalized on the balance sheet: Property, plant and equipment” include purchases net of vendor overpayments, donations, transfers-in, transfers-out and the book value of assets sold or disposed of if a budgetary resource is recognized for the proceeds of the sale. Agencies also may find it useful to accumulate the amounts needed from these transactions in an agency-defined memorandum account (9000 series).
	Comment No. 13: Note that other asset transactions that have yet to be identified also may affect this line.

	Comment No. 14: For losses incurred when an asset is sold or disposed of and a budgetary resource is recognized, two options exist for reporting the loss on the Statement of Financing. The first option is to include the book value in Section 2.C: Costs Capitalized on the Balance Sheet and exclude the loss in Section 3. Components of Costs of Operations that Do Not Require or Generate Resources. The second option is to include the loss in Section 3. Then, in Section 2.C, include the book value of the asset less the loss.
	Comment No. 15: Comment: If “costs capitalized on the balance sheet: Purchases of inventory” line 2.C cannot be derived from the change in the inventory accounts, an optional method is to tag the asset transactions that affect this line. The transactions identified thus far that affect “costs capitalized on the balance sheet: Purchases of inventory” include purchases net of vendor overpayments, donations, transfers-in, transfers-out and the book value of assets sold or disposed of if a budgetary resource is recognized for the proceeds of sale. Agencies may also find it useful to accumulate the amounts needed from these transactions in an agency-defined memorandum account (9000 series).

	Comment No. 22: Financing sources yet to be provided may be derived using the change in certain liability accounts if a net increase results. Another option is to use the debit balance of USSGL account 6800, "Future Funded Expenses" and/or USSGL 6850, "Employer Contributions to Employee Benefit Programs Not Requiring Current-Year Budget Authority (Unobligated)."
5.	Net Cost of Operations				Calculation: 1.J + 2.H + 3.F + 4
	Comment No. 23: AN IMPORTANT NOTE: As with a cash-flow statement (no longer required in the federal sector), the Statement of Financing requires a level of detail beyond that of the USSGL accounts. In some instances, such as capitalized asset acquisition and disposition, agencies must analyze transactions to obtain required data. Additional information regarding preparation of this statement is available as illustrative guidance published by the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board in a special edition newsletter, dated March 1, 1999.
