   c. Column 3 – Accrued Variances. Enter the accrued variances for the unliquidated obligations shown in column 2. This amount may change from month to month as the current foreign currency exchange rate changes and/or as the amount of unliquidated obligations changes.

   d. Column 4 – Liquidated Obligations. Enter the dollar amount of foreign currency obligations liquidated in the accounting system at the budget rate of the foreign currency cited within the obligating document.

   e. Column 5 – Realized Variances. Enter the actual dollar amount of the variance resulting from liquidated obligations to date. This amount represents the variance (difference) between obligations at the budget rate and amounts actually disbursed.

   f. Column 6 – Obligations Incurred. Enter the dollar amount of total foreign currency obligations incurred to date at the budget rate. Compute this amount from actual accounting data of obligations incurred at the budget rate. It will not be a derived number.

   g. Column 7 – Planned Overseas Program. The planned overseas program for execution at the budget rate should agree with the current year (CY) column of the Exhibit PB-18 (Foreign Currency Exchange Data). Volume 2B, Chapter 19 contains the format for Exhibit PB-18, which is required to support the PB request for the budget year. Explain any increases or decreases to the planned overseas program during the execution of the CY by country in the monthly report.

3. The report will also include footnotes showing:

   a. The total funding provided to the FCF account by source including:

      (1) Transfers from the FCF, D appropriation;

      (2) Transfers from the component's O&M availability;
(3) Total FCF account funding;

b. The anticipated gains or losses for the remainder of the FY. Estimate the anticipated gains or losses on projected disbursements to the end of the year by computing the variance that would occur if the current foreign currency exchange rates were to remain in effect during the remainder of the year;

c. Transfers to FCF, D due to favorable realized variances;

d. Projected liquidations (budget rate) for the FY. Estimate the obligations (budget rate) that will be disbursed during the FY; and

e. An explanation of deviations from planned overseas program by country. This is required when substantial variances from the “obligations incurred” column exist. This explanation can occur any time prior to the canceling of funds.

* 070402. FCF, D Report (MILPERS)

A. Foreign currency rate variances increase or decrease the value of allowances paid to service members. To maintain the value of that portion of allowances members receive to purchase foreign currency, adjust allowances to offset increases or decreases in foreign currency rates. For purposes of FCF, D transfers, the calculated effect on MILPERS disbursements that result from changes in foreign currency rates (foreign currency variance) is the difference in dollars required for the allowance at budget exchange rates and the current allowance rates. However, FCF, D transfers are approved only for Cost-of-Living Allowances (COLA) and Overseas Housing Allowances (OHA).

B. DFAS Departmental Reporting Directorate-Indianapolis is responsible for submitting this consolidated monthly report to the ODC(P/B), OUSD(C).

C. The process for identifying the foreign currency impact on COLA and OHA is as follows:

1. Identify total expenditures by the Military Departments for COLA and OHA by officer and enlisted for the country currencies included in the FCF, D account.

2. OUSD(P&R) Military Compensation Policy will report to the DFAS Service Component central accounting activities the appropriate COLA and OHA index based on current exchange rates. For FCF, D, OUSD(P&R) Military Compensation Policy will also report COLA and OHA indices based on the budget exchange rates.

3. DFAS Service Component central accounting activities will access affected personnel pay accounts and identify the COLA and OHA disbursements, by officer and enlisted, according to designated location codes.
4. DFAS Service Component central accounting activities will calculate the foreign currency impact by estimating the differences between budget exchange rates and current exchange rates applied to the total expenditures for COLA and OHA.

5. Consolidate foreign currency amounts and identify the remaining expenditures for the end-of-month recorded disbursements.

D. The COLA foreign currency report format structure is:

1. Service,
2. Country (FCF, D country),
3. Budget Rate,
4. COLA Rate,
5. COLA Code,
6. COLA Code Change Indicator,
7. Budget Index,
8. Allowance Index,
9. COLA Factor,
10. Actual COLA Enlisted Disbursement,
11. Budgeted COLA Enlisted Amount MILPERS Appropriation,
12. COLA Realized Variance Enlisted,
13. Actual COLA Officer Disbursement,
14. Budgeted COLA Officer Amount MILPERS Appropriation,
15. COLA Realized Variance Officer,
16. Actual COLA Officer/Enlisted Disbursement Total,
17. Budgeted COLA Officer/Enlisted Amount MILPERS Appropriation Total, and
18. COLA Realized Variance Officer/Enlisted Total.
E. The OHA foreign currency report format structure is:

1. Service,
2. Country (FCF, D country),
3. Budget Rate,
4. OHA Rate,
5. OHA Factor,
6. Actual OHA Enlisted Disbursement,
7. Budgeted OHA Enlisted Amount MILPERS Appropriation,
8. OHA Realized Variance Enlisted,
9. Actual OHA Officer Disbursement,
10. Budgeted OHA Officer Amount MILPERS Appropriation,
11. OHA Realized Variance Officer,
12. Actual OHA Officer/Enlisted Disbursement Total,
13. Budgeted OHA Officer/Enlisted Amount MILPERS Appropriation Total, and
14. OHA Realized Variance Officer/Enlisted Total.

F. Report the following information by OUSD(P&R) Military Compensation Policy and use it to prepare the monthly COLA and OHA foreign currency execution reports:

1. Column A – Country. This column lists the budget countries subject to FCF, D requirements.
2. Column B – Budget Rate. This column identifies the FY budget exchange rates as set by OUSD(C).
3. Column C – COLA Rate. This column identifies the current market exchange rate upon which both COLA and OHA are set (allowance rate).
4. Column D – COLA Code. For countries with multiple COLAs, many locations are linked and receive the same index. This code identifies linked locations for COLA purposes.
5. Column E – COLA Code Change Identifier. This column identifies whether a change has been made this period to the COLA Code.

6. Column F – Budget Index. This column represents the COLA index based on budget rate.

7. Column G – Allowance Index. This column represents the COLA index based on allowance rate.

8. Column H – COLA Factor. This column represents the multiplication factor for COLA disbursements based on budget and allowance indices.

9. Column I – OHA Factor. Compute the balance for this column by taking the budget rate minus the OHA rate divided by OHA rate.

DD-COMP (M) 1761 – Foreign Currency Fluctuation, Construction, Defense Report

A. DFAS Departmental Reporting Directorate-Indianapolis is responsible for submitting this consolidated monthly report to ODC(P/B), OUSD(C).

B. The DFAS Service Component central accounting activities, NSA, and DoDEA will provide a monthly report to the DFAS Departmental Reporting Directorate-Indianapolis using the format in Figure 7-2.

1. Submit the reports in accordance with due dates established by DFAS-Indianapolis and consistent with the requirements of OUSD(C).

2. The report will include the following:
   a. Column 1 – Country. Alphabetically list the specified country.

   b. Column 2 – Monetary Unit. Enter the monetary unit of the country.

   c. Column 3 – Foreign Currency Unliquidated Obligations. Enter the dollar amount of unliquidated obligations at the budget rate. Report unliquidated obligations by FY.

   d. Column 4 – Accrued Variance. Enter the accrued variance for the unliquidated obligations in column 4. This amount may change from month to month as the current foreign currency exchange rate changes. Report accrued variances by FY.

   e. Column 5 – Foreign Currency Liquidated Obligations. Enter the dollar amount of total obligations liquidated for the report month at the budget rate.
f. Column 6 – Realized Variance. Enter the actual dollar amount of the variance resulting from liquidated obligations for the month. This amount represents the variance (difference) between obligations at the budget rate and the amount actually disbursed. Charge all realized variances against the applicable FCF accounts for construction, military family housing operations and maintenance, and military family housing construction.

g. Column 7 – FCF Account Projected 6-Month Disbursements. Enter the projected 6-month disbursements from the FCF accounts based on historical outlay data, contract requirements, and payment schedules.

3. The report will also include footnotes showing:

a. The anticipated gains or losses for the rest of the FY (estimate this figure by computing the variance that would occur if the present currency exchange rates were to remain unchanged during the remainder of the FY); and

b. The total amount of funding transferred to the FCF accounts from the FCF, C, D appropriation.

CHAPTER 9

ACCOUNTING AND REPORTING FOR OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF THE FAMILY HOUSING PROGRAM

0901  GENERAL

090101.  Overview

This chapter provides accounting support for Family Housing Operation and Maintenance (O&M) requirements and prescribes an accounting structure that accumulates Family Housing O&M costs consistent with guidance set forth in Volume 2B, Chapter 6. Congress established the Family Housing O&M appropriation to separate the funding of Family Housing O&M from other O&M programs. Charge all obligations incurred for O&M to support the military Family Housing Program to the Family Housing O&M appropriation.

090102.  Purpose

The purpose of the account structure is to provide uniform procedures for consistently identifying, accumulating, and reporting family housing program costs. It is important that methods for computing costs for the Family Housing Program are as uniform as practicable among the Department of Defense (DoD) Components. Such uniformity is essential to permit intra-DoD and inter-DoD Component program, budget, and cost comparison, irrespective of the management service, the agency, or the accounting system used at the installation. Cost identification and computation methods specified herein should minimize the accounting effort and detail required to compute costs. Costs for operating and maintaining family housing facilities must be identified as prescribed in this chapter and are the basis for reports referenced herein.

090103.  Authoritative Guidance

The Family Housing Program encompasses Military Family Housing, as defined and authorized by the provisions of Title 10, United States Code (U.S.C.), Chapter 169, and includes all DoD Component family housing in the Defense Family Housing Property Account, leases of real property utilized by DoD Components for family housing, and associated family housing support services programs. The policies prescribed throughout this chapter, pertaining to the accounting and reporting for O&M costs of the Family Housing Program, are based upon 10 U.S.C., Chapter 169 and the laws and regulations cited herein.

*0902  SCOPE

This policy applies to all DoD Components that support military family housing under the Family Housing Program. Military Departments’ Housing Privatization support costs associated with the Military Housing Privatization Initiative (MHPI) Program, such as assessments/studies; portfolio, program, and asset management; construction oversight; consultant fees; and other administrative costs, are funded by the Family Housing O&M appropriation and fall within the parameters of this policy. The Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Sustainment (OASD(S)) and Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) MHPI Program administrative support costs are separately budgeted, accounted for, and reported in the Defense-wide Family Housing Improvement Fund (FHIF) and Military Unaccompanied Housing Improvement Fund (MUHIF) Program accounts.

0903 ACCOUNT STRUCTURE AND CONTENT

090301. Accounts Used for Accumulating Costs

A series of accounts has been established and maintained for accumulating Family Housing O&M costs incurred and reimbursements earned through the Family Housing Program. Compute and identify costs and reimbursements to the accounts in accordance with the guidance herein. Use the accumulated costs and reimbursements in the accounts to support budget exhibits and budget execution reports.

090302. Required Summary and Subordinate Accounts

The following is a list of required summary and subordinate accounts.

A. Operations Account

1. Management Account. This account accumulates costs of management, administrative, and support-type services at the installation level involving:

   a. Administration costs for installation housing offices, including management office personnel, supplies, equipment, and utilities pertaining to the functions of a family housing office. These costs also include administrative support services provided in supply, comptroller, maintenance, and other installation offices when the costs for such services are attributable to family housing;

   b. Costs for administering and providing housing referral services and assistance in locating and inspecting privately-owned family housing for DoD personnel;

   c. Costs for requirements surveys and preliminary studies, including Family Housing market analyses, condition assessments, survey requirements for construction plans, and concept development. This account also includes community liaison and planning for improvement and rental guarantee projects and inspection; and

   d. Other identifiable management costs that directly support the Family Housing Program.

2. Services Account. This account accumulates costs for authorized services for Government-owned family housing units. For privatized housing, the developers are financially responsible for the reimbursement or payment of services provided.
a. Refuse Collection and Disposal. These services include collecting garbage, trash, ashes, debris, and refuse disposal for family housing, such as the O&M of incinerators, sanitary fills, and regulated dumps. These services also include acquisition, maintenance, and repair of garbage and trash containers, and operation of can-washing facilities.

b. Fire Protection. This service includes costs for protection and fire prevention efforts for family housing facilities.

c. Police Protection. This service includes the costs for law enforcement, traffic control, and protection of family housing facilities.

d. Entomological Services. These services include costs of all control measures against fungi, insects, and rodents within family housing dwellings, facilities, and areas.

e. Custodial Services. These services include costs of janitorial and custodial services performed in common service areas and the cost of elevator operation in family housing facilities.

f. Snow Removal. This service includes the costs of removing, hauling, and disposing of snow; ice alleviation; and erection, maintenance, repairs, and removal of snow fences for family housing areas.

g. Street Cleaning. This service includes the costs of cleaning streets comprised of sweeping, flushing, and picking up litter.

h. Municipal Type Services. These services include costs of miscellaneous municipal type services not identifiable to other listed accounts.

i. Other Services. The costs of all other authorized services for family housing fall into this category.

3. Furnishings Account. This account accumulates costs for initial acquisition, maintenance, repair, and replacement of furnishings, furniture, movable household equipment, and authorized miscellaneous items. This account also includes costs of controlling, handling, record keeping, and moving of Government-owned furnishings into and out of dwelling units; charges for connecting and disconnecting equipment; and handling costs incident to storage. Also included are furnishings for Special Command Positions and Senior Leadership as prescribed in DoD Manual 4165.63, “DoD Housing Management.”

4. Miscellaneous Account. This account accumulates costs of operational items that do not fall into management, services, or furnishings accounts. This account includes:
a. Lease, rents, and permit payments for housing and trailer spaces leased by the Government from private sources or provided by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA);

b. Reimbursement costs for dwellings provided by State (e.g., International Cooperative Administrative Support Services), municipal, or foreign governments, or by Federal agencies other than the FHA or VA. This includes payments from the Military Departments to the U.S. Coast Guard for family housing provided to their military personnel;

c. German land taxes paid to the Federal Republic of Germany under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Status of Forces Agreement for local taxes on land and improvements of family housing property;

d. Fire insurance charges paid to the Federal Republic of Germany to cover fire damage to family housing dwelling units;

e. United Kingdom accommodation charges paid in accordance with the country-to-country agreement for housing provided to U.S. Forces; and

f. Other miscellaneous operations costs not covered elsewhere.

B. Utility Account. This is a summary account for accumulating costs for utilities consumed in family housing, including electricity, water, sewage, natural gas, fuel oil, or other heating fuels. This account excludes the costs of maintenance and repair of utility systems identified to the family housing property covered under the Maintenance Account. Exclude other costs reported as “Services” from the utility operations account.

C. Maintenance Account

1. Dwellings Account. This account accumulates costs of maintenance and repair, including all interior utilities and installed equipment, of all family housing buildings in real property category codes 711, 712, and 714, as defined in the DoD Real Property Categorization System, which is established by DoD Instruction 4165.03, “DoD Real Property Categorization.” Typically, accumulating costs for this account involves:

a. Service calls for minor work, including emergency and temporary repairs normally not in excess of 16 work hours;

b. Routine maintenance for occupancy work and other maintenance usually scheduled annually or more frequently;

c. Repairs and replacements for rehabilitations and replacement of major components and installed equipment;

d. Interior and exterior painting and the necessary preparation; and
e. Contract cleaning between occupancy, where authorized.

2. Exterior Utilities Account. This account accumulates costs of maintenance and repair of electric, gas, water, sewage, and other utility distribution, collection, or service systems assigned to family housing. Street and area lighting systems are included in exterior utilities beginning at a point 5 feet from the house line and ending at a point where the utility system joins a common use main or terminates.

3. Other Real Property Account. This account accumulates costs for maintenance other than to dwellings and exterior utilities, including:

   a. Maintenance, care, and repair of improved and unimproved grounds, storm sewerage, and drainage structures; and costs of acquisition, maintenance, and repair of Government-owned minor equipment, such as hand-operated lawnmowers used for grounds maintenance by occupants;

   b. Maintenance and repair of paved or stabilized streets, roads, walks, and driveways; utility, service, and parking areas, as well as curbs, gutters, signs, and other road appurtenances; and

   c. Maintenance and repair of facilities other than dwellings, such as fences when the facility is dedicated to housing, athletic and recreation facilities, community buildings, service facilities, and the costs of maintenance of trailer sites including outlets.

4. Alterations and Additions Account. This account accumulates costs for incidental additions, expansions, extensions, and alterations to existing real property. These costs include payments made to military personnel for telephone reconnection charges when maintenance or repair work necessitates Government-directed, nonpermanent change-of-station moves, and charges resulting from improvement or repair projects funded in part from the family housing construction account.

D. Leasing Account

1. Lease Cost – Foreign Account. This account accumulates costs for charges and other payments specified in the lease agreement for housing in foreign countries under 10 U.S.C., section 2828.

2. Lease Cost – Foreign Account Government Rental Guarantee Program (GRGP). This account accumulates costs for charges and other payments specified in the lease agreement for housing in foreign GRGPs (e.g., Europe under the Army GRGP programs).

3. Lease Cost – Domestic Account. This account accumulates costs for charges and other payments specified in the lease agreement for housing in the United States, including U.S. possessions and territories, as specified in 10 U.S.C. § 2828.
4. Lease Cost – Section 2835 Account. This account accumulates costs for charges and other payments specified in the lease agreement for 10 U.S.C. § 2835 housing contracts for the lease of facilities on or near military installations, essentially a build-to-lease guarantee to a local property developer.

5. Rental Guarantee – Section 2836 Account. This account accumulates costs accounted for under rental guarantees for a minimal occupancy rate or rental income for 10 U.S.C. § 2836 housing. This program allows the DoD Components to enter into lease agreements guaranteeing that tenants occupy rental housing on or near installations.

6. Other O&M Cost. This series of accounts accumulates costs for maintenance, utilities, and contracted services not provided by the lessor for foreign, GRGP, domestic, and 10 U.S.C. § 2835 and § 2836 housing. They include initial make-ready costs, costs of Government-owned furnishings, any pro rata share of the costs of installation services, and administrative costs, such as assignment, travel, and inspection by installation personnel. Reimbursements to the Department of State for foreign affairs administrative support costs are also included.

E. Mortgage Insurance Premiums Account. This is a summary account for accumulating the costs for service members’ mortgage insurance premium payments pursuant to 12 U.S.C. § 1701, also referred to as the “National Housing Act.” See Volume 2B, Chapter 6 for more guidance.

F. Foreign Currency Fluctuations Account. This is a summary account for accumulating the gains or losses arising from foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations in accordance with the requirements in Chapter 7.

G. Reimbursements Account. This is a summary account for accumulating reimbursements collected during the current fiscal year for Family Housing O&M rental and service charges billed to occupants and for proceeds from handling or disposing of excess housing property. Identify reimbursements for Foreign Military Sales (FMS)-funded and Non-FMS-funded accounts separately.

1. FMS-Funded Account. This account accumulates all reimbursements from FMS-funded activities or sources. Identify the amounts within the account as to the nature of the reimbursements, for example, recovery of the costs of operations, utility operation, maintenance of real property facilities, or proceeds from property handling or disposal.

2. Non-FMS-Funded Account. This account accumulates reimbursements from other than FMS-funded activities or sources. Identify the amounts within the account as to the nature of the reimbursements, for example, recovery of the costs of operations, utility operation, maintenance of real property facilities, or proceeds from property handling or disposal.

H. Housing Privatization Support Account. Use this account for accumulating costs the Government incurs in direct support of the MHPI program with the exception of the costs included as part of the privatization project. These costs are associated with the support of the MHPI program and specifically for:

1. Site assessment costs, including environmental baseline assessments, environmental assessments, environmental impact statements, and any efforts required by the Government prior to privatization for environmental mitigation, site surveys, or real estate costs;

2. Project costs, including project feasibility studies, concept development, consultant fees, solicitation, procurement, contracting, execution, transition, construction management, post-award management and monitoring, and portfolio management; and

3. Administrative costs, including civilian pay, travel, training, supplies, equipment, and services provided by a Defense agency in support of the privatization program.

0904 COST IDENTIFICATION PROCEDURES

090401. Obligations Incurred

The DoD Components must identify the obligations incurred, both in-house and by contract, to operate and maintain family housing programs.

090402. Identifiable and Measurable Costs

Charge costs to the applicable family housing account to the extent they are reasonably identifiable and measurable to the housing program. This practice does not prevent the use of engineered standards or estimates in charging utilities when metering devices are not used.

090403. Obligations for Administrative Costs

Limit obligations incurred for administrative support and supervision efforts to those incurred at installation level and do not include those incurred at echelons of command above the installation. An exception is made when amounts for administrative support and supervision are included in charges assessed by a field office of a construction agent.

090404. Criteria for Support Costs

Assign other efforts, goods, or services provided to family housing programs to appropriate family housing accounts based on relative workload, benefit, or other measurement. Use the following general criteria in assigning support costs to the Family Housing Program:

A. When the support provided is predominantly personnel-intensive, costs must be allocated based on a pro rata basis of workload or actual costs, whenever possible. This would include collateral duty management assignments involving command or policy determinations related to personnel, financial management, legal, procurement, or similar areas;

B. When the support provided has a mix of personnel, equipment, materials, or supplies, allocate costs based on workload (e.g., printing or reproduction services or computer support involving a mix of resources) or actual costs, whenever possible. Use the proportion of workload for the Family Housing Program to the total workload to compute the portion of the total costs identified to the Family Housing Program; and

C. When the support provided predominantly involves specific goods or services (e.g., electricity, gas, water, or sewer), allocate costs based on the relative amount consumed or quantity used or actual costs, whenever possible.

090405. General or Flag Officers Costs

When a set of quarters is intended for or occupied by officers of General or Flag rank, identify the costs accumulated for the O&M of each set of quarters within the accounts specified in this chapter and reported in accordance with the requirements prescribed by the OASD(S).

090406. Costs Identified to the Family Housing Program

When identifying Family Housing O&M costs to the program, the general premise is to assign all applicable costs. When an incidental level of effort, supplies, or services are provided on a nonrecurring basis, costs need not be identified to the program if they are insignificant and it is not cost effective to measure and assign the costs. As a general rule, cost identification is necessary when the support is more than incidental.

090407. Installation Managers Responsibility

Installation management officials, such as the installation commander, public works officer, housing director, or comptroller, are responsible for identifying the O&M costs for the Family Housing Program, whether funded by Family Housing O&M or other appropriations. Installation managers must periodically review manning standards, workload and consumption methods, and other factors used to identify efforts in support of the program. When variances occur in efforts, workload, or other resources consumed, reset the basis of allocating such costs to the program. Management must also review charges to the accounts specified herein to ensure that none have been inadvertently omitted or erroneously included.

0905 COST ELEMENTS AND COMPUTATION OF CHARGES

090501. Full Absorption Basis

Charge costs to the program in proportion to the actual efforts used, goods consumed, or services received by the Family Housing Program. Fully charge dedicated efforts or responsibilities for the program. For example, charge total costs for full-time management and staff to the Family Housing Program. Compute and expense all costs of providing program support to the program on a full absorption basis, i.e., full cost for dedicated support and pro rata cost for other support.

A. Apply the normal business fund overhead rates to family housing support for Defense Working Capital Fund (DWCF) real property maintenance activities, which have a primary mission of facility maintenance.

B. Apply the applicable rate to direct work or service in support of family housing for other funded real property maintenance activities with established shop or productive expense rates.

090502. Labor Costs

Compute the labor effort of military or civilian personnel assigned and identified to family housing for pay and benefits using a labor distribution system, if available, or the guidance in Volume 11A, Chapter 1. Review and validate personnel efforts annually to support charges to family housing. Accumulate and classify military labor as an unfunded cost within the account structure since the cost is not a reimbursable charge to the program.

090503. Material and Supplies Costs

Compute costs for material and supplies based upon the relative or actual amount consumed, or the quantity used. Compute material and supplies at acquisition price if directly (locally) purchased or at standard inventory price if issued through the supply system.

090504. Costs of Services

Compute and charge, upon receipt, services provided by Government forces or contractors, such as refuse collection and disposal, entomological, and custodial activities. Family housing must bear the full cost of these services when it is the sole customer. Charge a partial cost to family housing when the family housing portion of such services is readily separable and distinct. When the service operation is too intertwined or complex to enable ready identification of proper family housing costs, charge costs to family housing based on the proportionate amount of service received on a unit-of-service basis, such as number of refuse pickups or square feet of floor area receiving custodial service.

090505. Utility Costs

Compute utility costs based upon consumption. All DWCF-funded activities providing utilities must compute the charges consistent with their normal procedures. All other activities must compute the charge to family housing at the rate the utility is purchased from the supplier. If not metered, then base consumption on documented engineering estimates.
090506. Equipment Usage Costs

Compute equipment usage costs for rented property at the lease or rental rate. Limit cost computation in the case of Government-owned equipment to the expenses of operating and maintaining the equipment and charges for the operator’s time when provided by other than family housing. Do not compute acquisition costs or periodic depreciation charges.

090507. Unfunded Costs

Treat military labor and headquarters costs, included in construction agent administrative support and supervision effort above the installation level, as unfunded costs in computing Family Housing O&M costs.

0906 REIMBURSEMENTS

090601. FMS-Funded and Non-FMS-Funded Accounts

Use FMS-funded and non-FMS-funded accounts to accumulate reimbursements for charges initially financed by the Family Housing O&M appropriation for the Family Housing Program or proceeds from handling or disposing of family housing property. Record all reimbursements in the family housing reimbursement accounts.

090602. Reimbursements

Ordinarily, reimbursements are for rental and service charges paid by occupants or users of family housing facilities. Some collections are refunds that include the costs of repairing damages and replacement of items to family housing facilities.

090603. Reimbursements for Recovery of Expenses

Reimbursements involve the recovery of expenses for handling and disposing of excess family housing property as well as the proceeds from sales of such property. Collections are used for various purposes, such as defraying O&M expenses or the payment of debt. Volume 2B, Chapter 6 provides policy guidance governing such collections, use, and reporting.

0907 INTERNAL CONTROL

Management must develop and implement internal control techniques to ensure effective control over and accountability for the resources charged to this program and for the full and prompt receipt of all proceeds from reimbursements for rents, service charges, and disposal or handling of excess family housing property.
0908 REPORTING

* 090801. Responsibility of DoD Components

The DoD Components responsible for operating and maintaining family housing facilities are required to prepare the reports described in this chapter. Administrators of Housing programs under MHPI are required to prepare these reports for the FHIF and MUHIF program accounts. The FHIF and MUHIF Financing accounts, however, require only the Standard Form (SF) 133, Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources.

090802. Reports

Data derived from the uniform account structure identified in this chapter must be used when preparing and submitting the following reports.

A. Appropriation Status by Fiscal Year Program and Subaccounts Report (Accounting Report (Monthly) 1002). The DoD Components must prepare and distribute the report in accordance with the guidance contained in Chapter 4.

B. SF 133. The DoD Components must prepare and distribute the monthly report for the annual portion of the Family Housing O&M category of the family housing appropriation in accordance with the guidance prescribed in Chapter 4.

090803. Military Departments/DFAS and Intermediate/Installation-Level Report Requirements

Reporting requirements for family housing reports at the center/service and intermediate/installation-level are addressed in manuals and instructions published by the individual Services or DFAS central accounting activities.

INTERNATIONAL BALANCE OF PAYMENTS REPORTING AND ESTIMATING

1301 GENERAL

DoD Components are required to report expenditures and receipts that affect the U.S. International Balance of Payments (IBOP). The IBOP report provides information required by the Department of Commerce and the Department of the Treasury (Treasury) for control of IBOP financial transactions.

130101. Purpose

This chapter establishes the policies and requirements for the accounting and reporting of DoD international transactions related to U.S. balance of payments data, including grants and credits extended to foreign countries.

130102. Authoritative Guidance

Authoritative guidance for this chapter is derived from Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Statistical Directive 19: “Reports of the Department of Commerce on International Transactions” (Directive 19). Directive 19 established the IBOP transaction reporting requirements to the Department of Commerce. Reported information is used by the United States in managing balance of trade with foreign nations.

1302 REPORTING OVERVIEW

130201. Applicability and Scope

A. These requirements apply to the OSD, the Military Departments (Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps), Defense Agencies (including the Military Postal Service (MPS) and nonappropriated fund activities), and DoD Field Activities (hereafter referred to collectively as “DoD Components”). DoD Components are responsible for reporting transactions affecting the IBOP. Each Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) main site (Indianapolis, Columbus, and Cleveland) is responsible for consolidating the data for the DoD Components and submitting a final report to the Department of Commerce. While DFAS reports a majority of the IBOP data, the Department of Commerce may identify specific information to be reported directly by select DoD components.

B. The requirements cover all transactions that relate to the IBOP report, including specified data on DoD assets and liabilities abroad and foreign currency transactions, DoD international investments, Foreign Military Sales, transfers of property and services abroad, and foreign grants and credits. This chapter’s requirements apply to all transactions, regardless of payment method (e.g., U.S. dollars, foreign currency, and purchase card) accounted for in any of the following:
1. Expenditures from or reimbursements to U.S. dollar appropriation and fund accounts (general and special funds, public enterprise funds, deposit funds, and trust fund accounts for military and civilian functions);

2. Transfer appropriation accounts including Foreign Military Sales;

3. General fund receipt accounts established by the Treasury for collection of miscellaneous receipts for which the DoD has billing and collecting responsibility;

4. Expenditures or receipts of foreign currencies charged or credited to other than U.S. dollar appropriation and fund accounts (such as DoD Foreign Currency (Foreign Transaction (FT) accounts));

5. Receipts or donations of commodities or services;

6. Transfers under special drawdown authority of the President, Excess Defense Articles (EDA) program, or international treaties;

7. Nonappropriated fund activities, such as commissaries, post exchanges, and officers’ clubs; and

8. All MPS transactions, such as meters (including Postage Validation Imprinters Sales), stamps, and money orders.

130202. Report Formats and Rules

The report formats and edit and validation rules for submission are provided in Tables 13-1 through 13-4. Sample formats are shown in Tables 13-5 through 13-7.

130203. Definitions

A. Abroad. The term abroad includes all foreign countries and the Panama Canal Commission, but excludes the United States, its possessions, Puerto Rico, Guam, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

B. Accommodation Sales. Accommodation sales represent the sale of foreign currencies for dollars to U.S. personnel for their personal use in a foreign country.

C. Collections. Collections are receipts in currencies (both foreign and U.S.), checks, or other negotiable instruments and net of repayments.

D. Constructive Delivery. Constructive delivery is the delivery of materiel to a carrier for transportation to the consignee; the delivery of materiel to the customer or the designated forwarder at point of production, testing, or storage; delivery at dockside, at airports, or to a U.S. post office for shipment to the consignee. Completed shipping documents or listings of delivery to the U.S. Post Office provide evidence of delivery.
E. Contract. A contract is any type of agreement or order for procurement of materiel, supplies, and services of any amount including purchase orders, delivery orders, service orders, and similar authorizations.

F. Delivery. Delivery is the performance of services for the customer or requisitioner; the constructive delivery of materiel as defined in subparagraph 130203.D; or collections for services, transportation, and materiel when they are normally recorded in the billing and collection cycle immediately following performance.

G. Foreign Military Sales. Foreign military sales represent the sale of materiel, supplies, equipment, services, and any other support for cash or credit by a DoD Component to a foreign government or international organization as authorized by the Arms Export Control Act (AECA) of 1976, as amended.

H. Foreign Resident. The term foreign resident is comprised of the government of a foreign country and all its agencies and subdivisions, corporations, and any individuals residing in a foreign country, except for those defined as follows.

1. Consider a corporation a resident of the country in which it is incorporated. Count a subsidiary as a separate corporation and as a resident in the country where it is incorporated. Business offices and branches of U.S. corporations are residents of the countries where they are located. A corporation operating in a foreign country without a subsidiary or foreign business office or branch is a resident of the country in which it is incorporated. A business representative, however, such as the ticket office of a U.S. transportation company or a sales agent, is not considered a foreign business office.

2. An individual, including a retired U.S. citizen, is a resident of the country in which he or she resides, and not the country of his or her citizenship.

3. An international organization with multi-governmental members is not considered a resident of any particular country.

I. Gross Pay Foreign Nationals. The term gross pay foreign nationals is the amount paid to or on behalf of a foreign national citizen or organization, including U.S. contributions to the foreign government, and fees charged by a foreign government under contracts for indirect hire.

J. Guaranty Financing. Guaranty financing includes items associated with the guaranty of private credit by the U.S. Government under the AECA of 1976, as amended.

K. Interest. The term interest includes interest collected on military assistance or foreign military long-term credit, interest collected by finance and accounting officers for short-term deposits made in financial institutions that share in interest remitted to a DoD Component under Guaranty Financing arrangements, and interest on advances to foreign residents.
L. Joint Weapons Production and Exchange Agreements. Joint weapons production and exchange agreements includes both production of military end items by a foreign country or resident with participation by a DoD Component through payment of cash, or the provision in kind of materiel, assemblies, components, or services, and a joint sharing of the end items as determined by the agreement. This includes co-production, cost sharing, exchange agreements, joint production, North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) consortiums, and others as authorized by the AECA of 1976, as amended.

M. Military Assistance Grant Aid. Military assistance grant aid is the provision of any type of assistance in the form of materiel, supplies, equipment, facilities, training, transportation and services, or otherwise by a DoD Component to a foreign government or international organization. The AECA of 1976 and the Foreign Assistance Act (FAA) of 1961 authorize such assistance. These provisions include Foreign Military Financing (FMF), International Military Education and Training (IMET), the Military-to-Military Contact Program, Special Drawdown Authority, the EDA Program, and Building Partnership Capacity (BPC) programs.

N. MPS. The MPS is the single DoD point of contact with the U.S. Postal Service (USPS). An agreement between the DoD and the USPS establishes the MPS as an extension of the USPS abroad and in the continental United States, as applicable.

O. Net Pay. Net pay is the part of gross pay that is given, mailed, or electronically transferred directly to the individual by cash, check, or electronic transfers. This can include paychecks mailed or transferred by a disbursing officer (DO) to any bank or financial institution for credit to the individual account of U.S. personnel stationed abroad. Net pay includes allotment checks for U.S. personnel stationed abroad or in the United States (for dependent support, personal accounts) mailed to a foreign address (including Army Post Offices), Fleet Post Offices (FPOs), and Diplomatic Post Offices (for foreign addressees), but excludes allotment checks mailed to a U.S. address.

P. Net Pay U.S. Personnel. The term net pay U.S. personnel includes earned entitlements (pay and allowances) for U.S. military forces, allowances to enlisted personnel for subsistence, and amounts earned or otherwise payable to U.S. civilian employees. Net pay excludes U.S. contributions (e.g., life insurance, retirement, health benefits, and social security), but includes amounts that may be withheld from personnel for these items or that are allotted to designated individuals or institutions.

Q. Other Assistance Grant Aid. The DoD outlays from appropriations or sections of appropriations that specifically support U.S. foreign assistance (as authorized under the FAA as amended and other legislation) are IBOP assistance grant aid. These DoD outlays represent the value of goods and services delivered to foreign individuals, governments, or international organizations under specific U.S. foreign assistance programs that include, but are not limited to: Overseas Humanitarian, Disaster, and Civic Aid, Defense (97X0819); Cooperative Threat Reduction Account, Defense (97X0134); Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug Activities, Defense (in-country support only of 97X0105); and Overseas Costs for Contingency Operations under section 607 of the FAA (reimbursed by special supplement appropriations).
R. Payment. The term payment includes payment in currencies (both foreign and U.S.), checks, or other negotiable instruments, after net of all refunds.

S. Personnel Afloat. The term personnel afloat includes U.S. personnel whose duty station is aboard ship.

T. Progress Payments. Progress payments are payments made by a DoD Component to a contractor or other supplier on contractual procurement of goods or services as work progresses for delivery on a foreign military sale.

U. Real Property Transfer. Real property transfers are items associated with the conveyance of military real property by a Military Department to a foreign resident or international organization.

V. Returns to the United States. Returns to the United States are the portion of payments to contractors or suppliers that is remitted to the United States, or spent or held in the United States, as the result of procurement of U.S. products, U.S. services, and transportation on U.S. flag carriers for supply, service, or construction contracts. For rules applicable to the identification and reporting of returns to the United States, see the Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement (DFARS), section 225.1103(1) and the clause at 252.225-7005.

W. U.S. Personnel. U.S. personnel includes U.S. military forces (active duty and Reserve Components, but excludes retired military personnel) and U.S. civilian employees (civil service, nonappropriated fund, and individual contract hire).

130204. Frequency and Distribution

The IBOP report must be prepared, at a minimum, quarterly and is due to the Department of Commerce no later than 45 calendar days following the end of the quarter. The report may be prepared and submitted monthly if desired based upon system capability. DFAS Operations Directorates will provide specific due dates to their respective DFAS Sites.

130205. Policy

It is DoD policy to operate overseas activities efficiently and effectively, and to reduce the balance of payments impact of these activities, when such reduction is consistent with U.S. national security goals and objectives. To support this policy, the Department maintains a mechanism to manage and control DoD transactions that enter the IBOP. This system provides for:

A. DoD-wide accounting for and reporting of IBOP transactions;

B. Evaluation and explanation of DoD IBOP transactions;

C. Use of uniform criteria, definitions, and requirements to report IBOP transactions; and
D. Integration of IBOP management and the overall system of management within the Department.

130206. Responsibilities

A. Heads of the DoD Components, must:

1. Develop procedures for implementing the reporting requirements;

2. Ensure reports and required data are submitted on time and are complete and accurate; and

3. Identify, for the Department of Commerce, the office responsible for submitting required data and points of contact within respective organizations that can both provide supplemental information on specific IBOP transactions and resolve problems associated with collecting and processing data.

B. The DFAS Site Directors must:

1. Administer and monitor, as necessary, the reporting requirements for their field reporting offices;

2. Ensure the requirements prescribed are uniformly implemented;

3. Work with other DFAS Sites to provide technical assistance on collecting required data and preparing reports. Each DFAS Site acts as the focal point for the assigned reporting organizations (sites) in providing technical assistance; and

4. Ensure reports are submitted directly to the Bureau of Economic Analysis, U.S. Department of Commerce, and include all data required by Directive 19.

130207. Reporting Guidelines

A. Finance and Accounting Data

1. Installation-Level Procedures. The DoD Components and supporting DFAS Sites must accumulate the data on payments and collections made by their respective disbursing activities as an integral part of installation-level requirements. The IBOP reports must include all collection and disbursement data for the period covered by the report.

2. Nonappropriated Funds and MPS. Accumulate data on nonappropriated funds and MPS accounts and include them in the quarterly reports.
B. Category and Country Codes on Vouchers

   1. Codes. Code all payment and collection vouchers processed overseas with the appropriate category code and foreign country or international organization code, as prescribed on the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA) website (see Geopolitical Entities, Names and Codes (GENC) Standard) and Table 13-8, prior to time of payment or collection. Vouchers processed overseas not entering the IBOP must be coded with the “U.S.” country code.

   2. Country Codes. Input country codes on vouchers processed in the United States only for those transactions entering the IBOP. A current list of country codes is available on the GENC Standard (formerly “Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) Publication (PUB) 10-4”). If countries are not listed in the current guidance, a request can be sent to NGA at ccwgsecretariat@nga.mil for a new code. Country codes must not be confused with Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA) customer codes. The two codes are not interchangeable.

C. Coded Authorizations. To ensure that payment vouchers are coded properly to indicate category, procurement of U.S. end products, transportation or services, and country or international organization, authorizations such as purchase orders, delivery orders, and contracts that result in expenditures entering the IBOP must be coded at the time of preparation whenever possible. Enter these same codes on the payment vouchers. When the authorization covers procurements of U.S. end products, transportation, or services, enter the percentage or amounts applicable to each procurement return category. Enter codes on all authorizations for the following types of transactions.

   1. Construction and Other Service Contracts, Including Contracts for Scientific and Technical Knowledge to Be Performed Abroad. In all cases where the contract, delivery order, or other procurement document is issued to a U.S. resident, appropriate codes that identify returns to the United States must be included in the accounting classification.

   2. Contracts for Procurement of Materiel, Supplies, and Equipment Abroad. When the terms of the contract require the use of U.S. end products, appropriate codes that identify returns to the United States must be included in the accounting classification on all contracts or other procurement documents issued to U.S. residents.

D. New or Discontinued Appropriations. Each DFAS Site is responsible for modifying their associated tables to reflect new or discontinued accounts that affect IBOP. The Treasury’s Federal Account Symbols and Titles (FAST) Book lists receipt, appropriation, and other fund account symbols and titles assigned by the Department. The FAST Book lists accounts separately that were created or discontinued since the previous revision.

E. Transaction Review. Review IBOP transactions prior to submission for accuracy to ensure the final report is complete and includes all of the required data elements for submission to the Department of Commerce. The DoD Components, accounting activities, and other reporting entities in the United States and at overseas locations must ensure that reported IBOP transactions are consistent with total transactions reported on the Standard Form (SF) 1220, Statement of Transactions According to Appropriations, Funds, and Receipt Accounts, and supporting SF 1219, Statement of Accountability, including FT accounts.

F. Cross-Disbursing. Under cross-disbursing requirements, the appropriate disbursing office must provide data on payment and receipt transactions to the DoD Component assigned reporting responsibility. Under these procedures, reports must include all of the data necessary for the DoD Component to report balance of payment expenditures and receipts for its accounts in accordance with the requirements of this chapter. The data must include all supplementary information that is necessary to identify returns to the United States as stated in subparagraph 130208.B.1.c. The DoD Component having management control of the funds must include these transactions in its IBOP report. Subparagraph 130207.N.4 identifies cross-disbursing reporting requirements for each Military Department.

G. Appropriation Reimbursements. Enter appropriation reimbursements from foreign entities on the appropriate Collections lines in the Accounting Report (AR)-1, as shown in Table 13-5. Enter collections from U.S. personnel abroad in the appropriate “Less Receipts from U.S. Personnel” lines (i.e., “Payments”).

H. Delivery Data. As outlined in DSCA 5105.38-M, Security Assistance Management Manual (SAMM), data regarding Foreign Military Sale deliveries (Chapter 7), FMF grant aid deliveries (Chapter 9), IMET Program (Chapter 10), transfers under Special Drawdown Authority and the EDA program (Chapter 11), Military-to-Military Contact Program (Chapter 11), BPC deliveries (Chapter 15), and transfers of real property (Chapter 15) must be prepared by the appropriate agencies.

I. Loans of Property. For any defense item loaned to a foreign government, central offices in each DoD Component must maintain a record as outlined in the SAMM, Chapter 11.

J. Advances to Foreign Residents or Countries. Report advances made to foreign residents or countries by a DoD Component as payments on the same lines in AR-1, as shown in Table 13-5, for future contract payments. Use Line Item 190000 of AR-1 to report interest collections for advances.

K. Other Foreign Aid under FAA. Report data on DoD outlays resulting from serving as the executive agent for other U.S. foreign assistance programs (as authorized by the FAA) as IBOP Other Assistance Grant Aid by the appropriate DoD Component assigned the responsibility for those programs. Such assistance includes, but is not limited to, the following programs: Overseas Humanitarian, Disaster, and Civic Aid Defense; Cooperative Threat Reduction Account, Defense; Drug Interdiction and Counter-Drug Activities, Defense (In-Country Support only); and Overseas Costs for Contingency Operations under section 607 of the FAA.

L. Records Retention. Maintain records reflecting balance of payments transactions at each DFAS Site consolidation point for 12 months following the end of the reporting period.
M. Foreign Currencies

1. Report data on foreign currencies in dollar equivalents.

2. The DSCA must report expenditures and collections for all FT accounts under its control, including those for which the DSCA has financial management responsibility in connection with Foreign Military Sales currencies, as well as those provided under joint weapons production and exchange agreements.

3. Use the respective reporting system utilized by each DoD Component to provide data on accommodation sales to individuals by military DOs.

N. Submission of Reports

1. Prepare reports of performance and transactions, using the current automated technology, entering the IBOP by DoD Components as outlined in the detailed instructions provided in Tables 13-1 through 13-4. Sample formats are shown in Tables 13-5 through 13-7.

2. Submit ARs to the Department of Commerce through DFAS as follows:

   a. Department of the Army – ARs-1 and 2;

   b. Department of the Navy (including U.S. Marine Corps) – ARs-1 and 2;

   c. Department of the Air Force – ARs-1 and 2;

   d. MPS - AR-3; and

   e. All other Defense Agencies, such as the DSCA and Defense Intelligence Agency - AR-1.

3. The DSCA must report all Foreign Military Sales and BPC delivery data.

4. Submit cross-disbursing data submitted by the DoD Component as follows.
a. Forward IBOP transactions between the Air Force and the Army no later than 32 calendar days following the end of the quarter to their corresponding offices. Each Service will send its IBOP files to the other Services.

b. Forward vouchers and control listings of IBOP transactions of the Navy for the Army and the Air Force, the Army for the Air Force and the Navy, and the Air Force for the Navy and the Army to the designated accounting and finance offices quarterly.

c. Forward electronic transmissions of Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps IBOP transactions for the Defense Agencies and OSD no later than 45 calendar days following the end of the quarter to the Department of Commerce.

d. Report salary payments to U.S. personnel as the net amount paid to individuals, excluding all deductions, such as amounts withheld for taxes, contributions, allotments, or savings bonds.

5. Complete the headings on each report as indicated in Tables 13-5 through 13-7. Round dollar amounts to the nearest $1,000. Round amounts from $1 to $499 downward; amounts from $500 to $999 are rounded upward.

130208. Criteria for Determining and Identifying IBOP Transactions

A. Introduction. In establishing a basis for reporting IBOP transactions, assume that purchases of materiel and services are equal to related disbursements, since payments by DoD Components normally are made within the month following receipt of the materiel and services. Similarly, report DoD outlays from appropriations supporting various U.S. foreign assistance programs to signify the delivery of that assistance to foreign entities. It is necessary, however, to report Foreign Military Sales on a delivery basis. State collections separately to reflect the changes in financial status. Accounting reports prescribed by this chapter reflect these reporting concepts. Table 13-9 contains a glossary of automated data processing (ADP) terms.

B. Transactions Entering the IBOP. The following transactions enter the DoD IBOP for reporting purposes.

1. Payments

   a. Inclusion of all payments is required, including advance and progress payments by DOs (whether located abroad or in the United States, its territories and possessions, or Puerto Rico) from their accounts and all payments from the accounts of nonappropriated funds and the MPS to:

      (1) Foreign residents, including all amounts deposited in foreign or U.S. banks to their credit (e.g., a deposit to the account of a foreign entity maintained in Foreign residents include foreign governments, corporations, contractors, and individuals;

(2) U.S. personnel stationed, or employed, or who live abroad, or on ships homeported abroad, for pay disbursed or mailed abroad when on temporary duty (TDY) abroad and per diem for TDY abroad;

(3) International organizations, including all amounts deposited to their credit in foreign or U.S. banks;

(4) U.S. corporations for materiel, supplies (excluding petroleum products), and equipment, title to which is acquired by the U.S. Government abroad as evidenced by an accomplished materiel inspection and receiving report;

(5) U.S. contractors for construction or services performed abroad, except for travel and transportation as described in subparagraph 130208.D.2.g; and

(6) U.S. and foreign corporations for petroleum products that will be identified to the country shown as the product source as described in subparagraph 130208.D.2.h.(2).

b. Inclusion of foreign currency payments is required, including counterpart foreign currency payments by a foreign government held by the foreign government for U.S. uses under special arrangements such as Euros disbursed by the Spanish Government for constructing and maintaining U.S. facilities.

c. Included are all Returns to the United States resulting from contracts or other procurement documents for procurement of supplies and services for use outside the United States. Also included are all Returns to the United States from contracts for construction, maintenance, and repair of real property facilities that require U.S. end products, or that specify certain services be performed in the U.S. Additionally, U.S. contractors performing construction and service contracts overseas may acquire, on their own initiative, certain U.S. end products, services, or transportation on U.S. flag carriers in fulfillment of construction or service contracts. Identify and report the amount of such procurements of U.S. end products, services, and transportation on U.S. flag carriers in AR-1, as shown in Table 13-5. The following rules apply only to contractors who are U.S. residents.

(1) The amounts remitted by a supplier to the United States for procurement of U.S. end products and the amounts paid by the supplier to a U.S. transportation company for transportation of goods on U.S. flag carriers must be identified and reported as reductions to procurement payments.

(2) Identify and report the following amounts as reductions to contractual service payments:
(a) The amount of U.S. end products procured from the United States by the contractor for incorporation in the project (whether required by the terms of the contract or voluntarily procured from the United States without contractual requirements);

(b) The amount remitted to or retained in the United States by the contractor for services performed in the United States and for profit, overhead, amortization costs, employee tax withholdings, and other indirect expenses, including that portion of the salaries of contractor personnel remitted to or retained in the United States; and

(c) The amount paid to transportation companies in the United States by the contractor for transportation provided on U.S. flag carriers.

(3) Reporting requirements and requirements for contracts exceeding the simplified acquisition threshold are set forth in DFARS 225.1103(1) and the clause at 252.225-7005.

(4) The amounts reported as returns under subparagraph 130208.B.1.c must exclude:

(a) Payments by the contractor to a DoD Component for supplies or services such as utilities and telephone services; and

(b) Returns to the United States by foreign residents who use U.S. end products or services to fulfill DoD contracts.

2. Collections

a. Report all collections by DOs credited to their accounts or to Treasury accounts (for which the Department has billing and collection responsibility) and all receipts in nonappropriated funds and the MPS from the following:

(1) Foreign residents;

(2) U.S. personnel who are stationed, employed, residing, or traveling abroad, or on ships homeported abroad (for reporting purposes, however, these collections are treated as a reduction to pay of personnel);

(3) International Organizations;

(4) U.S. contractors in connection with their performance of contracts with the U.S. Government or private firms abroad; and

(5) Foreign governments or other foreign entities for goods and services sold for delivery or use under the Foreign Military Sales program, other sales programs, and the Defense Logistics Agency Disposition Services.
b. Report all collections of foreign currency contributed by foreign governments for the support of U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Groups (MAAGs) and Missions.

c. Do not deposit FMF receipts into the U.S. Treasury. The FMF receipts are recorded in successor account 11*1082 (Foreign Military Financing Program, Funds Appropriated to the President), via a Treasury SF 133, Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources, allocation by the Department of State in the year received, and finally apportioned in the same year on an SF 132, OMB Apportionment And Reapportionment Schedule as found in OMB Circular A-11, “Preparation, Submission, and Execution of the Budget,” Appendix F.

3. Deliveries

a. All deliveries of materiel, supplies, equipment, and services to foreign countries and international organizations must be reported to include the following:

   (1) Foreign Military Sales deliveries outlined in the AECA of 1976, as amended;

   (2) Sales by property disposal officers as represented by collections;

   (3) Loans and leases of aircraft, vessels, and other equipment to foreign entities;

   (4) Transfers of real property and deliveries of materiel and services under logistical support agreements and otherwise; and

   (5) Deliveries of goods and services for foreign assistance reimbursed by the Agency for International Development (AID), Department of State, or from Funds Appropriated to the President.

b. This chapter requires that delivery data pertaining to Military Assistance Grant Aid be reported.

4. Special Transactions

a. Transfers. Transfers from Deposit Account 6500 (Advances Without Orders from Non-Federal Sources) and Clearing Account 3875 (Budget Clearing Account (suspense)) to other accounts must be included when recorded as a collection in deposit fund accounts or in applicable receipt (including miscellaneous receipt), appropriation, or other fund accounts. For example, a bid deposit of a successful purchaser of surplus, excess, foreign excess, scrap, or salvage will be recorded in IBOP at the time transferred to account 3845 (Proceeds of Sales, Personal Property). Treat returns of deposits to depositors as IBOP transactions. Exclude amounts initially recorded in these suspense accounts from IBOP reporting requirements.
b. Settlements. Treat offsetting settlements between DoD accounts made in place of payments to, and collections from, a foreign government as IBOP transactions as if the transaction had been carried out with the foreign government.

c. Outlays. Report DoD outlays in support of Other Assistance Grant Aid.

C. Transactions Not Entering the IBOP. The following transactions do not enter the DoD reporting of IBOP:

1. Payments to and receipts from any DoD or other U.S. Government agency or activity, including any DoD nonappropriated fund or postal service activity, except special transactions noted in subparagraph 130208.B.4;

2. All transfers between the DoD or other U.S. Government accounts, except those from Deposit Account 6500 and Clearing Account 3875, as noted in subparagraph 130208.B.4.a;

3. Payments to foreign residents for goods produced in the United States if title is transferred within the United States. Include payments to the foreign resident when title is transferred to the United States if the goods were originally delivered to the foreign resident under the Foreign Military Sales program; and

4. Payments to foreign residents for goods produced abroad and imported into the United States when title is transferred to the U.S. Government after the goods are imported. Consider goods imported when they clear the U.S. Customs Service.

D. Identification of Transactions to Country or International Organizations

* 1. General. Identify transactions, except those relating to international organizations designated in SAMM Table C4.T2B, generally to the country of residence of the payee or remitter, rather than the location of the DO. Identify transactions with international organizations not listed in SAMM Table C4.T2B to the country to which payment is sent or from which payment is received. In cases where country of residence cannot be determined, identify transactions as follows.

a. Cash. Code payments or collections by cash to the country in which disbursed or collected.

b. Check. Code payments or collections by check to the country to which check is sent or from which check is received.

c. Electronic. Code payments or collections by electronic transfer to the country to which transfer is sent or from which transfer is received.
2. Payments. Identify payments to the designated international organization or country of residence of the payee. More specifically, identify payments as follows.

   b. Foreign Corporations. Identify payments to foreign corporations and individuals to the country of residence. A current list of country codes is available on the NGA website (GENC Standard).

   c. U.S. Personnel Payments

      (1) U.S. Personnel Ashore. Code net pay to the foreign country to which payment is made or the check is addressed.

      (2) U.S. Personnel Afloat (Homeported Abroad). Code net pay to the foreign country to which payment is made or the check is addressed.

      (3) U.S. Personnel Afloat (U.S. Homeported). Code net pay as a U.S. payment. A statistical determination will be made, by country, of the expenditures ashore by these individuals.

      (4) Allotments of Pay. Allotments to individual persons will be identified to the country to which addressed. Identify all other allotments to the country of residence of the allottee.

   d. Retired and Survivors Pay. Identify the amount of the payment to the foreign country to which the check is mailed or payment is electronically transferred.

   e. Foreign Nationals

      (1) Direct Hire of Foreign Nationals. Identify net pay to the foreign country, which employs the individual. In addition, identify the payment of all U.S. Government contributions, and the payments of all amounts withheld from the employee's pay, at the time of payment, to the country addressed.

      (2) Indirect Hire of Foreign Nationals. Identify payments under contracts for indirect hire of foreign nationals, including retirement accruals or separation allowances when paid, to the country addressed.
(3) Foreign Nationals Aboard Ships. Identify net pay to the country in which the individual maintains his or her “home of record.” In addition, the payment of all U.S. Government contributions and payments of all amounts withheld from the employee's pay must be identified, at the time of payment, to the country to which addressed.

f. Construction and Services Performed Abroad Other Than Travel and Transportation. Identify payments for construction or services performed abroad to the country in which construction or service is performed, regardless of where the check is mailed.

g. Travel and Transportation

(1) Transportation. Code payments for transportation of persons or things (trip requests, bills of lading, warrants, or cash) paid to a transportation company to the country of residence of the transportation company.

(2) Travel Allowances. Code payments for per diem allowances, relocation allowances, and other incidental travel expenses, including transportation expenses or mileage allowances paid to individuals, according to the following guidance.

   (a) For permanent change of station (PCS), code to the country in which the greater part of the allowances was earned or expenses incurred. Code relocation allowances to the country to which the individual's family moves.

   (b) For TDY, code to the country in which the TDY was performed, except TDY performed aboard ship that must be coded to the United States. Where TDY is performed in several countries and it is not feasible to identify the per diem to each country, code the payment to the country in which the greater part of the allowances was earned.

h. Materiel, Supplies, and Equipment

(1) Payments to a U.S. corporation for materiel, supplies (excluding petroleum products), and equipment acquired by a DoD Component abroad must be coded to the country where it is delivered or accepted by the DoD Component. Code payments to foreign contractors (excluding petroleum products) to the country of residence of the payee.

(2) Identify payments to a U.S. or foreign corporation for petroleum products according to the following guidance.

   (a) Code the payment to the country shown as the product source in the “product source” clause of the contract under which the payment is made. If a region (e.g., the Caribbean or Persian Gulf) is shown rather than a country, code the payment to the country shown in section 9 of the Department of Defense Form 250-1, Tanker/Barge-Material Inspection and Receiving Report. If the product source cannot be established, it will be coded to the country where acquired by the DoD Component.
(b) When the product source for petroleum is the United States, and the petroleum has been transported by the Military Sealift Command, or transported by commercial vessels directly to a DoD Component abroad, code the payment to the United States. If the petroleum is not consigned directly to a DoD Component, code the payment to the country where it is delivered and code the amount of the petroleum product and the transportation furnished by U.S. flag carriers as a return to the United States.

(c) Code petroleum services, other than ocean transportation, to the country in which the service is performed.

   i. NATO Infrastructure. In processing NATO Infrastructure and International Military Headquarters Payments for NATO infrastructure, refer to Enclosure 2 of DoD Directive 2010.5, “The NATO Security Investment Program,” for eligible project types. Code such payments to the country or to the appropriate NATO command that is the recipient of the payment. Code payments to international military headquarters, including those located in the United States.

3. Deliveries and Collections

   a. Materiel or Services. Code deliveries of materiel or services to the country or international organization to which the collection for that delivery must be identified. Code collections to the countries making payments. Code collections from international organizations to the international organization making payment.

   b. Recipient Country. Code delivery transactions involving Military Assistance Grant Aid and reimbursement from AID, Department of State, or Funds Appropriated to the President to the recipient country or international organization.

4. Special Transactions

   a. Balance of Payment Transactions. Transactions for Guam, Puerto Rico, the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas, and the U.S. Virgin Islands must not be included in any summary totals of balance of payments transactions since transactions involving these areas do not enter the United States balance of payments. If a special report is requested for these areas, then apply country codes as appropriate.

   b. Guantanamo Bay. Code transactions at Guantanamo Bay, other than pay of foreign nationals, as U.S. transactions not entering the IBOP. However, treat the pay of foreign nationals employed at Guantanamo Bay as IBOP transactions and code to their country of residence.

130209. Entries for DoD Transactions Entering the IBOP – AR-1

   A. Purpose. This format prescribes line items, columnar data, and line item identification (ID) codes used for reporting IBOP transactions in AR-1. This submission provides for summarizing DoD IBOP transactions under appropriation and category groupings.
B. General

1. Separate AR-1. Prepare a separate AR-1 for each foreign country and international organization listed in the GENC Standard and SAMM Table C4.T2B, as applicable, and for each foreign area grouping shown in Table 13-8. In addition, submit a separate AR-1 (a sample format of AR-1 is shown in Table 13-5; change “Quarter” to “Month” if reporting monthly) for Guam, Puerto Rico, the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. However, these transactions, and those for other U.S. possessions, must not be included in the subtotals for foreign area groupings or worldwide totals.

2. DoD Component. Each DoD Component must submit AR-1 electronically. Data on the electronic transfer submissions must carry the line item numbers for AR-1 precisely as shown in Table 13-10.

3. Assemble Reports. Documentation for countries without transaction data is not required when assembling supporting documentation for IBOP reporting.

4. Report Data. Report data for each line item entry listed in Table 13-10. To facilitate summarizing data, each line item entry must be identified by the same line ID Code shown in Table 13-10. Line items for which no amount is reported for the current quarter or cumulative columns must not be shown on the report.

5. Reporting Responsibilities. Data reported for all lines for transactions involving the FMF, Foreign Military Sales Program, BPC Program, IMET, Drawdowns, EDAs, and Military-to-Military Contact Programs are established under the SAMM, Chapter 1.

6. Dollar Collections. Report as dollar collections all collections of foreign currency not obtained by purchase with U.S. dollars, used for authorized expenditure purposes rather than deposited to Treasury FT accounts.

7. Trust Fund Expenditures. Treat refunds to foreign governments for Foreign Military Sales as trust fund expenditures. In the DoD balance of payment presentations, net such refunds against receipts rather than treated as expenditures on AR-1.

C. Line Entries - Descriptions and Codes. Line item ID codes, line item captions, and descriptions for AR-1 are shown in Table 13-10.

130210. Entries for DoD Transactions Entering the IBOP – AR-2

A. Purpose. This format prescribes line items, columnar data, and line ID codes for reporting IBOP transactions in AR-2, i.e., financial data relating to DoD nonappropriated fund activities abroad. Use these data to develop amounts available for spending abroad by U.S. personnel.
B. General

1. Nonappropriated Fund Activities. Each reporting activity must include all nonappropriated fund activities under its command jurisdiction. When one activity serves more than one command in a given area, make local arrangements to have the data submitted through only one command, thus avoiding duplications (e.g., the Army and Air Force Exchange Service). Nonappropriated fund activities aboard ship must include only receipt and payment transactions abroad, which are included with activities ashore and enter the IBOP.

2. Submit Separate Reports. The reporting activities must submit separate reports for the following:
   a. Exchange Service Operations, and
   b. Other Nonappropriated Fund Activities.

3. Payments and Receipts. These reports must include only payments and receipts affecting nonappropriated funds. Exclude payments and receipts from appropriated funds used in operating a nonappropriated fund activity.

4. Reported Quarter. Amounts shown in the report must cover the reported quarter. Change “Quarter” to “Month” if reporting monthly.

5. Schedules. Submit separate schedules for the Navy and Marine Corps.

C. Line Entries - Descriptions and Codes. Line ID codes, line item captions, and descriptions for AR-2 are shown in Table 13-11.

130211. Entries for DoD Transactions Entering the IBOP - AR-3

A. Purpose. This format prescribes line items, columnar data, and line ID codes used for reporting IBOP transactions in AR-3, i.e., financial data relating to military postal services to individuals. Use these data to develop the amounts available for spending abroad by U.S. personnel.

B. General

1. MPS. Submit one report to cover all MPS operations, excluding FPO operations aboard ship.

2. Payments and Receipts. Exclude from the report payments and receipts of appropriated funds used for operating expenses of MPS facilities.

3. Agencies and Activities. Exclude sales to or receipts from federal agencies and activities and DoD-sponsored nonappropriated fund activities.
4. Reported Quarter. The amounts shown in the report must cover the reported quarter only and will be noncumulative. Change “Quarter” to “Month” if reporting monthly.

C. Line Entries – Description and Codes. Line ID codes, line item captions, and descriptions for AR-3 are shown in Table 13-12.

1303 INTERMEDIATE/INSTALLATION-LEVEL REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Each DFAS site develops and monitors the reporting requirements, at the intermediate or installation level, for its IBOP reporting. Consistently apply reporting formats for the intermediate or installation levels in accordance with the requirements outlined in paragraphs 130201 through 130211.

DEPOT MAINTENANCE REPORTING

1401 GENERAL

140101. Purpose

The DoD maintains a core depot-level maintenance and repair capability in support of mission-essential weapon systems and other military equipment needed to directly support operational requirements and enable the armed forces to execute the strategic and contingency plans prepared by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. This chapter prescribes Depot Maintenance Cost System (DMCS) requirements that are necessary to provide a comprehensive accounting of DoD depot maintenance workloads. The DoD Components must satisfy these requirements with regard to reporting the accomplishment and status of DoD depot maintenance workloads in:

A. DoD depot maintenance facilities;
B. Private-sector facilities;
C. Other DoD and Federal Government facilities; and
D. State, local, and foreign government facilities.

140102. Authoritative Guidance

These requirements apply to DoD depot maintenance workloads the Components identify pursuant to Title 10, United States Code, section 2466, under which DoD reports to the Congress the respective depot maintenance workload levels in the public and private sectors.

1402 COST DATA REQUIREMENTS

140201. Scope

These requirements apply to all depot maintenance workloads, regardless of DoD funding source, e.g., Defense Working Capital Fund (DWCF), Research and Development, Procurement, General Purpose Forces, Special Operations Forces, Operation and Maintenance, or other appropriations; or non-DoD funding source, such as work done for private-sector customers or other federal, state, local, and foreign governments. Additional guidance is provided in:

A. Addendum 1 – DoD Major Depot Maintenance Activities;
B. Addendum 2 – Reporting Activity Identifying Codes;
C. Addendum 3 – DMCS Input File;
140202. Cost Data Collection

The uniform recording, accumulation, and reporting of costs incurred in depot maintenance operations is required to document the use of DoD resources and to assist management in the measurement of productivity and efficiency, development and use of performance measurement and cost standards, and identification of areas in need of increased management emphasis. In addition, the data will assist in the assessment of total DoD maintenance capability, duplication of capacity, and opportunities for areas of interservice support of maintenance workloads.

140203. Managerial Use of Cost Data

Management requires depot maintenance information to assist in:

A. Developing inputs to meet Departmental and Congressionally-mandated requirements;
B. Comparing repair costs with replacement costs;
C. Overseeing the utilization of depot maintenance resources;
D. Evaluating budgets for customers and providers of depot maintenance;
E. Comparing cost trends among organic DoD depots and between organic and contract (private-sector) sources;
F. Formulating managerial direction and guidance for depot maintenance programs;
G. Evaluating depot maintenance activities for efficient use of resources;
H. Estimating depot maintenance requirements;
I. Monitoring DoD Component compliance with various Congressionally-mandated reporting requirements;
J. Examining the behavior of cost drivers over time; and
K. Identifying and evaluating total ownership costs.

140204. Cost Definition

To ensure that all workloads are accounted for and reported in DMCS, regardless of funding source, reporting requirements have been stratified to facilitate reporting of total DoD costs, both funded and unfunded, for organic and contract depot maintenance. For DMCS reporting purposes:

A. Funded costs are those charged to the operating funds of the performing activity or the activity reporting contract depot maintenance. Funded costs are defined from the perspective of the activity performing the work or, in the case of contract maintenance, from the perspective of the program manager or administrator responsible for reporting contract costs. Costs incurred by a DWCF, or direct-funded organic activity in performance of reimbursable orders, are categorized as funded, as these costs are charged to the operating account of the performing activity. Funded costs at DoD organic activities normally include items such as payroll, operating materials, supplies, and services; and

B. Unfunded costs are costs financed by a DoD appropriation, activity, or entity other than that of the performing activity, or the reporting activity in the case of contract depot maintenance. In other words, financial responsibility resides with an entity other than the DMCS reporting unit. Material, such as a modification kit or other Government-furnished material financed by a procurement appropriation not available to the performing activity, is an unfunded cost. For a direct-funded activity, depreciation of plant and equipment financed by procurement appropriations, and facilities maintenance financed by a regional command, are examples of unfunded costs.

1403 REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

*140301. General Reporting Requirements

The DMCS reporting requirements contained in this chapter, including any subsequent data and format revisions, are the responsibility of the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for Materiel Readiness (DASD (MR)), Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (OUSD) (Acquisition & Sustainment). The DASD (MR) must provide the data revisions and report format changes to the OUSD Comptroller (OUSD (C)), Financial Management Policy and Reporting (FMPR), for publication in subsequent revisions of this chapter. The senior official with responsibility for logistics in each DoD Component is responsible for timely reporting. The Assistant Secretary responsible for financial management in the Military Departments (or equivalent in other DoD Components) is responsible for providing complete and accurate financial data to the report preparer in sufficient time for report submission.

140302. Applicability of Reporting Requirements

The depot maintenance cost report required by this chapter applies to all Military Services and other DoD activities that accomplish depot maintenance workloads, or have depot maintenance workloads accomplished by contract. This includes all work performed by DoD depot maintenance activities, as well as all DoD depot-level maintenance accomplished by other Government activities and contractors.
A. Performing and Reporting Activities

1. Addendum 1 identifies the major DoD depots, shipyards, and other depot maintenance activities that historically have performed depot maintenance workloads. Report work performed at major depot maintenance activities listed in that addendum as specified in subparagraph 140401.B.1. Report work performed by DoD activities not listed in Addendum 1 in accordance with subparagraph 140401.B.2. Report all other work (i.e., that performed by contractors; other Federal Government activities; and state, local, and foreign governments) as stipulated in subparagraph 140401.B.3 by the program administering offices designated by the official in each DoD Component responsible for reporting DMCS data.

2. Addendum 2 is a list of reporting activity identifying codes. Activities performing depot maintenance not listed in Addendum 2, that are required to report, will request an appropriate identifying code from DASD (MR) or its designated agent.

B. Cost Reporting By DoD Performing Activities. Report records from DoD performing activities must reflect total costs incurred, including the cost of any subsidiary ordering from other Government activities or contracting with commercial firms incident to accomplishing workloads. The report accommodates separate reporting of direct labor hours, and costs of contract labor used to augment the workforce, when the hours and associated costs are obtainable from local cost accounting data.

C. Cost Reporting By Other Activities. Report records for DoD depot-level maintenance performed by contractors and DoD activities not listed on Addendum 1 must include all costs to DoD incurred in performing the work. These reports must:

1. Exclude intermediate-level, organizational-level, and other non-depot-level maintenance services (unless those maintenance services are an integral part of a depot-level task or contract);

2. Include the depot-level maintenance portion of Contractor Logistics Support (CLS), Interim Contractor Support (ICS), Performance-Based Logistics (PBL), and similar contracts. Report the direct costs of the depot maintenance performed, as well as associated overhead and other costs attributable to the depot-level maintenance portion of the contracts;

3. Include the cost of Government-furnished material and Government-furnished services consumed in producing a product or service, even though financed or provided by a source other than the primary reporting office or entity; and

4. Provide all appropriate categorization codes, including Item Identification, Weapon or Support System Code (WSSC), Work Breakdown Structure, WPC, and the average number of Shop Flow Days.
140303. Work Performance Categories

Addendum 5 contains the WPC codes that identify the nature of work performed. In cases where there may be overlap between WPCs, report costs in the highest level of repair. For example, if manufacture is required to complete an overhaul because critical parts are not available, report costs as overhaul.

140304. DMCS Data Submission Process

A. Frequency and Timing of Submittal. Annual DMCS data submissions must be provided to DASD (MR), or its designated agent, no later than December 31 following the end of the fiscal year. Reporting requirement symbol AP-MP(A)1397 is assigned to this reporting requirement. Paragraph 140301 lists the parties responsible for data submission.

B. Accompanying Documents

1. With each data submission to the DASD (MR), include a transmittal memorandum that includes a brief discussion of any anomalies in the data, significant changes from previous submissions, or other pertinent information to aid in processing the data. The transmittal memorandum for the report must identify a point of contact within the submitting activity for issues and questions related to the reported data.

2. Within 90 days after the initial submission due date, submit a brief narrative analysis (three to five pages) explaining trends in the data to the DASD (MR). The focus of the narrative analysis must be on the factors driving year-to-year changes in cost and direct labor hours. These factors include changes in workload; changes in contract support (both in level of effort and in price); changes in the prices paid for labor, material, and other resources; and, when applicable, significant changes in organic maintenance processes and financial policies. Express the impact of the factors in quantitative terms (for example, an average 3.2 percent material price change or a 2.1 percent improvement in direct labor productivity).

C. Quality Control and Editing of Data Prior to Submission. The AP-MP(A)1397 report serves as a principal database in support of DASD (MR) weapon systems depot maintenance cost and production analyses and external reporting, as well as the principal joint-service database on depot maintenance production operations. The DASD (MR) provides a data editing and submission file creation tool in the form of a relational database application. This tool, which provides Component-specific and general edits, facilitates accuracy and consistency of data submitted by the individual Components. The use of this tool is a required element of the submission process. Provide appropriate personnel within each reporting activity with training in tool usage. In addition, the DASD (MR) will provide each Component with tool updates on an annual basis prior to the end of the fiscal year.

D. Data Input to the Data Editing Tool. The format and content of DMCS data input to the Data Editing Tool must be in accordance with Addendum 3. The individual Military Services and the DASD (MR), or its designated agent, may agree upon alternative formatting of data.
E. Form and Method of DMCS Data Submissions. Annual AP-MP(A)1397 data must be submitted to DASD (MR), or to its designated agent, using the DMCS Data Editing Tool described in subparagraph 140304.D. The tool containing the data and associated documentation may be compressed and submitted in a variety of ways, for example, compact disk, file transfer protocol, email, or other medium agreed upon by the DASD (MR), or its designated agent, and the reporting activity.

F. DoD-Level Review Process. The review and update of annual AP-MP(A)1397 submissions must be accomplished as follows:

1. Within 15 days of receipt of each Component submission, the DASD (MR), or its designated agent, must perform an edit of the data and provide each reporting activity or Component data consolidation point with preliminary versions of summary tables and the applicable section of the “DoD Depot Data Highlights Report.” Review any data discrepancies, at this time, with the individual reporting activities or consolidation points;

2. Within an additional 30 days, the Component must review and make appropriate updates or provide explanations to support the data as initially submitted;

3. Within 30 days following receipt of all revised Component data, the DASD (MR), or its designated agent, must prepare and publish the final versions of summary tables and the “DoD Depot Data Highlights Report.” At that time, a final fiscal year database must be established as a historical file for subsequent analysis by the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Components, and other authorized activities; and

4. Within an additional 15 days, the Components must submit the narrative analyses described in subparagraph 140304.B.2.

G. Retention of Submitted Data by Reporting Facilities. Reporting activities must retain submission files for a minimum of 5 years.

140305. DMCS Data Maintenance Requirements

The Components must ensure that cost and production reporting systems retain the capability to provide an audit trail back to individual job order cost records, or other data sources, when needed to support DMCS report records.

140306. Report Record Data Requirements

A report record is required for each type of maintenance work (Field 14) performed for each different weapon system, or item identification number, as indicated by different data entries in Addendum 3. Consolidate data for similar job orders if the item repaired, services performed, and other report record fields are consistent. All fields in Addendum 3 are mandatory except for those identified as “Not Used.” “Not Used” fields may be employed by reporting activities for internal use or left blank. Where quantitative data are required, such as costs and man-hours, enter “0” (zero) if there are no data associated with the fields. Null mandatory fields are not acceptable.
A. The DASD (MR), or its designated agent, must maintain lookup tables of pertinent data elements and codes for use by the Military Departments in compiling the DMCS report. These tables will include Weapon or Support System Codes, Performing Activity Identification Codes, Reporting Activity Identification Codes, WPC Codes, Item Identification Codes and Nomenclature, Work Breakdown Structure Codes, and Customer Codes. Components will review the codes annually and notify the DASD (MR), or the designated representative, of any needed additions or deletions. Do not change codes at any other time, except by agreement between the DASD (MR), or its designated agent, and the individual Components.

B. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) must work with the Components to ensure that DFAS financial systems (if used at depot level) retain the capability to provide cost detail to satisfy the reporting requirements of this chapter. Preparation of the DMCS report is the responsibility of the DoD Component performing the work or managing the contract.

C. Each depot maintenance reporting activity must implement quality assurance procedures to be applied to each DMCS record as it is created and populated. Such procedures must include validity checks to prevent errors, such as identifying an F/A-18A aircraft as a submarine or a High Mobility Multipurpose Wheeled Vehicle (HMMWV) as a tank. Each reporting activity that consolidates DMCS organic and contract records must also implement quality control procedures for all its performing facilities. Prior to data submission, reporting facilities must use the DMCS Data Editing Tool, or similar application, to validate the records.

140307. Report Record Type

The data submission report must consist of two types of report records. For both types, the costs reported must be cumulative from inception.

A. The first record type is cumulative costs for financially completed work. Identify all reported transaction records with a “C” in Field 51 for financially completed customer orders. The reported amount for work completed by contractors must equal the total cost (funded and unfunded) incurred.

B. The second record type is cumulative costs for not financially complete work. Report these costs in order to form a complete picture of the work accomplished at each activity performing depot maintenance. Identify report records for financial work that is incomplete with a “W” in Field 51. When reporting contract costs (Field 36), enter the sum of the contract costs accumulated since inception of the contract that are attributable to the work accomplished.

140308. Report Record Corrections

Once an annual DMCS report cycle is completed and the results published, the data should remain unchanged. Therefore, it is important to incorporate corrections and adjustments in the original report records. Exceptions must be for corrections or adjustments that materially change a total for an entire performing facility. If significant corrections to prior year data become necessary, contact the DASD (MR), or its designated agent, to coordinate processing the changes.
1404 REPORTING CATEGORIES AND DATA REQUIREMENTS

140401. Workload Reporting Activities

A. Depot maintenance is performed at DoD depots, at private-sector commercial contractor facilities, and at other DoD activities, such as intermediate maintenance facilities (IMF), arsenals, ordnance stations, or public works centers. The DoD depot maintenance activities that are funded by DWCF are required to follow the formal job order accounting requirements specified in Volume 11B, Chapter 13. Other DoD activities performing depot maintenance workloads may use other cost finding procedures to satisfy the reporting requirements specified in Section 1403.

B. All activities performing depot maintenance will report workload identification data, as required, in Fields 1-16. Cost and production data reporting requirements (Fields 17-54) vary, depending upon the category of activity performing the work. Reporting categories and data requirements must be as follows:

1. DoD Major Depot Maintenance Activities. Addendum 1 lists the major depot maintenance activities under the headings: Army Depots, Naval Shipyards, Fleet Readiness Centers, Marine Corps Depots, and Air Force Depots. Funded and unfunded DoD costs for these activities are reported in Fields 17 through 35, with an owner/operator code (Field 7) of “1.” The cost of work suballocated, in part, by a depot to another DoD facility or commercial firm must be reported as an “other direct-funded cost” (Field 30). These major maintenance activities must report all work accomplished by the activity;

2. DoD Activities Not Listed in Addendum 1. The program manager or DoD entity (as determined by each Component’s DMCS reporting official) responsible for program oversight must report funded and unfunded DoD costs for these activities in Fields 17 through 35, with an owner/operator code (Field 7) of “2.” If the cost finding procedures of the reporting facility are not sufficiently robust to adequately identify the detailed costs required in Fields 17 through 35, a waiver must be requested from DASD (MR) to permit reporting costs in Fields 36, 37, and 41; and

3. Non-DoD Facilities. Work performed at commercially-owned/commercially-operated (COCO) facilities; Government-owned/contractor-operated (GOCO) facilities; non-DoD Government activities; and state, local, and foreign government facilities must be reported by the DoD activity initiating the order (e.g., systems program offices, program managers, major commands, major subordinate commands, Fleet Forces Command, the Naval Inventory Control Points, and other activities that use DoD funds, regardless of source, to obtain depot maintenance from non-DoD entities). Reporting activities must ensure that data submissions for depot maintenance performed at non-DoD activities are complete and accurate and that report records reflect an owner/operator code of “3” in Field 7, non-DoD entity costs in Field 36, and Government-furnished materials and services costs in Fields 37 and 41. Government-furnished materials and services include goods and services funded or provided by a sponsor or contract other than administered by the primary reporting entity.
140402. Primary Workload Reporting Data Fields

The DMCS reports from all activities must identify the item worked on, the WPC, and work breakdown structure classification to the extent economically feasible.

1405 SPECIAL REPORTS

Any one-time or additional reports required must be as prescribed by the OUSD (C), FMPR or the DASD (MR).

EXPLANATION OF ENTRIES REQUIRED FOR DMCS REPORTING

1. Field 1—Not Used

2. Field 2—Not Used

3. Field 3—Fiscal Year. Enter the two terminal digits of the current fiscal year being reported.

4. Field 4—Reporting Component. In position 10, enter A (Army), F (Air Force), M (Marine Corps), N (Navy), or S (Defense Logistics Agency) to designate the DoD Component providing the report.

5. Field 5—Performing Activity Identifying Code

   a. Organic Activity Identifying Code. If the activity is Government-operated (Code 1 or 2 in Field 7), then enter the identifying code in positions 11 through 15 for the activity identified in Addendum 2.

   b. Contractor CAGE or Identifying Code. If the maintenance is contractor-performed (Code 3 in Field 7), then enter the contract activity’s CAGE code or other unique, approved 5-digit identifier as specified by the Defense Logistics Information Service (DLIS). Start in position 11 and leave positions 16 through 24 blank. Request a CAGE code if one has not been established for a contractor.

6. Field 6—Not Used

7. Field 7—Owner and/or Operator Code. Enter one of the following to indicate the type of activity performing the maintenance.

   Code 1—DoD Major Depot Maintenance Activities (DoD Component organic maintenance activities listed in Addendum 1). When Code 1 is entered in Field 7, report costs in Fields 17 through 35. Fields 36, 37, and 41 must be zero filled.

   Code 2—Other DoD Facilities (DoD Component in-house maintenance activities not listed in Addendum 1). When Code 2 is entered in Field 7, report costs in Fields 17 through 35. Fields 36, 37 and 41 must be zero filled.

   Code 3—COCO, GOCO, and other non-DoD entities (other Federal Government activities; state, local, and foreign governments). When Code 3 is entered, report costs in Fields 36, 37, and 41. Fields 17 through 28 and 30 through 35 must be zero filled.

8. Field 8—Reporting Activity Identifying Code. A code identifying the reporting activity, including activities contracting for depot maintenance work with commercial contractors. Enter the reporting activity’s identifying code as specified in Addendum 2. Depot maintenance activities performing in-house work for all other DoD activities, including other depot maintenance activities, must report their work by using their own identifying code in this field.

9. Field 9—Item Identification Code. A code to identify the specific item on which depot maintenance was or is being performed. Do not use punctuation or special characters such as dashes, slashes, or blank spaces between characters. Start in position 32 and enter left justified up to 13 characters; zero fill unused positions. Sample entries for this field are as follows:

   a. If the item is an aerospace vehicle (aircraft, guided missile, rocket, or probe), then show the mission-design series according to DoD Directive 4120.15E, “Designating and Naming Military Aerospace Vehicles,” and listed in DoD 4120.15-L, “Model Designation of Military Aerospace Vehicles.”

c. If the item is a vessel, then show ship type and hull number in the first eight positions and zero fill the remaining five positions.

d. If ammunition rework or renovation is performed by a depot-level maintenance activity, then total cost must be recorded by work breakdown structure code H3 (Field 13) only, and this field must be zero filled.

e. If items “a” through “d” for Field 9 do not apply, and the job order is for repair of items with the same national stock number (NSN) identification, then enter that NSN, such as 6730001161618, in positions 32 through 44.

f. If items “a” through “e” for Field 9 do not apply, enter the letters or numbers used for the identification of the job order. The first 4 digits should identify the Federal Supply Class and, of the remaining nine positions, one must be alphabetic. Zero fill when WPC (Field 14) is “Other Work (T).”

10. Field 10—Item Nomenclature. A 20-digit field describing the specific item on which maintenance was performed, or the support service that was performed. Use common abbreviations if more than 20 positions would otherwise be required. Start in position 45 and leave blank unused positions to the right (left justify).

a. For aircraft and missiles, use popular names, if assigned, such as Patriot, Cobra, Phoenix, Falcon, Minuteman, and Harrier. If a popular name has not been assigned or is unknown, then use the basic mission of the aircraft or missile, such as Fighter Aircraft, Trainer Aircraft, Cargo Trans Aircraft, Util Helicopter, or Surface Attack Missile. DoD 4120.15-L, “Model Designation of Military Aerospace Vehicles,” includes a current complete listing.

b. For aircraft and rocket engines, use the name of the engine type. Examples are Turbofan Engine, and Rocket Motor.

c. For vessels, use the name of the ship. An example is the U.S. Ship (USS) Georgia.

d. For conventional ammunition, use “Ammunition.”

e. For items with an NSN, use the standard description maintained by DLIS in the Federal Logistics Information System (FLIS).

f. For all other items, use the noun and modifiers that adequately describe the item.

11. Field 11—Not Used

12. Field 12—Weapon or Support System Code. A code identifying a specific weapon or support system. Use code 997 if an item cannot be identified to a specific weapon or support system, but can be identified in Field 13 to a major commodity group (such as aircraft, and missiles) and to a category (such as fighters and bombers) within the major commodity group. Use code 998 if identification is possible only to the major commodity group and not to a category. Use code 999 if identification cannot be made to a major commodity group and the Work Breakdown Structure Code L11 is used in Field 13.

13. Field 13—Work Breakdown Structure Code. A code to identify the specific type of weapon or support system to which the item described by the Item Identification Code (Field 9) and Item Nomenclature (Field 10) applies. Use the Work Breakdown Structure Code established in Addendum 4 to this chapter. Use code L11 if the item, service, or investment cannot be identified with a specifically listed Work Breakdown Structure Code and Code 999 is used in Field 12.

14. Field 14—WPC. A code to categorize the type of maintenance work performed on the item identified in Field 9 or the type of maintenance service provided. Use the Codes in Addendum 5. Subcategorize basic alpha codes with a numerical designation by each Component as required for internal management and analysis, budget review, and justification. If the report record is “N” (Technical Assistance) or “T” (Other Work), then Fields 45 and 50 must be zero.

15. Field 15—Customer Code. A code identifying the DoD Program and Department or Agency billed for the maintenance cost (that is, “Sales code”). In Position 85, enter A (Army), N (Navy), F (Air Force), M (Marine Corps), or D (Defense Agency) to designate a DoD customer. Enter Y for other Federal agencies or a Z for all non-Federal customers. Leave position 86 blank.

Fields 17–42—Labor Hour and Cost Data. The direct labor hours and summary elements of reported costs are set forth in Addendum 3. The various elements of cost are explained in detail in the basic chapter. Some clarifying notations are included for certain fields. In addition:

a. “Funded” and “Unfunded” costs are defined in paragraph 140204.

b. Entries in direct labor hour’s fields must be the actual hours expended rather than standard (or “earned”) hours.

17. Field 17—Direct Civilian Labor—Funded Costs

18. Field 18—Direct Civilian Labor—Funded Hours

19. Field 19—Contract Labor Augmentation of Direct Workforce—Funded Costs. Funded costs for direct labor performed by contract personnel who augment the organic workforce, working side by side with Government personnel, and whose time is recorded in the local time and attendance system. This excludes contract personnel working at a Government depot under a contract for delivery of a specific product such as painting an aircraft for a fixed price per aircraft. Also excluded are contract personnel performing indirect or overhead support functions.

20. Field 20—Contract Labor Augmentation of Direct Workforce—Funded Hours. Funded hours for direct labor performed by contract personnel who augment the organic workforce, working side by side with Government personnel, and whose time is recorded in the local time and attendance system. This excludes contract personnel working at a Government depot under a contract for delivery of a specific product, such as painting an aircraft for a fixed price per aircraft. Also excluded are contract personnel performing indirect or overhead support functions.

21. Field 21—Direct Military Labor—Funded Costs. Since the majority of military personnel at depot maintenance activities are there for reasons other than business requirements, their cost is to be reported based upon civilian equivalent rates that are provided by the DoD Comptroller. These are the rates reflected in DWCF activity budgets.

22. Field 22—Direct Military Labor—Funded Hours

23. Field 23—Direct Military Labor—Unfunded Costs. The labor cost for military personnel not funded by the performing activity. The cost calculation is based upon civilian equivalent rates that are provided by the DoD Comptroller. This Field includes military personnel at a direct-funded activity or military personnel temporarily working under the supervision of a DWCF activity.

24. Field 24—Direct Military Labor—Unfunded Hours. The labor hours for military personnel not funded by the performing activity. This Field includes military personnel at a direct-funded activity or military personnel temporarily working under the supervision of a DWCF activity.

25. Field 25—Direct Material—Funded Costs

26. Field 26—Direct Material—Unfunded Costs. Includes material provided at no cost to the performing activity.

27. Field 27—Direct Civilian Labor—Unfunded Costs. The civilian labor cost for Government (Civil Service) employees not funded by the performing activity. This Field excludes contractor personnel used for workforce augmentation.

28. Field 28—Direct Civilian Labor—Unfunded Hours. The civilian labor hours for Government (Civil Service) employees not funded by the performing activity. This Field excludes contractor personnel used for workforce augmentation.

29. Field 29—Not Used

30. Field 30—Other Direct—Funded Costs. For example, contracted services.

31. Field 31—Other Direct—Unfunded Costs. For example, customer provided services.

32. Field 32—Operations Overhead—Funded Costs

33. Field 33—Operations Overhead—Unfunded Costs. For example, military personnel cost for indirect effort.

34. Field 34—General and Administrative—Funded Costs

35. Field 35—General and Administrative—Unfunded Costs
ADDENDUM 3 – DMCS Input File (continued)

36. Field 36—Contract and/or Other Maintenance Activity—Funded and Unfunded Costs. When code 3 is entered in Field 7, this field must be the total cost of the contract. Report Government-furnished material or services consumed in the production of contract maintenance in Field 37 or Field 41 as applicable. When code 1 or 2 is entered in Field 7, this field must be zero filled.

37. Field 37—Government-Furnished Material—Funded and Unfunded Costs

38. Field 38—Not Used

39. Field 39—Not Used

40. Field 40—Not Used

41. Field 41—Government-Furnished Services—Funded and Unfunded Costs

42. Field 42—Not Used

43. Field 43—Not Used

44. Field 44—Not Used

45. Field 45—Total Production Quantity

   a. If Field 51 is a “C,” then enter the total quantity of items for which work was completed and reported by this transaction record (including contractor-performed work reported with a “3” in Field 7). This field must be zero filled for WPCs “N” and “T.”

   b. If Field 51 is a “W,” then enter the total quantity of items covered by job orders that are not yet financially complete at the end of the period covered by the report record. This field must be zero filled for WPCs “N” and “T.”

46. Field 46—Report Data Record Identifier. A unique DoD Component alpha and/or numeric code used to identify each individual report transaction record. Use the field to permit the unique identification of each report record. For DoD organic activities, it is recommended that the job order number, or similar production control number, be entered. In all cases, the numbering scheme should:

   a. Uniquely identify each job order, consolidation of similar job orders, or similar production control number;

   b. Support queries into the source of data appearing in DMCS report records; and

   c. Support year-to-year tracking by job order number (or similar production control number).

47. Field 47—Not Used

48. Field 48—Not Used

49. Field 49—Not Used

50. Field 50—Shop Flow Days

   a. If Field 51 is a “C,” then report the average number of days that the items being reported were in process; that is, from the date an item is physically inducted to the date the item is completed, passed its final inspection, and is ready for delivery to the customer. The field may be left blank for contractor-performed work or for work performed at another depot maintenance activity if the number of days in process cannot be determined. Make reasonable efforts to provide accurate data for all applicable records submitted.

   b. If Field 51 is a “W,” then report the average number of days that each item was in process; that is, since the date of physical induction.

51. Field 51—Work Status Code. A single-digit alpha code that indicates if the transaction being reported has been financially completed, or is still in process at the time of the report.

   a. Enter a “C” if the reported transaction is financially complete.

   b. Enter a “W” if the transaction being reported is not financially complete as of the report date.

ADDENDUM 5 - Work Performance Category (WPC) Codes

ADDENDUM 5
WPC CODES
(Codes To Be Used in Field 14 of Addendum 3)

Code A—Overhaul. Returning an unserviceable item of equipment to serviceable condition by restoring most or all internal tolerances to “like new” specification. Overhaul is synonymous with “rework” and “rebuild.”

Code B—Progressive Maintenance. A predetermined amount of work that represents a partial overhaul under a program that permits the complete overhaul by means of two or more scheduled work efforts in the maintenance process. Progressive maintenance is synonymous with “cycle maintenance,” “restricted availability,” “preventive servicing,” “recondition,” and “phased” or “incremental maintenance.”

Code C—Conversion. The alteration of the basic characteristics of an item to such an extent as to change its mission, performance, or capability.

Code D—Activation. The process of returning an item from preservation, storage, or inactive status to an active, serviceable status by means of removal from storage and containers, stripping, inspection, servicing, testing, repair, replacement of components, assemblies, or subassemblies as required.

Code E—Inactivation. The servicing and preservation of an item prior to placement in storage or an inactive status.

Code F—Renovation. The proof and test, evaluation, inspection, and rework of ammunition or ordnance items as required for retaining their desired capability.

Code G—Analytical Inspection. The disassembly, inspection, data gathering, and engineering analysis of an equipment item to compare actual wear characteristics and failure patterns with predicted values. Data collected during analytical inspection is used to validate the adequacy of maintenance planning and execution. Analytical rework is synonymous with the “age exploration analysis” phase of reliability-centered maintenance.

Code H—Modification. A physical change made to weapon systems or equipment such that one or more measurable characteristic is altered. Modifications are often made to improve equipment performance, but may also be designed to increase reliability, improve supportability, or enhance safety. Synonymous with “upgrade.”

Code I—Repair. Returning an unserviceable item of equipment to serviceable condition by restoring failed structures or components to acceptable standards. “Acceptable” may mean “restore to ‘like new’ specification,” or it may be less stringent, depending upon the demands of the equipment user.

Code J—Inspection. The examination of an item to reveal information about its physical condition. Inspection results are typically compared with specifications, standards, or the results of other inspections to determine whether the item under inspection is acceptable for use. Inspections are also an important part of engineering investigations that seek to establish cause-and-effect relationships between observed characteristics and external influences.

Code K—Manufacture. The fabrication of a component or end item from raw materials or components. Can include engineering, design, test, and production. Does not include manufacturing that takes place as a part of the normal repair or overhaul processes.

Code L—Reclamation. The authorized processing of end items, assemblies, or subassemblies to obtain parts or components retained in operating materials and supplies prior to taking disposal action on the end item, assembly, or subassembly. Includes demilitarization actions on items prior to disposal when the demilitarization is incidental to the reclamation.

