I - Department of Defense (DoD) Security Cooperation Summary

Security Cooperation Overview

The 2025 Interim National Defense Strategic Guidance (INDSG) outlines President Trump's America First defense policy agenda and a vision of peace through strength. The INDSG also makes clear that the United States expects its allies and partners to share their part of the burden of maintaining international peace and security. DoD security cooperation programs and related activities enhance the capabilities and capacity of allies and partners to provide for their own defense, address regional security challenges, and strengthen relationships that promote mutual interests. Bolstered by the Department's security cooperation efforts, more capable allies and partners contribute to addressing shared national security challenges effectively alongside or in lieu of the United States.

The FY 2026 request reflects alignment with the President's America First policy and focuses on advancing DoD objectives related to homeland defense, deterring China, and strengthening burden sharing with allies and partners. As described in the following chapters, changes include the reduction or elimination of some programs and realignment of funding within DoD's security cooperation programs.

Title 10, Chapter 16, Section 301 of the U.S. code defines security cooperation as "any program, activity (including an exercise), or interaction of the Department of Defense with the security establishment of a foreign country to achieve a purpose as follows:

- To build and develop allied and friendly security capabilities for self-defense and multinational operations.
- To provide the armed forces with access to the foreign country during peacetime or a contingency operation.
- To build relationships that promote specific United States security interests."

The Department has implemented significant reforms to align resource allocation to strategic guidance and established an assessment, monitoring, and evaluation (AM&E) program. This budget display is a representation of the Department's progress to date in achieving security cooperation reform and realizing congressional intent in Title 10, Chapter 16, security cooperation.

Security Cooperation (Base Budget)

Section 381(a) of Title 10, U.S. Code, requires a consolidated budget of security cooperation programs and activities be included annually along with the President's Budget request to Congress. The consolidated budget display is intended to enhance planning and oversight of security cooperation programs and related activities across the DoD.

The FY 2026 budget display includes the $4.5 billion requested by the Department for FY 2026 to conduct security cooperation programs and activities. The request supports programs and activities that will be executed under the authorities in Chapter 16 of Title 10, U.S. Code. It also includes funding requests for non-Chapter 16 programs and activities that include some elements or activities that are consistent with the security cooperation definition. This display excludes classified programs, such as programs authorized under Section 127(e) of Title 10, U.S. Code, "support of special operations to combat terrorism." The budget display also excludes Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug activities authorized under Section 284(c) of Title 10, U.S. Code, "Support for counterdrug activities and activities to counter transnational organized crime." Section 284(c) activities are reported in the Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug Activities justification material:

https://comptroller.defense.gov/Portals/45/Documents/defbudget/FY2026/FY2026_Drug_Interdiction_and_Counter-Drug_Activities.pdf

In identifying the specific funds allocated to security cooperation, the Department focused on costs that could be directly tied to security cooperation or similar activities. Many DoD activities, especially in the Military Departments, could be viewed as security cooperation. However, for the purposes of this display, the Department focused on the situations where a security cooperation program is expected to incur an additional cost beyond what the Department would already be doing. For example, if U.S. forces are planning to conduct a training event and two observers from a partner nation are expected to attend, the Department would not reflect the costs of that exercise in this budget display. However, if DoD paid for the travel, lodging and subsistence of those observers to support attendance, then those costs would be captured in this display.

Categories of Security Cooperation Programs and Activities

The FY 2026 budget display groups security cooperation programs, related activities, and the respective authorities through which they are executed into nine (9) categories. Categories 1-5 mirror the subchapters in Chapter 16 of Title 10 and Categories 6-9 supports reform to management and oversight activities (Category 6), humanitarian and assistance activities (Category 7), partner security forces funds for counterterrorism activities and combating insurgencies (Category 8), and cooperative threat reduction efforts aimed at preventing the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction (Category 9). The nine-security cooperation and related activities categories of this display are summarized below:

Category 1: Military to Military Engagements - Security cooperation programs and activities related to the interaction between U.S. military personnel and the national security forces of friendly foreign countries, including the exchange of military personnel, and bilateral and regional cooperation programs.

