Explanation: The government of Colombia, under President Uribé, made great strides against narcoterrorists over the past year. Momentum has increased in Colombia to tilt the scales dramatically towards defeating narcoterrorists and reducing illicit drug trafficking significantly. U.S. government assistance is needed to assist them in this fight. The Interagency Principals endorsed expanded assistance and US SOUTHCOM developed a support package to assist Colombia’s military effort. To take advantage of this opportunity, the Department of Defense decided to increase support to the Colombia military for its fight against narcoterrorists by providing additional funding to the Counter narcotics Central Transfer Account.