Code M—Storage. The inspection, preservation, periodic re-preservation, and maintenance in storage status of weapons, subsystems, and components in the supply system.

Code N—Technical Assistance. The use of qualified depot maintenance personnel to provide technical information, instructions, or guidance, or to perform specific work requiring special skills for operational activities or other maintenance organizations. Includes all demilitarization other than that incidental to reclamation when reporting is required.

Codes O, P, Q, R, and S—Not Used

Code T—Other Work. Used to complete the reporting of all maintenance workforce costs incurred. Any costs incurred at a depot maintenance activity funded by the Working Capital Fund that do not meet the criteria for reporting under the other WPCs must be reported in this category. This includes any maintenance support costs funded by a DWCF activity. Maintenance support includes centralized programming and planning support, technical and engineering services, preparation of maintenance publications and engineering data, and technical and administrative training.

Code U—Software Maintenance. Those software activities carried out following initial operating capability to include all events that maintain operational capability, correct faults, improve performance, and adapt the software to environmental changes or new requirements. Software maintenance must be reported regardless of location or funding source. For software or related hardware modifications/upgrades, includes the labor associated with the application of the modification.

Code V—Calibration. The comparison of a measurement system or device of unknown accuracy to a system or device of known and greater accuracy. The system or device of greater accuracy is a measurement standard.

Code W—CLS, ICS, PBL, and Similar Contracts. The CLS, ICS, PBL, and similar contracts provide commercial support for weapon systems and equipment that do not have an organic support base established. Contractors provide total logistics support, including depot maintenance for the equipment, end item, and components. Only those maintenance functions that would be classified as depot-level, if the equipment were maintained organically, will be included.

Codes X, Y, and Z—Not Used
SUMMARY OF MAJOR CHANGES

All changes are denoted by blue font.

Substantive revisions are denoted by an asterisk (*) symbol preceding the section, paragraph, table, or figure that includes the revision.

Unless otherwise noted, chapters referenced are contained in this volume.

Hyperlinks are denoted by bold, italic, blue, and underlined font.

DEFENSE WORKING CAPITAL FUND ACCOUNTING REPORT
[ACCOUNTING REPORT (MONTHLY) 1307]

1501 GENERAL

150101. Purpose

This chapter prescribes the reporting requirements and policies to follow when preparing the Defense Working Capital Fund (DWCF) Accounting Report [Accounting Report (Monthly) 1307] (AR(M) 1307) and is applicable to all DoD Working Capital Funds.

*150102. Authoritative Guidance

The chapter addresses the basic internal reporting requirements identified in Title 10, United States Code, section 2208 (10 U.S.C. § 2208), which requires the Secretary of Defense, with respect to the working capital funds of each Defense Agency, and the Secretary of each military department, with respect to the working capital funds of the military department, to provide for separate accounting, reporting, and auditing of funds and activities managed through the working capital funds.

1502 REPORTING

150201. Report Content

A. The DWCF AR(M) 1307 consists of three principal internal accounting statements.

2. Statement of Cash Flow. The Statement of Cash Flow discloses the reporting entity’s cash flows from operations, adjustments, and appropriations and cash transfers with an explanation of the changes in cash or cash equivalents for the reporting period.

3. Statement of Operations. The Statement of Operations discloses the results of the reporting entity’s operations for the reporting period, including changes in the entity’s net position from the end of the prior reporting period.

B. Volume 1, Chapter 2 contains the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board hierarchy of accounting principles and standards used to prepare the DWCF AR(M) 1307.

* C. Volume 1, Chapter 4 contains guidance on the Standard Financial Information Structure that supports requirements for budgeting, financial accounting, cost/performance, and external reporting needs across the DoD.
D. The DWCF AR(M) 1307 is the official internal management report document for financial accounting and is a source document for the annual financial statements. The United States Standard General Ledger (USSGL), on which the report is based, is updated at least annually and posted by the Bureau of the Fiscal Service (Fiscal Service). The DoD Standard Chart of Accounts provides normal account balance information. The DoD USSGL Transaction Library provides detailed general ledger transactions and posting business rules for accounting standardization that supports the preparation of financial statements.

1. The AR(M) 1307 provides accounting and inventory data for financial reporting and identifies the proprietary position of DWCF activities. The AR(M) 1307 complements information provided in the Standard Form (SF) 133, Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources, which is prepared by using the activity’s budgetary trial balances. Although the AR(M) 1307 and SF 133 run independently of one another, they should reconcile at the summary level. Refer to Volume 3, Chapter 19 for additional guidance.

2. Use standard reconciliations, such as budgetary to proprietary relationships described in Volume 1, Chapter 7, to verify the integrity of reported data.

150202. Reporting Requirement

A. Applicability. Table 15-1 contains a listing of DWCF financial reporting activities. Within Table 15-1, an asterisk (*) symbol indicates the lowest level for which individual AR(M) 1307 reports are required. DWCF activities may generate the AR(M) 1307 at different levels in order to manage their business effectively. Table 15-1 identifies the levels for which consolidated AR(M) 1307 reports are required with a pound (#) symbol. Each DoD Component DWCF activity must produce consolidated reports.

B. Report Formats. Use the financial report formats provided in Figures 15-1 through 15-9 to prepare reports. Reports produced by Automated Data Processing (ADP) equipment may be substituted for the formats illustrated. Submit the following reports:

1. Statement of Financial Position;

2. Statement of Cash Flow; and

3. Statement of Operations;

a. Part I - Statement of Operations identifies the cumulative year-to-date Net Operating Results (NOR) and the Recoverable NOR. Recoverable NOR is the amount that can be recovered in the activity’s rates;
b. Part II - Changes in Net Position identifies the arithmetic difference between the total assets and total liabilities recognized on a component entity’s balance sheet;

c. Part III - Cost of Goods Sold identifies the value of inventory sold or services provided. It does not provide a value for total obligations incurred;

d. Part IV - Expenses identifies detailed expense information by category. Not all expenses represent claims against budgetary resources;

e. Part V - Recoverable Operating Results reconciles NOR to the operating results that may be used for rate-setting purposes;

f. Part VI - Capital Program identifies the approved program, obligations, disbursements, and collections for the Capital Program by fiscal year (FY); and

C. Frequency of Reports. Unless otherwise specified by the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) (OUSD(C)), prepare and submit the AR(M) 1307 reports monthly. Submit regular reports in accordance with due dates established by the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) and consistent with the requirements of OUSD(C).

D. Distribution

1. Consolidated DoD Component and DWCF Activity Reports. Submit a copy of consolidated DWCF activity reports to the:

   a. Director for Operations, Office of the Deputy Comptroller (Program/Budget (P/B)), OUSD(C);

   b. Offices of the Assistant Secretary of the Army, Navy, and Air Force (Financial Management and Comptroller); the Defense Commissary Agency (DeCA) Comptroller; and Comptrollers of Other Defense Activities (e.g. the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) Comptroller); and

   c. Management Command responsible for the oversight of the DWCF activity, if requested by a DoD Component.

2. Activity Level Reports. Submit a copy of DWCF activity level reports to the:
a. Offices of the Assistant Secretary of the Army, Navy, and Air Force (Financial Management and Comptroller); the DeCA Comptroller; and Comptrollers of Other Defense Activities if requested by a DoD Component;

b. Management Command responsible for the oversight of the DWCF activity, if requested by a DoD Component; and

c. DWCF activity, disclosing any adjustments made to the financial data submitted by that activity.

150203. Detailed Instructions

A. The instructions to the AR(M) 1307 identify the specific data, and appropriate source of that data, for amounts entered into each line of each report.

B. Report amounts in thousands of dollars ($000) for all parts of the report and related footnotes (i.e., $1,000 = $1; $10,000 = $10; and $100,000 = $100).

C. Include footnotes with each report for lines requiring identification of the nature of specific extraordinary amounts or abnormal balances.

D. Allocate or assign adjustments for amounts otherwise accounted for or reported at the DoD Component level to the applicable DWCF activities. Similarly, allocate or assign adjustments for amounts otherwise submitted for or reported at the DWCF activity level to the applicable individual activities. DFAS will make such allocations in accordance with the direction received from the DoD Components. Where reasonable, allocate all such adjustments to individual activities. Show adjustments made at the DWCF activity level separately as a DWCF activity adjustment. Recognize adjustments at the DWCF activity level (DWCF activity adjustment) until the transactions can be allocated to the individual activities. All DWCF activity adjustments must be zero at year-end. Enter adjustments allocated to the individual activity level into the activity’s installation level accounting records. Record the adjustments in accordance with the guidance contained in Chapter 2.

E. Do not retroactively implement policies that could have a significant adverse impact on the accuracy and integrity of financial reports without a clear offsetting benefit, or unless directed by an external authority such as Congress.

F. Base the report submissions on current FY data. All references to “year” apply to FY.

G. Entities are only required to report lines on the AR(M) 1307 in which there is current activity or activity from a prior period.

H. Use the USSGL accounts cited as general guidance to populate each line. DoD requires the use of the DoD Standard Reporting Chart of Accounts in all accounting systems for all appropriations and funds. Detailed account mapping is included in the Defense Departmental Reporting System (DDRS). Volume 1, Chapter 7 prescribes the requirements of the USSGL.

I. Base the report submissions on the bulk file format and attributes outlined in the Governmentwide Treasury Account Symbol Adjusted Trial Balance System (GTAS). The GTAS format includes both budgetary and proprietary USSGL accounts, however, the AR(M) 1307 is based upon proprietary USSGL accounts with few exceptions.

150301. General

The Statement of Financial Position, Figure 15-1, discloses the reporting entity’s assets, liabilities, and net position.

150302. Heading

Complete the heading of the form to indicate: the reporting DoD Component, the reporting DWCF activity, the reporting period (month), and the calendar year.

150303. Line Item Instructions

Instructions for the content of each line item are as follows:

A. Section Heading – ASSETS. The “Assets” section identifies items owned by the Federal Government which have probable (more likely than not) economic benefits that can be obtained or controlled by a Federal Government entity. Fiduciary activities that fall under the guidance of Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) 31, “Accounting for Fiduciary Activities,” are not part of the net position.

B. Line 1 – Fund Balance with Treasury. Report the aggregate amount of the entity’s accounts with the Department of the Treasury (Treasury) for which the entity has the authority to make expenditures and pay liabilities. Establish accounts to identify disbursements and collections applicable to the operating and capital programs to comply with 10 U.S.C. § 2208, which requires DoD to establish a capital asset subaccount. Report the balance by the specified applicable categories.

C. Line 1.a – Funds Collected – Operating Program. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to funds collected for the operating program during the current FY:

101000 Fund Balance with Treasury (Funds Collected – Operating Program)

D. Line 1.b – Funds Collected - Capital Program. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to funds collected for the capital program during the current FY. Base the amount of collections allocated from the operating program to the capital program on the activity’s DWCF-funded depreciation expenses and capital surcharge. In all cases, at the end of the FY, the amount collected must be sufficient to ensure the ending Fund Balance with Treasury - Capital Program is not negative. See Volume 11B, Chapter 3 for additional guidance on transfers of budget authority. Line 1.b will agree with the collections reported in Column 11, “Collections - This Fiscal Year,” of Part VI, “Capital Program,” of the Statement of Operations.

101000 Fund Balance with Treasury (Funds Collected – Capital Program)
E. Line 1.c – Funds Disbursed - Operating Program. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to funds disbursed for the operating program during the current FY:

101000 Fund Balance with Treasury (Funds Disbursed – Operating Program)

F. Line 1.d – Funds Disbursed – Capital Program. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to funds disbursed for the capital program this FY. Line 1.d will agree with the disbursements reported in Column 8, “Disbursements - This Fiscal Year,” of Part VI, “Capital Program,” of the Statement of Operations.

101000 Fund Balance with Treasury (Funds Disbursed – Capital Program)

G. Line 1.e – Funds Transferred In (Out). Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to funds transferred in or out during the current FY:

101000 Fund Balance with Treasury (Current Year Transfers)

H. Line 1.f – Funds with Treasury – Operating Program. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to funds held by the Treasury for the operating program. Report the beginning FY balance of the operating program account, which is the net of prior year funds collected and disbursed related to operating programs.

101000 Fund Balance with Treasury (Funds with Treasury – Operating Program)

109000 Fund Balance with Treasury While Awaiting a Warrant (If applicable, under a continuing resolution authority)

I. Line 1.g – Funds with Treasury – Capital Program. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to funds held by the Treasury for the capital program. Report the beginning FY balance of the capital program account, which is the net of prior year funds collected and disbursed related to capital programs.

101000 Fund Balance with Treasury (Funds with Treasury – Capital Program)

J. Line 2 – Cash on Hand and Other Monetary Assets. Cash on hand and other monetary assets consists of: (a) coins, paper currency, and readily negotiable instruments, such as money orders, checks, and bank drafts on hand or in transit for deposit; (b) amounts on demand deposit with banks or other financial institutions including nonconfirmed collections and disbursements; (c) investments held outside of Treasury; and (d) foreign currencies, which, for accounting purposes, will be translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate on the financial statement date. Report the balance of the following accounts:

111000 Undeposited Collections
113000 Funds Held Outside of Treasury – Budgetary 119000 Other Cash
119500  Other Monetary Assets
120000  Foreign Currency

K.  Line 3 – Accounts Receivable, Net. Accounts receivable are amounts due from others when the right to receive funds accrues as a result of performance of services, delivery of goods, or court-ordered assessments. Line 3 is a summary line for Lines 3.a, “Accounts Receivable, Intragovernmental,” through 3.d, “Accounts Receivable, Non-Federal, Undistributed.”

L.  Line 3.a – Accounts Receivable, Intragovernmental. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts due from other Federal Agencies:

- 131000  Accounts Receivable (except as reported on Line 3.b)
- 131900  Allowance for Loss on Accounts Receivable
- 134000  Interest Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 136000  Penalties and Fines Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 137000  Administrative Fees Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified

M.  Line 3.b – Accounts Receivable, Intragovernmental, Undistributed. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to accounts receivable from other Federal Agencies recorded for undistributed collections. Undistributed collections represent the difference between the amount of collections reported to DFAS by the Treasury finance network and the amount of collections recorded by operating level activities.

- 131000  Accounts Receivable (except as reported on Line 3.a)

N.  Line 3.c – Accounts Receivable, Non-Federal. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to accounts receivable from non-federal agencies and entities:

- 131000  Accounts Receivable (except as reported on Line 3.d)
- 131900  Allowance for Loss on Accounts Receivable
- 134000  Interest Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 134700  Allowance for Loss on Interest Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 136000  Penalties and Fines Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 136700  Allowance for Loss on Penalties and Fines Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 137000  Administrative Fees Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 137700  Allowance for Loss on Administrative Fees Receivable – Not Otherwise Classified

O.  Line 3.d – Accounts Receivable, Non-Federal, Undistributed. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to undistributed accounts receivable balances from non-federal agencies and entities. Undistributed collections represent the difference between the amount of collections reported to DFAS by the Treasury finance network and the amount of collections recorded by operating level activities.

131000 Accounts Receivable (except as reported on Line 3.c)

P. Line 4 – Advances Paid and Prepayments. The amount reported on this line will agree with the amount reported on Line 5, “Advances and Prepayments,” of the “Supplemental Budget Execution Information Report,” which is available in the Budgetary module of DDRS. This report provides additional reporting line items to amounts reported on the SF 133. Report the balance of the following account:

141000 Advances and Prepayments

* Q. Line 5 – Inventories, Net. Inventory is tangible personal property that is: (a) held for sale; (b) in the process of production for sale; (c) consumed in the production of goods for sale or in the provision of services for a fee; (d) held for repair; or (e) excess, obsolete, and unserviceable.

1. SFFAS 3. “Accounting for Inventory and Related Property,” sets the accounting principles under which Federal entities account for and report inventory and related property balances.

2. Although Moving Average Cost (MAC) is the official DoD inventory valuation method, the Latest Acquisition Cost (LAC) valuation method is available to DeCA only. See Volume 4, Chapter 4 for additional guidance on inventory and related property. Line 5 is a summary line for Lines 5.a, “Inventory Items,” and 5.b, “Allowance for Gains (or Losses) on Inventories.”

R. Line 5.a – Inventory Items. Line 5.a is a summary line for Lines 5.a.(1), “Latest Acquisition Cost (LAC),” and 5.a.(2), “Moving Average Cost (MAC).”

S. Line 5.a.(1) – Latest Acquisition Cost (LAC). The amount reported on this line will equal Line 2.i, “Minus: Ending Inventory – LAC,” of Part III, “Cost of Goods Sold,” of the Statement of Operations. Report the amount of inventory maintained at LAC in the following accounts:

152100 Inventory Purchased for Resale
152200 Inventory Held in Reserve for Future Sale
152300 Inventory Held for Repair
152400 Inventory – Excess, Obsolete, and Unserviceable
152500 Inventory – Raw Materials
152700 Inventory – Finished Goods

T. Line 5.a.(2) – Moving Average Cost (MAC). Report the amount of inventory maintained at MAC in the following accounts:
152100  Inventory Purchased for Resale
152200  Inventory Held in Reserve for Future Sale
152300  Inventory Held for Repair
152400  Inventory – Excess, Obsolete, and Unserviceable
152500  Inventory – Raw Materials
152700  Inventory – Finished Goods

U.  Line 5.b – Allowance for Gains (or Losses) on Inventories. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to the estimated cost to repair damage, and to gains (or losses), on inventories. Report a credit balance as a negative amount (deduct) and debit balance as a positive amount (add).

152900  Inventory – Allowance

*  V.  Line 6 – Work-in-Process. DWCF work-in-process is the amount of direct, indirect, and general and administrative costs assigned or otherwise properly allocated to a final cost objective (generally, a job order), or the amount of incremental billings for Supply Management manufactured inventory. Prior to completion of final cost objects, either in their entirety or as discrete elements, allocate all costs to work-in-process.

1. When recognizing revenue on a percentage-of-completion basis, record the portion of work-in-process associated with the recognized revenue as cost of goods sold. Line 6 applies to DWCF activities that accumulate costs to a final cost objective (generally, a job order), such as those within the Depot Maintenance, Research and Development (R&D), and Base Support DWCF activities. Line 6 will agree with the amount reported on Line 1.g, “Minus: Ending Work-In-Process,” of Part III, “Cost of Goods Sold,” of the Statement of Operations.

2. Non-supply reporting entities are to bill for work-in-process balances before the reporting cycle closes, and therefore, work-in-process is expected to be zero for these activities on the AR(M) 1307. The work-in-process for supply accounts represent progress payments incurred for manufactured items. Provide explanations in the footnotes when non-supply work-in-process is not zero. Timely billing helps ensure resources are available to cover DWCF costs. See Volume 4, Chapter 16 and SFFAS 7, “Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources and Concepts for Reconciling Budgetary and Financial Accounting,” for additional guidance relating to revenue recognition. Report the portion of the balance in the following accounts as they relate to work-in-process:

152900  Inventory – Allowance

W.  Line 7 – Operating Materials and Supplies, Net. Operating materials and supplies are asset accounts consisting of tangible personal property expensed when consumed in the course of normal operations. See Volume 4, Chapter 4 for guidance related to capitalizing or expensing operating materials and supplies balances. Line 7 can be applicable to any DWCF activity. Report the balance of the following accounts:
151100  Operating Materials and Supplies Held for Use
151200  Operating Materials and Supplies Held in Reserve for Future Use 151300  Operating Materials and Supplies – Excess, Obsolete, and Unserviceable 151400 Operating Materials and Supplies – Held for Repair
151600 Operating Materials and Supplies – In Development
151900 Operating Materials and Supplies – Allowance

X. Line 8 – Property, Plant, and Equipment, Net. Property, plant, and equipment (PP&E) are tangible assets that: (1) have an estimated useful life of two or more years; (2) are not intended for sale in the ordinary course of business; and (3) are intended to be used or available for use by the entity.

1. SFFAS 6, “Accounting for Property, Plant, and Equipment,” outlines accounting standards for Federally owned PP&E. Line 8 is the cost basis, net of depreciation, of the activity’s real and personal property, i.e., land, structures and facilities, construction-in-progress, purchased and self-developed software, equipment, and related improvements that have been capitalized.

* 2. Report DoD real property as follows:

a. Construction-In-Progress. The funding entity accumulates and reports construction-in-progress for real property (including improvements) in the construction-in-progress accounts until the asset or improvement is placed in service. When the asset or improvement is placed in service, the funding entity removes the construction-in-progress balance and recognizes the asset. The funding entity then transfers the asset or improvement to the host entity, if the host entity is different than the funding entity.

b. In-Service Assets. Report real property on the financial statements of the Military Department or Washington Headquarters Services on whose installation a real property asset is located. A Military Department working capital fund can report real property on its financial statements if it has jurisdiction over an installation.

c. Land. Reporting responsibilities for land follow the same rules as other real property. However, reporting entities without an unmodified audit opinion value existing land at zero dollars and expense future land acquisitions.

d. Capitalized Improvements. The funding entity accumulates and reports the costs of capitalized improvements until the improvement to an asset is placed in service, at which time it will be transferred to the entity responsible for reporting the real property base asset. Only Military Departments and Washington Headquarters Services have financial reporting responsibility for real property and completed improvements. See Volume 4, Chapter 24 for additional information. Line 8 is a summary line for Lines 8.a, “Structures, Facilities and Leasehold Improvements, Net,” through 8.g, “Other Property, Net.”
Y. Line 8.a – Structures, Facilities and Leasehold Improvements, Net. Report the balance of the following accounts:

- 171200 Improvements to Land
- 171900 Accumulated Depreciation on Improvements to Land
- 173000 Buildings, Improvements, and Renovations
- 173900 Accumulated Depreciation on Buildings, Improvements, and Renovations
- 174000 Other Structures and Facilities
- 174900 Accumulated Depreciation on Other Structures and Facilities
- 182000 Leasehold Improvements
- 182900 Accumulated Amortization on Leasehold Improvements

Z. Line 8.b – Construction-in-Progress. Report the balance of the following account:

- 172000 Construction–in–Progress

AA. Line 8.c – Equipment, Net. Report the balance of the following accounts:

- 175000 Equipment
- 175900 Accumulated Depreciation on Equipment

AB. Line 8.d – ADP Software, Net. Report the balance of the following accounts:

- 183000 Internal–Use Software
- 183900 Accumulated Amortization on Internal–Use Software

AC. Line 8.e – Software Development in Progress. Report the balance of the following account:

- 183200 Internal–Use Software in Development

AD. Line 8.f – Assets Under Capital Lease, Net. Report the balance of the following accounts:

- 181000 Assets Under Capital Lease
- 181900 Accumulated Depreciation on Assets Under Capital Lease

AE. Line 8.g – Other Property, Net. Report the balance of the following accounts:

- 184000 Other Natural Resources
- 184900 Allowance for Depletion
- 189000 Other General Property, Plant, and Equipment
189900 Accumulated Depreciation on Other Property, Plant, and Equipment

AF. Line 9 – Other Assets, Net. Report the balance of the following accounts:

135000 Loans Receivable - Not Otherwise Defined
159100 Other Related Property
159900 Other Related Property – Allowance
199000 Other Assets
199500 General Property, Plant, and Equipment Permanently Removed but Not Yet Disposed

AH. Section Heading – LIABILITIES. The “Liabilities” section identifies obligations of the Federal Government to provide assets or services to another entity at a determinable date, when a specified event occurs, or on demand.

* AI. Line 11 – Liabilities Covered by Budgetary Resources. Report liabilities covered by available budgetary resources on this line. Budgetary resources are required to cover all obligations whether considered a liability or not.

1. Available budgetary resources include: (1) new budget authority; (2) unobligated balances of budgetary resources at the beginning of the year or net transfers of prior year balances during the year; (3) spending authority from offsetting collections (credited to an appropriation or fund account); and (4) recoveries of unexpired budget authority through downward adjustments of prior year obligations.

2. Consider liabilities covered by budgetary resources if they are to be funded by permanent indefinite appropriations, which have been enacted and signed into law and are available for use as of the reporting date. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) may apportion the resources without further action by the Congress or without a contingency first having to be met. Line 11 is a summary line for Lines 11.a, “Accounts Payable, Net,” through 11.h, “Other Liabilities.”

AK. Line 11.a.(1) – Accounts Payable, Intragovernmental. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to accounts payables owed to Federal entities:
211000 Accounts Payable (except as reported on Line 11.a.(2))
212000 Disbursements in Transit
214000 Accrued Interest Payable – Not Otherwise Classified

AL. Line 11.a.(2) – Accounts Payable, Intragovernmental, Undistributed. Report the amount of accounts payable in the following account that is owed to Federal entities recorded for undistributed disbursements. Undistributed disbursements represent the difference between the amount of disbursements reported by DFAS to the Treasury finance network and the amount of disbursements recorded by operating level activities.

211000 Accounts Payable (except as reported on Line 11.a.(1))

AM. Line 11.a.(3) – Accounts Payable, Non-Federal. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to accounts payable owed to non-federal entities:

211000 Accounts Payable (except as reported on Line 11.a.(4))
212000 Disbursements in Transit
213000 Contract Holdbacks
214000 Accrued Interest Payable – Not Otherwise Classified

AN. Line 11.a.(4) – Accounts Payable, Non-Federal, Undistributed. Report the amount of accounts payable in the following account that is owed to non-federal entities recorded for undistributed disbursements. Undistributed disbursements represent the difference between the amount of disbursements reported to DFAS by the Treasury finance network and the amount of disbursements recorded by operating level activities.

211000 Accounts Payable (except as reported on Line 11.a.(3))

AP. Line 11.b.(1) – Salaries and Wages. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to salaries and wages:

221000 Accrued Funded Payroll and Leave
221100 Withholdings Payable 221300 Employer Contributions and Payroll Taxes Payable

AQ. Line 11.b.(2) – Accrued Annual Leave. DWCF activities must fully fund annual leave in their rates. The balance reported on this line represents the value of employee annual leave not yet taken. This amount is exclusive of the amount reported on Line 11.b.(1). Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to accrued annual leave:

221000 Accrued Funded Payroll and Leave
AR.  Line 11.b.(3) – Severance Pay, Separation Allowance, and Other Payroll Liabilities. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to severance pay, separation allowances, and other payroll liabilities:

221500  Other Post-Employment Benefits Due and Payable

AS.  Line 11.c – Progress Billings. The amount reported represents billings received in advance of performance for which revenue has not been earned. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to progress billings:

231000  Liability for Advances and Prepayments

AT.  Line 11.d – Advances and Prepayments from Others. The amount reported will agree with Line 6, “Unearned Revenue,” of the “Supplemental Report on Budget Execution.” Report the value of advances and prepayments received for goods not yet delivered or services not yet performed in the following account:

231000  Liability for Advances and Prepayments

AU.  Line 11.e – Debt.  Line 11.e represents the amount of borrowings from the Treasury, the Federal Financial Bank, or other Federal Agencies. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to debt:

214000  Accrued Interest Payable – Not Otherwise Classified (except as reported on Line 11.f)
214200  Accrued Interest Payable – Debt
252000  Principal Payable to the Federal Financing Bank
259000  Other Debt

AV.  Line 11.f – Interest Payable. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to interest payable (other than debt interest). Exclude amounts already listed on Line 11.e, “Debt.”

214000  Accrued Interest Payable – Not Otherwise Classified (except as reported on Line 11.e)

AW.  Line 11.g – Lease Liabilities. Line 11.g represents the portion of liability for capital leases covered by budgetary authority. Fully fund the capital leases and lease-purchases in the first year of the lease in accordance with OMB Circular A-11, Appendix B, “Budgetary Treatment of Lease-Purchases and Leases of Capital Assets.” Report the balance of the following account:

294000  Capital Lease Liability

AX.  Line 11.h – Other Liabilities. Line 11.h represents liabilities not recognized in other specific categories. Include the total amount due Federal entities for other liabilities covered by budgetary authority not included on other lines. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to transactions with other Federal and non-federal entities:

AY. Line 12 – Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources. Liabilities not covered by available budgetary resources result from the receipt of goods or services, or the occurrence of other eligible events, for which revenues or other sources of funds necessary to pay the liabilities have not been made available through Congressional appropriations or current earnings of the reporting entity. Notwithstanding an expectation that the appropriations will be made, whether they, in fact, will be made is at the discretion of the Congress. AZ. Line 13 – Total Liabilities. Line 13 is a summary line for Lines 11, “Liabilities Covered by Budgetary Resources,” and 12, “Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources.”

BA. Section Heading – NET POSITION. The “Net Position” section presents the arithmetic difference between the total assets and total liabilities recognized in the Federal Government's or a component entity's balance sheet. Net position may be positive (assets greater than liabilities) or negative (assets less than liabilities).

BC. Line 14.a – Unexpended Appropriations. Line 14.a is equal to Line 1.A.(3), “Equals: Unexpended Appropriations – End of Period,” of Part II, “Changes in Net Position,” of the Statement of Operations. Normally, DWCF activities will not have unexpended appropriations as they are expended upon receipt to provide budgetary authority. (Supply activities that receive appropriations for War Reserve Materiel may not expend upon receipt. Also, a DWCF may have unexpended appropriations for Emergency Disaster Relief.)

SUPPLEMENTAL DISCLOSURE OF CASH FLOW INFORMATION:

| 22. Total Interest Paid                XXX       |
150401. General

The Statement of Cash Flow, Figure 15-2, discloses the reporting entity’s gross cash receipts and disbursements with an explanation of the changes in cash or cash equivalents for the reporting period.

150402. Heading

Complete the heading of the form to indicate: the reporting DoD Component, the reporting DWCF activity, the reporting period (month), and the calendar year.

150403. Line Item Instructions

Instructions for the content of each line item are as follows:

A. Section Heading - CASH FLOWS FROM OPERATIONS. The “Cash Flows From Operations” section presents the cash flows generated by an entity’s operations.

C. Section Heading - OPERATING ADJUSTMENTS. The “Operating Adjustments” section identifies increases and decreases in items impacting an entity’s ending Fund Balance with Treasury.

D. Line 2 – Appropriated Capital Used (-). The amount of appropriated funds expended is a negative adjustment to the cash flow from operations. Report the balance of the following account:

570000 Expended Appropriations

G. Line 5 – Decrease (Increase) in Inventories. Line 5 is a summary line for Lines 5.a, “Inventory,” through 5.c, “Operating Materials and Supplies, Net.” Report the net decrease (increase) of the three sub-categories of inventory reported on Lines 5.a through 5.c.

N. Line 9 – Increase (Decrease) in Liabilities. Report the current year change in the following accounts:

- 213000 Contract Holdbacks
- 214000 Accrued Interest Payable – Not Otherwise Classified
- 216000 Entitlement Benefits Due and Payable
- 219000 Other Liabilities With Related Budgetary Obligations
- 222500 Unfunded FECA Liability
- 231000 Liability for Advances and Prepayments
- 232000 Other Deferred Revenue
- 240000 Liability for Nonfiduciary Deposit Funds and Undeposited Collections
- 252000 Principal Payable to the Federal Financing Bank
- 259000 Other Debt
- 265000 Actuarial FECA Liability
- 292000 Contingent Liabilities
- 294000 Capital Lease Liability
- 296000 Accounts Payable From Canceled Appropriations
- 298500 Liability for Non–Entity Assets Not Reported on the Statement of Custodial Activity
O. Line 10 – Depreciation and Amortization. The depreciation and amortization for the period are not paid in cash and, therefore, require a positive adjustment to net cash flow from operations. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to items funded by the DWCF activity:

- 671000 Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion

P. Line 11 – Other Adjustments. Line 11 is a summary line for Lines 11.a, “Prior Period Adjustments,” through 11.c, “Other.”

Q. Line 11.a – Prior Period Adjustments. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to prior period adjustments. Enter prior period adjustments for the period that are not cash related transactions.

- 740000 Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors
- 740100 Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Changes in Accounting Principles
- 740500 Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors – Years Preceding the Prior Year

R. Line 11.b – Non–Cash Transfers. Report the balance of the following accounts. Enter transfers in and transfers out for the period that are not cash related transactions.

- 572000 Financing Sources Transferred In Without Reimbursement
- 573000 Financing Sources Transferred Out Without Reimbursement

S. Line 11.c – Other. Report the balance of the following account:

- 579000 Other Financing Sources

T. Line 12 – Total Operating Adjustments. Line 12 is a summary line for Lines 2, “Appropriated Capital Used (–),” through 11, “Other Adjustments.”

U. Line 13 – NOR Plus or Minus Operating Adjustments. Report the sum of Lines 1, “Net Operating Results (NOR),” and 12, “Total Operating Adjustments.”

V. Section Heading – CAPITAL ADJUSTMENTS. The “Capital Adjustments” section adjusts cash flow for the impact of acquiring and disposing of PP&E and other assets used in the production of goods and services. Most sales within the DWCF are recorded as revenue and included in Line 1, “Net Operating Results (NOR).” However, if an incoming cash flow is not a result of revenue, identify that cash flow within this section as either a result of a sale of PP&E or another cause. See Volume 4 for additional information relating to PP&E.

X. Section Heading – APPROPRIATIONS AND CASH TRANSFERS. The “Appropriations and Cash Transfers” section identifies the impact on cash flow from resources obtained in the form of appropriations from the Congress, or by transferring from or to other reporting entities. Appropriations may be distributed to the individual activity level. If appropriations are not distributed, report by the DWCF level holding those balances or allocate by that DWCF level, for reporting purposes, to the appropriate activity or activities.

Y. Line 15 – Appropriations (Current Warrants). Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to transfers in and transfers out of appropriations (current warrants). Report the amount of appropriations received, net of rescissions, for the current FY in the following accounts:

- 310100 Unexpended Appropriations – Appropriations Received
- 310200 Unexpended Appropriations – Transfers–In
- 310300 Unexpended Appropriations – Transfers–Out
- 310500 Unexpended Appropriations – Prior Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors – Years Preceding the Prior Year
- 310600 Unexpended Appropriations – Adjustments
- 310700 Unexpended Appropriations – Used
- 310800 Unexpended Appropriations – Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors
- 310900 Unexpended Appropriations – Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Changes in Accounting Principles

- 575500 Nonexpenditure Financing Sources – Transfers–In

576500 Nonexpenditure Financing Sources – Transfers–Out

AD. Line 18 – Repayments on Loans from the Treasury and the Federal Financing Bank. Report the amounts disbursed to liquidate loans from the Fiscal Service, the Federal Financing Bank, or other Federal Agencies. Line 18 applies only to the Military Sealift Command (MSC).

252000 Principal Payable to the Federal Financing Bank

AH. Section Heading – SUPPLEMENTAL DISCLOSURE OF CASH FLOW INFORMATION. The “Supplemental Disclosure of Cash Flow Information” section presents additional information related to the Statement of Cash Flow.

AI. Line 22 – Total Interest Paid. Report the current year change in the following accounts:

214000 Accrued Interest Payable – Not Otherwise Classified
214100 Accrued Interest Payable – Loans
214200 Accrued Interest Payable – Debt
633000 Other Interest Expenses

150501. General

Part I – Statement of Operations, Figure 15-3, identifies the cumulative year-to-date NOR and the Recoverable NOR.

150502. Heading

Complete the heading of the form to indicate: the reporting DoD Component, the reporting DWCF activity, the reporting period (month), and the calendar year.

150503. Line Item Instructions

Instructions for the content of each line item are as follows:

A. Section Heading – REVENUES AND FINANCING SOURCES. The “Revenues and Financing Sources” section presents inflows of or other increases in assets, decreases in liabilities, or a combination of both resulting in an increase in the government's net position during the reporting period.

B. Line 1 – Appropriated Capital Used. Appropriations, primarily for War Reserve Material and Commissary Operations, may be provided directly to the DWCF. Use USSGL account 570000, “Expended Appropriations,” to record an amount equal to accrued expenses (versus outlays) of appropriated funds provided directly to the Fund. The purpose of the account is to match current period expenses to the appropriated funds used to finance those expenses. Record amounts in account 570000 equal to the amount of program expenses but do not include any expenses applicable to revenue accounts other than account 570000. In other words, record expenses incurred against an appropriation made directly available to the DWCF separately from expenses incurred against ordinary DWCF reimbursable financing. Report the balance of the following account:

570000 Expended Appropriations

C. Line 2 – Revenue from Sales of Goods and Services. Line 2 is a summary line for Lines 2.a, “Gross Revenue from Sales,” and 2.b, “Minus: Credits Allowed on Sales.”

D. Line 2.a – Gross Revenue from Sales. Report the balances in the following accounts:

520000 Revenue From Services Provided

E. Line 2.b – Minus: Credits Allowed on Sales. Reporting activities within the Supply Management Activity will report the dollar amount of credits allowed on amounts due (accounts receivable) from sales or Depot Level Repairable (DLR) exchanges. Report the balances in the following accounts:
510900  Contra Revenue for Goods Sold
520900  Contra Revenue from Services Provided

F.  Line 3 – Other Revenue and Financing Sources.  Include the total amount of revenues and financing sources not reported on Lines 1, “Appropriated Capital Used,” or 2, “Revenue from Sales of Goods and Services.” Do not include revenues reported on this line in customer rates.  Include cash donations.  Identify the nature of each miscellaneous gain in the footnotes.  Do not include other gains related to inventory on this line.  Report other gains related to inventory on Line K.4, “Net Other Inventory (Gains) Losses” of Part IV, “Expenses,” of the Statement of Operations.  Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts as they relate to Other Revenues and Financing Sources:

531000  Interest Revenue – Other
531900  Contra Revenue for Interest Revenue – Other 532000  Penalties and Fines Revenue
532900  Contra Revenue for Administrative Fees
560000  Donated Revenue – Financial Resources
560900  Contra Revenue for Donations – Financial Resources
561000  Donated Revenue – Nonfinancial Resources
561900  Contra Donated Revenue – Nonfinancial Resources
575500  Nonexpenditure Financing Sources – Transfers–In – Other 576500  Nonexpenditure Financing Sources – Transfers–Out – Other 577500  Nonbudgetary Financing Sources Transferred In 578000  Imputed Financing Sources
579000  Other Financing Sources
590000  Other Revenue
590900  Contra Revenue for Other Revenue
599300  Offset to Non–Entity Collections – Statement of Changes in Net Position
599400  Offset to Non–Entity Accrued Collections – Statement of Changes in Net Position 711000  Gains on Disposition of Assets
719000  Other Gains

G.  Line 4 – Total Revenue and Financing Sources.  Line 4 is a summary line for Lines 1, “Appropriated Capital Used,” through 3, “Other Revenue and Financing Sources.” Revenue will equal net sales plus any other reimbursable revenue and financing source.

H.  Section Heading – EXPENSES.  The “Expenses” section presents outflows of or other decreases in assets, increases in liabilities, or a combination of both resulting in a decrease in the government's net position during the reporting period.

L. Line 8 – Total Expenses. Report the sum of Lines 5, “Program or Operating Expenses (Supply and Service Activities),” through 7, “Other Losses.”

M. Section Heading – NET OPERATING RESULTS. The “Net Operating Results” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the NOR for the reporting period.

O. Line 10 – Plus (Minus) Extraordinary Items. Extraordinary items are both unusual in nature and infrequent in occurrence. Identify the nature of each extraordinary gain or loss in a footnote. Report the balance of the following account:

730000   Extraordinary Items

P. Line 11 – Net Operating Results (NOR). Line 11 is a summary line for Lines 9, “Revenue Less Cost Incurred Before Extraordinary Items” and 10, “Plus (Minus) Extraordinary Items.”

Q. Section Heading – NET OPERATING RESULTS FOR RATE PURPOSES. The “Net Operating Results for Rate Purposes” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the NOR used for rate purposes for the reporting period.

150601. General

Part II - Changes in Net Position, Figure 15-4, identifies the arithmetic difference between the total assets and total liabilities recognized on a component entity’s balance sheet.

150602. Heading

Complete the heading of the form to indicate: the reporting DoD Component, the reporting DWCF activity, the reporting period (month), and the calendar year.

150603. Line Item Instructions

Instructions for the content of each line item are as follows:

A. Section Heading – CHANGES IN NET POSITION. The “Changes in Net Position” section identifies the reporting line items used to report the change in net position during the reporting period.

B. Section Heading – UNEXPENDED APPROPRIATIONS. The “Unexpended Appropriations” section identifies appropriations that have not yet been used to acquire goods and services or provide benefits.

   310000  Unexpended Appropriations - Cumulative

D. Line 1.A.(2) – Plus or Minus: Changes in Appropriation Balance. Line 1.A.(2) represents the difference between the beginning FY balance and the balance as of the end of the reporting period. Report the balance of the following accounts:

   310100  Unexpended Appropriations – Appropriations Received
   310200  Unexpended Appropriations – Transfers–In
   310300  Unexpended Appropriations – Transfers–Out
   310500  Unexpended Appropriations – Prior Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors – Years Preceding the Prior Year
   310600  Unexpended Appropriations – Adjustments
   310700  Unexpended Appropriations – Used
   310800  Unexpended Appropriations – Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors
   310900  Unexpended Appropriations – Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Changes in Accounting Principles

F. Section Heading – ACCUMULATED OPERATING RESULTS (AOR). The “Accumulated Operating Results” section reflects the cumulative summation of NOR.

G. Section Heading – RECOVERABLE AOR. The “Recoverable AOR” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the ending balance of recoverable AOR for the reporting period.

   331000  Cumulative Results of Operations

I. Line 1.B.(1).b – Plus or Minus: Prior Period Adjustments. Report the portion of the balance in the following accounts related to prior period adjustments to recoverable AOR. Report a credit balance as a plus and a debit balance as a negative.

   740000  Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors
   740100  Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Changes in Accounting Principles
   740500  Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors – Years Preceding the Prior Year

M. Section Heading – DEFERRED AOR. The “Deferred AOR” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the ending balance of deferred AOR for the reporting period.

331000  Cumulative Results of Operations

O. Line 1.B.(2).b – Plus or Minus: Prior Period Adjustments. Report the portion of the balance in the following accounts related to prior period adjustments to deferred AOR. Report a credit balance as a plus and a debit balance as a negative.

740000  Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors
740100  Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Changes in Accounting Principles
740500  Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors – Years Preceding the Prior Year

Q. Line 1.B.(2).d – Plus or Minus: Net Operating Results. The amount reported on this line will be the opposite of the amount shown on Line 2, “Deferred Operating Results (Gains/Losses) Net,” of Part V, “Recoverable Operating Results,” of the Statement of Operations.

U. Section Heading – INVESTED CAPITAL. The “Invested Capital” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the ending balance of invested capital for the reporting period.

V. Section Heading – ASSETS CAPITALIZED. The “Assets Capitalized” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the ending balance of capitalized assets for the reporting period.

331000 Cumulative Results of Operations

X. Line 1.D.(1).b – Plus: Transfers In of Property. Report the value of non-cash capital assets transferred in without reimbursement. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to non-cash capital transfers:

572000 Financing Sources Transferred In Without Reimbursement

Y. Line 1.D.(1).c – Minus: Transfers Out of Property. Report the value of non-cash capital assets transferred out without reimbursement. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to non-cash capital transfers:

573000 Financing Sources Transferred Out Without Reimbursement

729000 Other Losses

AB. Section Heading – FUND (CASH) ASSETS. The “Fund (Cash) Assets” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the ending balance of fund (cash) assets for the reporting period.

331000 Cumulative Results of Operations
AD. Line 1.D.(2).b – Plus: Transfers In of Cash. Report the amount of financing sources of a reporting entity representing cash transferred in without reimbursement. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to transfers in of cash:

575500 Nonexpenditure Financing Sources – Transfers–In

AE. Line 1.D.(2).c – Minus: Transfers Out of Cash. Report the amount of financing sources of a reporting entity representing cash transferred out without reimbursement. Report the portion of the balance in the following accounts as they relate to transfers out of cash:

576500 Nonexpenditure Financing Sources – Transfers–Out

AG. Section Heading – LIABILITIES ASSUMED. The “Liabilities Assumed” section identifies the reporting line items used to calculate the ending balance of liabilities assumed for the reporting period.

331000 Cumulative Results of Operations

AI. Line 1.D.(3).b – Plus: Transfers In of Liabilities. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to the value of liabilities transferred in:

152600 Inventory – Work-in-Process
152900 Inventory – Allowance

I. Line 1.h – Minus: Work for Activity Retention. Report the value of assets developed or manufactured for use and retention by the performing DWCF activity. Report the portion of the balance of the following account as it relates to assets retained by a business activity:

650000 Cost of Goods Sold

K. Section Heading — COST OF GOODS SOLD FROM INVENTORY. Report in the “Cost of Goods Sold from Inventory” section only the costs for Supply Management and Commissary Resale DWCF activities. Supply activities must record any incremental amount billed for manufactured inventory as work-in-process on Line 1. The Supply Activity will adjust the inventory work-in-process account as appropriate based on the subsequent progress bills received.

1. Refer to the DoD USSGL Transaction Library for detailed debit and credit transactions related to the recording and transfer out of work-in-process inventory accounts to the appropriate Inventory Held for Sale account(s). Once the Supply Activity receives the completed manufactured end item(s), they will transfer the corresponding value in the inventory work-in-process account to the appropriate inventory account. Accounting transactions related to this policy need to comply with the DoD Standard Chart of Accounts and the DoD USSGL Transaction Library.

2. SFFAS 3 sets the accounting principles for Federal Government entities to follow when accounting for and reporting inventory and related property. Volume 4, Chapter 4 provides instructions for DoD Components recording inventory at its last invoice price. Volume 4, Chapter 4 also provides the application of inventory-related accounts and provides clarification for the reporting requirements contained in section 2, “Cost of Goods Sold from Inventory,” of Part III, “Cost of Goods Sold,” of the Statement of Operations.

L. Line 2.a – Beginning Inventory – LAC. Report the balance of Line 2.i, “Minus: Ending Inventory – LAC,” from the preceding September 30, Statement of Operations, Part III, “Cost of Goods Sold.” The LAC valuation method is available to DeCA and is not approved for use by other DoD Components. The amount reported will not change during the FY.

152100 Inventory Purchased for Resale
152200 Inventory Held in Reserve for Future Sale
152300 Inventory Held for Repair
152400 Inventory – Excess, Obsolete, and Unserviceable
152500 Inventory – Raw Materials
152700 Inventory – Finished Goods

M. Line 2.b – Plus/Minus: Prior Period Adjustments to LAC Inventory. Report the current year change for inventory reported at LAC related to prior period adjustments included in the following accounts:

740000 Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors
740100 Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Changes in Accounting Principles
740500 Prior–Period Adjustments Due to Corrections of Errors – Years Preceding the Prior Year

N. Line 2.c – Equals: Adjusted Beginning Inventory-LAC. Line 2.c is a summary line for Lines 2.a, “Beginning Inventory – LAC,” and 2.b, “Plus/Minus: Prior Period Adjustments to LAC Inventory.”

O. Line 2.d – Minus: Beginning Allowance for Unrealized Holding Gains (Losses). Report the balance of Line 2.j, “Plus: Ending Allowance for Unrealized Holding Gains (Losses),” from the preceding September 30, Statement of Operations, Part III, “Cost of Goods Sold.” The amount will not change during the FY. Recognize holding gains (or losses) in the valuation of inventory. Holding gains (or losses) may be unrealized or realized. “Unrealized” refers to any gain (or loss) associated with inventory still held by the entity. “Realization” of the holding gain (or loss) occurs when an item of inventory is sold or otherwise leaves the Supply Management stocking point.
P. Line 2.e – Plus: Purchases at Cost. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to amounts paid or payable for all inventory purchases during the reporting period:

\[ 152900 \quad \text{Inventory – Allowance} \]

Q. Line 2.f – Plus: Customer Returns–Credit Given. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to amounts of credit given on materiel returns:

\[ 152900 \quad \text{Inventory – Allowance} \]

R. Line 2.g – Plus: DLR Exchange Credits. Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to amounts of credits given on DLR exchanges:

\[ 152900 \quad \text{Inventory – Allowance} \]

*S. Line 2.h – Minus: Inventory Losses (Gains) Realized. The realization of most inventory gains (and losses) are recognized through reduction of the unrealized holding gains (and losses) accounts as a result of sales; that is, those gains (and losses) are realized when inventory items are sold and recognized in the cost of goods sold.

1. However, increases (or decreases) in inventory occurring because of disposal and events other than sales also result in an adjustment (increase or decrease) of the unrealized holding gains (or losses) accounts. As those inventory increases (or decreases) are not the result of sales, they should not affect the cost of goods sold. (Immaterial losses are charged to cost of goods sold.)

2. Therefore, remove the value of those gains (or losses) from the cost of goods sold and report on Line K.4, “Net Other Inventory (Gains) Losses,” of Part IV “Expenses,” of the Statement of Operations. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to (gains) losses on inventory identified in the following breakdown:

   a. Non-Recoverable Gains or Losses on Disposal of Excess Inventory, Supply Management:

711000 \quad \text{Gains on Disposition of Assets – Other} \\
719000 \quad \text{Other Gains} \\
721000 \quad \text{Losses on Disposition of Assets – Other} \\ 729000 \quad \text{Other Losses}

   b. Other Inventory Losses, Non-Supply Management:

\[ 729000 \quad \text{Other Losses} \]

T. Line 2.i – Minus: Ending Inventory–LAC. Report the end of period inventory value of the following accounts:
152100  Inventory Purchased for Resale
152200  Inventory Held in Reserve for Future Sale
152300  Inventory Held for Repair
152400  Inventory – Excess, Obsolete, and Unserviceable
152500  Inventory – Raw Materials
152700  Inventory – Finished Goods

U.  Line 2.j – Plus:  Ending Allowance for Unrealized Holding Gains (Losses).  Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to allowance for unrealized holding gains (losses):

152900  Inventory – Allowance

V.  Line 2.k – Minus:  Transfers Out of Inventory at LAC.  Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to inventory maintained at LAC transferred out of the activity:

573000  Financing Sources Transferred Out Without Reimbursement

W.  Line 2.l – Plus:  Transfers In of Inventory at LAC.  Report the portion of the balance in the following account as it relates to inventory maintained at LAC transferred into the activity:

150801. General

150802. Heading

Complete the heading of the form to indicate: the reporting DoD Component, the reporting DWCF activity, the reporting period (month), and the calendar year.

150803. Line Item Instructions

Instructions for the content of each line item are as follows:

A. Line A – Personnel Services and Benefits–Civilian. Line A is a summary line for Lines A.1, “Personnel Compensation,” through A.4, “Benefits for Former Personnel.” Report the amount of expense related to personnel services and benefits:

B. Line A.1 – Personnel Compensation. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to personnel compensation:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

C. Line A.2 – Annual Leave. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to annual leave:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

D. Line A.3 – Personnel Benefits. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to personnel benefits:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs
   640000 Benefits Expense
   680000 Future Funded Expenses
   685000 Employer Contributions to Employee Benefit Programs Not Requiring Current-Year Budget Authority (Unobligated)
   760000 Changes in Actuarial Liability

E. Line A.4 – Benefits for Former Personnel. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to benefits for former personnel:
F. Line B – Travel and Transportation. Line B is a summary line for Lines B.1, “Travel and Transportation of People,” and B.2, “Transportation of Things.” Report the amount of expense related to travel and transportation.

G. Line B.1 – Travel and Transportation of People. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to travel and transportation of persons:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

H. Line B.2 – Transportation of Things. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to travel and transportation of things:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

J. Line C.1 – Rents, Communications, and Utilities. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to rents, communications, and utilities:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

K. Line C.2 – Printing and Reproduction. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to printing and reproduction:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

L. Line D – Contractual Services. Line D is a summary line for Lines D.1, “Military Personnel Services,” and D.2, “Purchased Services.” Report the amount of expense related to military personnel services and other contractual services.

M. Line D.1 – Military Personnel Services. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to military personnel services:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

N. Line D.2 – Purchased Services. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to purchased services:

   610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

P. Line E.1 – Supplies and Materials. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to supplies and materials:

610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

Q. Line E.2 – Equipment. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to equipment (not capitalized):

610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

S. Line F.1 – Grants and Contributions. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to grants and contributions:

610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

T. Line F.2 – Insurance Claims and Indemnifications. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to insurance claims and indemnifications:

610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs

U. Line F.3 – Other Interest Expenses. Report the portion of the balances of the following accounts related to interest expenses not captured in other lines:

631000 Interest Expense on Borrowings from Bureau of the Fiscal Service or Federal Financing Bank
633000 Other Interest Expenses

V. Line G – Other Expenses. Report amounts not captured in other elements of expense. Identify the type of expense on this line.

610000 Operating Expenses/Program Costs
615000 Expensed Asset
619900 Adjustment to Subsidy Expense
660000 Applied Overhead
661000 Cost Capitalization Offset
673000 Imputed Costs
679000 Other Expenses Not Requiring Budgetary Resources
680000  Future Funded Expenses
685000  Employer Contributions to Employee Benefit Programs Not Requiring Current-Year Budget Authority (Unobligated)
690000  Nonproduction Costs

X.  Line H.1 – Depreciation of Equipment.  Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to depreciation of equipment:

671000  Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion

Y.  Line H.2 – Depreciation of Real Property.  Report the amount of the following account related to depreciation of real property:

671000  Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion

Z.  Line H.3 – Amortization of Leasehold Improvements and Other Intangible Assets.  Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to amortization of leasehold improvements and other intangible assets:

671000  Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion

AA.  Line I – Depreciation – Non-DWCF Acquired PP&E.  Line I is a summary line for Lines I.1, “Non-Recoverable Depreciation of Equipment,” through I.2, “Non-Recoverable Amortization.”  Report the amount of depreciation on PP&E acquired by the activity with funds other than DWCF Revolving Funds.

AB.  Line I.1 – Non-Recoverable Depreciation of Equipment.  Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to depreciation of equipment acquired by the activity with funds other than DWCF Revolving Funds:

671000  Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion

AC.  Line I.2 – Non-Recoverable Amortization.  Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to amortization of leasehold improvements and other intangible assets acquired by the activity with funds other than DWCF Revolving Funds:

671000  Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion

AD.  Line J – Bad Debts.  Report the balance in the following account:

672000  Bad Debt Expense

AF. Line K.1 – Losses on Disposition of Assets. Report the portion of the balance of the following account related to losses on disposition of assets identified for the following categories: Non-Supply Management Activities; Non-Recoverable Disposal of Equipment/Capital Assets, Non-Federal; Non-Recoverable Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) Cost, Non-Federal; and Other Expense-Non-Supply Management, Non-Federal.

721000 Losses on Disposition of Assets – Other

AG. Line K.2 – Net (Gains) Losses on Inventory Shrinkage/Deterioration. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to (gains) losses on inventory shrinkage/deterioration as reported by Non-Supply Management activities:

729000 Other Losses

AH. Line K.3 – Net (Gains) Losses on Inventory Excess/Obsolescence/Spoilage. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to (gains) losses on inventory excess, obsolescence, and spoilage as reported by Non-Supply Management activities:

719000 Other Gains
729000 Other Losses

AI. Line K.4 – Net Other Inventory (Gains) Losses. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to (gains) losses on inventory identified in the following breakdown:

1. Non-Recoverable Gains or Losses on Disposal of Excess Inventory, Supply Management:

711000 Gains on Disposition of Assets – Other
719000 Other Gains
721000 Losses on Disposition of Assets – Other
729000 Other Losses

2. Other Inventory Gains or Losses, Non-Supply Management:

719000 Other Gains
729000 Other Losses

AJ. Line K.5 – Other Miscellaneous (Gains) Losses. Report the portion of the balance of the following accounts related to (gains) losses not specifically identified to another sub-category of Other Losses. Only include other (gains) losses related to inventory on this line.

719000 Other Gains
729000 Other Losses

AK. For Information Only. Report other miscellaneous information not defined.

AL. Expended Appropriation. Report the amount of appropriations used during the FY for goods and services received or benefits provided.

570000 Expended Appropriations

AM. Direct Labor Hours – Regular. Report the amount of year-to-date non-overtime direct labor hours for Industrial activities.

AN. Direct Labor Hours – Overtime. Report the amount of year-to-date overtime direct labor hours for Industrial activities.

AO. Direct Labor Hours – Total. Report the sum of “Direct Labor Hours – Regular” and “Direct Labor Hours – Overtime.”

150901. General

Part V - Recoverable Operating Results, Figure 15-7, discloses differences, if any, between NOR reported on Part I, “Statement of Operations,” of the Statement of Operations and the operating results that may be used in the budget formulation of stabilized billing rates. As a matter of policy, any amounts that a DoD Component requests to include in or exclude from its DWCF rates, whether identified in the OUSD(C) guidance as permissible or requested by the DoD Component, must be adequately documented and quantified. Further, all such amounts must be explicitly approved by OUSD(C) prior to being included in or excluded from the report.

150902. Heading

Complete the heading of the form to indicate: the reporting DoD Component, the reporting DWCF activity, the reporting period (month), and the calendar year.

150903. Line Item Instructions

Instructions for the content of each line item are as follows:

B. Line 2 – Deferred Operating Results (Gains/Losses) Net

1. Data reported on this line, and its sub-lines, unless otherwise specified, are restricted to specific exclusions approved by OUSD(C)(P/B).

2. These exclusions include amounts determined to be adjustments for the difference between the historical and LAC inventory valuations. Attribute this difference to the value of inventory reflected in the cost of goods sold at historical cost versus the value of inventory at LAC. The LAC valuation method is available to DeCA and is not approved for use by other DoD Components. Use this difference on the AR(M) 1307 to adjust the NOR to Net Recoverable Operating Results based on replacement costs that preserve the Working Capital Funds ability to replenish stock.

3. Line 2 is a summary line for Lines 2.a, “Net (Gains) Losses on Disposal of Excess Inventory (+/-),” through 2.g, “Other Approved Gains and Losses (must be footnoted).” The activity, management command of the reporting DWCF activity, or the DoD Component departmental level will provide, or approve, amounts reported on monthly activity reports.

C. Line 2.a – Net (Gains) Losses on Disposal of Excess Inventory (+/-). Line 2.a applies only to Supply Management Activities. Report gains (or losses, if applicable) on potential excess/actual inventory for which OUSD(C)(P/B) has approved an exclusion. Report the portion of the balance in the following accounts related to net (gains) losses on the disposal of excess inventory:

- 711000 Gains on Disposition of Assets – Other
- 719000 Other Gains
- 721000 Losses on Disposition of Assets – Other
- 729000 Other Losses

D. Line 2.b – Disposal of Equipment/Capital Assets (-). Report losses (or gains, if applicable) realized upon the disposal of excess equipment and other capital assets when OUSD(C)(P/B) has approved the exclusion. Do not report losses (or gains) on excess equipment and other capital assets due to BRAC on this line. Report the losses (or gains) on excess equipment and other capital assets due to BRAC on Line 2.c, “Non–Reimbursable Base Closure (BRAC) Costs.” Report the amount of losses (or gains) related to the disposal of equipment and capital assets in the following accounts:

- 711000 Gains on Disposition of Assets – Other
- 721000 Losses on Disposition of Assets – Other

E. Line 2.c – Non-Reimbursable Base Closure (BRAC) Costs (+/-). Report losses (or gains, if applicable) in excess of reimbursement that are a result from a base closure when OUSD(C)(P/B) has approved the exclusion. Report the amount of losses (or gains) related to BRAC costs in the following accounts:

- 711000 Gains on Disposition of Assets – Other
- 719000 Other Gains
- 721000 Losses on Disposition of Assets – Other
- 729000 Other Losses

F. Line 2.d – Capital Asset Surcharge (-). Adjust capital asset surcharge amounts, positive or negative, included in revenue in order to avoid either the return of an apparent gain (or loss) in the development of the subsequent year rate structure. Leave this line blank when there is no capital surcharge revenue.

1. Include a capital asset surcharge in customer rates only if approved by OUSD(C)(P/B). A capital asset surcharge might be approved when the amount of depreciation expense of existing capital assets included in stabilized rates is either less (or greater) than the budgeted Capital Program.

2. As the capital asset surcharge does not have an offsetting expense, in isolation from other transactions, it is expected to result in a gain (or loss) to NOR. Deduct the gain (or loss) from NOR to prevent its return or charge to customers in subsequent years through adjusted rates. Capital asset surcharge amounts may be reported without prior approval of OUSD(C)(P/B). Report the amount of revenue related to capital asset surcharges in the following accounts:
520000  Revenue From Services Provided

G. Line 2.e – Cash Surcharge. Similar to capital asset surcharges, activities may include a cash surcharge in their rates. Report the amount of revenue related to cash surcharges in the following accounts:

510000  Revenue From Goods Sold
520000  Revenue From Services Provided

H. Line 2.f – Inventory Replenishment. Report the difference between the historical cost and LAC for inventory valuation. Report the amount of revenue related to inventory replenishment in the following accounts:

510000  Revenue From Goods Sold
719000  Other Gains
729000  Other Losses

I. Line 2.g – Other Approved Gains and Losses (must be footnoted). Report the approved gains (or losses) in the following accounts. Exclude amounts already listed in Lines 2.a, “Net (Gains) Losses on Disposal of Excess Inventory,” through 2.f, “Inventory Replenishment.”

510000  Revenue From Goods Sold
520000  Revenue From Services Provided
570000  Expended Appropriations
671000  Depreciation, Amortization, and Depletion
685000  Employer Contributions to Employee Benefit Programs Not Requiring Current Year Budget Authority (Unobligated)-FECA Civilian Personnel Benefits
711000  Gains on Disposition of Assets – Other
719000  Other Gains
721000  Losses on Disposition of Assets – Other
729000  Other Losses
760000  Changes in Actuarial Liability

K. Line 4 – Net Recoverable Operating Results from Current Year Operations. Line 4 is a summary line for Lines 1, “NET OPERATING RESULTS (NOR),” through 3, “Depreciation, Non–DWCF Acquired PP&E.”

150904. Year-End Procedures

A. At FY end, close the NOR to Cumulative Results of Operations. Since part of that amount may be a non-recoverable deferred amount and an amount related to depreciation for non-DWCF acquired PP&E, identify those amounts separately in financial records with attributes.

B. The amount reported on Line 2, “Deferred Operating Results (Gains/Losses) Net,” will be the opposite of Line 1.B.(2).d, “Plus or Minus: Net Operating Results,” of Part II, “Changes in Net Position,” of the Statement of Operations during the FY and closed to deferred Cumulative Results of Operations during the year-end close process.

D. Report the amount from Line 4, “Net Recoverable Operating Results from Current Year Operations,” on Line 1.B.(1).d, “Plus or Minus: Net Operating Results,” of Part II during the FY. Close this amount to Cumulative Results of Operations – Recoverable during the year-end close process.

151001. General

A. Part VI - Capital Program, Figure 15-8, reflects the approved program, obligations, disbursements, and collections for each FY of the program. A capital asset for this report must meet the Working Capital Fund Investment Threshold for the program year reported and have a useful life of 2 years or greater.

B. For reporting purposes, define the reporting period as the year-to-date amounts, i.e., amounts reported since the end of the prior FY to the end of the reporting month shown in the heading. Report balances for each program year in Part VI until the program’s obligations, disbursements, and collections equal.

151002. Heading

Complete the heading of the form to indicate: the reporting DoD Component, the reporting DWCF activity, the reporting period (month), and the calendar year.

*151003. Columnar Instructions

The contents of the columns will be as follows:

A. Program Year (Column 1). Separate FY program identification is required. Identify all prior FYs separately until the obligations, disbursements, and collections equal. Arrange the FY programs in consecutive order, starting with the least current FY program.

B. Approved Program – Original Program (Column 2). The original program amount will be capital authority approved for the reporting FY on the initial Annual Operating Budget (AOB) for the FY. Report the carryover from prior FYs as part of the initial program for that year. The amount reported will not change in subsequent years. Show the changes in the Capital Program amount in Column 3, “Approved Program – Program Adjustments.”

C. Approved Program – Program Adjustments (Column 3). Report adjustments (generally, deductions) to the initial approved Capital Program amounts in this column. Disclose adjustments to the initial approved program amounts in the AOBs for a subsequent program year. The amount reported in this column may change annually as of the beginning of a FY but will not change during a FY except at year-end. At year-end, the amount reported in this column will change to allow the value of Column 4, “Approved Program – Current Program,” to equal Column 7, “Obligations – Total.”

E. Obligations – This Fiscal Year (Column 5). Amounts included in this column will be the total amount of obligations incurred in the current FY.
F. Obligations – Prior Fiscal Year(s) (Column 6). Amounts included in this column will be the cumulative amount of Column 7, “Obligations – Total,” as of the end of the prior FY. The amount reported will not change during the reporting FY.

G. Obligations – Total (Column 7). Column 7 is the sum of Column 5, “Obligations – This Fiscal Year,” and Column 6, “Obligations – Prior Fiscal Year(s).” The amount reported in Column 4, “Approved Program – Current Program,” must be greater than or equal to Column 7, “Obligations – Total.”

H. Disbursements – This Fiscal Year (Column 8). Amounts included in this column will be the total amount of disbursements incurred in the current FY. The amount must agree with Line 1.d, “Funds Disbursed – Capital Program,” of the Statement of Financial Position.

I. Disbursements – Prior Fiscal Year(s) (Column 9). Amounts included in this column will be the cumulative amount of Column 10, “Disbursements – Total,” as of the end of the prior FY. The amount reported will not change during the reporting FY.

J. Disbursements – Total (Column 10). Column 10 is a summary column for Columns 8, “Disbursements – This Fiscal Year,” and 9, “Disbursements – Prior Fiscal Year(s).” The amount reported in Column 7, “Obligations – Total,” must be greater than or equal to Column 10, “Disbursements – Total.”

K. Collections – This Fiscal Year (Column 11). Amounts included in this column will be the total amount of collections reported in the current FY. The amount must agree with Line 1.b, “Funds Collected – Capital Program,” of the Statement of Financial Position.

L. Collections – Prior Fiscal Year(s) (Column 12). Amounts included in this column will be the cumulative amount of Column 13, “Collections – Total,” as of the end of the prior FY. The amount reported will not change during the reporting FY.

M. Collections – Total (Column 13). Column 13 is a summary column for Columns 11, “Collections – This Fiscal Year,” and 12, “Collections – Prior Fiscal Year(s).”

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION TO THE FORM AND CONTENT OF THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

*010101. Overview

Under the provisions of Title 31, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 3515, the Department of Defense (DoD) is required to have annual audited financial statements covering all accounts and associated activities of the Department. As implemented by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the Department is required to prepare both Agency-wide annual audited financial statements and separate financial statements for reporting entities as defined in Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) 47, "Reporting Entity.” The financial statements are expected to provide information to DoD program managers, Congress, and the public, thereby facilitating both effective allocation of resources and assessment of management performance and stewardship. The objective is to produce financial statements that can and will be used to improve the management of the Department. Additionally, consistent with the objectives of the Statements of Federal Financial Accounting Concepts (SFFACs) and SFFASs, the Department continues to work toward the integration of budget and financial information in order to provide for more effective program management at all levels.

010102. Purpose

The provisions within this chapter constitute guidance on the form and content of quarterly and annual financial statements prepared within the DoD. This guidance is intended to provide a framework within which each DoD Component has the flexibility to develop and include information useful both to its financial managers and to program managers in making decisions. This guidance applies to all DoD reporting entities identified in section 0104 and identifies the level at which functions and/or funds should be reported on a consolidated basis, notes the basis of accounting to be utilized, prescribes the specific authoritative guidance on financial statement format and disclosures, and provides other instructions necessary for the preparation of annual audited financial statements and quarterly unaudited financial statements. When recording accounting transactions, follow the accounting standards hierarchy found in Volume 1, Chapter 2.

0102 BACKGROUND

Federal agencies traditionally prepared financial reports to monitor and control the obligation and expenditure of budgetary resources. With the enactment of Public Law 101-576, “Chief Financial Officers Act of 1990” (CFO Act), and Public Law 103-356, “Government Management Reform Act of 1994” (GMRA), the Congress called for the production of audited financial statements. The statements must fully disclose a federal entity’s financial position and results of operations, and provide information for not only the effective allocation of resources but also with which Congress, Agency managers, the public, and others can assess management performance and stewardship. Accordingly, OMB in consultation with the CFO Council, the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency, and other interested parties developed the formats and instructions for financial statements described in this volume. The annual audited financial statements must be organized as shown in Table 1-1.

*0103 REQUIRED REPORTING DATES

The provisions of this volume require the preparation of annual audited financial statements for the period ending on September 30 of each fiscal year and the quarterly unaudited financial statements for periods ending December 31, March 31, and June 30 of each fiscal year. Agencies will submit unaudited interim financial statements to OMB 21 business days after the end of the third quarter of the fiscal year and footnotes and other information (OI) 45 business days after the end of the third quarter of the fiscal year. Annual audited financial statements are due to OMB, the Government Accountability Office, and the Congress in accordance with the DoD Financial Statement and Agency Financial Report Schedule.

0104 DoD REPORTING ENTITIES

*010401. Audited Financial Statements and Quarterly Unaudited Financial Statements Required by OMB

Executive Branch agencies must generally prepare and submit audited financial statements to OMB. The CFO Act, as amended by the GMRA, requires major agencies of the Federal Government to prepare and submit audited financial statements. Additionally, OMB requires the Department and other major agencies to prepare agency-wide quarterly unaudited financial statements according to OMB Circular A-136. The DoD Agency-wide financial statements provide the financial status of the entire Department. There are Component reporting entities in the Department that, while included in the DoD Agency-wide statements, are required by OMB to prepare stand-alone audited financial statements and quarterly unaudited financial statements. These components are referred to as Tier 1 entities and are listed in Appendix B of OMB’s annual bulletin, “Audit Requirements for Federal Financial Statements.” A list of Tier 1 entities may also be found on the website identified in paragraph 010404.
010402. Audited Financial Statements and Quarterly Unaudited Financial Statements Required by the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence

In addition to the reporting entities identified in paragraph 010401, the following entities will prepare audited annual and unaudited quarterly financial statements to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence:

A. Defense Intelligence Agency;
B. National Reconnaissance Office;
C. National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency; and
D. National Security Agency.

*010403. Other Defense Activities (ODAs)

In addition to the reporting entities identified as Tier 1 in paragraph 010401, the remaining components of the Department are reported in a tier structure of the consolidating/combining statements, which comprise the DoD Agency-wide audited financial statements and quarterly unaudited financial statements. Tier 2 includes Components undergoing a stand-alone audit per DoD. Tiers 3 and 4 include Components not under a stand-alone audit, but included as part of the DoD-wide audit.

*010404. Non-OMB Reporting Entities

The non-OMB reporting entities represent all others not identified in paragraphs 010401 and 010402. These entities are not required “reporters” per OMB Circular A-136. The management-approved “DoD Reporting Entities” list is located on the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) (OUSD(C)), Office of the Deputy Chief Financial Officer, Financial Improvement and Audit Remediation (FIAR) Directorate website (DoD Common Access Card required) under the “Policies, Publications, & Guidance” heading. The FIAR Directorate is responsible for updating this list annually.

A. DoD Designated Audit Entities. DoD has designated certain reporting entities to adhere to the same audit readiness efforts as congressionally mandated OMB reporting entities. These reporting entities must perform all audit readiness efforts in accordance with the FIAR guidance and must undergo annual stand-alone financial statement audits.

B. Other Material Defense Agencies and Remaining Entities. Other material defense agencies are reporting entities that must undergo annual examinations or other independent validations of their financial statement balances. Remaining entities include ODAs, organizations, and funds not material to the DoD consolidated financial statements. Remaining entities must perform audit readiness efforts to improve their internal controls and will be included in the DoD consolidated financial statement audit.
1. To support the preparation of the Agency-wide financial statements, these entities must continue to submit trial balances and corresponding adjustments within Defense Departmental Reporting System – Audited Financial Statements (DDRS-AFS), DDRS-Budgetary, and DDRS - Data Collection Module. Additionally, these entities are still required to provide information as outlined by the quarterly Agency-wide reporting schedules and guidance. To ensure continued improvement to financial reporting in accordance with Department objectives, other material defense agencies and remaining entities must continue value-added financial improvement efforts including evaluation and improvements to internal controls over financial reporting. Reasonableness reviews of financial statements for other material defense agencies and remaining entities during non-reporting periods may result in questions being forwarded for explanation and/or future corrective action. The OUSD(C) delegated financial statement review of the entity’s financial information and OUSD(C) oversight of these reporting entities to the respective Component’s Comptroller or senior financial manager. However, designated DFAS Financial Reporting staff will remain available to assist in responding to issues or inquiries.

2. Based on the FIAR strategy, cost mitigation requirements, and expected progression towards full assertion of auditability, each other material defense agency and remaining entity will determine their internal reporting and audit requirements, as deemed necessary for continued improvement of financial data and achievement of audit objectives. Entities currently receiving an unmodified audit opinion should consider the cost versus value of the audit in determining requirements and objectives.

*010405. Pass-Through Accounts

Pass-through accounts are included in the consolidated financial statements. While financial transactions flow through such accounts to or from other entities, these accounts do not ultimately own that activity. Most pass-through account balances are eliminated within the DoD-wide consolidating statements, or with Treasury. The exception are account balances affecting the Statement of Budgetary Resources, which is presented on a combined basis. A listing of pass-through accounts is identified on the DoD Reporting Entities list (reference paragraph 010404).

*010406. Disclosure Entities

Disclosure entities are those non-DoD entities that are required to be disclosed in the footnotes to the consolidated financial statements but are not included in the primary financial statements of the Department. A listing of disclosure entities is identified on the DoD Reporting Entities list (reference paragraph 010404).

*010407. Audit Compliance

DoD Component reporting entities will prepare financial statements as denoted in paragraph 010401. All DoD Components (both reporting entities and non-reporting entities) are required to comply with the FIAR requirements and other guidance issued by the OUSD(C). Each Component, after completing their assertion of auditability, and with the advice of the DoD Office of the Inspector General (OIG), must establish an audit committee to oversee its financial audit.
The purpose of the audit committee is to establish audit requirements, identify contract deliverables, monitor the execution of the contract, and identify and assist with resolution of obstacles to an unmodified opinion. Once DoD Component reporting entities are deemed auditable, the audit committee’s focus should be on ensuring a forum exists to address ongoing accounting and auditing issues. Audit committees for OMB reporting entities identified in paragraph 010401 must include a representative of DoD OIG. Audits of Federal financial statements are conducted in accordance with the requirements found in the annually updated OMB Bulletin, “Audit Requirements for Federal Financial Statements.” The provisions of this Bulletin apply to audits of financial statements of executive departments, agencies, and government corporations and certain components of these agencies. The Bulletin reflects changes that apply as a result of other revised OMB guidance, including OMB Circular A-136.

0105 CONTENT OF ANNUAL AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND QUARTERLY UNAUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

*010501. Major Sections of the Audited Financial Statements

A. The annual audited financial statements of the OMB reporting entities identified in paragraph 010401 must be comprised of four major sections. A reporting entity is required to include a dated transmittal letter signed by the Agency Head to be located at the beginning of the report, as explained in Chapter 3, section 0302. Non-OMB reporting entities not identified elsewhere in this chapter are to follow the requirements outlined in paragraph 010404. The quarterly unaudited financial statements required for third and fourth quarters must be comprised of the principal statements and notes to the principal statements and, if applicable, supporting consolidating and/or combining statements. Although the first and second quarter principal statements must be prepared, the preparation of accompanying notes for the first and second quarter is not required. A more detailed outline appears in Table 1-1. Specific instructions for the preparation of the contents of each section are provided in individual chapters of this volume. The four required major sections and the sequence of their presentation are as follows:

1. Agency Head Transmittal Letter;
2. Management’s Discussion and Analysis (MD&A);
3. Financial Section; and
4. OI.

B. The accompanying subsections are as follows:

1. Principal Statements;
2. Notes to the Principal Statements;
3. Supporting Consolidating/Combining Statements (if applicable);
4. Required Supplementary Stewardship Information (RSSI);
5. Required Supplementary Information (RSI); and
6. Audit Opinion.

*010502. Agency Head Transmittal Letter

This message precedes the MD&A section of the financial statements and is a dated transmittal letter signed by the agency head. The letter must contain the Agency Head’s assessment of the reliability and completeness of financial and performance data in the report and a description of any material weaknesses in internal control and actions the agency is taking to resolve the weaknesses. Guidance for required information in the Agency Head Transmittal Letter is provided in Chapter 3.

010503. MD&A

MD&A of the reporting entity is integral to the annual financial statements and should be regarded as RSI. MD&A requirements are stated in SFFAC 3, “Management’s Discussion and Analysis;” SFFAS 15, “Management’s Discussions and Analysis;” and OMB Circular A-136. MD&A is an important vehicle for communicating managers’ insights about the reporting entity, increasing the understandability and usefulness of the financial statements, and providing understandable and accessible information about the entity and its operations, service levels, successes, and challenges. MD&A also should address significant events, conditions, risks, uncertainties, trends, and contingencies that may affect future operations. Guidance for preparation of MD&A is provided in Chapter 3.

010504. Principal Statements and Notes to the Principal Statements

Principal statements and notes to the principal statements summarize financial information for individual funds and accounts within reporting entities and subentities. The amounts reported on the principal statements are based on specific general ledger account balances. Instructions for the preparation of the principal statements are contained in Chapters 4, 5, 6, and 7. Reconciliations and edits used within DoD can be viewed with proper authorization in the DDRS-AFS by selecting “Reports” from the menu and then accessing “Reconciliations.” Additional reconciliation information is available in the DFAS Reconciliation Manual.

A. Principal Statements. The principal statements must include:

1. Balance Sheet (Consolidated);
2. Statement of Net Cost (Consolidated);
3. Statement of Changes in Net Position (Consolidated); and
4. Statement of Budgetary Resources (Combined).
B. Notes to the Principal Statements. The notes to the principal statements are an integral part of the financial statements. They include a summary of the accounting principles and methods of applying those principles that management has concluded are the most appropriate for presenting the entity’s significant assets, liabilities, equity, revenues, expenses, and budgetary information. The notes also provide further detail of the amounts reported on the statements. In cases where individual line items of the financial statements cannot be obtained or a substitution is made from the requirements herein, the deficiencies must be explained and the reason for noncompliance annotated in the notes. Where data used is known to be incomplete, deemed to be unreliable, or is an estimated (partial or full) amount, the note pertaining to the line(s) where such data is reported in the statement must contain a reference to such data. The reference must include the amount and explanation of the circumstances regarding the availability and use of such data. The notes also contain disclosures required by the SFFASs. Instructions for the preparation of the required footnotes are contained in Chapter 10.

010505. Supporting Consolidating/Combining Statements

The consolidating and combining statements use a multi-column format to present information on the reporting entity's major component. The total column for consolidating and combining statements must equal the amount reported in the consolidated or combined statements. Although publishing the consolidating/combining statements is not required by the DoD, it is very important these statements are reviewed for completeness and consistency with the consolidated statements.

010507. RSI

All Federal agencies are required to report RSI. Certain information is designated as RSI and defined in OMB Circular A-136. Specific guidance for reporting RSI is contained in Chapter 12.

010508. OI

Specific guidance for reporting OI is contained in Chapter 3.

010509. Audit Opinion

A. DoD Reporting Entity Audits. DoD OIG must render an audit opinion on the DoD Agency-wide financial statements and OMB required entities in paragraph 010401. In addition, OIG must provide an endorsement to the audit opinion for each of the reporting entity financial statements opined on by a contract auditor.

* B. ODA Audits. DoD OIG will not issue separate audit opinions on the financial statements of ODAs included in the DoD Agency-wide financial report. The ODA financial statements and records must be included in the audits performed to support the opinion issued by OIG on the DoD Agency-wide audited financial statements.

CHAPTER 2

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

0201  GENERAL

020101.  Purpose

This chapter identifies the general requirements for preparation and submission of financial statements and the required disclosures, as required by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and other departmental guidance. It establishes the roles and responsibilities of departmental and agency financial managers, and provides specific instructions for preparation of the Management Representation Letter (MRL) and the Legal Representation Letter (LRL).

*020102.  Authoritative Guidance

Guidance on the content and submission of the financial statements is defined in the OMB Circular A-136, “Financial Reporting Requirements,” and Bulletin 19-03, “Audit Requirements for Federal Financial Statements.” Applicable accounting principles are contained in the Statements of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) and Statements of Federal Financial Accounting Concepts (SFFAC). The DoD Financial Statement Audit Guide details the roles and responsibilities of reporting entities and service providers, as well as the processes they must follow, to achieve audit readiness. The Department’s financial reporting entities and related information are identified in Chapter 1. Volume 1, Chapter 1 explains the authority granted to the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) (USD(C)) for management and preparation of DoD financial statements. Annual updates to Circular A-136 are on the OMB website.

020201.  Responsibility for Preparation of the Financial Statements

The primary responsibility for the financial statements rests with the reporting entity’s management. Responsibility for preparation of the principal statements and notes, however, may be shared with the accounting organization responsible for maintaining the financial records of the reporting entity. Additional information for the responsible accounting activities who prepare the required supporting statements, and the responsible officials for those statements, can be found in the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) Financial Reporting Guidance. The responsible official must ensure that: (1) known business processes/systems that could materially impact the financial statements are communicated; (2) all necessary data that originates in nonfinancial processes and systems (e.g., inventory and property data) is provided; (3) consolidating/combining statements are reviewed and analyzed; and (4) feedback is provided to the entity’s supporting accounting organization as required or upon request.
020202. Reporting of Foreign Military Sales and Other Security Assistance

The Defense Security Cooperation Agency administers certain Foreign Military Sales (FMS) and other security assistance programs on behalf of the Executive Office of the President (EOP). While FMS activity is primarily reported separately from DoD activity, OMB has approved the following provisions regarding the specific information on the financial activity of FMS programs that is to be included in the DoD financial statements.

A. Revenue and expense amounts pertaining to FMS goods or services provided from the stocks of the DoD Components on a reimbursable basis must be reported in the financial statements of the applicable selling DoD Component and in the DoD Agency-wide consolidated statements.

B. Principal statements for the following EOP accounts are to be prepared by DFAS and reported separately from the DoD Agency-wide financial statements: 11*1081, 11*1082, 11*1085, 11*4116, 11X4121, 11X4122, 11X4174, and 11X8242. Descriptions of these accounts are contained in Volume 15, Chapter 1.

0203 REPORTING SCHEDULES AND QUALITY CONTROL REVIEWS

020301. Interim Financial Reporting

* A. Interim financial reporting requirements are detailed in the OMB Circular A-136 and in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. All DoD financial reporting entities are required to support the DFAS and USD(C) preparation and analysis of the Department’s quarterly Agency-wide financial statements that must be submitted to OMB 21 business days after the end of the third quarter of the fiscal year (FY). The OMB-designated reportable entities are required to submit their interim unaudited Balance Sheet, Statement of Net Cost (SNC), and Statement of Changes in Net Position (SCNP) to OMB 21 business days after the end of the third quarter of the FY. More detailed reporting and timing requirements are contained in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. Agencies are required to use the MAX Federal Community to submit their interim financial statements electronically to OMB.

B. The DoD Agency-wide submission for the interim quarter and for the fiscal year end must include an analysis of any material differences. The analysis must only be on the material differences between the interim quarter and the same quarter from the prior year. It must be noted in the analysis if a financial statement does not have material differences between comparative periods. The analysis must include management’s explanation of material differences in types or amounts of assets, liabilities, costs, and revenues.

* C. USD(C) and DFAS may require the OMB reportable entities to prepare and submit full note disclosures, variance analyses, and the Statement of Budgetary Resources (SBR) to Standard Form (SF) 133, “Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources,” reconciliations as part of other departmental reporting and analyses activity to support the Agency-wide submission due to OMB after the interim quarter and at fiscal year end. Specific requirements and timelines are detailed in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance.
D. Additionally, the DoD Financial Statement Audit Guide establishes other financial reporting requirements to assist in achieving full auditability. These financial reporting requirements and timelines are detailed within the Guide.

E. Chapter 10 requires the disclosure of all abnormal balances appearing on the individual note schedules or financial statement lines. These disclosures are reported in the accompanying notes to the financial statements in the third and fourth quarters of each FY. In support of the DFAS preparation and submittal of the Agency-wide interim reports, all Components must investigate abnormal balances and correct them if required by the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. Further, all Components must explain material, abnormal proprietary and budgetary United States Standard General Ledger (USSGL) account balances of $500,000 or greater on the summary program-level trial balance within the Defense Departmental Reporting System–Audited Financial Statement (DDRS-AFS). They must also explain any abnormal balance that appears on the statements or note schedule, regardless of amount. Refer to the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance for detailed disclosure requirements.

020302. Annual Financial Statements

A. In accordance with OMB Circular A-136, the Department is required to submit a draft of the Agency Financial Report (AFR) to OMB’s Office of Federal Financial Management, and the appropriate OMB Resource Management Office, 10 business days before issuing the final AFR. This draft must include all sections of the Agency-wide AFR, as identified in Chapter 1, except the audit report if it is not available at that time. If the audit report is not available when the draft AFR is submitted to OMB, then a draft audit report, or a summary of the audit results including the type of opinion anticipated and names and descriptions of material weaknesses and significant deficiencies, is to be provided to OMB as soon as it is available. Agencies are required to use the MAX Federal Community to submit their draft AFRs electronically to OMB.

* B. Each of the reporting entities identified in Chapter 1 is required to submit audited financial statements in accordance with the detailed financial statement reporting schedule contained in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. The final AFR must be posted to the reporting entity’s public website the same day the report is submitted to OMB, the Government Accountability Office (GAO), the U.S. Department of the Treasury (Treasury), and the Congress. Agencies must submit their final reports to OMB using the MAX Federal Community and to the Treasury and GAO using the contact information provided in Appendix B of OMB Circular A-136. Additionally, reporting entities must also submit their final reports to the USD(C).

020303. Quality Control Reviews of Financial Statements and Notes

Each Component, along with their supporting accounting organization, must review its financial statements and notes to ensure the completeness of financial information provided by both the accounting activity and the various Component functional organizations.
020304. Key Financial Statements Preparation Due Dates

The development and publication of the financial statements requires coordinated actions by entity management, the supporting accounting organization, and the audit community. Additional information regarding the key financial statement preparation milestones is in the financial statement reporting schedule in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance.

0204 MANAGEMENT REPRESENTATION LETTERS

020401. Preparation and Submission

A. Auditors require the responsible senior manager to prepare and submit a Management Representation Letter (MRL), for each reporting entity audited, prior to the conclusion of an audit. The MRL must be signed by those members of management with overall responsibility for financial and operating matters. Members of management are those that the auditor believes are responsible for and knowledgeable about, directly or through others in the organization, the matters covered by the representations. Such members of management generally include the head of the agency, the Chief Financial Officer, and any others deemed responsible for matters presented in the MRL.

B. During the audit, management makes many representations to the auditor, both oral and written, in response to specific inquiries and through the submission of the financial statements. In the MRL, the senior responsible manager confirms the representations explicitly or implicitly given to the auditor, states and documents the continuing appropriateness of such representations, and reduces the possibility of misunderstanding concerning the matters that are the subject of the representations. Representations by management generally relate to: (1) the financial statements; (2) completeness of the information; (3) recognition, measurement, and disclosure; and (4) subsequent events. Specifically, the management function must represent that the financial statements do, or do not, present fairly the financial position of the reporting entity in accordance with federal generally accepted accounting principles.

020402. Management Representations

Management representations must include all representations that are required by generally accepted auditing standards and OMB Bulletin 19-03. General representations must, however, be modified to be consistent with findings reported by the auditor. In accordance with OMB Circular A-136, Section V.5, management’s representations may be limited to matters that are considered either individually or collectively material to the financial statements, provided management and the auditor have reached an understanding on materiality for this purpose. MRLs are due to the office performing the entity’s audit prior to the conclusion of the audit. The schedules for the draft and final letters are contained in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. The USD(C) is responsible for submitting the final MRL to OMB.

020403. Materiality

As required by OMB Circular A-136, Section V.5, the MRL must include a representation regarding the materiality of unrecorded financial statement adjustments aggregated by the auditors.
A list of any uncorrected misstatements (in Excel format), including those audit adjustments waived by the Component level, must be attached to the MRL.

020404. Representation of Budgetary Data

Management is required to include a representation that addresses the consistency of budgetary data reported on the SBR, and the budgetary data submitted through the Governmentwide Treasury Account Symbol Adjusted Trial Balance System (GTAS), to prepare the year-end SF 133s. Management may consider using the following sample representation: "The information presented on the Department’s SBR is reconcilable to the information submitted on the Department’s year-end SF 133s. This information will be used as input for the FY 20xx actual column of the Program and Financing Schedules reported in the FY 20xx Budget of the U.S. Government. Such information is supported by the related financial records and related data."

020405. Signature Levels of Representation Letters

Signature levels for MRLs are as follows and may be handwritten or electronic.

A. The Secretary or Under Secretary of the Military Department concerned must sign an MRL in support of the audited financial statements for a Military Department’s General Fund and Working Capital Fund.

B. The Director or Deputy Director of the Defense Agency concerned must sign an MRL in support of the audited financial statements for a Defense Agency.

C. The fund manager of the trust, or revolving fund concerned, must sign an MRL in support of financial statements for a trust or revolving fund managed by the Office of the Secretary of Defense or Defense Agency.

D. The head of other reporting entities not described in subparagraphs 020405.A through 020405.C, but listed in Chapter 1 and pursuing a full financial audit and producing stand-alone financial statements, must sign an MRL in support of their audited financial statements.

E. The Secretary of Defense or Deputy Secretary of Defense, and the USD(C), must sign the final MRL for the DoD Agency-wide financial statements.

020406. Referrals to Office of the Deputy Chief Financial Officer

Auditor requests for MRLs below levels cited in paragraph 020405 must be referred to the USD(C), Office of the Deputy Chief Financial Officer (ODCFO).

020407. Date of Management Representation Letter

Generally, the date of an MRL must be the date the auditor issues the audit report on the entity’s financial statements. Coordinating the two dates is essential. The due dates for the MRLs are specified in the financial statement reporting schedule in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. Management must not provide auditors with pre-signed, undated letters or with predated letters. If auditors need an advance copy of the intended management letter, then auditors must include that requirement when submitting the initial request for the MRL. Active cooperation and interaction between auditors and management is expected so that the MRL reaches the auditors on the due date. Refer to the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance for additional requirements and timelines in support of the DoD Agency-wide financial statement submittal.

0205 LEGAL REPRESENTATION LETTERS

020501. Inquiries of Legal Counsel

According to OMB Bulletin 19-03, the auditor will request entity management to send a letter of inquiry to those lawyers with whom management consulted concerning litigation, claims, and assessments. Refer to the GAO Financial Audit Manual, Section 1002B, Example Legal Letter Request, and subsequent revisions, for an illustrative letter of inquiry from entity management to legal counsel. Management must document in a schedule how the information contained in the legal counsel’s response(s) was considered in preparing the financial statements. In accordance with OMB Circular A-136, Section V.4, LRLs and management’s schedules are required for the audits of entity financial statements and the special-purpose financial statements used to compile the Financial Report (FR) of the U.S. Government.

020502. Obtain Legal Representations

A. To assist the auditor in completing the review of legal matters in a timely manner, the auditor may ask management to request that legal counsel submit an interim LRL so that a preliminary evaluation of the significance of material legal matters can be made. It is the responsibility of the senior financial management official of the entity being audited to request interim or final LRLs from their General Counsel (GC). Judge Advocates General must not be requested to furnish LRLs. The LRLs requested from the GC of the Military Departments must include the request that the GC report matters involving both military and civilian counsel.

B. Requests for an LRL pertaining to the Agency-wide financial statements, and to any defense-wide account audited separately, such as the Military Retirement Fund, must be sent to the DoD GC. Copies of any letters prepared by the GC of the Military Departments and DoD Components must be provided to the DoD GC, Attention: Deputy General Counsel (Fiscal) (DGC(F)) and to the DoD Inspector General (IG), or other independent auditors performing the audit. In letters provided to the GC, DoD must report only cases at or above the materiality threshold established for that year’s Agency-wide financial statement audit.

C. Management Schedules of Information (MSIs) must be reported directly to the USD(C). The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) must also prepare an LRL for Treasury Index 96 civil funds. The USACE LRL, and supporting MSIs, must be submitted to the USD(C). Each year, the DGC(F) must advise the counsels preparing the LRLs of the mandatory times for submission of them as specified in the financial statement reporting schedule within the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. The DGC(F) must also advise them of the applicable Agency-wide materiality threshold for that year’s Agency-wide financial statement.

*020503. Preparation of Legal Representation Letters

When preparing the LRLs, the GC must consider the guidance found in Treasury Financial Manual 2-4700, section 4705.60a, and OMB Bulletin 19-03. Report cases and claims using the legal representation format and guidance on the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) website under the “Selected Documents & Forms.” In addition to reporting the status of pending contingent liabilities, the interim LRLs must also include the cases reported in the previous year’s legal representations that are no longer pending. For additional policy regarding contingent liabilities, see Volume 4, Chapter 12 and applicable Policy Memoranda related to Volume 4, Chapter 12. The final representation letter must be limited to new information (i.e., cases that arise subsequent to the interim letter or changes in the status of cases that were reported in the interim letter). The final letter must not repeat information from the interim letter that has not changed. Any subsequent changes in cases that arise after the final representation letter, but before the end of the audit fieldwork on the financial statements, must be communicated to the auditor. The required summaries of the legal letters must be submitted to the cognizant audit agency for the reporting entity, to the entity’s supporting accounting activity, and to the ODCFO.