Category 2: Training with Foreign Forces - Security cooperation programs and activities related to training with military and non-military security forces of friendly foreign countries, as well as the payment of related training and exercise support.

Category 3: Support to Operations - Security cooperation programs and activities that provide logistic support, supplies, services, specialized training, loan of equipment, and reimbursements to support the conduct of operations in which the U.S. military may or may not be directly participating.

Category 4: Capacity Building - Security cooperation programs and activities that build the capacity of a friendly foreign country's security forces through the provision of defense articles and services, including institutional capacity building efforts with international partners.

Category 5: Educational and Training Activities - Security cooperation programs and activities related to the participation of foreign personnel in DoD-sponsored education and training programs, including the Regional Centers for Security Studies.

Department of Defense (DoD)
Security Cooperation (Base Budget)
FY 2026 President's Budget

Category 6: Management, Infrastructure, and Workforce Development - Activities that encompass the administration, management, and oversight of security cooperation programs, to include personnel, information technology, facilities, and costs associated with ensuring a qualified security cooperation workforce, such as the establishment of a certification program.

Category 7: Humanitarian Assistance Activities - Security cooperation programs and activities associated with humanitarian and/or civic assistance for friendly foreign countries.

Category 8: Partner Security Forces Funds - Security cooperation programs and activities associated with the professionalization, cultivation, and sustainment of partner security forces in Iraq and Syria, with a focus on preventing the reemergence of ISIS.

Category 9: Cooperative Threat Reduction Activities - Title 50 activities focused on working with partner civilian and military departments to reduce the threat of weapons of mass destruction (WMD) and WMD-related materials to U.S. national interests.

The remaining sections of this display provide a breakdown of the Department's security cooperation and related activities budget request to meet the congressional intent of 10 U.S.C. 381(a). Section II details the budget requests for the programs and activities comprising each of the nine categories. Section III displays the Department's program requests by authority. The programs and authorities are displayed separately as some DoD programs execute activities under multiple authorities, thereby preventing a one-to-one correlation between program and authority. Section IV provides the Department's request based on organization, and Section V provides the request based on geographic region, defined here as combatant command (CCMD) area of responsibility (AOR).

The 2026 budget display reflects amounts that the Department requested for FY 2026, as well as FY 2025 requested levels, including base-funded Overseas Operations Costs (OOC) which were financed previously with Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) funding.

II - Categories of Security Cooperation Programs and Activities

Category 1: Military to Military Engagements

Military-to-military engagements are a key relationship-building tool for the Department. These programs include exchange of military personnel, payment of incremental expenses and bilateral and regional cooperation programs. Title 10, Chapter 16 provides the Department the authority to conduct nonreciprocal exchanges and authorizes exchanges with non-defense security ministries as well as regional and international security organizations.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

AFRICAN PARTNERSHIP FLIGHT:

The U.S. Air Forces in Europe, Air Forces Africa (USAFE-AFAFRICA) Partnership Flight program includes multilateral military-to-military engagements with African and/or European Air Force partners. Partnership flights provide fora to discuss best practices and lessons learned in the air enterprise to facilitate capability and capacity development. Partnership flights are primarily hosted in U.S. Africa Command or U.S. European Command partner nations and attended by regional partners with similar capability requirements to meet aligned strategic objectives. These security cooperation engagements strengthen U.S. strategic partnerships with key countries in both theaters, share best practices on aviation related topics, and demonstrate best practices in limited practical application (capstone) events. Simultaneously, these engagements build partnerships, enhance regional cooperation and interoperability, and set the foundation for new capabilities and capacity.

AFRICAN PARTNERSHIP STATION:

Africa Partnership Station (APS) is the U.S. Naval Forces Africa's (NAVAF) flagship maritime security cooperation program. APS focuses on strengthening maritime security and ensuring U.S. access and freedom of operation by promoting the U.S. as the partner of choice for African navies and coast guards. APS supports U.S. efforts to improve maritime domain awareness and maintenance capabilities of African partner forces, as well as conducting senior leadership conferences, staff talks, regional information-sharing efforts (such as the Yaoundé and Djibouti Codes of Conduct), the annual Maritime Security Working Group (MSWG), and assessments to inform future capacity-building programs. Additionally, APS supports travel of U.S. personnel to survey African ports in order to conduct ship visits and prepare for theater security cooperation engagement.

