Explanation: The Congress added funds in the Research, Development, Test, and Evaluation, Navy, 99/00, appropriation for both the Chemical and Biological Incident Response Force (CBIRF) Small Unit Biological Detector and the Chemical Dosimeter programs, which are congressional special interest items. The Joint Program Office for Biological Defense is the Milestone Decision Authority for fielding the CBIRF upon maturation of the technology. Therefore, a reprogramming is necessary to execute these funds in the Chemical and Biological Defense Program. The amount for reprogramming has been adjusted for congressional undistributed reductions.