020504. Determination of Legal Cases

Management must make an assessment as to whether pending, threatened litigation or unasserted claims must be reported or disclosed in the financial statements. This determination extends to cases in which legal counsel has classified the likelihood of loss as “unknown.” The name and telephone number of the individual who is able to answer questions regarding the presentation of legal claims and assessments in the financial statements must also be provided. The required summaries of the legal letters must be submitted to the cognizant audit agency for the reporting entity, the entity’s supporting accounting activity, and the ODCFO. DoD due dates for the interim and updated legal letters, and the associated summaries, are reflected in the financial statement reporting schedule in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance.

*020505. Summary of Legal Representation Letters

Rather than having the cognizant auditors submit copies of the interim and updated LRLs, along with the summaries of the information contained in these responses for each reporting entity, the GAO has agreed to use the single summary of the various LRLs prepared for submission with the Agency-wide statements. The IG and ODCFO must make the required submission to the OMB, the Treasury, the DOJ, and the GAO per the due dates in the financial statement reporting schedule contained in the DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance. The agency IG must also provide notification to the OMB, Treasury, the DOJ, and the GAO whether there were “no changes” or “changes” due to subsequent events that resulted in a change in the likelihood of a loss, or the amount of a loss, or both, after the effective date of the final LRL, but before the date of the audit report on the FR.
0206 GENERAL PREPARATION INSTRUCTIONS

020601. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

The principal statements and notes embody the generally accepted accounting principles contained in the SFFAS and SFFAC. The SFFAS and SFFAC are incorporated into accounting policy and guidance contained in this Regulation. Preparers of financial statements seeking additional guidance must follow the hierarchy contained in Volume 1, Chapter 2.

020602. United States Standard General Ledger

Preparers of financial statements and notes must crosswalk their unique general ledger accounts to the USSGL chart of accounts, and at a lower level of detail to include Treasury’s Bureau of the Fiscal Service (Fiscal Service) GTAS attributes, Standard Financial Information Structure elements, DoD’s trading partner information, and other DoD-required attributes to prepare the financial statements and note schedules. DDRS-AFS must utilize the USSGL, GTAS attributes, and other DoD required attributes, to populate financial statements and related note schedules. Additional information regarding the input and timelines for importing information into DDRS-AFS is in the quarterly DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance.

*020603. Agreement Between Totals in Statements and Notes

DoD Components/reporting entities preparing quarterly interim and fiscal year-end financial statements, and related supporting notes and other schedules, must ensure the total figures disclosed in the supporting notes and other schedules conform to the amounts presented in the body of the financial statements. The chosen rounding level must be maintained consistently throughout the principal statements and notes. In addition, rounded totals must agree between the principal statements as applicable (e.g., ending balances from the SCNP equal the Total Net Position line on the Balance Sheet). Individual line items must sum to the totals (this may require adjusting the individual detail line items for differences created by the rounding process rather than adjusting column totals).

020604. Comparative Data

Comparative financial statements are required. Data presented in the fiscal year-end prior year column must be identical with the amounts reported on the financial statements of the prior year. Information for the current and preceding years must be presented, regardless of the type of audit opinion rendered by the auditor. The notes must contain the information that is necessary for full disclosure of both years. Refer to Chapter 10 for additional policy regarding the notes required for the financial statements.

*020605. Variance Analysis/Fluctuations

A comprehensive financial statement variance analysis report is prepared each quarter solely for the Agency-wide financial statements, addressing material fluctuations between comparative periods on report lines of the Balance Sheet, SNC, and selected lines of the SCNP, SBR, and supporting note schedules. Only Components materially contributing to the Agency-wide variances must explain significant variances when requested by DFAS Financial Reporting. A significant variance is a fluctuation from the same quarter in the prior year to the current year that exceeds $1 billion and 10 percent of the prior year amount, or a lower threshold defined by management. The detailed explanations for the significant variances must provide concise answers to the following questions pertaining to the comparative periods.

A. What is the dollar amount of the fluctuation?

B. Which activity caused the fluctuation?

C. What business event caused the fluctuation?

D. Why did the fluctuation occur?

E. When, during the last four quarters, did the primary business event occur causing the fluctuation? Responding to this question helps identify which disclosures are likely to be in effect for the current fiscal year end.

020606. Statement Consolidation

User judgment must be exercised to determine if it is appropriate to exclude some statement line items, notes, and lines or columns in notes from the final published statements, if those lines do not apply to the reporting entity. In order to ensure consistent and accurate aggregation of amounts from suborganizations, however, such lines must not be excluded prior to the submission of the final published version. Due to the short timeframes available for statement consolidation at the agency level, preparers are not authorized to combine lines for which the referenced account balances are immaterial.

020607. Disclose Material Balances

Do not designate in the notes as “other” any discrete balances of a material amount. Material balances must be separately disclosed and designated by name. Material is defined for this purpose as any component of a line item that represents 10 percent or more of the value of the line in the principal statement.

020608. Notes to the Financial Statements

The note numbering sequence contained in Chapter 10 must be maintained in all versions of the notes in order to ensure consistent and accurate aggregation to the DoD Agency-wide level. For notes that are not applicable to the reporting entity, indicate the note is not applicable after the note number and title. Entities must retain this determination of nonapplicability in the working versions of the notes to document to outside auditors that an overt decision was made regarding the note disclosure applicability. The notes identified as nonapplicable will be excluded in preparation of the final statements. If additional notes are necessary to provide other required disclosures, then number them as explained in Chapter 10. Refer to Chapter 10 for more detailed guidance on the preparation, presentation, and numbering of notes to the principal financial statements.

020609. Consistency in Reporting

Accounting policies and procedures must be applied consistently throughout the financial statements. Ensure amounts are consistently reported throughout the financial statements, notes, supplemental information, and the Management’s Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) section. Also ensure that schedules presented in the notes, in support of amounts presented on financial statements, have total figures that agree with the amounts presented in the financial statements. Financial information reported in multiple notes, or other sections, must be reported in a consistent manner. To the extent that information is not available for the accelerated reports, a reliable, alternative method of estimating amounts and balances must be developed and adequately disclosed.

020610. Consolidated or Combined Statements

The Balance Sheet, SNC, and the SCNP principal statements must be prepared as consolidated statements, net of intra-entity transactions. The SBR must be prepared as a combined statement.

020611. Rounding

DoD Agency-wide final published financial statements and notes must display dollars rounded to millions with one decimal point. All Component statements must display dollar amounts rounded to the nearest whole thousand on the final published principal statements and in the tables/schedules contained in the notes to the principal statements. Dollar amounts in note narratives must be reported with a maximum of three position integers and a single decimal value followed by an identifier, such as millions or billions (e.g., $324.1 million; not $324,100 thousand). To improve communication among preparers, reviewers, and auditors during the preparation process, and to avoid excessive workload associated with the resolution of rounding errors, all accounting activities must report amounts as dollars and cents on all draft/working versions of the principal statements and note schedules prior to submission by the reporting entity of the final audited financial statements.

020612. Additional Information

Reporting entities that choose to present additional financial statements or information must include these in the “Other Information” section (see Chapter 3).

020613. Organization of the Financial Statements

The financial statements of the reporting entities will be organized as outlined in Chapter 1, Table 1-1.
020614. Requirements for Audited Financial Statements

Reporting entity managers are responsible for the preparation and printing of the final, complete annual audited version of their financial statements. These specific requirements are outlined in DFAS Financial Reporting Guidance.

020615. Posting the Financial Statements

DoD’s Agency-wide financial statements and the AFR are posted on the public website of the USD(C). Reporting entity managers must post their individual financial statements on their public website and provide the ODCFO with electronic links to these reports by the due date specified in the financial statement reporting schedule. The files must be prepared in the Portable Document Format (PDF) type. If the reporting entity includes a large number of digital images, then the PDF can be very slow for users to access on the website. In those cases, it is beneficial, and encouraged, to prepare separate files for each section of the financial report. For additional posting guidance, refer to OMB Circular A-136, Section I.5.

020616. Responsibility for Sections of DoD Agency-wide Financial Statements

DFAS, the USD (Acquisition and Sustainment) (USD(A&S)), and the USD(C) have responsibility for various sections of DoD Agency-wide financial statements and for providing information to Fiscal Service for inclusion in the FR of the U.S. Government.

* A. The USD(C) and DFAS are responsible for preparing the draft/working versions and final version of the Financial section of the AFR that includes the Agency-wide financial statements and notes, the Required Supplementary Information (RSI) section (except for the deferred maintenance and repairs information), and the Other Information section of the DoD Agency-wide financial statements. In addition, DFAS must ensure that the GTAS adjusted trial balances are transmitted to Fiscal Service for inclusion in the FR of the U.S. Government with a notification to the USD(C). Refer to Volume 6A, Chapter 3 for guidance on GTAS reporting.

B. The USD(A&S) is responsible for compiling the complete Required Supplementary Stewardship Information section and the deferred maintenance and repairs information for the RSI section of DoD’s Agency-wide financial statements. The USD(A&S) must provide this information, electronically, to DFAS for inclusion in the working and final version of DoD Agency-wide financial reports per the due dates in the financial statement reporting schedule.

C. The USD(C) is responsible for preparing the Agency Head Transmittal Letter required by OMB Circular A-136, Section II.1.1 and the MD&A section of the Agency-wide financial statements, and for submitting the DoD Agency-wide financial statements to OMB and the Congress.

CHAPTER 3

AGENCY HEAD TRANSMITTAL LETTER, MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS, FINANCIAL SECTION, AND OTHER INFORMATION

0301 GENERAL

*030101. Purpose

The Agency Head Transmittal Letter, the Management’s Discussion and Analysis (MD&A), the Financial Section, and Other Information (OI) are components of the Agency Financial Report (AFR) applicable to Tier 1 reporting entities referenced in Chapter 1, section 0104. Within the guidance of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-11, “Preparation, Submission, and Execution of the Budget,” and OMB Circular A-136, “Financial Reporting Requirements,” the Department of Defense (DoD) prepares and submits the AFR and a separate Annual Performance Report (APR). DoD reporting entities are required to prepare the AFR according to the policies prescribed by OMB Circular A-136 as implemented in this volume. These formats and instructions provide a framework within which individual agencies have flexibility to provide information useful to the Congress, agency managers, and the public. Subcomponents are not required to prepare an APR. Within the AFR framework, subcomponents are not required to prepare OI, but may choose to do so using the format specified in this chapter. Finally, DoD does not prepare the optional Summary of Performance and Financial Information.

030102. Authoritative Guidance

The primary authoritative guidance for this chapter is Title 31, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 3515, “Financial Statements of Agencies,” and OMB Circular A-136. Additional authoritative sources are referenced throughout the chapter. Annual updates to Circular A-136 are on the OMB website.

*0302 AGENCY HEAD TRANSMITTAL LETTER

An agency is required to include a dated transmittal letter signed by the agency head to be located at the beginning of the report. It must include a brief message from the agency head highlighting an assessment of whether financial and performance data in the report is reliable and complete, identifying material internal control weaknesses, and corrective actions the agency is taking to resolve them (the letter may reference a more detailed discussion of this topic elsewhere in the report).

0303 MD&A

The MD&A should serve as a brief overview of the entire annual financial report. To be useful, the MD&A must be concise, easy to read to a non-technical audience, and use visual references to present summary information. The MD&A should focus on the most important matters and provide a balanced analytical assessment of key program and financial performance that includes both positive and negative information. The MD&A should provide management’s view of actual current performance and financial results, as well as expectations about the future. The MD&A should inform the reader, at a high level, on progress toward accomplishing the entity’s mission and associated strategic goals. The discussion should deal with the most important matters that would likely affect the judgments and decisions of people who rely on the AFR as a key source of information. It should address most important matters that could:

A. Lead to significant actions or proposals by senior management;

B. Be significant to the managing, budgeting, and oversight functions of Congress and the Administration; or

C. Significantly affect the judgment of stakeholders about the efficiency and effectiveness of the entity.

*030302. Responsibility

Management is responsible for the content of the MD&A. Its preparation should be a joint effort of the financial management office, program offices, and offices responsible for performance reporting. Management has considerable discretion in preparing and presenting the MD&A, subject to the inclusion of the required content and the pervasive requirement that the MD&A not be misleading. The MD&A provides management with a vehicle for communicating insights about the entity, increasing the understandability of financial information, and providing information about the entity, its operations, service levels, successes, challenges, and the future. The preparer must develop and retain adequate documentation supporting the financial, statistical, and other information presented in the MD&A section.

*030303. Scope

The MD&A is an integral part of the AFR and should be regarded as Required Supplementary Information (RSI). The MD&A reporting requirements are summarized in Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board (FASAB) Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards 15 and Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Concepts 3. The MD&A may reference information in other discrete sections of the AFR, or it may be based on information contained in reports separate from the AFR. In addition, the MD&A may include a brief overview or executive summary explaining the MD&A. An overview section gives the reader a useful summary of what is to come. Some agencies include an overview or executive summary in the “Mission and Organizational Structure” section of the MD&A. The MD&A should clearly delineate the details on when and where the APR will be available to the public. At a minimum, the MD&A should address the entity’s:

A. Mission and organizational structure;

B. Performance goals, objectives, and results;
C. Financial statements;

D. Systems, controls, and legal compliance; and

E. Forward-looking information.

030304. Mission and Organizational Structure

The MD&A should contain a brief description of the mission(s) of the entity and describe its related organizational structure, consistent with the entity's strategic plan. The MD&A should:

A. Name the reporting entity in a clear manner that leaves no doubt as to whether the reporting entity is an entire organization or an activity or group of activities within an organization;

B. Identify the commercial functions and the revolving, trust, and other fund accounts covered by the financial statements;

C. State the mission and major goals of the reporting entity, including reference to the entity’s legislative mandate, if appropriate;

D. Identify the type and provide information on the numbers of individuals and/or groups served by or benefiting from the entity’s major program(s);

E. Provide indicators of the size of the major program(s) (e.g., dollars expended, population served, and the numbers of military and civilian personnel employed in carrying out the major program(s)); and

F. Describe the manner in which the reporting entity is organized to provide the major program(s), including information related to the geographic locations of the organization (e.g., numbers of local, district, state, and regional offices).

*030305. Performance Goals, Objectives, and Results

The MD&A should highlight the “most important” performance goals and results (positive and negative) for the applicable year related to and consistent with goals and objectives in the entity’s strategic and performance plans, including performance trend data. The performance discussion should help the reader assess the relative efficiency and effectiveness of programs. The MD&A should:

A. Provide a concise assessment of the entity’s overall progress toward major program goals, linking goals to cost categories or responsibility segments in the Statement of Net Cost or related notes, if possible;

B. Summarize overall (e.g., reporting entity) performance in the context of historical trends;
C. Summarize the strategies and resources the entity used to achieve its goals;

D. Summarize any significant underlying factors that may have affected the reported performance, including factors that are substantially outside the entity’s control, factors over which the entity has significant control, and any anticipated or unanticipated risks;

E. Summarize plans to improve performance; and

F. Summarize the procedures management has designed and followed to provide reasonable assurance that reported performance information is relevant and reliable.

*030306. Analysis of Financial Statements and Stewardship Information

The MD&A should help users understand the entity’s financial results, position, and condition conveyed in the principal financial statements. The MD&A should include comparisons of the current year to the prior year and should provide an analysis of the agency's overall financial position and results of operations to assist users in assessing whether the financial position has improved or deteriorated as a result of the year's activities. This section should also include a discussion of key financial-related measures emphasizing financial trends and assessing financial operations. Additionally, it should give users the benefit of management’s understanding of the following:

A. Major changes in types or amounts of assets, liabilities, costs, revenues, obligations, and outlays (explaining the underlying causes of the changes);

B. Relevance of particular balances and amounts shown in the principal financial statements, particularly if relevant to important financial management issues;

C. Entity’s stewardship information; and

D. In addition, the following items may be useful to include in the financial statement analysis:

1. Explanations for variances exceeding ten percent and are material to the agency;

2. Significant issues qualitative in nature and relating to financial management;

3. Overall financial condition and financial management issues occurring since the previous reporting period that impact the agency’s current financial status; and

* 4. A table of information based upon the Illustrative Table of Key Measures identified in OMB Circular A-136, Section II.2.6.
A. Agencies are required to provide assurances to the status and effectiveness of the internal controls and financial management systems that support the preparation of the financial statements. Management should provide its assurances related to the Federal Managers’ Financial Integrity Act of 1982 (FMFIA) and its compliance determination required by the Federal Financial Management Improvement Act of 1996 (FFMIA) in a separate section entitled “Management Assurances.” The FMFIA assurance statement should:

1. Provide management’s assessment of the effectiveness of the organization’s internal controls to support effective and efficient programmatic operations, reliable financial reporting and compliance with applicable laws and regulations, and whether the financial management systems conform to relevant financial systems requirements;

2. Provide a separate assessment of the effectiveness of the internal controls over financial reporting as a subset of the overall FMFIA assurance statement; and

3. Include a summary of material weaknesses and non-compliance, a summary of assurance, and a summary of corrective actions to resolve the material weaknesses and non-compliance. Illustrative assurance statements and further guidance on corrective action plans can be found in OMB Circular A-123, “Management’s Responsibility for Enterprise Risk Management and Internal Control.”

B. Management should include its FFMIA compliance assessment in this section. Management is required to provide its assessment of the organization’s financial management systems compliance with the federal financial management systems requirements standards promulgated by FASAB and the U.S. Standard General Ledger at the transaction level. Financial management systems include both financial and financially-related (or mixed) systems. Further guidance on the financial systems requirement can be found in OMB Circular A-123, Appendix D, “Compliance with the Federal Financial Management Improvement Act of 1996.” Briefly discuss the agency's financial management systems strategy and how it will achieve the goals of improving financial and budget management agency-wide. Include an overview of the agency's current and future financial management systems framework and a synopsis of critical projects currently underway or planned to achieve the target framework, per OMB Memorandum M-19-16, “Centralized Mission Support Capabilities for the Federal Government;” OMB Memorandum M-13-09, “Fiscal Year 2013 PortfolioStat Guidance: Strengthening Federal IT Portfolio Management;” and OMB Circular A-123, Appendix D. For areas of FFMIA non-compliance, the agency must identify remediation activities that are planned and underway and include projected dates to achieve compliancy.

C. Management should also review its FMFIA assurance statements and its FFMIA compliance determination for consistency with the findings specified in the annual financial statement audit report(s). The Office of the Inspector General (OIG) or auditor must compare material weaknesses disclosed during the audit with those material weaknesses reported in the agency’s FMFIA report and document any material weaknesses disclosed by audit that were not reported in the agency’s assurance statements. The financial audit responsibilities are established in the “Scope of the Audit” section of OMB Bulletin 19-03, “Audit Requirements for Federal Financial Statements,” which is updated annually. The reports may be different, but they should not be in direct conflict. When conflicting discrepancies exist, it is management’s responsibility to ensure that outstanding issues are reported appropriately. For material weaknesses related to an error requiring a restatement, if the agency asserted in its MD&A that it received an unmodified opinion on any previously issued financial statement, management should include a high-level discussion of the events that gave rise to the restatement, which should include the nature of the error.

*030308. Forward-looking Information

Forward-looking information includes information about the possible effects of the most important existing performance and financial demands, events, conditions, and trends. Management should discuss important problems that need to be addressed and actions that have been planned or taken to address such problems. The actions that are needed, planned, and taken must be discussed within the sections listed in this paragraph or in a separate section of the MD&A.

030309. Other Management Information, Initiatives, and Issues

Management has the discretion to include a summary in the MD&A of other information, initiatives, and issues it identifies.

*030310. Limitations of the Financial Statements

The MD&A should articulate the limitations of the principal financial statements. This section should state the following:

A. The principal financial statements are prepared to report the financial position and results of operations of the reporting entity, pursuant to the requirements of 31 USC § 3515 (b);

B. The statements are prepared from the books and records of the entity in accordance with Federal Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and the formats prescribed by OMB Circular A-136. Reports used to monitor and control budgetary resources are prepared from the same books and records; and

C. The statements should be read with the realization that they are for a Component of the U.S. Government.

*0304 FINANCIAL SECTION

The Financial Section of the AFR must contain the Auditor’s Report and Financial Statements and Notes. The financial statements are the responsibility of agency management. The reporting entity may include a Chief Financial Officer letter summarizing planned time frames for and major impediments to correcting audit weaknesses and instances of non-compliance and the process made in addressing previously reported audit weaknesses and instances and non-compliance. Refer to OMB Circular A-136, Section II.3.1 for additional guidance on the financial section. The guidance for the Financial Statements and Notes is in Chapters 4 through 10.

The OI section of the AFR follows the RSI section of the statements and should contain the following, when appropriate and applicable.

*030501. Management Challenges

OMB Circular A-136 states the Performance Accountability Report (PAR) or AFR must include a statement prepared by an executive agency’s OIG summarizing what the OIG considers the most serious management and performance challenges facing an executive agency and briefly assessing the executive agency’s progress in addressing those challenges. This statement must be provided to the executive agency head at least 30 days before the AFR due date. Comments by the executive agency head may be appended to the OIG’s statement. The executive agency head may comment on, but not modify, the OIG statement. Additional guidance can be found in OMB Circular A-136, OI.

*030502. Summary of Financial Statement Audit and Management Assurances

Executive agencies are required to prepare a Summary of Financial Statement Audit and a Summary of Management Assurances. OMB Circular A-136 requires executive agencies to include these summaries as OI or to explain how and why DoD uses an alternative method for reporting that information. Each material weakness should be listed using a unique, short, and easily understood name. These names should be kept constant, so that a weakness reported in FMFIA sections or by the auditor has the same name. To the extent possible, weakness names should also be kept constant from year to year. Significant deficiencies are not required to be reported. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for additional guidance regarding format and content of the summary report.

030503. Payment Integrity

Guidance for reporting improper payments is contained in Volume 4, Chapter 14 and OMB Circular A-136, Section II.4.5.

030504. Fraud Reduction Report

Under the Fraud Reduction and Data Analytics Act of 2015 (Public Law 114-186, Title 31 U.S.C., § 3321), each agency must include in its AFR or PAR a report on its fraud reduction efforts undertaken. This requirement became effective beginning with the final quarter of Fiscal Year (FY) 2016. The report must include information on the agency’s progress in implementing financial and administrative controls established pursuant to the Act, the fraud risk principle in the Standards for Internal Control in the Government, and OMB Circular A-123 with respect to leading practices for managing fraud risk. The report must also include information on agency progress in identifying risks and vulnerabilities to fraud (including with respect to payroll, beneficiary payments, grants, large contracts, and purchase and travel cards) and agency progress on establishing strategies, procedures, and other steps to curb fraud.

030505. Reduce the Footprint

Consistent with Section 3 of the OMB Memorandum M-12-12, “Promoting Efficient Spending to Support Agency Operations,” and OMB Memorandum M-17-08, “Amending OMB Memorandum M-12-12, Promoting Efficient Spending to Support Agency Operations,” all Chief Financial Officers Act entities must set annual targets to reduce the total square footage of their domestic office and warehouse inventory compared to the FY 2015 baseline. Pursuant to the requirements in the “Reduce the Footprint” policy implementing guidance, agencies must:

A. Report the total square office and warehouse footage associated with the agency’s assets subject to the “Reduce the Footprint” policy;

B. Report the annual operating costs as reported in the most recent Federal Real Property Profile submittal for owned and direct-lease facilities (direct-lease facilities does not include General Services Administration occupancy agreements) that are subject to the “Reduce the Footprint” policy; and

C. Provide a brief narrative highlighting actions the agency is taking to reduce its FY 2015 Reduce the Footprint office and warehouse baseline, the cost of its lease portfolio, and operation and maintenance costs of unneeded property. An illustrative table is provided for reference in OMB Circular A-136, Section II.4.8.

030506. Civil Monetary Penalty Adjustment for Inflation

Under the Federal Civil Penalties Inflation Adjustment Act Improvements Act of 2015, agencies must make annual inflation adjustments to civil monetary penalties and report on the adjustments in their AFR or PAR. Agencies are encouraged to include the illustrative table referenced in OMB Circular A-136, Section II.4.9.

BALANCE SHEET

040101.  Overview

The Balance Sheet is a statement of financial position required to be completed by Department of Defense (DoD) reporting entities identified in Chapter 1. It is a principal financial statement that presents comparative fiscal year data (i.e., current and preceding), as of a specific time. Moreover, it reports amounts owned or managed by reporting entities (assets), amounts owed by the entities (liabilities), and amounts which comprise the difference (net position). Notes to the Balance Sheet are required to clarify or provide additional, more detailed information on the individual asset, liability, and net position line items reported on the face of the Balance Sheet.

040102.  Purpose

This chapter presents the form and content of the DoD Balance Sheet. It identifies general requirements for each asset, liability, and net position line item reported on the Balance Sheet. For detailed accounting policy, see the individual asset and liability chapters published in Volume 4. For detailed information regarding schedules/timelines and/or specific notes, see the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) Financial Reporting Guidance and Chapter 10.

040103.  Authoritative Guidance

0402  BALANCE SHEET FORMAT

040201.  General Information

The Balance Sheet should present summary information necessary to make the statement most useful to readers. Where substantial detail is required to properly explain specific line items, present the detail in the notes. See OMB Circular A-136 and Chapter 10 for additional instructions regarding the preparation and presentation of notes for each specific line item on the Balance Sheet.
Individual statement crosswalks are prepared using the Treasury USSGL. The crosswalk for each line of the Balance Sheet is incorporated into the Defense Departmental Reporting System (DDRS) Audited Financial Statements (AFS) and can be accessed with proper authorization by selecting “Query” from the main DDRS AFS menu, then selecting option “Referential Data” and option “Report Map.”

040202. Materiality Amounts

Separate reporting of items on the Balance Sheet is appropriate if the amounts are material to the Balance Sheet. Material is defined as any item (asset or liability) that represents more than 10 percent of the value of total assets or total liabilities. If an item is determined to be material, DoD reporting entities may report the item separately on the face of the Balance Sheet.

040203. Final Published Balance Sheet

The format presented in Figure 4-1 must be used for the final DoD-wide consolidated Balance Sheet. The final DoD-wide consolidated Balance Sheet and notes will display dollars rounded to millions with one decimal point. All DoD reporting entity Balance Sheets and notes must display dollar amounts rounded to the nearest whole thousand. Dollar amounts in note narratives must be reported with a maximum of three position integers and a single decimal value followed by an identifier, such as millions or billions (e.g., $340.1 million). Foreign currency account balances reported on the Balance Sheet must be translated into U.S. dollars at exchange rates determined by Treasury and which are effective at the financial reporting date. Additionally, the Balance Sheet will use pre-closing balances for all amounts. The line numbers shown in Figure 4-1 (e.g., 1.A.1) will not be included on the final published version of the DoD-wide or reporting entity Balance Sheet. The line numbers are for reference purposes only.

0403 INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARATION OF THE BALANCE SHEET

040301. General Instructions for the Assets Section

A. Assets. Assets are defined in accordance with SFFAS 1, “Accounting for Selected Assets and Liabilities.” The Balance Sheet must include both entity assets and nonentity assets. (Note: Clearing and suspense accounts are entity assets).

B. Disclosure of Entity and Nonentity Assets. The Balance Sheet combines entity and nonentity assets. For example, entity intragovernmental accounts receivable and nonentity intragovernmental accounts receivable are combined and reported as a single intragovernmental accounts receivable line item on the Balance Sheet. However, DoD reporting entities must separately disclose nonentity assets in notes to the financial statements.

C. Intragovernmental Assets. Intragovernmental assets arise from transactions within or between federal entities and represent claims by a DoD reporting entity against other federal entities. DoD reporting entities must report intragovernmental assets separately from nonfederal assets on the Balance Sheet. Nonfederal includes domestic and foreign persons and organizations outside the U.S. Federal Government. DoD reporting entities must classify Foreign

040302. Line Item Instructions for the Assets Section

A. Intragovernmental Assets.

1. Fund Balance with Treasury (FBWT), Line 1.A.1. FBWT is the aggregate amount of funds (i.e., entity and nonentity) in a DoD reporting entity's accounts with Treasury for which the reporting entity is authorized to make expenditures and pay liabilities. FBWT is an asset account because it represents an entity’s claim to the U.S. Federal Government’s resources. Fiduciary assets are not recognized on the Balance Sheet but must be separately disclosed in accordance with the provisions of SFFAS 31, “Accounting for Fiduciary Activities.” It does not include any amounts for which Treasury is willing to accept corrections to canceled appropriation accounts, in accordance with SFFAS 1. The amount reported must include extended obligation authority for obligations incurred in closing and closed accounts. For a detailed definition and accounting policy regarding FBWT, see Volume 4, Chapter 2.

2. Investments, Line 1.A.2. Intragovernmental investments are federal securities. Federal securities include nonmarketable par value Treasury securities, market-based Treasury securities expected to be held to maturity, marketable Treasury securities expected to be held to maturity, and securities issued by other federal entities. DoD reporting entities must report their investments on the Balance Sheet at their acquisition cost, adjusted for amortization of a premium or discount, if appropriate.

3. Accounts Receivable, Line 1.A.3. Intragovernmental accounts receivable are DoD claims to cash or other assets due from other federal entities. Receivables related to direct or guaranteed loans are not included on this line. No allowance for estimated uncollectible amounts is recognized for intragovernmental receivables because they are considered collectible. For accounts receivable elimination requirements, see Chapter 13.

4. Other Assets, Line 1.A.4. Intragovernmental other assets are assets not reported in a separate category under the Intragovernmental Assets section of the Balance Sheet. This line reports other intragovernmental advances and prepayments, including advance payments, and other intragovernmental assets that are immaterial to an entity and do not warrant separate reporting. For other assets elimination requirements, see Chapter 13.

5. Total Intragovernmental Assets, Line 1.A.5. This line is the sum of Lines 1.A.1 through 1.A.4.

B. Cash and Other Monetary Assets, Line 1.B. This line reports entity and nonentity cash and other monetary assets. The amount of cash and other monetary assets that the DoD reporting entity holds and is authorized to spend is entity cash. The assets under this category that are collected and held on behalf of the U.S. Federal Government or other entities are nonentity cash and other monetary assets; report both on this line. This line also includes DoD disbursing officers’ cash from the Standard Form (SF) 1219, “Statement of Accountability,” and the total U.S. dollar equivalent of foreign currencies held in special program foreign currency fund accounts. Cash consists of:

1. Coins, paper currency, and readily negotiable instruments, such as money orders, checks, and bank drafts on hand or in transit for deposit;
2. Amounts on demand deposit with banks or other financial institutions, including nonconfirmed collections and disbursements;
3. Cash held by a Disbursing Office;
4. Cash held in imprest funds;
5. Seized cash;
6. Foreign currencies translated for accounting purposes into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate on the financial statement date; and
7. Investments held outside of Treasury.

C. Accounts Receivable, Net, Line 1.C. This line reports DoD claims to cash or other assets due from nonfederal entities, net of an allowance for estimated doubtful amounts. It also includes interest receivable, fines, penalties, and administrative fees from nonfederal entities and supported undistributed collections. However, DoD reporting entities must report interest receivable related to direct loans and acquired defaulted guaranteed loans as a component of loans receivable on Line 1.D.

D. Loans Receivable, Net, Line 1.D. This line reports the net value of direct loans receivable (i.e., prior to 1992 and post-1991) and acquired defaulted guaranteed loans receivable. The net value of credit program receivables and related foreclosed property are considered entity assets if the entity has the authority to determine the use of the funds collected or is legally obligated to use the funds to meet entity obligations (e.g., loans payable to the Treasury). If a DoD reporting entity administers a loan guarantee program and forecloses on property, then refer to SFFAS 2, “Accounting for Direct Loans and Loan Guarantees,” for detailed requirements. When a loan guarantee program (generating a negative subsidy) guarantees a loan and the lender has not disbursed the loan as of the Balance Sheet date, a proprietary receivable from borrowings should not be reported. The undelivered order recorded to obligate the funds is sufficient disclosure when reported as part of the total undelivered orders.

E. Inventory and Related Property, Line 1.E. This line includes inventory, operating materials and supplies (OM&S), and stockpile materiel. For accounting policy regarding inventory, see SFFAS 48, “Opening Balances for Inventory, Operating Materials and Supplies, and Stockpile Materials;” SFFAS 3, “Accounting for Inventory and Related Property;” Volume 4, Chapter 4; and applicable Policy Memoranda. The following categories make up this line:
1. Inventory. Inventory is tangible personal property that is:
   a. Held for sale, including raw materials and work in process;
   b. Held for repair;
   c. In the process of production for sale;
   d. To be consumed in the production of goods for sale or in the provision of services for a fee; and
   e. To be transferred to entities within or outside of the U.S. Federal Government.

2. OM&S. OM&S are tangible personal property to be consumed in normal operations. OM&S consist of secondary supply items and munition items that a logistics activity holds in stock pending issue, without reimbursement, to the unit or organization that will consume the item in normal operations. This may include OM&S held for repair and OM&S in development.

3. Stockpile Materiel. Stockpile materiel is strategic and critical materiel held due to statutory requirements for use in national defense, conservation, or national emergencies as required by the Strategic and Critical Materials Stock Piling Act. Specifically, this line reports only materiel applicable to and reported by the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA). The DLA National Defense Stockpile Center manages DoD stockpile materiel and only the DLA National Defense Stockpile Transaction Fund is authorized to use this inventory category and associated accounts.

F. General Property, Plant and Equipment (PP&E), Net, Line 1.F. This line reports all PP&E (net of accumulated depreciation) as defined in SFFAS 6, “Accounting for Property, Plant and Equipment;” Volume 4; and applicable Policy Memoranda related to Volume 4. DoD reporting agencies must recognize permanent impairments of General PP&E that will remain in use by the entity, in accordance with SFFAS 44, “Accounting for Impairment of General Property, Plant and Equipment Remaining in Use.” Please refer to SFFAS 50, “Establishing Opening Balances for General Property, Plant, and Equipment: Amending SFFAS 6, SFFAS 10, and SFFAS 23, and Rescinding SFFAS 35,” for additional guidance. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 26 for a more detailed description of impairment. The rules regarding recognition of impairment apply to all capitalized assets. In addition, although the value of stewardship assets does not appear on the Balance Sheet, it is disclosed in the notes to the financial statements. General PP&E, Net, includes:

1. Capitalized PP&E. Capitalized PP&E includes general and personal property and any related modifications, modernizations, upgrades, and improvements whose values or costs meet or exceed the capitalization thresholds established by the Department. For additional policy regarding capitalization, see Volume 4 and applicable Policy Memoranda related to Volume 4.
2. Real Property. Real property includes buildings, structures, linear structures, facilities, installed building equipment (e.g., control systems, heating, cooling, electrical, and emergency lighting), and related capital improvements. DoD reporting entities must record the value of Base Realignment and Closure real property (once the mission of that installation terminates or transfers) in USSGL account 189000, “Other General Property, Plant, and Equipment.”

3. Assets Acquired through Capital Leases, including Leasehold Improvements. Capital leases are leases that transfer substantially all the benefits and risks of ownership to the lessee. For additional policy regarding capital leases, see SFFAS 6 and Volume 4, Chapter 26. DoD reporting entities must separately disclose capital leases in the footnotes.

4. Internal Use Software. DoD reporting entities must capitalize, as a General PP&E asset, the cost of software, whether commercial off-the-shelf, internally developed, or contractor-developed, that meets the DoD capitalization criteria for General PP&E. For further policy on internal use software, see SFFAS 10, “Accounting for Internal Use Software;” Federal Financial Accounting and Auditing Technical Release 16; and Volume 4, Chapter 27.

5. Depreciation/Amortization. Depreciation/amortization is the expense associated with the use of General PP&E. It is a contra-asset account that reduces the amount reported for General PP&E. DoD reporting entities must recognize depreciation/amortization on all General PP&E, except land and land rights of unlimited duration. For additional policy regarding depreciation/amortization, see Volume 4 and applicable Policy Memoranda related to Volume 4.

6. Construction-in-Progress (CIP). CIP is a temporary asset account in which DoD reporting entities must record the costs of constructing real property and general equipment. CIP accounts include all costs incurred to bring the asset to a form and condition suitable for its intended use. Capital expenditures or Contract Financing Payments (CFPs), coinciding with the portion of the work completed for real property and/or general equipment, must be recorded in a CIP account. For additional policy regarding CIP and/or CFPs, see Volume 4 and applicable Policy Memoranda related to Volume 4.

7. Land. General PP&E includes land and land rights acquired for or in connection with other General PP&E. Acquired for or in connection with other General PP&E is defined as land acquired with the intent to construct General PP&E and land acquired in combination with General PP&E, including not only land used as the foundation, but also adjacent land considered to be the General PP&E’s common grounds. DoD reporting entities that have not yet undergone a financial statement audit where they received an unmodified audit opinion must exclude (or adjust their land and land rights opening balances to zero) the value of land and land rights from opening balances of General PP&E on their balance sheets in accordance with SFFAS 6, as amended by SFFAS 50. Moreover, these entities must continue to exclude and expense future land and land rights acquisitions. Conversely, DoD reporting entities that have received an unmodified audit opinion will continue to account for land and land rights in accordance with SFFAS 6. All DoD reporting entities must disclose, in the notes to the financial statements, with a reference on the balance sheet, the number of acres of General PP&E land and land rights held.
DoD reporting entities must report this acreage amount separately from Stewardship Land. There are no disclosure requirements for General PP&E land rights not measured in acres in establishing opening balances.

8. Government Furnished Equipment (GFE) and Contractor Acquired Property (CAP). GFE is property in the possession of, or directly acquired by, the Government and subsequently furnished to the contractor for performance of a contract. CAP means property acquired, fabricated, or otherwise provided by the contractor for performing a contract and to which the Government has title. DoD reporting entities must use the most reliable source of information available as a means to report the value of GFE and CAP. For additional policy regarding GFE and CAP, see Volume 4 and applicable Policy Memoranda related to Volume 4.

9. Working Capital Fund (WCF) PP&E. DoD WCF reporting entities operate as business-type activities. DoD WCF reporting entities must categorize all PP&E used in the performance of their missions as General PP&E, whether or not it meets the definition of other PP&E categories in SFFAS 6.

10. Multi-use Heritage Assets. Heritage assets predominantly used in general government operations (e.g., buildings such as the Pentagon, which is used as an office building) are classified as multi-use heritage assets. As required by SFFAS 29, “Heritage Assets and Stewardship Land,” DoD reporting entities must capitalize as General PP&E and depreciate the cost of acquiring, improving, and reconstructing all multi-use heritage assets. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 28 for more detailed information on Multi-use Heritage Assets.

G. Investments, Line 1.G. This line reports investments in nonfederal securities. DoD reporting entities must report investments in nonfederal securities separately from investments in federal securities. Nonfederal securities include those issued by state and local governments, government-sponsored enterprises, and other private corporations. Report nonfederal securities at acquisition cost or amortized acquisition cost (less an allowance for loss due to changes in market value, if any). This line represents other DoD investments as allowed by public law. Specifically, Public Law 104-106, Section 2801 authorizes DoD to enter into limited partnerships in support of the Military Housing Privatization Initiative.

H. Other Assets, Line 1.H. Other assets are nonfederal assets that are not reported in a separate category on the Balance Sheet.

1. Other assets reports the values of all advances and prepayments made to nonfederal entities, and includes travel advances and those assets that are immaterial to the entity and do not warrant separate reporting.

2. This line does not include invoice payments, to include payments for partial deliveries or lease and rental payments. In addition, CFPs are not Other Assets. DoD reporting entities must record CFPs in a CIP account and report them on the General PP&E line of the Balance Sheet.
I. Total Assets, Line 2. This line is the sum of Line 1.A.5. and Lines 1.B. through 1.H.

J. Stewardship PP&E, Line 3. Stewardship PP&E consists of assets whose physical properties resemble those of General PP&E. However, due to their unique nature, stewardship assets are not capitalized and carry no book value. DoD reporting entities must demonstrate accountability over these assets by reporting on their existence and condition. SFFAS 29 reclassified heritage assets and stewardship land information as basic information, with the exception of condition reporting, which is considered Required Supplemental Information. Specifically, it requires reporting entities to reference a note on the face of the Balance Sheet that discloses information about heritage assets and stewardship land, but report no asset dollar amount. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 28 for more detailed information on Heritage Assets and Stewardship Land. Stewardship PP&E includes:

1. Heritage Assets. Heritage assets are PP&E that are unique for one or more of the following reasons: (1) historical or natural significance; (2) cultural, educational, or artistic importance; or (3) significant architectural characteristics. Heritage assets consist of collection type heritage assets (i.e., objects gathered and maintained for exhibition) and non-collection type heritage assets (i.e., parks, memorials, monuments, and buildings). These assets are preserved indefinitely.

2. Stewardship Land. Stewardship land is land and land rights owned by the Government, but not acquired for or in connection with items of General PP&E. Examples of stewardship land include land used as forests and parks or land used for wildlife and grazing.

*040303. General Instructions for the Liabilities Section

A. Liability. A liability is a probable future outflow or other sacrifice of resources resulting from past transactions or events. Financial statements must recognize probable and measurable future outflows or other sacrifices of resources arising from:

1. Past exchange transactions;

2. Government-related events;

3. Government-acknowledged events; and

4. Nonexchange transactions that are unpaid amounts due as of the reporting date.

B. Liability Recognition.

1. SFFAS 5. “Accounting for Liabilities of The Federal Government,” describes the general principles governing the recognition of a liability. The concept of a liability includes not only those liabilities that routinely recur in normal operations and are due within a fiscal year (e.g., accounts payable, as outlined in SFFAS 1), but also contingent liabilities resulting from an existing condition that involve uncertainty as to possible loss.

2. DoD reporting entities must recognize liabilities resulting from normal operations when they are incurred, regardless of whether they are covered by available budgetary resources. This requirement includes liabilities related to appropriations canceled under “M” account legislation included in Title 31, United States Code, section 1552, “Procedure for Appropriation Accounts Available for Definite Periods.”

C. Liabilities Covered, Not Covered by, and Not Requiring Budgetary Resources. Liabilities covered by budgetary resources, liabilities not covered by budgetary resources, and liabilities not requiring budgetary resources are combined on the Balance Sheet. For example, intragovernmental accounts payable covered by budgetary resources and intragovernmental accounts payable not covered by budgetary resources are combined and reported as a single intragovernmental accounts payable line item on the Balance Sheet.

1. Liabilities Covered by Budgetary Resources
   a. Liabilities Covered by Budgetary Resources are liabilities incurred which are covered by realized budgetary resources as of the Balance Sheet date. Budgetary resources encompass not only new budget authority, but also other resources available to cover liabilities for specified purposes in a given year. OMB Circular A-11 identifies amounts included as available budgetary resources.

   b. Liabilities are considered covered by budgetary resources when they are funded by permanent indefinite appropriations, which have been enacted and signed into law and are available for use as of the Balance Sheet date. The resources must be apportioned by OMB without further action by the Congress and without a contingency having to be met first. Custodial liabilities are covered by the assets that are collected and held for eventual transfer to other entities.

2. Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources. This category is for liabilities not covered by budgetary resources as provided in subparagraph 040303.C.1.b, and that will require budgetary resources.

3. Liabilities Not Requiring Budgetary Resources. This category is for liabilities that have not in the past required and will not in the future require the use of budgetary resources.

D. Current Liability. A current liability is an amount that is due to be paid within 12 months of the Balance Sheet date. Current liabilities must be disclosed separately from noncurrent liabilities in the notes to the financial statements.

E. Noncurrent Liability. A noncurrent liability is an amount that is due to be paid beyond 12 months of the Balance Sheet date and will be disclosed separately from current liabilities in the notes to the financial statements.
F. Contingent Liability. A contingent liability is a potential liability that may occur, depending on the outcome of an uncertain future event. Record a contingent liability if the contingency is probable and the amount of the liability can be reasonably estimated.

G. Intragovernmental Liabilities. Intragovernmental liabilities arise from transactions within or between federal entities. Intragovernmental liabilities are claims against a DoD reporting entity by other federal entities. DoD reporting entities must report intragovernmental liabilities separately from nonfederal liabilities, including government-sponsored enterprises and the Federal Reserve System, on the Balance Sheet. Classify liabilities with the Foreign Military Sales Trust Fund as intragovernmental.

H. Interest Payable. Interest payable is a current liability used to report the amount of interest incurred, but not paid by DoD reporting entities as of the date of the Balance Sheet. DoD reporting entities must report interest payable as a component of the appropriate liability accounts. Interest payable to federal entities is an intragovernmental liability and must be accounted for separately from interest payable to nonfederal entities (or the public).

040304. Line Item Instructions for the Liabilities Section

This paragraph includes those liabilities incurred as of the reporting date.

A. Intragovernmental Liabilities

1. Accounts Payable, Line 4.A.1. Intragovernmental accounts payable are amounts owed by a DoD reporting entity for goods and services received from other federal entities. They include payables for progress made in contract performance by other federal entities and rents due to other federal entities. DoD reporting entities must adjust accounts payable for undistributed disbursements. For intragovernmental accounts payable elimination requirements, see Chapter 13.

2. Debt, Line 4.A.2. This line reports the amounts of borrowings from the Treasury, the Federal Financing Bank, or other federal agencies under general or specific financing authority (e.g., Treasury bills, notes, bonds, and Federal Housing Administration debentures). DoD reporting entities must classify all debt not covered by budgetary resources, except for direct loan and guaranteed loan financing account debt to Treasury, and that portion of other debt covered by budgetary resources, at the Balance Sheet date.

3. Other Liabilities, Line 4.A.3. Intragovernmental other liabilities are liabilities not reported in a separate category under the Intragovernmental liabilities section of the Balance Sheet. This line reports the total amount due to federal entities for liabilities owed by DoD reporting entities that are not included on lines 4.A.1 and 4.A.2. This amount includes, but is not limited to, deferred credits, advances and prepayments received from other federal entities for goods to be delivered or services to be performed, deposit fund amounts held in escrow, amounts collected from payroll and remitted to the Office of Personnel Management, and capital leases. This line also includes pecuniary liability to the Treasury for DoD disbursing officer's cash reported on SF 1219.
4. Total Intragovernmental Liabilities, Line 4.A.4. This is the sum of Lines 4.A.1 through 4.A.3.

B. Accounts Payable, Line 4.B. Accounts payable are amounts owed by a DoD reporting entity for goods and services received from nonfederal entities. They include payables for progress made in contract performance by nonfederal entities and rents due to nonfederal entities. DoD reporting entities must report interest payable as a component of the accounts payable on this line. Accrued interest payable is also included in this line as detailed by the Prompt Payment Act. DoD reporting entities must adjust accounts payable for undistributed disbursements.

C. Military Retirement and Other Federal Employment Benefits, Line 4.C. This line is applicable to and reports military retirement pension benefits, retired military health benefits, and other employment related actuarial liabilities for civilian and military personnel. DoD reporting entities responsible for the administration of pensions and other retirement benefits, including health benefits for retirees and other postemployment benefits, must calculate and report these liabilities and related expenses in accordance with SFFAS 5 and SFFAS 33, “Pensions, Other Retirement Benefits, and Other Postemployment Benefits: Reporting the Gains and Losses from Changes in Assumptions and Selecting Discount Rates and Valuation Dates.” Liabilities for federal employee and veterans’ benefits include the actuarial portion of these benefits. They do not include liabilities related to ongoing continuous expenses (e.g., employee accrued salary and accrued annual leave), which are reported on the Other Liabilities line.

D. Environmental and Disposal Liabilities, Line 4.D. Environmental and disposal liabilities include the costs to remove, contain, and dispose of hazardous waste from General PP&E, as well as the costs to remove, contain, and dispose of materiel and property that is deemed to be hazardous waste at a permanent or temporary closure or shutdown of associated General PP&E. SFFAS 5 provides criteria for recognizing a contingent liability and DoD reporting entities must apply such criteria to determine when cleanup costs are recognized as liabilities and disclosed in the notes. SFFAS 6 supplements the liability standard by providing policy for recording cleanup costs related to General PP&E and Stewardship PP&E used in federal operations. For accounting policy regarding Environmental and Disposal Activities, see Volume 4, Chapter 13.

E. Loan Guarantee Liability, Line 4.E. This line reports the present value of the estimated net cash flows to be paid as a result of loan guarantees after 1991. For loan guarantees prior to 1992, the amount of known and estimated losses to be payable must be included. When the total loan guarantee liability for all credit programs of a DoD reporting entity is negative, the entity must report the loan as an asset. If a loan guarantee liability is the result of both positive and negative amounts for the various components, then the total must be shown as a liability and negative components disclosed.

F. Other Liabilities, Line 4.F

1. Included Amounts. This line reports the total amount due to nonfederal entities for other liabilities owed by DoD reporting entities that are not included on lines 4.A through 4.E. This amount includes, but is not limited to, liabilities related to deferred credits from nonfederal entities, accrued liabilities related to ongoing continuous expenses, such as federal employee salaries, accrued employee annual leave, capital leases, advances and prepayments received from other nonfederal entities for goods to be delivered or services to be performed, deposit fund amounts held in escrow, and estimated contingent liabilities. In addition, report cleanup costs as other liabilities if they are not material to the Balance Sheet. Cleanup costs that exceed the materiality threshold are reported separately as environmental and disposal liabilities.

2. Accrued Entitlement Benefits. Accrued entitlements benefits include:

   a. Salaries and wages which represent the estimated liability for salaries and wages of civilian personnel that have been earned, but are unpaid; and the estimated military personnel funded compensation earned, but unpaid, as of the end of the current accounting month; and

   b. Both funded and unfunded accrued annual leave, which represent the accrued leave for civilians and military personnel earned and expected to be paid in the future.

3. Commitments and Contingencies. A loss contingency is an existing condition, situation, or set of circumstances involving uncertainty as to possible loss to an entity. The uncertainty should ultimately be resolved when one or more future events occur or fail to occur.

   a. DoD reporting entities must recognize a contingent liability when a past event or exchange transaction has occurred; a future outflow or other sacrifice of resources is probable; and the future outflow or sacrifice of resources is measurable. Contingencies that do not meet any of the conditions for liability recognition, and for which there is at least a reasonable possibility that a loss or an additional loss may have been incurred, must be disclosed in a separate note. For additional policy regarding contingent liabilities, see SFFAS 5, as amended by SFFAS 12, “Recognition of Contingent Liabilities Arising from Litigation: An Amendment of SFFAS 5, Accounting for Liabilities of the Federal Government;” Volume 4, Chapter 12; and applicable Policy Memoranda related to this chapter.

   b. DoD reporting entities must also disclose the following commitments:

      (1) An estimate of obligations related to canceled appropriations for which the reporting entity has a contractual commitment for payment; and

      (2) Amounts for contractual arrangements that may require future financial obligations.
c. DoD reporting entities must recognize a contingent liability for pending or threatened litigation and unasserted claims when the future outflow or other sacrifice of resources is measurable and "likely to occur" as detailed by SFFAS 12.

d. DoD reporting entities must recognize a contingent liability for contingencies not related to pending or threatened litigation when the future outflow or other sacrifice of resources is measurable and "more likely than not to occur" as detailed in SFFAS 12. If a contingency exists for clean-up costs related to Stewardship PP&E, DoD reporting entities must recognize a contingent liability when the Stewardship PP&E is placed in service. DoD reporting entities must report such liability on Line 4.D. Please refer to OMB Circular A-136, Section II.3.3.4 for additional information.

4. Lease Liabilities. DoD reporting entities must report the liability for nonfederal capital leases, including those capital leases entered into during Fiscal Year 1992 and thereafter, and required to be fully funded in the first year of the lease.

G. Total Liabilities, Line 5. This line is the sum of Line 4.A.4 and Lines 4.B. through 4.F.

H. Commitments and Contingencies, Line 6. DoD reporting entities must disclose on Line 6 and in the notes, any contingencies that do not meet any of the conditions for liability recognition and for which there is at least a reasonable possibility that a loss or an additional loss may have been incurred.
disclosures must not be restated in the year funds from dedicated collections are initially reported by an entity.

B. Unexpended Appropriations, Other Funds, Line 7.B. This amount includes the portion of the entity’s appropriations represented by undelivered orders and unobligated balances that do not relate to funds from dedicated collections. The amount of unexpended appropriations (including the amount of dedicated collections) reported on the Balance Sheet must equal the amount of unexpended appropriations reported on the Statement of Changes in Net Position (SCNP).

C. Cumulative Results of Operations, Dedicated Collections, Line 7.C. This line reports the net results of operations since inception, plus the cumulative amount of prior period adjustments related to funds from dedicated collections. DoD reporting entities must report the cumulative results of operations attributable to funds from dedicated collections separately on the Balance Sheet and in accordance with SFFAS 27, as amended by SFFAS 43. The prior period columns of the basic financial statements and related disclosures must not be restated in the year funds from dedicated collections are initially reported by an entity.

D. Cumulative Results of Operations, Other Funds, Line 7.D. This line reports the net results of operations since inception plus the cumulative amount of prior period adjustments that do not relate to funds from dedicated collections. This includes the cumulative amount of donations and transfers of assets in and out without reimbursement. The amount of cumulative results of operations (including the amount of dedicated collections) reported on the Balance Sheet must equal the amount of cumulative results of operations reported on the SCNP.

E. Total Net Position, Line 8. This line is the sum of Lines 7.A. through 7.D.

F. Total Liabilities and Net Position, Line 9. This line is the sum of Lines 5 and 8.

STATEMENT OF NET COST

0501 GENERAL

050101. Overview

The Statement of Net Cost (SNC) is designed to show separately the components of the net cost of the reporting entity's operations for the reporting period. The net cost of operations is the gross cost incurred by the reporting entity less any exchange revenue earned from its activities.

050102. Purpose

This chapter prescribes the policy for preparing the DoD SNC. Additionally, this chapter provides standard formats for the published and working versions of the SNC.

*050103. Authoritative Guidance

0502 FORMATS FOR THE SNC

*050201. Format for the Working Version of the Consolidated/Consolidating SNC

Use the formats presented in Figures 5-1 (consolidated) and 5-2 (consolidating) for the SNC. Consider all versions of the statements, and notes leading up to the final submission to the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) Financial Reporting Directorate, “working versions.” The working versions of all statements will include the line numbers as shown in Figures 5-1 and 5-2. All amounts will remain in dollars and cents in the working versions of the statements and note schedules in order to improve communication among the preparers, the reviewers, and the auditors during the financial statements preparation process. Consolidating statements are not required by OMB Circular A-136. However, they are useful for financial management and may be published in a reporting entity’s annual financial report.

050202. Published SNC Format

The final DoD published statements, including the SNC, and the notes to the principal statements will display dollars rounded to the nearest millions with one decimal point. All Component statements will display dollar amounts rounded to the nearest whole thousand on the final published principal statements and in the tables/schedules contained in the notes to the principal statements. Dollar amounts in note narratives will be reported with a maximum of three position integers and a single decimal value followed by an identifier, such as millions or billions (e.g. $340.1 million, not $340,100 thousand). The line numbers shown in Figures 5-1 and 5-2 are for reference only and are not included in the final versions.

0503 INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PREPARATION OF THE SNC

050301. General Instructions

A. Net Cost of Operations. All figures used on the SNC are pre-closing trial balances.

1. Pre-closing trial balances include end of period adjusting entries to recognize on an accrual basis, revenues and expenses, and the proper amounts for assets, liabilities, and net position amounts. They do not include closing entries, which reduce nominal accounts to zero. The Consolidating SNC is organized in a manner that allows users of the financial data to differentiate between costs and revenues resulting from both program and non-program operations, and provides the framework for analysis of metrics and outcomes of the various DoD programs and activities.

2. Net program costs are the gross program costs incurred by the reporting entity, plus losses (gains) from actuarial assumption changes for military retirement or other postemployment benefits, less any exchange program revenue earned from its activities. This amount represents the net cost of a sub-organization or entity funded by sources other than exchange revenues. The gross cost of a program consists of the full cost of the outputs produced by that program, as defined by SFFAS 4, “Managerial Cost Accounting Standards and Concepts,” plus any nonproduction costs that are assignable to the program. Nonproduction costs are costs linked to events other than the production of goods and services. Refer to Chapter 10 for disclosure requirements in the notes to the financial statements.

B. Programs Reported. DoD has identified performance measures in the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (OUSD) (Comptroller)/Chief Financial Officer DoD Internal Control Over Financial Reporting Guide for gross costs. DoD currently does not accumulate costs for major programs based on performance measures, in part because financial processes and systems do not yet fully collect costs in line with these measures. DoD divides programs by the seven major appropriation groupings addressed in paragraph 050401. Refer to Figures 5-1 and 5-2 for the current SNC formats.

C. Sub-Entity Programs

1. Preparers of the SNC decide the exact classification of sub-entities and major programs based on:
a. Metrics and outcomes described in the entity’s strategic and performance plans, as required by the Government Performance and Results Act of 1993 (GPRA), as amended by the GPRA Modernization Act of 2010 (GPRAMA);

b. Entity’s budget structure;

c. Guidance for defining and structuring responsibility segments presented in SFFAS 4; and

d. Requirements of the GPRAMA.

* 2. When data is available at the program element level, reporting entities may provide information as a supplemental schedule in the note to the SNC or in “Other Information.” The SNC and related supporting schedules must show the net cost of operations for the reporting entity as a whole and its sub-entities and program elements, as applicable. In the Consolidating SNC, DoD identifies Components by the reporting entities described in Chapter 1. The Components may further break out the Consolidating SNC and provide any additional supporting schedules in the notes to the financial statements.

D. Imputed Costs. SFFAS 4 requires reporting entities to measure and report the full costs of their outputs (products and services) in financial reports. Imputed costs and financing sources included in the SNC must be identifiable to a specific trading partner. The entity providing the goods or services has the responsibility to provide the receiving entity with information on the full cost of such goods or services through either billing or other advice. SFFAS 4 identifies inter-entity costs that are not fully reimbursed. See SFFAS 4 for additional information.

1. Inter-Entity Imputed Costs

a. Inter-entity imputed costs represent costs that are paid in total or in part by entities external to DoD. Costs displayed on the SNC include certain imputed costs as directed by OMB. All federal agencies are required to report imputed costs for the gross program cost categories described in OMB Circular A-136 to ensure consistency in reporting across the Government.

b. SFFAS 55, “Amending Inter-entity Cost Provisions,” requires the recognition of significant inter-entity costs by business-type activities. Additional guidance on inter-entity costs is available in Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board Technical Release 19, “Rescission of Technical Release 8.” Disclose intragovernmental full costs and earned revenues, and public costs and earned revenues, in the notes to the financial statements.

2. Intra-Entity Imputed Costs

a. Intra-entity imputed costs represent costs that are paid in total or in part by other entities within DoD. Costs displayed on the SNC include intra-entity imputed costs as required by SFFAS 4. Imputed intra-entity cost is the unreimbursed portion of the full costs of goods and services received by the entity from a providing entity that is part of the same entity or larger reporting entity (i.e. other bureaus, components, or responsibility segments within the entity or larger reporting entity). An example of an intra-entity imputed cost would be a DoD tenant receiving rent-free business space from another DoD entity. Volume 4, Chapter 19 provides additional detail on intra-entity costs. DoD reporting entities should report the following intra-entity imputed costs:

1. Imputed Costs for Military Pension Expense. DoD reporting entities will recognize an imputed cost that is equal to the reported employer entity pension expense for the accounting period, as computed using factors provided by the OUSD (Personnel and Readiness) (P&R), less any accounting period contributions by the Military Departments to the Military Retirement Fund. Report administrative entity expenses only in the Military Retirement Fund audited financial statements.

2. Imputed Costs for Military Health Benefits. DoD reporting entities will recognize imputed costs equal to the employer entity expense for the military health benefits that is attributable to the Military Department (as computed using factors provided by the OUSD(P&R)) for the accounting period. The administrative entity for the military health benefits is the OUSD(P&R). Report the administrative entity’s actual expenses only in the Medicare-Eligible Retiree Health Care Fund, Defense Health Agency, and Other Defense Organizations-General Funds financial statements.

b. DoD management, in accordance with the full cost provision of SFFAS 4, determines how intragovernmental costs incurred within DoD will be assigned, allocated, or imputed for purposes of accounting for the full cost of a program and its output(s). As a result, recognition of intra-entity imputed costs is not limited to specific cost categories as in the case of inter-entity imputed costs.

E. SFFAS 33. SFFAS 33, “Pensions, Other Retirement Benefits, and Other Postemployment Benefits: Reporting the Gains and Losses from Changes in Assumptions and Selecting Discount Rates and Valuation Dates,” requires entities reporting liabilities for federal civilian and military employee pensions, other retirement benefits, and other postemployment benefits, including veterans’ compensation, to report changes in those liabilities that result from gains and losses due to changes in long-term assumptions as a separate line item on the SNC.

050302. Line Item Instructions

The Department of the Treasury provides a United States Standard General Ledger crosswalk detailing the accounts and attributes included in each line item of the SNC. DFAS ensures the Defense Departmental Reporting System, Audited Financial Statements is updated with all crosswalk changes made by the Department of the Treasury.

A. Program Costs - Line 1. This line includes the full costs of each program’s outcome. It consists of both direct and indirect costs of the output and the costs of identifiable supporting services provided by other segments within the reporting entity and by other reporting entities. To the extent accounting systems and defined DoD business rules allow, the reporting entity will accumulate and assign costs using the costing methodology found in SFFAS 4. Program costs also include any nonproduction costs that can be assigned to the program but not to its outputs. Report costs related to the production of outputs separately from nonproduction costs that cannot be traced to the production of outputs. The costs of program outputs include costs of services provided by other entities whether or not the providing entity is fully reimbursed.

1. Recognize the cost of Stewardship Property, Plant, and Equipment as a cost in the SNC in the period it is incurred, report separately from other nonproduction costs, and disclose in the notes to the financial statements. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for additional information. The entity that received the funds reports these costs and separately discloses them in the notes to the financial statements. Report heritage assets and stewardship land according to Chapter 10 and SFFAS 29, “Heritage Assets and Stewardship Land.” Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 28, for additional information on heritage assets, multi-use heritage assets, and stewardship land.

2. Reporting entities will consider differentiating other significant costs when, by doing so, the usefulness of the statements would be improved either because the amount of a particular cost is large or because of its special nature. Consider elements of other nonproduction costs significant when the element represents 10 percent or more of the value of the line.

B. Gross Costs - Line 1.A. This line contains costs that arise from the purchase of goods or services. Eliminate the effects of intra-entity business transactions in the reporting entity’s statements. See Chapter 13 for elimination reporting requirements.

C. (Less: Earned Revenue) - Line 1.B

1. This line contains exchange revenues that arise when a federal entity provides goods and services to the public or another government entity for a price. Report the full amount of exchange revenue on the SNC or supplementary schedule regardless of whether the entity is permitted to retain the revenue in whole or in part.

2. Earned revenue should be deducted from the full cost of outputs or outcomes to determine their net cost unless it is not practical or reasonably possible to do so. If that cannot be done, deduct earned revenue from the gross cost of programs to determine the net program costs. When that is not practical or reasonably possible, deduct earned revenue from the costs of sub-organizations to determine the sub-organizations’ net cost of operations. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for additional policies for assigning earned revenue to outputs, outcomes, programs, or sub-organizations.

E. Losses/(Gains) from Actuarial Assumption Changes for Military Retirement Benefits – Line 1.D. This line contains gains and losses from changes in long-term assumptions used to measure military retirement benefits (i.e., Military Retirement Fund and Medicare-Eligible Retiree Health Care Fund). See SFFAS 33 for further guidance on gains and losses from long-term assumptions.

F. Net Program Costs Including Assumption Changes - Line 1.E

* G. Costs Not Assigned to Programs – Line 1.F. These costs are part of the entity and sub-organization costs and should be reported on the SNC as “Costs Not Assigned to Programs.” Exchange transactions resulting in the recognition of “Extraordinary” items not properly assignable to specific programs will be included in this line. Extraordinary items are costs or income as unusual in type or amount as to be accorded special treatment in the general ledger accounts. Disclose extraordinary items if they represent 10 percent or more of this line. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for specific examples.

H. Less: Earned Revenue Not Attributable to Programs - Line 1.G. Earned revenue that is insignificant, or cannot be attributed to particular outputs or programs, is reported separately as a deduction in arriving at net cost of operations of the sub-organization or reporting entity as a whole.

I. Net Cost of Operations – Line 2. This line is the gross cost incurred by the reporting entity less any exchange revenue earned from its activities. This amount represents the net cost of a sub-organization or entity that must be financed by sources other than exchange revenues. Report the financing sources required to fund the “Net Cost of Operations” on the Statement of Changes in Net Position.

0504 PROGRAM PRESENTATION

050401. DoD Agency-wide Program Presentation

Report the program data from the SNC for the consolidated DoD financial statements by major appropriation grouping until financial processes and systems are upgraded. The seven appropriation groupings to be reported are:

A. Military Retirement Benefits;
B. Civil Works;
C. Military Personnel;
D. Operations, Readiness and Support;
E. Procurement;
F. Research, Development, Test, and Evaluation; and
G. Family Housing and Military Construction.

050402. DoD Reporting Entities

Managers of the DoD reporting entities identified in Chapter 1 may report the program distribution of net costs by existing entity program units or by appropriation grouping as specified in paragraph 050401. If management chooses a program distribution other than by the appropriation grouping in paragraph 050401, a supplemental SNC by appropriation grouping must be provided. This supplemental schedule is required in order to prepare the consolidated DoD SNC.

CHAPTER 6

STATEMENT OF CHANGES IN NET POSITION

0601 GENERAL

060101. Purpose

This chapter prescribes the policy surrounding preparation of the Department of Defense (DoD) Statement of Changes in Net Position (SCNP). It provides details for the formatting required for the SCNP and instructions for preparing the Unexpended Appropriations and Cumulative Results of Operations sections thereof.

060102. Authoritative Guidance

0602 FORMAT FOR THE SCNP

060201. General Information

The SCNP reports the change in net position during the reporting period. The net position is affected by changes to its two components: Unexpended Appropriations and Cumulative Results of Operations. The SCNP format displays both components of net position separately to enable the user to understand better the nature of changes to net position as a whole.

060202. Format for the SCNP

The SCNP will be prepared in accordance with the format presented in Figure 6-1. The working versions of all statements and notes must include line numbers as shown in Figure 6-1. All amounts are in dollars and cents in the working versions of the statements and notes in order to facilitate communication among the preparers, reviewers, and auditors during the financial statements preparation process. This process minimizes the additional time and workload required to round and reconcile dollar amounts.

060203. Format for the Final Published SCNP

The final published DoD principal statements, including the SCNP, and notes to the principal statements display dollars rounded to millions with one decimal point. All Component statements, and notes to the statements, display dollar amounts rounded to the nearest thousand on the final published principal statements and in the tables/schedules contained in the notes to the principal statements. Dollar amounts in note narratives must be reported with a maximum of three position integers and a single decimal value followed by an identifier, such as millions or billions (e.g., $340.1 million, not $340,100 thousand). The line numbers shown in Figure 6-1 are for reference purposes only. Line number references are not included on the final published statements.

0603 INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PREPARATION OF THE SCNP

060301. General Instructions

A. Preparation. The SCNP is prepared from information utilizing Department of the Treasury (Treasury) United States Standard General Ledger (USSGL) accounts and crosswalks. System users can access crosswalk information within the USSGL section of the TFM for current fiscal year reporting. The crosswalk for each line of the SCNP is included in the Defense Departmental Reporting System - Audited Financial Statements (DDRS-AFS). Authorized DDRS users may access the most current mapping of the SCNP by selecting “Query” from the main DDRS-AFS menu, then selecting “Referential Data,” and then SCNP under one of the “Report Map” options.

* B. Dedicated Collections

1. Generally, funds from dedicated collections are financed by specifically identified revenues provided to the government by non-federal sources, often supplemented by other financing sources, which remain available over time. These specifically identified revenues and other financing sources are required by statute for designated benefits, activities, or purposes, and must be reported separately from the Federal government’s general revenues. The Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) 43, “Funds from Dedicated Collections: Amending Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards 27, Identifying and Reporting Earmarked Funds,” contains the complete definition and criteria for dedicated collections. Report the portions of Cumulative Results of Operations and Unexpended Appropriations attributable to dedicated collections in Note 18, “Funds from Dedicated Collections,” of the notes to the financial statements.

2. Resources from “Funds from Dedicated Collections” derived from trust or special fund receipts are often commingled or mixed with resources from the General Fund of the U.S. Government. If the predominant source of a mixed fund is “Funds from Dedicated Collections,” the entire fund may be reported in the financial statements as “Funds from Dedicated Collections.” Whether a mixed fund is reported as “Funds from Dedicated Collections” depends upon the predominant use of the fund and whether the fund as a whole meets the definition of “Funds from Dedicated Collections” in SFFAS 43.

C. Prior Period Adjustments. A prior period adjustment is an adjustment to balances of a prior period due to a change in accounting principle or correction of a material error (or an aggregation of errors). Prior period adjustments for correction of material errors require restatement of prior period balances, while adjustments for changes in accounting principles generally do not. Immaterial errors must be corrected in the period discovered, using the accounts that would have been posted had the transactions occurred in the current period. For additional guidance, refer to SFFAS 21, “Reporting Corrections of Errors and Changes in Accounting Principles, Amendment of SFFAS 7, Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources,” and the Prior-Period and Prior-Year Adjustment Scenarios.

1. Requests for Prior Period Adjustments. Prior period adjustments will be included in the quarterly financial statements in accordance with the guidance found in Section 405 of the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance, hereafter referred to as “DoD FRG.” Components should not record prior period adjustments in USSGL accounts without prior approval from Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) Financial Reporting Directorate. Forward all requests for prior period adjustments to DFAS Financial Reporting, accompanied by prior period adjustment packages with required supporting documentation, as outlined in the DoD FRG.

2. Calculating Materiality. Calculate materiality separately at the DoD reporting entity level, and against a materiality base. If the misstatement involves assets, then the materiality base should be total assets. If the misstatement involves liabilities, then the materiality base should be total liabilities. If the misstatement involves expenses, then the materiality base should be total expenses. Calculate the materiality base net of intragovernmental balances. For DoD reporting entities, an error (or aggregate of errors) is material when it equals or exceeds one percent of the materiality base. See the DoD FRG for additional information.

3. Disclosure of Prior Period Adjustments. Prior period adjustments that require restatements are included in Note 28, “Restatements.” Note disclosures to the principal financial statements are explained in Chapter 10. Disclosures include the nature of the errors and the effect on relevant balances in the current period. Financial statements of subsequent periods need not repeat the full disclosures, but should disclose whether there are prior period adjustments not reflected in comparative balances. A note disclosure is required when management becomes aware of a potential misstatement due to material error(s) whether or not the exact amount is known or has been corrected at the time financial statements are prepared. Disclose the nature of a prior period adjustment as the result of a change in accounting principle in accordance with the guidance found in Chapter 10, Note 20, “Disclosures Related to the Statement of Changes in Net Position.”

4. Management’s Responsibility and Notification of Auditors. Upon discovery that material errors escaped detection and were included in the published audited financial statements, management must assume responsibility for any false or misleading information in the financial statements, or omissions that render information or disclosures made in the financial statements misleading. As soon as possible after the detection of an error, management must notify their auditors and the primary users of their financial statements of the error and management’s plans to correct it in the financial statements. Components with prior period adjustments will immediately notify DFAS Financial Reporting Directorate (Audited Financial Statements) of the material error. The Office of the Secretary of Defense will make the formal notification to the Congress, OMB, Treasury, and the Government Accountability Office. The notification should include the cause of the error, an estimated dollar amount of the error, and whether a previously issued financial statement(s) will or may be restated. The general public can see the revised statements on the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) website. The misstated financial statements will be removed from the website.

5. Auditor’s Responsibility. If a “Subsequent Discovery of Facts” exists on the date of the auditor's report, the auditors will determine whether action is required to prevent future reliance on the published audit report. The auditors may determine if revised financial statements and a revised auditor’s report are required. The auditors may decide to change the audit opinion if it is determined that subsequently discovered information is not reliable. Therefore, it is imperative management work with their auditor as soon as possible after the detection of an error and assist in any actions to resolve the audit finding.

A. Section Heading – Unexpended Appropriations. This section displays the unexpended balances brought forward from the prior period, in addition to any prior period adjustments that affect the beginning balance.

B. Beginning Balances, Line 1. The total for beginning balances for the consolidated “Unexpended Appropriations” must agree with the total of the ending balances for consolidated “Unexpended Appropriations” of the prior year.

1. Changes in accounting principles, Line 2.A. A change in accounting principle is a change from one U.S. generally accepted accounting principle (USGAAP) to another USGAAP that can be justified as preferable. Changes in accounting principles include those that result from the adoption of a new Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board (FASAB) standard. This line reports the cumulative effect of the change on prior periods as a change in accounting principle. Do not restate the prior periods financial statements (see SFFAS 21).

2. Corrections of errors (+/-), Line 2.B. Errors in financial statements can result from mathematical mistakes, mistakes in the application of accounting principles, and/or oversight or misuse of the facts that existed at the time the financial statements were prepared. For errors discovered after the issuance of the financial statements, if the misstatement to the financial statements is material absent correction of the errors, then corrections are required and treated as prior period adjustments. Use the following criteria to determine proper display of financial statements containing material corrections of errors in prior periods (see SFFAS 21).

a. When only the current period statements are presented, report the cumulative effect of correcting the error as a prior period adjustment on Line 2.B, “Corrections of errors,” and restated on Line 3, “Beginning balances, as adjusted.”

b. When comparative financial statements are presented, correct the error in the earliest affected period presented by correcting any individual amounts on the financial statements. If the earliest period presented is not the period in which the error occurred and the cumulative effect is attributable to prior periods, report the cumulative effect as a prior period adjustment on Line 2.B, “Corrections of errors,” of the earliest period presented. The beginning position of the earliest period presented is restated on Line 3, “Beginning balances, as adjusted.”

D. Beginning balances, as adjusted, Line 3. This line is the sum of the adjusted “Beginning Balances” (Line 1) of “Unexpended Appropriations” and “Prior Period Adjustments.”

E. Budgetary Financing Sources, Line 4. Report financing sources that represent budgetary resources or adjustments to those resources, as reported on the Statement of Budgetary Resources (SBR) and defined by OMB Circular A-11, “Preparation, Submission, and Execution of the Budget.”

1. Appropriations received, Line 4.A. This amount includes appropriations received during the current reporting period. This amount does not always agree with the appropriations received amount reported on the SBR because of differences between proprietary and budgetary accounting concepts and reporting requirements. For example, certain dedicated collections are recorded as appropriations received on the SBR, but are recognized as exchange or nonexchange revenue (i.e., in special and nonrevolving trust funds) and reported on the SCNP in accordance with SFFAS 7.

2. Appropriations transferred-in/out (+/-), Line 4.B. This line is the amount of appropriations received in the current or prior year(s) that have been transferred-in or out during the current reporting year.

3. Other adjustments (e.g. rescissions) (+/-), Line 4.C. This amount includes adjustments to unexpended appropriations. Some examples of adjustments include reductions of appropriations and cancellations of expired appropriations/expenditure accounts.

4. Appropriations used, Line 4.D. Appropriations are considered used as a financing source when goods and services are received or benefits are provided. This statement is true whether the goods, services, and benefits are payable or paid as of the reporting date and whether the appropriations are used for items that are expensed or capitalized. “Appropriations used” does not include undelivered orders or unobligated appropriations. “Appropriations used” does not increase “Net Position” since it is subtracted from “Unexpended Appropriations” and added to “Cumulative Results of Operations” for a net zero effect on “Net Position” as a whole.

F. Total Budgetary Financing Sources, Line 5. This line is a summation of “Budgetary Financing Sources” (Lines 4.A through 4.D).

G. Total Unexpended Appropriations, Line 6. This line represents the total amount of “Unexpended Appropriations” for the period. The calculated value results from adding Line 5, “Total Budgetary Financing Sources,” to Line 3, “Beginning balances, as adjusted.”
H. Section Heading - Cumulative Results of Operations. This section displays the beginning balances brought forward from the prior year, in addition to any prior period adjustments that affect the beginning balance.

I. Beginning Balances, Line 7. The total for beginning balances for the “Consolidated Cumulative Results of Operations” must agree with the total of the ending balances for “Consolidated Cumulative Results of Operations” of the prior year.

1. Changes in accounting principles, Line 8.A. A change in accounting principle is a change from one USGAAP to another one that can be justified as preferable. Adoption of a new FASAB standard is a change in accounting principle. Unless otherwise specified in transitioning instructions of a new FASAB standard, report the cumulative effect of the change on prior periods on this line. Record the adjustment to the beginning balance of “Cumulative Results of Operations” in the SCNP for the period the change is made. Prior period financial statements will not be restated (see SFFAS 21).

2. Corrections of errors (+/-), Line 8.B. Errors in financial statements can result from mathematical mistakes, mistakes in the application of accounting principles, and/or oversight or misuse of the facts that existed at the time the financial statements were prepared. For errors discovered after the issuance of the financial statements, if the misstatement to the financial statements is material absent correction of the errors, then corrections are required and treated as prior period adjustments. Use the following criteria to determine proper display of financial statements containing material corrections of errors in prior periods (see SFFAS 21).

   a. When only the current period statements are presented, report the cumulative effect of correcting the error as a prior period adjustment on Line 8.B., “Corrections of errors,” and the beginning position restated on Line 9, “Beginning Balances, as adjusted.”

   b. When comparative financial statements are presented, correct the error in the earliest affected period presented by correcting any individual amounts on the financial statements. If the earliest period presented is not the period in which the error occurred and the cumulative effect is attributable to prior periods, report the cumulative effect as a prior period adjustment on Line 8.B., “Corrections of errors,” of the earliest period presented. The beginning position of the earliest period presented is also restated on Line 9, “Beginning balances, as adjusted.”

K. Beginning balances, as adjusted, Line 9. This line is the sum of the beginning balances of “Cumulative Results of Operations” and “Prior Period Adjustments.”
L. Budgetary Financing Sources, Line 10. Report financing sources and nonexchange revenue that are also budgetary resources or adjustments to those resources, as reported on the SBR and defined by OMB Circular A-11.

1. Other adjustments (+/-), Line 10.A. This amount includes adjustments to “Cumulative Results of Operations” that also have an impact on budgetary resources.

2. Appropriations used, Line 10.B. Appropriations are considered used as a financing source when goods and services are received or benefits are provided. This statement is true whether the goods, services, and benefits are payable or paid as of the reporting date and whether the appropriations are used for items that are expensed or capitalized. “Appropriations used” does not include undelivered orders or unobligated appropriations. “Appropriations used” does not increase “Net Position” since it is subtracted from “Unexpended Appropriations” and added to “Cumulative Results of Operations” for a net zero effect on “Net Position” as a whole.

3. Nonexchange revenue, Line 10.C. This includes revenues the Federal Government obtains through the use of its sovereign powers. SFFAS 7, “Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources and Concepts for Reconciling Budgetary and Financial Accounting,” discusses the recognition and measurement criteria for taxes and other nonexchange revenues. If Federal securities investment revenue is material, report it as a separate line item on the SCNP.

4. Donations and forfeitures of cash and cash equivalents, Line 10.D. This amount includes voluntary gifts and involuntary forfeitures of resources to the Federal Government by nonfederal entities. Donations of financial resources include cash, cash equivalents, and securities. Involuntary forfeitures include seized cash and cash equivalents.

5. Transfers-in/out without reimbursement (+/-), Line 10.E. This amount includes intragovernmental non-appropriated balance transfers-in or out during the current reporting year. This line includes financing sources and revenue not reported as “Unexpended Appropriations.” Exchange revenue (included in calculating an entity's net cost of operations) transferred to the Treasury or another Federal entity must be recognized as a transfer-out.

6. Other budgetary financing sources (+/-), Line 10.F. This line includes other financing sources that affect budgetary resources and are not included in Lines 10.A through 10.E. Disclose in Note 20 of the Financial Statements all items equaling 10 percent or more of the value reported on Line 10.F.

M. Other Financing Sources (Nonexchange), Line 11. Report financing sources and nonexchange revenue that do not represent budgetary resources reported on the SBR and are not defined by OMB Circular A-11.

1. Donations and forfeitures of property, Line 11.A. This amount includes voluntary gifts and involuntary forfeitures of resources to the Federal Government by nonfederal entities, such as land or buildings. SFFAS 6, “Accounting for Property, Plant, and Equipment,” contains additional guidance for recognizing revenue arising from donations/involuntary forfeitures of non-financial resources.

2. Transfers-in/out without reimbursement (+/-), Line 11.B. This amount includes intragovernmental transfers-in/out of capitalized assets during the current reporting year. Record the amount of the transfer at the net book value of the transferring entity. If the net book value is unknown, then the amount recognized will be the asset's estimated fair value at the date of the transfer. Both parties to the transfer must confer when fair value is used to ensure balanced intragovernmental entries are recorded.

*   3. Imputed financing from costs absorbed by others, Line 11.C. This amount includes financing of certain costs by one Federal entity on behalf of another Federal entity. “Imputed financing from costs absorbed by others” must equal the amount of imputed costs reported on the Statement of Net Cost (SNC). Refer to SFFAS 55, “Amending Inter-entity Cost Provisions,” and SFFAS 4, “Managerial Cost Accounting Standards and Concepts,” for additional guidance on the recognition of inter-entity and material intra-entity unreimbursed costs.

4. Other (+/-), Line 11.D. This line includes other financing sources that do not represent budgetary resources and are not included in Lines 11.A through 11.C. Disclose in Note 20 of the Financial Statements all items equaling 10 percent or more of the value reported on Line 11.D.

N. Total Financing Sources, Line 12. This line is a summation of “Budgetary Financing Sources” (Lines 10.A through 10.F) and “Other Financing Sources (Nonexchange)” (Lines 11.A through 11.D).

O. Net Cost of Operations (+/-), Line 13. This amount must agree with the “Net Cost of Operations” as reported on the SNC.

P. Net Change, Line 14. This line represents the net change in “Cumulative Results of Operations” during the period. Subtract Line 13, “Net Cost of Operations,” from Line 12, “Total Financing Sources.”

R. Net Position, Line 16. This line represents the summation of Line 6, “Total Unexpended Appropriations,” and Line 15, “Cumulative Results of Operations.” The value for this line must agree with the “Total Net Position” reported on the “Balance Sheet.”

CHAPTER 7

STATEMENT OF BUDGETARY RESOURCES

0701 GENERAL

*070101. Purpose

This chapter prescribes the policy surrounding preparation of the Department of Defense (DoD) Statement of Budgetary Resources (SBR). It provides details for the formatting used in various versions of the SBR and instructions for preparing the SBR subsections of Budgetary resources, Status of budgetary resources, and Outlays, net.

070102. Authoritative Guidance

0702 FORMAT FOR THE SBR

*070201. Format for the Working Version of the SBR

Format the SBR to align with the Standard Form (SF) 133, Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources using the guidance published in Section 130 of OMB Circular A-11. The SBR is prepared at the DoD Component level and is a summarization of the individual appropriation account level SF 133s. Use the format presented in Figure 7-1 for the working version of the combined SBR. All amounts are in dollars and cents in the working versions of the statements and notes in order to improve communication among the preparers, the reviewers, and the auditors during the financial statements preparation process. Reporting all amounts in dollars and cents minimizes the additional time and workload required to round and reconcile dollar amounts.

A. OMB Circular A-136 requires that DoD distinguish between budgetary and non-budgetary credit reform financing accounts, and identify net outlays of specific distributed offsetting receipt values. Reserve the “Non-Budgetary Credit Reform Financing Account” section of the SBR for reporting United States Standard General Ledger (USSGL) account balances from the post-1991 direct loan financing and loan guarantee entries included in section 185.11 of OMB Circular A-11. Section 185.11 includes data descriptions for the respective schedules used to report financing and loan guarantee balances. Information on the SBR must be reconcilable with budget execution information reported on the SF 133 and with information reported in the Budget of the U.S. Government to ensure the integrity of the numbers presented.

* B. Reporting entities submit USSGL-based trial balances through the Governmentwide Treasury Account Symbol Adjusted Trial Balance System (GTAS) to produce the SF 133, the prior year (PY) column of the Program and Financing Schedule (Schedule P) of the Budget of the U.S. Government, and the SBR. The DoD Financial Reporting Guidance and OMB Circular A-136 provide instructions for reconciling SF 133 data submitted through GTAS to the SBR.

1. The Bureau of the Fiscal Service (Fiscal Service) “Federal Account Symbols and Titles (FAST) Book” of the Treasury Financial Manual (TFM) identifies receipt, appropriation, and other fund account symbols and titles assigned by the Department of the Treasury. The FAST Book includes accounts used to report non-budgetary financing and loan guarantee accounts.

2. Disclose as Other Information, Executive Office of the President Accounts administered by DoD as non-budgetary financing and loan guarantee accounts. Refer to the FAST Book for a listing of non-budgetary financing and loan guarantee accounts.

070202. Format for the SBR

The final published DoD principal statements and the notes to the principal statements display dollars rounded to millions with one decimal point. Component principal statements and the notes to the principal statements display dollars rounded to the nearest thousand on the final published principal statements and in the tables/schedules contained in the notes to the principal statements. Dollar amounts in note narratives are reported with a maximum of three position integers and a single decimal value followed by an identifier, such as millions or billions (e.g., $340.1 million, not $340,100 thousand). The line numbers on the working versions of all statements, including the illustrative DoD statements, are for reference purposes only. Line number references are not included on final published statements.

070203. Note Disclosure

Explain material differences between amounts reported on the financial statements and budgetary reports in footnotes as described in Chapter 10. These material disclosures are consistent with the reconciliation requirements for the SBR, GTAS, and other budgetary reporting. The Component and auditor will discuss any material changes to budgetary information subsequent to the publication of the audited SBR to determine whether a restatement or note disclosure is necessary. Disclose any material differences between comparable information contained in the SBR and the Budget of the U.S. Government at the Agency-wide level in footnotes as described in Chapter 10. See Section 405 of the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance for DoD materiality thresholds.

0703 INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE PREPARATION OF THE SBR

Information on the SBR must be reconcilable with budget execution information reported on GTAS submissions and with information reported in the Budget of the U.S. Government. The SBR is prepared from USSGL information based on Fiscal Service USSGL accounts and crosswalks. The Fiscal Service website contains USSGL information and crosswalks for the SBR. The Defense Departmental Reporting System Audited Financial Statements (DDRS-AFS) includes the crosswalk logic from the trial balance to each line of the SBR. Authorized users can access report crosswalks in DDRS-AFS by selecting “Query” and “Referential Data” from the main DDRS-AFS menu, and selecting a report under one of the “Report Map” options. For DoD, the DoD Standard Reporting Chart of Accounts identifies and defines approved general ledger accounts in accordance with the Standard Financial Information Structure.

A. Due to timing differences, subsequent changes, whether material or non-material, may be made to budgetary information included in the Budget of the U.S. Government after the SBR has been published. Make all subsequent changes, whether material or non-material, in OMB’s MAX A-11 Data Entry System and in GTAS during the September revision period.

B. The agencies and their auditors will discuss any material changes to budgetary information subsequent to the publication of the audited SBR to determine if restatement or note disclosure is necessary. At a minimum, disclose any material difference between comparable information contained in the SBR and the Budget of the U.S. Government in footnotes as described in Chapter 10.

C. Budgetary information aggregated for purposes of the SBR should be disaggregated for each of the reporting entity's major budget accounts and presented as Required Supplementary Information (RSI), as described in Chapter 12. Base the recognition and measurement of budgetary information in the SBR on guidance described in Appendix F, “Format of SF 132, SF 133, Schedule P, and SBR,” of OMB Circular A-11. OMB Bulletin 19-01, “Audit Requirements for Federal Financial Statements,” provides additional guidance by identifying the minimum requirements for audits of Federal financial statements.

D. OMB Circular A-136 requires a combined SBR (intragovernmental transactions are not eliminated), which is consistent with the aggregate of the account level information presented on GTAS submissions. Do not perform a line-by-line consolidation of this statement since it would require a line-by-line elimination of inter-entity balances. The statement distinguishes between budgetary and non-budgetary credit reform financing accounts and identifies distributed offsetting receipt values.

E. Divide the SBR into three general subsections: Budgetary resources; Status of budgetary resources; and Outlays, net.

1. Aggregate the SBR to reflect all activity of the reporting entity for the year covered by the financial statement. Present PY information so the reader may make appropriate comparisons with PYs.

2. Present separate columns for the current year (CY) and PY non-budgetary credit reform financing accounts in the SBR. The presentation allows for a clear distinction between budgetary and non-budgetary credit reform financing account information. OMB Circular A-136 contains guidance supporting the separation of credit reform financing account information on the SBR. Report all non-budgetary credit reform financing accounts separate from the budgetary totals in the Budget of the U.S. Government.

* 3. Line 4200 is included for distributed offsetting receipts on the SBR. Distributed offsetting receipts offset budget authority and outlays at the Component level in the Budget of the U.S. Government, but are not required on the SF 133, which provides appropriation account level information only. Since the SBR functions as a Component-wide report, the values of distributed offsetting receipts are included to reconcile with the Fiscal Service Quarterly Distributed Offsetting Receipts by Department Report in the Central Accounting Reporting System (CARS), which provides detailed information for transactions reported on the Statement of Transactions for distributed offsetting receipts reflected in the Monthly Treasury Statement.

F. Monitor budget execution at the individual appropriation account level (SF 133) for DoD Component reporting entities. Aggregate all budgetary information for the combined SBR principal statements. Disaggregate budgetary information for the reporting entity’s combining statement by major budget account groups and present in the RSI section of the financial statements as identified in section 0704. The major accounts and the aggregate of small budget accounts must equal, in total, the amounts reported on the face of the SBR.

*070302. Line Item Instructions for the Preparation of the SBR

A. SBR Format. Appendix F of OMB Circular A-11 identifies the format and information reported on each line of the SBR. OMB Circular A-136 provides additional guidance for the types of data included in each section of the SBR.

* B. Budgetary resources. The Budgetary resources section identifies the total budgetary resources available to the reporting entity. Budgetary resources include, but are not limited to, new budget authority, unobligated budgetary resources at the beginning of the period, transfers in and out of budgetary resources, recoveries of PY obligations, spending authority from offsetting collections, and any adjustments to these resources.

* C. Status of budgetary resources. The Status of budgetary resources section displays information about the status of budgetary resources at the end of the reporting period. It consists of the obligations incurred and the unobligated balances at the end of the reporting period. The total amount displayed for the status of budgetary resources equals the total budgetary resources available to the reporting entity as of the reporting date. The nature of permanent indefinite appropriations and legal arrangements affecting the use of unobligated balances must be disclosed in either Note 1 or a separate note to the SBR.

D. Outlays, net. The Outlays, net section displays the net total for agency outlays.

1. Outlays, net (total) (discretionary and mandatory), Line 4190. Line 4190 shows the amount of net outlays recorded during the reporting period. Line 4190 equals gross outlays less any offsetting collections.
2. Distributed offsetting receipts (-), Line 4200. Line 4200 shows the amount of distributed offsetting receipts recorded during the reporting period. Offsetting receipts are composed of proprietary receipts from the public, receipts from intragovernmental transactions, and offsetting governmental receipts.

   a. Offsetting receipts are collections credited to general fund (GF), special fund, or trust fund receipt accounts, which offset gross outlays. Unlike offsetting collections, which are credited to expenditure accounts and offset outlays at the account level, offsetting receipts are credited to receipt accounts and offset outlays at the Component or governmentwide level.

   b. Offsetting receipts may be distributed to Components or remain undistributed. Distributed offsetting receipts offset the outlays of the Component, while undistributed offsetting receipts offset governmentwide outlays. Distributed offsetting receipts typically offset the outlays of the Component that conducts the activity generating the receipts and the subfunction to which the activity is assigned.

   c. The SBR includes all distributed offsetting receipts for the Component. OMB Circular A-136 defines and describes distributed offsetting receipts.

   d. The amount of distributed offsetting receipts reported in the SBR is the aggregate of cash collected in these receipt accounts and reported to the Fiscal Service. Agencies classified as “CARS Daily Reporters” report via the Payment Information Repository or Collections Information Repository. Agencies not classified as “CARS Daily Reporters” report on a monthly basis via the legacy process using the Financial Management Service (FMS) 224, Statement of Transactions, or the FMS 1220, Statement of Transactions According to Appropriations, Funds, and Receipt Accounts. See TFM Volume 1, Part 2, Central Accounting and Reporting, for guidance regarding these forms.

   e. The SBR does not include undistributed offsetting receipts credited to governmentwide outlay totals.

3. Agency outlays, net (discretionary and mandatory), Line 4210. Line 4210 shows net totals for agency outlays. Reduce gross outlays (disbursements) by actual offsetting collections to derive net outlays. Reduce net outlays by any distributed offsetting receipts to derive “Agency outlays, net.” The outlays (gross and net) are reconcilable to the disbursements and collections reported to Fiscal Service for the CY to date.

0704 DISAGGREGATED SBR

Prepare and report the Disaggregated SBR in the RSI section of the financial statements. Figure 7-2 illustrates the current report format for the disaggregated SBR.
070401. The DoD-wide Disaggregated SBR

Disaggregate the DoD-wide SBR into seven appropriation/fund groupings. Provide column headings and breakout by: Military Personnel; Procurement; Research, Development, Test and Evaluation (RDT&E); Family Housing and Military Construction; Military Retirement Benefits; Civil Works; and Operations, Readiness and Support.