U.S. Africa Command (AFRICOM) and NAVAf require APS funds to conduct activities with international partners and governmental/non-governmental organizations that enhance African partner nations' capability to assure maritime security within their exclusive economic zones. These activities support annual maritime action plans that includes both international and interagency partners' activities. Maritime Action Plans for each partner nation support both the AFRICOM Campaign Plan, NAVAf Country Action Plans, and Integrated Country Strategies.

MILITARY TO MILITARY ENGAGEMENTS:

Military-to-military engagements deepen interoperability, develop and exercise joint operational concepts, and demonstrate capabilities, including for the purposes of deterrence or reassurance. Through a variety of exchanges and bilateral and regional cooperation programs, these engagements enable partners to develop the capabilities required to play critical roles in the execution of contingency operations that either (1) enable U.S. forces to prevail, or (2) mitigate risks to U.S. forces. Those roles may include specific missions within an operation, contributing forces to coalition operations, or providing access and infrastructure, if necessary, to enable U.S. or coalition operations. In keeping with 2025 INDSG priorities, the FY 2026 budget request prioritizes engagements in the U.S. Indo-Pacific and Southern Command areas of responsibility.

PACIFIC PARTNERSHIP:

Pacific Partnership is the largest annual multilateral humanitarian and civic assistance and disaster relief (HCA/DR) preparedness mission conducted in the Indo-Pacific. It fosters coordination and cooperation in areas such as medical readiness, disaster resilience, and pre-event preparation for man-made and natural disasters. FY 2026 represents the Pacific Partnership's 19th year, and it continues to enhance regional partnerships and host nation relationships through civil-military cooperation, medical exchanges, engineering exchanges, through side-by-side partnering and intergovernmental agency coordination.

SOUTHERN PARTNERSHIP STATION:

Southern Partnership Station (SPS) is conducted by U.S. Naval Forces Southern Command (USNAVSO)/U.S. 4th Fleet in support of partner nation engagements through the use of Adaptive Force Packages (AFPs). SPS employs AFPs within a regional area of interest while forming long-term tactical and operational cooperative relationships with partner maritime forces. These activities focus primarily on improving U.S. interoperability in support of shaping operations increasing regional maritime security through the cooperative efforts of joint and combined and interagency partners. SPS deployments can include the use of: Oceanographic survey forces; Expeditionary Fast Transport to execute counter threat network and theater security cooperation (TSC) missions; an amphibious ship to conduct multilateral naval and amphibious operations that enhance partner nation interoperability and regional maritime security capabilities; and other various task organized detachments to conduct TSC activities that strengthen U.S. regional credibility, while also improving U.S. and partner nation tactics, techniques, and procedures.

STATE PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM (NATIONAL GUARD):

DoD's State Partnership Program (SPP) contributes to U.S. national security through conducting military-military engagements and building long-term relationships globally in direct support of the Geographic Combatant Commanders' theater campaign plans and U.S. Chief of Mission integrated country strategies. SPP activities promote mutual understanding, interoperability, and readiness of National Guard forces; support combatant command missions; and build enduring relationships with partner nations. Funding supports the National Guard's ability to engage in security cooperation activities with 115 partner nations. These activities include senior leader engagements, subject matter expert exchanges, and conferences, workshops, and exercise participation. This program supports the additional man-days and operation and maintenance (O&M) funding required to plan, coordinate, and execute these SPP activities.

Category 2: Training with Foreign Forces

Training with foreign forces primarily contribute to mission-essential tasks for U.S. forces and improve their ability to execute campaign plans and achieve strategic objectives. Simultaneously, this training builds relationships with friendly foreign forces, improves interoperability, and enhances the integration of partners and enables them to more effectively share the burden of participate in current operations alongside or in lieu of U.S. forces.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

JOINT COMBINED EXCHANGE TRAINING:

The Joint Combined Exchange Training (JCET) program is designed to train U.S. Special Operations Forces (SOF) in foreign internal defense (FID) and unconventional warfare. They are short duration overseas deployments to train with military and other security forces of friendly foreign nations. Benefits to this training program include building and maintaining military-to-military contacts; gaining regional access with minimal footprint; improving interoperability between U.S. SOF and partner nation forces, and; enhancing partner nation forces' counterterrorism abilities.

