This reprogramming action provides funding in support of higher priority items, based on unforeseen military requirements, than those for which originally appropriated; and are determined to be necessary in the national interest. Explaination: Funds are required to procure 8 Tomahawk Vertical Launch System (VLS) missiles. The Navy sold 45 Tomahawk Torpedo Tube Launch (TTL) missiles and associated support equipment to the United Kingdom (UK). Since the Tomahawk TTL is now out of production, the Navy will replace the Tomahawk TTL with the Tomahawk VLS. The increased quantities resulting from the reprogramming will result in better prices for the United States due to economies of scale. This is a base budget requirement.