070402. Military Department GFs Disaggregated SBR

Disaggregate the Department of the Army GF, the Department of the Navy GF, and the Department of the Air Force GF SBR into five appropriation/fund groupings. Provide column headings and breakout by: Military Personnel; Procurement; RDT&E; Family Housing and Military Construction; and Operations, Readiness and Support.

070403. Military Retirement Fund and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) Disaggregated SBR

A disaggregated SBR for the Military Retirement Fund is not applicable. The USACE Civil Works may disaggregate as appropriate for the Treasury Index 96 accounts in the stand-alone USACE financial statements.

070404. Medicare-Eligible Retiree Health Care Fund Disaggregated SBR

A disaggregated SBR for the Medicare-Eligible Retiree Health Care Fund is not applicable.

070405. Working Capital Fund (WCF) Disaggregated SBR

Disaggregate the stand-alone Army WCF, Navy WCF, and Air Force WCF SBR by business activity.

070406. All Other Defense Entities Disaggregated SBR

The stand-alone Other Defense Entities may disaggregate as appropriate for their entities.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1001 GENERAL

100101. Purpose

This chapter prescribes the format, content, and instructions for the preparation and presentation of notes to the principal financial statements.

A. This chapter supplements the reporting requirements of Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-136, “Financial Reporting Requirements,” dated June 28, 2019. Updates to OMB Circular A-136 are on the OMB website. OMB Circular A-136 specifically authorizes agencies to modify illustrations in the Circular in order to clarify amounts or remove information that does not apply or is uninformative. The chapter also describes responsibilities of the DoD Chief Financial Officer (CFO) as established by the CFO Act of 1990. The major DoD components and reporting entities listed in Chapter 1 will prepare quarterly and fiscal year (FY)-end comparative financial statements and notes.

B. The entities covered by this chapter are “reporting entities” and “component reporting entities” under Statement of Federal Financial Accounting Standards (SFFAS) 47, “Reporting Entity.” Under SFFAS 47, inclusion in a reporting entity’s financial statements may take the form of consolidation or disclosure. Agencies should review SFFAS 47, and consult with OMB and the Department of the Treasury (Treasury) Bureau of the Fiscal Service (Fiscal Service), if they have questions regarding which agencies to include in their Performance and Accountability Report or Agency Financial Report (AFR).

100201. Consistency and Agreement

The supporting schedules presented in the notes must have total figures that agree with the amounts presented in the body of the financial statements. Maintain the consistency of the chosen presentation (i.e. “thousands” or “millions”) and rounding level throughout the financial statements and notes. Rounded totals must agree between the financial statements as applicable (e.g., Net Position line on the Statement of Changes in Net Position (SCNP) must equal the Total Net Position line on the Balance Sheet). Individual line items must sum to the totals, which may require adjusting the individual detail line items for differences created by the rounding process rather than adjusting column totals. The prior FY column must be consistent with the amounts published on the financial statements and notes in the prior FY. Comparative financial information is presented on a one-year trailing period basis. For example, if presenting third quarter data, show comparative data from the third quarter of the prior fiscal year.
*100202. Noncompliance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (USGAAP)

The underlying financial systems and operations that produce these statements were not designed to generate auditable financial statements in compliance with the form and content guidance. Because of such long-standing system deficiencies, many DoD organizations may not be fully compliant with USGAAP and OMB Circular A-136. DoD is developing long-term systems improvements that will correct these deficiencies and ensure compliance with USGAAP. Within the Federal Government, the Federal Accounting Standards Advisory Board (FASAB) Handbook of Federal Accounting Standards and Other Pronouncements, as Amended is an authoritative source for USGAAP. In cases where individual line items of the financial statements are not obtainable, or a substitution is made from the requirements herein, explain the deficiencies, and the reason for the noncompliance, in the related note. In addition, identify departures from USGAAP in Note 1, “Summary of Significant Accounting Policies.”

100203. Classifications

Treasury account symbols are the basis for reporting the Department's financial transactions. Fiscal Service classifies receipt and expenditure accounts according to the Treasury Financial Manual (TFM) Federal Account Symbols and Titles Supplement to Volume 1. For descriptions of fund groups, and how they are used, refer to Volume 12, Chapter 1.

1003 GENERAL NOTE INSTRUCTIONS

100301. General

The objective of the notes to the financial statements is to provide additional disclosures to ensure that the financial statements are more informative and not misleading. Consider the audience when writing the note narrative. Users of the general-purpose financial reports, including internal users, tend to have different levels of knowledge about government operations, accounting, and finance. Prepare the financial statements such that individuals without a detailed knowledge of accounting principles and specific business practices can understand them. DoD’s financial statements are provided to various internal users within DoD as well as external users such as OMB, Fiscal Service, Congress, and the general public.

100302. Narrative

The narrative should explain issues in “plain English” and with sufficient detail so that a person with general knowledge of the subject matter would understand. The narrative should describe the balances rather than a list or statement as to which component the balance is attributable.

100303. Multiple Sources

Review narratives from various sources for consistency. Additional research may be necessary to ensure the presentation of a similar level of detail for all entities in the note narrative.
100304. Amounts in Narrative

The narrative should readily agree with the line item(s) on the financial statements and note schedules.

100305. Other Lines

Include a narrative for any line item titled “Other.” If the individual components of the “Other” line item represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately. If no amount sums to 10 percent or more of the “Other” line item, state that the amount is attributable to multiple items.

100306. Intragovernmental Amounts

Intragovernmental amounts disclosed in a table to a note must contain a statement concerning the entity’s ability to reconcile with its trading partner.

100307. Format of Notes

A consistent format is required for the narrative portion of notes. The narrative includes definitions and other relevant disclosures. References to financial regulations or other notes are not required in the note narrative.

*100308. Abnormal Balances

OMB Reportable Components are required to explain all abnormal balances appearing on individual note schedules or financial statement lines. Current policy for reporting abnormal balance information is contained in the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance.

*100309. DoD Financial Reporting Guidance

The DoD Financial Reporting Guidance provides additional information pertaining to the notes to the financial statements. Reporting entities must use the policies in this chapter, in addition to the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance, when preparing the notes to the financial statements.

*1004 NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

100401. Content of Note

Note 1 to the financial statements must describe the reporting entity and identify its major components if not fully described in the Management’s Discussion and Analysis. Also, summarize the accounting principles, and the methods of applying those principles, that management has concluded are the most appropriate for presenting the entity’s assets, liabilities, equity, net cost of operations, changes in net position, and budgetary resources. Do not duplicate details presented elsewhere as part of the notes to the financial statements.
A. In general, the disclosure encompasses important judgments as to the valuation, recognition, and allocation of assets, liabilities, expenses, revenues, and other financing sources. Include in Note 1 a description of changes in USGAAP that impact the financial statements and an explanation of concepts, such as Fund Balance with Treasury (FBWT) and funds from dedicated collections, unique to federal financial statements.

B. In addition, disclose any significant changes, from the prior FY, in the composition of the reporting entity or significant changes in the manner in which the reporting entity aggregates information for financial reporting purposes.

100402. Note 1 Format

Figure 10-1 outlines the Note 1 format and includes some sample disclosure statements. All DoD reporting entities listed in Chapter 1, as well as reporting entities not listed in Chapter 1, must review financial processes, systems, and data and modify or expand the sample disclosure statements for a complete and accurate representation of each issue. The specific language shown in sample disclosure statements may not be applicable to all DoD Components. Do not include narratives that are not applicable (N/A).

Instructions

Disclose “Non-entity Assets” consisting of the categories shown in Figure 10-2, in accordance with the instructions provided in this chapter.

Reporting

A. Non-entity Assets (Lines 1 and 2). These are assets that are held by an entity (as manager or custodian), but are not available for the entity’s own operational use. Within DoD, cash held by a disbursing officer (DO), as reflected on the Central Accounting Reporting System Account Statement for the relevant DO Cash Treasury Account Symbol, is an example of a non-entity asset. The amounts reported on Lines 1.A through 1.C are totaled and reported on Line 1.D. The amounts reported on Lines 2.A through 2.C are totaled and reported on Line 2.D.

B. Total Non-entity Assets (Line 3). This line is a summation of the totals reported on Lines 1.D, “Total Intragovernmental Assets,” and 2.D, “Total Nonfederal Assets.”
C. Total Entity Assets (Line 4). These are assets the reporting entity has authority to use. For example, an entity’s assets may be used in entity operations (such as equipment), be sold or exchanged for other assets (such as inventory for cash), or be used to liquidate (pay) entity liabilities.

D. Total Assets (Line 5). This line represents the sum of Lines 3, “Total Non-entity Assets,” and 4, “Total Entity Assets.” The amount on Line 5 must equal the Total Assets line on the Balance Sheet.

E. Other Information. Disclose in the narrative a description of each current FY non-entity asset focusing on the nature of the asset that causes it to be classified as “Total Non-entity Assets” (Line 3).

F. Other Non-entity Assets. If any of the individual components of Lines 1.C, “Other Assets,” and 2.C, “Other Assets,” represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately.

100601. Instructions

A. Status of FBWT. The “Status of Fund Balance with Treasury” is the total of the entity's FBWT, as reflected in the entity's general ledger. Unobligated and obligated not yet disbursed balances presented in this section may not equal related amounts reported on the Combining Statement of Budgetary Resources (SBR). Do not include fiduciary activity on these lines. Refer to section 1026 for the reporting of fiduciary activities.

B. Crosswalks. Base the mapping for the lines within this schedule on the USSGL crosswalks utilized in the Governmentwide Treasury Account Symbol Adjusted Trial Balance System (GTAS) and the Year-end Transaction Module. See I TFM 2-4200 for guidance on reporting year-end unexpended balances. For USSGL account information, refer to the Fiscal Service USSGL and DoD USSGL Transaction Library.

A. Unobligated Balance (Line 1). This line represents the cumulative amount of budgetary authority that has not been set aside to cover outstanding obligations. Classify unobligated balances as available or unavailable. In the 4th quarter of the FY, this balance must agree with the sum of available and unavailable unobligated ending balances reported in GTAS and the Year-end Transaction Module.

1. Available (Line 1.A). This line represents the amount of unexpired, unobligated balance that has been apportioned or is not subject to apportionment. This amount is immediately available for new obligations.

2. Unavailable (Line 1.B). This line represents the amount of unexpired, unobligated balance that has not been apportioned, deferred, withheld pending rescission, or other similar limits on resources usage. It also may include expired budgetary resources available only for obligation adjustments until the appropriation is cancelled.

B. Obligated Balance not yet Disbursed (Line 2). This line represents funds that have been obligated for goods that have not been received, services that have not been performed, and goods and services that have been delivered and received, but not paid. In the 4th quarter of the FY, this balance must agree with amounts reported in GTAS and the Year-end Transaction Module.

C. Nonbudgetary FBWT (Line 3). Include entity and non-entity FBWT accounts, which represent adjustments that do not have budgetary authority. Report the following fund types: Clearing Accounts; Deposit Funds; and Non-entity and Other accounts.

D. Non-FBWT Budgetary Accounts (Line 4). Include amounts from the following budgetary accounts, which do not impact FBWT: Investments in Treasury Securities; Unfilled Customer Orders Without Advance; Contract Authority; Borrowing Authority; and Receivables and Other Accounts.

F. Explanation of Unobligated Unavailable Balances. Disclose and explain restrictions on unobligated balances. Also, disclose if there are no restrictions.

100701. Instructions

Report the current and prior FY amount of cash and other monetary assets.

100702. Reporting

A. Cash (Line 1). Cash consists of: coins; paper currency and readily negotiable instruments, such as money orders, checks, and bank drafts on hand or in transit for deposit; amounts on demand deposit with banks or other financial institutions, including nonconfirmed collections and disbursements; investments held outside of Treasury; and foreign currencies, which will be converted into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate on the financial statement date. Cash available for reporting entity use includes petty cash, and cash held in revolving funds, not transferred into the General Fund of the Treasury.

B. Foreign Currency (Line 2). The total U.S. dollar equivalent of nonpurchased foreign currencies held in foreign currency fund accounts. Nonpurchased foreign currency is limited to the Treasury Index 97X7000 fund account.

C. Other Monetary Assets (Line 3). Report other monetary assets not reported on other lines. If any of the individual components of Line 3 represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately.

D. Total Cash, Foreign Currency, & Other Monetary Assets (Line 4). The amount reported on this line equals the sum of Lines 1, 2, and 3. This line must equal the amount reported on the Balance Sheet.

E. Additional Information. Provide additional information needed to understand the nature of cash and other monetary assets. Disclose any restrictions on cash and the dollar amount. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 2 and SFFAS 1, “Accounting for Selected Assets and...
Liabilities,” for information related to restricted cash. Components report entity assets and non-entity assets under an entity’s custody or management in the financial statements, except for non-entity assets meeting definition of fiduciary assets, which are not recognized on the Balance Sheet, but disclosed in accordance with the provisions of SFFAS 31.

1. Disclose any restrictions on the use or conversion of foreign currencies. If there are no restrictions on cash or the use or conversion of foreign currencies, include a statement in the narrative disclosing that there are no restrictions.

2. Components must reconcile all imprest fund transactions involving cash on a periodic basis, but no less frequently than quarterly, to ensure cash reported reconciles with the agency’s accounting records and related financial statements in accordance with I TFM 2-3400.

Instructions

A. Disclose the reporting entity’s investments in federal securities and other investments. Investments in federal securities include market-based U.S. Treasury securities issued by Fiscal Service. Investments are normally reported on the Balance Sheet at their par value or acquisition cost, adjusted for the amortization of the premium or discount recorded at the time of acquisition.

B. Net Investments (column 5) are equal to Cost (column 2), plus Amortized (Premium)/Discount (column 4). Securities are normally recognized at amortized cost on the Balance Sheet. However, use market value for Balance Sheet purposes when: (a) there is intent to sell the securities before maturity; and (b) there is a reduction in value that is more than temporary. Other Adjustments (column 6) discloses amounts resulting from the sale of securities prior to maturity or any change in value that is more than temporary. Market Value (column 7) discloses the fair value of all non-marketable market-based securities. Other investments are comprised of investments of funds with developers of family housing.

Reporting

A. Non-Marketable, Market-Based Intragovernmental Securities (Line 1.A). Non-marketable, market-based U.S. Treasury securities are not traded on any securities exchange, but mirror the prices of marketable securities with similar terms. All investments maintained by the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) Trust Fund Accounting Office are non-marketable, market-based U.S. Treasury securities (e.g., DoD Education Benefits Fund and Military Retirement Fund). If any of the individual components of Line 1.A.4, “Other Funds,” represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately. Refer to SFFAS 1 for required non-marketable, market-based U.S. Treasury security disclosures.

B. Accrued Interest (Line 1.B). The amount recorded as accrued interest represents the amount of interest accrued on intragovernmental investment securities, but not received as of the date of the statements.

C. Total Intragovernmental Securities (Line 1.C). This line represents the sum of Intragovernmental Securities Cost (column 2), Amortized (Premium)/Discount (column 4), and Investments, Net (column 5) for the current period reported. The total amount reported in column 5 of this line must equal the amount reported on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

D. Other Investments (Line 2). The Military Family Housing Revitalization Act of 1996 provides for the DoD Family Housing Improvement Fund. The legislation permits investment of funds into ventures with developers to provide family housing. For example, the ventures will be real estate ventures, rent differential payments, investment in limited partnerships, and investments in equity or debt instruments related to family housing. Additionally, provide a description of the accounting method used and the amount of cash and non-cash assets conveyed to the venture.
E. Intragovernmental Investments for Funds from Dedicated Collections. The following is a required disclosure for any reporting entity reporting funds from dedicated collections: “The Federal Government does not set aside assets to pay future benefits or other expenditures associated with funds from dedicated collections (or name(s) of fund(s)). The cash generated from funds from dedicated collections is deposited in the U.S. Treasury, which uses the cash for general government purposes. U.S. Treasury securities are issued to funds from dedicated collections as evidence of its receipts. U.S. Treasury securities are an asset to the [Reporting Entity] and a liability to the U.S. Treasury. Because the [Reporting Entity] and the U.S. Treasury are both parts of the government, these assets and liabilities offset each other from the standpoint of the government as a whole. For this reason, they do not represent an asset or a liability in the U.S. Governmentwide financial statements. U.S. Treasury securities provide the [Reporting Entity] with authority to draw upon the U.S. Treasury to make future benefit payments or other expenditures. When the [Reporting Entity] requires redemption of these securities to make expenditures, the government finances the securities out of accumulated cash balances, by raising taxes or other receipts, by borrowing from the public or repaying less debt, or by curtailing other expenditures. This is the same way that the government finances all other expenditures.”

F. Other Information. Disclose any additional information relative to understanding the nature of reported investments, such as permanent impairments, and any securities that have been reclassified as securities available for sale or early redemption.

100901. Instructions

Present the gross receivables, the allowance for uncollectible accounts (from the public), and the net amount due for the current FY and prior FY. Disclose the method used to estimate the allowance. Pursuant to I TFM 2-4700, agencies may not recognize any allowance for loss on intragovernmental accounts receivable. The amount represented in this note includes both entity and non-entity receivables. Do not include receivables related to direct or guaranteed loans. Report these amounts in Note 7, “Direct Loan and Loan Guarantees, Nonfederal Borrowers.”

100902. Reporting

A. Intragovernmental Receivables (Line 1). Do not report an allowance for uncollectible accounts for Intragovernmental Receivables. The amount on Line 1, column 4, of this note must equal the amount reported on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

B. Nonfederal Receivables (From the Public) (Line 2). The term “nonfederal entities” encompasses domestic and foreign persons and organizations outside the U.S.
Government. The amount on Line 2, column 4, of this note must equal the amount reported on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

C. Total Accounts Receivable (Line 3). The amount reported on Line 3 equals the sum of Lines 1 and 2 for each column.

D. Criminal Restitution. Disclose criminal restitution balances included in accounts receivable separately, including the gross amount of receivables related to criminal restitution orders monitored by the agency and the estimate of NRV determined to be collectible for criminal restitution orders monitored by the agency.

E. Other Information. Disclose the method used to estimate the allowance for uncollectible accounts and the net amount due. Disclose any other information needed to understand the nature of the accounts receivable.

*1010 NOTE 7. DIRECT LOAN AND LOAN GUARANTEES, NONFEDERAL BORROWERS

101001. General Information on Direct Loans and Loan Guarantees

1. Direct Loans. These loans are reported at the net present value of the following projected cash flows: loan disbursements, repayments of principal, payments of interest, recoveries, proceeds of asset sales, and other payments over the life of the loan after adjusting for estimated defaults, prepayments, fees, penalties, and other recoveries.

2. Loan Guarantee Liabilities. Report these liabilities at the net present value. The cost of the loan guarantee is the net present value of the following estimated projected cash flows: payments by DoD to cover defaults and delinquencies; interest subsidies, or other payments offset by payments to DoD including origination; and other fees, penalties, and recoveries.

B. Pre-1992 Direct Loans and Loan Guarantees. The reporting entity discloses whether Pre-1992 direct loans and loan guarantees are reported under the present value method, or are reported under the allowance for loss method. DoD has elected to report Pre-1992 direct loans and loan guarantees using the allowance for loss method. See SFFAS 2 for additional information on the present value and allowance methods.

1. Note Format. Depending on the reporting method selected by management, agencies must choose the appropriated note format, which includes the net present value method or the allowance for loss method.

2. Changing Reporting Methods. Changing from one method to the other is not permitted without the advance approval of OMB. If a reporting entity needs guidance related to Pre-1992 direct loans or loan guarantees, contact the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller), Office of the Deputy CFO. The reporting entity discloses that their loans receivable, net, or their value of assets related to direct loans, is not the same as the proceeds they would expect to receive from selling their loans.

C. Payments Made on Behalf of Borrowers. When the reporting entity has made payments on behalf of borrowers (which should be collected from the borrowers), the resulting receivables must be reported in the same column as loans receivable for either direct loans or defaulted guaranteed loans.

D. Direct Loan or Loan Guarantee Programs. Enter the names of the direct loans and loan guarantee programs operated by the reporting entity. An example of a DoD direct loan program is the Military Housing Privatization Initiative (MHPI). The Armament Retooling and Manufacturing Support Initiative is an example of a DoD guaranteed loan program.

E. Other Information. Disclose events and changes in economic conditions, other risk factors, legislation, credit policies, and subsidy estimation methodologies and assumptions that: (a) have had a significant and measurable effect on subsidy rates, subsidy expense, and subsidy re-estimates; and (b) are events and changes in conditions that have occurred and are more likely than not to have a significant impact, but the effects of which are not measurable at the reporting date.

F. Reporting. Report direct loan and loan guarantee information as follows:

1. Figure 10-7 identifies a summary of a reporting entity’s direct loan and loan guarantees balance for the current and prior FY.

2. Figure 10-8 identifies direct loan obligation balances for the current and prior FY.

Present information for direct loans obligated.

A. Military Housing Privatization Initiative (Lines 1.A through 1.E). Report in column 2 (Current FY): the Loans Receivable Gross, the Interest Receivable, the estimated NRV of related Foreclosed Property, the Allowance for Subsidy Cost (Present Value), and the Value of Assets Related to Direct Loans, Net. Line 2 is the sum of Lines 1.A through 1.E. Report amounts from the prior FY in column 3.

B. Total Direct Loans Receivable (Line 2). The amount reported in this line must agree with the amount reported on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet. Loan receivables for defaulted loan guarantees will also be included on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

C. Other Information. If you have foreclosed property resulting from credit reform activities, refer to OMB Circular A-136 for required disclosures.

D. Additional Instructions for Foreclosed Property. Value foreclosed property associated with Post-1991 direct loans at the net present value of the projected cash flows. Refer to Section 86 of OMB Circular A-11 for policy related to reporting foreclosed property.

A. Direct Loan Programs Disbursed. DoD administers a direct loan program on behalf of the Executive Office of the President, which is reported in Other Accompanying Information. Disclose the amount of direct loans disbursed for each program the reporting entity manages. DoD has one direct loan program that disburses direct loans, the MHPI.

B. Direct Loan Programs, Total (Line 2). Report the total of the amount of direct loans disbursed for the current and prior reporting years.

C. Other Information. Provide other information related to direct loans disbursed necessary to understand the nature of the loans.

Instructions

For each direct loan program, report the direct loan subsidy expense, at present value.

Report in column 2 the present value amount of the current FY’s subsidy expense attributable to the interest rate differential between the interest rate charged to the borrowers and the discount rate used to calculate the present value of the direct loans and the subsidy costs; in column 3, report the present value of the estimated delinquencies and defaults (net of recoveries) for the current FY; in column 4, report the present value of the estimated fees and other collections (offsetting expense) for the current FY; in column 5, report the present value of other cash flows for the current FY, including prepayments and proceeds of loan asset sales; and in column 6, report the total of columns 2 through 5.
B. Subsidy Expense for New Direct Loans Disbursed – Prior FY (Line 2). Report in column 2 the present value amount of the prior FY’s subsidy expense attributable to the interest rate differential between the interest rate charged to the borrowers and the discount rate used to calculate the present value of the direct loans and the subsidy costs; in column 3, report the present value of the estimated delinquencies and defaults (net of recoveries) for the prior FY; in column 4, report the present value of the estimated fees and other collections (offsetting expense) for the prior FY; in column 5, report the present value of other cash flows for the prior FY, including prepayments and proceeds of loan asset sales; and in column 6, report the total of columns 2 through 5.

C. Direct Loan Modifications and Re-estimates – Current FY (Line 3). Report in column 2 the current FY’s subsidy cost of modifications of direct loans previously disbursed; in column 3 report the current FY’s subsidy cost for interest rate re-estimates which are due to a change in interest rates from the rate assumed in budget preparation and used in calculating the subsidy expense to the rates that are prevailing at the time the direct loan is disbursed; in column 4, report the current FY’s subsidy cost for technical re-estimates which are due to changes made in projected cash flows under the terms of direct loans after reevaluating all the risk factors as of the financial statement date, except for the effect of interest rate re-estimates; and in column 5, report the total of columns 3 and 4.

D. Total Direct Loan Subsidy Expense (Line 4). Report in column 2 the total direct loan subsidy expense for the current FY, and in column 3, report the total direct loan subsidy expense for the prior FY.

E. Other Information. Identify other information related to direct loan subsidy expense for Post-1991 direct programs. If modifications were made, explain the nature of the modifications, the discount rate used in calculating the expense, and the basis for recognizing a gain or loss related to the modifications. Also, if appropriate, disclose that the subsidy expense resulting from re-estimates that is included in the financial statements is not reported in the budget until the following year.

101006. Instructions

Disclose the budget subsidy rates estimated for the cohorts of the current reporting year. Disclose the subsidy rate for the following components: interest differential costs; default costs (net of recoveries); fees and other collections; and other costs. These estimated subsidy rates for direct loans are in the current FY’s budget (President’s Budget).

A. Subsidy Rate. These rates must be consistent with rates published in the Direct Loans: Assumptions Underlying the FY Subsidy Estimates Table contained in the Federal Credit Supplement to the Budget of the U.S. Government.

B. Relevant Information for Comprehension. Subsidy rates pertain to the loan agreements contracted during the current FY. Do not apply these rates to the direct loans disbursed during the current reporting year to yield the subsidy expense. The subsidy expense for new loans disbursed in the current FY could result from disbursement of loans from both current and prior FY loan agreements. The subsidy expense reported in the current FY also includes modifications and re-estimates.

C. Subsidy Rate Amount. Each subsidy rate is the dollar amount of the total subsidy or a subsidy component as a percentage of the direct loans obligated in the cohort year. Entities are encouraged to use trend data to display significant fluctuations in subsidy rates. Trend data, if used, includes an analysis to explain the underlying causes for the fluctuations.
Display the reconciliation between the beginning and ending balances of the subsidy cost allowance for outstanding direct loans reported in the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet. The reconciliation is required for direct loans obligated on or after October 1, 1991, the effective date of the FCRA. Reporting entities are encouraged, but not required, to display reconciliations for direct loans obligated prior to October 1, 1991, in schedules separate from the direct loans obligated after September 30, 1991.

A. Beginning Balance of the Subsidy Cost Allowance (Line 1). Report the Beginning Balance of the Subsidy Cost Allowance.
B. Add Subsidy Expense for Direct Loans Disbursed During the Reporting Years by Component (Lines 2.A through 2.E). Report the components of subsidy expense for direct loans: Interest Rate Differential Costs; Default Costs (Net of Recoveries); Fees and Other Collections; and Other Subsidy Costs. Total the components of subsidy expense for direct loans.

C. Adjustments (Lines 3.A through 3.F). Report the adjustments for direct loans: Loan Modifications, Fees Received; Foreclosed Property Acquired; Loans Written Off; Subsidy Allowance Amortization; and Other Adjustments.

D. Ending Balance of the Subsidy Cost Allowance Before Re-estimates (Line 4). Report the sum of Lines 1, 2.E, and 3.A through 3.F.

E. Add or Subtract Subsidy Re-estimates by Component (Lines 5.A through 5.C). Report the Interest Rate Re-estimate and Technical/Default Re-estimate for direct loans. Total the re-estimates for direct loans.

F. Ending Balance of the Subsidy Cost Allowance (Line 6). Report the sum of Line 4 and Line 5.C.

101008. Instructions

Report the defaulted loan guarantees for applicable credit reform programs. If the reporting entity does not have defaulted guaranteed loans, state “Not Applicable” after the note number and title.

A. Military Housing Privatization Initiative (Lines 1.A through 1.E). Report the: Defaulted Guaranteed Loans Receivable, Gross; Interest Receivable; the estimated value of related Foreclosed Property; the Allowance for Subsidy Cost (Present Value); and the Value of Assets Related to Defaulted Guaranteed Loans Receivable, Net.

B. Armament Retooling and Manufacturing Support Initiative (Lines 2.A through 2.E). Report the: Defaulted Guaranteed Loans Receivable, Gross; Interest Receivable; the estimated value of related Foreclosed Property; the Allowance for Subsidy Cost (Present Value); and the Value of Assets Related to Defaulted Guaranteed Loans Receivable, Net.

C. Total Value of Assets Related to Defaulted Guaranteed Loans Receivable (Line 3). Report the total Value of Assets Related to Defaulted Guaranteed Loans Receivable from Lines 1.E and 2.E. The sum of these lines must equal the amount reported on the Balance Sheet as loans receivables. (Loans receivable for direct loans will also be included on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.)

D. Other Information. If you have foreclosed property resulting from credit reform activities, refer to OMB Circular A-136 for required disclosures.

E. Additional Instructions for Foreclosed Property. Value foreclosed property associated with Post-1991 direct and acquired defaulted guaranteed loans at the net present value of the projected cash flows associated with the property. At the time of foreclosure, foreclosed property may be recorded at the estimated NRV if the differences do not meet the materiality threshold identified in the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance. A portion of the related allowance for subsidy account applies to the foreclosed property, but that amount need not be separately determined. Rather, subtract the allowance account from the sum of the credit program assets to determine the net present value of the assets.

101011. Instructions

Report the estimated cash flows (on a present value basis) for the various subsidy expense components of the loan guarantee programs.

A. Subsidy Expense for New Loan Guarantees – Current FY (Line 1).

Disclose, in column 2, the present value of the amount of the interest supplements; in column 3, the present value of the estimated payments for defaults on loan guarantees (net of recoveries); in column 4, the present value of the estimated fees and other collections (offsetting expense); in column 5, the present value of other cash flows; and in column 6, the total of columns 2 through

B. Subsidy Expense for New Loan Guarantees – Prior FY (Line 2). Disclose, in column 2, the present value of the amount of the interest supplements; in column 3, the present value of the estimated payments for defaults on loan guarantees (net of recoveries); in column 4, the present value of the estimated fees and other collections (offsetting expense); in column 5, the present value of other cash flows; and in column 6, the total of columns 2 through 5.

C. Modifications and Re-estimates – Current FY (Line 3). Disclose, in column 2, the subsidy expense for modifications of loan guarantees in guaranteed loans previously disbursed by a third party (whether Pre-1992 or Post-1991). Disclose, in columns 3 and 4, re-estimates of the subsidy expense for loan guarantees, previously committed, by component (interest rate and technical); and in column 5, the total of columns 3 and 4.

D. Total Loan Guarantee Subsidy Expense (Line 4). Report in column 2 (Current FY) the total subsidy expense for the current FY’s loan guarantees, modifications, and re-estimates. Report in column 3 (Prior FY) the total subsidy expense for the prior FY’s loan guarantees, modifications, and re-estimates.

E. Other Information. Identify other relevant information for loan guarantee programs subsidy expenses. If modifications were made, explain the nature of the modifications, the discount rate used in calculating the expense, and the basis for recognizing a gain or loss related to the modifications. Also, if appropriate, disclose that the subsidy expense resulting from re-estimates that is included in the financial statements is not reported in the budget until the following year.

101012. Instructions

A. Military Housing Privatization Initiative and Armament Retooling & Manufacturing Support Initiative (Lines 1 and 2). Report information on the subsidy rates for loan guarantees. Disclose the estimated subsidy rates for the following components: Interest Supplement costs (column 2); Default costs (net of recoveries) (column 3); Fees and Other Collections (column 4); and Other costs (column 5). These estimated subsidy rates for loan guarantees are in the current FY’s budget (President’s Budget).

B. Subsidy Rates

1. Subsidy Rates. Subsidy rates must be consistent with rates published in the Loan Guarantees: Assumptions Underlying the (FY) Subsidy Estimates table, contained in the Federal Credit Supplement to the Budget of the U.S. Government, which is a supporting document to the budget. Refer to the Federal Credit Supplement to the Budget of the U.S. Government for current guidance pertaining to subsidy estimates for loan guarantees.

2. Subsidy Rate Amount. Each subsidy rate is the dollar amount of the total subsidy or a subsidy component as a percentage of the guaranteed loans obligated. Entities may use trend data to display significant fluctuations in subsidy rates. Such trend data, if used, includes an analysis to explain the underlying causes for the fluctuations.

3. Subsidy Rate Applicability. The subsidy rates disclosed pertain only to the current FY’s cohorts. Do not apply these rates to the guarantees of loans disbursed during the current reporting year to yield the subsidy expense. The subsidy expense for new loan guarantees reported in the current FY could result from disbursements of loans from both current FY cohorts and prior FY(s) cohorts. The subsidy expense reported in the current FY also includes modifications and re-estimates.

Display the reconciliation between the beginning and ending balances of the liability for outstanding loan guarantees reported in each entity’s Balance Sheet based upon the following instructions. The reconciliation is required for loan guarantees committed on or after October 1, 1991, the effective date of the FCRA. Reporting entities are encouraged, but not required, to display reconciliations for loan guarantees committed prior to October 1, 1991, in schedules separate from the loan guarantees committed after September 30, 1991.

A. Beginning Balance of the Loan Guarantee Liability (Line 1). Report on Line 1 the beginning balance of the loan guarantee liability.

B. Add Subsidy Expense for Guaranteed Loans Disbursed during the Reporting Years by Component (Lines 2.A through 2.E). Report the following components of subsidy expense for guaranteed loans disbursed: Interest Supplemental Costs; Default Costs (Net of Recoveries); Fees and Other Collections; and Other Subsidy Costs. Total the components of subsidy expense for guaranteed loans.

C. Adjustments (Lines 3.A through 3.H). Report the following adjustments for loan guarantees: Loan Guarantee Modifications; Fees Received; Interest Supplements Paid; Foreclosed Property and Loans Acquired; Claim Payments to Lenders; Interest Accumulation on the Liability Balance; and Other adjustments. Total the adjustments for loan guarantees.

D. Ending Balance of the Loan Guarantee Liability Before Re-estimates (Line 4). Report on Line 4 the sum of Lines 1, 2.E, and 3.H.

E. Add or Subtract Subsidy Re-estimates by Component (Lines 5.A through 5.C). Report Interest Rate Re-estimates and Technical/Default Re-estimates for loan guarantees and report the total subsidy re-estimates for loan guarantees.

F. Ending Balance of the Loan Guarantee Liability (Line 6). Report the sum of Lines 4 and 5.C.

Legend for Valuation Methods

LAC = Latest Acquisition Cost
MAC = Moving Average Cost
NRV = Net Realizable Value

*101103. Instructions

Report the current FY and prior FY net amount of each inventory category in accordance with the instructions provided in this chapter. Inventory categories include: held for sale; held in reserve for future sale; held for repair; raw materials; work-in-process; and excess, obsolete, and unserviceable inventory.

A. Valuation. Disclose the following for each category of inventory: in column 2, the gross amount recorded in the inventory system; in column 3, the revaluation allowance for holding gains (losses) on inventory, if any; in column 4 (column 2 plus column 3), the net book value of the inventory; and in column 5, the valuation method used. The revaluation allowance represents adjustments to the recorded values in column 2 required to arrive at the value in column 4, in accordance with the applicable valuation methodology in column 5.
B. Valuation Method. Enter the appropriate valuation method using the codes from the legend for column 5: Latest Acquisition Cost adjusted for holding gains and losses; NRV; and MAC.

C. Held for Sale (Line A). Report inventory that is held for sale, which includes consumable spare and repair parts, and repairable items owned and managed by DoD. This inventory includes materiel held due to a managerial determination to retain these items to support military or national contingencies.

D. Held in Reserve for Future Sale (Line B). Report the cost or value of tangible personal property held in reserve for future sale. Line 1.B includes inventory held for future sale because it is not readily available or will be needed.

E. Held for Repair (Line C). Report inventory held for repair, which includes damaged inventory that requires repairs to make it suitable for sale. DoD often relies on weapon systems and machinery no longer in production and encourages the repair and rebuilding of certain items. Report inventory identified as unserviceable, but not reviewed to determine its reparable, as held for repair. When an assessment has been conducted, and it has been determined that it is not economically feasible to repair the item, the item must be reported as excess, obsolete, and unserviceable.

F. Raw Materials (Line D). Report the raw material inventory.

G. Work-In-Process (Line E). Report inventory that is work-in-process, which includes costs related to the production or servicing of items, including direct material, direct labor, applied overhead, and other direct costs. This may also be used to accumulate the amount paid to a contractor under cost reimbursable contracts, including the amount withheld from payment to ensure performance, and the amount paid to other government plants for accrued costs of end items of material ordered but not delivered. Also, report work-in-process at depot maintenance activities.

H. Excess, Obsolete, and Unserviceable Inventory (Line F). Report inventory estimated to be potentially excess, obsolete, or beyond economic repair. Excess, obsolete, and unserviceable inventory must be valued at its expected NRV. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 4 regarding the use of the NRV for excess inventory.

I. Total (Line G). Report the sum of Lines A. through F. The amounts reported in column 4 of this note equal the amounts reported on Line 1 of Note 8 (the summary note for Inventory and Other Related Property) in Figure 10-19.

J. Definitions of Inventory Gross Value, Revaluation Allowance, and Inventory, Net Columns. Column 2, Inventory, Gross Value, represents the standard value used for inventory transactions in the financial system. Column 3, Revaluation Allowance, represents the difference between standard inventory values and either historical cost or NRV. Column 4, Inventory, Net, is approximate historical cost or NRV. Column 5, Valuation Method, is the applicable valuation methodology used to arrive at the net inventory value.
K. Other Information (Related to Inventory). Disclose other information for the inventory component of the Inventory and Related Property line item on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet. At a minimum, include information for the inventory disclosures identified in SFFAS 3.

Report the current FY and prior FY net amount of each OM&S category in accordance with the instructions provided in this chapter. OM&S include spare and repair parts, ammunition, tactical missiles, aircraft configuration pods, and centrally managed aircraft engines. OM&S categories include held for use; held in reserve for future use; held for repair; in development; and excess, obsolete, and unserviceable.

A. Valuation. Disclose the following for each category of OM&S: in column 2, the gross amount reported in the inventory system; in column 3, the allowance for gains (losses) on OM&S, if any; in column 4 (column 2 plus column 3), the net book value; and in column 5, the valuation method used. The amounts identified in column 3, revaluation allowance, represent the adjustment to the recorded value in column 2 required to arrive at the historical cost reported in column 4.

B. Held for Use (Line A). Report OM&S Held for Use balances which include all issuable materiel.

C. Held in Reserve for Future Use (Line B). Report OM&S held in reserve for future use balances representing the cost or value of tangible personal property, held in reserve because it is not readily available or because it will be needed.

D. Held for Repair (Line C). Report OM&S held for repair, which includes all economically reparable materiel. OM&S that has been identified as unserviceable, but not yet reviewed to determine its reparable, must be reported as held for repair. When an assessment has been conducted, and it has been determined that it is not economically feasible to repair the item, then the item must be reported as excess, obsolete, and unserviceable.

E. In Development (Line D). Report the cost incurred or value of tangible personal property, such as OM&S in development that will be consumed in normal operations upon completion of development.

F. Excess, Obsolete, and Unserviceable (Line E). Report OM&S estimated to be potentially excess, obsolete, or beyond economic repair. Value excess, obsolete, and unserviceable OM&S at their expected NRV. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 4 regarding the use of the NRV for excess OM&S.

G. Total (Line 1.F). Report the sum of Lines A through E. The amounts reported on Line F, column 4 of this note must equal the amounts reported on Line 2 of Note 8 (the summary note for Inventory and Related Property, Net) in Figure 10-19.

H. Valuation Method. Enter the appropriate valuation method using the codes from the following legend for column 5: NRV and MAC.

I. Other Information (Related to OM&S). Disclose other information for the OM&S component of the Inventory and Related Property line item on the entity’s Balance Sheet. At a minimum, include information for the OM&S disclosures identified in SFFAS 3.

101105.  Instructions

A. Stockpile Material. Reserve this category of inventory for use exclusively within the Department by the National Defense Stockpile Transaction Fund. Report the current FY and prior FY net amount of each inventory category in accordance with the instructions provided in this chapter.

1. The stockpile material categories are “Held for Sale” and “Held in Reserve for Future Sale.” Stockpile material is strategic and critical material, held due to statutory requirements, for use in national defense, conservation, or national emergencies. All material held by the National Defense Stockpile is classified as Held in Reserve for Future Sale until congressional action declares the material no longer required to be stockpiled, and available for sale on the open market. When the authorization to offer material for sale is received, the material is reclassified to Held for Sale.

2. Disposals cannot be made from the stockpile except for: (1) necessary upgrading, refining, or processing; (2) necessary rotation to prevent deterioration; (3) determination as excess with potential financial loss if retained; or (4) as authorized by law.

B. Valuation. For each category of Stockpile Material, disclose the amount reported in the logistics system in column 2; the allowance for gains (losses) on stockpile material, if any, in column 3; and the net book value of stockpile material (column 2 plus column 3) in column 4.
C. Valuation Method. Enter the appropriate valuation method using the code from the legend for column 5: MAC.

D. Total Stockpile Material (Line C). Report the total amounts for Stockpile Material in column 4. These total amounts equal the amounts reported on Line 3 of Note 8 (the summary note for Inventory and Related Property) in Figure 10-19.

E. Other Information. Disclose other information for the Stockpile Material component of the Inventory and Related Property, Net line item on the Balance Sheet. At a minimum, include information for the stockpile disclosures identified in SFFAS 3.

101201. Instructions

A. General PP&E. Report the current FY and prior FY balances for General PP&E by major class. Recognition and measurement criteria for General PP&E are in SFFAS 6, “Accounting for Property, Plant, and Equipment,” as amended by SFFAS 10, “Accounting for Internal Use Software;” SFFAS 23, “Eliminating the Category National Defense Property, Plant, and Equipment;” SFFAS 44, “Accounting for Impairment of General Property, Plant, and Equipment Remaining in Use;” and SFFAS 50, “Establishing Opening Balances for General Property, Plant, and Equipment: Amending SFFAS 6, 10, and 23, and Rescinding SFFAS 35.” As part of Note 9, Figure 10-24 identifies a reporting entity’s beginning counts, additions, deletions, and ending counts of Heritage Assets. Figure 10-25 identifies a reporting entity’s beginning counts, additions, deletions, and ending counts of stewardship land.

B. Depreciation/Amortization Method (Column 2). Report the depreciation or amortization method used: Straight Line (S/L) or N/A. See Volume 4 for information on how to calculate depreciation using the S/L method.

C. Service Life (Column 3). Report the range of service life by Major Asset Class based on DoD Standard Recovery Periods contained in Volume 4.
D. Acquisition Value (Column 4). Report the acquisition costs or estimated values by Major Asset Class.

* 1. Assets Under Capital Lease. For assets under capital lease, report the lesser of the present value or the fair value of the asset. The present value will be calculated, using either the lessor’s implicit rate or the U.S. Treasury borrowing rate of the rental or other lease payments during the lease term, and will exclude that portion of the payments representing executory costs paid to the lessor. Include a cross-reference to Note 16, “Leases,” for additional information on capital leases.

2. Other. If any of the individual components of the “Other” line represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those amounts separately, by Major Asset Class, as a subcomponent of Total General PP&E.

E. Accumulated Depreciation/Amortization (Column 5). Report the accumulated depreciation/amortization through the current reporting period, by Major Asset Class.

F. Net Book Value (Column 6). Report the net book value of each Major Asset Class (acquisition cost less accumulated depreciation/amortization) in column 6 (column 4 plus column 5). The total of this column for Total General PP&E must agree with the amounts on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

H. General PP&E Opening Balances. SFFAS 50 allows a reporting entity, under specific conditions, to apply alternative methods in establishing opening balances for General PP&E. DoD’s alternative methods include: using deemed cost to establish opening balances of General PP&E, selecting between deemed cost and prospective capitalization of internal use software, and allowing an exclusion of land and land rights from opening balances with disclosure and acreage information and expensing of future acquisitions.

1. Disclose the use of deemed costs in the first year the entity uses deemed costs to value assets for its opening balances and in any subsequent year those financial statements are presented for comparative purposes. The disclosure should describe the deemed cost methods used, and in the first year presented, the effect on relevant balances.

2. Account for general equipment and real property after opening balances in accordance with SFFAS 6.

I. Other Information. Disclose in the narrative sections of this note other relevant information for the General PP&E line item on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

1. Adjustments. If adjustments are required to existing PP&E in the period the standards are implemented, in order to comply with the recognition and measurement criteria, record and disclose the adjustments by Major Asset Class in accordance with the standard.
2. General Disclosures Related to General PP&E. Disclose the required information pertaining to General PP&E, such as: (a) restrictions on the use or convertibility of General PP&E (e.g., outside the continental U.S. real property) or a statement disclosing there are no restrictions; (b) capitalization thresholds, including any changes in thresholds during the period; and (c) adjustments from changes in the accounting standards. If the acquisition cost is unknown for certain types or significant amounts of General PP&E, DoD Components must disclose the valuation method used to estimate the value reported.

3. Other. If any of the individual components of the “Other” line represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately.

101202. Heritage Assets

Heritage Assets are items of historical, natural significance, cultural, educational, or artistic (e.g., aesthetic) importance, or items with significant architectural characteristics. Heritage Assets are expected to be preserved indefinitely. SFFAS 29, “Heritage Assets and Stewardship Land,” requires entities with Stewardship PP&E to reference a note on the Balance Sheet where required disclosures relative to these assets are contained. Rather than a separate note, DoD discloses Heritage Assets with the General PP&E note.

A. Reporting. Reporting entities will disclose the beginning counts, additions, deletions, and ending counts of their Heritage Assets, by category for the period presented. Disclose the quantity of Multi-Use Heritage Assets (i.e., Heritage Asset buildings used predominantly for government operations) in the schedule.

B. Categories. Report balances for Heritage Assets within the following categories.

1. Buildings and Structures. Building and Structures include buildings and structures listed on, or eligible for listing on, the National Register of Historic Places, including Multi-Use Heritage Assets. This category also includes National Historic Landmarks; buildings or structures that are contributing elements to districts listed on, or eligible for, the National Register of Historic Places or a National Historic Landmark District; and buildings and structures designated eligible in the National Register of Historic Places for purposes of program alternatives.

2. Archeological Sites. Archeological Sites include sites identified, evaluated, and determined to be eligible for, or are listed on, the National Register of Historic Places.

3. Museum Collection Items. Museum Collection Items include items that are unique for one or more of the following reasons: historical or natural significance; cultural, educational, or artistic importance; or significant, technical, or architectural characteristics. Divide museum collection items into two subcategories: fine art and objects. Fine art includes paintings, sculptures, and other three dimensional art. Objects are current use, excess, obsolete, or condemned material; war trophies; personal property, such as uniforms, medals, or diaries; and military equipment.

C. Disclosures. Include the disclosures for Heritage Assets identified in OMB Circular A-136.

D. Year-End Reporting. Report deferred maintenance and repair information regarding Heritage Assets in Required Supplementary Information at year-end only.

Note 9. Stewardship Land

Stewardship land is land and land rights owned by the Federal Government, but not acquired for or in connection with, items of General PP&E. “Acquired for or in connection with” is defined as including land acquired with the intent to construct General PP&E and land acquired... in combination with General PP&E. Each DoD Component responsible for such land will report land classified as stewardship land. Without exception, classify all land provided to the Department from the public domain or at no cost as stewardship land, regardless of its use. SFFAS 29 requires entities with Stewardship PP&E to reference a note on the Balance Sheet where required disclosures relative to these assets are contained. Rather than a separate note, DoD discloses stewardship land within the General PP&E note.

A. Reporting. Reporting entities will disclose the beginning counts, additions, deletions, and ending counts of their stewardship land, by category. Report the facility numbers and category descriptions. DoD Instruction (DoDI) 4165.14, “Real Property Inventory (RPI) and Forecasting,” identifies the predominant categories authorized for use.

1. Government Owned Land (Facility Number 9110) and State Owned Land (Facility Number 9111) is land held in public trust and will be reported as stewardship land;

2. Withdrawn Public Land (Facility Number 9120) is land held in public trust and will be reported as stewardship land;

3. Licensed and Permitted Land (Facility Number 9130) are interests and privileges held by the entity in land owned by others and will be reported as stewardship land;

4. Public Land (Facility Number 9140) is land held in public trust and will be reported as stewardship land;

5. Land Easement (Facility Number 9210) are interests and privileges held by the entity in land owned by others and will be reported as stewardship land;

6. In-leased Land (Facility Number 9220) are interests and privileges held by the entity in land owned by others and will be reported as stewardship land; and

7. Foreign Land (Facility Number 9230) are interests and privileges held by the entity in land in foreign countries and will be reported as stewardship land.

B. Disclosures. Include the disclosures for stewardship land identified in OMB Circular A-136.

Report the amount of Other Assets.

101302. Reporting

A. Intragovernmental Other Assets (Line 1). Separately categorize the intragovernmental other assets.

1. Advances and Prepayments (Line 1.A). Include advances and prepayments to other federal entities.

2. Other Assets (Line 1.B). Include other assets categorized as federal.

3. Total Intragovernmental Other Assets (Line 1.C). The amount reported on this line equals the sums of Lines 1.A and 1.B and must match the amount reported on the Balance Sheet.

C. Total Other Assets (Line 3). The amount reported on this line equals the sum of Lines 1.C, “Total Intragovernmental Other Assets,” and 2.D, “Total Nonfederal Other Assets.” The total amount reported on Line 3 must equal the sum of federal and nonfederal Other Assets on the Balance Sheet.

D. Information Related to Other Assets. Identify other relevant information for other assets reported on the Balance Sheet. If any of the individual components of Line 1.B, “Other Assets,” and Line 2.C, “Other Assets (With the Public),” represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately.

101401. Instructions

Report the Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources, which are liabilities for which congressional action is needed before budgetary resources can be provided.

101402. Reporting

A. Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources (Lines 1 and 2). The amounts reported on Lines 1.A through 1.C of this note represent the portion of intragovernmental liabilities not covered by budgetary resources for Accounts Payable (Line 1.A); Debt (Line 1.B); and Other Liabilities (Line 1.C). Report on Line 1.D the sum of intragovernmental liabilities (Lines 1.A through 1.C). The amounts reported on Lines 2.A through 2.D of this note represent the portion of nonfederal liabilities not covered by budgetary resources for Accounts Payable (Line

B. Total Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources (Line 3). Report on Line 3 the sum of Lines 1.D and 2.E.

C. Total Liabilities Covered by Budgetary Resources (Line 4). Report on Line 4 the total amount of liabilities covered by budgetary resources. Budgetary resources include: (1) new budget authority; (2) spending authority from offsetting collections; (3) recoveries of unexpired budget authority through downward adjustments of prior FY obligations; and (4) unobligated balances of budgetary resources at the beginning of the year or net transfers of prior FY balances during the year; and (5) permanent indefinite appropriations or borrowing authority, which have been enacted and signed into law as of the Balance Sheet date, provided that the resources may be apportioned by OMB without further action by the Congress or without a contingency first having to be met.

D. Total Liabilities Not Requiring Budgetary Resources (Line 5). Report on Line 5 the total amount of liabilities not requiring budgetary resources. Amounts reported on Line 5 represent liabilities that have not been required in the past and will not require the use of budgetary resources in the future. Examples of liabilities reported on Line 5 include liabilities for clearing accounts, non-fiduciary deposit funds, custodial collections, and unearned revenue.

E. Total Liabilities (Line 6). The amount reported on Line 6 is the sum of Line 3 through Line 5. Line 6 must equal the amount reported on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

F. Information Related to Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources. Disclose why material amounts and sensitive areas such as accounts payable and debt are not covered. Provide other information needed to understand the nature of liabilities not covered by budgetary resources. All entities reporting a balance on Line 2.B must disclose that Military Retirement and Other Federal Employment Benefits Not Covered by Budgetary Resources comprise various employee actuarial liabilities not due and payable during the current FY. These liabilities are primarily comprised of [Identify the content of Line 2.B] $XXX. Refer to Note 13, “Military Retirement and Other Federal Employment Benefits,” for additional details and disclosures.

G. Other Liabilities. If any of the individual components of Line 1.C, “Other Liabilities,” and Line 2.D, “Other Liabilities,” represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately. If no amount encompasses 10 percent or more, state the amount is attributable to multiple items.

Instructions

Report the net amount of debt in accordance with the instructions provided in this chapter. Agency Debt (Intragovernmental) includes debt to the U.S. Treasury and debt to the Federal Financing Bank.

Reporting

A. Agency Debt (Lines 1.A through 1.C). For the current FY and prior FY, report the amount of debt owed to the U.S. Treasury, which includes direct loan and guaranteed loan financing account liabilities to the U.S. Treasury, as well as other debt owed to the U.S. Treasury on Line 1.A. Report the amount of debt owed to the Federal Financing Bank on Line 1.B. Line 1.C is the sum of Lines 1.A and 1.B. Report the beginning balance of borrowings in column 2; the year’s net borrowing in column 3; and the ending balance of borrowings in column 4.

B. Total Debt (Line 2). Report the amount reported on Line 1.C. In addition, the Ending Balance on Line 2 of this note must equal the balance for “Debt” on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet.

C. Information Related to Debt. Provide other information needed to understand the nature of debt (e.g., write offs of debts owed to the U.S. Treasury or the Federal...
Financing Bank) which includes direct loans and guaranteed loans financing account liabilities disclosed in paragraph 101001.

1. Disclose that the outstanding debt consists of interest and principal due to the U.S. Treasury and the Federal Financing Bank. State the specific purpose for which the reporting entity borrows funds.

2. Disclose that the reporting entity must pay the debt if borrowers (e.g. foreign country, ship leasing, or housing builder) default on the loan. For loan guarantees, the reporting entity must pay the amount of outstanding principal guaranteed.

Actuarial Cost Method Used for Pension and Health Benefits:

Assumptions:

Market Value of Investments in Non-Marketable, Market-Based Securities included in Assets Available to Pay Benefits:

101601. Instructions

Present Military Retirement Benefits and Other Federal Employment Benefits for the current and prior FY based on the following instructions. Report the information required in the note by the entity that administers the benefit(s), except for Line 2.A, “Federal Employees’ Compensation Act (FECA).” Include amounts owed to the Department of Labor (DOL) for estimated actuarial liabilities for future workers’ compensation benefits. Figure 10-30 identifies the reporting entity’s change in actuarial liability for the current FY.

1. Liabilities (Column 2). Report the actuarial present value of projected benefits. For pensions, this would be the projected benefit obligation.
a. Military Retirement Pensions accumulates funds used to pay pensions and annuities to retired military personnel and their survivors. Military Retirement Pensions will report the actuarially determined present value of all future pensions earned to date, using the “aggregate entry age” normal cost method. This is a method whereby projected retirement costs are spread over the projected future salaries of a new entrant cohort. (Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 10 for further guidance.)

b. The Military Pre Medicare-Eligible Retiree Health Benefits will include beneficiaries of the Defense Health Program (DHP), retirees, their dependents, and survivors who are not yet Medicare-eligible. The DHP will report the actuarially determined present value of all retirement benefits earned to date, using the “aggregate entry age” normal cost method. This is a method whereby projected medical costs are spread over the projected future service of a cohort at the point of entry. (Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 10 for further guidance).

c. The Military Medical-Eligible Retiree Health Benefits pay for health care programs for Medicare-eligible Military and other Uniformed Service retirees and their Medicare-eligible dependents or survivors. Report the actuarial present value of projected benefits accrued to date, using the “aggregate entry age” normal cost method. This is a method whereby projected retiree medical plan costs are spread over the projected service of a new entrant cohort.

d. Line 1.D, “Total Pension and Health Benefits,” is the sum of Lines 1.A through 1.C.

3. Unfunded Liabilities (Column 4). Report the actuarial liabilities not covered by budgetary resources, e.g., the actuarial present value of projected benefits (column 2) less funded assets available to pay benefits (column 3).

3. Unfunded Liabilities (Column 4). Report the actuarial liabilities not covered by budgetary resources, e.g., the actuarial present value of projected benefits (column 2) less funded assets available to pay benefits (column 3).

C. Total Military Retirement and Other Federal Employment Benefits (Line 3). Enter the sum of the totals from Lines 1.D and 2.E in the corresponding columns. The liabilities total (column 2) must agree with the amount reported on the Balance Sheet. The unfunded liabilities (column 4) must agree with Note 11, “Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources,” Line 2.B, “Military Retirement and Other Federal Employee Benefits.”

D. Other Information Pertaining to Military Retirement and Other Federal Employment Benefits. Report the minimum disclosures related to pensions and other actuarial liabilities.

1. Total Liability. Disclose the separate amounts for the liabilities covered by budgetary resources and not covered by budgetary resources and the total liability.

2. Actuarial Cost Method Used. Provide a description of the actuarial cost method used to compute the projected plan benefit cost.

3. Assumptions. Disclose the actuarial, economic, and health care cost trend and discount rate assumptions used to calculate the liability. Refer to SFFAS 5, “Accounting for Liabilities of the Federal Government,” and SFFAS 33 for discount rate assumptions. Include the statement that the estimated actuarial liability is updated only at the end of each FY.

4. Expense Components. Disclose the individual components of expense for the period.

5. Fair Value of Investments. Disclose the fair value of investments in market-based and marketable securities.

6. Changes. Disclose the changes in actuarial liability since the previous calculation and provide a brief summary of the program(s) for which actuarial liabilities are computed.

7. Materiality. If any of the individual components of Line 2.D represents 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately.

Provide a reconciliation of the changes in actuarial liabilities from beginning and ending balances. SFFAS 33 requires the display of the components of pension expense, as well as the gains and losses from changes in long-term assumptions used to estimate liabilities for federal employee pensions, other retirement benefits, and other post-employment benefits including a discount rate assumption.
101603. Reporting

Report actuarial liability data related to normal cost liabilities, interest costs, plan amendment liabilities, actuarial (gains)/losses, and benefit outlays. Report actuarial liability data according to the following categories: Military Retirement Pensions, Military Pre Medicare-Eligible Retiree Health Benefits, Military Medicare-Eligible Retiree Health Benefits, Voluntary Separation Incentive Programs, and DoD Education Benefits Fund.

101701. Instructions

Present reported current FY and prior FY environmental liabilities in accordance with the instructions provided in this chapter, and the corresponding policy guidance presented in Volume 4, Chapter 13.

A. Total Environmental Liabilities. Report the total environmental liability for each line in the schedule at Figure 10-31.

1. Environmental liabilities cost estimates consider, on a current cost basis, the anticipated costs of the level of effort required for remediating environmental cleanup sites, in compliance with associated environmental legal and regulatory requirements, and estimated environmental costs associated with the future closure of operations, including closure and disposal of PP&E.
2.  Base such cost estimates on the current technology available. The estimated liability may be a specific amount or a range of amounts. If some amount within the range is considered a better estimate than any other estimate, use that amount. If no amount within a range is considered a better estimate than the other estimates, use the minimum amount in the range, and disclose the range under the note narrative.

a.  Base the amount reported on site level investigations and characterizations. Base any estimate produced on site-specific information and cost models validated in accordance with DoDI 5000.61, “DoD Modeling and Simulation (M&S) Verification, Validation, and Accreditation (VV&A).”

b.  As investigation at a specific site proceeds, the estimate is refined and reported as appropriate. If a site (Site “A”) is similar to another site (Site “B”) for which valid cost estimates have been derived (through site level investigation and characterization), the estimate for recognizing a liability for the site (Site “A”) could be based on the valid cost estimate for the similar site (Site “B”). Additionally, the estimated cost of a future study (if required) must be recognized. If there is no comparable site, then the remediation cost for the site (Site “A”) is not considered reasonably estimable at this time, but the anticipated cost of conducting a future study plus any other required costs must be recognized.

c.  Disclose all methods used to estimate the costs for this line (including the number of sites and costs estimates derived using data from similar sites) in a note narrative, as well as any elements that could not be estimated.

B.  Nonfederal Environmental Liabilities. All environmental liabilities are nonfederal liabilities and reported on Line 1.A.1 through Line 1.E.3 of Figure 10-31.

1.  Accrued Environmental Restoration Liabilities (Line 1.A). Accrued Environmental Restoration (cleanup) Liabilities represent the cost to correct past environmental problems funded from the Environmental Restoration Accounts in accordance with DoD Manual 4715.20, “Defense Environmental Restoration Program (DERP) Management,” and Volume 4, Chapter 13. These liabilities relate to PP&E, including acquired land and stewardship land, which are major asset categories described in Volume 4. Environmental restoration activities may be conducted at operating installations and Formerly Used Defense Sites (FUDS), and other than operational ranges. Site inventory and estimated cost data prepared for the Defense Environmental Programs Annual Report to the Congress is the baseline for environmental restoration (cleanup) liability measurement (e.g., the current cost to acquire the required services).

a.  Active Installations-Installation Restoration Program (IRP) and Building Demolition and Debris Removal (BD/DR) (Line 1.A.1). This line represents the environmental liabilities associated with remedial actions eligible for funding under DoD Manual 4715.20. Report cleanup costs not eligible for DERP funding on Line 1.B.1. These remedial actions may address:
(1) Hazardous substances, pollutants, and contaminants as defined in the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act (CERCLA);

(2) Hazardous waste or hazardous constituents addressed under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) corrective action process or other federal or state statutes and regulations;

(3) Military munitions (e.g., Unexploded Ordnance (UXO) or Waste Military Munitions (WMM)), chemical residues from military munitions, and munitions scrap at locations other than operational ranges associated with an active installation, when the environmental restoration activity is incidental to the IRP environmental restoration activity; or

(4) BD/DR, which is the demolition and removal of unsafe buildings and structures at facilities or sites owned by, leased to, or otherwise possessed by the United States and under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense. For additional information, refer to the Management Guidance for the DERP (Chapters 6 and 7) for program category definitions and funding eligibility criteria, respectively.

b. Active Installations-Military Munitions Response Program (MMRP) (Line 1.A.2). This line represents the environmental liabilities associated with the MMRP category defined as response actions (e.g., the identification, investigation, and removal actions, remedial actions, or a combination of removal and remedial actions) to address military munitions (e.g., UXO or WMM) or the chemical residues of munitions at locations other than operational ranges. The contamination may include munitions, chemical residues from military munitions and munitions scrap at ranges other than operational ranges associated with active installations that pose a threat to human health or the environment. Refer to the Management Guidance for the DERP (Chapters 6 and 7) for more details on the definition of the MMRP category and funding eligibility criteria, respectively.

c. Formerly Used Defense Sites - IRP and BD/DR (Line 1.A.3). This line represents properties that meet the FUDS eligibility criteria described in the Management Guidance for the DERP. Include only those projects that address DoD hazardous, toxicological, and radiological waste (HTRW) and containerized HTRW (e.g., storage tanks).

(1) Include the environmental response actions related to hazardous substances (as defined in the CERCLA), pollutants or contaminants (as defined in the CERCLA), and DoD-unique materials. The BD/DR program category is defined as the demolition and removal of unsafe buildings and structures at facilities or sites that are or were owned by, leased to, or otherwise possessed by the United States and under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Defense.

(2) For additional detail, refer to the Management Guidance for the DERP (Chapters 6 and 7) for program category definitions and funding eligibility criteria, respectively.
d. Formerly Used Defense Sites - MMRP (Line 1.A.4). This line represents properties that meet the FUDS eligibility criteria described in the Management Guidance for the DERP. This line represents the environmental liabilities associated with the identification, investigation, and removal or remedial actions (or a combination of removal and remedial actions) to address military munitions (e.g., UXO or WMM), chemical residues from military munitions, and munitions scrap for those sites that are FUDS eligible. Report liabilities associated with remediation of contamination from non-munitions related activities on Line 1.A.3.

2. Other Accrued Environmental Liabilities – Non-BRAC (Line 1.B). This line represents the costs to remediate cleanup sites that are not eligible for funding from environmental restoration accounts. Other accrued environmental liabilities also include environmental costs associated with the future closure of operations, including closure and disposal of PP&E.

a. Although hazardous waste cleanup and disposal activities are normally thought of as a cost of ongoing operations, associated activities remain a liability if not disposed of or cleaned up by the financial reporting date. Thus, environmental conditions that result from current operations and require immediate cleanup, e.g. an oil spill or routine hazardous waste disposal, are not considered environmental liabilities and will be recognized as a current operating expense, assuming the DoD Component completes the cleanup, closure, and disposal action in the current reporting period.

b. The following subparagraphs describe in more detail the categories of liabilities, as well as the applicable lines.

(1) Environmental Corrective Action (Line 1.B.1). This line represents those environmental liabilities associated with the cleanup sites not eligible for funding under the DERP, typically conducted under RCRA or other federal or state statutes and regulations. Include environmental liabilities associated with the identification, investigation, and removal and remedial actions to address environmental contamination emanating from an operational range on this line.

(2) Environmental Closure Requirements (Line 1.B.2). This line represents the environmental liability associated with the future closure/decommissioning of facilities on an active installation that have environmental closure requirements. Examples include the future costs associated with closing a solid waste landfill, wastewater treatment plant, fuel storage tanks, or permit requirements associated with treatment, storage and disposal facilities, and open burn-open detonation sites.

(3) Asbestos (Line 1.B.3). This line represents environmental liabilities associated with the removal, containment, and/or disposal of friable (immediate health threat) and non-friable (not an immediate health threat): (1) asbestos-containing materials from property, or (2) material and/or property that consists of asbestos-containing material at permanent or temporary closure or shutdown of associated PP&E on non-Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) installations.
2. Other (Line 1.B.4). This line covers environmental liabilities not covered by Lines 1.B.1 through 1.B.3. Disclose the specific liabilities addressed in this line in a schedule.

3. Base Realignment and Closure Installations (Line 1.C). This line includes the cost to address environmental cleanup at bases that are realigning or closing. These liabilities can be from past activities that are part of DERP or from activities not covered by DERP.

   a. IRP (Line 1.C.1). This line represents the environmental liabilities associated with remedial actions eligible for funding under the DERP. Report all BRAC cleanup costs not eligible for DERP funding on Line 1.C.3. These remedial actions may address:

      (1) Hazardous substances, pollutants, and contaminants as defined in the CERCLA;

      (2) Hazardous waste or hazardous constituents addressed under the RCRA corrective action process or other federal or state statutes and regulations; and

   b. MMRP (Line 1.C.2). This line represents the environmental liabilities associated with the MMRP that are defined as response actions (e.g., the identification, investigation, and removal actions, remedial actions, or a combination of removal and remedial actions) to address military munitions (e.g., UXO or WMM) or the chemical residues of munitions at locations other than operational ranges. The contamination may include munitions, chemical residues from military munitions, and munitions scrap at BRAC Installations (e.g., MMRP that pose a threat to human health or the environment). Refer to the Management Guidance for the DERP for more details on the definition of the MMRP category and funding eligibility criteria, respectively.

   c. Environmental Corrective Action/Closure Requirements (Line 1.C.3). This line represents those environmental liabilities associated with cleanup sites not eligible for funding under the DERP, typically conducted under RCRA or other federal or state statutes and regulations. This line also includes the environmental liability associated with the future closure of facilities that have environmental closure requirements. Examples include the future costs associated with closing a solid waste landfill, waste water treatment plant, fuel storage tanks, or permit requirements associated with treatment, storage and disposal facilities, and open burn-open detonation sites.

   d. Asbestos (Line 1.C.4). This line represents environmental liabilities associated with the removal, containment, and disposal of friable (immediate health threat) and non-friable (not an immediate health threat). The environmental liability includes: (1) asbestos-containing materials from property, or (2) material and property that consist of asbestos-containing material at permanent or temporary closure or shutdown of associated PP&E on BRAC installations.

e. General Equipment (Line 1.C.5). This line represents environmental liabilities resulting from the disposal of general equipment on BRAC installations. Environmental liability cost estimates associated with disposal include, on a current cost basis, the anticipated level of effort required to comply with environmental federal, state, and local statute, regulation, or other legal agreement specific to the equipment decommissioning and disposal.

f. Other (Line 1.C.6). This line covers environmental liabilities not covered by Lines 1.C.1 through 1.C.5. Disclose the specific liabilities addressed in this line in a schedule.

4. Environmental Disposal for General Equipment/Weapons Programs (Line 1.D). This line represents environmental disposal liabilities related to the final disposition of general equipment on non-BRAC installations. Report the environmental disposal liabilities on Lines 1.D.1 and 1.D.2 by the following line items:

   a. Nuclear Powered General Equipment/Spent Nuclear Fuel (Line 1.D.1). This line represents environmental disposal liabilities related to nuclear powered general equipment and used fuel.

   b. Non-Nuclear Powered General Equipment (Line 1.D.2). This line represents environmental disposal liabilities related to the non-nuclear powered general equipment and used fuel.

5. Chemical Weapons Disposal Program (Line 1.E). This line represents environmental remediation and disposal liabilities related to chemical agents. Report the environmental disposal liabilities on Lines 1.E.1 through 1.E.3 by the following line items:

   a. Chemical Demilitarization – Chemical Materials Agency (Line 1.E.1). This line covers liabilities associated with the disposal of chemical constituents of military munitions, including the chemical byproducts of detonation, deflagration, or other reactive processes. These constituents are unconsumed explosives (even in trace concentrations) from the detonation of military munitions, explosives released by the structural compromise of unfired WMM, and chemical agents released from chemical munitions.

   b. Chemical Demilitarization – Assembled Chemical Weapons Alternatives (Line 1.E.2). This line covers liabilities associated with assembled chemical weapons alternatives. Assembled chemical weapons alternatives refer to weapons that contain a chemical agent in addition to explosives, propellant, and packaging materials. Examples include rockets, projectiles, and bombs.

   c. Other (Line 1.E.3). This line covers environmental liabilities associated with chemical weapons disposal not covered by Lines 1.E.1 and 1.E.2.
C. Total Environmental Liabilities and Disposal Liabilities (Line 2). The amount reported on this line equals the sum of Lines 1.A.1 through 1.E.3.

D. Other Information Related to Environmental Liabilities. Provide the narrative disclosures as outlined; each section will have captions so the disclosures are readily segregated.

1. Applicable Laws and Regulations of Cleanup, Closure, and/or Disposal Requirements. DoD Components must address each of the applicable laws and regulations that are the source of their environmental liabilities. DoD is required to clean up contamination resulting from past waste disposal practices, leaks, spills, and other past activities, which have created a public health or environmental risk. DoD does this in coordination with regulatory agencies, and if applicable, with other responsible parties.

   a. The Department is also required to recognize closure and post-closure environmental costs for its General PP&E and environmental corrective action costs for current operations. Each of the Department’s major reporting entities is responsible for tracking and reporting all required environmental information related to environmental restoration costs, other accrued environmental costs, environmental disposal costs of weapons systems, and environmental costs related to the BRAC actions.

   b. Examples of relevant laws and regulations for consideration and discussion include, but are not limited to:

      (1) CERCLA;
      (2) Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act;
      (3) Clean Water Act;
      (4) Safe Drinking Water Act;
      (5) Clean Air Act;
      (6) RCRA;
      (7) Toxic Substances Control Act;
      (8) Atomic Energy Act;
      (9) Nuclear Waste Policy Act; and
2. Methods for Assigning Total Cleanup, Closure, and/or Disposal Costs to Current Operating Periods

a. DoD Components must provide the method for assigning the estimated total cleanup, closure, and disposal costs to the current operating periods. DoD Components must not confuse this with how they budget for the liabilities. The Department policy is to comply with the accounting standards.

b. The Department uses engineering estimates and independently validated models to estimate environmental costs. The models are contained within the Remedial Action Cost Engineering Requirements System. The Department validates the models in accordance with DoDI 5000.61 and primarily uses the models to estimate the liabilities based on data received during a preliminary assessment and initial site investigation.

1. The Department primarily uses engineering estimates after obtaining extensive data during the remedial investigation/feasibility phase of the environmental project. Once the environmental cost estimates are complete, the Department complies with accounting standards to assign costs to current operating periods. The Department has already expensed the costs for cleanup associated with General PP&E placed into service prior to October 1, 1997 unless the costs are to be recovered through user charges. When recovering costs through user charges, the Department expenses the portion of the asset life that has passed since the General PP&E was placed into service and systematically recognizes the remaining cost over the life of the assets.

2. For General PP&E placed into service after September 30, 1997, the Department expenses the associated environmental costs systematically over the life of the asset. The Department expenses the full cost to cleanup contamination for stewardship PP&E at the time the asset is placed into service. The Department uses two methods for systematic recognition: physical capacity for operating landfills and life expectancy in years for all other assets.

3. Provide a Description of the Types of Environmental and Disposal Liabilities Identified. DoD Components will provide a general statement describing the types of their environmental and disposal liabilities. An example, which could apply, is as follows: “DERP sites at active installations, BRAC installations, FUDS, sites at active installations that are not covered by DERP, weapon systems programs, and chemical weapons disposal programs are required to provide a description of the environmental and/or disposal liabilities. DoD Components are required to cleanup DERP and sites not covered by DERP in coordination with regulatory agencies, other responsible parties, and current property owners. The weapons systems program consists of chemical weapons disposal, nuclear powered aircraft carriers, nuclear powered submarines, and other nuclear ships.”

4. Nature of Estimates and the Disclosure of Information Regarding Possible Changes due to Inflation, Deflation, Technology, Plans, or Applicable Laws and Regulations. DoD Components specifically identify any environmental liabilities that they know may change due to inflation, deflation, technology, plans, and/or pending changes to applicable laws and/or regulations. If no known changes are pending, DoD Components must state that they are not aware of any pending changes but the liabilities can change in the future due to changes in laws and regulations, changes in agreements with regulatory agencies, and advances in technology.

5. Provide a Description of the Level of Uncertainty Regarding the Accounting Estimates Used to Calculate the Reported Environmental Liabilities. DoD Components provide a detailed description of the uncertainties regarding estimates of significant situations (e.g., BRAC closures, environmental related disposals, ranges, chemical agents, and munitions). The disclosure includes a general statement followed with the specific details known about the uncertainties.

   a. The general statement could apply as follows: “The environmental liabilities for the Department are based on accounting estimates which require certain judgments and assumptions that we believe are reasonable based upon information available to us at the time of calculating the estimates. The actual results may vary materially from the accounting estimates if agreements with regulatory agencies require remediation to a different degree than anticipated when calculating the estimates. The liabilities can be further impacted if further investigation of the environmental sites discloses contamination different than known at the time of the estimates.”

   b. The disclosure provides specific details, such as “In addition to the liabilities reported, (DoD Component) has a liability to take environmental restoration/corrective action for buried chemical munitions and agents. (DoD Component) is unable to provide a reasonable estimate at this time because the extent of the buried chemical munitions and agents is not known.” DoD Components also disclose in this paragraph any liabilities based on a range of estimated amounts.

6. Unrecognized Costs. DoD Components provide the unrecognized portion of the estimated total cleanup, closure, or disposal costs associated with General PP&E. For General PP&E placed in service on or after October 1, 1997, DoD Components systematically recognize the liability over the useful life of the assets. The unrecognized portion of the total cleanup must equal the estimated total cleanup costs less the amount recognized on the financial statements. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 13 for further information on General PP&E requiring systematic recognition of the environmental liability.

7. Other Disclosures. DoD Components provide any other information they believe material to the users of the financial statements.

The term liability, as defined by the FASAB, means a probable and measurable future outflow of resources arising from past transactions or events. While some categories of environmental and disposal liabilities in Note 14 are self-explanatory (e.g., nuclear powered aircraft carriers, submarines, and other ships), the definitions are provided for clarity and to ensure consistency of reporting.
A. Environmental Liabilities. An environmental liability is a future outflow or expenditure of resources that exist as of the financial reporting date for environmental cleanup, closure, and/or disposal costs resulting from past transactions or events. A DoD environmental liability exists when: (1) contamination is present or likely to be present; (2) environmental cleanup, closure, and/or disposal is required by lease contracts, federal, state, and/or local statute, regulation, or other legal agreement; and (3) the operations that created the liability are DoD related. An environmental liability may also exist if environmental contamination is not DoD related, but DoD enters into a binding agreement that formally accepts financial responsibility for cleanup, closure, and/or disposal. Refer to Volume 4, Chapter 13 for accounting policy on measuring, recognizing, and disclosing environmental liabilities.

B. Military Munitions. Military munitions are all ammunition products and components produced or used by or for DoD or the U.S. Armed Services for national defense and security, including military munitions under the control of DoD, the U.S. Coast Guard, the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), and National Guard personnel.

1. The term “military munitions” includes confined gaseous, liquid, and solid propellants; explosives; pyrotechnics; chemical and riot-control agents; smokes and incendiaries used by DoD Components, including bulk explosives and chemical warfare agents, chemical munitions, rockets, guided and ballistic missiles, bombs, warheads, mortar rounds, artillery ammunition, small arms ammunition, grenades, mines, torpedoes, depth charges, cluster munitions and dispensers, demolition charges, and devices and components.

2. Military munitions do not include wholly inert items, improvised explosive devices, nuclear weapons, nuclear devices, and nuclear components. However, the term does include non-nuclear components of nuclear devices, managed under DOE's nuclear weapons program, after all required sanitation operations under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, have been completed. Military munitions include munitions scrap, UXO, WMM, and chemical residue.

a. Munitions Scrap. Munitions scrap includes the metal components of military munitions that remain from the destruction, detonation, demilitarization, or treatment of military munitions. Munitions scrap does not include concentrations of explosives or other materiel associated with the scrap munitions that pose hazards to health, safety, or the environment.

b. UXO. UXO includes military munitions that have been primed, fused, armed, or otherwise prepared for action, and have been fired, dropped, launched, projected, or placed in such a manner as to constitute a hazard to operations, installations, personnel, or materiel and remain unexploded either by malfunction, design, or any other cause.

c. WMM. For purposes of this document, WMM are defined as:

   (1) An unused munition abandoned by being disposed of, burned or incinerated, or treated prior to disposal;
(2) A used or fired munition recovered, collected, and disposed of by burial, landfills, or land treatment; or

(3) Explosive contaminated environmental media (e.g., soil, water, or air) where the concentration of the explosive present is sufficient to detonate or deflagrate when exposed to a strong initiating force or when the explosives are present at a concentration sufficient to make the soil a reactive hazardous waste under Title 40, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 261.23. Such contaminated media are to be managed as explosives and are subject to the explosives safety requirements (e.g., the hazard classification) applicable to the explosive present.

d. Chemical Residues from Military Munitions. Chemical residues from military munitions include the chemical byproducts of detonation, deflagration, or other reactive processes. Examples include unconsumed explosives (even in trace concentrations) from the detonation of a military munitions; explosives released by the structural compromise of an unfired WMM; residues from the destruction of excess propellant bags in the course of training; and chemical agents released from chemical munitions.

C. Ranges. Ranges are designated land or water area set aside, managed, and used to conduct research, develop, test, and evaluate military munitions and explosives, other ordnance or weapon systems, or to train military personnel in their use and handling. Ranges include firing lines and positions, maneuver areas, firing lanes, test pads, detonation pads, impact areas, and buffer zones with restricted access and exclusionary areas.

1. Military ranges also include bodies of water located within the boundaries of a military range (e.g., a stream, lake, or pond) or that are themselves a range (e.g., an offshore range in the Atlantic or Pacific Ocean). Such water areas include all waters of the United States (as defined under the Clean Water Act) and those ocean waters extending out to 200 nautical miles from the U.S. coast. A military range may be a single site or may be comprised of several sites.

2. For the purposes of this chapter, there are two types of ranges, operational and other than operational, as described.

   a. Operational Range. For purposes of this chapter, an operational range includes military ranges that are currently in service and regularly used for range activities. Operational ranges also include military ranges that are not currently being used, but: (a) are still considered by the cognizant Military Service to be a potential range area; and (b) have not been put to a new use that is incompatible with range activities.

   b. Other Than Operational Range. For purposes of this document, a range that is other than operational includes closed, transferring, and transferred ranges. It is important to note that while other than operational ranges that meet the funding eligibility criteria for the MMRP category are addressed by DERP, there are MMRP sites that are not associated with a range. For more details, refer to the Management Guidance for the DERP (Chapters 6 and 7) for program category definitions and funding eligibility criteria, respectively.
(1) Closed Range. A closed range is a military range that has been taken out of service as a range and that has either been put to new uses that are incompatible with range activities or is not considered by the military to be a potential range area. A closed range is still under the control of a DoD Component. For purposes of funding, a range that is transferring from DoD control through land transfer actions other than BRAC is considered “closed.” For purposes of funding, a range transferred from DoD control that was not transferred as a result of BRAC, and that is not FUDS eligible, is considered “closed.”

(2) Transferred Range. A transferred range is a property formerly used as a military range that is no longer under military control and has been leased by DoD, transferred, or returned from DoD to another entity, including federal entities. A transferred range includes a military range that is no longer under military control, but was used under the terms of a withdrawal, executive order, special use permit or authorization, right-of-way, public land order, or other instrument issued by the federal land manager. For purposes of funding, a range transferred from DoD control that is not transferred as a result of BRAC, and that is not FUDS eligible, is considered “closed.”

(3) Transferring Range. A transferring range is a military range that is proposed to be transferred or returned from DoD to another entity, including federal entities. A transferring range includes a military range used under the terms of a withdrawal, executive order, act of Congress, public land order, special use permit or authorization, right-of-way, or other instrument issued by the federal land manager or property owner. An active, inactive, or a closed range will not be considered a “transferring range” until the transfer is imminent. For purposes of funding, a range that is transferring from DoD control through land transfer actions other than BRAC is considered “closed.”

101801. Instructions

Present Other Liabilities for the current and prior FY that are not included elsewhere on the Balance Sheet based upon the instructions in the chapter.

101802 Reporting

A. General Guidance on Other Liabilities

1. Other Liabilities include, but are not limited to, grants payable; capital lease liabilities; insurance and guarantee programs; advances and prepayment from others; deposit fund amounts held in escrow; contingent liabilities; contract holdbacks; accrued liabilities related to ongoing continuous expenses, such as federal employee salaries and accrued employee annual leave; and resources payable to the U.S. Treasury and other accrued liabilities.

2. Clean up costs will not be included in Other Liabilities because they are reported as environmental liabilities or the environmental portion of disposal costs in Note 14, “Environmental and Disposal Liabilities.”

3. Report all contingent liabilities on the Other Liabilities line of the Balance Sheet. The amount reported (recognized) on the Balance Sheet is the total amount of the estimated probable loss. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for policy on recognizing contingent liabilities. Examples of claims or other contingencies include: (a) indemnity agreement reimbursements due to licensees or contractors for losses incurred in support of federal activities; (b) adjudicated claims against the Federal Government that are in the process of judicial proceedings; and (c) the unfunded portion of total liabilities to international institutions.

4. Current liabilities represent debt due for payment within 12 months or less of the Balance Sheet date. Noncurrent liabilities represent debt that is due for payment beyond 12 months from the Balance Sheet date.

5. SFFAS 51, “Insurance Programs,” requires disclosure of insurance program information. Reporting entities must recognize revenues, expenses, and liabilities in accordance with categories identified in SFFAS 51.

B. Intragovernmental. Report all intragovernmental other liabilities.

5. FECA Reimbursement to the DOL (Line 1.E.). The FECA provides benefit coverage for death, disability, medical, and miscellaneous costs for approved cases of on the job incidents. Submit FECA claims to the DOL for approval. DOL pays the claim holders, and then prepares a charge back billing to the responsible Agencies. Public law 93-416, Section 8147 essentially gives agencies two years to pay this charge back bill, allowing time for the amount to be included in their budgets.

   a. Under the FECA, once funding is received, payments are due within 30 days. If DoD still has some amounts outstanding, report these amounts as covered by budgetary resources with an explanation for late payments.

   b. Report in column 2 the current portion of the liability. Report in column 3 the noncurrent portion of the liability. Report in column 4 the total for column 2 and column 3, representing the total liability for FECA reimbursement to the DOL.

   9. Total Intragovernmental Other Liabilities (Line 1.I.). The amounts reported represent the sum of Lines 1.A through 1.H. for each column (2, 3, and 4). In addition, Line 1.I of this note must equal the amount reported on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet. Disclose the total intragovernmental portion of other liabilities not covered by budgetary resources in Note 11, “Liabilities Not Covered by Budgetary Resources.”

C. Nonfederal Other Liabilities. Report Nonfederal Other Liabilities.

4. Deposit Funds and Suspense Accounts (Line 2.D.). Report in column 2 the current portion of the liability. Report in column 3 the noncurrent portion of the liability. Report in column 4 the total for column 2 and column 3.

5. Temporary Early Retirement Authority (Line 2.E.). Report in column 2 the current portion of the liability. Report in column 3 the noncurrent portion of the liability. Report in column 4 the total for column 2 and column 3.

6. Nonenvironmental Disposal Liabilities (Line 2.F.). Report in column 2 the current portion of the liability. Report in column 3 the noncurrent portion of the liability. Report in column 4 the total for column 2 and column 3. Breakout the categories used to report nonenvironmental disposal liabilities as follows: (a) Military Equipment (Non-nuclear); (b) Excess/Obsolete Structures; and (c) Conventional Munitions Disposal.

7. Accrued Unfunded Annual Leave (Line 2.G.). Report in column 2 the current portion of the liability. Report in column 3 the noncurrent portion of the liability. Report in column 4 the total for column 2 and column 3.

* 8. Capital Lease Liability (Line 2.H.). Report in column 2 the current portion of the liability. Report in column 3 the noncurrent portion of the liability. Report in column 4 the total for column 2 and column 3. Note 16 provides additional information related to a reporting entity’s capital lease liability for the current and prior FY.

12. Other Liabilities (Line 2.L.). Report in column 2 the current portion of the liability. Report in column 3 the noncurrent portion of the liability. Report in column 4 the sum of column 2 and column 3.

13. Total Nonfederal Other Liabilities (Line 2.M.). The amounts reported represent the sum of Lines 2.A through 2.L for each column (2, 3, and 4). In addition, Line 2.M of this note must equal the amount reported on the reporting entity’s Balance Sheet. Disclose the total nonfederal portion of other liabilities not covered by budgetary resources in Note 11.
D. Total Other Liabilities (Line 3). The amounts represent the sum of “Total Intragovernmental Other Liabilities” and “Total Nonfederal Other Liabilities” for each column (2, 3, and 4).

E. Other Information Pertaining to Other Liabilities. Report other information relevant to other liabilities that is not in the categories. If any of the individual components of the “Other Liabilities” lines represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately. In addition, disclose any delinquent FECA bills due to the DOL for FECA, including amounts.

Report the Assets under Capital Lease by categories of land and buildings, equipment, or other.

A. Entity as Lessee – Assets Under Capital Lease (Lines 1 through 5). By major category of asset, report the gross assets under capital lease and the total accumulated amortization. Sum the total of Lines 1 through 4 on Line 5. The amount reported on Line 5 must equal the amount reported on Line 1.F, “Assets Under Capital Lease,” of Figure 10-23.

B. Description of Lease Arrangements. Disclose any additional information related to assets under capital leases. Provide a narrative with all dollar amounts and reasons for this additional disclosure.

101902. Instructions for Capital Leases

Present capital lease liabilities for the current and prior FY in accordance with the instructions provided in this chapter. OMB Circular A-136 requires note disclosures for the lessee and the lessor and disclosure of capital and operating leases. OMB Circular A-136 instructions for this note schedule reflect future payment disclosure requirements for five FYs and all remaining payments due in later years (after 5 years). While OMB Circular A-136 presentation is appropriate for end of year reporting, quarterly reporting requires an additional Line 1.A for payments due in the remaining current FY and will result in the reporting of 6 FYs during quarters 1 through 3, instead of the 5 FYs displayed in OMB Circular A-136.

A. Future Payments Due (Lines 1.A-G.). Report the future lease payments, by major category (columns 2, 3, and 4), for all non-cancelable leases with terms longer than 1 year. Disclose CY federal and nonfederal leases separately. Prior year lease amounts do not need to be disclosed separately. Enter the total information in column 5.

B. Total Future Lease Payments (Line 1.H.). Report the total future lease payments due for columns 2, 3, and 4. Enter the total information in column 5.

C. Less: Imputed Interest (Line 1.I.). Report the imputed interest for columns 2, 3, and 4. Enter the total information in column 5.

* D. Less: Executory Costs (Line 1.J.). Report the executory costs for columns 2, 3, and 4. Enter the total information in column 5.

E. Net Capital Lease Liability (Line 1.K.). Sum each column and enter the total in column 5.

F. Capital Lease Liabilities Covered by Budgetary Resources versus Not Covered by Budgetary Resources (Lines 2 and 3). Separately disclose the portions of the capital lease liability covered by budgetary resources and not covered by budgetary resources. (Refer to Appendix B of the OMB Circular A-11 for additional guidance, but notice a difference in terminology. The term “capital leases” as used in this volume includes “capital leases and lease purchases”).

G. FY Information. For quarterly reporting, report the payments remaining for the current FY (e.g., FY 2020) on Line 1.A.

101903. Instructions for Operating Leases

Disclose information relating to the reporting entity’s financial position and results that are N/A to any other notes.

101904. Entity as Lessee – Operating Leases

A. Description of Operating Lease Arrangements. Report information that would disclose the level of the reporting entity’s funding commitments, which include the following items in the disclosure: the major asset categories and associated lease terms; existence and terms of renewal options; escalation clauses; contingent rental restrictions imposed by lease agreements; deviations from the standard lease terms; and the lease period. Disclose CY federal and nonfederal leases separately. Prior year lease amounts do not need to be disclosed separately.
B. Future Payments Due for Operating Leases. Enter future lease payments, by major category, for all irrevocable leases with terms longer than one year. OMB Circular A-136 instructions for this note schedule reflect future payment disclosure requirements for five FYs and then all remaining payments due in later years (after 5 years). While this OMB Circular A-136 presentation is appropriate for end of year reporting, quarterly reporting requires an additional line for payments due in the remaining current FY and will result in the reporting of 6 FYs during quarters 1 through 3, instead of the 5 FYs displayed in OMB Circular A-136.

1020 NOTE 17. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

102001. Instructions

A loss contingency is an existing condition, situation, or set of circumstances involving uncertainty as to possible loss to an entity. The uncertainty should ultimately be resolved when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. The likelihood that the future event or events will result in the loss or the incurrence of a liability can range from probable to remote. SFFAS 5, as amended by SFFAS 12, “Recognition of Contingent Liabilities Arising from Litigation: An Amendment of SFFAS 5, Accounting for Liabilities of the Federal Government,” contains the criteria for recognition and disclosure of contingent liabilities. It provides an exception to the contingent liability standard for recognizing loss contingencies on matters of pending or threatened litigation and unasserted claims. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for disclosures related to commitments and contingencies.

102002. Disclosures

A. Disclosure versus Recognition of Contingent Liabilities. Disclose contingent liabilities that do not meet the criteria for recognition on the books of a reporting entity. Record the contingent liabilities that meet the recognition criteria on the books of the reporting entity and include the contingent liabilities on the applicable liability line(s) of the Balance Sheet (e.g., Environmental and Disposal Liabilities; and Other Liabilities) and in notes, as appropriate.

B. Criteria for Disclosure of a Contingent Liability. Disclose contingent liabilities if any of the conditions for liability recognition are not met and there is at least a reasonable possibility that a loss or an additional loss may have been incurred. Contingencies may include claims derived from treaties or international agreements. Disclosure in this context refers to the reporting information in notes regarded as an integral part of the basic financial information.

C. Required Disclosures. Include contingent liabilities that meet the criteria for disclosure:

1. Each reporting entity reviews its financial processes, systems, and data and modifies or expands, as necessary. The disclosure statement is a complete and accurate representation of contingent liabilities. An example of the disclosure statement is: “The reporting entity is a party in various administrative proceedings and legal actions, and claims. The Balance Sheet includes an estimated liability for those legal actions where the management and Chief Counsel consider adverse decisions “probable” and the amount of loss is measurable. In the event of an adverse judgment against the Government, some of the liabilities may be payable from the Judgment Fund. The reporting entity records Judgment Fund liabilities in Note 15, “Other Liabilities.” Refer to Note 15 for details.”

2. Disclose the nature of the contingency and an estimate of the possible liability, an estimate of the range of the possible liability, or a statement that such an estimate cannot be made. Amounts disclosed for litigation claims and assessments are fully supportable and must agree with the reporting entity’s legal representation letters and management summary schedule. (This disclosure refers to the Management Representation Letter and the supporting Management Summary Schedule. This disclosure is applicable only to entities audited by the DoD Inspector General or an independent accounting firm.)

3. Disclose amounts for potential future financial obligations, such as contractual arrangements including fixed price contracts with escalation, price redetermination, or incentive clauses; contracts authorizing variations in quantities; and contracts where allowable interest may become payable based on contractor claims under the "Disputes" clause contained in contracts. Amounts disclosed represent future potential liabilities and do not include amounts already recognized as contingent liabilities in Note 15. Consider disclosing the difference between the maximum or ceiling amounts and amounts recognized in Note 15 when it is reasonably possible the maximum amount may be paid.

4. In addition to the contingent liability disclosures required, OMB requires the following disclosures: (1) an estimate of obligations related to cancelled appropriations for which the reporting entity has a contractual commitment for payment, and (2) amounts for contractual arrangements that may require future financial obligations.

5. Disclose amounts attributable to treaties and other international agreements. Reporting entities must review treaties and other international agreements to determine whether they give rise to contingent liabilities, and if so, whether the contingent liabilities should be recognized or disclosed. SFFAS 5, as amended by SFFAS 12, contains the criteria for recognition and disclosure of contingent liabilities. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for required OMB disclosures.