TRAINING WITH FRIENDLY FOREIGN COUNTRIES:

Training with friendly foreign country programs consist of exercises or engagements designed with the primary purpose of benefitting general purpose U.S. forces, while also building relationships with allies and partners. They are short duration overseas training exercises to train with the military forces of friendly foreign nations. They are intended to build U.S. capability, readiness, and support the conventional force unit's ability to achieve mission essential tasks.

As part of global steady-state operations, DoD seeks to enable partners to carry out a range of specific missions, such as counterterrorism operations, disruption of drug trafficking and other illicit trafficking networks, maritime interdiction, countering weapons of mass destruction, and humanitarian assistance/disaster response operations, in order to promote regional stability and prevent localized threats from growing to require U.S. involvement. Training with friendly forces builds relationships that promote specific U.S. security interests.

Category 3: Support to Operations

Support to operations includes two key roles for partners and allies: Supporting U.S. operations and conducting operations in lieu of U.S. forces. Ultimately, much of the security cooperation enterprise aims to develop the capabilities, relationships, and interoperability that enable countries to fill these two roles; thereby increasing partner burden-sharing. Support to operations encompasses overarching types of assistance:

- Non-reimbursable logistic support, supplies, and services (LSSS); specialized training; and loan of equipment to partners to enable support to U.S. operations;
- Non-reimbursable transportation, sustainment, subsistence, and medical assistance for partner forces supporting U.S. operations to counter ISIS;
- Reimbursable support to certain partners for expenses incurred to increase security, and sustain increased security, along their border; and
- Provide LSSS to countries that are engaged in operations that are in the national security interest of the United States, in which the U.S. may not be participating.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

FOREIGN BORDER SECURITY:

Section 1226 of the National Defense Authorization Action of FY 2008, as amended, provides support to key allies and partner nations on a reimbursable basis for expenses incurred to increase security and sustain increased security along their borders adjacent to conflict areas. This assistance serves to degrade the free movement of Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS) and other violent extremist organizations, illicit weapons, narcotics as well as other forms of smuggling in an effort to promote greater regional security. The decrease in FY 2026 is attributed to the realignment of security assistance programs with the President's priorities and goal to increase burden-sharing with allies and partners.

COALITION SUPPORT FUNDS:

Coalition Support Funds (CSF) allows the Department to provide limited assistance to key cooperating nations that have committed forces to assist in U.S. military operations to counter the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria (ISIS). The CSF are available to reimburse coalition partners for allowable expenses incurred while supporting U.S. military operations. The decrease in FY 2026 is attributed to the realignment of security assistance programs with the President's priorities and goal to increase burden-sharing with allies and partners.

SUPPORT TO CONDUCT OF OPERATIONS:

Operations conducted by friendly foreign countries contribute to burden sharing by enhancing U.S. military national security objectives and reducing the need to deploy U.S. forces when operations advance U.S. interests. The Secretary of Defense may provide up to $750 million annually of non-reimbursable logistic support, supplies, and services (LSSS) to friendly foreign forces participating in combined operations with the United States or a military that benefits U.S. national security interests. Support provided under Title 10 United States Code (U.S.C.) §331 (section 331) may include the procurement of equipment, specialized training, and small-scale construction focused on enhancing capabilities and promoting interoperability. The increase in FY 2026 reflects DoD's support of critical missions, such as the Multinational Support Mission in Haiti authorized by section 331. Historically, DoD did not request funds for missions conducted under section 331 authority.

