b. Appendices. Appendices such as comparable grades, comparable terms, etc., follow the text of the regulation.

c. Contents Page. A contents page, which lists contents of the regulation down to section level, precedes the introduction.

d. Numbering Paragraphs and Pages:

- (1) For the system used for numbering paragraphs, please see page xviii.
- (2) In correspondence, messages, etc., refer to this regulation as DoDFMR, Vol 7A by paragraph number (subparagraph or DLT if appropriate). For example: "DoDFMR, Vol 7A, subparagraph 080104.A."

e. Use of Decision Logic Tables (DLT). Decision logic tables have been used throughout the regulation to simplify technical instructions.

- (1) Format. DLTs usually contain the following parts:
 - (a) Table heading to identify the type of instruction.
 - (b) Column headings, alphabetically designated. A heavy black line separates condition column headings from action column headings.
 - (c) Condition and action statement rules, numerically designated. A heavy black line separates condition and action headings from condition and action statement rules.
- For example:

TABLE HEADING
R U L E	A	B	C	D	E
	Column Heading
1
2
3

- (2) Reading DLTs. Follow this sequence in reading DLTs:
 - (a) Table heading, to identify instructions.
 - (b) Heading for column A, which leads you to the condition statements that describe the problem you are solving. Condition statements may be an extension of data in column headings, or may be limited to "X" or to "Y" or "N." "Y" means yes. "N" means no. If the condition does not apply for that rule, the condition statement is left blank.

(c) If additional conditions are to be considered, you will know this from column headings B, C, etc.

(d) Then follow the rule line for the conditions describing your precise problem to the specific action statement which applies. Action statement may be an extension of data in action column headings, or may be limited to an "X." "X" means "take this action." The action statement is left blank if that action does not apply, or you are not to take that action.

5. Revisions:

a. Regular Changes. Revisions will be published by means of dated changes to the regulation. New or revised instructions appearing on the pages of a change are indicated by a star placed immediately before the new or revised paragraph, subparagraph, DLT, etc., and are listed in the Summary of Changes.

b. Interim Changes. All changes requiring rapid dissemination will be made by normal means employed by the Service concerned. Such instructions will be formalized and incorporated in the next regular change to the regulation.

c. Effective Date of Changes. The effective date of changes to the regulation will be as stated in the cover sheet accompanying a regular change or as dictated in an interim change message.