6. Disclose any other applicable contingencies, along with additional information to clarify the nature of the contingency. If a contingent liability has been recognized for all or part of the item(s), disclose it in Note 15, and do not include in Note 17.

7. For reporting entities that are unable to disclose contingencies related to specific contracts, disclose that the reporting entity “is a party in numerous individual contracts that contain clauses, such as price escalations, award fee payments, or dispute resolution, that may or may not result in the future outflow of expenditures. Currently, the entity does not have a systemic process by which it captures or assesses these potential contingent liabilities. Therefore, the amounts reported may not fairly present the reporting entity’s contingent liabilities.”
NOTE 18. FUNDS FROM DEDICATED COLLECTIONS

Figures 10-37, 10-38, and 10-39 identify a reporting entity’s funds from dedicated collections for the current and prior FY as reported on the Balance Sheet, the Statement of Net Cost (SNC), and the SCNP.

102101. Instructions

A. Funds from dedicated collections are financed by specifically identified revenues, provided to the government by nonfederal sources, often supplemented by other financing sources, and which remain available over time. These specifically identified revenues and other financing sources are required by statute to be used for designated activities, benefits, or purposes, and must be accounted for separately from the Federal Government’s general revenues. Refer to the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance for required criteria for recognizing funds from dedicated collections.

B. SFFAS 43 contains current policy for reporting dedicated collections. SFFAS 43 clarifies that at least one source of funds must be external to the Federal Government for a fund to qualify as a fund from dedicated collections. It explicitly excludes any fund established to account for pensions, other retirement benefits, other post-employment benefits or other benefits provided for federal employees (civilian and military).
C. If more than one component entity is responsible for carrying out the program financed with revenues and other financing sources that are dedicated collections, and the separate portions of the program can be clearly identified with a responsible component entity, then each component entity reports its portion in accordance with the requirements of SFFAS 43. If separate portions cannot be identified, the component entity with program management responsibility reports the fund. Refer to the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance for required disclosures for each individually reported fund from dedicated collections, or portion thereof, for which a component entity has program management responsibility.

A. Funds established to account for pensions, other retirement benefits, other post-employment benefits, and other employee benefits are excluded. The note schedule must show current FY and prior FY data.

B. Report all eliminations between funds from dedicated collections and other funds within the reporting entity. If a Component entity reports a different portion of a fund from dedicated collections than it reported in prior FYs, it will not restate its prior FY financial statements, but disclose the change in the note. This applies if a DoD Component entity does not report a fund from dedicated collections, or a portion thereof, that it reported in the previous year.

C. DoD presents funds from dedicated collections on a combined basis. Note 20, “Disclosures Related to the Statement of Changes in Net Position,” summarizes the elimination of intradepartmental activity between funds from dedicated collections and all other fund types to arrive at the consolidated net position totals presented on the Balance Sheet.

Disclose information related to the SNC.

A. Gross Cost (Line 1). This line contains costs that arise from exchange transactions made between two reporting entities within the Federal Government. The effects of intra-entity (that is, trading with itself) business transactions are eliminated from reporting entity statements in order to prevent overstating costs. Line 1 also contains costs that arise from exchange transactions made between the reporting entity and a nonfederal entity. Line 1 agrees with the amount reported on the SNC.

B. Less: Earned Revenue (Line 2). This line contains revenues that arise from exchange transactions made between two reporting entities within the Federal Government. The effects of intra-entity (that is, trading with itself) business transactions are eliminated from reporting entity statements in order to prevent overstating revenue. Line 2 also contains revenues that arise from exchange transactions made between the reporting entity and a nonfederal entity. Line 2 agrees with the amount reported on the SNC.

C. Losses/(Gains) from Actuarial Assumption Changes for Military Retirement Benefits (Line 3). This line contains the losses and gains from actuarial assumption changes for military retirement benefits reported for Military Retirement Benefits; Civil Works; Military Personnel; Operations, Readiness and Support; Procurement; Research, Development, Test and Evaluation; Family Housing and Military Construction; and on the Consolidated line.

D. Net Program Costs. This line is the cost incurred by the reporting entity (Line 1), less any exchange revenues earned (Line 2), plus or minus the losses or gains from actuarial assumption changes for military retirement benefits (Line 3). This amount agrees with the amount reported on the SNC, SCNP, and Reconciliation of Net Cost to Net Outlays.

E. Costs Not Assigned to Programs (Line 4). This line is the costs not assigned to programs and is added to the Consolidated section to arrive at the Total Net Cost.

F. (Less: Earned Revenues) Not Attributed to Programs (Line 5). This line is the revenue not attributed to programs and is subtracted from the Consolidated section to arrive at the Total Net Cost.

G. General Disclosures

1. Disclose that the SNC is unique because its principles are driven on understanding the net cost of programs and organizations that the Federal Government supports through appropriations or other means. This statement provides gross and net cost information that can be related to the amount of output or outcome for a given program and organization administered by a responsible reporting entity.

2. Disclose that intragovernmental costs and revenue relate to transactions made between two reporting entities within the Federal Government.

3. Disclose that public costs and revenues are exchange transactions made between the reporting entity and a nonfederal entity. For public earned revenue, the buyer of the goods or services is a nonfederal entity. For intragovernmental costs, the seller is a federal entity. If a federal entity purchases goods or services from another federal entity and sells them to the public, classify the exchange revenue as public, but classify the related costs as intragovernmental. The purpose of this classification is to enable the Federal Government to provide consolidated financial statements, and not to match public and intragovernmental revenue with costs incurred to produce public and intragovernmental revenue.

4. Reporting entities who are unable to track customer information at the transaction level must make additional disclosures. Disclose that many of the reporting entity’s systems do not track intragovernmental transactions by customer at the transaction level. Expenses were adjusted by [cite methodology]: (1) reclassifying amounts between federal and nonfederal expenses; or (2) accruing additional accounts payable and expenses. See Chapter 13 for additional information on intragovernmental reconciliations and eliminations.

5. If the reporting entity was able to compare its intragovernmental costs and revenues with corresponding balances of its intragovernmental trading partners (other federal entities), then it must disclose any material differences identified. Additionally, provide an explanation for the material differences identified and whether or not the differences were resolved.

102202. Other Disclosures

A. Cost Disclosure Specific to General Funds. Disclose, if applicable, that the reporting entity does not meet specific accounting standards and that information presented is based on budgetary obligations, disbursements, and collection transactions, as well as nonfinancial feeder systems adjusted to record known accruals for major items such as payroll expenses, accounts payable, and environmental liabilities.

B. Cost Disclosure Specific to Working Capital Fund (WCF). Disclose, if applicable, that the reporting entity does not meet specific accounting standards. Each reporting entity reviews its financial processes, systems, and data and discloses, if applicable, that while the WCF generally records transactions on an accrual basis, the systems do not always capture actual costs in a timely manner. Information presented on this statement is primarily based on budgetary obligation, disbursement, or collection transactions, as well as information from nonfinancial feeder systems.

C. Inter-entity Costs. Refer to SFFAS 55, “Amending Inter-entity Cost Provisions,” for disclosure requirements related to inter-entity costs.

102203. Stewardship PP&E

Stewardship PP&E assets include Heritage Assets and stewardship land. Disclose, if applicable, the following:

A. If the cost of Heritage Assets and stewardship land transferred from other federal entities is not known, the receiving entity must disclose the number of physical units by major category. Do not recognize Heritage Assets and stewardship land acquired through donation or devise as a cost in calculating net cost, but disclose the fair value of the property. If the fair value is not known or reasonably estimable, disclose information related to the type and quantity of assets received.

B. Disclose any amounts expensed during the current period in the SNC for the costs of acquiring, constructing, improving, reconstructing, or renovating Heritage Assets (other than Multi-Use Heritage Assets), and the cost of acquiring stewardship land and any costs to prepare a stewardship asset for its intended use. If the accounting system does not provide the necessary information to make the required disclosure for all or part of these expenses, the reporting entity must make the following disclosure to recognize the weakness and to disclose the portion of the expenses that are known. (If no portion of the expenses is known, include only the first sentence of the disclosure.)

C. Disclose that the reporting entity’s accounting system does not capture information relative to Heritage Assets separately and distinctly from normal operations. Where it was able to separate the cost of acquiring, constructing, improving, reconstructing, or renovating Heritage Assets, the reporting entity identified the dollar amount for the FY.

1023 NOTE 20. DISCLOSURES RELATED TO THE STATEMENT OF CHANGES IN NET POSITION

102301. Instructions

Disclose information related to the SCNP.

102302 Consolidating Net Position

DoD presents funds from dedicated collections on a combined basis. Figure 10-41 summarizes the elimination of intradepartmental activity between funds from dedicated collections and all other fund types to arrive at the consolidated totals presented on the Balance Sheet and the Financial Report of the U.S. Government (FR). See Note 18, “Funds from Dedicated Collections,” for additional information on reporting dedicated collections balances.

*102303 Reconciliation of the SBR to the SCNP

The Appropriations Received line item on the SCNP will not agree with the Appropriations line item on the SBR due to differences between proprietary and budgetary accounting concepts and reporting policies. Figure 10-42 identifies the differences, and amounts needed to reconcile, the two reports.

*102304 Reporting

A. Appropriations. Include items reported as reductions and additions to amounts reported on the SBR, and items not reported as appropriations received on the SCNP. Disclose, if applicable, that Appropriations Received on the SBR does not agree with Appropriations Received on the SCNP.

B. Reductions and Additions to Appropriations. Report items reported as reductions or additions to the appropriations balance reported on the SBR.

C. Items Not Reported as Appropriations Received. Report items not reported as reductions or additions to the appropriations received balance on the SCNP.

* D. Other Information. Discuss other information to help the user understand the SCNP. If any of the individual components of the statement lines titled “Other” represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately. Refer to SFFAS 55 for disclosure requirements related to inter-entity costs.

102401. Net Adjustments to Unobligated Balance, Brought Forward, October 1

OMB A-136 requires preparers of the financial statements to disclose and explain material adjustments impacting the SBR unobligated beginning balance. If the adjustment represents a correction of a material error, and the earliest period presented is not the period in which the error occurred, and the cumulative effect is attributable to prior periods, report the cumulative effect as a prior period adjustment. If the period is presented on the financial statements, report the adjustment in the earliest affected period presented by correcting any individual amounts on the financial statements.

102402. Terms of Borrowing Authority Used

Disclose repayment requirements, financing sources for repayment, and other terms of borrowing authority used.

102403. Available Borrowing/Contract Authority, End of Period

Disclose and report the amount of borrowing and contract authority available at the end of the reporting period for the current and prior FY.

1025 NOTE 22. DISCLOSURES RELATED TO INCIDENTAL CUSTODIAL COLLECTIONS

102501 Instructions

Reporting entities collecting immaterial custodial revenues that are incidental to their primary mission may disclose the sources and amount of collections and the amounts distributed to others in the accompanying notes.

102502 Disclosures

A. Disclose that the reporting entity collected \[\text{[$XXX]}\] of incidental custodial revenues generated primarily from [identify the source of collections]. Also, disclose that the reporting entity distributed \[\text{[$XXX]}\] to [name of organization or agency] or that the reporting entity has not yet distributed the incidental custodial revenues collected.

B. Disclose other information relating to the further understanding of incidental custodial collections.

C. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 for additional disclosures required for incidental custodial collections.

102601. Instructions

Disclose the fiduciary assets, liabilities, and inflows/outflows of the reporting entity in accordance with SFFAS 31.
102602. Fiduciary Activities

Fiduciary activities collect the receipt for cash or other assets in which nonfederal individuals or entities (or “nonfederal parties”) have an ownership interest that the Federal Government must uphold. Base the fiduciary relationship on statutory or other legal authority. Fiduciary activities are not recognized on the proprietary financial statements, but they are required to be reported on schedules in the notes to the financial statements. Fiduciary activities may involve a variety of transactions including, but are not limited to, cash, investments, other assets, liabilities, inflows, and outflows. See SFFAS 31 for additional reporting information for fiduciary activities.

*102603. Exclusions

SFFAS 31 excludes certain transactions from the reporting requirements for fiduciary activities, including but not limited to, unpaid payroll withholdings and garnishments, unearned revenue, operating revenues and expenses, and seized property, including seized monetary instruments. See SFFAS 31 for a list of exclusions.

*102604. Reporting

Reporting on fiduciary activities is required in two notes to the financial statements. Within Note 1, “Summary of Significant Accounting Policies,” provide a statement that says, “Fiduciary assets are not assets of the Federal Government and are not recognized on the Balance Sheet.” In Note 23, provide a description of the fiduciary relationship, such as the applicable legal authority, the objectives of the fiduciary activity, and a general description of the beneficial owners or class of owners. Also, disclose fiduciary activities in the following schedules:

A. Schedule of Fiduciary Activity. Disclose the beginning balance of net assets; the inflows/outflows from the fiduciary activities by category; the change in net assets; and the ending balance of net assets.

B. Schedule of Fiduciary Net Assets. Disclose the current and prior period ending balances of assets by category, liabilities by category, and a variance analysis addressing significant changes from the prior period.

C. Non-monetary Fiduciary Assets. Include a description of the composition of the assets, the method(s) of valuation, and changes (if any) from prior period accounting methods.

D. Non-Valued Fiduciary Assets. Include a description of non-valued fiduciary assets. These assets may include land held in trust. Component entities holding non-valued fiduciary assets disclose them in a Schedule of Changes in Non-Valued Fiduciary Assets.
NOTE 24. RECONCILIATION OF NET COST TO NET OUTLAYS

*102701. Reconciliation Objective

B. The Reconciliation of Net Cost to Net Outlays accomplishes this reconciliation. Note 24 reconciles budgetary obligations and nonbudgetary resources available to the reporting entity with its net cost of operations. Refer to SFFAS 53 for additional reporting policies related to the reconciliation of net cost to net outlays.

102702. Budgetary to Proprietary Accounting Reconciling Differences

Because different accounting bases are used for budgetary and proprietary accounting, some transactions may appear in only one set of accounts due to legislative requirements or USGAAP (e.g., accrual of unfunded environmental and disposal liabilities that are recorded only in the proprietary records). Furthermore, not all obligations or offsetting collections may result in expenses or exchange revenue (e.g., purchase of a building is capitalized on the Balance Sheet in the proprietary accounts, but obligated and outlayed in the budgetary accounts).

A. The reconciliation summarizes differences due solely to budgetary and proprietary accounting. Other differences encountered must be researched and corrected.

B. See the DFAS, Enterprise Solutions and Standards, Financial Reporting, Audited Financial Statements Reconciliation Manual for additional information on Defense Departmental Reporting System reconciliations used for financial reporting.

102703. Reconciliation Crosswalk

It is imperative to comply with the “Additional Information Required” column in the crosswalk. This column limits or provides further detail on items that can be reported in these lines. A crosswalk for this note is available in the query section of the Defense Departmental Reporting System-Audited Financial Statements.

*102704. Instructions

Preparers of financial statements perform a detailed reconciliation of net outlays and other resources to net cost of operations, identifying all applicable reconciling items. Preparers should refer to FASAB’s Implementation Guide to SFFAS 7, “Accounting for Revenue and Other Financing Sources: Detailed Information on the Statement of Financing,” for detailed guidance on preparing the reconciliation. Budgetary resources reported in this schedule are those resources reported on the SBR and defined in OMB Circular A-11. Other resources reported in this schedule are also reflected in the SCNP.
A. Net Cost of Operations (SNC) (Line 1). Report the net cost of operations balance from the SNC.

B. Property, plant, and equipment depreciation (Line 2). Report the amount of depreciation expense charged to PP&E.

C. Property, plant, and equipment disposal & revaluation (Line 3). Report gains and losses associated with the disposal and revaluation of PP&E.

D. Year-end credit reform subsidy re-estimates (Line 4). Report the balance for subsidy payables to the financing account, and any adjustments or re-estimates to subsidy expense.

E. Unrealized valuation loss/(gain) on investments (Line 5). Report the unrealized valuation gains and losses associated with investments.

F. Other (Line 6). Report components of net cost that are not part of net outlays, which are not reported on other lines.

G. Increase/(decrease) in assets (Lines 7.a through 7.d). Report the increase or decrease in the overall balance for accounts receivable, loans receivable, investments, and other assets.

H. (Increase)/decrease in liabilities (Lines 8.a through 8.e). Report the increase or decrease in the overall balance for accounts payable, salaries and benefits, insurance guarantee program liabilities, environmental and disposal liabilities, and other identified liabilities.

I. Other financing sources (Lines 9.a through 9.c). Report the increase or decrease in the overall balance for federal employee retirement benefits as paid by OPM and imputed to the agency, transfers in or out without reimbursement, and other imputed financing.

J. Total Components of Net Cost That Are Not Part of Net Outlays (Line 10). Report the sum of Line 2 through Line 9.c.

K. Effect of prior year agencies credit reform subsidy re-estimates (Line 11). Report the sum of credit reform subsidy re-estimates recorded in a prior year.

L. Acquisition of capital assets (Line 12). Report the amount of capitalized PP&E purchased during the FY, in addition to any cost capitalization offsets.

M. Acquisition of inventory (Line 13). Report the amount of inventory and related property purchased during the FY.

N. Acquisition of other assets (Line 14). Report the amount of other assets purchased during the FY, not reported on lines 12 or 13.
O. Other (Line 15). Report components of net outlays that are part of net costs, which are not reported on other lines.

P. Total Components of Net Outlays That Are Not Part of Net Cost (Line 16). Report the sum of Line 11 through Line 15.

Q. Other Temporary Timing Differences (Line 17). Report amounts attributable to temporary timing differences.

S. Agency Outlays, Net, Statement of Budgetary Resources (Line 19). Report the net agency outlays, net balance shown on the SBR.

T. Reconciling Difference (Line 20). Report the difference between the amounts shown on Line 18 and Line 19.

102705. Narrative Disclosures

Report any information relating to the reporting entity that provides a further understanding of the entity’s note. At a minimum, discuss the following:

A. Adjustment to Align Budgetary Data to Proprietary Data. For reporting entities whose budgetary data does not agree with proprietary data, disclose that because of the reporting entity’s financial system limitations, budgetary data will not be in agreement with proprietary expenses and assets capitalized. The differences between budgetary and proprietary data are a previously identified deficiency. Also, disclose the amount (absolute value) of the adjustment to the note to bring it into balance with the SNC. Report the adjustment in one of three categories: Resources That Finance the Acquisition of Assets; Other Components Not Requiring or Generating Resources; or Revaluation of Assets or Liabilities (if applicable).

B. Other Lines (Line 6 and Line 15). If any of the individual components of Line 6 or Line 15 represent 10 percent or more of the value of the line, disclose those components separately.

1028 NOTE 25. PUBLIC-PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS

102801. Definition

SFFAS 49, “Public-Private Partnerships: Disclosure Requirements,” defines public-private partnerships as risk-sharing arrangements or transactions lasting more than five years between public and private sector entities.

102802. Reporting

A. Entities involved in public-private partnerships, as defined by SFFAS 49, review the conclusive risk characteristics, and possibly the suggestive risk characteristics, to determine the required disclosures. See paragraphs 20 and 21 of SFFAS 49 for a listing of conclusive and suggestive risk characteristics.

B. SFFAS 49 exempts certain arrangements or transactions from public-private partnership disclosure requirements. See paragraph 15 of SFFAS 49 for a listing of exempt arrangements and transactions. Such exempt arrangements or transactions are subject to existing disclosure requirements in other SFFAS applicable to such arrangements or transactions.

C. Assess arrangements or transactions not excluded by paragraph 15 of SFFAS 49, which meet the public-private partnership definition in paragraphs 16 through 18, against the risk-based characteristics in paragraphs 20 and 21. When an entity determines disclosures are required, include the information specified in SFFAS 49, paragraph 24. Disclosures can be provided by individual public-private partnerships or summarized.

1029 NOTE 26. DISCLOSURE ENTITIES AND RELATED PARTIES

102901. Instructions

SFFAS 47 instructs preparers of the financial statements, at the governmentwide and component reporting entity levels, in determining what organizations should be included in the reporting entity’s general-purpose federal financial reports for accountability purposes. The general-purpose federal financial reports include all organizations budgeted for by elected officials of the Federal Government, owned by the Federal Government, or controlled by the Federal Government with risk of loss or expectation of benefits. SFFAS 47 requires reporting entities to disclose certain information about disclosure entities and related parties.

102902. Disclosure Entities

Preparers should consider both qualitative and quantitative materiality in determining the information presented regarding disclosure entities. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 and the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance for required disclosures for disclosure entities.

102903. Related Parties

Consider organizations related parties if an existing relationship, or one party to the existing relationship, has the ability to exercise significant influence over the other party’s policy decisions. Only relationships that would be misleading to exclude information about such relationships warrant disclosure. Refer to OMB Circular A-136 and the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance for required disclosures for related parties.
NOTE 27. RECLASSIFICATION OF BALANCE SHEET, STATEMENT OF NET COST, AND STATEMENT OF CHANGES IN NET POSITION FOR COMPILATION IN THE U.S. GOVERNMENTWIDE FINANCIAL REPORT

103001. Instructions

Disclose information identifying how amounts reported on the AFR for the Balance Sheet, SNC, and SCNP are reclassified for compilation of the FR.

103002. Reporting

Agency financial statements reflect all agency financial transactions, including transactions with other Government agencies and transactions with the public. The FR includes only the Government’s financial transactions with the public; and does not include intragovernmental transactions.

103003. Reclassifications

Note 27 identifies reclassifications used to reconcile balances reported in agency financial statements with the FR. The reclassifications identify detailed line items shown separately in agency statements, but aggregated in the FR. Amounts shown separately in the FR, but aggregated in agency statements, are also identified.

NOTE 28. RESTATEMENTS

103101. Misstatements

Disclosure is required when management becomes aware of a potential misstatement due to a material error(s) whether or not the exact amount is known or has been corrected at the time financial statements are prepared.

103102. General Disclosures

A. Where amount of the misstatement is known, the disclosure must include the disclosures identified in the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance for misstatements.

B. Where management has become aware that a material error has occurred, but the exact amount is not known and/or financial statements have not yet been corrected, include the disclosures required by OMB Circular A-136.

CHAPTER 12

REQUIRED SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

1201 GENERAL

120101. Purpose

This chapter provides the Department of Defense (DoD) policy and guidance for reporting Required Supplementary Information (RSI) to accompany the basic financial statements.

120102. Authoritative Guidance

C. DoD Deputy Chief Financial Officer (DCFO) policy memorandum dated September 30, 2015, “Accounting Policy Update for Financial Statement Reporting for Real Property Assets,” hereafter referred to as “DCFO Memo” in this chapter, provides the guidance for determining which DoD reporting entity is responsible for reporting real property on its financial statements. The memo will be incorporated into relevant chapters in Volume 4.

1202 DISAGGREGATED STATEMENT OF BUDGETARY RESOURCES (SBR)

DoD reporting entities must prepare and report the disaggregated SBR as RSI. The format of the disaggregated SBR must follow the format contained in Chapter 7. As stated in OMB Circular A-136, for purposes of this presentation, small budget accounts may be aggregated. DoD has elected to aggregate smaller budget accounts within an account grouping titled "Other Accounts." The major account groupings and the aggregate of smaller budget accounts must, in total, agree with the amounts reported on the face of the reporting entity's SBR. The DoD Agency-wide SBR must be disaggregated into the following appropriation/fund account groupings: (1) Military Retirement Benefits; (2) Civil Works; (3) Military Personnel; (4) Operations, Readiness, and Support; (5) Procurement; (6) Research, Development, Test, and Evaluation; and (7) Family Housing and Military Construction. Refer to Chapter 7 for additional guidance and detail on the disaggregated SBRs for the various military departments, funds, and other Defense entities.

*120301. Policy

DoD reporting entities are required to report material amounts of DM&R on property, plant, and equipment (PP&E) (if applicable) as supplementary information to accompany their annual financial statements. The determination of whether an item is material depends on the degree to which omitting or misstating information about the item makes it probable that the judgment of a reasonable person relying on the information would have been changed or influenced by the omission or the misstatement. PP&E related accounting policy and definitions are contained in Volume 4.

120302. Definition

As defined in SFFAS 42, DM&R are maintenance and repairs (M&R) that were not performed when they should have been or were scheduled to be, and which are put off or delayed for a future period. M&R are activities directed toward keeping fixed assets in an acceptable condition. M&R activities include preventive maintenance; replacement of parts, systems, or components; and other activities needed to preserve or maintain the asset. M&R, as distinguished from capital improvements, exclude activities directed towards expanding the capacity of an asset or otherwise upgrading it to serve needs different from, or significantly greater than, its current use. The amounts reported must include both funded and unfunded DM&R, but need not be separately reported as such in the RSI.

120303. Required Reporting in RSI

A. In accordance with SFFAS 42, DoD reporting entities, if applicable, are required to:

1. Describe their M&R policies and how they are applied (i.e., method of measuring DM&R);

2. Discuss how they rank and prioritize M&R activities among their other activities;

3. Identify the factors considered in determining acceptable condition standards;

4. State whether DM&R relates solely to capitalized general PP&E and stewardship PP&E or also to non-capitalized or fully depreciated general PP&E;

5. Identify the PP&E for which management does not measure and/or report DM&R, and provide the rationale for the exclusion of other than non-capitalized or fully depreciated general PP&E;
6. Provide estimated beginning and ending DM&R balances for each major category of PP&E (i.e., general PP&E; heritage assets; and stewardship land), for which M&R has been deferred. Refer to the Defense Finance and Accounting Service Financial Reporting Guidance for specific reporting formats and timing;

7. Explain significant changes in estimated DM&R balances by category (i.e., general PP&E, heritage assets, and stewardship land) from the prior year; and

8. Explain significant changes in the policies and factors subject to the reporting requirements from the prior year.

B. SFFAS 42 permits the following methods to measure DM&R:

1. Condition assessment surveys, which are periodic visual (i.e., physical) inspections of PP&E to determine their current condition and estimated cost to correct any deficiencies;

2. Life cycle cost forecasts, which are acquisition techniques that consider operating, maintenance, and other costs in addition to the acquisition cost of assets; or

3. Other methods similar to the condition assessment survey or life cycle cost forecast methods.

C. To comply with the guidance in subparagraph 120303.A.7 and A.8, the determination of whether a change is significant is a matter for professional judgement at the reporting entity level. Significance is separate and distinct from materiality and could consider:

1. The absolute dollar amount or the percentage change in DM&R estimates,

2. The perceived importance of the reason for the change to the financial statement users, or

3. The potential consequences arising from the change (e.g., the effect on mission).

D. SFFAS 42 also requires that condition standards, related assessment methods, and reporting formats be consistently applied unless management determines that changes are necessary. Although condition information is essential in developing DM&R amounts, SFFAS 42 eliminated the previous requirement to report condition information.

E. The DoD Component that reports the real property in its financial statements in accordance with the DCFO Memo identified in paragraph 120102.C is primarily responsible for preparing, compiling, and reporting the RSI for DM&R on that real property. Chapter 2 provides additional Component responsibilities involving preparation of the draft/working versions and final version of the Financial Section of the Agency Financial Report that includes the RSI.

F. Information presented in the RSI should be presented on a comparative basis when the information would be meaningful to the user of the financial report.

CHAPTER 13

ADJUSTMENTS, ELIMINATIONS, AND OTHER SPECIAL INTRAGOVERNMENTAL RECONCILIATION REQUIREMENTS

*130101. Overview

Intragovernmental transactions result from business activities conducted between two federal entities, called trading partners. The accurate reporting of reciprocal balances, and proper elimination of reciprocal activity between trading partners, requires accurate documentation of accounting events. Imbalances occur when federal entities or trading partners are unable to account for and reconcile differences when buying and selling goods and services.

130102. Purpose

This chapter provides general instructions for trading partner exchange of data, eliminating intragovernmental transactions from the Department of Defense (DoD) quarterly and annual financial statements, and providing elimination information to the Department of the Treasury for use in preparing the Governmentwide financial statements.

*130103. Authoritative Guidance

B. Treasury’s Bureau of the Fiscal Service (Fiscal Service) requires the use of Government-Invoicing (G-Invoicing) for the exchange of intragovernmental transactions between federal trading partners under Title 31, United States Code, sections 3512(b) and 3513. G-Invoicing adoption is required by all Federal Program Agencies (FPAs) by June 30, 2021, as mandated in the G-Invoicing Implementation Playbook Checklist.

C. The DoD Financial Reporting Guidance includes instructions and adjusting entries used to record intragovernmental eliminations.

130201. Intragovernmental Balances

All DoD reporting entities are required to report intragovernmental account balances in their financial statements, eliminate appropriate intra-DoD balances, and classify intragovernmental account balances by category and level. The category of transaction refers to the nature of the accounting event causing the transaction. Refer to section 1303 for information addressing reciprocal account transactions. The level of the transaction refers to the nature of the trading partner involved. Refer to section 1305 for information addressing levels of intragovernmental trading partners.

*130202. Eliminations

A. Eliminations represent the process where a federal entity having transactions with another federal entity ensures that the amounts on its trial balances for specific accounts correlate with those amounts in the reciprocal accounts of the federal entity with which business was conducted.

B. The purpose of eliminating intragovernmental account balances is to offset the effect of transactions between a DoD reporting entity and other FPAs, DoD reporting entities, and organizations within a DoD reporting entity in the financial statements. For reference, per Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-136, “Financial Reporting Requirements,” the Statement of Budgetary Resources is a combined statement and intragovernmental budgetary accounts are not eliminated.

*1303 RECIPROCAL ACCOUNT TRANSACTIONS

Divide the transactions for intragovernmental data collected into the reciprocal categories, and the reciprocal United States Standard General Ledger (USSGL) accounts comprising these categories. A reciprocal category is comprised of a set of reclassified financial statement line items that are the reciprocal of each other (accounts payable/accounts receivable). These categories assist in the elimination of federal activity at the Governmentwide level to prepare the Financial Report of the United States Government (FR). Additionally, these reciprocal categories facilitate the reconciliation of activities between federal entities. See Appendices 2 and 3 of TFM 2-4700 for additional information on reciprocal categories.

*1304 INTRAGOVERNMENTAL CAPITALIZED PURCHASES

Capture and report all current year capitalized asset purchase amounts in USSGL accounts included in the DoD Standard Reporting Chart of Accounts. These accounts must identify whether the items capitalized were purchased from non-federal sources or FPAs. Reporting entities capture agency trading partner codes when the capitalized items are from FPAs. Use this information to prepare the financial statements and reconcile reciprocal accounts with the federal trading partners. The full reconciliation equation, “expense plus current year capitalized acquisitions from a FPA equals the reciprocal FPA revenue,” is reflected in the “Buy/Sell Costs/Revenues” category for elimination of intragovernmental transactions addressed in TFM 2-4700.
1305 LEVELS OF INTRAGOVERNMENTAL TRADING PARTNERS

A. G-Invoicing. To assist FPAs with reconciling intragovernmental transactions, Fiscal Service mandated use of G-Invoicing, which facilitates the exchange of intragovernmental transaction information between federal trading partners and serves as the interface by which FPAs submit and reconcile intragovernmental data. FPAs involved with intragovernmental reimbursable activities use G-Invoicing to originate and settle intragovernmental agreements, orders, and invoices. G-Invoicing adoption is required by all FPAs by June 30, 2021, as mandated in the G-Invoicing Implementation Playbook Checklist.

B. Reporting Attributes. Assign each USSGL account the appropriate federal/non-federal indicator as defined in the Standard Financial Information Structure (SFIS). See the USSGL Account Attribute Table in Part 1, Section IV of the USSGL for additional guidance pertaining to permitted indicators for each USSGL account. There are three levels of intragovernmental trading partners for which intragovernmental transactions must be identified.

*130502. Level 1 Trading Partners – Non-DoD FPAs

Level 1 transactions are between DoD and other FPAs, e.g., between the Department of the Air Force and the Department of Commerce. Identify Level 1 transaction balances by the Treasury Trading Partner codes and attributes attached to the USSGL accounts. Use Level 1 transaction balances to eliminate intragovernmental transactions during preparation of the FR. Appendix 1a of TFM 2-4700 contains a current list of federal trading partner codes. Level 1 transactions include sales of goods and services and specialized transactions, such as loans, interest receivable, other post-employment benefits, or civil service retirement benefit payments. DoD reporting entities are to document the procedures used to identify and verify the accuracy of their intragovernmental assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses balances.

A. Intragovernmental Transactions

1. Fiscal Service issued TFM 2-4700 to streamline the accounting for intragovernmental transactions and provide a means for federal entities to ensure accurate recording, reporting, and reconciliation. All DoD entities executing or participating in intragovernmental acquisitions (either internal to DoD or external with other federal partners) are required to follow the intragovernmental transaction guidance contained in TFM 2-4700, and to exchange and capture the pertinent data elements specified.

2. Treasury eliminates all intragovernmental transactions when preparing the FR. Since Treasury eliminates these amounts, the accounting centers must ensure balances confirmed with the trading partners agree with balances submitted via the Governmentwide Treasury Account Symbol Adjusted Trial Balance System (GTAS).
B. Intragovernmental Fiduciary Transactions

1. Selected Level 1 intragovernmental transactions with the Treasury Investments, Borrowings, and Federal Financing Bank; the Department of Labor Federal Employees Compensation Act transactions; the Office of Personnel Management Employee Benefit transactions for Retirement, Health Insurance, Life Insurance; and custodial and non-entity transactions with federal entities other than the General Fund (GF) are specifically required to be fully reconciled.

2. Treasury eliminates all intragovernmental fiduciary transactions when preparing the FR. Accounting centers must ensure balances confirmed with the trading partners agree with balances submitted via GTAS.

130503. Level 2 and 3 Trading Partners – Other DoD Reporting Entities

A. Level 2. Level 2 balances result from transactions between DoD reporting entities, e.g., between the Department of the Army Working Capital Funds (WCF) and the Department of the Navy GF. Volume 6B, Chapter 1, contains information on DoD reporting entities. Level 2 transactions are identified by trading partner codes and supplemental internal DoD codes, such as business partner numbers, trading partner federal/non-federal indicators, and other trading partner codes included in SFIS.

B. Level 3. Level 3 trading partners are within a DoD Component, i.e., Army WCF, Supply Management and Army WCF, Depot Maintenance, Other; and Department of the Navy GF, Operations and Maintenance and Department of the Navy GF, Research Development, Test, and Evaluation. There are up to four sublevels of eliminations, with the elimination totals shown on the DoD Component’s supporting consolidating statements. For example, the Navy GF Level 3 eliminations would be between: (A) Navy Military Personnel and Navy Procurement; (B) Navy Military Personnel trial balance AT17AA1_1453 and Navy Reserve Personnel trial balance AT17AA1_1405; and (C) internally within Navy Military Personnel trial balance AT17AA1_1453.

*130504. Eliminations

A. Trading Partner Reconciliations. DoD reporting entities reconcile with their trading partners at the detail transaction level. Detail transactions provide support for reported balances requiring elimination with trading partners. The reporting entity is ultimately responsible for the accuracy of its trading partner data; therefore, it is responsible for initiating actions to reconcile balances with its trading partners. DoD buy/sell eliminations include detailed transactions and should be supported by a Military Interdepartmental Purchase Request, sales order, customer bill, purchase order, contract, voucher, or the seller/buyer’s line of accounting, and be readily available upon request. Include similar detail supporting documentation for other reciprocal categories identified in TFM 2-4700. A DoD reporting entity unable to provide detail transactions at the appropriate time of the financial statement reporting cycle must adjust its balance to match the seller’s or buyer’s supportable data.
1. Reporting entities document the trading partner agreement in the General Terms and Conditions (GT&C) for instances where both buyers and sellers are currently on G-Invoicing. Reporting entities apply the GT&C to all transactions with DoD, other federal trading partners, and with internal DoD trading partners using G-Invoicing for GT&C.

2. Alternatively, DoD reporting entities may establish a bilateral Memorandum of Understanding with each of their DoD trading partners not using G-Invoicing. Such agreements, at a minimum must identify the following:
   a. The reconciliation timeframes (frequency);
   b. Accrual processes (agreed upon methodologies);
   c. Availability or exchange of detailed transactions and key supporting documentation;
   d. Protocol to resolve differences between trading partners; and
   e. Other processes requiring clarification.

B. Intragovernmental Business Rules. Reporting entities with clean audit opinions on their annual financial statements provide intragovernmental transaction data in accordance with the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance. It is not expected that trading partner adjustments will have an adverse impact on agencies with a clean audit opinion; therefore, unsupported adjustments should not be allocated to agencies with a clean audit opinion. No supported or unsupported undistributed collections or disbursements should be allocated to either accounts receivable or payable balances of agencies with a clean audit opinion, unless specifically identifiable to the agency.

   1. Document identified differences including, but not limited to, the difference amount, USSGL accounts impacted, rationale for the difference, and the status of communication with trading partners.

   2. Prioritize trading partner material differences to reduce high-dollar variances. Agencies must work to reconcile and eliminate differences regardless of materiality.

C. Dispute Resolution. The Office of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) oversees a DoD dispute resolution process to resolve balance discrepancies between DoD reporting entities. Reporting entities unable to reach an agreement with respect to intragovernmental account balances must escalate the issue to the Financial Improvement and Audit Remediation (FIAR) Directorate for resolution. Submit requests to the FIAR Directorate no later than the 12th business day of the month following the end of the quarter. At fiscal year-end, final adjustments must be completed prior to the issuance of the Agency Financial Report.

   1. Reporting entities requesting FIAR Directorate review must provide the following with the request:

a. Completed Trading Partner Dispute Resolution Request Form;

b. Documentation demonstrating attempts to reconcile balances with trading partners at the senior executive or agency comptroller level; and

c. Documentation supporting balances the DoD reporting entities are seeking to resolve with trading partners.

2. The FIAR Directorate will facilitate resolution of the balance discrepancies within 2 business days. Once FIAR has rendered a final decision, the affected agencies must adjust their financial records to reflect the decision within 3 business days, but no later than the end of the quarter.

3. DoD reporting entities are expected to work with their respective non-DoD trading partners to reconcile and resolve intragovernmental differences. Working through the Defense Finance and Accounting Service, Enterprise Solutions and Standards, Financial Reporting-Audited Financial Statements Directorate, reciprocal accounts disputes with other FPAs will continue to follow the dispute resolution process identified in Appendix 6 of TFM 2-4700.

1306 ELIMINATION OF BUDGETARY ACCOUNTS (4000 SERIES ACCOUNTS)

Present budgetary information on a combined basis, with no elimination of budgetary accounts, in order to be consistent with information reported on the “Report on Budget Execution and Budgetary Resources” in accordance with OMB Circular A-11, “Preparation, Submission, and Execution of the Budget.”

1307 RECONCILIATION WITH OTHER REPORTS

Review all information reported in any other external reports for consistency with the information included in the quarterly and the annual audited financial statements.

1308 RECONCILIATION WITH LEVEL 1 TRADING PARTNERS

*130801. Reconciliation

A. OMB Circular A-136 requires reporting entities to reconcile and resolve differences between intragovernmental balances and transactions.

B. TFM 2-4700 includes guidance to facilitate the reconciliation of intragovernmental transactions.

C. G-Invoicing maintains a repository of intragovernmental transactions and internal controls to ensure the accuracy of transactions for buyers and sellers.
GTAS

Each quarter, Treasury populates detailed trading partner data in GTAS. GTAS provides comparisons of balances reported by all federal partners and facilitates intragovernmental consolidation and elimination required for Governmentwide reporting. As an output of the GTAS comparison, Treasury provides quarterly Intragaovernmental Material Differences Reports by Treasury Index. Review these reports and explain differences to Treasury in accordance with TFM 2-4700 and the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance. Treasury uses the Level 1 trading partner amounts reported in GTAS to compile the elimination entries necessary to prepare the FR.

1309 FEDERAL TRADING PARTNER CODES

*130901. Trading Partner Codes

Reporting entities submit trading partner code information to Treasury by GTAS Attributes. Use the trading partner codes, in conjunction with the USSGL account information, to identify required elimination entries.

130902. Trading Partner Effect of Prior Period Adjustments

When it is determined that a prior period adjustment is necessary for a transaction involving another FPA, the accounting centers identify the trading partner and determine how the transaction was recorded. Additionally, the accounting centers must work with the trading partner to inform Treasury of the prior period adjustment. This will assist Treasury with eliminations on the Governmentwide financial statements.

*130903. Non-Federal Trading Partners

All accounting centers and DoD reporting entities must identify trading partner information properly according to the federal/non-federal indicator attribute included in SFIS.

*130904. Foreign Military Sales Trust Fund Reporting

In general, DoD Components performing reimbursable activities on behalf of the Foreign Military Sales Trust Fund (11X8242) must recognize related accounts receivable and revenue as federal citing entity code 11X8242 as the Level 1 trading partner. Refer to the DoD Financial Reporting Guidance for additional reporting policy for the Foreign Military Sales Trust Fund.

0101 GENERAL

010101. Purpose

This chapter prescribes the criteria for determining creditable service for military members; provides examples for computing valid creditable service; states periods of service that are not creditable for pay purposes; cites conditions for the payment of military pay entitlements; explains the computation of leave and conditions for leave accrual; and provides for situations where enlistments are not valid. Tables 1-1 through 1-15, outlining various conditions in which military pay is payable for all grades of military personnel, are at the end of this chapter. See Chapter 26 for entitlement to Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH), and Chapter 25, subparagraph 250202.A, or the Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS) table for payments.

010102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by Department of Defense (DoD) in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.). Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

0102 CREDITABLE SERVICE

*010201. Service Which is Creditable

A. General

1. The several military pay and personnel systems use a variety of dates to determine various entitlements. Among them is the date that denotes how much service a member has for the purpose of determining longevity pay rates. The Army refers to this as the “pay entry basic date,” the Navy and Marine Corps refer to this as the “pay entry base date,” while the Air Force calls it the “pay date.” This chapter will refer to this data element as the “basic pay date,” which is defined as reflecting all service that is creditable towards longevity.

2. The member’s servicing personnel office is responsible for providing, when necessary, a statement of service that can include the basic pay date, total active federal military service date, total commissioned federal military service date, and a variety of other dates, depending on the nature of the individual member’s service. This Regulation details only the computation of the basic pay date, since Military Service personnel regulations control the computation of all other dates.

B. Computation of Creditable Service. For most members who enter and serve on active duty without a break in service, the basic pay date is the date the member enters active or inactive service. If, however, there is a break in service, the time between periods of service usually is not included. Also, there are statutory periods when service in a particular component may not be counted. Conversely, there are periods for which some members are given constructive service, even though they were not actually serving on active or inactive duty. Use subparagraphs 010201.C through E to compute the basic pay date when there has been a break in service of any kind or if there is a need to include constructive service.

C. Creditable Service Periods. Include active or inactive service in any of the following components without restriction:

1. Regular service in the Army, Air Force, Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Corps;
2. Army, Naval, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Coast Guard Reserve;
3. Army of the United States (service without specification of a component);
4. Army National Guard;
5. Army National Guard of the United States;
6. National Guard;
7. National Guard of the United States;
8. Air Force of the United States (service without specification of a component);
9. Air National Guard;
10. Air National Guard of the United States;
11. Nurse Corps and Nurse Corps Reserve of the Public Health Service;
12. Public Health Service and Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service.

* D. Other Creditable Service (with restrictions noted in this subparagraph and in subparagraph 010202.A). Include the following periods of service:

1. Officer, deck officer, or junior engineer service in the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, including similar periods of service in the former Corps of the Environmental Science Services Administration and the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey;
2. Service on a Military Service retired list, temporary disability retired list, or honorary retired list of any Uniformed Service or service as a member of the Fleet Reserve or Fleet Marine Corps Reserve;

3. Any period of service during which a member is entitled to retired, retirement, or retainer pay from any Uniformed Service;

4. Service as a cadet or midshipman at a military academy is always creditable service for an enlisted member who is not commissioned. For a prior service member, he/she reverts back to his/her enlisted status to complete their enlistment contract. See Table 1-1 to determine whether such service is creditable for commissioned and warrant officers;

5. Credit the time when an enlisted member is retained after the expiration of term of service of an Armed Force for medical care or hospitalization for disease or injury incident to service. Do not credit such periods of service if the underlying medical condition requiring medical care or hospitalization was due to the member’s misconduct;

6. Service otherwise creditable that is performed before a member reaches the statutory age for enlistment, unless the enlistment contract was voided or invalidated for fraud;

7. Active service performed as a temporary member of the U.S. Coast Guard Reserve;

8. Service terminated by desertion or dishonorable discharge unless the enlistment was fraudulent and was voided for that reason;

9. Periods of service when a member is detailed to and receiving pay and allowances from any other agency of the United States, even though accrual of military pay and allowances is suspended;

10. Service as a member of the Army, Navy, or Air Force Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC), provided the member has concurrent Selected Reserve (drilling status) for duty performed on or after August 1, 1979. Also, see subparagraph 010201.D.14;

11. Service as an officer, Army field clerk, flight officer, aviation midshipman, or enlisted member of a uniformed service;

12. Service as an enlisted member in a Reserve Component, including Ready Reserve service (inactive and active) under the Delayed Entry (Enlistment) Program (DEP), before beginning active duty or an initial period of Active Duty Training (ADT), provided the Reserve enlistment was entered into before January 1, 1985. As of January 1, 1985, the following restrictions went into effect as and when stated:

   a. For enlistments in a Reserve Component under Title 10, U.S.C., section 12103 (b) or (d), including enlistments under a DEP, that were entered into between January 1, 1985, and November 28, 1989, the period served in the Reserve Component before beginning active duty or an initial period of ADT is not creditable; or

b. For enlistments entered into on or after November 29, 1989:

(1) A period of enlisted service in a Reserve Component under 10 U.S.C. § 12103(b) or (d), including inactive service under a DEP, is creditable service only if the member performs Inactive Duty Training (IDT) before beginning active duty or an initial period of ADT; or

(2) Service performed as an enlisted member in a Reserve Component under 10 U.S.C. § 513, other than a period of active duty, is not creditable service; or

13. Any period of service which was creditable under any federal statute in effect on January 10, 1962.

*  14. Prior provisions of law excluded the Simultaneous Membership Program from creditable service for commissioned officers effective October 13, 1964. Public Law 104-201, section 507, September 23, 1996, amended these provisions to provide service credit retroactive to August 1, 1979. These amendments resulted in no increase in pay, retired pay, or retainer pay before the date of enactment, September 23, 1996. Service in the program for enlisted members who retain that status remains creditable under all provisions.

E. Constructive Service

1. Some medical and dental officers are entitled to extra credit for longevity purposes to reflect the time spent in medical or dental school. Medical and dental officers must meet one or more of the following criteria to be entitled to the constructive credit:

a. On or before September 15, 1981, if the officer already had the constructive service credit, then the credit is not lost if there is a break in service either before or after that date. This criteria is applicable to Public Health Service officers.

b. On or before September 14, 1981, if the individual was enrolled in either the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program (AFHPSP) or in the Doctor of Medicine (DOM) program at the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences (USUHS), completed that program, and was appointed as a medical or dental officer.

c. On or before September 14, 1981, if the individual was participating in a program that credited years of service and led to an appointment as an officer in the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps.

2. Medical and dental officers, who meet the criteria in subparagraph 010201.E.1, are entitled to 4 years of constructive service credit. Also, those medical officers who have completed a medical internship or its equivalent, or who entered military status while serving such an internship, are entitled to a fifth year of constructive service credit.

3. Where a member is entitled to service credit for a period covered by the constructive credit, reduce the constructive service credit by an amount equal to the actual service credit.

Example 1: An individual completed dental school on June 11, 1977, and accepted a commission as a dental officer on August 3, 1977. The member was credited with 4 years of constructive service and a basic pay date of August 3, 1973.

Example 2: An individual completed a medical internship on June 30, 1979, and accepted a commission as a medical officer on August 11, 1979. The member was credited with 5 years of constructive service and a basic pay date of August 11, 1974.

Example 3: An individual entered medical school in 1970 and accepted a commission on January 12, 1972. He graduated from medical school on June 10, 1974 and completed a civilian residency during the period from July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975. Compute basic pay date as follows:

First, compute dual status period, which is the period of time between the date of commission and date of graduation:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Graduated:</th>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>74</td>
<td>06</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commission Date:</td>
<td>72</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dual Status Period:</td>
<td>02</td>
<td>04</td>
<td>28+1 (inclusive day)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Then, compute constructive service credit, which is the 4 years constructive credit less the time already credited as commissioned service:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Maximum Constructive Service Credit:</th>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>03</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Less Dual Status Time:</td>
<td>02</td>
<td>04</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Constructive Credit:</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>07</td>
<td>01</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The member’s basic pay date was 1 year, 7 months, and 1 day before his commission date of January 12, 1972 or June 11, 1970.

Example 4: The scenario is the same as in the previous subparagraph, except the member accepted a commission on July 12, 1974 after starting the internship. The member was entitled to 5 years of constructive service credit instead of 4 years:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date Finished Internship:</th>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>75</td>
<td>06</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The member’s basic pay date was 4 years, no months, and 11 days before his commission date, or July 1, 1970.

Example 5: An officer commissioned on November 19, 1962, entered dental school on September 9, 1970, and graduated on May 28, 1974. To compute constructive service credit:

First, compute dual status.

Graduated: 74 05 28
Started School: 70 09 09
Dual Service: 03 08 19+1 (inclusive day)

Then, deduct the dual service from the 4-year constructive credit period to arrive at net constructive service credit:

Maximum Constructive Service Credit: 03 11 30 (4 years)
Less Dual Service: 03 08 20
Constructive Credit: 00 03 10

Change the member’s basic pay date to 3 months and 10 days before the previous one (November 19, 1962) to August 10, 1962.

010202. Service Not Creditable

A. General. Do not use any service that is not listed as creditable service to compute a basic pay date. The following list includes a few types of service that are not creditable:

1. The time served in an enlistment that is terminated, voided, or invalidated as fraudulent;

2. The time served as a commissioned officer in the Philippine Army;

3. The period of time a member was on the Emergency Officers’ Retired List;
4. The time an individual was a member of a state, home, or territorial guard;

5. The time an individual was a member of the inactive National Guard. This does not apply to an individual who was a member of the National Guard Reserve and the National Guard of the United States. Time during which the individual had dual status, enlisted or commissioned, in the inactive National Guard and the National Guard of the United States is creditable;

6. The time, subsequent to September 14, 1981, a member serves while enrolled in the AFHPSP and Financial Assistance Program (FAP), or while a DOM student at the USUHS. Use any service creditable on the date of the officer’s entry into DOM USUHS to compute the officer’s basic pay for longevity purposes while a USUHS student, not to exceed the maximum rate of O-1 pay (Table 1-7) or O-1E pay (Table 1-8), as applicable; or the rate of pay of the member’s former pay grade, if greater, as outlined in subparagraph 010303.A. For the most current pay rates, see the Military Basic Pay tables on DFAS.MIL;

7. The time served in a Reserve Component before beginning active duty or an initial period of ADT for enlistment in a Reserve Component under 10 U.S.C. § 12103(b) or (d) that was entered into between January 1, 1985, and November 28, 1989;

8. For enlistments entered into on or after November 29, 1989:
   a. A period of enlisted service in a Reserve Component under 10 U.S.C. § 12103(b) or (d), including inactive service under a DEP, if the member does not perform IDT before beginning active duty or an initial period of ADT; or
   b. Service performed as an enlisted member in a Reserve Component under 10 U.S.C. § 513, other than a period of active duty; or

9. For an officer, the time served while attending a military service academy including the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

NOTE: The midshipmen attending the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy sign contracts to join the enlisted Navy Reserve on the day they enter the Academy. Students who attend one of the six state Merchant Marine college programs and who receive a Naval ROTC scholarship are treated the same as any Naval ROTC cadet or midshipmen. Students who attend one of the 6 state Merchant Marine college programs and who join the Navy after graduation from one of the programs are treated as any other member who joins the Navy.

B. Effect of Lost Time Absence From Duty on Creditable Service

1. Prior to February 11, 1996, a commissioned or warrant officer was entitled to credit for every day in a commissioned or warrant status, without regard to an absence of any kind, whether authorized or unauthorized, and including confinement prior to and during trial. In addition, absence during which a member was serving on active duty as an enlisted member was creditable if the enlisted member also held a commission as a Reserve officer. After February 10, 1996, a commissioned or warrant officer may not count the following periods of absence for any purpose other than that of computing length of service for basic pay:

a. Desertion;

b. Absence from organization, station, or duty for more than 1 day without proper authority, as determined by proper authority;

c. Confinement by military or civilian authorities for more than 1 day in connection with a trial, whether before, during or after the trial; or

d. The officer’s inability for more than 1 day, as determined by competent authority, to perform assigned duties because of the officer’s intemperate use of drugs or alcoholic liquor, or because of disease or injury resulting from the officer’s misconduct.

2. See Table 1-2 to determine the creditability for absence while in an enlisted status.

010203. Active Enlisted and/or Warrant Officer Service for Members in Basic Pay Grades O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E

A. Service Counted

1. General. Commissioned officers with over 4 years of prior active service as an enlisted member, warrant officer, or combined service in both grades are entitled to count such service for purposes of computing basic pay for longevity purposes. Such prior service includes all active service, in either the Regular or Reserve Component or both (i.e., ADT in enlisted or warrant officer status, annual Reserve training duty, and full-time National Guard duty). Service on active duty or ADT and IDT for at least 4 years and 1 day satisfy the over 4 years of service requirement under this section.

2. Creditable Prior Enlisted Service. Commissioned officers in pay grades O-1, O-2, or O-3 who are credited with over 4 years (i.e., at least 4 years and 1 day) of prior active service as an enlisted member are entitled to the special rate of basic pay for pay grade O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E.

3. Creditable Prior Warrant Officer Service. Commissioned officers in pay grades O-1, O-2, or O-3 who are credited with over 4 years (i.e., at least 4 years and 1 day) of prior active service as a warrant officer are entitled to the special rate of basic pay for pay grade O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E.

4. Creditable Combined Prior Service. Effective October 1, 1993, commissioned officers in pay grades O-1, O-2, or O-3 who are credited with over 4 years (i.e., at least 4 years and 1 day) of combined prior active service as an enlisted member and warrant officer are entitled to the special rate of basic pay for pay grade O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E.
5. Creditable Service for Certain Reserve Commissioned Officers. Effective January 1, 2002, commissioned officers in pay grades O-1, O-2, and O-3 who are paid from funds appropriated for Reserve personnel and credited with 1,460 points for retirement computed under 10 U.S.C. § 12732(a)(2) service as a warrant officer and/or enlisted member, which requires a minimum of 50 points annually, are entitled to the special rate of basic pay for pay grade O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E.

6. Creditable Service for Certain Commissioned Officers. Effective November 24, 2003, the restriction that members must be paid from reserve appropriated funds to qualify for the special rate of basic pay for pay grades O-1E, O-2E, and O-3E based upon creditable service points is eliminated. Therefore, effective that date, commissioned officers in pay grades O-1 through O-3 with more than 1,460 points computed under 10 U.S.C. § 12732(a)(2) for service as a warrant officer and/or an enlisted member, which requires a minimum of 50 points annually, are entitled to the special rate of pay.

7. Leap Year. Reserve Component members who perform duty during a leap year earn a point for the extra day of duty in the month of February under 10 U.S.C. § 12732(a)(2). A leap year represents 1 year of service for basic pay purposes. Thus, the extra point does not qualify the member for having earned the equivalent of over 4 years of active service, and the member would not be eligible for the O-1E, O-2E, or O-3E rate of basic pay. The member would have to serve more than 4 years of active service to qualify for the special rate of basic pay.

8. Creditable Service While Graduate Students at USUHS. The Secretary of Defense shall establish such selection procedures, service obligations, and other requirements as the Secretary considers appropriate for graduate students (other than DOM students) in a postdoctoral, postgraduate, or technological institute established pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 2113(e). The subparagraph 010202.A.8, does not apply to graduate students.

B. Service Not Counted. In computing active service, do not count:

1. Active service in a dual status (temporary officer/permanent enlisted) in the Navy or Marine Corps;

2. Service as a National Guard technician; or

3. Except for periods of active duty service performed while a USUHS DOM student, time served as a DOM student at USUHS. See subparagraph 010202.A.8 and applicable notes to Tables 1-7, 1-8 and the Basic Pay tables on DFAS.MIL.

010204. Computation of Creditable Service

A. Computing a Basic Pay Date

1. All basic pay date computations start from the date of the member’s most recent entry on duty without a break in service. Use the following dates:
a. For enlisted members, the date of enlistment, but see subparagraph 010201.D.12, for service under a DEP;

b. For officers, the date of acceptance of a commission. The date of acceptance for officers graduating from a Military Service academy is the date of graduation; or

c. For officers entitled to count service as an acting assistant surgeon, intern, or hospital steward in the Public Health Service or the Public Health Marine Hospital Service, the date of acceptance of the appointment. Do not count service performed before that date.

2. After determining initial basic pay date, compute creditable service for all service prior to that date. Use the following to compute basic pay date. If the member had any periods of service during which there was lost time, do not use those periods here. Instead, compute according to subparagraph 010204.A.3.

a. List beginning dates of service for each separate period of service, without changing any of them, and add them together.

b. List all ending dates. If the day is the 31st day of the month, change it to 30. If the day is February 28 in a non-leap year, change it to February 30 for computation purposes. If the day is February 29, change it to February 30 for computation purposes. Do not change February 28 of a leap year to February 30. Add all ending dates together.

c. Subtract the beginning day result from the ending day result.

d. For each non-continuous period of service, add 1 day to account for inclusive days. Explanation: Any period of service is at least one day. If, for example, the member had one day of service on January 17, 2016, the computation would look like this:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ending Day:</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>01</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Less Beginning Day:</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>01</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>00</td>
<td>00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

It is necessary to add 1 day for inclusive days to avoid this erroneous answer.

e. Convert to full years, months, and days. The result is years of service creditable for pay purposes.
EXAMPLE:
Member served as follows:

Active Duty Army (Enlisted) From: Jan 1, 93 To: Feb 29, 96
Army National Guard (Commissioned) From: Jun 1, 96 To: May 26, 03
Air National Guard (Commissioned) From: Aug 1, 05 To: Mar 31, 10
U.S. Air Force (Commissioned) From: Apr 1, 10 To: Jun 4, 17

Beginning dates: Ending Dates:
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1993</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>1996</td>
<td>02</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1996</td>
<td>06</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>2003</td>
<td>05</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2005</td>
<td>08</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>2017</td>
<td>06</td>
<td>04</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5994</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>03</td>
<td>6016</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>60</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Convert February 29, 1996 to February 30, 1996, since 1996 was a leap year.

Convert March 31, 2010 to March 30, 2010 since the 31st day of a month does not count as an ending date, though it would count as a beginning date. The period from August 1, 2005 through June 4, 2017 is continuous, so it is all included in the third line of the computation.

Subtract total of beginning dates from the total of ending dates:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
<th>(total of ending dates)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6016</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>60</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6015</td>
<td>25</td>
<td>60</td>
<td>(borrowed 12 months from year column)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5994</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>03</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>21</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>57</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Add 1 day for each of the 3 periods used in the computation. The result is 21 years, 10 months, and 60 days, which converts to exactly 22 years of creditable service.

3. Regarding computations involving lost time, if a member has lost time, compute the creditable service for the period served separately. Add the results to any creditable service computed separately under subparagraph 010204.A.2.

a. When there is a period of lost time that has not been made good, compute the lost time on a 30-day month basis; but, if the lost time begins on the 31st day of a month, include that day as a lost day. Compute as follows:

Determine the years, months, and days of lost time and deduct that amount from the total service during the period.

1-14
Example: A member enlisted for 4 years on July 18, 2012, but was absent without leave (AWOL) from February 10, 2015 through March 16, 2015. The member received a hardship discharge on August 10, 2015 without making up the lost time. The member reenlisted February 20, 2017. Compute creditable service and basic pay date as follows:

First compute the lost time.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Ended AWOL:</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>03</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Began AWOL:</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>02</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lost Time:</td>
<td>00</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>06+1 (inclusive day)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Then compute first period of service.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Discharged:</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>08</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Entered Active Duty:</td>
<td>-12</td>
<td>07</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Subtotal:</td>
<td>03</td>
<td>00</td>
<td>22+1 (inclusive day)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deduct Lost Time:</td>
<td>-00</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>07</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Creditable Service:</td>
<td>02</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Subtract 2 years, 11 months, and 16 days from reenlistment date of February 20, 2017 to arrive at a new basic pay date of March 4, 2014.

b. A member who makes good the lost time does so on a day-to-day basis. When the member makes good lost time and completes the enlistment or contract period, compute the period of lost time on both a 30-day month basis and a day-to-day basis and use the result that is most advantageous to the member. To illustrate, if a member is AWOL on March 30 through April 1, it would be 3 days on the day-to-day basis but only 2 days on a 30-day month basis. Compute creditable service as follows (and separately from periods of service which do not have lost time):

(1) First step: Compute total lost time on both a 30-day basis and a day-to-day basis. Convert the day-to-day basis computation to years, months and days, and compare it to the computation on the 30-day basis. Discard the one which shows a higher total of days lost.

(2) Second step: Compute the gross amount of service during the period by subtracting the entry date from the discharge date and adding 1 day for inclusive day.

(3) Third step: Subtract the lost time from the result of the second step. If the result is at least as long as the enlistment contract, use that amount. If the result is less than the enlistment contract, increase it to equal the enlistment contract.
(4) Fourth step: Add this creditable service to any other periods and use the total to figure the member’s basic pay date.

Example 1: Assume the member in the example in subparagraph 010204.A.3.a had not received a hardship discharge; instead, he or she had completed the enlistment contract, including making good the lost time. He made up the 35 days of lost time computed on a day-to-day basis. The days served to make good the lost time were July 18-31, 2016 (14 days) and August 1-21, 2016 (21 days).

When the member reenlists on February 20, 2017, compute creditable service as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>16</td>
<td>08</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-12</td>
<td>07</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>04</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>03+1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The result is 4 years, 1 month and 4 days before deducting lost time. Note that the lost time computed on a 30-day month basis was 37 days, but was only 35 days when computed on a day-to-day basis. Subtract the 35 days lost time from the period of service computed.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>04</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>04</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>-00</td>
<td>01</td>
<td>05</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>03</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

The result is less than the enlistment contract of 4 years, but since the member completed the enlistment contract, he or she is entitled to credit for the entire 4 years. Set basic pay date at February 20, 2013, when the member reenlists on February 20, 2017.

Example 2: A member enlisted on July 18, 2012, for 4 years. She was AWOL from July 28, 2015 through September 3, 2015, which is 38 days on a day-to-day basis (July 28-31, 4 days; August 1-31, 31 days; and September 1-3, 3 days). She is discharged on August 24, 2016, after making good the 38 days of bad time by serving July 18-31 (14 days) and August 1-24 (24 days).

Step 1. When she reenlists on February 20, 2017, compute prior service as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>YR</th>
<th>MO</th>
<th>DAY</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

The result is 4 years, 1 month and 7 days before deducting lost time.
Step 2. Lost time on a day-to-day basis was 38 days. Compute lost time on a 30-day month basis as:

- July 28-31, 2015: 03 days
- August 1-30, 2015: 30 days
- September 1-3, 2015: 03 days
- Total: 36 days

Step 3. Following the rule set out in step 2, deduct the lost time in the manner most beneficial to the member.

Step 4. Set the basic pay date at February 19, 2013, when the member reenlists on February 20, 2017.

4. Regarding adjusting the basic pay date when a member has lost time, lost time does not change an officer’s basic pay date (See paragraph 010202.B). When an enlisted person returns to duty after a period of lost time, add the number of days lost time to the member’s basic pay date to reflect the lost time.”

Example: An enlisted member with no prior service enlisted on July 18, 2015. He was AWOL from February 10, 2017 through March 16, 2017. When member returns to duty status, change his basic pay date as follows:

Compute lost time:

- February 10-30: 21 days
- March 1-16: 16 days
- Total: 37 days lost time

B. Procedure When Basic Pay Date Falls on February 29. When basic pay date falls on February 29, entitlement to longevity increases begins on March 1 in non-leap years and on February 29 in leap years.
0103 COMPUTATION OF PAY

*010301. Basic Pay Entitlements

A. When Entitled to Basic Pay. The pay of Military Service members is prescribed by law. Current basic pay rates are contained in Tables 1-7, 1-8, 1-9, 1-10, and on the Basic Pay tables on DFAS.MIL. Members are entitled to receive pay according to their pay grades and years of service if they are:

1. On active duty in a pay status; and
2. Not prohibited by law from receiving such pay.

B. Employment of Members in Another Capacity

1. Employment Under the Government
   a. Unless otherwise provided by law (such as during the period a member is on terminal leave pending retirement, separation, or release from active duty under honorable conditions), a member may not be employed in another capacity by the government and receive pay, other than the pay and allowances that accrue by reason of the military status. A member may be employed, however, on a voluntary basis during off-duty hours in connection with non-appropriated fund activities.
   b. Under agreements such as that between the DoD and the Agency for International Development (AID) of the Department of State, military members may be detailed to agencies such as AID for certain types of service for specified periods. As provided in pertinent agreements, members that are detailed are entitled to the pay and allowances of employees of the agency (AID Foreign Service personnel, in the case of that agency) holding comparable positions. Such members are paid by the agency in which service is performed, not by the Military Service involved.

2. Acceptance or Holding Civil Office
   a. An officer of an Armed Force on active duty may not be employed on civil functions if the civil duties separate the member from the parent organization or interfere with the performance of military duties. This applies to employment on civil works or internal improvements, by an incorporated company, or as acting paymaster or disbursing agent of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.
   b. Unless otherwise provided by law, an officer of a Regular Component of the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marine Corps may not hold a civil office by election or appointment under the United States, a territory, possession, or state. Acceptance of such position terminates the officer’s appointment and any further entitlement to receive pay and allowances whether or not the officer continues to fulfill the duties as an officer subsequent to accepting the office.
3. Medical Officers. Medical officers on active duty who receive any compensation or stipend payments for services they perform as interns or resident physicians in private or public institutions (state, county, municipal, or privately owned hospitals) receive such payments for the benefit of the United States. Collect these payments from medical officers for deposit to the U.S. Treasury.

C. Formal Acceptance of Appointment by Officers

1. Pay and allowances generally accrue from the date of acceptance of appointment as an officer. The normal method of acceptance is taking the oath of office. Commencement of travel in compliance with an order is considered acceptance for pay purposes, but payment will not be made until formal signing of the oath of office. See Table 1-3 for specifics and for graduates of the academies.

2. An officer need not take the oath of office upon promotion if the service has been continuous since the last oath.

Note: See Table 1-4 for other situations regarding effective dates for promotions or restoration of grade.

D. Restriction Against Dual Payments

1. A Reserve member who is called to active duty for more than 30 days in time of war or national emergency is entitled while on that active duty to the pay and allowances prescribed for active duty. Exception is authorized if the member is entitled to a pension, retired pay, or disability compensation for earlier military service, in an amount greater than that prescribed for active duty.

2. Except as prescribed in subparagraph 010301.D.1, a Reserve member who is entitled to payments for earlier military service, and is called to active duty and is entitled to pay, may elect to receive either:
   a. The payments for the earlier military service; or
   b. If member specifically waives those payments, the pay and allowances authorized for the active duty.

E. Posthumous Promotions. Members may be promoted posthumously. The amount of bonus, gratuity, pay, or allowances is not changed by these promotions. This payment restriction does not apply to promotions of members while in a missing status where a determination by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned is subsequently made that the member died before the date of the promotion.

*F. Corrections of Military Record. Members who are separated from active service but later retroactively restored to active duty by administrative record correction action become entitled to retroactive military pay and allowances (for the period of restoration) subject to the following: The purpose of such a record correction is to restore the member--without awarding him an unearned windfall—to the same position he would have had if he had not been separated from military service. When settling such an account, the earnings received from civilian employment during the period for which active duty pay and allowances are payable, must be deducted as part of the settlement of the account. The civilian earnings will be deducted from the net balance of military pay and allowances otherwise due. Any amount of civilian earnings in excess of the net balance of retroactive military pay and allowances otherwise due will not be collected so as not to place the member in debt.

010302. Computing Monthly Pay

A. Monthly Pay

1. Service of 30 Days or More. Compute monthly compensation as if each month had 30 days. When service begins on an intermediate day of the month, pay for the actual number of days served during that calendar month, but only through the 30th day of that month. If active military service begins on the 31st day of any month, compensation does not accrue for that day. Any person who enters active service during February and serves until the end of the month is entitled to pay for 1 month (30 days), less the prorated amount for the number of days expired before entry on duty. If the service ends before the last day of February, pay the member only for the actual number of days served.

2. Service of Less Than 30 Days. Members of the Uniformed Services entitled to receive compensation for continuous periods of less than 1 month are entitled to pay and allowances for each day of the period at the rate of 1/30 of the monthly amount of such pay and allowances. Include the 31st day of a calendar month in the computation. Members who are obligated to serve on active duty for 30 days or more, but who were released before performing such active duty for at least 30 days, are entitled to receive pay and allowances on a day-to-day basis.

B. Absence Without Pay

1. Deduct 1/30 of 1 month’s pay for each day’s absence in a non-pay status.

2. No pay is lost for unauthorized absence on the 31st day of a month, except when it is the first day of absence or when the member is paid for the day under subparagraph 010302.A.2.

3. Absence in a non-pay status on the 28th of February in a non-leap year results in loss of pay for 3 days. If the member is absent only on the 28th day of February in a leap year, deduct the pay for 1 day for the 28th. If the absence occurs on the 29th of February, deduct pay for 2 days. When payment is made under subparagraph 010302.A.2, on the basis of each day served, deduct only for the actual period of unauthorized absence.
C. Annual Salary. Annual salary is divided into 12 equal installments. One installment represents the pay for each calendar month. The daily rate is $1/30$ of the monthly rate. The instructions in subparagraph 010302.B, for monthly pay also apply to annual salary.

D. Basic Pay Rates. Tables 1-7 through 1-10 contain monthly rates of basic pay, and are listed on the Basic Pay tables on DFAS.MIL.

010303. Saved Pay and Allowances

A. Enlisted. An enlisted member who accepts an appointment as an officer will, following appointment, be paid the greater of:

1. The pay and allowances to which such member would be entitled if the member had remained in the last enlisted grade held before appointment as an officer and continued to receive increases in pay and allowances authorized for that grade; or

2. The pay and allowances to which the member thereafter becomes entitled as an officer.

B. Warrant Officers. A warrant officer who accepts an appointment as a commissioned officer will, following appointment, be paid the greater of:

1. The pay and allowances to which the member thereafter becomes entitled as a commissioned officer;

2. The pay and allowances to which such member would be entitled if the member had remained in the last warrant officer grade held before appointment as a commissioned officer and continued to receive increases in pay and allowances authorized for that grade; or

3. In the case of an officer who was formerly an enlisted member, the pay and allowances to which entitled, under subparagraph 010303.D.3, before appointment as an officer.

C. Prior Service Medical Students. Members selected to participate as DOM students at the USUHS or in the AFHPSP and FAP who have prior active service, including members who have had a break in service, in a pay grade with years of service greater than the rate of second lieutenant or ensign, will be authorized saved pay for the basic pay rate of the former grade. The former basic pay rate will be increased on January 1 of each year by the average percentage increase authorized for that year. The member will continue to receive the former pay rate until the date, occurring before or after graduation or participation in the program, that the member’s actual grade and years of service basic pay rate exceeds the former grade rate. This saved pay provision applies only to basic pay. The member’s other pay entitlements will be paid at the member’s actual grade and years of service.
D. Restrictions

1. Except for prior service DOM students discussed in subparagraph 010303.C, a member entitled to saved pay is not authorized the pay for one grade and an allowance for another grade.

2. The saved pay amount may be reduced when the member loses entitlement to specific items. However, these specific items will be included in saved pay if the member again qualifies for such items. (See subparagraph 010303.D.7.)

3. In the case of the Navy or Marine Corps, a member in a temporary appointment is not entitled to saved pay because of a permanent promotion.

4. BAH may be continued as an item of saved pay and will be paid whenever it is not forfeited because the member is assigned to government quarters.

5. For enlisted members, BAS is the alternative for subsistence in kind. Since officers are not authorized subsistence in kind, a member eligible for saved pay is entitled to the appropriate BAS rate (including the “when permitted to mess separately rate” even when subsistence in kind otherwise would be provided or made available) under the conditions prevailing for enlisted members at their permanent station. Credit BAS at the “when permitted to mess separately rate” at all times, except when the member would otherwise be entitled to a different rate. (See Chapter 25, paragraph 250202.)

6. For appointments accepted before January 6, 2006, special duty assignment pay, incentive pay for hazardous duty, special pay for diving duty, special pay for sea duty, and hardship duty pay may be retained as an item of saved pay only for as long as the member continues to perform the duty and would be eligible to receive payment had the member remained in the former status.

7. For appointments accepted on or after January 6, 2006, in determining the amount of pay and allowances of a grade formerly held by an officer who was an enlisted member and accepted an appointment as an officer, the following special and incentive pays may be considered only so long as the officer continues to perform the duty that creates the entitlement to, or eligibility for, that pay and would otherwise be eligible to receive that pay in the former grade:

   a. Incentive pay for hazardous duty;

   b. Submarine duty pay;

   c. Special pay for diving duty;

   d. Hardship duty pay;

   e. Career sea pay;
f. Special pay for service as a member of a Weapons of Mass Destruction Civil Support Team;

g. Assignment incentive pay;

h. Special pay for duty subject to hostile fire or imminent danger;

i. Special pay or bonus for an extension of duty at a designated overseas location;

j. Foreign language proficiency bonus; and

k. Critical skill retention bonus.

8. The enlisted cash clothing allowances prescribed in Chapter 29 may not be included in the saved pay computation if the officer is entitled to the initial uniform allowance prescribed in Chapter 30, section 3002.

9. Family Separation for Housing (FSH) may be continued as an item of saved pay under the same conditions as BAH (See subparagraph 010303.D.4). If the member was entitled to FSH due to an enforced separation from the member’s family at the time of appointment, the allowance may be included in the computation of saved pay until the entitlement ends. FSH may be reinstated for future periods if the member again qualifies for FSH due to an enforced separation from the family. Similarly, other items of overseas station allowance and/or special or incentive pay may be reinstated if a member again qualifies for them.

10. Effective January 6, 2006, the following special and incentive pays are dependent on a member being in an enlisted status and may not be considered in determining the amount of pay and allowances of a grade formerly held by an officer:

a. Special duty assignment pay;

b. Reenlistment bonus;

c. Enlistment bonus; and

d. Critical skill incentive pay (see Chapter 22, section 2205).

E. Breaks in Service. A break in service (e.g., released from active duty, discharged) does not disqualify an officer for the saved pay and allowances entitlements of this section.
010304. Increased Basic Pay During a Period of Service Essential to the Public Interest

A. Entitlement to Increased Basic Pay. This section applies only to enlisted members of the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, or Naval or Marine Corps Reserve, whose enlistments expire while serving on a naval vessel in foreign waters.

1. Retention in Service. Such members may be retained on active duty until the naval vessel returns to the Continental United States (CONUS) if the period of retention is determined “service essential to the public interests.” The senior officer present afloat makes this determination.

2. Pay and Allowances. During the period of retention, except in time of war, members are entitled to regular pay and allowances, plus a 25-percent increase in the basic pay, to which they were entitled on the day before the period of retention began.

B. Members Not Eligible for Increase

1. Enlisted members are not entitled to the increased basic pay if retained on active duty after the expiration of enlistment:
   a. At shore stations;
   b. On ships on duty in waters in or around possessions and territories of the United States;
   c. On ships on duty in ports or waters within the sovereign jurisdiction of the United States;
   d. Due to lack of transportation; or
   e. Merely because it is desirable to continue their services or some benefit may be derived there from.

2. A member of the Naval Reserve or Marine Corps Reserve is not entitled to the 25-percent increase while retained beyond the period of obligated service as distinguished from normal date of expiration of enlistment.

C. Restrictions in Use. Do not use the 25-percent increase in computing:

1. Cash settlement for unused leave on discharge;
2. Physical disability or temporary disability retired pay;
3. Disability severance pay; or
4. Reenlistment bonus.

D. Termination of Increase in Basic Pay. The 25-percent increase in basic pay continues through date of:

1. Discharge, if the member is discharged within 30 days after arrival in CONUS; or

2. Transfer to a hospital for treatment. (See Table 1-5, rule 19 for the date of termination of normal pay and allowances.)

010305. Allowable Travel Time for Reserve Members Called to or Released From Active Duty

A. Pay and Allowances Entitlement for Allowable Travel Time

1. Reserve members called to active duty are entitled to active duty pay and allowances for the time allowed for necessary travel from:

   a. Home to a first duty station; or

   b. Last duty station to home (except when released from active duty for retirement or dismissal, when discharged, or upon resignation).

2. Pay and allowances for allowable travel time is an earned entitlement. The payment for the return home may be made upon the member’s release from such duty without regard to actual performance of the travel. If the member dies after payment but before payment would otherwise be due, no part of the payment will be recovered by the United States.

B. Terms and Special Conditions

1. Allowable travel time is considered active duty for all purposes normally ascribed to active duty. The computation of allowable travel time, whether actual or constructive will:

   a. For periods of active duty of 30 days or less, be based upon the rules contained in Table 1-6; or

   b. For periods of active duty of more than 30 days, be based upon the rules and provisions in Chapter 57.

2. A member of a Reserve Component is entitled to active duty pay and allowances for allowable travel time, if any, when:

   a. Ordered to perform ADT;
b. Performing authorized IDT immediately before or after ADT at or near the same site; or

c. Receiving orders that direct performance of necessary travel to and from the ADT site immediately before and after combined ADT/IDT. The travel date will be specified in the active duty orders. Full retirement point credit is earned for the period of IDT performed.

0104 ABSENCE FROM DUTY, EFFECT ON PAY, AND ALLOWANCES

010401. Authorized Leave

A. Authority. All Military Service members on active duty for 30 consecutive days or more are entitled to accrue leave under applicable Military Service leave regulations. While on authorized leave, they are entitled to full pay and allowances except as otherwise provided in Table 1-11.

B. Applicable Service Leave Regulations. Applicable Military Service leave regulations are:

1. Army. Army Regulation 600-8-10;

3. Air Force. Air Force Instruction 36-3003; and

C. Pay and Allowances During Leave

1. Entitlement. See Table 1-11.

2. Full Pay and Allowances Defined. This term means (includes) the following:

   a. Basic pay;

   b. Special pays;

   c. Incentive pay for hazardous duty;

   d. BAS (enlisted leave rations);

   e. BAH;

   f. Personal money allowances;
g. Clothing maintenance allowances;

h. Family separation allowances; and

i. Station allowances (CONUS Cost of Living Allowance (See Chapter 67); and Overseas Cost of Living Allowance and Temporary Lodging Allowance (See Chapter 68).

D. Advance Leave Carryover or Change to Excess Leave (Effective November 14, 1986)

1. When Carryover Allowed. Members may elect to carry all or part of an advance leave balance over to a new term of service when discharged for the purpose of:

   a. Reenlisting within 24 hours of discharge or extending an enlistment; or

   b. Accepting an appointment as a warrant or commissioned officer of the Armed Forces. Carryover will not exceed the number of days or fraction of days the member will accrue in the new enlistment or term of service or 30 days, whichever is less.

   Example 1: A member’s current term of service ends April 30, 2015. The member reenlists for 6 years on March 1, 2015 and has a 5.0-day advance leave balance. The 5.0-day advance leave balance can be carried into the new term of service.

   Example 2: A member’s current term of service ends September 30, 2015. On May 1, 2015, the member agrees to serve a 12-month extension and has a 12.5-day advance leave balance that will be offset by leave accrual through September 30, 2015. Between May 1, 2015, and September 30, 2015, the member was charged for 30 days of leave. When the extension became operative (October 1, 2015), the member could elect to carry the 30.0-day advance leave balance into the new term of service (12-month extension).

2. Excess Leave. Advance leave becomes excess leave and requires collection of pay and allowances under the following conditions:

   a. Discharge for the purpose of reenlisting, extending an enlistment, or accepting a warrant or commission, and advance leave exceeds 30 days;

   b. Advance leave balance exceeds that which will accrue in the new enlistment or term of service (for example, enlistment or extension(s)), including when an agreement to extend is cancelled by the Military Service. If an agreement to extend is cancelled by the member for the purpose of immediate reenlistment, collect the advance under subparagraph 010401.D.2.a, if applicable;

   c. Relief from active duty;
d. Appointment as a cadet or midshipman at a Service academy;

e. Death; or

f. Return from a period of leave that was in excess of the number of days of leave and fractions thereof that the member will accrue before the normal expiration of current enlistment or term of active service. The term of an extension(s) will be considered when determining the normal expiration of current enlistment or term of active service. Extension(s) will be considered from the date the member agrees to the extension(s). Excess leave properly charged before the date a member extends a term of service (reenlistment, appointment or agrees to extend voluntarily or is involuntarily extended) will not be affected and under no circumstances will pay and allowances previously collected be refunded. (See subparagraph 010401.E when it is known at the time leave is granted that the member will be in excess leave status.)

Example 3: A member’s current term of service ended on March 31, 2016. The member reenlisted for 6 years on January 1, 2015 and had a 35.5-day advance leave balance. The member carried 30.0 days of advance leave into the new term of service. The remaining 5.5-day advance leave balance changes to excess leave and requires immediate collection of pay and allowances. Subparagraph 010401.E applies.

Example 4: Same as example 2, except that the member took 34 days of leave between May 1, 2015 and September 30, 2015. Since a maximum of 30.0 days of advance leave could be carried into the new term of service (12-month extension), immediate collection of pay and allowances for the remaining 4.0 days was required when the leave was used. Subparagraph 010401.E applies.

3. Amount to be Collected. Compute collection under subparagraph 010401.D.2 on the basis of pay and allowances received by the member during the period of leave involved.

E. Pay and Allowances During Excess Leave. Members on excess leave are not entitled to pay and allowances. Apply as follows:

1. When the complete period of leave is granted as excess leave, pay and allowance accrual will be stopped beginning with the first day of leave.

2. When a portion of the leave is granted as advance leave and a portion granted as excess leave, pay and allowance accrual will be stopped beginning with the first day of excess leave. Members in an excess leave status are considered to have a rate of pay.

F. Leave Pending Review of Certain Court-Martial Convictions. Under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, members sentenced to unsuspended dismissal or unsuspended dishonorable or bad conduct discharge by court-martial may be required to take leave pending review of their conviction as provided by Article 76a, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ).

1. Such leave will be charged against any accrued leave to the member’s credit on the day before the day such leave begins unless the member elects to be paid for accrued leave under Chapter 35, subparagraph 350201.B.

   a. If the member does not elect to be paid for accrued leave or does not have sufficient accrued leave to cover the total period of leave required to be taken, the leave not covered by accrued leave will be charged as excess leave.

   b. If the member elects to be paid for accrued leave, the entire period of leave will be charged as excess leave and pay and allowances will not accrue for such period except under the provisions of subparagraph 010401.F.2.

2. A member required to take leave under Article 76a, UCMJ, whose sentence by court-martial to dismissal or dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge is set aside or disapproved on appellate review, will accrue pay and allowances for the period of leave charged as excess leave (except for any day of accrued leave for which the member has been paid under subparagraph 010401.F.1.b), unless a rehearing or new trial is ordered and dismissal or dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge results from the rehearing or new trial and such dismissal or discharge is later executed.

   a. Computation of Payment. The amount of gross pay and allowances accrued under this subparagraph will be reduced by the total gross income from wages, salaries, tips, other personal service income, unemployment compensation, and public assistance benefits from any government agency during the period the member is deemed to have accrued gross pay and allowances. The total gross income, however, cannot reduce the amount of gross pay and allowances to the extent that the member becomes indebted to the government.

      (1) Approved Sentence Does Not Include Reduction. Pay and allowances under this section will be paid in the pay grade held by the member on the day before the day on which the court-martial sentence was approved by the convening authority.

      (2) Approved Sentence Includes Reductions. If the pay grade of the member was reduced to a lower grade as a result of the court-martial sentence and the reduction has not been set aside, disapproved, or otherwise vacated, pay and allowances accrued under this paragraph will be paid at the lower pay grade.

   b. Time of Payment

      (1) Payment will be made within 60 days from the date of the order setting aside or disapproving the sentence by court-martial to a dismissal or a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge if no rehearing or new trial has been ordered.
(2) Payment will be made within 180 days from the date of the order setting aside or disapproving the sentence by court-martial to a dismissal or a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge if a rehearing or new trial has been ordered, but charges have not been referred to a rehearing or new trial within 120 days from the date of that order.

(3) If a rehearing or new trial has been ordered, and a dismissal or a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge is not included in the result of the rehearing or new trial, payment will be made within 60 days of the date of the announcement of the result of such rehearing or new trial.

(4) If a rehearing or new trial has been ordered, and a dismissal for a dishonorable or bad-conduct discharge is included as the result of such rehearing or new trial, but such dismissal or discharge is not later executed, payment will be made within 60 days of the date of the order which set aside, disapproved, or otherwise vacated such dismissal or discharge.

(5) If a member who is entitled to be paid under this section fails to provide sufficient information in a timely manner regarding his/her income when such information is requested under subparagraph 010401.F.3, the periods of time prescribed in this paragraph will be extended until 30 days after the date on which the member provides the requested information.

3. In all cases where payment must be made under subparagraph 010401.F.2, the member solely is responsible for providing the information as to all sources and amounts of income received by the member during periods of required appellate leave. Pay will be computed only on the basis of a written record.

   a. For periods where the member was employed, information as to all sources and amounts of income should include, at a minimum, copies of all pertinent:

   (1) Federal income tax returns;
   (2) Employer statements of income earned from wages, salaries, tips; and
   (3) Documentation of other personal service income.

   b. For periods where the member has been unemployed, the member must submit an affidavit or written evidence of lack of employment and, at a minimum, copies of all pertinent:

   (1) Documentation to verify the duration of unemployment compensation;
   (2) Public assistance benefits received from any government agency;
(3) Federal income tax returns; and

(4) Any other documentation required by the Service concerned.

NOTE: The burden of proving the existence of a valid claim against the United States is on the member asserting the claim. A member must prove by clear and convincing evidence on the written record that the U.S. DoD is liable under the law for the amount claimed.

010402. Unauthorized Absence and Other Lost Time

A. Effect on Pay and Allowances. The types of unauthorized absences and other lost time and their effect on pay and allowances are shown in Table 1-12. (Compute forfeitures of pay and allowances as instructed in subparagraph 010302.B.)

B. Unauthorized Absence and Desertion

1. Determination by Court-Martial. A member found guilty of unauthorized absence by a court-martial forfeits pay and allowances for the period of absence. An acquittal (or disapproval by the reviewing authority, in case of conviction) affects only the disciplinary aspects of the absence. It does not prevent an administrative determination that the member was AWOL.

2. Administrative Determination of Unauthorized Absence. When a member is in an unauthorized absence status, an administrative determination must be made as to whether the absence was unavoidable. Table 1-13 contains rules for determining whether the absence was unavoidable. If it is not excused as unavoidable, the member (including one mentally incompetent) forfeits pay and allowances for the period of absence. This applies even though a court-martial finds the member not guilty of a charge of unauthorized absence, or when a finding of guilty has been disapproved by the reviewing authority.

3. Discharge for Desertion. A discharge for desertion is conclusive evidence of desertion for the purpose of forfeiture of pay, even in the absence of trial by court-martial.

4. Dropped From Rolls. A commissioned officer of the Army or Air Force who is dropped from the rolls by the President for absence without authority for 3 months forfeits all pay due or to become due. Pay and allowances due at the time the officer is dropped from the rolls, however, will be used to satisfy debts due the United States and its instrumentalities.

5. Disposition of Forfeitures as a Result of Desertion. When an enlisted member, warrant officer, or limited duty officer forfeits pay as a result of desertion, deposit the gross amount of such forfeited pay to the Armed Forces Retirement Home Trust Fund. Do not, however, deposit this pay beyond the expiration of term of enlistment for enlisted members.
C. Computing Periods of Unauthorized Absence. Unauthorized absence of 24 consecutive hours or less does not affect pay or allowances. This applies even though the absence involves parts of 2 days. When the period of unauthorized absence exceeds 24 consecutive hours, use Table 1-14 to determine the first and last day of the period of absence.

D. Absence in the Hands of Civil Authorities

1. General. Pay the member all pay and allowances earned through the day before the first day of unauthorized absence. If the member is delivered to civil authorities by military authorities, he or she is entitled to all pay and allowances earned through the day prior to the date of such delivery. For entitlement to pay and allowances during confinement, see Table 1-12, rules 4, 5, and 6.

2. Finding of Insanity. An administrative determination under the rules contained in Table 1-13 must be made as to whether the absence was unavoidable when a member is found not guilty by reason of insanity by a civil court and transferred to a mental institution for an indefinite period of time. Table 1-12 contains rules for determining the effect of absences on pay and allowances.

3. Work Release Program. In some states and local jurisdictions, a person convicted and sentenced to a term of civil confinement may be released from the confinement facility to the cognizance of an employer during the normal workday. Work release, job rehabilitation, or employment retention programs of this type generally are conducted for the purpose of providing prisoners a means to continue support of their dependents and to demonstrate that they are capable of self-rehabilitation. When members are paroled to military authorities under a “work release” or similar program, they are entitled to pay and allowances for each day of full duty performed commensurate with their grade and military specialty.

E. Absence Due to Disease

1. When Pay Is Forfeited. See Table 1-12, rule 3.

2. When Pay Is Not Forfeited. Pay is not forfeited for absence from duty caused by:

   a. An injury;

   b. A disease, except under Table 1-12, rule 3;

   c. Simple drunkenness, if not coupled with chronic alcoholism or intemperate use of habit-forming drugs; or

   d. Venereal disease, whether or not due to misconduct.

3. Personal Expense Money. A member whose pay is forfeited under Table 1-12, rule 3 for more than 1 month is entitled to $5 for personal expenses for each full month.
that he or she forfeits pay. This payment will be made even though the member is indebted to the United States. The term “full month” is the period from a date in 1 month through the preceding date in the following month. For example, July 3 through August 2 is 1 month.

F. Military Confinement. Pay and allowances accrue to a member in military confinement except when:

1. Confined by military authorities, for civil authorities. See Table 1-12, rules 6 and 8;

2. Pay and allowances are forfeited by court-martial sentence. See Chapter 48 and Table 1-12, rule 10; and

3. The term of enlistment expires. See subparagraph 010402.G.

G. Term of Enlistment Expires

1. General. Pay and allowances accrue to a member upon return to a full-duty status. Full duty is attained when a member, not in confinement, is assigned useful and productive duties (as opposed to duties prescribed by regulations for confinement facilities) on a full-time basis which are not inconsistent with the grade, length of service, and military occupational specialty (MOS). While placement in the same MOS is not essential, the decision to place a member in that MOS or to assign the member available duties consistent with the grade and service rests with the appropriate military commander.

2. Absentee Returned to Military Control. An absentee who surrenders or is apprehended after a term of enlistment has expired is not entitled to pay and allowances until restored to a full-duty status for the purpose of making good the lost time. While held in retention, a member may be assigned duties as prescribed by regulations governing detained prisoners without being returned to full-duty status.

3. Enlistment Expires Before Trial. An enlisted member retained in the Military Service for the purpose of trial by court-martial is not entitled to pay for any period after the expiration of the enlistment unless acquitted or the charges are dismissed, or the member is retained in or restored to a full-duty status.

4. Confined Awaiting Trial by Court-Martial. If a member is confined awaiting court-martial trial when the enlistment expires, pay and allowances end on the date the enlistment expires. If the member is acquitted when tried, pay and allowances accrue until discharge.

5. Confined Serving Court-Martial Sentence. If a member is confined serving a court-martial sentence when the enlistment expires, pay and allowances end on the date the sentence is completely overturned or set aside as specified in Chapter 48. Pay and allowances will not accrue again until the date the member is restored to a full-duty status.
6. Confined While in a Status of Being Held in the Service to Make Up Lost Time. If confined while in a status of being held in the Military Service to make up lost time, an enlisted member continues in a pay status, except to the extent that pay may be forfeited by court-martial, the same as during the regular enlistment period. This pay status terminates if the member is in confinement on the date the normal term of service as extended to make up lost time would have expired, even if restored to duty at a later date.

7. Confinement Deferred or Prisoner Restored to Duty. A prisoner in a non-pay status is entitled to pay and allowances when service of sentence to confinement is deferred or the member is restored to a full-duty status. The date restored to duty is the date the member reported present for duty.

8. Absentee Confined Upon Return to Military Control. An enlisted member whose term of enlistment has expired while in a status of absence without leave or desertion is not entitled to pay and allowances upon return to military control while confined awaiting trial and disposition of the case if the conviction becomes final and the member has not been returned to a full-duty status. A member, however, who is returned to military control and restored to full duty for the purpose of making good the lost time before being confined to await trial, continues in a pay status except to the extent that pay may be forfeited by court-martial, the same as during the regular enlistment period. This pay status terminates if the member is in confinement on the date the normal term of service is extended to make up lost time would have expired, even if he or she is restored to duty at a later date.