Category 4: Capacity Building

Capacity building programs form the core of the Department's security cooperation activities and include the provision of defense articles, services, and institutional capacity building. Strategically aligned with the President's America First framework, the Department's building partner capacity programs and activities enhance the capacity of allies and partners to provide for their own defense, reducing the burden on the U.S. warfighters to provide regional security. The Department ensures that capacity building programs not only develop key capabilities, but also strengthen partner nations' capacity to absorb, employ, and sustain these capabilities. Capacity building programs are regularly reviewed and vetted by the Secretary of Defense to ensure a return on U.S. government security sector assistance investments.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

INTERNATIONAL SECURITY COOPERATION PROGRAMS ACCOUNT:

The International Security Cooperation Programs (ISCP) account funds security cooperation programs and activities that build the military capacity of partner forces to address U.S. national security challenges. The Department uses the ISCP account to fund a wide range of activities, including programs and activities authorized under 10 U.S.C. section 332 (Institutional Capacity Building), section 333 (Train-and-Equip), section 335 (U.S.-Colombia Action Plan for Regional Security), and P.L. 114-92, section 1263 (Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative).

Security cooperation programs funded through the ISCP account are prioritized across a range of factors, including strategic alignment, program feasibility, and Combatant Commander prioritization. In line with the Secretary's guidance, ISCP activities are focused on deterring PRC aggression, reducing the flow of illicit goods through the southwest border, buying down risk to forward deployed U.S. warfighters, and shifting the burden for regional security by enabling allies and partners to take on greater responsibility for their own security challenges. ISCP's initiative-based planning supports the Department's efforts to conduct assessment, monitoring, and evaluation of security cooperation activities to ensure programs yield a return on U.S. investments.

UKRAINE SECURITY ASSISTANCE INITIATIVE:

The Ukraine Security Assistance Initiative (USAI) continues to build Ukraine's capacity to defend its sovereignty and territorial integrity. The FY 2025 funding provides assistance and support to the military and national security forces of Ukraine, and to other forces or groups recognized by and under the authority of the Government of Ukraine, including governmental entities within Ukraine, engaged in resisting Russian aggression. The decrease in FY 2026 is attributed to the realignment of security assistance programs with the President's priorities and goal to increase burden-sharing with allies and partners.

TSCI complements Taiwan's defense investments and other U.S. security assistance and security cooperation authorities and incorporates security cooperation assessment, design, planning, and monitoring best practices to ensure efficiencies are identified and implemented.

INTERNATIONAL COUNTERPROLIFERATION PROGRAM:

The DoD International Counterproliferation Program is an interagency program that authorizes DoD, in coordination with other federal agencies, to operate in specified countries, to cooperatively reduce the threat of Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) proliferation. The program improves the capacity of partners to deter, detect and interdict, investigate, and prosecute individuals and organizations that seek to proliferate WMD through the provision of training and the development of doctrine for international civilian law enforcement components, counterterrorism units, border security/customs agents, and other ministerial executives and agencies that have a Counter Weapons of Mass Destruction (CWMD) function. Counterproliferation goals and objectives are derived and prioritized based on broader U.S. CWMD strategy, known proliferation threats and vulnerabilities, and capability gaps of international partners.

Category 5: Educational and Training Activities

Educational and training activities contribute to improved information flow between partners and U.S. personnel, relationships, and interoperability. Activities include a range of educational and training outreach activities, including the six Regional Centers for Security Studies, the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation, Inter-American Air Forces Academy, and the Regional Defense Combating Terrorism and Irregular Warfare Fellowship Program.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

AVIATION LEADERSHIP PROGRAM:

The United States Air Force (USAF) Aviation Leadership Program (ALP) is an authorized Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT) program for friendly, developing foreign countries. The purpose of the program is to qualify graduates of this course for the aeronautical rating of pilot and prepare them for future responsibilities as military officers and leaders in the air force of their nation. The program also aims to promote cultural and informational exchanges to develop mutual cooperation and understanding between the U.S. Air Force (USAF) and participating nations' air forces. Approximately 20 slots are programmed for and financed by USAF appropriated funds each year. The ALP "scholarship" provides for two years of training to include up to a year of language training provided by the Defense Language Institute English Language Center (DLIELC) and a year of aviation training hosted by Air Education and Training Command (AETC) at the 14th Flying Training Wing. The aviation training includes academic and flying training in the USAF T-6 Texan II trainer. The decrease in FY 2026 is attributed to the realignment of security assistance programs with the President's priorities and goal to increase burden-sharing with allies and partners.