9. Confined Under Sentence of Death. The pay and allowances of a member, serving in confinement under sentence of death and pending completion of the appellate review of the record of trial, do not accrue after the expiration of the enlistment.

10. Appellate Review of Court-Martial Sentence. A confined member who is pending appellate review of his or her court-martial sentence is not entitled to pay and allowances after the expiration of term of enlistment, unless the conviction is completely overturned or set aside.

H. Reserve Officer Absent From Duty. A Reserve officer whose term of active service expires while confined as a result of court-martial action continues to be entitled to pay and allowances, except when forfeited under an approved sentence of a court-martial or a period of service is terminated by proper orders.

0105 PAYMENT IN CASES OF VOID, VOIDABLE, OR REJECTED ENLISTMENTS OR INDUCTIONS

010501. Voidability of Contract

A fraudulent contract of enlistment or induction is not void but is voidable at the option of the government. When the government becomes aware of the fraud, it may void the contract or waive the objection and allow the contract to stand. (See Table 1-15.)
010502. Fraudulent Enlistments – Pay and Allowances

Members under investigation or determined to be serving in fraudulent enlistments are due pay and allowances for periods shown in Table 1-15.

010503. Travel Payments

See JTR, Chapter 5, Paragraph 051007.

010504. Disbursing Officer Entitled to Credit

A disbursing officer is entitled to credit for proper payments to a member who fraudulently enlisted if payments were made without the knowledge of the fraud and before the government rescinded the contract.

010505. Failure to Discover Physical Condition of Enlistee or Inductee

Failure to discover that the physical condition of an enlistee or inductee was such as would warrant rejection for military service does not deprive member of right to pay and allowances or of the status of being entitled to basic pay. (See Table 1-15.)

0106 FINANCIAL INSTITUTION CHARGES

010601. Reimbursement

Reimbursement of financial institution charges may be authorized. Authorized reimbursements are limited to overdraft charges or minimum balance or average balance charges levied by the financial institution because of an administrative or mechanical error on the part of the government that causes pay to be deposited late, or in an incorrect manner or amount.

010602. Non Reimbursement

Charges by financial institutions resulting from erroneous information provided by the member or the financial institution to a military pay office are not the liability of the government and will not be reimbursed.

010603. Definitions

A. Financial Institutions. For the purpose of this section a financial institution is defined as a bank, savings and loan association, or similar institution or a credit union chartered by the United States or a state.

B. Pay. For the purpose of this section pay is defined as basic pay, allowances, bonuses, special and incentive pays.
0107 MILITARY PAYDAYS

010701. Payday

The payday is the first calendar day of the month after the month in which the entitlement was earned.

010702. Exception

Except for payrolls otherwise payable on October 1, if the payday falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or federal legal holiday, payment is authorized on the preceding workday, but not more than 3 days before the scheduled payday. This exception applies to foreign holidays recognized abroad by U.S. Forces. It also applies to payments made to members upon separation from the Military Service through retirement or discharge when the last day of active duty falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or federal legal holiday.

010703. Determination

For payrolls otherwise payable on October 1, the DoD Comptroller will determine if the payroll may be dated in September.

NOTES:

1. Prior to February 11, 1996, absence during which a member was serving on active duty as an enlisted member and was also a Reserve officer is creditable. After February 10, 1996, a commissioned or warrant officer may not count the periods of absence for any purpose other than for computing length of service for basic pay. Also, see subparagraph 010202.B.

2. If the member is released without trial or acquitted, or if conviction is set aside on legal grounds (as distinguished from clemency), the period of absence is creditable. If the member is released upon agreement to make restitution or is later convicted by court-martial on the same facts, the period of absence is not creditable.

3. Period spent in confinement is creditable when the member is acquitted or the sentence is set aside or disapproved.

4. The period of absence is not creditable only if the confinement was under general court-martial sentence and/or while waiting (and during) trial which resulted in a sentence by a general court-martial to confinement and total loss of pay and allowances.

NOTES:

1. Original appointments include officers appointed from warrant officer, enlisted member, or civilian status.
2. Pay accrues from date of graduation, even though appointment is issued and accepted at later date.
3. See paragraph 010305 and Table 1-6 for allowable travel time to include in computation. Pay and allowances do not accrue if the member begins travel or reports earlier than the travel time necessary to comply with the active duty orders.
4. If member passes the physical examination, pay and allowances accrue for travel time to first duty station when later ordered to active duty for more than 30 days.
5. If the member fails the physical examination, pay and allowances accrue for period required for the examination and travel time to and from the examination.
6. If the member is ordered to active duty solely to take a physical examination, not incident to being ordered to active duty, active duty pay and allowances do not accrue.
7. Pay status does not begin if the Army National Guard or Air National Guard member is unable to respond to the call to active duty because of illness or other reason.

NOTES:

1. If the officer’s assignment is terminated because of:
   a. Assignment to another position also designated a special assignment: the officer will continue to draw the pay rate of the terminated assignment through the day before assuming the new position.
   b. Hospitalization: the officer will continue to draw the pay rate of the terminated assignment for the full period of hospitalization, but for not more than 180 days.
   c. Retirement: the officer will continue to draw the pay rate of the terminated position through the day before retirement, but for not more than 90 days.

2. A retroactive amendment of active duty orders is authority to serve in the higher grade from date of the amendment only. Increased pay and allowances are authorized from that date. Such orders do not create entitlement to increased pay and allowances for the retroactive period.

3. A retroactive promotion date is to be used only for consideration of seniority and time in grade for future promotions. Such orders do not create entitlement to increased pay and allowances for the period between the eligibility date for promotion and the effective date of the promotion order or letter. The effective date of promotion for purposes of entitlement to increased pay and allowances must not be earlier than the date the officer is assigned to a position requiring a grade equal to or higher than the grade to which promoted.

4. An appointment, promotion, or advancement to a higher grade with an effective date beyond the expiration date of the current enlistment and which is contingent upon the member’s extension of enlistment or reenlistment, entitles the member to increased pay and allowances from the effective date of extension or reenlistment, whichever is later. Payment for the higher rank or rating is not authorized for a period prior to date of current enlistment.

5. This restriction does not prevent payment to enlisted members for retroactive promotions or advancements that are made pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 1552(a)(2) (retroactive promotion or advancement without decision of the Board for Correction of Military Records), effective October 23, 1992.

NOTES:

1. Discharge orders do not of themselves relieve the government of its obligation to an officer. The officer must have received actual or constructive notice by the effective date, unless the officer willfully avoids notice of separation. If kept in Military Service without fault, in ignorance of an order of dismissal, the officer is entitled to all salaries and benefits of the office. If held in Military Service under orders after the date shown in separation orders, the officer is entitled to pay if there is nothing in the records showing non-entitlement.

2. A member who reverts from a temporary officer appointment to a permanent enlisted or warrant officer grade is entitled, if otherwise proper, to the active duty pay and allowances of the temporary officer grade through and including the date of reversion.

3. Includes discharge for underage enlistment. Does not include discharge for fraudulent contract of enlistment. (See section 0105.)

4. A member whose enlistment is extended involuntarily by law comes under rule 15, not rules 16-21.

5. If medical care or hospitalization was due to member’s misconduct, pay and allowances terminate on date of expiration of term of Military Service.

6. See subparagraph 010304.D for date of termination of the 25 percent increase in basic pay.

7. An erroneous promotion is later voided by revoking promotion orders (certificates of appointment or other documents used by the Military Service concerned to administratively effect promotions) from the original effective date. Payment of the pay and allowances of the higher grade through the date prior to the date of discovery is contingent, in each case, upon an administrative determination of the commander, that service performed while serving in the higher grade may be regarded as service performed in a “de facto” status, that is, the member was promoted by competent authority and performed duties of the higher grade. (See procedural regulations of the Military Service concerned.)

NOTES:

1. When the air terminal is within 50 miles of the active duty station and direct or connecting flights are obtainable within 50 miles of the place from which ordered to active duty.
2. Additional time may be allowed when there is an actual delay in air travel. The delay must have been due to reasons beyond the control of the member, such as mechanical failure, adverse weather conditions, excess passenger load, cancelled flights, illness of other passengers, or other circumstances.
3. Travel is not expected to start or end between midnight and 0600.
4. Travel days will not exceed the computed travel time. In the computation of travel time, use existing commercial schedules to determine the latest departure time that would permit arrival at the duty station on the reporting date and hour. On release from active duty, use earliest schedule after release which would permit arrival home by fastest available means, without regard to actual performance of travel. A member of a Reserve Component is entitled to active duty pay and allowances for allowable travel time per subparagraph 010305.B when member:
   a. is ordered to perform ADT;
   b. performs authorized IDT immediately before or after ADT at or near the same site; and
   c. receives orders which direct performance of necessary travel to and from the ADT site immediately before and after combined ADT/IDT. The travel date will be specified in the active duty orders. Full retirement point credit is earned for the period of IDT performed.

NOTES:

1. Basic pay rate for Academy Cadets/Midshipmen and ROTC members/applicants is $1,150.50.
2. The amount of the maximum combat zone tax exclusion in effect for a qualifying month equals the sum of the basic pay for the senior enlisted member payable (Table 1-10 note 3) and the maximum amount of hostile fire or imminent danger pay actually payable to the officer for the qualifying month.
3. Basic pay is limited to the rate of basic pay for level II of the Executive Schedule in effect during calendar year 2020, which is $16,441.80 per month for officers at pay grades O-7 through O-10. This includes officers serving as:
   a. Chairman or Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff;
   b. Chief of Staff of the Army;
   c. Chief of Naval Operations;
   d. Chief of Staff of the Air Force;
   e. Commandant of the Marine Corps;
   f. Commandant of the Coast Guard;
   g. Chief of the National Guard Bureau; or
   h. Commander of a unified or specified combatant command (as defined in 10 U.S.C. 161(c)).
4. Basic pay for pay grades O-6 and below is limited to the rate of basic pay for Level V of the Executive Schedule during calendar year 2020, which is $13,341.60.
5. O-1, O-2, and O-3 rates do not apply to commissioned officers who have been credited with over 4 years (i.e., at least 4 years and 1 day) of active duty service as an enlisted member or as a warrant officer or as both an enlisted member and a warrant officer.
6. These rates or, when applicable, the O-1E rates in Table 1-8 apply during periods of active service while as a DOM student of the USUHS. Also see subparagraph 010202.A.6.
7. For rank titles, see Volume 7A Comparable Grades.

NOTES:

1. The amount of the maximum combat zone tax exclusion in effect for a qualifying month equals the sum of the basic pay for the senior enlisted member payable (Table 1-10 note 3) and the maximum amount of hostile fire or imminent danger pay actually payable to the officer for the qualifying month.

2. Creditable service to be taken into account for purposes of this table is active service as an enlisted member or as a warrant officer or as both an enlisted member and a warrant officer, in the case of a commissioned officer on active duty who is paid from funds appropriated for active-duty personnel; or a commissioned officer on active Guard and Reserve duty. Creditable service to be taken into account for purposes of this table in the case of a commissioned officer is service as an enlisted member or as a warrant officer, or as both an enlisted member and a warrant officer, for which more than 1,460 points have been credited to the officer for the purposes of 10 U.S.C. § 12732(a)(2).

3. For rank titles, see Volume 7A Comparable Grades.

4. These rates do not apply to DOM students of the USUHS who do not have over 4 years (i.e., at least 4 years and 1 day) of active duty service as an enlisted member or as a warrant officer or as both an enlisted member and a warrant officer. See Table 1-7 for applicable rates. DOM USUHS students with over 4 years of prior enlisted and/or warrant officer service are entitled to the O-1E rate of basic pay in this table during such active duty periods. NOTES:

1. Basic pay rate for Academy Cadets/Midshipmen and ROTC members/applicants is $1,150.50.
2. For rank titles, see Volume 7A Comparable Grades.
3. Basic pay for senior enlisted member (grade E-9) is $8,844.30 regardless of years of service while serving as:
   a. Senior Enlisted Advisor of the Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff;
   b. Sergeant Major of the Army;
   c. Master Chief Petty Officer of the Navy;
   d. Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force;
   e. Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps;
   f. Master Chief Petty Officer of the Coast Guard; or
   g. Senior Enlisted Advisor to the Chief of the National Guard Bureau.
4. If a member is placed on terminal leave pending retirement immediately following the completion of service as the senior enlisted member of a Military Department, the member is entitled to the higher senior enlisted pay $8,844.30 up to a maximum of 60 days. If a member is hospitalized, and during or immediately before such hospitalization, completed service as the senior enlisted member of that Military Department’s Armed Force, the member will continue to be entitled, for not more than 180 days while so hospitalized, to the rate of basic pay authorized for a senior enlisted member.

*5. Must have 4 months of active duty or more.
*6. Must have under 4 months of active duty.

NOTES:

1. See subparagraph 010401.D for collection requirements when advance leave is changed to excess leave.
2. Enlisted members are entitled to BAS at the rate shown in Chapter 25, subparagraph 250202.A.2 or the Basic Allowance for Subsistence (BAS) table except for days of leave specifically authorized by the PCS orders. Pay BAS at the rate shown in Chapter 25, subparagraph 250202.B.3 for the PCS order-authorized leave period.
3. Members without dependents are entitled to BAH as prescribed in subparagraph 010401.C.2.e.
4. A negative leave balance which existed prior to the member being ordered home continues until separation or retirement and will be collected as excess leave.
5. A member separating effective Mar 1, whose separation leave period through February 28 (or through February 29 during leap year) results in excess leave, is not entitled to pay and allowances for February 29 and 30 (or for February 30 during leap year). These days are not considered days of excess leave; however, the member is considered to be in a non-pay status through February 30. See subparagraph 010302.B.

6. Under DoD Instruction (DoDI) 1327.06, “Leave and Liberty Policy and Procedures,” a member does not accrue leave during periods of excess leave (here referred to as “nonaccrual”). Computation of the number of days involved in an excess leave balance which accounts for this nonaccrual may result in a total which includes a fraction. Effective with leave taken on or after Feb 1, 1987, the total is not rounded to eliminate the fraction when pay and allowances are collected for excess leave. The fractional one-half day is considered to occur on the first day of the excess leave involved. Collect pay and allowances for the number of days, to include fractional days.

7. Member is not entitled to special pay under Chapter 14, section 1402.

NOTES:

1. Enlisted members are entitled to BAS at the rate prescribed when permission to ration separately is granted unless they were subsisted at government expense.
2. See Chapter 26, for entitlement to BAH in a non-pay status. See Chapter 10 for entitlement to Hostile Fire Pay which is payable in full for each month in which qualification is made.
3. A member is not entitled to pay or allowances for period of hospitalization after expiration of enlistment.
4. A member is not entitled to pay and allowances if granted a pass or liberty to serve civil confinement.
5. In any case where the commander of the military installation retains the discretionary authority to decide to incarcerate a member (or to merely restrict to the duty station and assign to perform useful and productive duties on a full-time basis), such member will not be considered as being “constructively absent” for the purposes of entitlement to pay and allowances.
6. Under existing DoD policy and Status of Forces Agreements, the U.S. Commander always retains discretionary authority to incarcerate or restrict a Military Service member to the installation when such a member is pending civil charges, even in cases where incarceration or restriction is requested by foreign authorities. Such member is not considered as being “constructively absent” for the purpose of entitlement to pay and allowances.
7. Pay and allowances due on date of desertion and on date an officer was dropped from the rolls will be used to satisfy debts due the United States and its instrumentalities.

CHAPTER 2

REPAYMENT OF UNEARNED PORTION OF BONUSES AND OTHER BENEFITS

0201 GENERAL

020101. Purpose

This chapter establishes policy pertaining to the repayment of unearned portions of bonuses and other benefits. A member, who enters into a written agreement with specified service conditions for receipt of a bonus, special or incentive pay, educational benefits, stipend, or similar payment (hereinafter referred to as “pay or benefit”) is entitled to the full amount of the pay or benefit if the member fulfills the required conditions. Failure to fulfill the conditions specified in the written agreement may result in termination of the agreement and the member may be required to repay the unearned portion of the pay or benefit. Such repayment will be pursued unless the member’s failure to fulfill the specified conditions is due to circumstances determined reasonably beyond the member’s control. Conditions under which repayment will not be sought are set forth in section 0203.

*020102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), Title 37. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

0202 POLICY

020201. Payment Disposition

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may establish, by regulation, procedures for determining the amount of the repayment required. Service regulations will apply the rules in Table 2-1 for disposition of unearned portions of the pay or benefit.

020202. Use of Separation Designator Codes (SPD) in Effecting the Repayment of Unearned Portion of Bonuses and Other Benefits

SPD codes are used to track and analyze the reasons that Service members separate from military service and to assist in the review, development, and monitoring of separation policies and programs. Additionally, SPD codes are used to ensure standardized pay actions are consistent with separation policies. While automated processes are critical, it is also important to recognize and allow Secretaries of the Military Departments to exercise their delegated authority to change pay actions on a case-by-case basis. Therefore, when the Secretary of a Military Department concerned wishes to exercise delegated authority to change a pay action for the designated SPD code assigned to the member’s Department of Defense (DD) Form 214, the Secretary concerned... submits the requested exception to policy (ETP) to the Director of Military Compensation in the Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (OASD) for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (M&RA) for approval. The approved ETP is submitted to the Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) for processing. It is important for the Military Departments to treat Service members similarly at separation, so this authority to change the designated pay action should be used sparingly.

020203. Definition

The term “service,” as used in this chapter, refers to an obligation willingly undertaken by a member of the uniformed services in exchange for a pay or benefit offered by the Secretary of Defense or the Secretary of the Military Department concerned to do one or more of the following:

A. Remain on active duty;
B. Remain in an active status in a Reserve Component;
C. Perform duty in a specified skill, with or without a specified qualification or credential;
D. Perform duty at a specified location; or
E. Perform duty for a specified period of time.

020204. Bankruptcy

An obligation to repay a pay or benefit to the United States is, for all purposes, a debt owed to the United States. A discharge in bankruptcy does not discharge a person from such debt if the discharge order is entered less than 5 years after:

A. The date of the termination of the agreement or contract on which the debt is based; or
B. The date of the termination of service on which the debt is based, in the absence of such agreement or contract.

0203 REPAYMENT AND NON-REPAYMENT CONDITIONS

020301. Conditions Under Which Repayment Will Be Sought

A. When the conditions of a written agreement are not fulfilled and repayment is determined appropriate, the member will be required to repay the United States the unearned portion of a pay or benefit. In cases other than death of a member, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned will advise DFAS of the disposition of any unearned portion of a pay or benefit.
B. Repayment will be sought, and any unpaid balances may not be paid to members who incur a disability because of their misconduct.

020302. Delegation of Authority

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may, through regulation, delegate the authority to make repayment determinations consistent with the criteria set forth in section 0203, but not below the O-6 or equivalent level. If delegated, then the Military Departments will specify the level and the scope of the authorized delegation in implementing regulations.

020303. Conditions Under Which Repayment Will Not Be Sought

As a general rule, repayment action may not be pursued in situations in which the member’s inability to fulfill specified service conditions related to a pay or benefit is due to circumstances determined reasonably beyond the member’s control. Payment of any unpaid portion of pay or benefit will be subject to the rules in Table 2-1, which in appropriate circumstances provide discretion to the Secretary of the Military Department concerned to pay unearned portions based on case-by-case determinations.

A. Repayment will not be sought, and any remaining unpaid portion of a pay or benefit due to a member under a written agreement that existed at the time of the member’s death, which was not the result of the member’s misconduct, is payable as a lump sum in the settlement of the decedent’s final military pay entitlements.

B. Repayment will not be sought, and any remaining unpaid portion of a pay or benefit due to a member under a written agreement will be paid at the time of separation or retirement for a disability incurred in the line of duty in a combat zone designated by the President of the United States or the Secretary of Defense, or in a combat-related operation designated by the Secretary of Defense, and/or for a combat-related disability. In such case, any remaining unpaid portion of a pay or benefit due to a member will be paid to the member upon separation from service.

C. Subject to the enlistment authorities, and the relevant regulations of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, a member who was paid a bonus or special pay for a period of enlistment in a Military Department, who is discharged for immediate reenlistment or appointment in a Military Department for which no bonus or special pay is paid, may be considered to have completed the full term of service specified in the former enlistment contract, provided the term of the latter reenlistment or appointment includes the remaining period of service from the former enlistment. The member’s enlistment bonus or special pay entitlements will be addressed prior to discharge from a Military Department.

D. Repayment will not be sought, and the Secretary of the Military Department concerned will not pay any remaining unpaid portion of a pay or benefit under the following circumstances, unless otherwise authorized by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned under subparagraph 020304.B:
1. The member’s employment in another military specialty or assignment rotation is directed;

2. The member’s military specialty or assignment is phased out or eliminated;

3. The member’s military specialty or assignment is otherwise affected by force structure or other mission essential requirements; or

4. The member is separated from service under a hardship separation or sole survivor discharge.

E. Pursuant to [Title 10, U.S.C. section 1171], enlisted members who are discharged within 12 months before the expiration of an enlistment, reenlistment, or extension of enlistment are considered to have completed the terms of the enlistment, reenlistment, or extension of enlistment for which the bonus was paid. Thus, recoupment is not required for the unearned portion of the pay or benefit arising from the early discharge. The Military Departments are responsible for determining whether a member’s early discharge is made pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 1171 and advising DFAS of the determination.

020304. Conditions Under Review by the Secretary of the Military Department

A. In instances involving a member’s separation for medical reasons, which were not the result of the member’s misconduct, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned has the discretion to determine whether to require repayment of the unearned portion of pay or benefit, or to pay an unpaid balance of a pay or benefit.

B. Under circumstances not specifically mentioned in this chapter, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned has the discretion to, at some point in the process, render a case-by-case determination that the member’s repayment of, or the Military Department’s full payment of an unpaid portion of, a pay or benefit is appropriate based on the following:

1. Contrary to a personnel policy or management objective;

2. Against equity and good conscience; or

3. Contrary to the best interest of the United States.

CHAPTER 3

SPECIAL PAY – OFFICERS ONLY

0301 GENERAL

030101. Purpose

The Secretaries of the Military Departments may pay a bonus or special pay to persons or officers, as appropriate, to support accession and retention efforts for a designated military specialty, career field, unit, grade, or to meet some other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. This chapter establishes policy pertaining to the payments of bonuses or special pay in support of accession and retention efforts.

*030102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.). Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

0302 GENERAL BONUS AUTHORITY FOR OFFICERS

030201. Authority

Title 37, U.S.C., section 332 and the DoD Instruction (DoDI) 1304.34, General Bonus Authority for Officers, dated July 11, 2016, provides the general bonus authority for bonuses referenced in sections 0303, 0304, 0305, and 0306. The Secretaries concerned may pay these bonuses to a person, member, or officer in the Military Services who:

A. Accepts a commission or appointment as an officer in a Military Service;

B. Affiliates as an officer with a Reserve Component (RC) of a Military Service;

C. Agrees to remain on active duty (AD) or in an active status for a specified period as an officer in a Military Service;

D. Transfers between the Regular Component and the Ready Reserve of the same Military Service, or vice versa; or

E. Transfers from a Regular Component or the Ready Reserve of a Military Service to a Regular Component or the Ready Reserve of another Military Service, subject to the approval of the Secretary with jurisdiction over the Military Service to which the member is transferring.
030202. Eligibility

In accordance with paragraph 030201, the Secretary concerned may only pay a bonus to a person or officer who:

A. Signs a written agreement with the Secretary concerned to serve for a specified period in a designated career field, skill, unit, or grade, or meets some other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary;

B. Successfully completes training and becomes qualified in a designated skill or career field, if completion of such training and technical qualification forms the basis for which the bonus is paid;

C. Qualifies pursuant to any additional criteria prescribed by the Secretary concerned;

D. Meets any additional eligibility criteria outlined in sections 0303, 0304, 0305, and 0306;

E. Is not in receipt of an accession, retention, reserve affiliation, or transfer bonus, in accordance with 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter I, for the same activity, skill, or period of service;

F. Will not exceed the mandatory retirement or high-year tenure date during the specified period of obligated service for which the bonus is paid; and

G. Is not serving a service obligation, except as noted in paragraph 030208.

030203. Additional Guidelines

A. An officer is not eligible for a bonus, under DoDI 1304.34, if previously discharged or released from AD or military service in an active status based on a determination of misconduct, substandard duty performance, or moral or professional dereliction.

B. In accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 371, an officer may not receive a bonus or incentive pay under 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter I and Subchapter II, for the same activity, skill, or period of service.

C. An officer may receive only one bonus pursuant to paragraph 030201 for the duration of the service obligation period, unless explicitly exempt in statute or DoDI 1304.34.

D. An officer may not receive more than $300,000 (or $150,000, in the case of a non-Active Guard Reserve officer in the RC) in combined bonus payments authorized under DoDI 1304.34 during the course of the officer’s career. The Military Service may not exceed these payment caps unless specifically authorized by the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (ASD (M&RA)).
E. An officer receiving pre-commissioning compensation in accordance with 10 U.S.C. §§ 2106, 2107, and 2107a, or financial assistance through a loan repayment program under 10 U.S.C. §§ 16201, 16301, 16302, or 16303, is not eligible for a bonus pursuant to DoDI 1304.34 until the military service obligation (MSO) is completed.

F. An officer receiving a bonus in accordance with 37 U.S.C. §§ 333 and 334, is not eligible for a bonus pursuant to DoDI 1304.34 for the same skill and period of service.

G. An officer receiving a bonus in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 335, is not eligible for a bonus pursuant to DoDI 1304.34 for the same period of obligated service.

H. Existing bonus contracts under 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter I, will remain in effect through the preexisting termination dates.

030204. Payment Method

A. The Secretary concerned will establish the method of payment for the bonus (i.e., lump sum or periodic installments).

B. The Secretary concerned may make payment based on training milestones, proportional length of service, or lump sum. However, the Secretary will not pay an officer any portion of a skill bonus before awarding of the military skill specialty, if completion of such training and technical qualification forms the basis for which the bonus is paid.

C. Officers will receive their initial bonus payments based on the terms and conditions of their bonus agreements.

030205. Amount

The bonus amount paid by the Secretary concerned will be fixed on acceptance of the agreement by the Secretary, and may only be paid prospectively. The bonus paid may not exceed the following amounts, unless otherwise approved by the ASD (M&RA):

A. $60,000 for a minimum 4-year service obligation for an officer or person who accepts a commission or appointment as an officer in a Military Service, as described in subparagraph 030201.A;

B. $10,000 for a minimum 3-year service obligation for an officer, as described in subparagraph 030201.B;

C. $25,000 for each year of obligated service as an officer in a Regular Component for retention, as described in subparagraph 030201.C;

D. $12,000 for each year of obligated service as an officer in an RC for retention, as described in subparagraph 030201.C; or
E. $10,000 for a transfer, as described in subparagraphs 030201.D and 030201.E.

030206. Specific Rule for Designated Military Skills or Career Fields

The following are specific procedures, requirements, and conditions related to an accession, affiliation, retention, or transfer bonus paid to an officer for a period of obligated service in a designated military skill or career field:

A. The period of obligated service will include normal skill progression, as defined by the Secretary concerned (e.g., attending courses in professional military education) and any other advanced training or education related to a designated military skill.

B. The Secretary concerned may pay a conversion bonus to an officer who agrees to convert to a designated military skill in which there is a shortage of trained and qualified officers. The bonus may be payable in a lump sum upon approval and completion of the conversion training by the Secretary concerned.

1. The officer must agree to serve for not less than 3 years on AD or in an active status in the Selective Reserve (SELRES) in that military skill or career field.

2. The officer must serve in the pay grade of O-3 or below with no more than 8 years of commissioned military service at the time the officer enters into the conversion contract, as computed in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 205.

3. The officer must have completed all service obligations previously incurred for receipt of an accession or retention bonus, in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 332, or critical skills retention bonus, in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 355, at the time the officer begins training for conversion to the new skill.

4. The bonus amount may not exceed the retention bonus amounts listed in paragraph 030504.

C. Officers receiving skill-based bonuses are expected to serve in an assignment for which the skill is required. For service obligations of at least 36 months, the Secretary concerned may curtail the assignment requirements to a period of 2 years based on the needs of the Military Service. The Secretary concerned will establish assignment criteria and procedures that limit the circumstances in which such a period of obligated military service may be curtailed and will specify such other appropriate conditions of military service, consistent with 37 U.S.C. § 332(b)(2) and paragraph 030202. Additionally, the Secretary will:

1. Ensure that military personnel centers identify, monitor, and review such obligated military service curtailments;

2. Approve any curtailment of the assignment criteria that involves more than one consecutive assignment in a military skill other than that which was designated for purposes of the bonus. This responsibility may be delegated no lower than the grade of major general or rear admiral (upper half); and

3.  Ensure that any request for curtailment is:

   a.  Clearly justified based on the needs of the Military Department concerned; and

   b.  Not granted on a routine basis.

030207. Repayment

A person or officer who receives a bonus in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 332, and fails to complete the period of obligated service or other conditions of service specified in the written agreement for which the bonus is paid, must repay any unearned portion of the bonus in accordance with the provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373 and Chapter 2.

030208. Service Obligations

A.  An officer who has a service obligation is not eligible for a bonus under DoDI 1304.34, except when the officer:

1.  Serves his or her initial service obligation incurred at time of commissioning or appointment in accordance with DoDI 1304.25, “Fulfilling the Military Service Obligation (MSO);”

2.  Incurs a service obligation due to a permanent change in duty station or promotion;

3.  Incurs a service obligation for attending and completing professional military education or government-funded education courses (this exception does not apply to undergraduate education); or

4.  Incurs a service obligation as a result of transferring Post 9-11 GI Bill benefits.

B.  For the situations described in subparagraphs 030208.A.1 through 030208.A.3, the service obligations may run concurrently for bonuses offered under DoDI 1304.34. For subparagraph 030208.A.4, the Secretary concerned will determine if the service obligation is concurrent or consecutive.

C.  Excluding the situations described in subparagraph 030208.A:

1.  The Military Department may offer a bonus under DoDI 1304.34 up to 1 year from completion of an officer’s service obligation.
2. The bonus may not be paid until completion of the previous service obligation.

3. The service obligation for a new bonus will begin on the date of the agreement or completion of a previous service obligation, whichever date is later.

030209. Non-Availability

A. Officers of the SELRES who incur a period of authorized absence approved by the Secretary concerned, or are transferred to the Standby Reserve in accordance with DoD Directive 1200.7, will have their bonuses suspended during this period and will not be entitled to bonus payments. The Secretary concerned will determine this period of time on a case-by-case basis.

B. The Secretary concerned may reinstate RC officers in the bonus program who are subsequently reassigned in the SELRES to a skill for which they had previously contracted, if they extend their MSO so they are able to serve the full original bonus agreement period.

C. Officers’ entitlement to subsequent payments will resume on the adjusted anniversary date of satisfactory and creditable SELRES service, as appropriate. The Secretary concerned will adjust the anniversary date for periods of authorized absence. Failure to meet reinstatement criteria in a capacity that was previously agreed on will result in termination of the bonus and in repayment, as appropriate.

0303 ACCESSION BONUS

030301. General

An accession bonus offers a monetary incentive for a person (including a Service member) to accept a commission or appointment as an officer and serve for a specified period on AD or in an active status in a Military Service.

A. An accession bonus is authorized when an individual executes a written agreement and agrees to serve for a minimum 4-year period in:

1. A designated military skill or career field;

2. A unit;

3. A grade; or

4. Some other role that meets a condition or conditions imposed by the Secretary concerned.
B. The procedures described in sections 0302 and 0303, as well as any additional conditions and requirements prescribed by the Secretary concerned, govern the award and administration of an accession bonus.

030302. Additional Accession Bonus Eligibility Requirements

In addition to meeting the minimum eligibility requirements listed in paragraph 030202, an eligible person must:

A. Meet the qualification standards listed in DoDI 1304.26 for a commission or appointment;

B. Be an initial recipient of a commission or appointment in a Regular Component or RC;

C. Have completed all previous service obligations incurred as a result of receiving a bonus or special pay while serving as an enlisted Service member or Reserve Officer Training Course cadet or midshipmen;

D. Not have received:

1. Pre-commissioning compensation under 10 U.S.C. §§ 2106, 2107, and 2107a;

2. Financial assistance through a loan repayment program in accordance with 10 U.S.C. §§ 16201, 16301, 16302, or 16303; or

3. An accession bonus in accordance with 37 U.S.C. §§ 324 and 330; and

E. Accept a service obligation on AD or in the SELRES for at least 4 years.

030303. Restrictions

A. An officer may receive only one officer accession bonus during a career. An officer accessed from the enlisted ranks is eligible for an accession bonus as an officer or warrant officer.

B. An officer reappointed in a Military Service after resignation or termination of a commission or appointment from an earlier period of military service is not eligible for an accession bonus.

C. An officer may not receive an accession bonus and a transfer bonus for the same period of military service.
D. An officer may not receive an accession bonus and an affiliation bonus for the same period of military service.

030304. Amount

The amount of an accession bonus under DoDI 1304.34 may not exceed $60,000 for a minimum 4-year period of obligated service, nor may it exceed an annual amount of $15,000.

030305. Payment Method

The method of payment will be consistent with paragraph 030205.

030306. Non-Availability

In the event an RC officer becomes unavailable, the provisions in paragraph 030209 will apply.

*030307. Duration of Authority

An officer accession bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

0304 RC AFFILIATION BONUS

030401. General

The RC affiliation bonus offers a monetary incentive for an officer to affiliate with the SELRES of a Military Service.

A. The bonus is authorized when an officer affiliates with the SELRES of a Military Service and agrees to serve for a specified period of not less than 3 years of obligated service in a military skill designated critical by the Secretary concerned or not less than 3 years of obligated service in a specific SELRES unit or officer pay grade to meet manpower shortages in the specific SELRES unit or officer pay grade. Additionally, the Secretary concerned may, with the officer’s consent, convert the officer to a designated career field or military skill in which there is a shortage of trained and qualified personnel.

B. The procedures described in sections 0302 and 0304, as well as any additional conditions and requirements prescribed by the Secretary concerned, govern the award and administration of an RC affiliation bonus.

030402. Additional RC Affiliation Bonus Eligibility Requirements

In addition to meeting the minimum eligibility requirements in paragraph 030202, an eligible officer must execute an agreement to serve as an officer in the SELRES for a service obligation of at least 3 years and have fewer than 15 years of qualifying military service towards a regular or non-regular retirement, in accordance with DoDI 1215.07. The officer must also:

A. Be serving in the Ready Reserve or Standby Reserve of a Military Service; or

B. Be serving or have served in the Regular Component for a period of more than 30 days and have been released under honorable conditions.

030403. Additional Guidelines

A. Individuals may receive more than one affiliation bonus in a career, though not for the same military skill, grade, or unit.

B. An officer may receive an affiliation bonus and transfer bonus as long as the officer serves the service obligations for each bonus consecutively. See section 0306 for additional information on transfer bonuses.

C. Officers signing up for an affiliation bonus and a transfer bonus at the same time will incur an additional 12-month service obligation rather than an additional 24-month service obligation, as otherwise prescribed. The minimum service obligation for an officer receiving both bonuses is 4 years.

030404. Amount

The maximum affiliation bonus may not exceed $10,000 for a minimum 3-year service obligation.

030405. Payment Method

A. The method of payment will be consistent with paragraph 030205.

B. An affiliation bonus begins to accrue on the date the eligible officer is assigned to a unit or position in the SELRES.

030406. Non-Availability

In the event an RC officer becomes unavailable, the provisions in paragraph 030209 will apply.

*030407. Duration of Authority

An officer affiliation bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.
0305 RETENTION BONUS

030501. General

A retention bonus under DoDI 1304.34 provides a monetary incentive that may be offered by the Military Department to retain adequate numbers of qualified officers.

A. Specifically, the bonus may be used by the Military Department to obtain the voluntary extension of an officer’s service in exchange for an agreement to serve for a specified period in a designated military skill, career field, unit, or grade or to meet some other condition or conditions imposed by the Military Department concerned.

B. The procedures described in sections 0302 and 0305, as well as additional conditions and requirements prescribed by the Secretary concerned, govern the award and administration of the retention bonus.

C. In order to meet the designated military skill or career field criteria, the Secretary concerned may, with the officer’s consent, convert the officer to a designated career field or military skill in which there is a shortage of trained and qualified personnel.

D. Officers appointed into a Military Service after a period of disenrollment, discharge, or separation who meet the eligibility requirements in paragraphs 030202 and 030502 may be eligible for a retention bonus.

030502. Additional Retention Bonus Eligibility Requirements

In addition to the eligibility requirements in paragraph 030202, an eligible officer must:

A. Have completed a minimum of 4 years of active commission service or qualifying service for an RC officer, in accordance with DoDI 1215.07; and

B. Agree to remain on AD or in an active status for a period of at least 2 years.

030503. Restrictions

A. An officer is not eligible for a retention bonus if, at the start of the period of additional obligated service, the officer:

1. Has between 16 and 19 years of active commissioned service or qualifying service, in accordance with DoDI 1215.07 for an RC officer; or

2. Is retirement eligible with more than 22 years of active commissioned service or qualifying service in accordance with DoDI 1215.07.
B. The service obligation for a retention bonus may not extend an officer’s service beyond 25 years of active commissioned service or qualifying service, in accordance with DoDI 1215.07 for an RC officer.

C. Officers who have transferred their Post-9/11 GI Bill or Montgomery GI Bill – SELRES education benefits to a dependent or spouse in accordance with DoDI 1341.13, are eligible for a retention bonus as specified in DoDI 1304.34. The Secretary concerned will determine if the service obligation for both the retention bonus and GI Bill transfer is served concurrently or consecutively.

030504. Amount

The Secretary of the Military Department may prorate bonus amounts for retention requests greater than 2 years. The additional service time will be calculated on a monthly basis at a rate equal to 1/12th the annual amount. The maximum retention bonus may not exceed:

A. $25,000 for each year of obligated service in a Regular Component; or
B. $12,000 for each year of obligated service in an RC.

030505. Payment Method

The method of payment will be consistent with paragraph 030205.

030506. Non-Availability

In the event an RC officer becomes unavailable, the provisions of paragraph 030209 will apply.

*030507. Duration of Authority

An officer retention bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

0306 TRANSFER BONUSES

030601. Intra-Service Transfer

The Intra-Service transfer bonus provides a monetary incentive for an officer to transfer from the Regular Component of a Military Service to the Ready Reserve (and vice versa, however mobilization does not constitute an intra-service transfer) of the same Service to meet manning requirements. The Secretaries concerned may pay a bonus to an officer who agrees to transfer from the Regular Component to the Ready Reserve (and vice versa) and agrees to serve for a specified period in a designated military skill, career field, unit, or grade, or to meet other conditions imposed by the Secretary concerned.
A. The procedures described in section 0302 and paragraph 030601, as well as any additional conditions and requirements prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, govern the award and administration of the transfer bonus.

B. All transfers among Military Service components will be conducted in accordance with DoDI 1300.04.

C. To be eligible for an intra-service transfer bonus, an officer must meet the following additional eligibility requirements:

   1. The officer has fulfilled all service obligations satisfactorily within the officer’s current Regular Component or RC;

   2. The officer meets the qualification criteria for the transfer bonus of the Regular Component or RC of the Military Service to which the officer is transferring;

   3. The officer must agree to remain in the component of the Military Service for which the transfer bonus is offered for a minimum of 2 years; and

   4. The officer must have fewer than 15 years of active time.

D. Affiliation and Transfer Bonus

   1. The Secretaries concerned may offer an intra-service transfer bonus in conjunction with an affiliation bonus.

   2. Officers receiving both bonuses incur an additional 12-month service obligation for a minimum service obligation of 4 years.

   3. Table 3-1 lists the intra-service transfers for which the Military Departments may offer a bonus.

030602. Inter-Service Transfer

The Inter-Service transfer bonus provides a monetary incentive for an officer to transfer to another Military Service to meet manning requirements of that Military Service. The Secretaries concerned may pay a bonus to an officer who agrees to transfer to and serve in another Military Service for a specified period in a designated military skill, career field, unit, or grade or to meet some other condition(s) imposed by the Secretary of the gaining Military Department.

A. The procedures described in section 0302 and paragraph 030602, as well as any additional conditions and requirements prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, govern the award and administration of the transfer bonus.
B. Transfers between Military Services include officers transferring from the Regular Component or the Ready Reserve of a Military Service to the Regular Component or the Ready Reserve of a different Military Service.

C. Officer transfers between Military Services will be conducted in accordance with DoDI 1300.04.

D. In order to successfully transfer, an officer must:
   1. Qualify for retention in the Military Service to which the officer is transferring;
   2. Have fulfilled all MSOs satisfactorily within the officer’s current Regular Component or RC;
   3. Meet the qualification criteria established by the Secretary of the Military Department with jurisdiction over the Military Service to which the officer is transferring;
   4. Agree to sign a written agreement to remain in the Military Service for which the transfer bonus is offered for a minimum 3-year period; and
   5. Have fewer than 15 years of active service time.

E. Affiliation and Transfer Bonus
   1. The Secretary concerned may offer an inter-service transfer bonus in conjunction with an affiliation bonus.
   2. Officers receiving both bonuses incur an additional 12-month service obligation for a minimum MSO of 4 years.
   3. Table 3-2 lists the inter-service transfers for which a bonus may be offered.

030603. Restrictions

An officer receiving separation pay in accordance with 10 U.S.C., Chapter 59, is not eligible for a transfer bonus.

030604. Amount

A transfer bonus may not exceed $10,000.

030605. Payment Method

The method of payment will be consistent with paragraph 030205.
030606. Non-Availability

In the event an RC officer becomes unavailable, the provisions of paragraph 030209 will apply.

*030607. Duration of Authority

An officer transfer bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

0307 SPECIAL PAYS FOR NUCLEAR-QUALIFIED OFFICERS (NAVY ONLY)

*030701. Nuclear Power Accession Bonus Program

A. Eligibility

1. Nuclear Officer Accession Bonus. An accession bonus is payable to officers or prospective officers who are selected for officer naval nuclear propulsion training and execute a written agreement to participate in a program of training for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants. Payment is authorized upon acceptance of the written agreement.

2. Nuclear Career Accession Bonus. Officers who are on AD and who successfully complete the nuclear propulsion-training program, leading to qualification for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants, are eligible for payment of the nuclear career accession bonus.

B. Payment. Under 37 U.S.C. § 333(d)(1), Nuclear Officer Bonuses may not exceed $50,000 for each 12-month period. Bonus rates for this program are contained in Chief of Naval Operations Instruction (OPNAVINST 7220.11G).

C. Repayment. An officer, who receives an accession bonus and does not commence or satisfactorily complete the nuclear power training, will be subject to the repayment provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373, and Chapter 2.

* D. Duration of Authority. A nuclear power accession bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

*030702. Nuclear Officer Continuation Bonus (COBO)

A. Entitlement. The Secretary of the Navy may pay Nuclear Officer COBO to nuclear-qualified officers who agree to remain on AD for a specified period beyond their existing service obligation.
B. Eligibility. Officers who meet the criteria defined in OPNAVINST 7220.11G are eligible to receive COBO upon acceptance of their written agreement to remain on AD in connection with supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

C. Payment. The amount payable may not exceed $35,000 for each year of the active service agreement. The rates and effective dates are contained in the governing regulation, OPNAVINST 7220.11G.

D. Repayment. An officer who receives a bonus and fails to complete the period of obligated service or other conditions of service specified in the written agreement for which the bonus is paid, may be subject to repayment of any unearned portion of the bonus in accordance with the provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373, Chapter 2, and OPNAVINST 7220.11G.

* E. Duration of Authority. A nuclear officer continuation bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

030703. Nuclear Career Annual Incentive Pay (AIP)

A. Purpose. The Secretary of the Navy may pay Nuclear Career AIP to nuclear-trained and nuclear-qualified officers who are on AD and who complete their initial service requirement, and to nuclear-trained and nuclear-qualified limited duty and warrant officers who serve in an assignment with duties in connection with direct supervision, operation, or maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

B. Eligibility. AIP is paid annually to nuclear-trained and qualified officers who remain on AD for a specified period and who meet the eligibility criteria set forth in OPNAVINST 7220.11G.

1. Warrant Officers in pay grades W-2 through W-5 and Officers in pay grades O-1 through O-6 are eligible for AIP. Officers serving in a period of obligated service associated with paragraph 030702 are not eligible for AIP during that period of their obligated service.

2. In order to be eligible for AIP (or a pro-rata portion thereof), for any nuclear service year, an officer must be qualified for duties in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants on 30 September.

C. Payment. Under 37 U.S.C. § 333(d)(1)(B), Nuclear Career AIP may not exceed $25,000 for each 12-month period of qualifying service. The current rates and payment procedures are contained in the governing regulation, OPNAVINST 7220.11G.

NOTE: An officer of the U.S. Navy who is not on AD on the last day of a nuclear service year may be paid AIP on a pro rata basis if otherwise qualified, unless termination of AD or loss of qualifications was voluntary or was the result of his own misconduct.
Prototype Shift Engineer Incentive Pay (SEIP)

A. Entitlement. The Secretary of the Navy may pay SEIP to nuclear-trained and nuclear-qualified officers who have completed their initial service requirement and remain on AD for a specified period while maintaining current technical qualifications, as approved by the Secretary, for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

B. Eligibility. Nuclear-trained submarine and surface warfare officers who meet the criteria defined in OPNAVINST 7220.11G, are eligible to receive SEIP while assigned to a qualifying billet and qualified for duty in connection with the supervision, operation, and maintenance of naval nuclear propulsion plants.

C. Payment. Officers who meet the eligibility criteria in OPNAVINST 7220.11G are entitled to SEIP at the start of their shift-engineer tour at the monthly rate of $500. The monthly portion of SEIP will be paid at the end of the month on a pro-rata basis for the period the officer meets the payment criteria in OPNAVINST 7220.11G. SEIP is paid on a 30-day month. Officers who receive COBO are eligible for SEIP. Officers who receive AIP are eligible for SEIP provided they do not exceed the $25,000 payment limit authorized under 37 U.S.C. § 333(d)(1)(B), when combined with Nuclear Career AIP for each 12-month period of qualifying service. An officer who is serving in a qualifying assignment for a portion of a year may be paid SEIP on a pro rata basis. Current rates and payment procedures are contained in the governing regulation, OPNAVINST 7220.11G.

D. Repayment. An officer, who fails to commence or satisfactorily complete a shift engineer tour will be subject to the repayment provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373 and Chapter 2. Specific exclusions from recoupment are listed in OPNAVINST 7220.11G.

Command pay is designed to recognize officers assigned as commanding officers in operational leadership positions of unusual responsibility which are of a critical nature to a Military Service. The Secretary concerned may designate positions under his or her jurisdiction that are authorized command pay.

Eligibility

Secretaries concerned will establish eligibility criteria based on Service-specific needs but will consider paygrade, level of responsibility, and the operational nature of the assignment.

Amount

Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned will establish monthly rates but the amount of command pay per month will not exceed $150.
030804. Restrictions

A. No more than 10 percent of the number of officers on AD in a Military Service in paygrades O-4 through O-6 may be paid command pay.

B. Command pay is not authorized for more than one officer per unit, except for the dates of assumption of and relief from command.

CHAPTER 5

HEALTH PROFESSIONS OFFICER (HPO) SPECIAL AND INCENTIVE PAY

0501 GENERAL

050101. Purpose

The purpose of this chapter is to establish policy pertaining to Health Professions Special & Incentive (HPS&I) Pay.

050102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the Department of Defense (DoD or DD) in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the DoD Instruction (DoDI) 6000.13. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

0502 PROVISIONS

Each HPS&I pay is in addition to any other pay or allowance to which an HPO is eligible except as specified in sections 0503 through 0508.

050201. Legacy Special Pays

A. HPOs who entered into a written agreement for receipt of a special pay (Multiyear Special Pay; Incentive Special Pay; Additional Special Pay) on or before January 27, 2018 will, if otherwise qualified, continue to receive payments until completion of the written agreement. Effective January 28, 2018, all new agreements for special pays will be administered in accordance with paragraph 050202. The criteria for legacy pays can be found in the archived Chapters 5, 6, 7, and 21.

B. Subject to acceptance by the Secretary concerned, an HPO who entered into a written agreement in accordance with the legacy special pay authorities may request termination of that agreement to enter into a new agreement with an equal or longer obligation at the annual rate in effect at the time of execution of the new agreement. The new obligated period will not retroactively cover any portion or period that was executed under the old agreement.

050202. Consolidated Special Pays (CSP)

HPOs may be paid special pay at the rate for the specialty for which they are fully qualified. The specialty or subspecialty must be the same for all pays received. The HPO may only receive Incentive Pay (IP) and a Retention Bonus (RB) for one specialty, even if the HPO holds qualifications in two or more specialties. The IP and RB must be effective on the same date. The eligibility for each HPS&I pay is described in sections 0504 through 0508.
050203. Restrictions

A. The amount of HPS&I pay is not included in computing the amount of any increase in pay or in computing retired, separation, severance, or readjustment pays.

B. An HPO may not receive Special pays pursuant to paragraphs 050201 and 050202 simultaneously. Once an HPO receives a Special pay pursuant to paragraph 050202, the HPO cannot revert back to Special pays in paragraph 050201.

050204. Eligibility

To be eligible to participate in the CSP, an HPO must:

A. Not have reached the mandatory retirement or removal date due to age or years of service and will complete any additional service obligation incurred before the individual’s mandatory retirement or removal date, unless granted a waiver;

B. Have a current, valid, and unrestricted license or approved waiver;

C. Maintain all licensing, credentialing, and specialty qualifications;

D. Meet privileging requirements; and

E. Sign a service agreement indicating:

1. The amount of bonus or pay;

2. The method of payment of the bonus or pay;

3. The period of obligated service for the bonus or pay;

4. Whether the service will be performed on Active Duty (AD) or in active status in a Reserve Component (RC);

5. The type or conditions of the service; and

6. The circumstances that may result in termination of the agreement and repayment of any unearned portion of the bonus or pay if the officer fails to fulfill the conditions of the bonus or pay, to include an unfulfilled service obligation or eligibility requirement.
0503  ACCESSION BONUS (AB)

050301.  Eligibility

To be eligible for an AB, an individual must:

A.  Meet the eligibility criteria itemized in paragraph 050204;
B.  Be a graduate of an accredited school in a health profession;
C.  Be qualified for an appointment as a commissioned officer in a regular or RC of a Uniformed Service (an individual must accept an appointment as an HPO before the bonus will be paid);
D.  Execute a written agreement to accept an appointment as an HPO of the Army, Navy or Air Force to serve on AD in a regular component or in an active status in an RC in a health profession for a specified period;
E.  When appointed, have completed the service obligation for receipt of financial assistance from the DoD to pursue a course of study in a health profession. This includes, but is not limited to, participants and former participants of the:
   1.  Reserve Officers’ Training Corps;
   2.  Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program;
   3.  Financial Assistance Program;
   4.  Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences; and
   5.  Other commissioning programs;
F.  Have been honorably discharged or released from any prior service;
G.  Be qualified in the specialty to which appointed; and
H.  Have been discharged from any Uniformed Service at least 24 months before execution of the written agreement to receive an AB, and no longer hold an appointment, if a former HPO.

050302.  Amounts

AB amounts are listed in Table 5-1. For the most current rates, see the HPO AB table on DFAS.MIL.
0504 CRITICALLY SHORT WARTIME SKILLS ACCESSION BONUS (CSWSAB)

050401. Eligibility

To be eligible for CSWSAB, an individual must:

A. Meet the eligibility criteria itemized in subparagraphs 050301.A through F; and

B. Be fully qualified in the critically short wartime specialty to which appointed; and

C. Have been discharged from any Uniformed Service at least 24 months before execution of the written agreement to receive a CSWSAB, and no longer hold an appointment, if a former HPO.

050402. Amounts

CSWSAB amounts are listed in Table 5-2. For the most current rates, see the CSWSAB table on DFAS.MIL.

0505 BOARD CERTIFICATION PAY (BCP)

050501. Eligibility

A. HPOs must:

1. Meet the eligibility criteria itemized in paragraph 050204;

2. Be serving in an Active Component (AC) or an RC of a Military Service and entitled to basic pay under Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 204 or compensation pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 206;

3. Be serving on AD or in an active Reserve status in a designated health professional clinical specialty;

4. Have a post-baccalaureate degree in a clinical specialty (a post Master's certificate acceptable to the Secretary concerned can satisfy this requirement); and

5. Be certified by a professional board in a designated health profession clinical specialty.

B. All Officers, to include General/Flag officers at the rank of O-7 and above, are eligible for the BCP.
050502. Amount

The annual amount payable is $6,000, to be prorated monthly.

0506 IP

050601. General Provisions

A. IP When Not Participating in an RB Agreement. Subject to acceptance by the Secretary concerned, an HPO who is eligible for and not in an existing RB agreement, and who is no longer obligated pursuant to a previous IP agreement, may enter into a new 1-year IP agreement at the rate in the HPS&I pay plan. IP agreements must be for at least 1 year and cannot be prorated. If, during the IP agreement, the HPO becomes eligible for a higher IP, the HPO may terminate and renegotiate at that higher rate, obligating for at least a year from the date of renegotiation.

B. IP When Participating in an RB Agreement. An HPO who enters into an RB contract may also be eligible for IP for the same specialty at the amount in the HPS&I pay plan. An HPO who elects this option will continue IP eligibility, at the rate in effect at the time the RB agreement is effective, for each active year of the RB contract. Any renegotiation of either the RB or IP will require signing a new RB contract at the annual rate in effect at the time of signature, with an obligation that ends after the obligation of the original agreement.

C. Effective Date. The effective date of the IP agreement will be calculated from the date the member completes the qualifying training plus 3 months.

050602. Eligibility

A. To be eligible for IP, an HPO must be:

1. Serving in an AC or RC of a Military Service and entitled to basic pay under 37 U.S.C. § 204 or compensation pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 206;

2. Serving on AD or in an active Reserve status in a designated health professional specialty; and

3. Eligible as prescribed in paragraph 050204;

B. Medical Corps and Dental Corps Officers at the rank of O-7 and above are eligible for the HPO IP at the General Medical Officer (GMO) or General Dental Officer rate, respectively. All other General/Flag officers are authorized the HPO IP rate for their credentialed specialty.
050603. Amounts

Annual payment amounts for IP contracts are listed in Tables 5-3 through 5-6 and paid in equal monthly payments. For the most current IP rates, see the Dental Corps, Medical Corps, Nurse Corps, Biomedical Services, Medical Services, Specialists, and Veterinary Corps tables on DFAS.MIL.

0507 RB

050701. General Provisions

A. Subject to acceptance by the Secretary concerned, an HPO with an existing multiyear special pay pursuant to 37 U.S.C. Chapter 5, Subchapter I, or with an RB contract pursuant to 37 U.S.C. Chapter 5, Subchapter II, may request termination of that contract to enter into a new RB contract with an equal or longer obligation at the RB annual rate in effect at the time of execution of the new contract. The new obligation period will not retroactively cover any portion or period that was executed in accordance with the prior contract.

B. The Secretary concerned may pay an RB to HPOs based on their clinical specialty or subspecialty regardless of their ability to spend appropriate time in a clinical setting.

050702. Eligibility

To be eligible for an RB, an HPO must:

A. Meet the eligibility criteria itemized in paragraph 050204;

B. Have completed qualifications for the specialty or subspecialty for which the RB is being paid before the beginning of the fiscal year during which a written agreement is executed;

C. Enter into a written agreement, accepted by the Secretary concerned, to remain on AD or in an active status in an RC as an HPO for 2, 3, or 4 years;

D. Be below the grade of O-7; and

E. Meet one of the following requirements:

1. Have completed any AD or reserve duty service commitment incurred for any and all pre-commissioning education and training; or

2. Have completed the service obligation for an AB (an individual eligible for an AB may decline the AB and accept the RB).
050703. Amounts

Annual payment amounts for AC RB contracts are listed in Tables 5-5 through 5-8. For the most current AC RB rates, see the Dental Corps, Medical Corps, Nurse Corps, Biomedical Services, Medical Services, Specialists, and Veterinary Corps tables on DFAS.MIL.

0508 RC

050801. AB

A. To be eligible for an AB, an RC participant must:

1. Execute a written agreement to remain a satisfactory participant in the Selected Reserves (SELRES) in accordance with DoDI 1215.13;

2. Be qualified in a critical skill identified on the RC HPS&I Pay Plan; and

3. Meet the provisions outlined in paragraphs 050204 and 050301. NOTE: An HPO in the SELRES who transfers to the Individual Ready Reserve or Standby Ready Reserve is not eligible for payments and will have the special pay suspended during this period.

B. Payment amounts for RC AB contracts are listed in Tables 5-9, 5-10, 5-11 and 5-12. For the most current RC AB rates, see the Dental Corps, Medical Corps, Nurse Corps, Biomedical Services, Medical Services, Specialists, and Veterinary Corps tables on DFAS.MIL.

050802. Affiliation Bonus for RC (AFBRC)

A. Eligibility

To be eligible for an AFBRC, an HPO must:

1. Meet the eligibility criteria itemized in paragraph 050204;

2. Be serving on AD or have served on AD and have a DD Form 214, “Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty,” that verifies an honorable discharge or release;

3. Provide the original DD 214 (copy 1 or copy 4) or a reproduction with a certified true-copy stamp and the appropriate Federal Government authenticating seal imprinted for each period of service;

4. Be qualified to hold an appointment as an HPO;

5. Be qualified in the specialty in which they agree to serve;
6. Execute a written agreement to serve 3 years in the SELRES; and
7. Not have previously received an AB in the SELRES, unless granted a waiver.

B. Amount

The Secretary concerned may pay an AFBRC up to $10,000 to eligible officers.

050803. BCP

A. Eligibility

An HPO must meet the provisions outlined in paragraph 050501.

B. Payment

If eligible, an RC member will be paid at the daily rate of one-thirtieth of the BCP monthly rate as defined in paragraph 050502 for any period in which the member is entitled to basic pay under 37 U.S.C. § 204 or compensation pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 206.

050804. IP

A. Eligibility

An HPO must meet the provisions outlined in paragraph 050602.

B. Payment

If eligible, an RC member will be paid at the daily rate of one-thirtieth of the IP monthly rate for any period in which the member is entitled to basic pay under 37 U.S.C. § 204 or compensation pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 206. See paragraph 050603.

050805. RB

A. Eligibility

To be eligible for an RB, an HPO must meet the provisions outlined in paragraph 050702.

B. Payment

Payment amounts for RC RB contracts are listed in Tables 5-9, 5-10, 5-11 and 5-12. For the most current RC RB rates, see the Dental Corps, Medical Corps, Nurse Corps, Biomedical Services, Medical Services, Specialists, and Veterinary Corps tables on DFAS.MIL.
0509 TERMINATION

050901. Reasons

The Secretary concerned may terminate at any time an HPO special pay agreement. The Secretary concerned will establish regulations that specify the conditions and procedures for termination, and they will be included in the written service agreement for the specific special pay. Reasons for termination may include, but are not necessarily limited to:

A. Loss of privileges;
B. Court-martial conviction;
C. Failure to maintain a current, valid, and unrestricted license or approved waiver; or
D. Reasons that are in the best interest of the Military Department.

050902. Proration

If an agreement for one or more special pays is terminated, the HPO will be paid on a pro-rata basis for the portion served until the official date of termination.

050903. Repayment

An HPO who fails to maintain the eligibility requirements for a special pay, does not complete the obligation period for the pay, or whose pay is terminated by the Secretary concerned, as described in paragraph 050801, will be subject to the repayment provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373 and Chapter 2. These repayment authorities will be stipulated in the written service agreement.

050904. Reinstatement

If an HPO’s special pay is terminated due to failure to maintain a valid license, the member can become eligible for special pays again. Once the HPO’s license is reinstated and eligibility is re-established, the HPO may negotiate new contractual special pay agreements. Regardless of whether the HPO receives special pays, the HPO will be held responsible for the original contracted special pay service obligation until completed or until involuntary separation from military service occurs.

*050905. Duration of Authority

An HPS&I may not be paid to any person for an AB, CSWSAB, BCP, IP, or RB after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the person’s entitlement to the HPS&I commenced prior to that date.

CHAPTER 8

SPECIAL PAY - SPECIAL DUTY ASSIGNMENT PAY

*0801 GENERAL

080101. Purpose

Special Duty Assignment Pay (SDAP) is awarded to Service members for the performance of duty in an assignment, location, or unit designated, where the assigned duties are determined to be extremely demanding, involving an unusual degree of responsibility or difficulty, or requiring special qualifications.

080102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the Department of Defense (DoD) in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), Title 37. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

*0802 SDAP

080201. Eligibility

The Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned will establish eligibility criteria based on Service-specific needs and will consider paygrade, level of responsibility, and the operational nature of the assignment.

A. Army. See the Department of the Army Memorandum, Corrected 3-Special Duty Assignment Pay Biennial Review and Recertification, dated November 14, 2018.

B. Navy. See Chief of Naval Operations Instructions (OPNAVINST) 1160.6C.

C. Air Force. See Air Force Instruction (AFI) 36-3017.

D. Marine Corps. See Marine Corps Order (MCO) 7220.12R.

080202. Additional Guidelines

A. The Secretary of the Military Department may pay a special duty pay to a member of the Active or Reserve Component of the Uniformed Service who is entitled to basic pay under 37 U.S.C., section 204, or compensation under 37 U.S.C. § 206.
B. The Secretary concerned may pay SDAP to a Service member who performs duties in an assignment, location, or unit designated, and under the conditions of service specified by the Secretary concerned.

C. SDAP will be in addition to any other pay or allowances a Service member may be receiving, except where otherwise stated.

D. Awarding new agreements for assignment and special duty pays under 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter I, was discontinued after October 1, 2017. Existing agreements under 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter I, will remain in effect and payments may continue through the agreed-upon date.

080203. Restrictions

A. A member of a Reserve Component entitled to pay under 37 U.S.C. § 206 and authorized for special duty pay may be paid an amount of SDAP that is proportionate to the compensation received by the member for inactive duty training. The member may be awarded an amount at 1/30th of the prescribed monthly rate of the special duty pay for the performance of each authorized period of inactive duty training with pay.

B. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may increase, decrease, or abolish SDAP for any skill or assignment at any time and will establish restrictions and limitations to the pay through Service regulations.

C. Assignment and special duty pays are not to be continuous in nature and should be for a specified period. However, back-to-back assignment and special duty pays are authorized as long as the Service member continues to meet Service regulations and perform duties in assignments designated for the pay.

D. A member may receive multiple assignment and special duty pays. However, a Service member may not receive multiple pays for the same purpose and period of service.

080204. Amount

A. Assignment and special duty pays may be paid in monthly, installment, or lump sum amounts, but may not exceed the amount listed in subparagraph 080204.B. The combination of assignment and special duty pays may not exceed an average monthly amount of $3,500, unless otherwise authorized by the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower and Reserve Affairs.
B. The Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned will establish monthly rates, but the maximum amount of SDAP per month will not exceed $750.

080205. Repayment

A member who receives SDAP in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 352, and fails to fulfill the eligibility requirements for receipt of such pay, will be subject to the repayment provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373.

0803 ENTITLEMENT

080301. Service Designations

Designations of military specialties and assignments for SDAP are in the applicable regulations of the Military Service concerned.

*080302. Written Agreement

A. Discretionary for Monthly Payments. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may require a Service member to enter into a written agreement with the Secretary in order to qualify for the payment of assignment pay or special duty pay on a monthly basis. If used, the written agreement will specify the period for which the assignment pay or special duty pay will be paid and the monthly rate.

B. Non-discretionary for Installment or Lump Sum Payments. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will require a Service member to enter into a written agreement with the Secretary in order to qualify for installment or lump sum payments of assignment pay or special duty pay. The written agreement will specify the period for which the Service member will receive assignment pay or special duty pay, the amount of each periodic installment or lump sum, and the repayment policy under paragraph 080205.

*0804 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

080401. Effect of SDAP on Other Computations

SDAP is not used in the computation for an enlistment bonus, severance pay, separation pay, or cash settlement of accrued leave.

080402. Tax

SDAP is subject to withholding of income tax, but not subject to withholding of Federal Insurance Contributions Act taxes.

CHAPTER 9

ACTIVE DUTY ENLISTED MEMBERS ENLISTMENT, REENLISTMENT AND RETENTION BONUSES

0901 GENERAL

090101. Purpose

This chapter establishes DoD policy guidance pertaining to active duty enlistment, reenlistment, and retention bonuses.

*090102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 331. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

0902 ENLISTMENT BONUS

090201. Eligibility

An enlistment bonus is authorized for individuals who enlist in a Military Service for a specific period and, if applicable, for service in a military skill that is experiencing critical personnel shortages as designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. The individual must meet the qualifications listed in subparagraphs 090201.A-H:

A. Possess a high school diploma, a completion or attendance certificate in lieu of a high school diploma, or a General Educational Development program certificate;

B. The individual must be an initial enlistee, a prior Military Service enlistee, who enlists in a Regular Component of the Military Service as defined in subparagraphs 090201.B.1 and 2.

1. Initial/Non-prior Service Enlistee. An Initial or Non-prior Service Enlistee is a person who has either never served or has served, and was released from such service before completing the basic training requirements of the Service of which the person was a member and the service was characterized as either honorable or uncharacterized.

2. Prior Military Service Enlistee. A Prior Military Service Enlistee is a person who has prior military experience but has not previously received an enlistment or reenlistment bonus or who currently is not entitled to a Selective Retention Bonus (SRB) under section 0903, or a Critical Skill Retention Bonus (CSRB) under section 0904, or a Prior Service Enlistment Bonus under section 0905;
C. Enlist for at least 2 years or extend an initial period of obligated service to a total of at least 2 years in a Regular Component of a Military Service and serve for a specified period of obligated service in at least one of the following categories:

1. A designated military skill,
2. Career field,
3. Unit,
4. Grade, or
5. Other condition or conditions imposed by the Under Secretary of Defense (Personnel and Readiness) (USD (P&R)) or the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

D. Execute a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Department concerned that specifies the:

1. Amount of the bonus;
2. Method of bonus payment - lump sum amount or periodic installments;
3. Period of obligated service; and
4. Designated military skill or specialty, career field, unit, grade, or such other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

E. Not have previously received an enlistment bonus, a retention bonus, an affiliation bonus, or a transfer bonus for the same period of service;

F. Not have previously received and not be eligible to receive an SRB under section 0903 or a CSRB under section 0904;

G. Successfully complete training and become technically qualified in a designated skill if completion of such training and technical qualification forms the basis under which the bonus is paid; and

H. Meet any additional military service specific eligibility criteria and quality standards established by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.
090202. Amount

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will determine the amount of the enlistment bonus awarded for a designated military skill. The bonus payment for a designated military skill or cumulative amount of enlistment bonuses to any individual is not to exceed $40,000.

090203. Computation

The Secretaries of the Military Departments are required to establish rules of computation for enlistment bonuses.

090204. Method of Payment

A. The bonus may be paid either in periodic installments or a single lump sum. The timing of the initial payment is at the discretion of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, except that it must not be paid before the member completes basic recruit training. For individuals enlisted for specialties requiring formal training, the Service concerned may withhold the initial payment until the individual completes the training and qualifies in the military skill, so the bonus serves as an incentive to complete the training needed to qualify in the skill.

B. Members, with prior military service who do not require formal training to be technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus is paid, are paid the first installment no earlier than 30 days after arrival at the first permanent duty station following re-entry to active duty.

C. If paid in installments, after the initial payment, the remainder of the bonus must be paid in equal periodic installments.

090205. Repayment

A. A member, who does not complete the term of enlistment, or extension of enlistment, or who is not technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus was paid, will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

B. A member, who is discharged 12 months or less before the expiration of enlistment or extension of enlistment, may be considered to have completed the terms of enlistment or extension of enlistment for which the bonus was paid. The Military Departments will determine and advise when repayment is required, since this 12-month rule is not applicable to all early discharges.

*090206. Duration of Authority

An enlistment bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.
0903 SRB

090301. Eligibility

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may designate a unit, grade, or impose such other condition or conditions of service with respect to the SRB, as determined necessary to mitigate a significant current or projected personnel shortage or changing force structure requirements. An SRB based on unit, grade, or such other condition or conditions of service are subject to USD (P&R) approval. The member must:

A. Serve in a pay grade E-3 or higher;

B. Reenlist for a period of at least 3 years or voluntarily extend an enlistment for a period of at least 1 year on active duty;

C. Execute a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Department concerned that specifies the:

1. Amount of the bonus;

2. Method of bonus payment - lump sum amount or periodic installments;

3. Period of obligated service; and

4. Designated military skill, career field, unit, or grade, or such other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

D. Agree to serve for a specified period in at least one of the following reenlistment or extension categories:

1. A designated military skill,

2. Career field,

3. Unit,

4. Grade, or

5. Other condition or conditions imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

E. Meet skill qualification prior to payment of the SRB for a member transferring into a designated military skill;
F. Qualify under any additional eligibility criteria prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; and

G. Not be in receipt of an enlistment bonus, a retention bonus, an affiliation bonus, or a transfer bonus for the same period of service.

090302. Limitations

A. A re-entry or reenlistment must occur no later than 3 months (or within a lesser period if so prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned) after the date of discharge or release from active duty.

B. Veterans with more than a 3-month but less than a 4-year break in active duty may qualify for a broken service, or a prior service re-entry, SRB program in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

C. Re-enlistees reentering active duty with a break in active duty greater than 24 hours, only the original DoD (DD) Form 214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, (copy 1 or copy 4) or a reproduction of the DD 214, with a certified true-copy stamp and appropriate Federal Government authenticating seal imprinted thereon, is acceptable documentation and identification. The 24-hour period begins on the day following the date of discharge or separation.

D. Members with prior enlisted service and subsequent service as an officer, who were discharged or released from active duty and who, within 3 months after discharge or release from active duty as an officer, reenlist in the same Regular Component of a Military Service in which they previously served as an enlisted member may be eligible for an SRB. The individual must meet all other requirements established in paragraphs 090301 and 090302.

E. Service members may be eligible for an SRB if they extend their existing service obligation for a minimum of 12 months.

F. Members who reenlist or voluntarily extend an enlistment to obtain sufficient obligated service to participate in a program leading to commissioned or warrant officer status are not eligible for an SRB.

G. A member is not eligible for an SRB if the member was discharged or released from active duty or service in an active status based upon a determination of misconduct, substandard duty performance, or moral or professional dereliction.

H. An SRB may not be paid to an enlisted member who has completed more than 20 years of active duty or service in an active status, or who will complete a total of 24 years of service before the end of the period of active duty or active status for which the bonus is offered.

I. Generally, a member may not use any preexisting period of obligated service to satisfy an obligated service requirement under an SRB agreement, unless such service is determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned to be consistent with the requirements of 37 U.S.C. § 371; and

1. Such preexisting period of obligated service is necessary for the member to qualify for continuous submarine duty incentive pay and is service for which no bonus was previously authorized or payable; or

2. Such preexisting period of obligated service includes no more than a 2-year period of an unserved voluntary extension of enlistment for which no bonus was previously authorized or payable, and the member agrees to an additional 2-year period of obligated service in connection with the SRB.

090303. Amount

The SRB may not exceed $25,000 for each year of obligated service in a Regular Component. The maximum amount for an SRB is $100,000.

A. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned must determine the amount of the SRB based on a business case model that targets the retention of adequate levels of enlisted personnel in a reenlistment or extension category.

B. Members may receive more than one SRB for a career, but the total combined SRB payments over a career must not exceed $200,000.

C. SRB amounts may be prorated for extension requests greater than one year and reenlistments greater than 3 years. The additional service time will be calculated on a monthly basis at a rate equal to 1/12th the annual amount. Total bonus amounts are limited to $100,000.

090304. Computation

The Secretaries of the Military Departments are required to establish and publish the rules for computing the SRB.

090305. Method of Payment

The bonus may be paid either in periodic installments or a single lump sum. If the Secretary of the Military Department concerned elects to pay SRBs in installments:

A. The installment amount will be at the discretion of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, and may be paid at the time of reenlistment, or at the beginning of the member’s service commitment for the voluntary extension of enlistment. All payments must be made before the member completes a total of 24 years of service.

B. An initial installment to a member who reenlists after a break in active duty service greater than 24 hours is to be made no earlier than 30 days after arrival at the first permanent duty station following reenlistment.
C. Where there is lost time, the subsequent installment payments will be delayed by the number of days of lost time.

D. Discharge for the purpose of immediate reenlistment does not affect a member’s entitlement to subsequent SRB installment payments.

090306. Additional Obligated Service

Additional obligated service is defined as any active service commitment beyond an existing contractual service agreement. Existing contractual service agreements include enlistments, extensions of enlistment, and reenlistments.

090307. Changes and Termination of Awards

A. The Military Departments will notify USD (P&R) of any changes to a Military Department’s SRB guidance under the enlisted bonus program. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will issue an announcement that fully describes the change along with an effective date. The amount of the SRB offered after the date of such change may not exceed that authorized under 37 U.S.C. § 331(c).

B. A member who agrees to train and reenlist for military service in a skill, that at the time of that agreement is designated for an award of an SRB, may be paid a bonus for that skill at the award level in effect at the time of agreement or the award level in effect at the time of reenlistment, whichever is higher, on completion of qualification training and reenlistment in that skill. The bonus would still be payable if the member otherwise qualifies for the bonus, even if that skill is no longer designated for an award of the SRB at the time the member becomes eligible for payment of the bonus.

090308. Repayment

A. A member, who does not complete the term of reenlistment, or extension of reenlistment, or who is not technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus was paid, will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

B. A member, who is discharged 12 months or less before the expiration of reenlistment or extension of reenlistment, may be considered to have completed the terms of reenlistment or extension of enlistment for which the bonus was paid. The Military Departments will determine and advise when repayment is required, since this 12-month rule is not applicable to all early discharges.

090309. Duration of Authority

An SRB may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.
0904 CSRB

090401. Eligibility

An enlisted member of the Armed Forces, who is serving on active duty in a Regular Component and is qualified in a critical military skill designated by the Secretary of Defense, may be paid a retention bonus as provided in this section, if the member is not serving on an indefinite enlistment and reenlists or voluntarily extends the enlistment for at least 1 year.

090402. Limitations

A. A retention bonus may not be given under paragraph 090401 to a member of the Armed Forces who has completed more than 25 years of active duty or who will complete the 25th year before the end of the period of active duty or active status for which the bonus is offered. This limitation does not apply with respect to a member who is qualified in a skill related to special operations forces.

B. The USD (P&R) or the Principal Deputy, USD (PDUSD) (P&R) may waive the 25-year service limitation on eligibility with respect to a member who, during a period of active duty or service in an active status in a Reserve Component for which the bonus is being offered, is assigned duties in a skill designated as critical.

C. CSRB payments may not be made before the start of the active duty service period for which the CSRB is being awarded, unless specifically authorized by the PDUSD (P&R).

090403. Amount

A. A member may enter into an agreement, reenlist, or voluntarily extend enlistment more than once in order to receive a bonus under this section. However, a member may not receive a total of more than $200,000 in payments under this section.

B. A CSRB amount may not exceed $30,000 unless PDUSD (P&R) has granted an exception.

NOTE: The combined total of CSRB and SRB, in accordance with DoD Directive (DoDD) 1304.21, during an individual’s career, shall not exceed $200,000, unless the PDUSD (P&R) authorizes it for the skill concerned as an exception to policy.

090404. Method of Payment

A bonus under this section may be paid in a single lump sum or periodic installments.
090405. Repayment

A. A member, who does not complete the terms of the retention bonus or who is not technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus was paid, will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

B. A member, who is discharged 12 months or less before the expiration of the terms of the retention bonus, may be considered to have completed the terms of the retention bonus for which the bonus was paid. The Military Departments will determine and advise when repayment is required, since this 12-month rule is not applicable to all early discharges.

*090406. Duration of Authority

An CSRB may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

0905 PRIOR SERVICE ENLISTMENT BONUS

090501. Eligibility

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay an individual with prior military service who reenlists in a Regular Component of a Military Service after a break in active duty. The individual must:

A. Enlist in a Regular Component of a Military Service;

B. Reenlist for a period of at least 3 years or extend the initial period of obligated service to a total of 3 years;

C. Execute a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Department concerned that specifies the:

1. Amount of the bonus;

2. Method of bonus payment - lump sum amount or periodic installments;

3. Period of obligated service; and

4. Designated military skill or specialty, career field, unit, grade, or such other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

D. Agree to serve for a specified period in at least one of the following reenlistment or extension categories:
1. A designated military skill,

2. Career field,

3. Unit,

4. Grade, or

5. Other condition or conditions imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

E. Successfully complete training or re-training and become technically qualified in a designated military skill, when additional training is required;

F. Not be in receipt of an enlistment bonus, a retention bonus, an affiliation bonus, or a transfer bonus for the same period of service;

G. Provide the original DD 214 (copy 1 or copy 4), “Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty,” or a reproduction of the DD 214 with a certified true-copy stamp and the appropriate Federal Government authenticating seal imprinted thereon for any period of prior military service, or other official documentation verifying member’s satisfactory participation for all periods of prior service in the Regular Component;

H. Qualify under any additional eligibility criteria prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; and

I. Meet any additional military service specific eligibility criteria and quality standards established by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

090502. Amount

The Prior Service Enlistment Bonus or the cumulative amount of enlistment bonuses will not exceed $40,000.

090503. Method of Payment

A. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned must establish a method of payment for the bonus (lump sum or periodic installments). Payment should be disbursed based on training milestones, amounts, and length of enlistment. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned must not pay a person or member any portion of the bonus prior to completion of basic recruit training.

B. Members with prior military service, who do not require formal training to be technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus is being paid, will receive their first installment no earlier than 30 days after arrival at the first permanent duty station following entry on active duty.
090504. Repayment

A. A member, who does not complete the term of enlistment or who is not technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus was paid, will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

B. A member, who is discharged 12 months or less before the expiration of enlistment, may be considered to have completed the terms of enlistment for which the bonus was paid. The Military Departments will determine and advise when repayment is required, since this 12-month rule is not applicable to all early discharges.

*090505. Duration of Authority

A prior service enlistment bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

0906 MILITARY OCCUPATIONAL SPECIALTY (MOS) CONVERSION BONUS

090601. Eligibility

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay a conversion bonus to a member of the Armed Forces, who agrees to execute a written agreement to convert to, and serve for a period of not less than three years in, a MOS for which there is a shortage of trained and qualified personnel. The member must:

A. At the time the agreement is executed, be serving in a pay grade E-6, with not more than 10 years of service, or be serving in a pay grade E-5 or below, regardless of years of service;

B. Have completed all service obligations incurred for receipt of an enlistment bonus as prescribed in section 0902, a retention bonus as prescribed in section 0903, or CSRB as prescribed in section 0904;

C. Meet all eligibility requirements prescribed in section 090201;

D. Execute a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Department concerned that specifies the:

1. Amount of the bonus;

2. Method of bonus payment - lump sum amount or periodic installments;

3. Period of obligated service; and
4. Designated military skill, career field, unit, grade, or such other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; and

E. Not be in receipt of an enlistment bonus, a retention bonus, an affiliation bonus, or a transfer bonus for the same period of service.

090602. Amount

The bonus payment will not exceed $4,000.

090603. Method of Payment

The bonus will be disbursed in one lump sum when the member’s conversion to the MOS is approved by the chief personnel officer of the member’s Armed Force.

090604. Repayment

A. A member, who does not complete the terms of the conversion bonus or who is not technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus was paid, will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

B. A member, who is discharged 12 months or less before the expiration of the terms of the conversion bonus, may be considered to have completed the terms of the conversion bonus for which the bonus was paid. The Military Departments will determine and advise when repayment is required, since this 12-month rule is not applicable to all early discharges.

*090605. Duration of Authority

A MOS conversion bonus may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

0907 BONUS FOR TRANSFER BETWEEN MILITARY SERVICES

090701. Eligibility

The Secretary of the gaining Military Department may pay a bonus to an enlisted member who agrees to transfer and serve in another Military Service, for a specified period in a designated military skill, career field, unit, grade, or to meet some other condition or conditions imposed by the Secretary of the gaining Military Department. The member must:

A. Execute a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Department concerned that specifies the:

1. Amount of the bonus;
2. Method of bonus payment - lump sum amount or periodic installments;

3. Period of obligated service; and

4. Designated military skill, career field, unit, grade, or such other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

B. Agree to serve for a specified period in at least one of the following reenlistment or extension categories:

1. A designated military skill,

2. Career field,

3. Unit,

4. Grade, or

5. Other condition or conditions imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

C. Not have failed to satisfactorily complete any term of enlistment in a Military Service;

D. Qualify for reenlistment in the Regular Component of the Military Service to which the member is transferring;

E. Prior to the transfer, fulfill the requirements established by the Secretary with jurisdiction over the Military Service to which the member is transferring;

F. Not be in receipt of an enlistment bonus, retention bonus, an affiliation bonus, or a transfer bonus for the same period of service; and

G. Meet any additional military service specific eligibility criteria and quality standards established by the Secretary of the Military Department to which the member is transferring.

090702. Amount and Method of Payment

The Secretary of the gaining Military Department may pay the transfer bonus in one $10,000 lump sum amount upon approval of the transfer by the Secretary of that Military Department. Alternatively, the bonus may be paid in annual installments, the total of which may not exceed $10,000.
090703. Repayment

A. A member, who does not complete the terms of the transfer bonus or who is not technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus was paid, will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

B. A member, who is discharged 12 months or less before the expiration of the terms of the transfer bonus, may be considered to have completed the terms of the transfer bonus for which the bonus was paid. The Military Departments will determine and advise when repayment is required, since this 12-month rule is not applicable to all early discharges.

*090704. Duration of Authority

A bonus for transfer between military service may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.

0908 BONUS FOR TRANSFER BETWEEN COMPONENTS OF A MILITARY SERVICE

090801. Eligibility

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay a bonus to an enlisted member who agrees to transfer from the Regular Component to the Ready Reserve or vice versa of the same service. The member must:

A. Execute a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Department concerned that specifies the:

1. Amount of the bonus;

2. Method of bonus payment - lump sum amount or periodic installments;

3. Period of obligated service; and

4. Designated military skill, career field, unit, grade, or such other condition or conditions of service imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

B. Agree to serve for a specified period in at least one of the following reenlistment or extension categories:

1. A designated military skill,

2. Career field,

3. Unit,
4. Grade, or

5. Other condition or conditions imposed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

C. Not be in receipt of an enlistment bonus, retention bonus, an affiliation bonus, or a transfer bonus for the same period of service;

D. Satisfactorily complete all terms of enlistment within their current component;

E. Qualify for reenlistment in the Regular Component of the Military Service to which the member is transferring; and

F. Meet any additional military service specific eligibility criteria and quality standards established by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

090802. Amount and Method of Payment

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned must establish the amount and method of payment for the bonus (lump sum or periodic installments). The bonus for transfer between components of a Military Service may not exceed $10,000 and is payable upon approval of the Secretary concerned.

090803. Repayment

A. A member, who does not complete the terms of the transfer bonus or who is not technically qualified in the skill for which the bonus was paid, will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

B. A member, who is discharged 12 months or less before the expiration of the terms of the transfer bonus, may be considered to have completed the terms of the transfer bonus for which the bonus was paid. The Military Departments will determine and advise when repayment is required, since this 12-month rule is not applicable to all early discharges.

*090804. Duration of Authority

A bonus for transfer between components of a military service may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement commenced prior to that date.
9-19

*0909 VOLUNTARY EXTENSION RETENTION BONUS (VERB)

090901. Eligibility

Effective April 27, 2020, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay a VERB to an enlisted member who volunteers to remain on active duty, for at least 6, but not more than, 24 months of additional obligated service beyond their expiration of term of service (ETS) dates. The member must:

A. Be within 12 months of the date of their ETS;

B. Volunteer to remain on active duty, for at least six, but not more than, 24 months of additional obligated service beyond their existing ETS dates;

C. Be in the pay grade of E-3 or above;

D. Have less than 28 years of service; and

E. Sign an extension agreement specifying the amount of the bonus, the payment method, period of obligated service, and type or condition of service.

090902. Restrictions

A. Enlisted members volunteering for VERB are not eligible for an early discharge in accordance with title 10 U.S.C. § 1171.

B. Enlisted members may not be in receipt of any other bonus pursuant to title 37 U.S.C. § 331 for the same period of service.

C. Members who are pending disciplinary action, administrative separation, or mandatory discharge pursuant to any other provision of law or regulation, or who are being evaluated for disability retirement or separation pursuant to 10 U.S.C. Chapter 61 are not eligible for an extension bonus.

D. Additionally, unless otherwise waived by the Secretary concerned, an enlisted member is not eligible for VERB if the additional obligated service will extend the member’s service beyond the member’s mandatory retirement or high-year tenure date.

E. Members may only receive one VERB during their career.

090903. Amount and Method of Payment

Secretaries concerned may pay the bonus in a lump sum or in periodic installments. The bonus amount may not exceed $12,000 for each 12-month period. For bonus agreements less than 12 months, the bonus amount may be prorated to a monthly rate not to exceed $1,000 per month. Bonus amounts may be paid at the time of the agreement, but the bonus amount will be calculated based only on the additional service obligation. Lastly, the entire term of the extension will be included as previously obligated service for any future bonus calculations.

090904. Repayment

Service members failing to complete the service obligation specified in the bonus agreement may have their agreement terminated and may be required to repay any unearned portion of the bonus amount in accordance with title 37 U.S.C. § 373, and Chapter 2.

090905. Duration of Authority

Subject to congressional reauthorization of title 37 U.S.C. § 331, this authority will remain in effect until September 30, 2021, unless otherwise modified or terminated earlier by the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (ASD M&RA).

CHAPTER 10

SPECIAL PAY - DUTY SUBJECT TO HOSTILE FIRE OR IMMINENT DANGER

1001 GENERAL

100101. Purpose

This chapter establishes Department of Defense (DoD) policy for payment of Hostile Fire Pay (HFP) and Imminent Danger Pay (IDP) and lists the areas where members are authorized to receive these entitlements.

100102. Authoritative Guidance

The HFP and IDP policies and requirements established by DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 351. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

1002 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS

100201. Policy

A member may be paid special pay for duty subject to hostile fire or imminent danger for any month when the member, while entitled to basic pay for active duty or compensation for inactive duty, also meets the qualifying criteria of this chapter. A member is not authorized to receive concurrent payments for hostile fire and imminent danger duty.

A. HFP. This entitlement is paid at the rate of $225 per month when, as certified by the appropriate commander, a member is:

1. Subjected to hostile fire or explosion of a hostile mine;

2. On duty in an area in close proximity to a hostile fire incident and the member is in danger of being exposed to the same dangers actually experienced by other members subjected to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines; or

3. Killed, injured, or wounded by hostile fire, explosion of a hostile mine, or any other hostile action.

B. IDP. This entitlement is paid on a daily prorated basis, not to exceed $225 per month, when a member is on official duty in a designated IDP area. IDP may be paid to a service member who is subject to the threat of physical harm or imminent danger on the basis of civil insurrection, civil war, terrorism, or wartime conditions in a designated foreign area. See Figure 10-1, or for the most current listings Imminent Danger Pay table on DFAS.MIL.
100202. Payment

IDP is payable on a prorated daily basis not to exceed a monthly rate of $225. It is payable in addition to all other pays or allowances, except when receiving HFP, as stated in paragraph 100201. The proration does not apply to the 31st of a month for Active and Reserve component members who are on active duty for 30 days or more. HFP will not be prorated. Members will receive the maximum monthly rate of special pay for the month in which the hostile fire or hostile fire mine explosion event occurred. Payment will be made for the full month, if a member is exposed to hostile fire or a hostile mine explosion on the 31st day of a month, and the member has not already received credit for the full monthly allowance. The following examples for payment on the 31st are provided:

Example 1: A member, on active duty for more than 30 days in an IDP area for the period March 31 through April 29, will receive IDP only for the period April 1 through 29.

Example 2: A member, on active duty for more than 30 days in an IDP area for the period March 31 through April 29, and is exposed to hostile fire or a hostile mine explosion on March 31, will be entitled to HFP for the entire month of March and IDP for the period April 1 through 29.

Example 3: A member, on active duty for less than 30 days in an IDP area for the period March 29 through April 20, will be entitled to IDP for the period March 29 through 31 and April 1 through 20 for a total of 23 days.

Example 4: A member, on active duty for less than 30 days in an IDP area for the period March 29 through April 20, and is exposed to hostile fire or a hostile mine explosion on March 31, will be entitled to the full monthly amount of HFP of $225 for the month of March, and daily IDP for the period April 1 through 20.

1003 DETERMINATIONS OF FACT

The appropriate commander will certify that the member has met the requirements for entitlement to HFP for a given month.

A. Certification of entitlement will be made at the lowest level of command that includes all the vessels, aircraft, or units subjected to the hostile fire or explosion of hostile mine incident. For example, in the case of a single vessel subjected to hostile fire or explosion of hostile mines, the vessel’s commanding officer should certify payment eligibility for all members on board. If two or more vessels are involved, then the commanding officer of the unit that includes all of the vessels should certify eligibility.

B. Certification will include the name and appropriate payroll identification number of each member entitled to the HFP, a short description of the incident, and when and where it occurred. The certification should be forwarded directly to the servicing financial support office, via the geographic Combatant Commander exercising operational control over the Service member(s) at the time of the hostile fire event.

C. When the airspace is specifically included in an IDP area designation, members who perform official duty while flying over the area are eligible for IDP, even if they do not land in the area. When airspace is not specifically designated, members who perform duty over the area are not entitled to IDP unless they land in the area.

D. A member who performs duty on a vessel performing operational duty while in an area designated for IDP is eligible for IDP payments.

E. A death certificate or injury report may be substituted in place of the certification, if the document establishes the cause of the death or injury was due to hostile fire or an explosion of a hostile mine.

F. A member is not considered to be on official duty in a designated IDP area, and therefore, is not eligible for IDP pay, if the member is in the area:

1. While on leave from a duty station outside the IDP area, even if the outside location is another IDP area;

2. While merely transiting (as distinguished from performing official duty) by any means (including vessel, aircraft, and land conveyance) the IDP area as a consequence of traveling between two points, both outside the IDP area; or

100302. Administration

Any determinations of fact made by commanders in the certification of hostile fire are conclusive. Such determinations are not subject to review by any officer or agency of the government, unless there has been fraud or gross negligence. Such determinations, however, may be changed on the basis of new evidence or for other good cause.

1004 SPECIAL SITUATIONS

100401. Member Captured or Missing

A member entitled to HFP and/or IDP immediately before entering a status of missing, missing-in-action, interned in a foreign country or captured by a hostile force will continue to be credited with HFP and/or IDP for each month while in such a status. See Chapter 34 for additional information.
100402. Hospitalization

A member entitled to HFP and/or IDP, who is hospitalized for a wound or injury incurred as a result of hostile action, or while in the line of duty, incurs a wound, injury, or illness in a combat operation or combat zone designated by the Secretary of Defense, and is hospitalized outside of the theater of the combat operation or the combat zone for the treatment of the wound, injury, or illness, is entitled to HFP and/or IDP for each month hospitalization continues, up to an additional 3 months after the month in which the wound, injury, or illness occurred. Members may be entitled to HFP and/or IDP for up to 12 months from the date of hospitalization under the Pay and Allowance Continuation (PAC) Program. See Chapter 13 for PAC entitlement eligibility.

100403. Absences

The following examples are provided for absences from the IDP area:

A. A member, who takes leave in the IDP designated area that the member is assigned for duty, remains entitled to the payment of IDP.

B. A member, who takes leave in an IDP area that the member is not assigned for duty, is not eligible for the payment of IDP. See subparagraph 100301.F.1.

C. A member, who takes leave in an area not designated as an IDP area, is not eligible for the payment of IDP for the period of the absence.

D. A member, assigned for duty in an IDP area that performs temporary duty in an area not designated as an IDP area, is not eligible for the payment of IDP for the period of absence.

1005 Duration of Authority

HFP or IDP may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the person’s entitlement to the HFP or IDP commenced prior to that date.

NOTES:
1. The designation of a land area encompasses all internal waters, unless otherwise noted. For HFP and/or IDP purposes, the term “internal waters” is defined as waters landward of the baseline, drawn in accordance with international law.
2. The designation of a water area (such as the Persian Gulf) includes the territorial seas of those waters, but not the internal waters of the coastal lands. For example, all waters of the Persian Gulf seaward of the baseline of the coastal states, drawn in accordance with international law, would be included in the Persian Gulf designation.
3. Unless otherwise specifically indicated, airspace is NOT part of the included area. When airspace is specifically included, it will normally be that space directly vertically above the approved land or sea area.
4. This figure reflects all designated areas, which were active within the last six years.
5. Limited to Service members performing duties within the Joint Task Force Guantanamo Bay Detention Facilities.
6. Land area within a 20-km radius from the center of Athens (38° 01’ N, 23° 44’ E).

CHAPTER 11

SPECIAL PAY - DIVING DUTY

1101 GENERAL

110101. Purpose

This chapter provides the policy governing special pay entitlements applicable to diving duty for all of the Military Services.

*110102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by Department of Defense in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.). Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

*1102 DIVING DUTY HAZARDOUS DUTY INCENTIVE PAY (HDIP)

110201. Entitlement

The Secretary concerned may pay HDIP to Service members required by competent orders to participate in diving duty as part of their primary duty.

110202. Requirements

Service members entitled to basic pay may be eligible for HDIP for diving duty for periods during which they are:

A. Assigned by competent orders to the duty of diving,

B. Required to maintain proficiency as a diver by frequent and regular dives, and

C. They are either:

1. Actually performing diving duty while serving in an assignment for which diving is a primary duty, or

2. Meeting the requirements to maintain proficiency as a diver by frequent and regular dives while serving in an assignment that includes diving other than as a primary duty.
110203. Suspension

In time of war, the President may suspend diving duty pay.

110204. Conditions

See Table 11-1 for conditions which further affect entitlement to diving duty pay. Additional conditions of service may be imposed by the Secretary concerned.

110205. Qualifications for Diving Duty

A. Army

Except as noted in Tables 11-2 and 11-3, an Army member must be a rated diver in accordance with Army Regulation (AR) 611-75 and be assigned to:

1. A Table of Organization and Equipment or Table of Distribution and Allowance position in Skill Classification/Military Occupational Specialty, Special Qualification Identifier, or Additional Skill Identifier (ASI) specified in AR 611-75; or

2. A position designated as diving duty by the Deputy Chief of Staff Personnel.

B. Navy and Marine Corps

Members must be designated divers, assigned to diving duty under competent orders, and maintain their qualifications for diving.

C. Air Force

Service members must:

1. Successfully complete an approved Department of Defense course for underwater swimmers,

2. Be under orders for diving duty as authorized by their Major Command, and

3. Meet the other qualification standards prescribed by current Air Force Instructions.
*110206. Rates Payable

Service members who meet the eligibility criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month of dive duty, will receive a prorated HDIP payment.

A. Officers assigned to diving duty are entitled to special pay for diving duty at a rate of not more than $240 per month.

B. Enlisted members assigned to diving duty are entitled to special pay for diving duty at a rate of not more than $340 per month.

110207. Specific Rates Payable

See Tables 11-2 through 11-9. The most current rates are in the Diving Duty Pay Rates table on DFAS.MIL.

110208. Restrictions on Payment

A. When assigned by orders to both diving duty and hazardous duty for the same period, a member may be paid special pay for diving duty and not more than three incentive payments for hazardous duty from among those listed in Chapter 22 and Chapter 24.

B. No member is entitled to receive special pay for performing diving duty after diving qualifications have lapsed. Upon requalification, no payments will be made for the period of the lapsed qualification.

*110209. Duration of Authority

Unless authorized by Congress, no diving duty HDIP payment may be paid after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*1103 MASTER DIVER SKILL INCENTIVE PAY (MDSIP)

110301. Authority

Title 37, U.S.C. § 353 and the Under Secretary of Defense (Personnel and Readiness) (USD(P&R)) Memorandum, Master Diver Skill Incentive Pay, dated January 26, 2018, provides the authority for the Secretaries of the Military Departments to offer MDSIP to Service members who:

A. Are qualified in a critical diving specialty, and

B. Maintains proficiency as a diver through frequent and regular dives.
110302. Eligibility

The Secretaries of the Military Departments may pay MDSIP to qualified Service members serving in critical diving specialties designated by the Secretary concerned. Qualifying Service members must be proficient in performance of one of the following critical diving skill areas:

A. Supervision and training of members who are qualified in the full spectrum of diving apparatus and gas mixtures;

B. Diving, salvage, and ship underwater repair operations;

C. Surface and underwater demolition operations for salvage, ship husbandry, or underwater construction operations;

D. Operation, maintenance, and certification of deep dive systems and equipment; or

E. Operation of special operations underwater vehicles requiring the use of an underwater breathing apparatus.

110303. Additional Guidelines

A. In addition to being qualified in one of the critical skill areas listed in paragraph 110302, a Regular or Reserve Component Service member must meet the eligibility criteria for diving duty (HDIP) outlined in section 1102, and any additional criteria prescribed by the Secretary concerned.

B. Service members qualified solely in the use of a self-contained underwater breathing apparatus are not authorized MDSIP.

C. Reserve Component members entitled to compensation pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 206 are eligible for MDSIP at the discretion of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. The amount authorized will be equal to 1/30th of the monthly MDSIP authorized by the Military Department concerned for each period of inactive duty training.

110304. Payment Method and Amount

A. Rates. In accordance with paragraph 110301, the Military Departments may pay monthly MDSIP to qualified Service members who meet the MDSIP eligibility requirements. The amount may not exceed:

1. $340 per month for enlisted members, or

2. $240 per month for officers.
B. Multiple Payments.

1. Under the provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 353, a Service member may not be paid more than one skill incentive pay in any month for the same period of service or skill.

2. A member may not be paid a skill incentive pay under 37 U.S.C. § 353, and hazardous duty pay under 37 U.S.C. § 351, for the same period of service in the same career field or skill for which the payment is made.

C. Proration. If a Service member does not satisfy the eligibility requirements for MDSIP for an entire month, the Secretary concerned will prorate the payment to reflect the duration of the member’s actual qualifying service during the month.

D. Repayment. Repayment of any unearned portion or overpayment will be in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 2; Volume 16, Chapter 3; and 37 U.S.C. § 373.

110305. Restrictions

A. Service members temporarily unable to perform diving duty due to a physical or medical condition, not the result of the member’s own misconduct, may continue to receive MDSIP for up to 6 months. After 6 months, MDSIP will be terminated and may not be reinstated until the condition resulting in the physical or medical restriction is corrected and the member is again certified for diving duty by a competent Medical Officer.

B. Service members permanently disqualified or otherwise determined to be no longer eligible to perform diving duty are not eligible for MDSIP in accordance with paragraph 110301 or any additional criteria prescribed by the Military Departments concerned.

C. Service members are not authorized MDSIP for any period of unauthorized absences.

D. Service members who receive MDSIP and fail to satisfy the eligibility requirements for receipt of pay will be subject to having the pay terminated.

110306. Written Agreement

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will establish Service specific instructions for the administration of MDSIP in accordance with paragraph 110301. The instructions may require a member to enter into a written agreement in order to qualify for MDSIP. The written agreement must specify the period for which the Service member will receive the skill incentive pay and the monthly rate of the pay.
*110307. Duration of Authority

Unless authorized by Congress, no MDSIP payment may be entered into after the date on the Duration of Authority table.

CHAPTER 12

PURPORTED MARRIAGES

1201  GENERAL

120101.  Purpose

The purpose of this chapter is to establish policy for purported marriages and the related impact to military pay.

*120102.  Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the Department of Defense in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 423.

1202  VALIDATION OF PAYMENTS BASED ON PURPORTED MARRIAGES

120201.  Authority for Validation

A payment of an allowance based on a purported marriage that is made under 37 U.S.C. § 423 or prior laws, before the marriage is annulled or terminated is valid if:

A.  A court of competent jurisdiction adjudges or decrees that the military member entered the marriage in good faith; or

B.  In the absence of such judgment or decree, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned or a person designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned makes a finding of good faith.

120202.  Responsibility for Validation

Findings of good faith under subparagraph 120201.B are submitted to the offices listed in Chapter 26, Table 26-11. Purported marriages requiring such findings are listed in Chapter 26.

120203.  Payments Not Validated

Payments based on invalid marriages are erroneous payments or overpayments unless validated.

CHAPTER 13

ILLNESS OR INJURY PAYMENT PROGRAMS

1301 GENERAL

130101. Purpose

This chapter describes the payment programs authorized for military personnel, who, while serving in the line of duty, are either injured, wounded, or became ill, or who have a permanent catastrophic injury or illness and require a caregiver.

*130102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), Title 37. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

1302 PAY AND ALLOWANCE CONTINUATION (PAC) PROGRAM

130201. General

Effective May 15, 2008, the Secretary of Defense authorized the PAC Program for Service members of the Regular or Reserve Components (RC) pursuant to 37 U.S.C., section 372.

*130202. Eligibility

A. Service members must have been wounded, ill, or injured in a combat zone, a hostile fire area, or while exposed to a hostile fire event, and hospitalized, as defined in subparagraph 130203.B for treatment of such wound, injury, or illness.

B. Service members who are assigned to a medical or patient unit based on orders that confirm the assignment and who are determined as not fully fit to perform full military duties are eligible.

*130203. Entitlement

A. Service members of the Regular or RC who incur a wound, injury, or illness in the line of duty while serving in a combat operation or a combat zone, while serving in a hostile fire area, or while exposed to a hostile fire event (regardless of location), and are hospitalized for treatment of the wound, injury, or illness, will continue to receive the pay and allowances the member was receiving at the time of hospitalization. These pay and allowances include special and incentive pays, bonuses, and the daily incidental expense portion of the temporary duty allowance authorized for members deployed in a combat operation or combat zone.
B. Circumstances Involving Hospitalization:

1. The member, at the time of evacuation, will be considered “first hospitalized for treatment” for the purposes of determining PAC eligibility.

2. After first hospitalization for treatment, a Service member may remain eligible for PAC during follow-on outpatient treatment and/or rehabilitation until triggering one of the three terminating reasons listed in paragraph 130205.

3. The member may be authorized PAC beginning on the first day of the month following the date they were first hospitalized, and it may continue for up to 12 subsequent consecutive months.

C. For purposes of Hardship Duty Pay – Location (HDP-L), Service members serving on a temporary deployment, or attached duty of more than 30 days in a designated hardship duty location, and who are wounded, injured, or become ill within the first 30 days of serving in the designated area, will be considered eligible for HDP-L at the time the wound, injury or illness is incurred.

130204. Commencement of Payment

Continuation of pay and allowances under the PAC Program begins on May 15, 2008, or the date of the member’s eligibility, whichever occurs later. Begin PAC payment on the first month after hospitalization.

Example: If a member was medically evacuated from Iraq to Germany in July, August is the “first month” of PAC.

130205. Termination of Entitlement

The pay and allowances for Service members that meet the PAC Program eligibility requirements will continue until the end of the first month beginning after the earliest of the following dates:

A. The date on which the Service member is returned for assignment to other than a medical or patient unit for duty (Note: The return to assignment is based on a determination that the member is fully fit to perform full military duties.);

B. The date on which the Service member is discharged, separated, or retired (including temporary disability retirement) from the Uniformed Services; or

C. One year after the date on which the Service member is first hospitalized for the treatment of the wound, injury, or illness. The Principal Deputy Under Secretary of Defense (USD) for Personnel and Readiness (P&R) may extend the termination date in 6-month increments under extraordinary circumstances.
1303 SPECIAL COMPENSATION FOR ASSISTANCE WITH ACTIVITIES OF DAILY LIVING (SCAADL)

*130301. General

The provisions of the SCAADL Program apply only to those Service members with qualifying injuries or illnesses incurred on or after August 31, 2011. The Secretary concerned may pay special compensation to eligible Service members of the Active or RC who have incurred or aggravated a permanent catastrophic illness or injury in the line of duty, and require a caregiver who provides non-medical care, support, and assistance to the member. The DoD Instruction (DoDI) 1341.12, “Special Compensation for Assistance with Activities of Daily Living Program,” dated October 31, 2019, contains detailed instructions and procedures for initiating the SCAADL entitlement.

*130302. Eligibility

A. In order to receive the SCAADL compensation, the Service member must:

1. Have a determination made, by a licensed DoD physician or a Veterans Affairs (VA)-licensed physician, that the member has a permanent catastrophic injury and needs assistance from another person to perform the personal functions required by everyday living;

2. Have a determination made, by a DoD or a VA-licensed physician, that the member requires hospitalization, nursing home care, or other residential institutional care in the absence of such assistance;

3. Be an outpatient and have identified a designated primary caregiver. The designated primary caregiver:

   a. May be a Service member assigned to a RC and not serving on active duty. If the Service member designates a member of a RC as their primary caregiver, an alternate caregiver must also be designated. Members of the Active Component and RC assigned to active duty will not serve as designated primary caregivers;

   b. Must not be receiving the VA Program of Comprehensive Assistance Caregivers stipend, or VA Aid and Attendance compensation, in accordance with subparagraphs 130303.B.2 and 130303.B.3;

   c. May still be eligible to receive the respite benefit if they are qualified in accordance with TRICARE Operations Manual (TOM) 6010.56-M; and

   d. Must be at least 18 years of age. The exception to this requirement is if the Service member’s spouse is under 18 years of age, he or she may be the primary or alternate caregiver;
4. Be an outpatient and not receiving federally funded in-home services (other than respite care), including TRICARE, to assist with activities of daily living (ADL) or provide supervision to avoid harm to self or others.

B. Service member receiving other home health services in accordance with TOM 6010.56-M remain eligible to receive SCAADL compensation, except as described in paragraph 130303.

*130303. Restrictions

A. SCAADL is not paid to a Service member:

1. If any other federal agency is providing outpatient or in-home services to assist the member with ADL or provide supervision to avoid the Service member from harming themselves or others;

2. If the Service member receives special monthly compensation from the VA in accordance with 38 U.S.C. § 1114(r)(2);

3. If the Service member’s primary caregiver receives a monthly caregiver stipend from the VA’s Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers Program;

4. If the Service member qualifies for and accepts in-home assistance with ADL, supervisory, or protection needs paid with supplemental health care program funds and provided by a TRICARE-authorized home health agency;

5. If the Service member enters hospice care. In accordance with TRICARE Reimbursement Manual 6010.61-M, TRICARE will cover hospice care for those members. However, Service members in hospice care for the management of medication still qualify for the SCAADL Program; or

6. On the last day of the month during which a 90-day period ends after the Service member begins separation or retirement, even though the member has not begun to receive compensation pursuant to 38 U.S.C. § 1114(r)(2) before the end of such period.

B. Service member will be removed from the SCAADL Program:

1. If the Service member is returned to duty through rehabilitation, or is found fit by a Service physical evaluation board, or otherwise returned to duty status as unfit, but retained on active duty. The Service member will be removed from the SCAADL program in accordance with the Military Department’s regulations. Termination effective date will be the last day of the month the Service member is no longer eligible under this provision; or

2. Pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 373, Service members no longer satisfying SCAADL eligibility requirements will repay any SCAADL allowances received after the member is returned to duty or removed from the SCAADL program, except when:
13-7

a. The Secretary of the Military Departments concerned determines that the imposition of the repayment with regard to a Service member would be contrary to a personnel policy or management objective, would be against equity and good conscience, or would be contrary to the best interest of the United States;

b. The Service member dies or is retired or separated with a combat-related disability; or

c. The Service member receives sole survivorship discharge.

C. Service members or their designated representatives may appeal disapproval to receive SCAADL in accordance with respective Military Service appeal guidelines.

D. Qualifying payments to Service members, who receive SCAADL, in accordance with paragraph 130203, will terminate as detailed in subparagraph 130305.C.

E. Service members must complete a re-evaluation and recertification every 180-calendar days of eligibility for the SCAADL benefit.

F. Service members in receipt of SCAADL will recertify compensation upon a change in clinical status or geographical location.

G. All Service members hospitalized for 16 cumulative days or more of a month will be required to recertify upon release from the hospital.

130304. Monthly Compensation

An online SCAADL Calculator is available to compute the approximate monthly SCAADL compensation. The military services will use the DoD (DD) Form 2948, Application for Special Compensation for Assistance with Activities of Daily Living (SCAADL) Eligibility, to document the Service member’s eligibility for SCAADL. The following guidelines apply:

A. Monthly compensation is computed based on the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) wage rate for a home health aide, using the 75th percentile of the hourly wage rate in the Service member’s geographic area of residence. The BLS wage rates are updated annually and published effective January of each year. The amount of monthly compensation is calculated using the zip code of the geographic location where the Service member currently resides and the Service member’s dependence level.

B. A three-tier system recognizing the variation in complexity of care required by the Service member and provided by the caregiver determines the monthly compensation. The member’s Primary Care Manager (PCM) will assess the Service member’s dependency level and assign a point value corresponding to the number of hours of care the member requires each week.

1. High Tier. It is presumed that a Service member who scores 21 or higher will require at least 40 hours per week of caregiver assistance.
2. Medium Tier. It is presumed that a Service member who scores 13-20 will require at least 25 hours per week of caregiver assistance.

3. Low Tier. It is presumed that a Service member who scores 1-12 will require at least 10 hours per week of caregiver assistance.

C. Service members or their designated representatives may appeal a PCM’s determination of dependency level to their Service headquarters. The dependency level may also change if the Service member’s condition changes and a reevaluation of the member’s level of dependency is conducted.

130305. Payment Period

The following guidelines apply to the period that the SCAADL entitlement may be paid:

A. Service members become eligible for the SCAADL entitlement on the date a licensed DoD or VA physician certifies that the member meets the eligibility criteria. If the certification is not on the first of the month, and the entitlement is continuous for more than 1 month, the first month will be prorated based on a 30-day month computation. The 31st day of the first month will be excluded.

B. Service members entitled to SCAADL for a continuous period of less than 1 month will receive payment for the actual number of days at the rate of 1/30th of the monthly amount. The 31st day of a calendar month may not be excluded from this computation.

C. SCAADL entitlement stops on:

1. The last day of the month in which a 90-day period ends after the date the Service member separates or retires. (For example, March 15 (separation date) plus 90 days equals June 13 (last day of entitlement is June 30));

2. The last day of the month during which a Service member dies (See Note);

3. The last day of the month a physician determines that a Service member no longer meets the eligibility requirements for SCAADL; or

4. The last day of the month preceding the month during which the Service member begins receiving aid and attendance from the VA under 38 U.S.C. § 1114(r)(2), or the Service member’s primary caregiver begins receiving a monthly caregiver stipend from the VA under 38 U.S.C. § 1720G.

Note: This last SCAADL payment should be paid to the beneficiary in the unpaid pay and allowances described in Chapter 36, section 3603.

CHAPTER 14

INCENTIVE FOR QUALIFIED MEMBERS EXTENDING DUTY AT DESIGNATED LOCATIONS OVERSEAS

1401 GENERAL

140101. Purpose

This chapter establishes policy pertaining to the incentive for qualified members extending duty at designated locations overseas.

140102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), including Titles 10 and 37. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

1402 SPECIAL PAY OR BONUS

140201. Eligibility

Members of the Armed Forces may be entitled to a special pay or bonus if they:

A. Are entitled to basic pay;

B. Have a specialty that is designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned for the purposes of this entitlement;

C. Have completed a tour of duty (as defined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary concerned) at a location outside the Continental United States (CONUS) that is designated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned for the purposes of this entitlement; and

D. Have completed that tour of duty and then execute an agreement to extend that tour for a period of not less than 1 year.

140202. Amount

When the Secretary of the Military Department concerned accepts the member’s agreement to extend the tour of duty, the member becomes entitled, subject to the restrictions identified in paragraph 140205, to receive one of the following benefits:

A. Special pay in monthly installments in an amount prescribed by the Secretary, but not to exceed $80 per month; or
B. An annual bonus in an amount prescribed by the Secretary, but not to exceed $2,000 per year. The Secretary may pay a bonus in either a lump sum or monthly installments.

140203. Selection

Not later than the date the Secretary of the Military Department concerned accepts the agreement described in subparagraph 140201.D providing for the extension of a member’s tour of duty, the Secretary of the Military Department concerned will notify the member regarding whether the member will receive special pay or bonus. The payment rate for the special pay or bonus will be fixed at the time of the agreement and may not be changed during the period of the extended tour of duty.

140204. Repayment

A member who, having entered into a written agreement to extend a tour of duty described in subparagraph 140201.D, and who receives a bonus payment but does not complete the obligated service in accordance with the agreement will be subject to the repayment provisions of Chapter 2.

140205. Restriction

A member, who elects to receive one of the benefits specified in section 1403 as part of the extension of a tour of duty, is not entitled to the special pay or bonus authorized in this section for the period of extension of duty for which the benefit is provided.

1403 SPECIAL REST AND RECUPERATIVE (SR&R) ABSENCE

140301. Eligibility

A member who meets the eligibility requirements defined in paragraph 140201 may in lieu of receiving the special pay or bonus, elect to receive one of the entitlements described in paragraph 140302.

140302. Entitlement

A member may elect, in lieu of a special pay or bonus, either:

A. A period of SR&R absence for not more than 30 days; or

B. A period of SR&R absence for not more than 15 days for members whose qualifying tour of duty is 12 months or less, and round-trip transportation at Government expense from the location of the extended tour of duty to the nearest port in the 48 contiguous States and return, or to an alternative destination and return at a cost not to exceed the cost of round-trip transportation from the location of the extended tour of duty to such nearest port; or
C. A period of SR&R absence for not more than 20 days for members whose qualifying tour of duty is longer than 12 months, and round-trip transportation at Government expense from the location of the extended tour of duty to the nearest port in the 48 contiguous States and return, or to an alternative destination and return at a cost not to exceed the cost of round-trip transportation from the location of the extended tour of duty to such nearest port.

NOTE: The provisions of SR&R are not effective unless the Secretary concerned determines that the application will not adversely affect combat or unit readiness.

140303. Travel Time

Travel time from the CONUS port, or alternate destination, to the SR&R absence point, and return is included in the 15-day or 20-day SR&R absence. This period will begin the day after the member arrives at the aerial port of debarkation and continue until the day before the member returns to the designated port. The non-chargeable leave period will continue until the day before the date of return to the designated port. Travel time to or from the CONUS port, or alternate destination, and overseas location is non-chargeable and not included in the 15-day or 20-day SR&R.

140304. Limitations

The 15-day or 20-day SR&R absence and round-trip transportation option may not be combined with any temporary duty or transportation entitlement that would result in the cost of the round-trip portion of the option exceeding the round-trip cost from the member’s tour of duty station to the nearest CONUS port.

CHAPTER 15

SPECIAL PAY – ASSIGNMENT INCENTIVE PAY (AIP)

1501  GENERAL

150101.  Purpose

This chapter prescribes guidance applicable to the payment of AIP.

150102.  Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the Department of Defense (DoD) in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), including Titles 10 and 37. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

1502  DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE (DoD) AIP CRITERIA

*150201.  Entitlement

The DoD may give AIP to eligible Active/Regular and Reserve Component (RC) Service members in accordance with 37 U.S.C., section 352, the DoD Instruction (DoDI) 1340.26, “Assignment and Special Duty Pays,” and regulations published by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. The ability of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned to enter into a new agreement with a Service member for AIP is subject to the extension of such authority under 37 U.S.C. § 352.

*150202.  Eligibility

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay AIP to a member of an Active/Regular or RC who is entitled to basic pay under 37 U.S.C. § 204, or compensation under 37 U.S.C. § 206. The Secretaries of Military Departments will establish eligibility criteria based on Service-specific needs. Personnel shortages and the ability of a unit to meet mission requirements should be given primary consideration.

*150203.  Written Agreement

A.  Discretionary for Monthly Payments.  The Secretary concerned may require a Service member to enter into a written agreement with the Secretary in order to qualify for the AIP payment on a monthly basis. If used, the agreement will specify the period for which the AIP will be paid and the monthly rate of the AIP.

B.  Non-discretionary for Installment or Lump Sum Payments.  The Secretary concerned will require a Service member to enter into a written agreement with the Secretary in order to qualify for installment or lump sum payments of AIP. The written agreement will specify the period for which the Service member will receive AIP, the amount of each periodic installment or lump sum, and the repayment policy cited in 37 U.S.C. § 373.

*150204. Payment

Incentive pay paid under this section is in addition to any other pay or allowance to which the Service member is entitled, except where otherwise stated in DoDI 1340.26 and 37 U.S.C. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will establish payment levels to be either monthly payments, installments, or a lump sum amount not to exceed a maximum monthly average of $1,500.

150205. Limitations and Restrictions

The following limitations and restrictions, which affect the entitlement to AIP, apply to all programs listed in this chapter.

* A. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may increase, decrease, or abolish AIP for any assignment, location, or unit at any time and will establish restrictions and limitations to the pay through Military Service regulations. Payment of AIP in combination with other special duty pays may not exceed an average monthly amount of $3,500 unless authorized by the Assistant Secretary of Defense (ASD) for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (M&RA).

* B. AIP agreements, awarded under 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter 1, are discontinued as of October 1, 2017. Agreements awarded under 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter 1 prior to October 1, 2017, will remain in effect and payments may continue through the agreed-upon date.

C. A member is not entitled to AIP during a period of terminal leave which ends upon discharge or release of the member from Active Duty (AD).

D. Service members are not authorized to receive more than one AIP simultaneously for the same period of service. If a Service member is eligible for more than one AIP, the higher dollar value AIP will be paid.

E. RC members are not authorized AIP for assignments at their permanent duty station.

150206. Special Provisions

The service of a member in a designated assignment will be considered continuous in any period of temporary absence during which the member is performing temporary duty pursuant to orders or on authorized leave other than transition leave.
1503 NAVY AIP PROGRAMS

150301. Pilot Programs

A. On May 29, 2003, the Navy was authorized a Pilot Program for AIP. The entitlement conditions are:

1. Entitlement begins upon reporting to the assigned duty and terminates when permanently detached from the assigned duty;

2. The Service member and the Navy negotiate to determine the payment rates, which may be different for members in the same location. For partial months served in a designated assignment, payment will be prorated;

3. Payment for AIP may not be made to Navy members receiving a Selective Reenlistment Bonus for Location for the same assignment; and

4. This program will remain in effect until the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (ASN) (M&RA) rescinds the program or higher authority cancels the program.

B. On February 9, 2007, the Navy announced the Naval Special Warfare Development Group (NSWDG) AIP program. The entitlement conditions are:

1. Enlisted personnel must successfully complete the required NSWDG training;

2. Enlisted personnel must be assigned to NSWDG designated billets;

3. Enlisted personnel will sign an agreement or accept orders to voluntarily remain in an NSWDG billet for an additional 12 months from the date of the agreement or date of the first AIP payment, whichever is later;

4. Personnel who have been assigned to a designated NSWDG billet for:
   a. less than 3 years since completion of the required training will receive AIP at $750 per month; or
   b. 3 years or more since completion of the required training will receive AIP at $1000 per month;

5. Payment of the AIP will terminate when the member permanently detaches from the assigned duty at NSWDG. AIP will not be paid to members in a disciplinary or not fit for operational duty status; and
6. This program will remain in effect until the ASN (M&RA) rescinds the program or higher authority cancels the program.

C. On October 1, 2013, the Navy announced a new AIP for NSWDG personnel assigned to Combat Support (CS) positions. Effective December 21, 2017, the ASN (M&RA) reauthorized the continuance of AIP for qualified personnel assigned to NSWDG CS positions. Unless extended by the authority of the Congress, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table. The requirement conditions are:

1. Qualified NSWDG CS personnel are eligible to receive an AIP flat-rate of $500 or $750 (for Explosive Ordinance Disposal personnel with more than 3 consecutive years of NSWDG service) per month.

2. Sailors in receipt of AIP – NSWDG CS will serve in their billets 48 months, with 24-month extension options.

*150302. Sea Duty Incentive Pay (SDIP) Program

On March 15, 2007, the Navy implemented the SDIP program. Since then, there have been multiple reauthorizations of the program by the Navy. Effective December 21, 2017, the ASN (M&RA) reauthorized the continuance of the SDIP program subject to the requirements in 37 U.S.C. § 352 and the conditions specified in DoDI 1340.26. Unless extended by the authority of the Congress, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

A. Programs

1. SDIP – Extension (SDIP-E). SDIP-E is authorized for Sailors who sign a written agreement to voluntarily extend their sea duty assignments on ships, submarines, or aviation squadrons by a minimum of 12 months and a maximum of 48 months (36 months for an assignment outside the continental United States (OCONUS), including Hawaii).

2. SDIP – Curtailment (SDIP-C). SDIP-C is authorized for Sailors who voluntarily curtail their shore duty assignments a minimum of 6 months prior to their original planned rotation date, and return to sea duty assignments on a ship, submarine, or to an aviation squadron for a minimum of 12 months and a maximum of 48 months (36 for an OCONUS assignment, including Hawaii).

3. SDIP – Back-To-Back (SDIP-B). SDIP-B is authorized for Sailors who voluntarily extend their sea duty when assigned to a Type 2/4 command for rotational purposes upon transfer to ships, submarines, or aviation squadrons by a minimum of 12 months and a maximum of 48 months, based upon the DoD area or minimum activity tour length requirements.
B. Eligibility. To be eligible for SDIP, the Service member must:

1. Be serving in or selected for advancement (including frocked members) in one of the eligible ratings, skills, and pay grades listed in the SDIP Eligibility Chart;

2. Be serving:
   a. In a permanent duty assignment on a ship, submarine, or aviation squadron designated as sea duty for the purpose of rotation, and home ported in CONUS, Hawaii, or overseas for SDIP-E. Members considered assigned as excess of authorized billets are ineligible for SDIP-E;
   b. In a permanent shore duty assignment at an activity located in CONUS, Hawaii, Alaska, or overseas that is designated as shore duty for purposes of rotation for SDIP-C. Members currently receiving AIP for their shore duty assignment are not eligible for SDIP-C; or
   c. In a permanent duty assignment on a Type 2/4 sea duty for purposes of rotation and transfer to a ship, submarine, or aviation squadron and home ported in CONUS, Hawaii, or overseas for SDIP-B. Ships under construction that have not yet been delivered and commissioned are not eligible for SDIP; and

3. Incur sufficient obligated service to fulfill the service time required by the SDIP-E, SDIP-C, or SDIP-B agreement. Additional obligated service will be incurred prior to payment of SDIP-E and SDIP-B, and prior to detachment from the shore duty unit/command for SDIP-C.

C. Restrictions

1. RC Sailors are not eligible for SDIP.

2. Sailors are not eligible for SDIP and any other AIP allowance simultaneously.

D. Payment. The Department of the Navy (DON) determines the SDIP rates, which change frequently and vary by pay grade and skill/rating. The SDIP Eligibility Chart in subparagraph 150302.B.1 contains the current monthly entitlement rates for the SDIP program.

E. Recoupment and Repayment. Recoupment of unearned portions of the SDIP lump sum payment will be as follows:

1. Sailors who fail to complete the full period of additional sea duty service as required by their SDIP agreement will be required to repay the percentage of the SDIP lump sum payment representing the unexecuted portion of their required service. Situations requiring recoupment include, but are not limited to:
15-10

DoD 7000.14-R Financial Management Regulation Volume 7A, Chapter 15
* September 2019

a. Approved request for voluntary release from the written agreement if, due to unusual circumstances, it is determined that such release would clearly be in the best interests of both the Navy and the sailor;

b. Approved voluntary request for relief from an SDIP assignment;

c. Disability resulting from misconduct, willful neglect, or incurrence during a period of unauthorized absence;

d. Removal from the SDIP assignment for cause, including misconduct;

e. Separation for cause, including misconduct; or

f. Separation for weight control and/or failure of a physical readiness test.

2. Recoupment of payments already received will not be required if a sailor becomes ineligible for SDIP for any of the following reasons:

a. Disability, injury, or illness, not the result of misconduct or willful neglect, or not incurred during a period of unauthorized absence;

b. Separation from the naval service by operation of laws or regulations independent of misconduct;

c. Death; or

d. Where the Secretary of the Navy determines repayment would be against equity and good conscience, or contrary to the best interests of the United States.

3. In the event a sailor dies before the SDIP is received or before the sailor completes the sea duty assignment/extension for which SDIP is payable (and death is not caused by the sailor’s misconduct), the unpaid /unearned balance of the SDIP will be payable in the settlement of the deceased sailor’s final military pay account. The unpaid SDIP will be payable in a lump sum. If death is determined to be voluntary or the result of the sailor’s own misconduct, termination of any future payment and proration or recoupment of the SDIP, as applicable, will be made in accordance with procedures established for sailors whose inability to complete a contracted period of service is voluntary or the result of misconduct.
1504 ARMY AIP PROGRAMS

The Department of the Army (DA), Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff (ODCS) G-1 authorizes AIP programs for Army personnel in amounts of $1,500 per month or less. All Head Quarters DA (HQDA) authorized programs have a termination date. No new agreements may be entered into without DA reauthorization of the programs. The programs listed in paragraphs 150401 through 150409 are DA programs and fall under these guidelines.

150401. Korea AIP (KAIP) Program

A. Eligibility

1. Soldiers must be permanently assigned to Korea in the grades of O-3 and below.

2. Soldiers must not be serving in command select list positions.

3. Soldiers must be in good standing and not be under Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) action at the time of approval, and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

4. Soldiers assigned to Korea for more than 40 months at the end of their current tour are not eligible to apply.

5. Soldiers serving on their initial assignment after graduating from initial entry training or newly appointed officers are not authorized to apply. Soldiers must be in a documented and authorized position by Military Occupational Specialty and skill level and must remain in that position for the duration of the extension in order to qualify for KAIP.

B. Payment

1. The maximum monthly rate payable is $500. Payment will be made in a lump sum, payable upon approval of the AIP agreement extending the Soldier’s assignment.

2. Soldiers are limited to a maximum 24-month extension under this AIP program. Payment for an extension beyond 24 months or a subsequent extension when combined with a previous extension(s) that exceeds 24 months is not authorized.

3. The commander determines the payment rate based on the needs of the Army and may be different for Soldiers serving in the same location, but will not exceed the monthly rate of $500.

4. Lump sum payments will not exceed the maximum monthly rate authorized by the Commander at the time the Soldier enters into the written agreement multiplied by the number of continuous months in the period for which the AIP is authorized. Lump sum payments will be paid on the approval of the AIP agreement.
C. Restrictions

Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than one AIP for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP program, the Soldier will receive the higher of these AIPs.

D. Written Agreements

1. Approval authorities will require a Soldier to enter into a written agreement in order to qualify for AIP. The agreement will specify the period for which the AIP will be paid and the amount of the lump sum AIP payment.

2. New AIP written agreements must adhere to this policy. Any approved AIP agreement in existence prior to October 1, 2018, will remain valid under its terms until the effective termination date of the agreement.

E. Termination

The KAIP program is subject to annual budget constraints; therefore, unless reauthorized by HQDA, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*150402. Security Force Assistance Brigade (SFAB) AIP

On August 22, 2017, the Assistant Secretary of the Army (ASA) (M&RA) approved AIP for Soldiers agreeing to serve at least 12 months in an SFAB.

A. Eligibility

1. Enlisted Soldiers, who are fully trained and certified, are authorized AIP for assignments at their permanent duty stations.

2. Soldiers must be in good standing and not under the UCMJ process at the time of approval and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

3. Soldiers must enter into a written agreement to serve one to three years in an SFAB approved billet.

B. Payment

The maximum payment under this program is $5,000 for a minimum 12-month assignment to an SFAB.
C. Repayment

Soldiers, with the exception of sole survivor discharges and those who die or are retired or separated with a combat-related disability, will repay an amount equal to the unearned portion of AIP if the Soldier fails to complete the AIP period. Soldiers who fail to complete the AIP period will not receive any unpaid AIP amounts.

D. Restrictions

Soldiers are not authorized to receive the benefit of more than one incentive for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP, the Soldier will receive the higher of these AIPs.

E. Written Agreements

Approval authorities will require a Soldier to enter into a written agreement in order to qualify for AIP. AIP agreements must include the period for which the AIP will be paid, the amount of the lump sum AIP payment, and comply with other written agreement requirements directed by the DA ODCS.

F. Termination

The SFAB AIP program is subject to annual budget constraints; therefore, unless reauthorized by HQDA, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*150403. Asymmetric Warfare Group (AWG) AIP

A. Eligibility

1. Soldiers must be permanently assigned to an AWG in grades E-5 to E-9, W-2 to W-4, and O-2 to O-4, and assigned to an authorized Operational Advisor position within the group or operational support billet in an operational squadron.

2. Soldiers must have completed the appropriate training and have been awarded an additional skill identifier of “U9” (Operational Advisor) or “U8” (Operational Support).

3. Soldiers must be in good standing and not be under UCMJ action at the time of approval and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

4. Soldiers must enter into a written agreement to serve 1 to 2 years in an AWG approved billet. The written agreement will specify the period for which the AIP will be paid and the monthly amount of AIP.
B. Payment

1. Eligible Soldiers serving in an Operational Advisor (U9) billet may be paid $400 per month.

2. Eligible Soldiers serving in an Operational Support (U8) billet in an operational squadron may be paid $300 per month.

C. Restrictions

Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than one AIP simultaneously for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP, he or she will receive the higher of these AIPs.

D. Termination

The AWG AIP program was terminated. See the Duration of Authority table for the termination date.

*150404. Joint Special Operations Command (JSOC) Special Mission Unit (SMU) AIP Program

A. Eligibility

1. Soldiers, including RC, must be permanently assigned to a JSOC SMU Operator billet.

2. Soldiers must be in good standing and not be under UCMJ action at the time of approval and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

3. Soldiers must have less than 35 years of active federal service in order to qualify for continued payment.

4. Soldiers must sign a written agreement to serve 1 to 3 years in a JSOC SMU Operator assignment.

B. Payment

1. SMU Operators with less than 25 years of active federal service may apply for the following:

   a. SMU Operators with less than 3 years of service in a SMU Operator billet may be paid $750 per month; or

   b. SMU Operators with 3 years or more of service in a SMU Operator billet may be paid $1,000 per month.
2. SMU Operators with 25 years or more of active federal service may apply for the following:

   a. SMU Operators with 3 years or more of service in a SMU Operator billet may be paid $500 per month. Agreements will terminate at 28 years of active federal service; or

   b. SMU Operators serving in a specified Key Leadership/Development position may be paid $1,000 per month. Agreements will terminate at 35 years of active federal service.

C. Restrictions

   Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than one AIP simultaneously for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP, he or she will receive the higher of these AIPs.

D. Termination

   The JSOC SMU AIP program is subject to annual budget constraints; therefore, unless reauthorized by HQDA, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

150405. U.S. Army Special Operations Command (USASOC) AIP

A. Eligibility

   1. Soldiers must be permanently assigned to an authorized Major Force Protection-11 billet in the grade of E-5 and above.

   2. Soldiers must be in good standing and not be under UCMJ action at the time of approval and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

   3. Soldier must have less than 35 years of active federal service in order to qualify for continued payment.

B. Payment

   1. The maximum monthly rate payable to any Soldier in this AIP program is $1,250. This payment may be made in a lump sum or monthly payments.

   2. The Commander determines the monthly entitlement rate based on the needs of the Army and it may be different for Soldiers serving in similar positions at the same location, but will not exceed the monthly rate of $1,250.
3. Lump sum payments will not exceed the maximum monthly rate authorized by the commander at the time the Soldier enters into the written agreement, multiplied by the number of continuous months in the period for which the AIP will be paid, pursuant to the agreement. Lump sum payment will be paid on the approval of the AIP agreement.

C. Restrictions

Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than one AIP simultaneously for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP, he or she will receive the higher of these AIPs.

D. Written Agreements

Approval authorities will require a Soldier to enter into a written agreement in order to qualify for AIP. The agreement will specify the period for which the AIP will be paid and the amount of the lump sum AIP payment.

E. Termination

The USASOC AIP program is subject to annual budget constraints; therefore unless reauthorized by HQDA, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

150406. Army Cyber (ARCYBER) Command AIP Program

Effective September 2, 2017, the DA, ODCS G-1, extended the ARCYBER AIP program.

A. Eligibility

1. Enlisted Soldiers, Warrant Officers, and Commissioned Officers must be fully trained and certified in a U.S. Cyber Command or ARCYBER work role.

2. Soldiers must have completed the appropriate training and have been awarded the appropriate certifications located inside the Cyber Mission Force (CMF) or those directly executing strategic to tactical level cyber missions required outside of the CMF.

3. Soldiers must be in good standing and not be under UCMJ action at the time of approval and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

4. Soldiers must enter into a written agreement to serve 1 to 3 years in an ARCYBER approved billet.

B. Payment

1. The maximum monthly rate payable to any Soldier serving as a Basic under the AIP program will not exceed $200.
2. The maximum monthly rate payable to any Soldier serving as a Senior under the AIP program will not exceed $300.

3. The maximum monthly rate payable to any Soldier serving as a Master under the AIP program will not exceed $500.

C. Restrictions

Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than one AIP simultaneously for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP, he or she will receive the higher of these AIPs.

D. Written Agreements

Approval authorities will require a Soldier to enter into a written agreement in order to qualify for AIP. The agreement will specify the period for which the AIP will be paid and the amount of the lump sum AIP payment.

E. Termination

The ARCYBER AIP program is subject to annual budget constraints; therefore, unless reauthorized by HQDA, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

150407. 14th Missile Defense Battery (MDB) AIP

On January 13, 2015, the ASA (M&RA) approved the payment of AIP to Soldiers assigned to the 14th MDB at Kyogamisaki, Japan. Effective September 27, 2018, the DA ODCS G-1 reauthorized the payment.

A. Eligibility

1. Soldiers must be permanently assigned to the 14th MDB at Kyogamisaki, Japan.

2. Soldiers must be in good standing and not be under UCMJ action at the time of approval and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

3. Soldiers must sign a written agreement acknowledging the limitations and restrictions as a condition to receive AIP. The agreement will specify the period for which the AIP will be paid and the amount of the monthly rate.

B. Payment

The maximum monthly rate payable to Soldiers serving in an approved assignment will not exceed $1,500. This amount will be adjusted if the request for Basic Allowance for Subsistence II (see Chapter 25, subparagraphs 250201.B.2 and 250202) is approved for enlisted Soldiers, and/or the Soldiers are furnished meals or rations at no charge from an appropriated fund dining facility or are subsisted at no charge on behalf of the Government.

C. Restrictions. The following restrictions apply:

Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than one AIP simultaneously for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP, he or she will receive the higher of these AIPs.

D. Termination

1. The 14th MDB will terminate once the Life Support Area is established or Soldiers are being subsisted by or on behalf of the Government.

* 2. The AIP program is subject to annual budget constraints; therefore, unless reauthorized by HQDA, no agreement may be entered into after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*150408. AIP for Operational Deployments (OD)

AIP-OD is a pilot program to further develop and justify a financial incentive for specifically identified OD. The intent of a future incentive is to provide a vital distribution tool for the Army as well as provide a special payment in recognition of the greater than normal rigors of the arduous duty involving long deployments and the repetitive nature of operational force rotational (OFR) assignments. Effective January 1, 2018, AD Soldiers who physically deploy and perform duties as part of a rotational force away from their permanent duty stations to U.S. Army Europe (USAREUR) and U.S. Army Pacific (USARPAC) areas of responsibility may be entitled to AIP-OD, subject to the criteria outlined in subparagraphs 150408.A through 150408.G.

A. Payment

1. AIP-OD will be paid in monthly installments (lump sums are not authorized).

2. AIP-OD will be prorated for Soldiers who do not satisfy the eligibility requirement for an entire month to reflect the duration of the Soldier’s actual qualifying service during the month. For Soldiers eligible to receive AIP-OD, proration will not apply to the 31st day of a month with more than 30 days.

3. Atlantic Resolve, Joint Multi-National Training Group Ukraine, and other qualifying deployments for a Soldier who is serving on OFR in a field duty status are authorized $195 per month. Soldiers serving on OFR in a regular temporary duty status are not authorized AIP-OD.
4. Korea Rotational Force Soldiers serving on OFR in a field duty status are authorized $195 per month. Soldiers serving on OFR in a regular temporary duty status are not authorized AIP-OD.

B. Restrictions

1. AIP-OD is authorized in addition to any other AIP program for which the Soldier may be eligible; however, a Soldier may not receive more than two simultaneous AIP payments and the total may not exceed the maximum AIP of $1,500 per month.

2. A Soldier’s eligibility to receive AIP-OD will terminate if/when the Army is required to pay high deployment allowance or implements a similar deployment incentive pay or allowance.

3. USARPAC AIP-OD payments are based on a Soldier’s eligibility. However, no payment will be authorized for any period prior to October 1, 2016.

4. USAREUR AIP-OD payments are based on a Soldier’s eligibility. However, no payment will be authorized for any period prior to December 31, 2016.

C. Absences

1. AIP-OD for USARPAC and USAREUR will continue when a Soldier is on authorized leave, other than leave authorized for a period ending upon the Soldier’s discharge or release from AD.

2. When a Soldier entitled to AIP-OD is absent without leave (AWOL), AIP-OD payments will stop on the first day of AWOL through the day before the date the Soldier is restored to full duty, provided the Soldier remained eligible for AIP-OD.

D. Hospitalization

1. A Soldier who is deployed and requires hospitalization away from the permanent duty station is still considered operationally deployed and remains entitled to AIP-OD.

2. A Soldier who is deployed and requires hospitalization at the permanent duty station is not eligible for payment of AIP-OD for the period of hospitalization, unless otherwise qualified to receive the pay under 37 U.S.C. § 372.

3. If a line of duty investigation determines that the Soldier’s injuries are due to his or her own misconduct, AIP-OD payments will stop on the first day of hospitalization through the day before the date the Soldier is restored to full duty, provided the Soldier remained otherwise eligible for AIP-OD.
4. If the member is wounded/injured/ill from a combat zone, combat operation, hostile fire area, or as a result of hostile fire, reference Chapter 13.

E. Confinement

1. When a Soldier entitled to AIP is confined awaiting trial by court-martial, AIP-OD payments stop on the first day of confinement through the day before the date the Soldier is restored to full duty, provided the Soldier remained eligible for AIP-OD.

2. When a Soldier confined awaiting trial by court-martial is acquitted, or has charges dismissed, the Soldier will be entitled to AIP-OD retroactive to the first day of confinement, provided the Soldier remained eligible for AIP-OD.

F. Captured or Missing Status

A Soldier entitled to AIP-OD immediately before entering a status of missing, missing-in-action, interned in a foreign country, or captured by a hostile force will continue to be credited with AIP-OD for each month while in such a status.

G. Termination

The AIP-OD program is subject to congressional annual reauthorization of 37 U.S.C. § 352; therefore, no orders will be issued to start an AIP-OD payment after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*150409. AIP – Drill Sergeant (DS) and Advanced Individual Training (AIT) Platoon Sergeant (PSG) Tour Extension Program

Effective October 1, 2017, a DS or AIT PSG whose tour is extended beyond the normal tour of 24 months is eligible for AIP, provided the Soldier meets the eligibility requirements.

A. Eligibility

1. The Soldier must be permanently assigned to the Training and Doctrine Command as:

   a. A DS in a Basic Combat Training or One Station Unit Training company; or

   b. An AIT PSG in an AIT company.

2. The Soldier must be scheduled and fully eligible to PCS between October 1, 2017 and December 31, 2019.

3. The Soldier must be recommended for and selected for extension by their Battalion and Brigade Chain of Command.
4. The Soldier must be in good standing and not be under UCMJ action at the time of approval and must remain in good standing throughout the AIP tour.

5. The Soldier must complete a Periodic Health Assessment.

B. Payment

1. The maximum monthly rate payable to a DS or an AIT PSG will not exceed $500.

2. AIP is only payable for the period of the extension. Payments begin on the first day of the month following the Soldier’s original tour ending date.

3. Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than 12 monthly payments under this program.

4. AIP payments will terminate on the day prior to an authorized leave period that ends with the Soldier’s discharge or release from AD.

5. In the event of misconduct, AIP payments will terminate on the day the Soldier loses qualification to perform the duty to which he or she is receiving AIP.

C. Repayment

Soldiers, with the exception of sole survivor discharges and those who die or are retired or separated with a combat-related disability, will repay an amount equal to the unearned portion of AIP if the Soldier fails to complete the extension period. Soldiers who fail to complete the extension period will not receive any unpaid AIP amounts.

D. Restrictions

Soldiers are not authorized to receive more than one AIP simultaneously for the same period of service. If the Soldier is eligible for more than one AIP, he or she will receive the higher of these AIPs.

E. Termination

The AIP program is subject to annual budget constraints; therefore, unless reauthorized by the HQDA, no orders will be issued after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.
On April 27, 2004, the Air Force was authorized KAIP. On June 30, 2008, the Principal Deputy Under Secretary of Defense (USD) Personnel and Readiness (P&R) provided permanent approval of this program and on April 6, 2009, the USD P&R modified the eligibility requirements based on tour length changes for Korea. All changes are subject to congressional reauthorization of 37 U.S.C. § 352.

A. Secretary of the Air Force (SAF) Memorandum, Dated October 20, 2015. In accordance with DoDI 1340.26, and subject to the availability of appropriated funds, enlisted and officer personnel are eligible to receive KAIP under 37 U.S.C. § 352. Members will continue to receive their AIP payments until the end-date specified in their agreements or their departure from Korea.

1. Airmen who are:
   a. Selected for a 12-month unaccompanied tour in the Republic of Korea, and who execute a written agreement to serve either an additional 12- or 24-month unaccompanied tour, will receive $300.00 per month regardless of rank or Air Force Specialty Code (AFSC); or
   b. Offered and have accepted a Command Sponsorship Program billet in the Republic of Korea, and execute a written agreement to serve the 36-month accompanied tour, will receive $300.00 per month regardless of rank or AFSC.

* The SAF reauthorized the continuance of KAIP through the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

3. The AIP will be stopped upon termination of the contract or curtailment of the agreed tour of duty for any reason, either voluntary or involuntary. The entitlement to AIP will be terminated if the member is AWOL or enters confinement.

4. Airmen who elect AIP for Korea will not be eligible for Home Basing, Follow-on Assignment, or concurrent Overseas Tour Extension Incentive Program or In-Place Consecutive Overseas Tour.

B. USD (P&R) Memorandum, Dated April 6, 2009. The memorandum establishes three categories of assignments applicable for AIP payments. All categories require a written agreement by the member. The categories are:

1. Members who volunteer for a 36-month initial assignment to Pyeongtaek, Osan, Daegu, Chinhae, or Seoul may be paid $300 per month in AIP, to be paid on a monthly basis, upon commencement of the assignment.
2. Members who volunteer for a 24-month initial assignment to Uijongbu or Dongducheon may be paid $300 per month in AIP, to be paid on a monthly basis, upon commencement of the assignment.

3. Members who accept an initial tour to Korea in any location and later elect to extend their assignment length for 12 or 24 months may be paid $300 per month, to be paid on a monthly basis, upon commencement of the tour with an extension agreement, or entering the extension, whichever is earlier.

C. Restrictions. At any time during the authorized period, the SAF (M&RA) may terminate the KAIP program if it is no longer required.

*150502. 724th Special Tactics Group Incentive Program

On December 30, 2011, the SAF established this program with a monthly payment of $1,000 being authorized to eligible personnel. The program terminated on September 30, 2012, and reestablished on October 17, 2012. Any payments made for the period October 1 through October 16, 2012 are considered invalid. Effective December 22, 2014, the SAF reauthorized this program through the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

A. Eligibility

Enlisted SMU members are eligible for this program.

B. Payment

1. SMU Operators who have a cumulative assignment time of less than 48 months will be paid $750 per month.

2. SMU Operators who have a cumulative assignment time of 48 months or more will be paid $1,000 per month.

C. Restrictions. At any time during the authorized period, the SAF (M&RA) may terminate the 724th Special Tactics Group Incentive program if it is no longer required.

150503. Unmanned Aerial System - Aviation Incentive Pay

See Chapter 22, section 2203.

150504. Critical Skill Incentive Pay - CSIP

See Chapter 22, section 2205.
150505. Headquarters Air Force Special Operations Command (AFSOC), BP0VFX3H, Program

On September 4, 2014, the SAF established an AIP program for enlisted and officers when assigned to the AFSOC unit designated by the Personnel Accounting Symbol (PAS) code BP0VFX3H. The SAF authorized the program for a period of 5 years subject to annual congressional approval of the pay authority, Title 37 U.S.C § 352. No AIP will be initially awarded (initial eligibility start date) after this date unless the program is officially extended/authorized beyond the date on the Duration of Authority table by an appropriate approving authority.

A. Eligibility Requirements

1. Officers and enlisted members must be assigned to operator positions within the PAS code BP0VFX3H.

2. Members must have successfully completed the unit’s required operator training and certification.

B. Payment. Eligible personnel will be paid:

1. $750 per month for personnel who have a post-training cumulative unit assignment time of less than 36 months; or

2. $1,000 per month for personnel who have a post-training cumulative unit assignment time of 36 months or more.

150506. Intercontinental Ballistic Missile Field Operations Program

On September 29, 2014, the SAF established an AIP program for officers assigned to Minot Air Force Base (AFB), Malmstrom AFB, or F.E. Warren AFB. Subject to reauthorization by Congress, this AIP program is authorized through the date on the Duration of Authority table.

A. Eligibility Requirements

1. Missile and Nuclear Operations (13N), Missile Maintenance (21M), and Security Forces (31P) officers who are qualified to perform nuclear position duties are eligible.

2. Officers who are assigned to qualifying positions at Minot AFB, Malmstrom AFB, or F.E. Warren AFB and regularly perform duties in missile fields at these locations are eligible.

3. Officers whose “regular performance of duties” requires dispatch on orders to a missile field for a minimum number of hours within a 90-day calendar quarter (example: 210 hours out of a 90-day period) are eligible. This pay is not intended for those who go to the missile field sporadically.
B. Payment

Officers meeting the requirements will receive $300 per month. The unit commander will sign the AIP roster certifying the officer has met all the requirements.

150507. AIP for Kingsley Field, Klamath Falls, Oregon

* A. In accordance with DoDI 1340.26, and subject to the availability of appropriated funds, regular Air Force and Active Guard Reserve (AGR) Airmen permanently assigned to the 173rd Fighter Wing, Kingsley Field, Klamath Falls, Oregon will be eligible to receive AIP under 37 U.S.C. § 352. Air Force and AGR Airmen assigned to the 173rd Fighter Wing in a student status are not eligible for AIP.

B. Members who meet the eligibility provisions outlined in 150507.A, will be authorized $400 AIP per month.

C. AIP shall be terminated immediately if the member is AWOL, placed in confinement, or removed from field duties by the commander for cause. For officers the termination is effective the day prior to promotion to the grade of Major. The effective date of termination is the last day the Airman met the requirements before removal.

D. AIP shall terminate upon PCS to a location other than the 173rd Fighter Wing, Kingsley Field, Klamath Falls, Oregon or upon starting permissive leave in conjunction with terminal leave status.

* E. The AIP for Kingsley Field, Klamath Falls, Oregon is authorized through the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*150508. Turkey AIP

A. In accordance with DoDI 1340.26, AD Airmen assigned to Turkey serving a 15-month unaccompanied tour, who agree to serve an additional 9 months for a total of 24 months in Turkey, are eligible to receive Turkey AIP. Turkey AIP does not apply to AD Airmen assigned to Turkey serving a 24-month accompanied tour.

B. Members who meet the eligibility provisions outlined in 150508.A will receive Turkey AIP at a rate of $300 per month effective on:

1. the date they arrive at the duty station, if electing AIP at the losing station; or

2. the date they sign the agreement, if electing AIP after arriving in Turkey but prior to entering the Date Eligible to Return from Overseas forecast window, or appearing on the Vulnerable to Move List, as applicable.
C. Effective August 18, 2016, the SAF authorized Turkey AIP. This program is extended through the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*150509. AIP for Extended Training Service Specialists (ETSS)

A. In accordance with DoDI 1340.26, and subject to annual congressional authorization and the availability of appropriated funds, Airmen assigned to identified hard-to-fill billets in the ETSS program support to Foreign Military Sales activities are eligible to receive AIP.

B. Airmen filling these billets will receive AIP at a rate of $1,500 per month, subject to the AIP rate ceiling established by the Deputy ASD for Military Personnel Policy.

C. Effective March 22, 2017, the AIP for ETSS program is authorized. The AIP for ETSS is authorized through the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

1506 MARINE CORPS SMU AIP PROGRAMS

150601. Marine Corps SMU – Operators

*A. General

AIP for SMU Operators was established for Marine Corps personnel on November 28, 2007. The ASN (M&RA) reauthorized the continuance of this program through the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

B. Payment

Qualified SMU Operators are eligible to receive a flat-rate AIP of $750 per month (for personnel with less than three years of SMU service) or $1,000 per month (for personnel with three or more years of SMU service) for each month after completing qualification requirements. Marines in receipt of this AIP will serve in their billets for 12- to 48-month periods.

*150602. Marine Corps SMU – Direct Support

A. General

Effective December 18, 2017, the ASN authorized the Marine Corp to offer AIP to enlisted Marines serving as direct support personnel assigned to an SMU. The program is extended through the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

B. Payment

Qualified SMU Direct Support personnel are eligible to receive a flat-rate AIP of $500 per month for each month after completing qualification requirements. Marines in receipt of this AIP will serve in their billets for 12- to 48-month periods.
1507 AIP PROGRAMS FOR INVOLUNTARY EXTENSIONS IN AFGHANISTAN OR CERTAIN THEATER UNITS

The AIP program for involuntary extensions beyond 12-months Boots on the Ground (BoG) in Iraq, Afghanistan, or certain theater units was terminated. See the Duration of Authority table for the termination date.

1508 AIP IN LIEU OF POST-DEPLOYMENT MOBILIZATION RESPITE ABSENCE (PDMRA) PROGRAM

The Secretary of Defense directed on January 19, 2007 that a program be established to recognize members who mobilize or deploy more frequently than established rotation policy goals. The PDMRA program was established to allow a member to earn days of administrative absence, not chargeable to the member’s accrued leave account, dependent on the length of time the member deployed beyond the rotation policy goals. Effective May 24, 2007, the program also allowed members to receive monetary compensation in lieu of administrative absence days in certain situations. The authority to pay monetary compensation terminated October 1, 2014. Paragraphs 150801 – 150806 are included for historical information only.

150801. USD (P&R) Memorandum, May 24, 2007

The USD (P&R) authorized the Secretary concerned to offer the option of payment of AIP in lieu of taking administrative absence under the PDMRA program in certain situations. RC members (as described in subparagraph 150801.A) may elect to receive AIP for PDMRA days earned instead of taking the administrative absence. The programs are not effective until the Services publish their implementation instructions.

A. Eligible Members. RC members who are also federal, state, or local government civilian employees and precluded by law from being paid by two entities for simultaneously serving in an RC status and in their civilian government jobs may elect the payment of AIP instead of taking administrative absence.

B. Requirement. The member must elect to receive the AIP instead of the PDMRA administrative absence days before the PDMRA days are earned.

C. Payment. Members electing to be paid the AIP will receive $200 for each PDMRA day earned. Members are not authorized to be paid for any PDMRA days earned before an election is made.

D. Restrictions

1. Payment of the AIP will not exceed the monthly limit of $1,500.

2. The PDMRA payment benefit is not eligible for combat zone tax exclusion (CZTE).
E. Service Instructions. Effective dates for the implementation are:

1. Marine Corps: July 27, 2007;
2. Navy: August 2, 2007;
3. Army: August 7, 2007; and

150802. Authority

Public Law 111-84, section 604, dated October 28, 2009, authorized the Secretary of Defense to prescribe regulations allowing the Secretary concerned to provide current and former members with payment for administrative absence days earned under the PDMRA program during the period January 19, 2007 through the date the Service implemented their respective PDMRA program. The USD (P&R) issued guidance on February 1, 2010, authorizing the Secretary concerned to issue implementing guidance. The authority expired on October 28, 2010.

A. Eligible Members

1. Former members who were discharged or released from the Armed Forces under honorable conditions are eligible.

2. Current Active Component (AC) and RC members, who qualified for PDMRA days during the period described in paragraph 150802, are eligible.

B. Payment

1. Former members may receive $200 for each PDMRA day earned.

2. Current members, who earned PDMRA days during the period of January 19, 2007, through the date the member’s Service implemented the PDMRA benefits as stated in subparagraph 150801.E, may receive either one day of administrative absence for each PDMRA day earned or payment of $200 per day during that time frame as directed by the Secretary concerned.

3. Payment may be paid in a lump sum or installments, at the election of the Secretary concerned.

C. Restrictions

1. Payment of the AIP will not exceed the monthly limit of $1,500.

2. The PDMRA payment benefit is not eligible for CZTE.
150803. Qualifying Deployments and Mobilizations on or After January 19, 2007

The following is the program guidance for qualifying deployment and mobilizations on or after January 19, 2007, but before October 1, 2011.

A. Frequency Thresholds

1. AC members deployed in excess of 12 months during the most recent 36-month period qualify for PDMRA.

2. RC members mobilized in excess of 12 months during the most recent 72-month period qualify for PDMRA.

B. Creditable Time

1. Creditable time for AC members includes the day of the member’s arrival at the deployed location through departure of BoG.

2. Creditable time for RC members includes mobilizations under 10 U.S.C. §§ 12301(a), 12302, or 12304. Mobilization for this purpose includes the day the member is mobilized through the date the mobilization is terminated.

3. The Secretary concerned may include other deployments or mobilizations in conjunction with an expanded program for the Service concerned.

4. For AC members, computation of creditable time commences 36 months prior to the member’s deployment and continues during the deployment.

5. For RC members, computation of creditable time commences 72 months prior to the member’s mobilization and continues during the deployment.

6. The Secretary concerned will establish policy on the crediting of time when court-martial or other adverse administrative actions have been initiated.

7. PDMRA days are authorized for each month or portion of a month that a member is deployed (AC) or mobilized (RC) beyond the frequency thresholds at subparagraph 150803.A. The number of PDMRA days awarded to AC and RC members are:

   a. One day of administrative absence per month in excess of 12 months during the qualifying period;

   b. Two days of administrative absence per month in excess of 18 months during the qualifying period; or

   c. Four days of administrative absence per month in excess of 24 months during the qualifying period.
8. The Secretary concerned may develop supplementary tables, including other non-monetary recognition programs, delivering comparable or greater benefits to members meeting the frequency thresholds at subparagraph 150803.A.

9. RC members must be on AD during the days they take their earned PDMRA days.

C. Payment

1. Under current law, RC members who are also federal, state, or local government civilian employees are not permitted to receive their civilian pay on the same days they are serving on AD. Affected members may elect to receive AIP at $200 for each day of absence that otherwise would have been authorized, not to exceed $1,500 monthly, in lieu of being awarded administrative absence days.

2. There is no option to cash in administrative absence days already earned. The AIP election must be made by the affected RC member prior to the days being earned.

150804. Qualifying Deployments and Mobilizations on or After October 1, 2011

The following is program guidance for qualifying deployments and mobilizations on or after October 1, 2011, including that portion of an ongoing deployment or mobilization that occurs on or after October 1, 2011.

A. Deployment and Mobilization Frequency Requirements and/or Thresholds

1. AC members, who on the first day of their current deployment, had deployed in excess of 12 months out of the previous 36 months, and who meet the other eligibility criteria contained in this section, qualify for PDMRA days.

2. RC members, who on the first day of their current qualifying mobilization, had been mobilized pursuant to 10 U.S.C. §§ 12301(a), 12302, or 12304 in excess of 12 months out of the previous 72 months, and who meet the other eligibility criteria contained in this section, qualify for PDMRA days. The 12-month qualifying period may include service pursuant to section 10 U.S.C. § 12301(d) when designated by the Secretary concerned.

3. The Secretary concerned may utilize the deployment-to-dwell ratio of 1:2 for AC members or mobilization-to-dwell ratio of 1:5 for RC members as the qualifying threshold for providing PDMRA benefits, as opposed to the requirements contained in subparagraphs 150803.A and 150803.B.

B. Two Days PDMRA Accrual Conditions

1. AC Service members accrue 2 administrative absence days per month when the deployment threshold established in subparagraph 150804.A is exceeded, and the AC member is:
a. Deployed to Iraq or Afghanistan; or

b. Deployed to a CZTE area when the area has been designated as a 2-day per month PDMRA accrual location by the Secretary concerned.

2. RC Service members accrue 2 administrative absence days per month when the mobilization threshold established in subparagraph 150804.A is exceeded, and the RC member is serving:

a. In Iraq or Afghanistan pursuant to 10 U.S.C. §§ 12301(a), 12302, or 12304;

b. In Iraq or Afghanistan pursuant to 10 U.S.C § 12301(d) when designated by the Secretary concerned; or

c. In a CZTE area under the authority of 10 U.S.C. §§ 12301(a), 12301(d), 12302, or 12304 when the CZTE area has been designated as a 2-day per month PDMRA accrual location by the Secretary concerned.

C. One Day PDMRA Accrual Conditions

1. AC members accrue 1 administrative absence day per month when the deployment threshold established in subparagraph 150804.A is exceeded for deployments to a qualifying CZTE area when the CZTE area has been designated as a 1-day per month PDMRA accrual location by the Secretary concerned.

2. RC members accrue 1 administrative absence day per month when the mobilization threshold established in subparagraph 150804.A is exceeded, and the RC member is serving:

a. Outside of the United States pursuant to 10 U.S.C. §§ 12301(a), 12302, or 12304;

b. Outside of the United States pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 12301(d) when designated by the Secretary concerned; or

c. In a CZTE area pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 12301(d) when the CZTE area has been designated as a 1-day per month PDMRA accrual location by the Secretary concerned.

D. PDMRA Accrual Conditions

1. Service members, at a minimum, must meet PDMRA eligibility criteria contained in paragraphs 150803 and 150804 for 30 consecutive days in order to begin accruing PDMRA days.
a. PDMRA accrual for AC members includes the day that the member arrives at the deployed location through the day that the member redeploys.

b. PDMRA accrual for RC members includes the day that the member is ordered to duty pursuant to 10 U.S.C. §§ 12301(a), 12302, or 12304 through the date that the member’s service is terminated under that same authority.

2. When designated as qualifying for PDMRA by the Secretary concerned pursuant to subparagraphs 150804.B.2.b, 150804.B.2.c, 150804.C.2.a, or 150804.C.2.b, include the day that the member enters service pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 12301(d) through the date that the member’s service is terminated under that same authority.

E. Extensions of Mobilization Orders to Utilize Accrued PDMRA Days. The Secretary concerned may extend the mobilization orders of RC Service members, within statutory limitations, to allow these members to utilize PDMRA days accrued during the mobilization. RC members do not accrue PDMRA days during the time that mobilization orders are extended for the purpose of utilizing PDMRA days.

F. Election of Payment for PDMRA Days

1. Under current law, RC members who are also federal, state, or local government civilian employees are not permitted to receive their civilian pay while on AD utilizing accrued PDMRA days.

2. To resolve this pay restriction, the Secretary concerned may offer such RC members a special PDMRA payment, which permits such members to elect to receive AIP in lieu of being awarded PDMRA administrative absence days.

3. If this option is offered, the AIP election must be made by the RC Service member prior to earning PDMRA days. The AIP would be valued at a rate of $200 for each day of administrative absence that otherwise would have been authorized under the PDMRA program, not to exceed the $1,500 monthly maximum limit of AIP. This option may not be used to cash in administrative absence days already earned.

G. Crediting PDMRA Time. The Secretary concerned will establish policy on crediting PDMRA time when court-martial or other adverse administrative actions have been initiated.

H. RC Use of Administrative Absence Days. RC members must be serving pursuant to 10 U.S.C. §§ 12301(a), 12301(d), 12302, or 12304 in order to utilize the administrative absence days accrued under the PDMRA program.

150805. Public Law 112-120, Dated May 25, 2012

A. Public Law 112-120 clarified the entitlement to PDMRA days for RC members. The law allows for the Secretary of Defense to determine that provisions of entitlement outlined in DoDI 1327.06 will not apply to RC members whose qualified mobilization commenced before October 1, 2011 and continued on and after that date until the date the mobilization terminated.

B. The USD (P&R) issued implementation guidance for Public Law 112-120 on July 11, 2012. The guidance stipulated that:

1. Each Secretary concerned will publish implementing guidance and establish an application process to allow qualifying current and former RC members to apply for benefits authorized by Public Law 112-120.

2. Benefits are only authorized for RC members who deployed OCONUS and whose qualified mobilization commenced before October 1, 2011.

3. Each Secretary concerned will provide qualifying applicants with a PDMRA day, or a payment of $200 for each PDMRA day that the individual would have qualified for had the October 1, 2011 guidance changes not applied to the individual.

4. Each Service’s application for benefits will require qualifying RC members to elect to receive either a PDMRA day or payment of $200 for each qualifying PDMRA day. The application will caution members who are no longer mobilized in a status where they can use the PDMRA days and elect PDMRA days in lieu of payment that:
   a. The PDMRA days will be banked and cannot be used until the next qualifying period of service; and
   b. Banked PDMRA days will be lost if the member is separated from the military prior to using the PDMRA days. Banked PDMRA days cannot be subsequently sold.

5. Qualifying former RC members will only receive $200 per day for each PDMRA day.

6. Former RC members who were discharged or released from the Armed Forces under other than honorable conditions are not eligible for benefits.

7. Each Secretary concerned may elect to pay qualifying individuals a lump sum payment or installments.

8. The authority to provided benefits under Public Law 112-120 expires on October 1, 2014. This expiration does not affect PDMRA days earned prior to but used or paid for after October 1, 2014. The member must have elected the payment option before October 1, 2014.
150806. Public Law 112-239, Dated January 2, 2013

A. Public Law 112-239 allows for the payment of $200 per day to individuals who were eligible to participate as a member of the Armed Forces in the PDMRA program, but who did not participate in 1 or more days in the program due to Government error. Those individuals must apply for payment of PDMRA days with an application for the correction of their military records pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 1552, or other process as prescribed by the Secretary concerned.

B. A claim for a deceased individual, who would have been authorized to apply for the payment of $200 in subparagraph 150806.A, may be submitted by the deceased individual’s legal representative. Payment for a deceased member will be made pursuant to 10 U.S.C. § 1552 (c)(2), or other process as determined by the Secretary concerned.

CHAPTER 17

SPECIAL PAY – HARDSHIP DUTY

1701  GENERAL

170101.  Purpose

This chapter prescribes the policy for payment of Hardship Duty Pay (HDP) and lists the areas where members are authorized to receive these entitlements.

*170102.  Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 352. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

1702  HDP

170201.  HDP – Location (HDP – L)

A.  Purpose.  HDP – L is designed to recognize service at locations where living conditions are substantially below those normally found within the continental United States and to provide equity across DoD for Service members assigned to these locations. Locations are contained in Figure 17-1, and are listed on the Hardship Duty Locations table on DFAS.MIL.

B.  Eligibility.  All Service members permanently assigned or serving in a temporary additional duty/temporary duty (TAD/TDY), deployed, or attached status for over 30 consecutive days in a designated area, will receive HDP – L.  Service members on permanent reassignment to the area are eligible for HDP – L from the day of arrival at the new station. The conditions for HDP – L are set forth in Table 17-1. The Assistant Secretary of Defense – Manpower and Reserve Affairs (ASD (M&RA)) will promulgate any additional eligibility criteria by issuing a policy decision memorandum.

C.  Locations and Amounts.  The ASD (M&RA) will promulgate locations and specific amounts for HDP – L at the rates shown in Figure 17-1.

D.  Restrictions.  Service members performing duty temporarily in a designated area are not eligible for HDP – L during the first 30 days of consecutive duty in the area. On the 31st day, HDP – L is payable to the member retroactive to the date the member reported for duty at the location. The ASD (M&RA) will promulgate any additional restrictions for HDP – L.

E.  Termination.  HDP – L entitlement ends on:
1. The day the member departs the station as a result of Permanent Change of Station (PCS) reassignment; or
2. The last day of the effective period as stated in Figure 17-1; or
3. The day specified in Table 17-1 for specific situations.

HDP – Mission (HDP – M)

A. Purpose. HDP – M is designed to recognize permanent or temporary assignment of Service members when conditions are deemed particularly arduous or require Service members to perform duties outside of normal military operations.

B. Eligibility. Eligibility criteria will be established by the ASD (M&RA) for Service members permanently or temporarily assigned to a designated mission. A member assigned to, on TAD/TDY with, or otherwise under the operational control of the Defense Prisoner of War/Missing Personnel Office, the Joint Task Force-Full Accounting, or the Central Identification Lab-Hawaii, may qualify for HDP – M based on performance of a hardship mission. Eligible members are entitled to receive HDP – M for each month in which they perform investigative or remains recovery duty in a remote, isolated area (including, but not limited to, areas in Laos, Cambodia, Vietnam, and North Korea) in the recovery of U.S. Service member remains.

C. Maximum Amount. HDP – M is payable to all members at the rate of $150 per month. HDP – M is payable at the full monthly rate, without prorating or reduction, for each month, during any part of which, the member performs a specified mission.

HDP – Tempo (HDP – T)

A. Purpose. HDP – T is designed to recognize extended or excessive amounts of time outside of a Service member’s permanent duty station (PDS).

B. Eligibility. Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned will establish eligibility criteria based on Service-specific needs but will consider retention, quality of life, family separation, and other factors that contribute to a Service member’s dissatisfaction when spending extended or excessive amounts of time away from the Service member’s PDS.

C. Amount. Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned will establish monthly rates, but the maximum amount of HDP – T per month will not exceed $500. The Department of the Navy:

1. Received approval to pay Service members HDP – T at the monthly rate of $495 for Sailors and Marines deployed beyond the 220th day of a consecutive operational deployment. Sailors and Marines will receive prorated HDP – T based on the number of days in the month that they are eligible, subject to the provisions of Chapter 1, paragraph 010302;
2. May make payments for HDP – T commencing on September 17, 2014, but members who are on a qualifying operational deployment/mobilization on September 17, 2014 may count the consecutive number of days of deployment/mobilization prior to September 17, 2014 for the purpose of being eligible for the payment of HDP – T; and

D. Restrictions. The Secretary of the Military Departments concerned will prorate the monthly amount of HDP – T for a member who does not satisfy the eligibility requirements for an entire month.

NOTE: For periods of absence, consult with Service regulations to determine eligibility.

*170204. HDP – Restriction of Movement (HDP – ROM)

A. Purpose. HDP – ROM is designed for Service members ordered by their command to restriction of movement for self-monitoring due to exposure or suspected exposure to COVID-19.

B. Eligibility. Effective March 13, 2020, Service members ordered by their command:

1. To restriction of movement for self-monitoring due to exposure or suspected exposure to COVID-19; or

2. To restriction of movement due to travel to, from or through a Center for Disease Control and Prevention Level 3 Travel Health Notice country;

3. That are directed to do so at a facility that is neither provided by the U.S. Government nor is their personal residence at the member’s PDS; and

4. Are required to pay for the cost of their lodging without full or partial reimbursement.

C. Amount. HDP – ROM will be paid at the rate of $100 per day not to exceed $1,500 per month.

1703 RESTRICTIONS ON PAYMENT

170301. General Restrictions

When a member is in receipt of Hostile Fire Pay (HFP) or Imminent Danger Pay (IDP), then the maximum amount of HDP – L is $100. The total entitlement of HDP – L plus HFP or IDP in any 1 month may not exceed $325.
170302. Concurrent Payments

The combination of HDP – M, HDP – L, and HDP – T entitlements and other assignment and special duty pays may not exceed an average monthly amount of $3,500 unless otherwise authorized by ASD (M&RA).

NOTE: As of the March 13, 2020, memorandum from ASD (M&RA), HDP – ROM may be paid in addition to all other HDPs and assignment and special duty pays such that the total combined HDP and assignment and special duty pays may not exceed the average monthly amount of $5,000 as prescribed in 37 USC § 352(b)(2).

Notes 1 and 2

NOTES:

1. All members on qualifying duty at places within the listed country, state, or region are entitled to HDP – L. Only land areas are designated for hardship duty, except that any installations located on an ice shelf inside the Antarctic or Arctic Circle Regions are also included in the designation for that area.

2. The special pay is currently payable when ending date is not shown in “Through” column.

3. The HDP – L monthly entitlement decreases to a maximum payment of $100 when Service members are authorized a concurrent payment of $225 for HFP or IDP. See paragraph 170301.

4. When required to perform duties within the detention facility.

5. Includes Iraklion and Souda Bay.

6. Includes:

1. If already in a location when it is designated a hardship duty area, the day of designation starts pay for those on permanent duty. Absences from an HDP-L area of less than 24 hours do not break continuity. A member, on operational flight duty, TAD/TDY, or hospitalized in an area on the date it becomes designated for HDP – L, may count the number of consecutive days already served in that area immediately preceding the date of designation. Additionally, the member may count the number of consecutive days served in a different designated area or areas, if the member served in such area(s) immediately preceding arrival in the newly designated area. In any case, entitlement to payment for HDP – L cannot accrue for any area prior to the date it is designated.
2. Rule 3 applies when a medical evacuee has been reassigned on PCS from the designated area for medical treatment.
3. Any enroute TAD/TDY, travel time, or leave will accrue HDP-L at the PDS/prevailing area rate. HDP terminates if more than 30 days pass before a member (other than a member with accompanied status at an HDP – L PDS) reports for duty in another designated area.
4. If time from more than one designated area is combined to meet the 30 day qualifying criteria, pay the rate for the area at which the greatest time was earned during the first 30 days. After the first 30 days pay the applicable rate for the area in which duty is served, prorated if necessary.
5. Non-judicial punishment does not result in loss of HDP.

CHAPTER 18

SPECIAL PAY – CAREER SEA PAY (CSP)

1801 GENERAL

180101. Purpose

This chapter establishes policy pertaining to CSP and CSP-Premium (CSP-P).

*180102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), including Title 37. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

1802 PROVISIONS

180201. Entitlement

A member who is entitled to basic pay is entitled to CSP and CSP-P while serving on sea duty under regulations prescribed by the Office of the Secretary of Defense, Secretary of the Military Department concerned, and the provisions of this chapter.

180202. Definitions

A. CSP. CSP is special pay for recognition of the greater than normal rigors of assignment to sea duty.

B. CSP-P. CSP-P is special pay that is in addition to CSP and is paid for unusually long periods of continuous sea duty. A member entitled to CSP who has served 36 consecutive months of sea duty is also entitled to CSP-P for the 37th consecutive month and each subsequent consecutive month of sea duty served.

C. Sea Duty. Sea duty, for the purpose of entitlement to CSP and CSP-P, is duty performed by a member under orders:

1. While permanently assigned for duty to a ship, ship-based staff, or ship-based aviation unit and serving on a ship with a primary mission that is accomplished underway (includes ships designated as destroyers or submarine tenders). Periods when the member is on temporary duty (TDY), on leave, hospitalized, or otherwise temporarily absent under orders, not to exceed the first 30 consecutive days of each occurrence, are also counted;
2. While temporarily assigned for duty to a ship, ship-based staff, or ship-based aviation unit and serving on a ship with a primary mission that is accomplished underway (includes ships designated as destroyers or submarine tenders);

3. While permanently or temporarily assigned for duty to a ship or ship-based staff and serving on a ship with a primary mission that is accomplished in port, but only during that period while the ship is away from its homeport. A ship is considered to be away from its homeport whenever it is at sea or in a port that is more than 50 miles from its homeport; or

4. While serving as a member of the off-crew of a two-crewed vessel.

D. Cumulative Sea Duty (CSD). CSD is the total time a member has been assigned to qualifying sea duty during their service career, regardless of pay grade. Additionally, it will include all time during which a member is assigned to a ship or ship-based staff and actually served on a ship with a primary mission that is accomplished in port, regardless of whether the ship is at sea or away from homeport.

E. Ship. Ship, for the purpose of entitlement to CSP and CSP-P, means a self-propelled vessel in an active status, in commission, or in-service.

1803 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

180301. General Conditions

The general conditions of entitlement to CSP are listed in Table 18-1. Additionally, entitlement to and the rate of CSP is dependent upon the branch of service, pay grade, and total CSD applicable to the member. All members in pay grades E-1 through O-6 are eligible for payment of CSP, except commissioned officers of the Army and Air Force with 3 or less years of CSD and enlisted members of the Air Force in pay grades below E-4.

180302. CSP-P Conditions

The conditions of entitlement to CSP-P require the member to first be entitled to CSP. The CSP-P is in addition to CSP; however, for certain pay grades, it has been included in the CSP rate tables and is not payable as a separate item. When payable as a separate item, CSP-P accrues from the first day following the completion of the 36th month of consecutive sea duty and will be prorated if beginning on other than the first day of a calendar month.

Example: A member beginning a period of sea duty on January 15, 2011 would accrue CSP-P beginning January 15, 2014. The CSP-P is payable for the 37th and each subsequent consecutive month of sea duty regardless of the member’s pay grade when the sea duty began, provided the member is concurrently entitled to CSP.

A. The following members of the Navy and Marine Corps may become entitled to CSP-P as a separate item of pay:
1. All officers in pay grades O-1 through O-6;
2. All warrant officers;
3. All enlisted members in pay grades E-1 through E-4; and
4. All enlisted members in pay grades E-5 through E-9 with not over 8 years of CSD.

B. The following members of the Army may become entitled to CSP-P as a separate item of pay:

1. All officers in pay grades O-1 through O-6; and
2. All enlisted members in pay grades E-1 through E-3.

C. The following members of the Air Force may become entitled to CSP-P as a separate item of pay:

1. All officers in pay grades O-1 through O-6;
2. All enlisted members in pay grade E-4; and
3. All enlisted members in pay grades E-5 through E-9 with not over 5 years of CSD.

D. Members not addressed in subparagraphs 180302.A, B, and C have CSP-P already included in their applicable CSP rate table or are otherwise not eligible to receive a separate CSP-P payment.

1804 RATES PAYABLE

180401. CSP

The Secretary concerned will prescribe the monthly rates for special pay applicable to members of each Military Service under the Secretary’s jurisdiction. The monthly rate may not exceed $750.

A. The monthly rates of CSP for members of the Army are in Table 18-2.

B. The monthly rates of CSP and CSP-P (for E-5 through E-9 with over 8 years of CSD) for members of the Navy and Marine Corps are listed in Table 18-3.

C. The monthly rates of CSP for members of the Air Force are listed in Table 18-4.
180402. CSP-P

The Secretary concerned will prescribe the monthly rate for CSP-P applicable to members of each Military Service under the Secretary’s jurisdiction. The monthly rate may not exceed $350.

1805 RESTRICTIONS

180501. Enroute and Transport Restrictions

Do not credit time for sea duty and do not pay CSP or CSP-P to members enroute to or from ships outside the Continental United States or onboard a ship for transportation, regardless of the length of the period. This restriction applies to the periods prior to a member reporting for permanent duty and after being permanently detached from duty onboard a ship.

180502. Midshipmen and Cadet Members

Do not credit time for sea duty and do not pay CSP or CSP-P to midshipmen, aviation cadets, or academy cadets.

180503. Navy and Marine Corps Members

Do not pay CSP-P to Navy and Marine Corps members entitled to CSP in Table 18-3 for duty if in pay grades E-5 through E-9 with over 8 years of CSD.

180504. Army Members

Do not pay CSP-P to Army members entitled to CSP in Table 18-2 for duty:

A. Between October 1, 2002 and June 30, 2003 if in pay grades E-5 through E-9; or

B. On or after July 1, 2003 if in pay grades E-4 through E-9 or W-1 through W-5.

180505. Air Force Members

Do not pay CSP-P to Air Force members entitled to CSP in Table 18-4 for duty if in pay grades E-5 through E-9 with over 5 years of CSD.

NOTES:
1. “Temporarily based ashore” refers to a ship-based aviation unit or ship-based staff that has landed ashore with intent to return to a ship.
2. Entitlement terminates when the ship returns to the homeport.
3. Further TAD/TDY ashore from ship will not interrupt CSP entitlement for the first 30 days member is in such status, provided member is otherwise entitled and returns to the ship.
4. Where sentence is changed to restriction to ship and member performs duty, CSP is resumed. Nonjudicial punishment does not result in loss of CSP.
5. Entitlement accrues only when the ship is away from the homeport.
6. Chief of Naval Operations Instruction (OPNAVINST) 4700.8K series defines ship status assignments for U.S. Naval ships.

CHAPTER 19
FOREIGN LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY BONUS

1901 GENERAL

190101. Purpose

This chapter establishes policy pertaining to Foreign Language Proficiency Bonus (FLPB) for members of an Active Component (AC) or Reserve Component (RC) of the uniformed services.

190102. Authoritative Guidance

The authoritative references are listed at the end of this chapter.

1902 ENTITLEMENT

190201. General Provisions

A. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will pay FLPB to a member of an AC or RC, that has been certified as proficient in one or more foreign languages, or dialects identified on the Department of Defense (DoD) Strategic Language List (SLL) in the Immediate and Emerging Payment (see the FLPB Installment Rates table, Payment Category A).

B. The Secretary may pay FLPB to a member of an AC or RC of the uniformed services who has been certified as proficient in one or more foreign languages or dialects:

1. Identified on the DoD or Service Secretary SLL in the Enduring category (Service Secretaries may choose to pay or not pay FLPB, see the FLPB Installment Rates table, Payment Category B); or

2. Not identified on the DoD SLL, but designated by the Secretary concerned as a foreign language or dialect for which proficient personnel are required to accomplish DoD Component specific missions (see the FLPB Installment Rates table, Payment Category B).

C. The Secretary may not vary the criteria or rates for the proficiency bonus paid to officers and enlisted members.

Note: FLPB Installment Rates are set pursuant to DoD Instruction (DoDI) 1340.27.
190202. AC Eligibility

A. The Secretary concerned may pay FLPB to a member of an AC of the uniformed services who meets at least one of the following conditions:

1. Is qualified in a military career specialty requiring proficiency in a foreign language or dialect and is certified proficient in that foreign language or dialect;

2. Has received training, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary, designed to develop proficiency in a foreign language or dialect;

3. Is assigned to military duties requiring a proficiency in a foreign language or dialect for which the DoD or the Secretary concerned has identified a need; or

4. Is certified proficient in a foreign language or dialect in accordance with paragraph 190204 for which the DoD or the Secretary has identified a critical need.

B. The member must execute a written agreement with the Secretary concerned that specifies the:

1. Amount of FLPB awarded;

2. Period for which the FLPB will be paid;

3. Initial certification or recertification necessary for the FLPB payment; and

4. Repayment provision of the unearned portion of any remaining FLPB if the member does not satisfy the eligibility and certification requirements for the length of the written agreement.

C. The member must achieve a minimum of Interagency Language Roundtable (ILR) skill level 2/2 (ILR skill level 1/1 if authorized by the Secretary concerned) or higher in any two modalities on a DoD or Service Secretary SLL, Service-approved foreign language or dialect in order to receive FLPB, except as outlined in paragraphs 190206 and 190207.

190203. RC Eligibility

A. In order to receive FLPB in a similar fashion as a member of the AC, a member of the RC must:

1. Meet the eligibility certification requirements outlined in paragraph 190202, 190204, 190206, and 190207; and
2. Fulfill the minimum annual service requirements for retirement eligibility, as defined in Title 10, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 12732 unless waived by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

   B. An RC member must earn a minimum of 50 retirement points, regardless of the RC source, in each full anniversary year to have that year count as creditable towards verification of the total years of qualifying service for non-regular retired pay and payment of FLPB.

   1. A partial qualifying year is any period of less than 12 full months during which the RC member earns a prorated share of 50 retirement points and an identical prorated share (or smaller percentage of full FLPB annual payment) of FLPB.

   2. An RC member who performs a partial qualifying year of less than 12 full months and earns less than 50 retirement points in a year will have their FLPB prorated at a value of 2 percent for each retirement point less than 50 points.

   C. The total of FLPB paid to an RC member in good standing, and who has not been adjudicated as an unsatisfactory performer in the previous 12 months, must equal the annual FLPB paid to an AC member with the same certified language proficiency.

   D. For RC members, the requirement to attain 50 points during a separation year is waived for FLPB calculation if the member separates before 12 months in the anniversary year. The RC member will be paid the standard FLPB monthly allotment for months in good standing, with the last month prorated if separation occurs before the last day of the month. RC members in a separation year, which are no longer in good standing, will have their FLPB terminated in the month in which they are determined to be no longer “in good standing.” The exception to the 50-point standard in a separation year is an RC member who serves the entire anniversary year. The individual must earn 50 points to collect the last month of FLPB prior to separation.

190204. Certification

   A. A member must be eligible and certified by the Secretary concerned as being proficient in a foreign language or dialect for which the bonus is offered.

   B. The certification of a member’s foreign language or dialect proficiency will expire at the end of the 1-year period beginning on the first day of the first month after the certification date. A member must test annually in each foreign language or dialect in order to continue receiving FLPB, unless recertified under the conditions stipulated in paragraphs 190206 and 190207. The Secretary concerned may retest a member no earlier than 6 months from the last administration of a test in that foreign language or dialect unless the member has completed a significant language education or training event (at least 150 hours of immersion training or 6 consecutive weeks of 5-hour-a-day classroom training) in that foreign language or dialect.
C. A member must be certified as proficient in any combination of two of the three modalities (reading (R), listening (L), and speaking (S)) to receive FLPB, except as referred to in the FLPB Installment Rates table, Note 2.

190205. Amount and Method of Payment

A. The bonus rate of FLPB may not exceed $12,000 per 1-year certification period. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay a bonus in monthly installments or a lump sum during the certification period.

B. The monthly rate will not exceed $500 per month for a single foreign language or dialect, or $1,000 per month for two or more foreign languages or dialects. The total annual FLPB amount may not exceed $12,000 for each 1-year period of certification.

C. To receive the maximum monthly bonus installment allowed in any payment category (A or B), a member must acquire 3/3/3 proficiency in all three modalities or achieve an ILR skill level 4/4 or above in any two modalities (see the FLPB Installment Rates table).

D. The Secretary concerned:

1. May authorize FLPB at either Payment A or B rates (see the FLPB Installment Rates table) for DoD-approved languages not on the SLL and where there is a need to ensure a sufficient number of proficient personnel to accomplish DoD Component specific missions;

2. May, in the case of foreign languages considered prevalent in the Service, limit the payment of FLPB to those Service members whose duties require proficiency in such languages or as determined by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; or

3. May authorize the payment of FLPB to Service members whose duties require an ILR skill below level 2 in the L, R, or S modalities.

Note: Hospitalized members may be entitled to FLPB under the Pay and Allowance Continuation (PAC) Program. See Chapter 13 for PAC entitlement eligibility.

190206. Waiver of Recertification of Proficiency

A. The Secretary concerned may waive the certification requirement and pay FLPB to a member who:

1. Is assigned to duty in connection with a contingency operation;

2. Is unable to schedule or complete the test for certification because of that assignment; and
3. Except for the lack of such certification, satisfies the eligibility requirements cited in paragraphs 190202 or 190203.

B. The Secretary may treat the date the member was assigned to duty in connection with a contingency operation as equivalent to a certification date.

C. When a member whose certification will expire during a contingency operation assignment or within 6 months following return to the continental United States or to an overseas permanent duty station, the Secretary concerned will authorize the Service member those 6 months after returning as a mandatory grace period to recertify for FLPB.

D. If a member fails to obtain the required certification by the end of the 6-month period, then the Secretary may require the Service member to repay all or a portion of the FLPB received in accordance with paragraph 190303.

E. The Secretary may waive the annual certification in subparagraph 190204.B and the duration of certification requirements in paragraphs 190206 and 190207, if the Service FLPB regulation addresses the specific circumstances under which the Service Secretary may waive either or both of these certification requirements.

190207. Exceptions to Recertification

The Secretary concerned may elect to recertify a member’s foreign language or dialect proficiency using their last recorded DoD Language Proficiency Test (DLPT) scores when:

A. A member is assigned to duty outside the continental United States (excluding Alaska and Hawaii) at a location where web-delivered testing facilities are not available or accessible. In such cases, the member may complete the recertification requirements provided in paragraph 190204, no later than 6 months after the date released from the duty assignment. The Secretary is responsible for determining which locations qualify for this recertification and the duration (not to exceed 6 months) of the Service recertification grace period;

B. A member’s certification expires while attending a significant language education or training event (at least 150 hours of immersion training or 6 consecutive weeks of 5-hour-a-day classroom training) or other significant events as defined by the Secretaries of the Military Departments, Defense Agencies, and DoD Field Activities heads. The next 1-year certification period will begin when they retest after they complete the significant language education or training event. The member’s FLPB will continue while in training up until completion of the course retest event. Further FLPB entitlement will be based on the results from that event; or

C. A member who initially certifies or recertifies proficient through the DLPT system, at or above ILR skill levels 3/3 or 3/3/3 in a foreign language or dialect, must take an approved test within the DLPT system no less frequently than every 2 years for recertification, in which case recertification in the off year may be accomplished using a method selected by the Secretary of the Military Department.
1903 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

190301. Requirements

A member must qualify under any additional eligibility requirements prescribed by the Secretaries concerned, and is subject to Service specific certification requirements and amount of payment restrictions as outlined in:

A. DoD: DoDI 1340.27, Military Foreign Language Skill Proficiency Bonuses and DoDI 5160.71, DoD Language Testing Program;

B. Army: Army Regulation 11-6;

C. Navy: Chief of Naval Operations Instruction 7220.7H;

D. Air Force: Air Force Instruction (AFI) 36-2605, Attachment 10 and 14, and AFI 36-4002; or

E. Marine Corps: Marine Corps Order 7220.52F.

NOTE: Pay authorizing officials must access the current DoD SLL and the Component’s unique foreign language bonus pay authorizations, additional eligibility rules, and certification requirements in order to ensure the correct FLPB payment is authorized.

190302. Tax

FLPB is an item of pay subject to federal withholding tax. It is not subject to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act tax.

190303. Repayment

A member, who receives FLPB but does not satisfy eligibility and certification requirements specified in section 1902, may be subject to repayment in accordance with Chapter 2.