INTER-AMERICAN AIR FORCES ACADEMY:

The Inter-American Air Forces Academy (IAAFA) develops partner nation capabilities and strengthens international partnerships through joint, combined, and interagency education and training for allies and partners in the Western Hemisphere. The Academy provides professional military education and technical training to military personnel of the Western Hemisphere and other eligible Partner Nations. Courses offered are based on U.S. strategic objectives stemming from the 2025 INDSG, Combatant Command Campaign Plans, partner nation requirements, and historical needs.

REGIONAL CENTERS FOR SECURITY STUDIES:

The DoD Regional Centers (RCs) conduct academic, research, and outreach activities to promote common perspectives on regional security and promote shared responses to transnational threats. Through these programs and resulting alumni networks, RCs expand both the will and capability of partners to fulfill roles and take actions that support mutual security and defense goals, consistent with U.S. objectives. The DoD RCs are an executive-level, Title 10-authorized strategic complement to traditional invitational professional military education (I-PME), extending beyond the Ministry of Defense to influence a broader range of security and defense stakeholders. Participants in RC programs are generally senior (O-5/GS-14 equivalent and above), multilateral, and inter-ministerial, including security and defense stakeholders from ministries of foreign affairs, justice, law enforcement, and parliamentarians. Section 342 of Title 10 U.S Code authorizes the following DoD Regional Centers: the George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies (GCMC) (Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany); the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies (DKI-APCSS) (Honolulu, Hawaii); the William J. Perry Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies (WJPC) (Washington, D.C.); the Africa Center for Strategic Studies (ACSS) (Washington, D.C.); the Near East-South Asia Center for Strategic Studies (NESA) (Washington, D.C.); and the Ted Stevens Center for Arctic Security Studies (TSC) (Anchorage, Alaska). These programs will focus on Defending the Homeland, Deterring China in the Indo-Pacific, and increasing burden-sharing with allies and partners.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

REGIONAL DEFENSE COMBATING TERRORISM AND IRREGULAR WARFARE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM (RDFP):

The RDFP, authorized in the FY 2004 NDAA (10 USC 2249c), provides foreign military officers and government security officials with strategic and operational education to enhance partners' capacity to combat terrorism. In the FY 2019 NDAA, Irregular Warfare was added to the authority and the program was redesignated the Regional Defense Combating Terrorism and Irregular Warfare Fellowship Program (10 USC Ch. 16 sec. 345). The RDFP is a key tool for the Geographic Combatant Commands (GCCs) to foster regional and global cooperation in the war on violent extremism and terrorism. The RDFP enhances the U.S. Government's efforts to provide non-lethal Irregular Warfare and Combatting Terrorism assistance. The program supports mobile and resident institutional courses tailored to the specific needs of key regions and countries to advance broader U.S. Government objectives. All personnel are thoroughly vetted consistent with legal requirements regarding human rights issues. Funding for the RDFP: (1) builds and strengthens a global network of experts and practitioners at the operational and strategic levels; (2) builds and reinforces the irregular warfare and combating terrorism capabilities of partner nations through operational and strategic-level education; (3) contributes to irregular warfare and counterterrorism ideology efforts; (4) provides the DoD with a flexible and proactive program that can respond to emerging irregular warfare and combatting terrorism requirements.

IRREGULAR WARFARE CENTER:

The IWC is a DoD functional center that was authorized in the FY 2023 NDAA. The IWC serves as the central mechanism for advancing DoD understanding of irregular warfare concepts and doctrine, in collaboration with key partners and allies to enhance integrated deterrence against hybrid threats below the threshold of armed conflict. = The IWC's global network serves as a force multiplier and coordinator of functional IW progress for the Department. In the FY 2019 NDAA, irregular warfare was added to the RDFP authority which was redesignated the Regional Defense Combating Terrorism and Irregular Warfare Fellowship Program (10 USC Ch. 16 sec. 345). The Center provides research and education on key regions and countries to advance broader U.S. Government objectives. Funding for the IWC: (1) builds and strengthens a domestic and global network of irregular warfare experts and practitioners at the operational and strategic levels; (2) builds and reinforces the irregular warfare capabilities of partner nations; (3) provides the DoD with an agile and innovative approaches that can respond to emerging irregular warfare challenges.

Category 6: Management, Infrastructure, and Workforce Development

Pursuant to Title 10, Chapter 16, Section 301 of the U.S. code, these activities support improved oversight, management, and execution of DoD security cooperation activities. The activities encompass three main areas: Professionalizing the security cooperation workforce; instituting Assessment, Monitoring and Evaluation throughout the lifecycle of security cooperation activities; and conducting program management through a single point of accountability to the Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA). These activities also improve DoD's ability to track and prioritize security cooperation activities and enhance congressional oversight of resources by separately funding these centralized activities.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

DEFENSE SECURITY COOPERATION UNIVERSITY (DSCU):

Pursuant to Section 384 of Title 10 U.S. Code, DoD established DSCU to improve the quality and professionalism of the security cooperation workforce. A professional military and civilian security cooperation workforce directly supports effectiveness of security cooperation activities necessary to shift burden and strengthen credible coalitions capable of deterring attacks, while simultaneously supporting the U.S. economy and defense industrial base. The FY 2026 request reflects a consolidated DSCU budget activity in accordance with Section 384(h) (2) of Title 10 U.S. Code. The FY 2024 NDAA established DSCU in statute and further defined its mission to include: education, training, development, and management of the workforce; management of Institutional Capacity Building (ICB) services and international military training and education activities executed by the DoD; as well as advancement of the security cooperation profession through research, data collection, analysis, publication, and learning.

DEFENSE SECURITY COOPERATION SERVICE (DSCS):

The Secretary of Defense directed the establishment of the DSCS, in accordance with the FY 2024 NDAA (10 U.S.C. § 384), to ensure that the Security Cooperation Organization (SCO) workforce stationed at U.S. embassies is appropriately sized and trained to achieve national and theater security cooperation goals and objectives. Achieving national security objectives requires a dedicated SCO workforce with the right training to advise and assist our allies and partners to develop capabilities that address shared security challenges. The DSCS provides the combatant commands with improved security cooperation workforce capabilities and capacity by: (1) enhancing SCO training, (2) right sizing SCO manpower to align with national security priorities and security cooperation workload at each SCO, (3) improving support for partners and allies' access to U.S. security cooperation programs and activities, (4) fully meeting DSCA's statutory and regulatory responsibilities and roles as the Department's lead for all security cooperation program execution and administration consistent with 10 USC § 382, and (5) placing an increased emphasis on supporting GCC efforts in achieving national and theater strategic objectives. In FY 2026, existing SCO funding and the associated manpower will transfer from the GCCs to DSCA to support the establishment of the DSCS.

ASSESSMENT, MONITORING, AND EVALUATION (AM&E):

Section 383, Chapter 16, Title 10 and directs the Secretary of Defense to maintain a program of assessment, monitoring, and evaluation of enterprise DOD security cooperation programs and activities. This requirement is not limited to the security cooperation programs and activities authorized by section 333 and funded through the DSCA ISCP account. The FY 2026 request for AM&E enables the Department to implement and sustain assistance, improve institutional capacity, and build capabilities in the context of country or other relevant objectives, and to identify requirements, gaps, and potential risks. It also supports the identification of best practices and lessons learned, and development of security cooperation policies and plans supporting the security cooperation workforce.

SECURITY COOPERATION STRATEGIC EVALUATIONS:

Independent strategic evaluations align security cooperation activities to defense objectives and promote the efficient application of resources by evaluating U.S. return on investment. Strategic evaluations rigorously develop evidence on the efficiency, effectiveness, relevance, and sustainability of security cooperation initiatives and support improvements to security cooperation strategy, policy, programs, and budgets. Through use of strategic evaluations, the Department is better enabled to understand what security cooperation methods work and why, and document contributions to national and department-level strategic objectives.

Strategic Evaluations are one part of the Department's assessment, monitoring, and evaluation program, which follows the requirements outlined in Title 10 U.S.C. Section 383, and DoD Instruction 5132.14 on Assessment, Monitoring and Evaluation policy for the security cooperation enterprise. Pursuant to this instruction, the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Policy (OUSD(P)) acts as the centralized evaluation office for the security cooperation enterprise. OUSD(P) coordinates with stakeholders to create and prioritize annual strategic evaluation topics, facilitate their conduct, and apply recommendations to the security cooperation enterprise.

Category 7: Humanitarian and Assistance Activities

DoD funds a range of humanitarian, disaster relief, and civic aid programs in support of foreign countries. These programs range from providing assistance during humanitarian crises to training for crisis response with foreign forces. Supporting allies and partners in times of humanitarian crisis, enabling combatant commanders to respond to crises in their areas of responsibility, and working with partners and allies to prepare for crisis response enhances the Department's relationships with existing and potential partners. It also mitigates the impact of crises from affecting DoD personnel stationed in these areas.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

OVERSEAS HUMANITARIAN, DISASTER, AND CIVIC AID:

The Overseas Humanitarian, Disaster, and Civic Aid (OHDACA) appropriation supports DoD and Combatant Command strategies by building partner nation capacity, strengthening alliances, and expanding DoD's access, influence, and visibility. These efforts advance the Administration's priorities by reinforcing burden sharing and regional stability. DoD's humanitarian assistance programs promote collaboration with allies and partners, helping to shape the global environment during peacetime and bolster resilience regions of strategic importance. These programs reinforce efforts to defend the homeland, advance U.S. interests in the Western Hemisphere, and help deter China in the Indo-Pacific. Humanitarian Assistance activities enable DoD to build capacity for partners to share the burden in addressing and resolving a range of threats, allowing the Department to remain focused on its core missions.

Category 8: Partner Security Forces Funds

Partner security force funding supports the goal of building partner capacity to combat insurgencies and terrorist activities within Iraq and Syria, as well as helping ensure the lasting defeat of ISIS. Programs range from basic training and equipping to modernizing and improving the capabilities of U.S. partners. Through a focus on building partner capacity, the Department minimizes over-reliance on U.S. forces to carry out the DoD mission abroad and works toward enabling partners to better manage such threats.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

Category 9: Cooperative Threat Reduction

The DoD derives authority to carry out the Cooperative Threat Reduction Program (CTR) through the Cooperative Threat Reduction Act (Public Law 113-291), and has used this authority to reduce chemical, biological, and nuclear threats to the U.S. and its interests worldwide.

The FY 2026 request reflects the Department's efforts to realign programs with the 2025 INDSG priorities and increase burden sharing with allies and partners.

COOPERATIVE THREAT REDUCTION:

The CTR program enables the Department of Defense (DoD) to work cooperatively with foreign partners to reduce or eliminate the threat of the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction (WMD) or WMD-related materials. To accomplish this, the CTR Program includes several lines of effort: the Biological Threat Reduction Program, the Proliferation Prevention Program, Global Nuclear Security, Chemical Security and Elimination, and Delivery System Threat Reduction. These efforts facilitate the elimination and safe and secure transportation of WMD, weapon components, weapon-related material, and associated delivery vehicles. They also prevent the proliferation of WMD and WMD-related materials and technology.

III - Fiscal Breakdown by Authority

Security Cooperation Programs and Activities by Authority

Section 381(a) requires, to the extent practicable, the budget to be identified by authority. In some cases, this is straightforward, where individual authorities map directly to individual programs or budget line items. In other cases, a program may use multiple authorities and DoD may use an authority for more than one program. The breakdown presented here should be considered notional and may change during execution. In order to align all funding with authorities, those programs that span multiple authorities have either been included in lines listing multiple authorities (e.g., 10 U.S.C. 311 and 312), or the program was included under the authority expected to authorize the preponderance of the funding.

V - Fiscal Breakdown by Geographic Location

Security Cooperation Programs and Activities by Combatant Command's Area of Responsibility

Section 381(a) requires, to the extent practicable, the budget to be identified by region. Where funding is denoted as "Applicable to more than one" geographic region, this includes programs that may involve countries from multiple CCMD AORs, as well as programs whose planning timelines do not enable the geographical area to be determined at this time.