190304. Relationship to Other Pay and Allowances

A member may not be paid more than one Skill Incentive Pay or Proficiency Bonus in any month for the same period of service and skill. A member may be paid skill incentive pay or the proficiency bonus, in addition to any other pay and allowances to which the member is entitled, except that a member may not be paid skill incentive pay or a proficiency bonus and hazardous duty pay, in accordance with Chapter 24, for the same period of service in the same career field or skill.
*190305. Duration of Authority

Unless authorized by Congress, no FLPB agreement may be entered into after the date on the Duration of Authority table.

CHAPTER 20

AVIATION BONUS (AvB)

2001 GENERAL

200101. Purpose

The Secretaries of the Military Departments may offer an Aviation Bonus (AvB) to increase their respective Department’s ability to attract and retain officers in a military aviation career. An AvB paid to an eligible officer is in addition to any other pay and allowance to which the officer is entitled, except that an officer may not receive a payment for the same skill and period of service.

*200102. Authoritative Guidance

The AvB policies and requirements established by the Department of Defense (DoD) in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 334. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

*2002 DURATION OF AUTHORITY

An AvB may not be paid to any officer after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the entitlement to the AvB commenced prior to that date.

2003 ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

200301. General

The Military Departments may offer an AvB on a selective basis when there is a shortage or a projected shortage of Regular or Reserve Component (RC) officers qualified in critical aviation specialties. AvBs will be limited to those periods in an officer’s aviation career in which AvBs can be expected to affect retention trends for the Military Service concerned.

200302. Qualifications

To qualify for an AvB, an officer, on active duty (AD) or in an active status, must:

A. Be eligible for Aviation Incentive Pay at the time of incurring the initial AvB contractual obligation;

B. Be in a pay grade of O-5 or below at the time of incurring the initial AvB contractual obligation;
C. Serve in an aviation specialty or skill designated as critical by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

D. Have completed or is within one year of completing any service obligation incurred for undergraduate aviator training. In accordance with 10 U.S.C. § 653, the minimum service obligation of any Service member who successfully completes training in the Armed Forces as a pilot is 8 years if the member is trained to fly fixed-wing jet aircraft, or 6 years if the member is trained to fly any other type of aircraft;

E. Execute a written agreement to remain on AD in the Regular Component or to serve in an active status in the selected reserve for at least one year; and

F. Meet such other additional criteria as the Secretary of the Military Department concerned may prescribe.

2004 PAYMENT METHODS AND AMOUNTS

200401. Payment Method

The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may pay an AvB to Regular or RC officers of a Uniformed Service who meet the qualification criteria in paragraph 200302 in a lump sum or in periodic installments, as determined by the Secretary concerned.

200402. Amounts

The AvB amount, covered by the written agreement, described in paragraph 200501, between the Regular or RC officer and the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, for each 12-month period of obligated service specified in 37 U.S.C. § 334(c)(1)(B), will not exceed the following, unless otherwise updated by the Assistant Secretary of Defense (ASD) (Manpower and Reserve Affairs (M&RA)):

A. $35,000 per year for Regular Component officers or RC Active Guard and Reserve officers performing qualified flying duty;

B. $35,000 per year for Regular Component officers or RC Active Guard and Reserve officers performing qualified flying duty related to Unmanned Aerial System (UAS) operators; or

C. $18,000 per year for all other RC officers performing qualified duty, to include UAS operators.

Note: The ASD (M&RA) may update the AvB amounts, in accordance with the DoD Instruction (DoDI) 7730.67, October 20, 2016, paragraph 2.1.b.
200403. Relationship to Other Pay and Allowances

Aviation pays and bonuses paid in accordance with DoDI 7730.67 will be in addition to any other pay or allowances to which the member is entitled, except as specified in the limitations and restrictions in DoDI 7730.67, paragraph 3.1.b.

2005 TERMS AND CONDITIONS

200501. Written Agreements

A. To receive an AvB, an officer must execute a written agreement with the Secretary of the Military Department concerned that specifies the amount of the AvB, the method of payment (lump sum or periodic installments), the period of obligated service (at least 1 year), and the type or conditions of service. No agreement may be executed that would take an officer beyond 25 Years of Aviation Service.

B. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will not exceed the AvB amount covered by the written agreement for any 12-month period of obligated service specified in paragraph 200402 or 37 U.S.C. § 334(c).

C. Bonus agreements awarded under 37 U.S.C. § 301b, that were approved before October 1, 2017, will remain in effect, and payments may continue through the agreed-upon date in the written agreement.

200502. Acceptance

Upon acceptance of the written AvB agreement by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, the period of obligated service and the total amount of AvB the Department will pay pursuant to the agreement will be fixed, unless otherwise renegotiated for a higher bonus amount in return for additional obligated service.

200503. Death of a Member

If a member dies before receiving the full amount of the bonus due (including contracted future year anniversary payments) and death is not caused by the member’s misconduct, the remaining unpaid bonus balance is payable as a lump sum for inclusion in the settlement of the deceased member’s final military pay account. If death is determined to be the result of the member’s own misconduct, termination of future payments and proration or repayment of the bonus, as applicable, must be made in accordance with procedures established by the Military Department concerned.

2006 REPAYMENT

An officer, who fails to fulfill the service conditions specified in the written agreement for the retention bonus, will be subject to the repayment provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373 and Chapter 2.

CHAPTER 22

AVIATION INCENTIVE PAYS

2201  GENERAL

220101. Purpose

The purpose of this chapter is to describe the policies for Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP), Aviation Incentive Pay (AvIP), and Critical Skill Incentive Pay (CSIP).

Note: Aviation Career Incentive Pay (ACIP) and Career Enlisted Flyers Incentive Pay in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), sections 301a, 301b, and 320, were discontinued after October 1, 2017.

220102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with 37 U.S.C. §§ 334(a) and 351(a)(2). Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

2202  HDIP FOR FLYING DUTY

The Secretary concerned may pay HDIP to Service members required by competent orders to participate in frequent and regular aerial flights as an aircrew member or to non-aircrew members who otherwise meet the requirements for flying duty.

220201. Eligibility

To be eligible for flying duty HDIP, a Service member must be required by competent orders to participate frequently and regularly in sustained, powered, controlled aerial flights, and generally must complete 4 hours (or 2 hours for reserve component (RC) Service members) of aerial flights each month. Hours that are flown in excess of this requirement may be credited against this requirement for up to 5 subsequent, consecutive months. Additionally, a Service member who has a shortage of flying hours after crediting these excess hours may, under certain conditions established by the Military Departments, enter a 3-month grace period wherein hours flown in future months may be retroactively applied to earlier monthly requirements.

220202. Limitations and Restrictions

A. Officers, including aviation cadets entitled to AvIP under section 2203, are not entitled to payments under this section for the same period of service.

B. Enlisted members receiving CSIP under section 2205 are not entitled to payments under this section for the same period of service.
C. Service members may not receive incentive payments pursuant to 37 U.S.C. §§ 301, and 351, for the same period of service.

D. An officer receiving an incentive pay pursuant to 37 U.S.C. §§ 301a or 334, may not receive HDIP pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 351(a)(2) for the same skill and period of service.

E. After January 27, 2018, the Military Departments may not pay HDIP under 37 U.S.C. Chapter 5, Subchapter I.

F. Service members receiving a skill incentive pay pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 353(a), may not receive HDIP pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 351(a)(2), for the same period of service in the same career field or skill for which the payment is paid.

G. Service members must be on competent orders to serve in the area or to perform the hazardous duty to qualify for an incentive.

H. To be eligible for select HDIP payments, a Service member must be in training, have successfully completed the qualifying training and technical qualification, or meet qualification requirements for the performance of the hazardous duty.

I. Although a Service member may perform more than three hazardous duties in a month, a Service member may not receive simultaneous payments for more than three HDIP duties in a month.

220203. Definitions

A. Aerial Flights. Aerial flights are flights in military aircraft or spacecraft, and also flights in nonmilitary aircraft when Service members are required by competent orders to fly in such aircraft. A flight begins when the aircraft or spacecraft takes off from rest at any point of support located on the surface of the earth and terminates when it next comes to a complete stop at a point of support located on the surface of the earth.

B. Aviation Accident. Aviation accident is an accident in which a Service member, who is required to participate frequently or regularly in aerial flights, is injured or otherwise incapacitated as the result. The injury or incapacitation, as certified by the appropriate medical authority of the Uniformed Service concerned, may result from:

1. Jumping from, being thrown from, or being struck by an aircraft or spacecraft, or any part or auxiliary thereof; or

2. Participation in any duly authorized aerial flight or other aircraft or spacecraft operations. This term also means an incapacity incurred as the result, as certified by appropriate medical authority, of performance of flying duty, even though such incapacity is not the result of an actual aviation accident.
220204. Flight Requirements

A. Minimum Flying Time Each Month

1. During 1 calendar month, 4 hours of aerial flight are required. If a Service member does not fly 4 hours in any month, any hours flown during the last 5 preceding months (which have not already been used to qualify for flight pay) may be applied to meet this 4-hour requirement.

2. During 2 consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subparagraph 220204.A.1, have not been met, 8 hours of aerial flight are required.

3. During 3 consecutive calendar months when the requirements of subparagraph 220204.A.2, have not been met, 12 hours of aerial flight are required.

B. Fractions of a Calendar Month. For fractions of a calendar month, calculate the percentage that the period in question is of the calendar month. The flying time required is that same percentage of the aerial flight time required for a full calendar month (see Table 22-1).

C. Fractions of 2 Consecutive Calendar Months. For fractions of 2 consecutive calendar months, consider the whole period in question. Calculate the percentage that the period in question is of the calendar month. The flying time required is that same percentage of the aerial flight time required for a full calendar month (see Table 22-1).

D. Application of Hours Flown. To the extent of hours available, hours flown in any month apply as follows:

1. First, to meet flight requirements for that month;

2. Next, if the Service member has entered a grace period for meeting flight requirements, to the prior month or months, as applicable; and

3. Next, in order, to the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth succeeding months, but only to the extent that the Service member fails, during each month, to fly the required 4 hours. (Hours available to meet requirements of later months are referred to as “excess” flight time.) See examples in Tables 22-2 and 22-3.

E. Military Operations or Unavailability of Aircraft. When under authority conferred by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, the commanding officer certifies that a Service member is unable to meet normal flight requirements due to military operations (combat or otherwise), or the non-availability of aircraft in order to complete those requirements. The Service member may, however, comply with the minimum flight requirements by performing 24 hours of aerial flight over a period of 6 consecutive calendar months. The commanding officer will certify that only those conditions specified in this subparagraph prevented completion of normal flight requirements. The 24-hour flight requirement may be met at any time during the 6-calendar-month period and in any combination of flights.
1. If the Service member is in a 3-calendar-month grace period when military operations or aircraft non-availability prevents fulfillment of flight requirements, the 6-calendar-month period for meeting the 24-hour flight requirement under this subparagraph begins on the first day of the grace period.

2. If the Service member is not in a 3-calendar-month grace period, the first month in which military operations or aircraft non-availability prevents fulfillment of flight requirements is the beginning of the 6-calendar-month period for meeting the 24-hour flight requirement under this subparagraph.

3. During the 6-calendar-month period, HDIP for flying may be paid for any single month, or for multiple months, when minimum requirements have been met.

4. At the end of the 6-calendar-month period, HDIP for flying may be paid for missed months in the period to the extent that the remaining hours flown are applicable. Excess hours are applied prospectively under subparagraph 220204.D if the Service member continues to fly under the same orders.

NOTE: For RC officers not on active duty for a period of more than 30 consecutive days, the requirement is half of the requirements contained in paragraph 220204.

220205. Determination of a 3-Calendar-Month Period

A. When 3-Month Period Starts and Ends. The 3-calendar-month period in which flight requirements must be met begins with the first month in which flight requirements are not met. If the Service member flies enough time in the second month to cover the first and second months, the period ends with the second month. If not, the period extends through the third month.

B. Deficiencies for a Fraction of a Month. If a Service member fails to qualify for a fraction of a month (because flying status or active duty began on an intermediate day of the month), the 3-month period ends on the last day of the second full month following the fractional month.

C. When Next 3-Month Period Starts

1. A new 3-month period starts with the first month in which flight requirements are not met following a month in which flight requirements were met.

2. For a new 3-month period to begin immediately after a prior 3-month period, flight requirements must have been met for the entire prior 3-month period, not merely for the last month.

3. If the requirements for the entire prior 3-month period were not met, a new period does not begin until flight requirements are met for at least 1 month after the prior 3-month period.
4. After a month when flight requirements are met, any month in which flight requirements are not met begins a new 3-month period. A new period may not start with the second or third month in which flight requirements are not met; nor may a new period start with the fourth month in which flight requirements are not met. There must be at least 1 month in which requirements are met before a new 3-month period begins. See Tables 22-2 and 22-3 for application of the rules listed in paragraph 220205.

220206. Entitlement to Pay When No Flights are Performed in the First Month of a 3-Month Period

Assume, for the purposes of this paragraph, that the Service member had no excess flight time from prior months.

A. Second Month. If a Service member performs no aerial flights during the first month of a 3-month period and, in the second month, performs at least 4 hours but less than 8 hours, he or she is entitled to pay only for the second month. For example: In January, no aerial flights are performed; in February, 5 hours of aerial flight are performed. Flight pay is payable only for February.

B. Third Month. If a Service member performs no aerial flights during the first 2 months of a 3-month period, he or she must perform 12 hours of aerial flight in the third month to be entitled to incentive pay for all 3 consecutive months. For example: If flight requirements are met for January and a Service member performs no flights during the months of February and March, he or she must perform at least 12 hours in April to be entitled to receive the incentive pay for the period February 1 to April 30. If the Service member performs 4 or more hours, but less than 12 hours in April, he or she is entitled to receive only incentive pay for April.

C. First and Third Months. If a Service member does not perform aerial flights during the first month and in the second month performs only sufficient flights to qualify for the second month, he or she must perform enough hours of flight during the third month to total 12 hours in order to qualify for the incentive pay for the first and third months of the 3-month period.

Example: In January, no aerial flights are performed; in February, 5 hours of aerial flight are performed. The deficiency in January must be made up in March. If at least 7 hours are accomplished in March, flight pay for January and March is payable. If only 6 hours are flown in March, flight pay is payable only for March (the payment for February previously having been made) and incentive pay for January is lost.

220207. Injury or Incapacity Resulting From Performance of Hazardous Duty

Service members qualified for HDIP, who are temporarily unable to perform a hazardous duty due to an injury or illness that is not the result of the Service member’s own misconduct, may continue to receive HDIP for up to 6 months.
A. On a case-by-case basis, the Secretary concerned, or designee, may authorize an extension of HDIP payments for up to an additional 6-months, based on the recommendation of the appropriate medical authority. Under no circumstance will HDIP payments continue beyond 12 months from the date of injury or illness.

B. HDIP will be terminated for Service members permanently disqualified or otherwise determined to be no longer eligible to perform hazardous duty by a competent medical authority.

C. Service members reassigned to a new duty assignment or specialty not eligible for HDIP will have their HDIP payments terminated on the date of reassignment or reclassification.

D. If the injury or illness occurred while serving in a combat zone, hostile fire area, or imminent danger area, the Service member may continue to receive HDIP during the Service member’s hospitalization and rehabilitation. See Chapter 13.

220208. Incapacity Not the Result of Performance of Hazardous Duty

The right of a Service member on flying status to flight pay during an incapacity, which is not the result of performing hazardous duty, depends on fulfillment of flight requirements under paragraph 220204.

220209. Right to Flight Pay Under Certain Conditions

See Table 22-4.

220210. Determinations Affecting Entitlement to Flight Pay

A. Flight Pay From Date of Reporting for Duty. A Service member is entitled to flight pay on and after the date that he or she reports for and enters on duty under competent orders, subject to meeting flight requirements. A Service member in a non-duty status (such as on leave or sick) at the time that flying status orders are issued is not entitled to flight pay for any period before he or she reports for and enters on duty under such orders.

B. Excess Flight Time. When authorized under paragraph 220205, flight time in excess of the time required or insufficient to qualify for a particular month may be applied to a later month in which minimum requirements are not met, provided that the orders under which flying time was logged remain in effect.

C. Change of Designation, Non-Crewmember to Crewmember or Vice Versa. A Service member whose status changes from non-crewmember to crewmember (or vice versa) within a month or other qualifying period may not combine time flown in both categories for pay purposes. The Service member is entitled to flight pay, as a non-crewmember for the period of time Service member held that status, if he or she met the pro rata requirements as a noncrewmember. The Service member is entitled to flight pay as a crewmember, for the period of time he or she held that status, if he or she met the pro rata requirements as a crewmember.

D. Change From One Crewmember Status to Another Crewmember Status. Flights as one type of crewmember may be combined with flights as another type of crewmember if the Service member remains on continuous active duty and continuous flying status. Total requirements may be met in either crewmember status or a portion may be met in each status.

Example: An aviation cadet is given a rating as a navigator and issued new flying status orders immediately following termination of Service member's former orders.

E. Missing or Missing-in-Action

1. A Service member assigned to flying duty, who is declared missing by competent authority, is entitled to HDIP during the entire period of absence, and is entitled to HDIP for hospitalization and rehabilitation after termination of missing status, for an additional period, not to exceed one year.

2. Upon return from a missing status and completion of any required period of hospitalization and rehabilitation (not to exceed 1 year), entitlement to HDIP for flying duty will be contingent on a determination of continued eligibility under paragraph 220201 and the applicable flight requirement provisions of paragraph 220204.

3. A new 3-month grace period does not start when the missing status and hospitalization ends. The new 3-month grace period starts with the first month of deficiency, after entering a missing status.

4. If the missing status and hospitalization goes beyond the 6-month grace period, the Service member must meet flight requirements for at least 1 month to become entitled to flight pay again.

5. If the Service member does not meet flight requirements upon the completion of an authorized missing and hospitalization period, he or she is entitled to pro rata HDIP for flying duty through the date of such authorized period.

F. Death

1. Death Due to Aviation Accident. If death occurs on the date of an aviation accident, flight pay accrues to include the date of death. If, however, death occurs after the 3-month period has expired, flight pay is not authorized for any day after the expiration of that period. Flight pay for the month or period before the month in which the accident occurred is not authorized unless flight requirements were met for that period.

2. Death Due to Other Causes. If death occurs from causes other than an aviation accident, flight pay is payable to and including the date of death if the Service member has met pro rata flight requirements for the month of death and was on flying status.

220211. Suspensions From Flying Status, Effect on Flight Pay

A. Flight Pay for a Period of Suspension. Except under subparagraphs 220211.B and C, Service members are not entitled to flight pay for any period while suspended from flying status. Service members are considered suspended on the effective date of suspension. Service members are considered to be in a flying status on the day that the suspension is removed or terminated. Payment for a period of suspension cannot be made in any case until the suspension has been removed or terminated.

B. Suspension for Other Than Physical Incapacity for Service Members Required to Perform Minimum Flight Requirements. Service members are entitled to flight pay for a period of suspension from flying status, provided the suspension is removed or terminated and they meet flight requirements as prescribed in paragraph 220204. If the Service member has excess flights performed before suspension, the grace period specified in paragraph 220204 begins on the first month of the period of suspension not covered by excess flights.

Example: A Service member was suspended from flying status on February 1. He had 16 hours excess flying time as of January 31. Flight pay is stopped on January 31. The suspension subsequently is removed (or terminated) on June 30. He flew 12 hours in the month of July. After removal of the suspension, pay flight pay for February 1 through May 31 on the basis of the 16 excess hours accumulated in the 5 months before February 1. The grace period, authorized as stated in paragraph 220204, started on June 1. The hours that were flown in July qualify the Service member for flight pay for June and July.

C. Suspension for Physical Incapacity of Service Members Subject to Minimum Flight Requirements. A Service member is entitled to flight pay during a period of grounding due to physical incapacity if he or she meets the flight requirements stated in paragraph 220204. The Service member also is entitled to flight pay during a period of suspension, if the suspension is removed or terminated and flight requirements are actually met. There are no flight requirements during the first 3 months of a period of incapacity incurred as the result of performance of an assigned hazardous duty. See paragraph 220207.

D. Suspension Removed or Terminated. If a suspension is removed or terminated after the Service member can no longer qualify for flight pay under subparagraphs 220211.B or C, there is loss of pay for any period that is not covered by paragraph 220204. Flight pay accrues after the suspension is removed or terminated for Service members required to meet minimum flight requirements from the date of reporting for flying duty after the suspension is removed or terminated, if flight requirements are met.

220212. Payment of Flight Pay and Incentive Pay for Other Hazardous Duty

A Service member who qualifies for flight pay and incentive pay for one or more other types of hazardous duty may receive the flight pay and incentive pay only for two other hazardous duties for the same period. Dual HDIP is limited to those Service members required by orders to perform specific multiple hazardous duties necessary for successful accomplishment of the mission of the unit to which assigned.

A. Conditions of Entitlement. The hazardous duties for which dual incentive pay is payable must be an integral part of the Service member's assigned mission. Accomplishment of the assigned mission must require the Service member to perform specific multiple hazardous duties. A Service member must meet minimum requirements for each of the hazardous duties, except for injury or illness.

B. Types of Duties That Qualify Service Member for Dual Payment of HDIP. See Chapter 24, subparagraph 240204.A.

1. Air Force pararescue team Service members placed on orders to perform duties as both crewmembers and parachutists.

2. Other combinations of hazardous duties for which dual payments of incentive pay are authorized by the Military Services concerned.

C. Injury or Incapacity as a Result of Performance of Hazardous Duty or Dual Hazardous Duties. If a Service member, who is required to perform more than one hazardous duty, becomes injured or otherwise incapacitated as a result of any of the duties, he or she is entitled to dual incentive pay during the incapacity, but for no longer than 6 months. If not entitled to dual incentive pay at the time of the incapacity, the Service member is entitled to the type of incentive pay that he or she was receiving at the time of the incapacity. The beginning date of the 6-month period will be determined separately for each type of incentive pay. See paragraph 220207, to determine the 6-month period separately for each type of incentive pay.

Authority to Issue Orders

Authority to issue orders requiring the performance of flying duty, granting waivers of performance requirements, or extending time periods during which requirements may be met is delegated by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned to specific commanders within each Military Service. Such delegations are contained in the personnel administrative regulations of the respective Military Services.

Monthly Rates

For the most current rates, see the HDIP for Flying table on dfas.mil.

A. HDIP for aircrew members may not exceed $250 per month.

B. HDIP for non-aircrew members is $150 per month
C. Service members who otherwise meet the eligibility criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month of flying duty, will receive a prorated HDIP payment as follows:

1. Prorating the monthly HDIP is required for Service members who fail to satisfy the eligibility requirements for the pay for the entire month. The amount of HDIP authorized for qualifying service during a day or portion of a day will be the amount equal to 1/30th of the monthly amount of HDIP payable to a Service member.

2. Service members are first entitled to HDIP on the date they report for, and begin performing, an eligible duty in compliance with competent orders. HDIP ends on the effective date published in orders for termination of such duty or the date the Service member is detached from and is no longer required to perform the hazardous duty, whichever occurs first.

   a. When a Service member begins hazardous duty on a date other than the first day of a month, or terminates that duty prior to the last day of a month and otherwise meets the requirements of the pay for the month, the Service member is entitled to a prorated portion of HDIP for the month.

   b. The prorated monthly amount is calculated using the daily rate to reflect the duration of the Service member’s actual qualifying service during the month.

220215. Repayment

An officer or enlisted member who fails to fulfill the eligibility requirements of this issuance or other conditions of service specified by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, will be subject to repayment consistent with 37 U.S.C. § 373, and Chapter 2.

220216. Duration of Authority

HDIP may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the person’s entitlement commenced prior to that date.

2203 AvIP FOR AVIATORS IN OPERATIONAL FLYING DUTY (OFD) OR PROFICIENCY FLYING DUTY (PFD) POSITIONS

220301. General

The Secretaries of the Military Departments may offer AvIP(s) under 37 U.S.C. § 334(a) to increase their respective Department’s ability to retain officers in a military aviation career and support the recruiting and retention of individuals with military aeronautical ratings or designations.
220302. Eligibility

The Secretary concerned may pay AvIP to aviation officers performing in OFD or PFD positions. AvIP may only be paid to an officer who:

A. Is entitled to basic pay pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 204 or to compensation under 37 U.S.C. § 206;

B. Maintains, or is in training to receive, an aeronautical rating or designation that qualifies the officer for OFD or PFD;

C. Engages in, or is in training to receive, frequent and regular performance of OFD or PFD;

D. Engages in or remains in aviation service for a specified period of time;

E. Achieves the minimum flight requirements of 4 hours during 1 calendar month or 24 hours during 6 consecutive months (the minimum flight hour requirement for RC officers not on active duty for a period of more than 30 consecutive days is 2 hours during 1 calendar month or 12 hours during 6 consecutive months). A certified flight simulator may be used to meet this requirement. The Secretary concerned may waive the minimum flight requirements:

1. For officers (except flight surgeons or medical officers) who meet the AvIP eligibility requirements in paragraph 220302 while assigned to OFD or PFD positions; or

2. In extreme circumstances (e.g., military operations (combat or otherwise) or non-availability of aircraft), when the Secretary concerned may authorize a commanding officer to certify that an officer is unable to meet minimum flight requirements; and

F. Meets all applicable eligibility requirements and such other criteria, as the Secretary concerned determines appropriate.

220303. Limitations and Restrictions

A. A Service member may not receive an incentive pay pursuant to 37 U.S.C., Chapter 5, Subchapter I and Subchapter II for the same activity, skill, or period of service.

B. Officers receiving incentive payments pursuant to 37 U.S.C. §§ 301(a)(1), 301(a)(2), 301(a)(13) or 301a, are ineligible for AvIP.

C. Officers receiving AvIP pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 334(a), may not receive HDIP pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 351(a)(2), or skill incentive pay or proficiency bonuses pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 353, for the same skill and period of service.
D. Service members temporarily medically incapacitated will be considered qualified for aviation service unless such incapacitation continues for more than 12 months. After 365 days of incapacitation, a Service member will be disqualified from aviation service and will not be requalified until the condition resulting in incapacitation is corrected or is subject to a waiver under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. A competent medical authority must certify the Service member as medically qualified for operational flying duty (OFD) or proficiency flying duty (PFD). This guidance is only for the purposes of AvIPs and bonuses and does not otherwise restrict a Service’s authority to place an aviator in an applicable flight status.

E. Service members permanently disqualified for aviation service or otherwise determined no longer eligible for aviation service, in accordance with this issuance and such additional regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, are ineligible for AvIP or CSIP.

F. Service members are not authorized AvIP or CSIP payments for any periods of unauthorized absence.

*220304. Payments and Amounts

A. The National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2017 authorized an increase to the maximum amount of monthly AvIP in 37 U.S.C. § 334 not to exceed the rate of $1,000 per month to officers while serving in an OFD or PFD assignment. Unless otherwise updated by the Assistant Secretary of Defense (ASD) in accordance with DoD Instruction (DoDI) 7730.67, paragraph 2.1.b, officers performing qualifying duty or performing qualifying duty relating to unmanned aerial systems (UAS) may receive up to $1,000.

B. The monthly Army Officer AvIP Rates are listed on Table 22-5. For the most current rates, see the Monthly Army Officer Aviation Incentive Pay Rates table on dfas.mil.

C. The monthly Navy Officer AvIP Rates are listed on Table 22-6. For the most current rates, see the Monthly Navy Officer Aviation Incentive Pay Rates table on dfas.mil.

D. The monthly Navy AvIP Rates for Officers in Administrative Milestone Billets are listed on Table 22-7. For the most current rates, see the Monthly Navy Aviation Incentive Pay Rates for Officers in Administrative Milestone Billets table on dfas.mil.

E. Under the provisions in subparagraphs 220304.A and B, the Department of the Air Force (DAF) authorized an increase to the Air Force AvIP rates. The AvIP eligibility will be in accordance with Air Force Instructions (AFI) 11-401 and AFI 11-402. The Air Force monthly AvIP rates are calculated based upon years of aviation service (YAS) established by the Aviation Service Date and are reflected in Table 22-8. For the most current rates, see the Monthly Air Force Aviation Incentive Pay Rates table on dfas.mil.
F. The monthly Marine Corps Officer AvIP Rates are listed on Table 22-9. For the most current rates, see the Monthly Marine Corps Officer Aviation Incentive Pay Rates table on dfas.mil.

G. The following are exceptions to the amounts in subparagraph 220304.B:

1. Warrant Officers with over 22 YAS may continue to receive AvIP at the over 10 YAS rate until retirement.

2. Officers performing OFD or PFD while piloting UASs with over 14 YAS may receive AvIP up to $1,000 per month up to 22 YAS.

H. AvIP for officers in aviation training will begin on the later of these two dates and will be prorated based on the number of days remaining in the month:

1. The date when the officer first reports to the aviation activity in which he or she will receive flight training in a specific aircraft leading to an aeronautical rating, and is placed on aeronautical orders; or

2. The date of commission.

I. AvIP payments for all other aviators will begin the day an officer signs in to an OFD or PFD assignment. The initial payment amount will be prorated based on the number of days remaining in the month.

J. At the discretion of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, RC officers entitled to compensation under 37 U.S.C. § 206 are eligible for AvIP. The amount authorized will be equal to 1/30th of the monthly AvIP authorized by the Military Department concerned for each period of inactive duty training.

220305. Repayment

An officer or enlisted member who fails to fulfill the eligibility requirements of this issuance or other conditions of service specified by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, will be subject to repayment consistent with 37 U.S.C. § 373, and Chapter 2.

220306. Duration of Authority

AvIP may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the person’s entitlement commenced prior to that date.
2204  AvIP FOR AVIATORS NOT IN OFD OR PFD POSITIONS

220401.  General

The Secretaries concerned may pay AvIP to an officer who is otherwise qualified but who is not currently engaged in the performance of OFD or PFD, who meets each of the following three conditions:

A.  The officer meets the eligibility criteria listed in subparagraphs 220402.A through D;

B.  The officer is assigned to a position listed in paragraph 220404; and

C.  The AvIP payment is in the best interest of the Military Service.

220402.  Eligibility

The Secretary concerned may pay AvIP to officers with an aeronautical rating (except flight surgeons or medical officers) with fewer than 25 YAS who are in non-OFD or PFD assignments and meet one of the following criteria:

A.  Are eligible for AvIP continuously through 12 YAS;

B.  Have performed at least 96 creditable months of OFD or PFD upon completion of 12 YAS.  These officers are eligible for up to 18 YAS as long as they are assigned to a non-OFD or non-PFD assignment;

C.  Have performed at least 120 creditable months of OFD or PFD upon completion of 18 YAS.  These officers are eligible for AvIP for up to 22 YAS as long as they are assigned to a non-OFD or non-PFD assignment; or

D.  Have performed at least 144 creditable months of OFD or PFD upon completion of 18 YAS.  These officers are eligible for AvIP for up to 25 YAS as long as they are assigned to a non-OFD or non-PFD assignment.  Aviation warrant officers may continue to receive AvIP beyond 25 YAS as long as they are assigned to an assignment in paragraph 220404.

220403.  Limitations and Restrictions

See paragraph 220303.

220404.  Non-OFD or Non-PFD Assignments

Qualified aviation officers (except flight surgeons or other medical officers) who meet the eligibility criteria in paragraph 220402 may receive AvIP when assigned to any of the following non-OFD or non-PFD assignments:
A. A Joint assignment or position on the Joint Duty Assignment List;

B. Attending resident professional military education or a fully-funded graduate education program authorized by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

C. Aviation-specific positions that must be filled by officers with an aeronautical rating; or

D. Career-enhancing assignments outside of aviation or based on the needs of the Military Services for a period not to exceed 48 consecutive months.

220405. Transition Period

Upon publication of Service regulation, officers in receipt of continuous ACIP pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 301a may receive AvIP for the remaining period of aviation service as specified in 37 U.S.C. § 301a(a)(4)(5), or 48 months, whichever is less. After this time, an aviator must be assigned to a position in accordance with section 2203 or subparagraphs 220404.A through C.

220406. Payments and Amounts

A. The Secretaries concerned may pay monthly AvIP to aviators who meet the YAS criteria in paragraph 220402 and are serving in positions listed in paragraph 220404.

B. At the discretion of the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, RC officers entitled to compensation under 37 U.S.C. § 206 are eligible for AvIP. The amount authorized will be equal to 1/30th of the monthly AvIP authorized by the Military Department concerned for each period of inactive duty training.

220407. Repayment

See paragraph 220305.

220408. Duration of Authority

See paragraph 220306.

2205 CRITICAL SKILL INCENTIVE PAY (CSIP)

220501. General

The Secretary concerned may designate a career field or skill as critical for the purposes of offering a skill incentive pay. The following specialties are designated as critical and are eligible for CSIP:

A. Qualified career enlisted members who meet the eligibility requirements in paragraph 220502; or
B. Enlisted UAS operators who meet the eligibility requirements in paragraph 220502.

220502. Eligibility

CSIP is payable on a monthly basis in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 353 to a Regular or RC enlisted member who:

A. Is entitled to basic pay pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 204 or to compensation under 37 U.S.C. § 206;

B. Serves in a military career enlisted aviation occupational specialty or rating designated as critical by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned;

C. Qualifies for aviation service under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned; and

D. Meets other criteria the Secretary concerned deems appropriate.

220503. Limitations and Restrictions

In addition to the limitations and restrictions prescribed in this paragraph, see paragraph 220303.

A. Enlisted members receiving incentive payments pursuant to 37 U.S.C. §§ 301(a)(1), 301(a)(2), 301(a)(13) or 320, are ineligible for CSIP.

B. Enlisted members receiving CSIP pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 353(a), may not also receive HDIP pursuant to 37 U.S.C. § 351(a)(2), for the same period of service in the same career field or skill.

C. Enlisted members may receive only one skill incentive payment in any given month for the same skill and period of service, pursuant to 37 U.S.C § 353(a).

D. Enlisted members may not receive CSIPs and proficiency bonuses, in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 353, for the same skills and periods of service.

E. Officers are not authorized CSIP in accordance with this issuance.

220504. Terms and Conditions of CSIP Written Agreements

The Secretary concerned may require a Service member to enter into a written agreement in order to qualify for a CSIP payment. The agreement must specify the period for which the Service member will receive CSIP and the monthly rate of pay.
220505. Payments and Amounts

A. The Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned may pay monthly CSIP to eligible Service members who meet the CSIP requirements in an amount not to exceed $600 per month. See Table 22-10. For the most current rates, see the Monthly Critical Skill Incentive Pay Rates for Air Force Enlisted Flyers table on dfas.mil.

B. If a Service member does not satisfy the eligibility requirements specified in paragraph 220502 for an entire month, the Secretary concerned may prorate the payment amount to reflect the duration of the Service member’s actual qualifying service during the month.

C. RC Service members entitled to compensation under 37 U.S.C. § 206 are eligible for CSIP at the discretion of the Secretary concerned. The amount will be equal to 1/30th of the monthly CSIP authorized by the Military Department concerned for each period of inactive duty training.

220506. Repayment
See paragraph 220305.

220507. Duration of Authority

CSIP may not be paid to any person after the date on the Duration of Authority table. No payments will be made after the termination date unless the person’s entitlement commenced prior to that date.

NOTES:
1. Do not count flights performed while on leave for pay purposes.
2. Do not pay flight pay beyond the last day of the calendar month for which requirements are met.
3. A Service member is not considered to be involuntarily removed from flying duty upon separation, confinement, relief for cause, reduction in grade, medical unfitness, absence without leave, or transfer to ground duty at own request.
4. Advance notice of removal from flying duty will be issued by a competent authority in writing. Advance notice may be provided verbally if a suitable memorandum for the record is made and later followed by written notification.

CHAPTER 23

SUBMARINE DUTY PAY

2301 GENERAL

230101. Purpose

The purpose of this chapter is to provide policy pertaining to Submarine Duty Pay for members of the Navy, as authorized by law. A member of the Navy who is entitled to basic pay, may be paid submarine duty incentive pay for the frequent and regular performance of operational submarine duty required by orders (including on a submarine of a foreign nation).

*230102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the DoD in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), including Title 37. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

2302 INCENTIVE PAY FOR OPERATIONAL SUBMARINE DUTY

*230201. Purpose

Incentive pay for operational submarine duty is designed to recognize the arduous nature of submarine duty assignments. The Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned may establish an operational submarine duty incentive pay program to encourage volunteerism for submarine duty assignments.

*230202. Eligibility

The Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned will establish eligibility criteria based on Service-specific needs for submarine duty assignments.

*230203. Amount

The Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned will establish monthly rates, based on level of responsibility and time of submarine service. The maximum amount of operational submarine duty incentive pay per month will not exceed $1,000.

A. The monthly rates of submarine duty pay for commissioned officers are in Table 23-1. The most current rates are in the Submarine Duty Pay Rates table on DFAS.MIL.

B. The monthly rates of submarine duty pay for warrant officers are in Table 23-2. The most current rates are in the Submarine Duty Pay Rates table on DFAS.MIL.
C. The monthly rates of submarine duty pay for enlisted members are in Table 23-3. The most current rates are in the Submarine Duty Pay Rates table on DFAS.MIL.

230204. Definition of Terms for “Operational Submarine Duty”

A. “Operational submarine duty” means duty performed:

1. While assigned under competent orders to a submarine;

2. While serving as an operator or crew member of an operational submersible (including an undersea exploration or research vehicle);

3. While undergoing initial submarine training prior to assignment to a nuclear-powered submarine;

4. While undergoing rehabilitation training after assignment to a nuclear-powered submarine;

5. In the case of members qualified for the submarine service, while assigned as a member of a submarine operational command staff whose duties require serving on a submarine during underway operations:

   a. During 1 calendar-month: 48 hours, except that hours served underway in excess of 48 hours as a member of a submarine operational command staff during any of the immediately preceding 5 calendar-months and not already used to qualify for incentive pay, may be applied to satisfy the 48-hour underway time requirements for the current month;

   b. During any 2 consecutive calendar-months when requirements of subparagraph 230204.A.5.a have not been met: 96 hours; or

   c. During any 3 consecutive calendar-months when requirements of subparagraph 230204.A.5.b have not been met: 144 hours;

6. While receiving training and instructions for assignment to a submarine of advanced design; or

7. While receiving instructions to prepare a submariner for a position of increased responsibility on a submarine.

B. The term “submarine service” means the service performed by a member under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Navy. The years of submarine service are computed beginning with the effective date of the initial order to perform submarine service.
230205. Submarine Duty Pay Start and Stop Dates

See Table 23-4.

230206. Submarine Operational Command Staff Members

A. General rules for meeting underway time requirements, including determination of a 2- or 3-month grace period, are substantially the same as those for flying pay. (See Chapter 22.)

B. For the fractional part of a calendar month, or fractional parts of 2 consecutive calendar months (duty begins in 1 month and ends in the following month), the underway time required, based on the requirement of 48 hours for a calendar month, will be determined from Table 23-5.

230207. Temporary Additional Duty or Authorized Leave

A member, who is entitled to submarine duty pay, retains entitlement during periods of temporary additional duty or authorized leave. However, a submarine operational command staff member is required to fulfill the underway time requirements to retain entitlement during such periods if not otherwise entitled to continuous monthly submarine duty pay in accordance with section 2303.

230208. Missing Status - Member’s Entitlement

A member receiving submarine duty pay when declared missing by a competent authority is entitled to submarine duty pay during the period of absence and for the period, not to exceed 1 year, required for hospitalization and rehabilitation after termination of missing status. The member’s entitlement to submarine duty pay, upon termination of the period of eligibility, will be contingent on a determination of continued eligibility.

*230209. Restriction

A. An officer who fails selection for assignment as an executive officer or commanding officer of a submarine, or who declines to serve in either such position, may not be paid submarine duty pay except for periods during which such officer is serving on a submarine during underway operations.

B. A Service member cannot receive both continuous submarine duty pay (CONSUBPAY) and operational submarine duty incentive pay at the same time for the same period of service. When CONSUBPAY eligibility is not met, personnel may be eligible for operational submarine duty incentive pay for any period attached under orders to operational submarine duty, whether temporarily or permanently assigned.
*2303 CONTINUOUS SUBMARINE DUTY SKILL INCENTIVE PAY FOR SUBMARINE SERVICE MEMBERS

*230301. Purpose

The Navy may offer CONSUBPAY to active duty Service members who volunteer to serve in, and remain serving in, the submarine service on a career basis in a submarine duty designation or designator.

*230302. Eligibility

A member of the submarine service (as defined in subparagraph 230204.B) may be eligible for CONSUBPAY if they meet the following requirements:

A. Hold a submarine duty designation or designator, or are in training to receive a submarine duty designation or designator;

B. Have a valid submarine service entry date and have obtained the prescribed amount of total operational submarine service (TOSS) at the completion of 12 and/or 18 years of submarine service. Prior to 12 years of service, there is no minimum TOSS requirement for CONSUBPAY;

C. Enlisted members serving ashore must maintain a sufficient period of obligated service as specified in the Office of Chief of Naval Operations Instruction (OPNAVINST) 7220.15 (including any extension of enlistment) to be able to be reassigned to submarine duty. Officers must remain qualified for follow-on submarine service while serving ashore;

D. Maintain physical qualifications for submarine service;

E. Have less than 26 years of service; and

F. Meet other applicable requirements outlined by the Secretary of the Navy.

*230303. Additional Eligibility Requirements

A. To remain eligible for CONSUBPAY through 26 years of service (excluding, in the case of an officer, any period of service as an enlisted member) a member must accumulate at least 6 years of TOSS in the first 12 years of submarine service, and at least 10 years of TOSS in the first 18 years of submarine service. However, if a member accumulates at least 8 but less than 10 years of TOSS after 18 years of submarine service, the member remains eligible for CONSUBPAY through 22 years of service (excluding, in the case of an officer, any period of service as an enlisted member).

B. If, upon completion of either 12 or 18 years of submarine service, it is determined that a member has failed to perform the minimum prescribed operational submarine duty requirements during the prescribed periods of time, the eligibility for continuous monthly submarine duty pay ceases. If continuous monthly submarine duty pay ceases upon completion of 12 years of submarine service, a member may be eligible to re-qualify for the pay if after the completion of 18 years of submarine service, the minimum operational submarine duty requirements have been met. At which time, the pay may resume for the period of time prescribed in this section. However, if entitlement to continuous monthly submarine duty pay ceases in the case of any member at the completion of either 12 or 18 years of submarine service or 26 years of service (as computed under Chapter 1, section 0102), such member will only be eligible for operational submarine duty pay in the amount specified in section 2302 for the performance of submarine duties while assigned to a submarine during underway operations.

NOTE: In the case of an officer, any period as an enlisted member, before initial appointment as an officer, is excluded.

230304. Rates

The monthly rates of submarine duty pay are the same as indicated in Tables 23-1 through 23-3.

230305. Missing Status - Member’s Entitlement

The provisions of paragraph 230208 are applicable to submarine duty pay entitlement under this section.

*230306. Restriction

A. Pursuant to 37 U.S.C., section 353(h), a Service member may not be paid more than one pay under the section in any month for the same period of service and skill.

B. Service members temporarily unable to perform submarine duty due to a physical or medical condition, not the result of the member’s own misconduct, may continue to receive CONSUBPAY for a period of up to 6 months. After 6 months, CONSUBPAY will be terminated and may not be reinstated until the condition resulting in the physical or medical restriction is corrected and the member is again certified for submarine duty by a competent Undersea Medical Officer.

C. Service members permanently disqualified or otherwise determined to be no longer eligible to perform submarine duty, are ineligible for CONSUBPAY.

D. In accordance with the Memorandum for Assistant Secretary of the Navy (ASN) for Manpower and Reserve Affairs (M&RA), dated January 26, 2018 a Service member, who receives CONSUBPAY and fails to satisfy the eligibility requirements for receipt of the pay, will be subject to having the pay terminated. Repayment of any unearned portion or overpayment will be in accordance with the provisions of 37 U.S.C. § 373, Chapter 2, and Volume 16, Chapter 3.

NOTES:
1. Attachment to a submarine means duty as a crew member either on board the submarine, or on duty ashore during periods of rehabilitation after reporting for permanent duty as a crew member, whether to the on-ship or off-ship crew.
2. When an off-ship crew member, in a training and rehabilitation status, performs travel in connection with a change of home port of the member's submarine by means other than the submarine, member's entitlement to submarine pay continues during period in transit.
3. This rule also applies to officers, who previously qualified in submarines as enlisted members, while attending the following:
   a. Submarine Officers' Basic Course or Submarine Officers' Indoctrination Course, for the specific purpose of preparing for a position in a nuclear-powered submarine; or
   b. A course of instruction listed in the OPNAVINST 7220.15, December 28, 2005, specifically preparing them for positions of increased responsibility in nuclear-powered submarines.

CHAPTER 24

INCENTIVE PAY - HAZARDOUS DUTY OTHER THAN AERIAL FLIGHTS

2401 GENERAL

*240101. Purpose

The Secretaries of the Military Departments may offer hazardous duty incentive pay (HDIP) payments to Service members who under competent orders are required to perform duties designated as hazardous, based upon the inherent dangers of the duty and the risks of physical injury. This chapter establishes the policy pertaining to the monetary incentive to Service members who perform these duties.

240102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the Department of Defense (DoD) in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with the United States Code (U.S.C.), Title 37. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

*2402 ENTITLEMENT

240201. Eligibility

In order to receive HDIP, a Regular or Reserve Component Service member must:

A. Be entitled to basic pay under 37 U.S.C., section 204 or 206;

B. Be serving under competent orders to perform the hazardous duty; and

C. Be in training, or have completed qualifying training and meet eligibility criteria for the performance of the hazardous duty.

240202. Member of the Reserve Components (RC)

A. A member of the RC on extended active duty (EAD), who is ordered to perform any of the hazardous duties listed in sections 2403 through 2413, is entitled to pay based on the terms of this chapter.

B. A member of the RC on active duty training (ADT), who is ordered to perform any of the hazardous duties listed in sections 2403 through 2413 is entitled to pay based on Chapter 57, paragraphs 570302 and 570401 and Table 24-1, rules 9 through 13.
240203. Payment Method and Amounts

A. Rates. A member who qualifies for HDIP under this chapter is entitled to the rate prescribed for the type of duty performed. The most current rates are in the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table on DFAS.MIL.

B. Proration. In the case of a member of the Regular Component, HDIP commences on the date the member reports for, and begins performing an eligible duty in compliance with competent orders. Entitlement ceases on the effective date published in orders for termination of such duty or the date the member is detached from and no longer required to perform the hazardous duty, whichever occurs first. When a member commences hazardous duty on a date other than the first day of a month, or terminates that duty on a date other than the 30th of a month (28th or 29th of February, as appropriate) and otherwise meets the requirements of this chapter for the month, he or she is entitled to a prorated portion of rate of pay for the month. In the case of an RC member, see subparagraph 240202.B

240204. Multiple Payments of HDIP

Service members performing multiple hazardous duties may receive a maximum of three HDIP payments per month. Multiple HDIP is limited to those members required by orders to perform specific multiple hazardous duties necessary for successful accomplishment of the mission of the unit to which assigned. Members must meet minimum requirements for each hazardous duty, unless excepted as provided in paragraph 240206.

A. Aviation Incentive Pay (AvIP) and HDIP. Officers entitled to AvIP and enlisted members entitled to Critical Skill Incentive Pay (CSIP), may receive not more than two types of HDIP under the provisions of this chapter provided the conditions for entitlement have been independently met. Officers and enlisted members entitled to HDIP for flying duty (in lieu of AvIP or CSIP), may receive not more than two other HDIPs under the provisions of this chapter provided the conditions for entitlement have been independently met.

B. Restriction With Regard to Parachute Duty. Only one type of parachute duty payment (regular or military free fall) is authorized for a qualifying period. When a member qualifies for both types of parachute duty, the higher rate of pay is authorized. Unless otherwise restricted by Military Service regulations (for example, restrictions on manning classification), a member who qualifies for a military free fall rate for a month in which the member earlier qualified for the regular rate of parachute pay will be entitled to the difference between the monthly rate of $150 and $225.
240205. Injury or Incapacity Resulting From Performance of Hazardous Duty

Service members qualified for HDIP who are temporarily unable to perform a hazardous duty due to an injury or illness that is not the result of the Service member’s own misconduct may continue to receive HDIP for up to 6 months. Appropriate medical authority determines the cause of the incapacity and the dates thereof.

A. Case-by-Case Exception. On a case by case basis, the Secretary concerned, or designee, may authorize an extension of HDIP payments for up to an additional 6-months, based on the recommendation of the appropriate medical authority. Under no circumstance may HDIP payments continue beyond 12 months from the date of injury or illness.

B. Termination of HDIP. HDIP will be terminated for Service members permanently disqualified or otherwise determined to be no longer eligible to perform hazardous duty by a competent medical authority.

C. Reassignment or Reclassification. Service members reassigned to a new duty assignment or specialty not eligible for HDIP will have their HDIP payments terminated on the date of reassignment or reclassification.

D. Combat Zone. If the injury or illness occurred while serving in a combat zone, hostile fire area, or imminent danger area, the Service member may continue to receive HDIP during his or her hospitalization and rehabilitation in accordance with 37 U.S.C. § 372. See Chapter 13, section 1302 for additional details.

240206. Authority to Issue Orders

Authority of the Military Departments to issue orders requiring performance of hazardous duty is delegated by the Secretaries to specific commanders within each Military Service. These delegations are contained in personnel administrative regulations of the respective Military Services.

240207. Missing Status - Member's Entitlement

A member, receiving an HDIP listed in sections 2403 through 2414, when declared by competent authority to be missing (as defined in the Definitions Chapter), is entitled to HDIP during the period of absence and for any period, not to exceed 1 year, required for hospitalization and rehabilitation after termination of the missing status. The member's entitlement to HDIP, upon termination of any required period of hospitalization and rehabilitation or the 1-year period after date of return from missing status, whichever is earlier, will be contingent on a determination of continued eligibility under section 2402 and the applicable requirements.
240208. Duration of Authority

Unless authorized by Congress, no HDIP payment may be paid after the termination date on the Duration of Authority table.

*2403 PARACHUTE DUTY

240301. Entitlement

A. General. Qualified members are those who have received a designation as a parachutist, including those undergoing training for such designation; who is required by competent orders to engage in parachute jumping from an aircraft in aerial flight, and who meet the minimum performance requirements.

B. Performance Requirements. To qualify for parachute duty pay for a 3-month period the Service member is required to jump at least once during the 3-month period. If a Service member is not able to perform at least one jump in a 3-month period due to reasons beyond the Service member’s control, the Service member may jump twice during a 6-month period, including two jumps within the same month, to maintain pay eligibility for 2 consecutive 3-month periods. The following exceptions are waivers to the 3-month jump rule:

1. Non-availability of jump equipment or aircraft, attendance at military education or training of less than 179 days, or inclement weather. Commanding officers, in the pay grade of O-5 or above, may waive the jump requirement for one jump during a 12-month period. Service members must maintain their proficiency through refresher training in lieu of jumping in order to retain eligibly for parachute duty pay during the waived period;

2. The appropriate commander, grade O-7 or above, may waive the minimum jump requirement when a Service member is unable to perform a jump due to combat operations or being operationally deployed. Upon returning from deployment, the Service member must complete airborne refresher training and jump within 3 months; or

3. Service members must maintain their eligibility for parachute pay through the actual performance of a parachute jump unless the minimum jump requirement is waived. If the Service member does not have a waiver and fails to meet the minimum jump requirement, the parachute duty pay will be discontinued and any overpayment or unearned portion of pay will be subject to repayment in accordance with 37 U.S.C. §§ 373 and 1007.

C. Military Free Fall

1. Service members who qualify for military free fall duty, must perform duty involving parachute jumping, as an essential part of their military duties, in military free fall operations where parachute deployment by the jumper occurs without the use of a static line.
2. Qualifying members are those who have received a designation as a military free fall parachutist, including those undergoing training for such designation; who are required by competent orders to engage in parachute jumping from an aircraft in aerial flight; and who meet the requirements of paragraph 240301. Performance requirements must be satisfied by military free fall jumps.

240302. Parachute Jumps-Leave, Permanent Change of Station (PCS), Temporary Duty Travel (TDY)/Temporary Additional Duty (TAD), or ADT

Qualifying jumps for entitlement to parachute pay will be performed during a period of duty requiring parachute jumping as established by competent orders. Parachute jumps performed under the following circumstances do not qualify a member for entitlement to parachute pay:

A. Parachute jumps performed by any member while on leave or during PCS or TDY/TAD not requiring parachute jumping as an essential part of the duty; and

B. Parachute jumps performed by a member of an RC while on ADT that does not require parachute jumping as an essential part of the duty.

240303. Rates

The HDIP rates for parachute duty are:

A. HDIP for static line parachute jumping is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate).

B. HDIP for a military freefall parachutist is $225 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate).

C. HDIP for parachute duty may be paid, provided prescribed requirements are met, only from the date of reporting for duty or training. Service members who arrive after the first day of the month or depart prior to the end of the month and are not on competent orders for a full calendar month will receive a prorated HDIP payment for these months.

2404 FLIGHT DECK DUTY

240401. Entitlement

A. Conditions of Entitlement. A member is entitled to flight deck HDIP (FDHDIP) when the member:

1. Serves on the crew of an eligible air capable ship or an aviation unit operating from such a ship, fixed-wing-aircraft carrier or an aviation unit operating from that type of carrier;
2. Is ordered by competent authority to duty in a billet which requires frequent and regular participation in flight operations; and

3. Participates, within a calendar month, in 4 days of flight operations or their equivalent on the flight deck of eligible air capable ships.

B. Quotas and Billets. The number of members entitled to FDHDIP is subject to the monthly quotas applicable to the eligible air capable ships and type or combination of air units operating from such ships, as promulgated in the Chief of Naval Operations (OPNAV) Instruction 7220.4 series.

C. Members on TDY or TAD. Members on TDY or TAD in the crew of an aircraft carrier or other eligible air capable ship or an aviation unit operating from such a ship may be ordered to flight deck hazardous duty (FDHD) billets. When so ordered, they are eligible for HDIP for the actual period specified in the orders provided they meet the minimal participation requirements for an entire month (4 days of flight operations or their equivalent) within each calendar month.

D. Multiple Payments. Members receiving HDIP for any other type of hazardous duty are not entitled to FDHDIP for the same period.

240402. Specialized Terms

A. Eligible Air Capable Ship. A ship having a flight deck that has been certified to launch or land aircraft under Chief of Naval Operations ship or helicopter facility certification program.

B. Flight Operations. The period of time during which launch and recovery of aircraft are in progress on the flight deck of an eligible air capable ship. It includes the turn-up and movement of aircraft preparatory to launch and the movement and shutdown of aircraft immediately following recovery.

C. Day of Flight Operations. One day of flight operations will consist of a calendar day during which any combination of aircraft takeoffs and/or landings takes place, as specified for each ship by class in OPNAV Instruction 7220.4 series. Four days of such flight operations, or the equivalent thereof, will constitute the basic calendar month qualification criteria.

D. Equivalent of 4 Days of Flight Operations. Any single day or combination of days during a calendar month in which the number of aircraft takeoffs and/or landings equals the monthly total requirement for that class ship in OPNAV Instruction 7220.4 series will constitute the equivalent of 4 days of flight operations.

E. FDHD Billet. A billet that requires frequent and regular participation in flight operations on the flight deck of an eligible (certified) ship as promulgated in the OPNAV Instruction 7220.4 series.
F. Participation. Service members must be present, during flight operations, at an assigned station on the flight deck of an aircraft carrier or a ship other than an aircraft carrier from which aircraft are launched and recovered during flight operations.

*R240403. Rates

FDHDIP is paid to eligible members at a rate of $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). Service members who meet entitlement criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month of flight operations will receive a prorated FDHDIP payment. The prorated amount will be determined by multiplying 1/30th of the monthly FDHDIP rate by the number of days the member actually performed in an FDHD billet aboard ship for the partial month.

*R240404. Commencement and Termination of FDHDIP

Eligibility for entitlement to FDHDIP begins on the date a member is ordered to duty in an FDHD billet. Entitlement eligibility ends on the date the orders to such billet are revoked, or when a member is permanently detached from the aircraft carrier, other eligible air capable ship, or aviation unit, whichever occurs first. Orders may be terminated for other reasons but not for the sole purpose of providing FDHDIP for additional members.

*R240405. Right to Pay Under Certain Conditions

See Table 24-1.

*2405 DEMOLITION DUTY

*R240501. Entitlement

A. Condition of Entitlement. A member entitled to basic pay, who is required by competent orders to perform duty involving the demolition of explosives, as prescribed by Military Service regulations, as a primary duty (including training for that duty), is entitled to HDIP under the conditions stated in this section.

B. Duty Involving Demolition of Explosives. Demolition duty is duty performed by members who engage in the following activities under competent orders and as a primary duty assignment:

1. Demolish by the use of explosive objects, obstacles, or other explosives, or recover and render harmless, by disarming or demolishing, explosives that have failed to function as intended or which have become a potential hazard;

2. Participate as students or instructors in instructional training, including that in the field or fleet, for the duties described in subparagraph 240501.B.1 provided that live explosives are used in such training;
3. Participate in proficiency training, including that in the field or fleet, for the maintenance of skill in the duties described in subparagraph 240501.B.1 provided that live explosives are used in such training; or

4. Experiment with or develop tools, equipment, or procedures for the demolition and rendering harmless of explosives, provided that live explosives are used.

240502. Rates

HDIP for demolition duty is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). HDIP is payable for any full calendar month, provided the prescribed requirements are met at least one time during the calendar month, or is prorated under subparagraph 240203.B for any portion of a calendar month during which a member under competent orders performs demolition duty.

240503. Performance Requirements

A member, who is assigned to demolition duty by competent orders and performs such duty during the month involved, is eligible for HDIP for that duty provided live explosives are used. Service members failing to meet the monthly minimum requirement for demolition duty HDIP will have their pay discontinued and any overpayment or unearned portion of the pay will be subject to repayment. Local commanders are responsible for ensuring that the finance officer is informed when a member fails to perform the monthly demolition duty required for entitlement to the HDIP.

240504. Right to Pay Under Certain Conditions

See Table 24-1.

2406 EXPERIMENTAL STRESS DUTY

*240601. Entitlement

A. Condition of Entitlement. A member on active duty who is required by competent orders to perform experimental stress duty is entitled to HDIP under the conditions stated in this section.

B. Duty Involving Experimental Stress. Experimental stress duties are included in subparagraphs 240601.B.1 through 240601.B.4.

1. Human Acceleration or Deceleration Experimental Subject. Duty performed as human acceleration or deceleration experimental subjects utilizing experimental acceleration or deceleration devices.

2. Thermal Stress Duty. Duty performed as human thermal experimental subjects in thermal stress experiments.
3. Low-Pressure Chamber Duty. Duty performed within a low-pressure (altitude) chamber at physiological facilities as human test subjects, inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender.

4. High-Pressure Chamber Duty

   a. Duty performed within a high-pressure (hyperbaric or recompression) chamber or hyperbaric complex as a:

      1. Human test subject for approved protocols applicable to the research, development, testing and evaluation of diving, hyperbaric and underwater-related tools, systems, equipment and procedures;

      2. Human test subject in a recompression chamber/hyperbaric complex inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender during the conduct of protocols; or

      3. Human test subject in a recompression chamber/hyperbaric complex inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender during the conduct of hyperbaric treatment or hyperbaric therapy procedures which include, but are not limited to, treatment of ailments incidental to diving and hyperbaric/hypobaric exposure.

   b. For a Navy member to qualify as a human test subject, inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender in a recompression chamber/hyperbaric complex, all of the following conditions must be met. The member must:

      1. Possess one of the Navy Enlisted Classification/Navy Officer Billet Classification (NEC/NOBC) codes listed and be assigned by competent orders to a billet utilizing the following NEC/NOBC classifications:

Officer NOBC
Undersea Medical (Diving) Officer 0107
EOD Officer 9230
EOD Mobile Unit Officer 9231
SEAL Officer 9293
Diving Officer (General) 9312;

(2) Be ordered to perform additional duty as a human test subject, inside instructor-observer or inside observer-tender as described in subparagraphs 240601.B.4.a., b, or c, or by the commanding officer having cognizance over the recompression chamber or hyperbaric complex; and

(3) Either be instructing or operating Navy approved underwater breathing equipment, support systems, and recompression chambers; or observing the other individual(s) for symptoms of diving injuries/illnesses and providing appropriate treatment, as ordered by competent authority.

c. The following types of similar duties do not entitle Navy personnel to HDIP as recompression chamber/hyperbaric complex inside instructor-observers or inside observer-tenders:

(1) Inside observer-tender and divers for surface decompression procedures incidental to the conduct of diving operations as this is considered a normal procedure related to the safe conduct of routine diving operations;

(2) Under instruction either inside instructor-observer, inside observer-tender, or trainees that includes saturation diving procedures and hyperbaric medical related training which is considered a normal requirement to establish or maintain proficiency and/or qualifications;

(3) Inside observer-tender or test candidates during pressure and/or oxygen tolerance tests;

(4) Inside observer-tender, technicians or others involved in recompression chamber or hyperbaric complex preventive or corrective maintenance or during the use of a chamber or complex for the purpose of conducting preventive or corrective maintenance procedures; and

(5) Patients undergoing hyperbaric treatment or therapy.

C. Restriction. A member is entitled to only one payment of HDIP for experimental stress duty during any 1 month.
240602. Rates

HDIP for experimental stress duty is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). HDIP is payable for any full month, or is prorated in accordance with subparagraph 240203.B for any portion of a calendar month, during which experimental stress duty is performed under competent orders.

240603. Performance Requirements

A member is entitled to HDIP for experimental stress duty when assigned to that duty by competent orders and performs such duty during the month involved. Competent medical authorities of the Military Service concerned must determine if the member is engaged in one or more stress experiments involving risk of experimental hazard.

240604. Right to Pay Under Certain Conditions

See Table 24-1.

2407 TOXIC FUELS (OR PROPELLANTS) DUTY

240701. Entitlement

A. A member is eligible for HDIP for duty involving the servicing of aircraft or missiles with highly toxic fuels or propellants when this duty is performed as a primary duty according to the requirements set forth in subparagraphs 240702.A – D and G.

B. A member is eligible for HDIP for duty involving the servicing of aircraft or missiles with highly toxic fuels or propellants for the testing of aircraft or missile systems (or components of such systems) during which highly toxic fuels are used when this duty is performed as a primary duty according to the requirements listed in paragraph 240702.

240702. Performance Requirements

Primary duty requirements for this HDIP consist of:

A. Removal, replacement, and servicing of the emergency power unit of an aircraft with H-70 propellant (30 percent water, 70 percent hydrazine);

B. Participation by those personnel performing duties in subparagraph 240702.A, who must also participate in an emergency response force, spill containment, or spill cleanup involving H-70 propellant (30 percent water, 70 percent hydrazine);

C. Handling and maintaining the liquid propellants (liquid oxidizer-nitrogen tetroxide; unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine) if such duty requires the qualification in the use of the rocket fuel handler's clothing outfit and involves:
1. Launch duct operations, including flow, pressurization, on-load, off-load, set-up, or tear down involving propellant transfer operations;

2. Set-up, installation, or tear down for fuel/oxidizer flow;

3. Decontamination of equipment, including but not limited to the rocket fuel handler's clothing outfit;

4. Venting or pressurizing missile fuel or oxidizer tanks;

5. Removing or replacing missile components while missile fuel and oxidizer tanks are loaded with such propellants;

6. Transferring propellants between commercial and military holding trailers, or between holding trailers and fuel/oxidizer pump rooms; or

7. Normal preventive maintenance activities including but not limited to seal changes;

D. Handling and maintaining the propellants, unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine and inhibited red-fuming nitric acid;

E. Handling, transporting, or working with toxic fuels/propellants by members assigned to the Air Force Rocket Propulsion Lab who:

1. Directly manage and inspect the activities of crew members conducting operations involving experimental rocket propulsion systems and components;

2. Directly monitor and set up measurement instruments in operational areas where contamination is suspected or may be physically present;

3. Install and remove instrumentation devices from propulsion systems and components;

4. Perform final test preparation and immediate safety inspection duties around pressurized, active systems during pre-run and post-run test periods; or

5. Install and repair electrical systems;

F. Handling, loading/unloading, and transporting toxic fuels and oxidizers at the precision sled track while working with the liquid rocket sled which uses JP-X (a mixture of jet fuel (JP-4) and unsymmetrical dimethyl hydrazine) and red-fuming nitric acid and a propulsion; or

G. Involvement with other toxic substances contained in missile or aircraft weapon system fuels or propellants as determined by the Secretary concerned.
240703. Rates

HDIP for handling of toxic fuels and propellants is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). Service members who meet the eligibility criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month of duty involving toxic fuels and propellants, will receive a prorated HDIP payment.

240704. Restriction

Authorization is based upon the performance of this primary duty that has the potential for accidental or inadvertent exposure to highly toxic fuels or propellants or related substances and not upon actual quantifiable exposure to such substances. Therefore, neither this construction of the term nor the receipt of the pay may be construed as indicating that any Service member eligible for such pay has been actually exposed to highly toxic fuels or propellants, or related substances contrary to the provisions of any statute, Executive order, rule, or regulation relating to health or safety which is applicable to the uniformed services.

2408 TOXIC PESTICIDES DUTY

240801. Entitlement

A member is eligible for HDIP for duty involving frequent and regular exposure to highly toxic pesticides when the member is assigned by competent orders to the entomology, pest control, pest management, or preventive medicine functions of a uniformed service for a period of 30 consecutive days or more.

240802. Performance Requirements

   A. Fumigation Duties. Members must perform fumigation duties during a calendar month to receive HDIP for the month. Fumigation duty covers any fumigation task utilizing:

      1. Phosphine, sulfuryl fluoride, hydrogen cyanide, methyl bromide, or
      2. A fumigant of comparable high-acute toxicity and hazard potential.

   B. Restrictions. The use of solid fumigant formulations such as aluminum phosphide, magnesium phosphide, and calcium cyanide in the outdoor control of burrowing animals does not qualify a member for HDIP.

240803. Rates

HDIP for duty involving exposure to toxic pesticides is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). Service members who meet the eligibility criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month of duty involving exposure to highly toxic pesticides will receive a prorated HDIP payment.
2409   DANGEROUS VIRUSES (OR BACTERIA) LAB DUTY

240901.   Entitlement

A member is eligible for HDIP for duty involving laboratory work that utilizes live dangerous viruses or bacteria as a primary duty.

240902.   Performance Requirements

Eligible members must perform their primary duty while assigned by competent orders for a period of 30 consecutive days or more to participate in or conduct applied or basic research that is characterized by a changing variety of techniques, procedures, equipment, and experiments. This duty requires members to work directly with microorganisms:

A.   That cause diseases with a high potential for mortality and for which effective therapeutic procedures are not available; and

B.   For which no effective prophylactic immunization exists.

*240903.   Rates.

HDIP for laboratory duty involving dangerous viruses or bacteria is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). Service members who meet the eligibility criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month of laboratory duty utilizing live viruses or bacteria will receive a prorated HDIP payment.

2410   CHEMICAL MUNITIONS DUTY

241001.   Entitlement

A member is eligible for HDIP for duty involving the handling of chemical munitions (or components of such munitions) as a primary duty.

241002.   Performance Requirements

A.   Primary duty requires direct physical handling of:

1.   Toxic chemical munitions incident to storage, maintenance, testing, surveillance, assembly, disassembly, demilitarization, or disposal of said munitions;

2.   Chemical surety material defined by the Secretary concerned, incident to manufacture, storage, testing, laboratory analysis, detoxification, or disposal of said material;

3.   Toxic chemical munitions incident to the technical escort of shipments of said munitions; or
4. Chemical surety material, defined by the Secretary concerned, incident to technical escort of shipments of said material.

B. The following duties are not eligible for HDIP:

1. Handling of the individual components of binary chemical agents or munitions;

2. User handling incident to loading, firing, or otherwise launching the toxic chemical munitions, or field storage operations during hostilities;

3. Handling of research, development, testing, and evaluation dilute solutions of toxic chemicals as defined by the Secretary concerned; and

4. Handling of riot control agents, chemical defoliants and herbicides, smoke, flame and incendiaries, and industrial chemicals.

*241003. Rates

HDIP for handling of chemical munitions is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). Service members who meet the eligibility criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month of duty handling chemical weapons will receive a prorated HDIP payment.

241004. Restriction

The Secretary concerned is authorized to pay HDIP for the performance of this primary duty that has the potential for accidental exposure to chemical agents and not upon actual quantifiable exposure to such agents. Therefore, neither the construction of the term nor the receipt of pay provided for in this section may be construed as indicating that any person eligible for such pay actually has been exposed to chemical agents contrary to the provisions of any statute, Executive order, rule, or regulation relating to health and safety which is applicable to the uniformed services.

2411 MARITIME VISIT, BOARD, SEARCH, SEIZURE (VBSS) DUTY

241101. Entitlement

The Secretary concerned may offer an HDIP to members who under competent orders perform duty in VBSS billets that require frequent and regular participation in VBSS operations aboard vessels in support of maritime interdiction operations.
241102. Performance Requirements

The Navy has established that in order to qualify for HDIP duty involving maritime VBSS for any month a member must:

A. Be assigned for an entire month to a billet designated as requiring frequent and regular participation in VBSS operations;

B. Be properly trained for the VBSS operations; and

C. Participate in a minimum of three boarding missions (excluding training exercises) during each month of qualification.

*241103. Rates

HDIP for VBSS is a monthly rate of $150.00 (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). Service members are eligible for HDIP for VBSS operations and may be paid a full month’s VBSS HDIP during any calendar month in which the Service member serves in such a billet and conducts the minimum number of boarding operations.

2412 POLAR REGION FLIGHT OPERATIONS DUTY

241201. Entitlement

A member is eligible for HDIP for duty involving the use of ski-equipped aircraft on the ground in Antarctica or on the Arctic Ice-Pack.

241202. Performance Requirements

A member may be eligible in any calendar month during which that member participated in a takeoff from or landing on the ground in Antarctica or the Arctic Ice-Pack, or the servicing or the handling of cargo in connection with such aircraft on the ground in such a polar region. The appropriate commander will certify those members who under competent orders perform such duty in a calendar month.

*241203. Rates

HDIP for polar region flight operations duty is $150.00 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate).
*2413 WEAPONS OF MASS DESTRUCTION CIVIL SUPPORT (WMDCS) TEAM

241301. Entitlement

The Secretary concerned may pay HDIP to RC Service members assigned to WMDCS teams.

241302. Performance Requirements

In order to be eligible for WMDCS HDIP, a Service member must be:

A. Entitled to basic pay under 37 U.S.C. § 204;

B. Assigned by competent orders to duty as a member of a WMDCS team;

C. Fully qualified for WMDCS team operations; and

D. Serving on an approved active duty tour in excess of 139 days in a DoD designated and certified WMDCS team position.

241303. Rates

HDIP for RC Service members assigned to a WMDCS team is $150 per month (see the Hazardous Duty Incentive Pay (HDIP) Rates table for the most current rate). Service members who meet the eligibility criteria, but who do not participate in a full calendar month as a WMDCS team member, will receive a prorated HDIP payment.

*2414 DIVING DUTY HDIP

See Chapter 11 for diving duty eligibility criteria, requirements, and rates.

NOTES:

1. Performance of hazardous duty while on leave cannot be counted for pay purposes.
2. Orders to perform hazardous duty remain in effect when member is being reassigned PCS successively to hazardous duty. If the member cannot be immediately assigned to a hazardous duty position at a new station, orders to perform such duty will be terminated effective the date of arrival at new duty station and HDIP stopped as of that date. When successive assignment does not require hazardous duty as an essential part of military duty at the new permanent duty station, orders to perform such duty will be terminated effective the date of departure from old duty station (or TDY point if performance of hazardous duty is required as an essential part of military duty at the TDY point) and HDIP stopped as of that date. When effective date in the orders terminating hazardous duty is other than the last day of a calendar month and that month's performance requirements have been met, the month's hazardous duty pay will be prorated per subparagraph 240203.B.
3. Parachute pay may not be paid beyond the last day of the calendar month for which requirements are met.
4. ADT includes annual training, special tours of ADT, school tours, and the initial tour performed by enlistees without prior military service.
5. HDIP entitlement for ADT includes time allowed for necessary travel from home to first duty station (See Chapter 1).
6. HDIP for IDT is paid per Chapter 58.

CHAPTER 25

SUBSISTENCE ALLOWANCES

2501 GENERAL

250101. Purpose

Each member of a uniformed service entitled to basic pay is entitled to Subsistence Allowances subject to the conditions set forth in this chapter.

*250102. Authoritative Guidance

The policies and requirements established by DoD for subsistence allowances in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 402. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

2502 BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR SUBSISTENCE (BAS)

250201. Eligibility

Upon completion of initial basic military training, unless otherwise restricted as described in paragraph 250203, a member becomes entitled to one of the following monthly BAS rates based upon their rank and circumstances.

A. Officer BAS. A single rate of BAS applies to all officers.

B. BAS for Enlisted Members. Enlisted members are entitled to one of the following BAS rates.

1. Enlisted BAS. Enlisted BAS is the monthly standard rate that is payable to enlisted members unless they qualify for, and proper authority approves, BAS II.

2. Enlisted BAS II. Enlisted BAS II is the monthly rate that may be payable to members on duty at a permanent station and assigned to single (unaccompanied) Government quarters, which do not have adequate food storage or preparation facilities, and where a Government mess is not available, and the Government cannot otherwise make meals available. The BAS II rate is twice the rate of standard enlisted BAS. BAS II may be paid to enlisted members of the Navy assigned to vessels in a pre-commissioning status or who otherwise meet criteria set forth in the Military Personnel Manual (MILSPERMAN) 7220-182. The Air Force has authorized payment of BAS II to members at specific locations.

C. Continuity of Enlisted BAS Entitlement

1. Enlisted members continue their existing BAS entitlement without interruption upon discharge or retirement, if reenlistment or recall to active duty is completed at the same station within 24 hours.

2. Enlisted members continue their existing BAS entitlement without interruption during weekends, holidays, administrative absence, pass, or liberty (not including leave).

*250202. Payment

A. Effective January 1, 2020, the rates for BAS are as follows:

1. Officers. The monthly BAS rate for officers is $256.68.

2. Enlisted. The monthly BAS rates for enlisted members are:

   a. Enlisted BAS (standard) – $372.71; and

   b. BAS II – $745.42.

B. Enlisted BAS in Specific Situations. The following policy will be used in determining whether BAS or BAS II applies in specific situations:

1. Enlisted BAS rates will be applied uniformly for all enlisted members under similar conditions permanently assigned to the same installation, station, base, or ship. The installation commander/commanding officer will ensure the uniform application of BAS rates for members under similar conditions, whether from a single Service or more than one Service. If there is conflict between Service directives that prevents uniform application of BAS, the commander/commanding officer will report the differences, through appropriate channels, to the Secretaries of the Military Departments concerned, who will confer to ensure uniform determinations on the authorized BAS rate.

2. Enlisted members on authorized leave (including proceed time, authorized delays enroute between duty stations chargeable as leave, and convalescent leave) are entitled to the standard enlisted BAS rate, regardless of the BAS rate authorized at their Permanent Duty Station (PDS).

3. Enlisted members performing Permanent Change of Station (PCS) travel (including Temporary Additional Duty or Temporary Duty (TAD/TDY)) enroute under orders away from their designated post of duty are entitled to the standard enlisted BAS rate, regardless of the BAS type authorized at their previous or subsequent PDS.

4. Enlisted members receiving BAS II at their PDS who are hospitalized or performing regular or permissive TAD/TDY (including field duty, sea duty, Essential Unit Messing (EUM), or members traveling together with limited or no per diem travel) under orders away from their PDS will revert to standard enlisted BAS for the period of hospitalization or absence from the PDS.
5. Enlisted members will be entitled to the standard enlisted BAS rate for any day they are under orders for leave or PCS travel. This includes the day of commencement and day of termination of the status under those orders.

6. Enlisted members who change BAS status at the direction or by permission of a commander, under blanket authority, or at the member’s request will have the entitlement change take effect at the beginning of the day specified in writing by the commander.

C. Advance Payments. Specific circumstances for advance payment of BAS are contained in Chapter 32, paragraph 320205.

D. Effect on Overseas Station Allowances. BAS is paid in conjunction with the overseas Cost-Of-Living Allowances (COLA) authorized by the Joint Travel Regulations.

250203. Restrictions

A. Military members are not entitled to BAS of any type under the following conditions:

1. When undergoing Basic Military Training, including initial officer training (Officer Candidate School, Officer Training School), except when the member has continuous prior enlisted service (active or reserve). Members will be subsisted-in-kind while attending initial basic military training;

2. When in an excess leave status;

3. When in an absent-without-leave status, in excess of 24 hours, unless the absence is excused as unavoidable;

4. When on an approved educational leave of absence not exceeding 2 years;

5. When a member with no dependents is training for, attending, or participating in Pan American games, Olympic games, or other specifically authorized international amateur sport competitions and the sponsoring agency subsists them during that period; or

6. When a court-martial sentence imposes forfeiture of pay and allowances.

B. Enlisted members are not authorized BAS II when a government mess is temporarily closed for less than 14 days.
250204. Government Provided Meals

A. A military member being paid BAS must pay for all meals or rations provided by or on behalf of the Government, except as provided in subparagraph 250204.B. This is a personal obligation of the individual. Meals or rations may be paid with cash tendered to the Government mess by the member or, under certain circumstances, the amount owed may be collected/deducted from the member’s travel per diem (a member under orders for EUM has no entitlement to subsistence travel per diem), or from the member’s pay account. When payment is made from a pay account, the payment is not considered a deduction from or reduction of the entitled BAS; rather it is a collection for a debt owed to the Government (see Table 25-1).

B. A member is not required to pay for meals provided while the member undergoes medical recuperation or therapy, or is otherwise in the status of continuous care, including outpatient care, at a military treatment facility for an injury, illness or disease incurred while the member was on active duty:

1. In support of Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, Operation New Dawn, Operation Freedom’s Sentinel; or
2. In any other operation designated by the Secretary of Defense as a combat operation or in an area designated by the Secretary as a combat zone.

C. Mandatory pay account collection may be imposed for enlisted members in certain situations. These are circumstances where it is not feasible to control dining access or collect cash due to operational constraints or where efficiency of operation requires collection for all meals. When a commander/commanding officer requires mandatory pay account collection, the collection will be made for all meals available, whether the meals are actually eaten or not. Mandatory collections are made day-for-actual-day, not on a 30-day month basis. Unless the member is receiving a per diem for subsistence, the collection will be at the discount meal rate.

1. Mandatory pay account collection may be required in the following situations:
   a. Field duty;
   b. Sea duty;
   c. Members traveling together with limited or no per diem travel;
   d. Accession Pipeline Military Training;
   e. EUM; or
   f. Essential Station Messing (ESM).
2. Mandatory pay account collection for meals does not apply to the following:

   a. Members on official leave, in a PCS status (including travel time and proceed time), in a military treatment facility, or on TAD/TDY other than TAD/TDY to another situation requiring mandatory pay account collection for meals. In these instances, pay account collections will be suspended or adjusted with a credit and the Government mess will be responsible for collecting from the member for any meals served.

   b. Members who have missed meals, as certified by the commanding officer/commander or their designee. Collections will be suspended or adjusted with a credit.

3. Pay account collections will be at 25-percent of the discount meal rate for the first and last day of assignment in situations requiring mandatory collection. A member transitioning directly between two mandatory meal collection situations will be treated as though the collection period were continuous and will not receive the 25-percent reduced charge for the transition. The 25-percent reduced meal charge does not apply for leave periods. Full collections will be made on the duty days before and after the leave period.

D. In circumstances other than those requiring mandatory pay account collection, members receiving BAS will pay for meals provided by or on behalf of the Government by using cash or by collection/reduction of subsistence per diem from their travel claims. Members on Joint Task Force operations under per diem travel orders usually will have the subsistence portion of their per diem withheld or deducted from their travel reimbursement as payment for meals provided in theater. Members deployed on regular TAD/TDY travel who receive deductible meals (meals at “no cost”) will have the subsistence portion of their per diem reduced as payment for meals provided by or on behalf of the Government.

E. The standard meal rate applies unless there is a specific exception allowing application of the discount meal rate. Members actually paid subsistence per diem for meals must pay the standard meal rate unless the per diem is withheld or disallowed as payment for the meals.

F. Members being subsisted by or on behalf of the Government, where no other collection means exists or where normal collections were not made, may have a collection for meals made through their pay account at the appropriate rate upon proper documentation for a debt owed to the Government.

G. Collections from individual pay accounts for meals and rations provided by the Government or on behalf of the Government will be credited to the appropriation specified by each Military Service.

250205. Specialized Terms

A. ESM. Messing declared by the installation, base, or station commander responsible for single Government quarters that is essential to operate the Government mess efficiently and economically, or that is necessary for the health and safety of enlisted personnel permanently assigned to single quarters. Those categories of enlisted members included in ESM will be charged for all meals made available whether eaten or not, except for approved missed meals.

B. EUM. Group messing that is declared by an appropriate authority to be necessary for operational readiness, military operations, or effective training where members are required to eat Government–furnished meals. Members will be in a travel status and are entitled to travel reimbursement for incidental expenses, but not for subsistence. Designation for EUM will apply only to organizational units and to operational elements and detachments, not to individual Service members. All members on duty under circumstances where EUM has been declared will be charged for all meals made available whether eaten or not, except for approved missed meals.

C. Sea Duty. Service performed in a self-propelled vessel with berthing and messing facilities that is in an active status, in commission, or in service. This term applies to members who are either permanent party or aboard for TAD/TDY. All members on sea duty, not a member of an authorized private mess, will be charged for all meals made available whether eaten or not, subject to approved missed meals.

D. Subsisted on Behalf of the Government. A condition in which meals or rations are furnished without charge by a Government contractor or a foreign government, or through a fellowship, grant, or intern program while a member is receiving basic pay, either under the terms of a contract or agreement or on a complimentary basis. Unless a member is entitled to be subsisted-in-kind, subsistence provided on behalf of the Government must be charged to the member.

E. Subsisted-in-Kind. Meals or rations furnished at no charge to members not entitled to BAS from a Government Mess or who are subsisted at no charge on behalf of the Government.

2503 FAMILY SUBSISTENCE SUPPLEMENTAL ALLOWANCE (FSSA)

250301. General Provisions

The FSSA program was established to supplement a member’s BAS to a level sufficient to remove the member’s household from or eliminate the need for benefits under the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), formerly known as the food stamp program. FSSA is payable at a monthly rate as determined by the Military Service concerned under the guidance provided by the Secretary of Defense and may not exceed $1,100 per month. FSSA is a nontaxable allowance payable in addition to, all other pays and allowances.

250302. Eligibility

FSSA is payable to any officer or enlisted member of the Armed Forces who meets all of the following criteria:
A. Is serving on active duty and receiving BAS;

B. Has a household income, including military income of the member, and any other household income that would make the member eligible for assistance under the USDA SNAP program for the member’s household size;

C. Has at least one person in the member’s household who is a military dependent;

D. Has made an application for and been certified at a specific payment level by the appropriate office; and

E. After September 30, 2016, is serving outside the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or Guam.

250303. Entitlement

FSSA is a monthly entitlement payable in whole dollar amounts not to exceed $1,100. It is not payable to any member, otherwise entitled, during periods in a non-pay status.

A. FSSA is payable in an amount that would bring the member’s household income to 130 percent of the Federal poverty line as established by the USDA.

B. For periods of less than a full month of entitlement, the FSSA is payable at 1/30 of the monthly amount for each eligible day served.

C. If an eligible member is receiving SNAP benefits, the amount of the FSSA entitlement will be equal to the calculated FSSA or the SNAP allotment, whichever is higher, not to exceed $1,100 per month.

250304. Military Income

A. For the FSSA Program, the following sources of revenue will be counted as military income:

1. Basic Pay;

2. BAS;

3. Basic Allowance for Housing or cash equivalent for those who are living in Government-provided housing;

4. Overseas Housing Allowance (OHA). When a Service member lives in Government quarters while stationed overseas, the amount of the housing allowance to count as income for that member is the OHA ceiling for the local area;
5. All bonuses. The monthly amount of military income attributable to a bonus will be the amount of the bonus, prorated over the period of time to which bonus is applicable; and

6. All special and incentive pays except those excluded in subparagraph 250304.B.

B. The following sources of revenue will not be counted as military income:

1. Hostile Fire Pay;
2. Imminent Danger Pay;
3. Continental United States COLA;
4. Overseas COLA;
5. Family Separation Allowance;
6. Clothing Allowances; and
7. All travel and transportation related allowances and entitlements.

250305. Application and Certification

Members must apply for the FSSA Program with the appropriate organizational element as designated by their respective Service. The appropriate Service organization will make all decisions regarding eligibility and the amount of entitlement and will provide final certification for payment to include the entitlement start date.

250306. Recertification and Termination

A. When any of the following events occurs, in order to avoid termination of FSSA, a member receiving FSSA must report the event to the Service certifying organization within 30 days for recertification of FSSA eligibility:

1. Member’s monthly household income increases by $100 or more;
2. Member’s household size decreases;
3. Member is promoted. The certification ends the day prior to the effective date of promotion;
4. Member executes a PCS move. The certification ends the day prior to the date the member officially reports for duty at the new duty station; and
5. Members are required to re-certify annually effective February 1 of each year.

B. Recertification must be completed in 30 days or less, before or after one of the events listed in subparagraph 250306.A, to maintain continuous qualification for the FSSA Program.

C. The effective date of recertification will be the day following the last day of the previous certification period.

D. If during recertification it is determined that the member’s gross household income increased by an amount greater than $100 more than 30 days prior to reapplication, the difference between the amount of the current entitlement and the amount being recertified (if less) will be recouped. The recoupment amount is calculated on a pro rata basis for each day, following the date the increased income exceeded $100 through the effective date of the recertification.

E. When a member’s eligibility is not timely recertified, eligibility for FSSA will be lost, and the date for termination of the entitlement will be the date of the event requiring recertification. An untimely recertification will be treated as an initial application.

NOTES:

1. Collections from an enlisted member’s pay account will be made when the member has not otherwise paid for meals provided by or on behalf of the Government (i.e., by cash, a personal check or charge, or by deduction/reduction of per diem). Collections from pay will be deducted from the member’s pay account and credited to the appropriation specified by the Military Service concerned.

2. For the prior year rates, see: Office of Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) website.

3. The discount meal rate applies to meals and rations provided by or on behalf of the U.S. Government to a member not paid per diem or other travel reimbursement for subsistence who is performing duty in a U.S. Government vessel, a U.S. Government aircraft, on maneuvers, war games, field exercises, or similar operations, or to members traveling together with limited or no per diem travel status under EUM or assigned ESM. The discount meal rate also applies to meals and rations provided to a member assigned to Joint Task Force operations (for other than training) at temporary U.S. installations, or through a temporary dining facility.

4. The standard meal rate applies to meals and rations provided to any member not authorized the discount meal rate. This includes any member being paid per diem for subsistence, except those on Joint Task Force operations as described in note 3. Generally, when the standard meal rate is applicable, it will be collected in cash from the member by the dining facility.

CHAPTER 26
HOUSING ALLOWANCES

2601 GENERAL

260101. Purpose

This chapter establishes policy pertaining to housing allowances. Housing allowances include Basic Allowance for Housing (BAH), Overseas Housing Allowance (OHA), and Family Separation Housing (FSH) Allowance. Entitlement eligibility is subject to the conditions set forth in this chapter.

260102. Authoritative Guidance

This chapter transitions policy previously cited in the Joint Travel Regulations (JTR), Chapter 10. Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 403 provides the statutory requirements for this chapter.

2602 INTRODUCTION

A Service member on active duty entitled to basic pay is authorized a housing allowance based on his or her grade, rank, location, and whether he or she has any dependents. A housing allowance generally is not authorized for a Service member who is assigned to appropriate and adequate Government quarters (see Section 2608 for Government quarters). If a Service member is on excess leave, neither BAH nor OHA accrues for any excess-leave period. If a Service member is absent without leave which is not excused as unavoidable, neither BAH nor OHA is authorized.

Table 26-1. Types of Housing Allowances

<tr>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 BAH</td>
<td>Paid for housing in the United States. The BAH rate is based on median housing costs and is paid independently of a Service member’s actual housing costs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2 BAH Differential (BAH-Diff)</td>
<td>Paid to a Service member assigned to single-type Government quarters and who qualifies for a BAH solely due to paying sufficient child support.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3 Partial Housing Allowance (BAH-Partial)</td>
<td>Paid to offset the raise that was reallocated from basic pay to housing between 1980 and 1981. It is paid when a Service member without a dependent is assigned to single-type quarters, or is on either field or sea duty, and not authorized to receive a BAH or an OHA. BAH-Partial is not authorized during proceed time, leave en route, and travel time on a permanent change of station (PCS) move unless the member is assigned to single type Government quarters and not authorized BAH or OHA. The rate is fixed from those years and does not change.</td>

<td>4 Transit Housing Allowance (BAH-Transit)</td>
<td>Paid while a Service member is in travel or leave status between permanent duty stations (PDS), provided the Service member is not assigned Government quarters. The BAH-Transit rate is paid during proceed time and authorized delays en route, including a temporary duty (TDY) en route.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5 BAH for Reserve Component (RC) Member (BAH-RC)</td>
<td>Paid when authorized for an RC member called or ordered to active duty for 30 or fewer days, except when called to active duty for a contingency. When an RC member is called to active duty for a contingency, even for tours of 30 or fewer days, he or she is authorized the BAH or OHA rate. The Secretary of Defense establishes BAH-RC rates.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6 OHA</td>
<td>Paid monthly to help offset housing expenses for a Service member or dependent authorized to live in private-sector leased or owned housing at an assigned overseas location outside the United States. OHA is based on cost reimbursement. The amount of OHA paid considers factors, such as whether the housing is shared, the appropriate utilities (see Section 2606), and whether the Service member owns or rents the housing. OHA cannot be paid if there is no rent or purchase expense for housing.</td>

</table>
| 7 FSH | Paid to a Service member with a dependent for added housing expenses resulting from one of the following:
  a. Separation from the dependent when a Service member is assigned to a PDS Outside Continental United States (OCONUS).
  b. An assignment in the Continental United States (CONUS) when dependent travel is delayed or restricted. |

260201. Definitions for Housing Allowances

A. Sharer. A sharer includes a Service member authorized an OHA or FSH-O allowance or any of the following individuals who reside with a Service member:

1. A civilian employee, including any dependents, authorized a Living Quarters Allowance (LQA). Department of State Standardized Regulations (DSSR), Section 130 (DSSR §130) or cost of living allowance (COLA) in a non-foreign location OCONUS (see OCONUS COLA).

2. Any other person, excluding a Service member’s dependent, who contributes money toward the payment of rent, mortgage, or utilities.
B. Owner-Owned Multiple Occupancy Dwelling. This is a duplex, triplex, or other type of multiple occupancy dwelling that is designed for separate private-sector housing units for more than one household. The units within the dwelling ordinarily have separate addresses or entrances. For OHA or FSH-O purposes, it would include a dwelling where the Service member and any dependents occupy a single separate unit within the dwelling and the other units are rented out.

C. Vicinity. The vicinity is the entire country, U.S. territory or possession, or state when in Alaska or Hawaii where the Service member’s PDS is located. When a Service member resides with a dependent and commutes to the PDS, the dependent is considered to be residing at or in the vicinity of the PDS even if in an adjacent country or state. However, if the Service member has to maintain separate households and maintaining separate households is authorized or approved through the Secretarial Process, a dependent is not residing in the PDS vicinity for FSH purposes. A commander may submit a request for determination through the appropriate channels to the applicable office listed in Table 26-2.

D. Government Quarters

1. Government quarters include:

a. U.S. Government owned or leased sleeping accommodations or family-type housing.

b. Lodging or other quarters obtained by U.S. Government contract.

c. Dormitories or similar facilities operated by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract.

d. Sleeping or housing facilities furnished by a foreign government on the Government’s behalf.

e. Quarters in a state-owned National Guard camp.

2. For BAH purposes, the term does not include privatized housing or transient facilities, such as temporary lodging facilities, guesthouses, hostess houses, or hotel-type accommodations built or operated by non-appropriated fund activities. Government quarters converted to privatized housing are no longer Government quarters.

E. Rental Charge. A rental charge is a fee for occupancy and does not include service charges for linens, cleaning, maintenance, or similar costs.

F. Primary Residence for RC Member. For an RC member ordered to active duty, the primary residence is the dwelling (e.g., house, townhouse, apartment, condominium, mobile home, houseboat, vessel) where the RC member resides before being ordered to active duty.

260202. Housing-Allowance Rates and Applicable Dates

A. Rates. The housing-allowance rates are each determined as specified in Table 26-3. Housing Allowances Rate Determinations

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Type</th>
<th>Applicable Rate Determination</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1 BAH     | a. The Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (OUSD (P&R)) determines adequate housing costs in a military housing area (MHA) for all Service members authorized BAH. OUSD (P&R) bases the determination for housing allowances upon the cost of adequate rental housing for civilians with comparable income levels in the same area.
  b. An adjustment in the BAH rates due to an OUSD (P&R) redetermination of housing costs in an MHA takes effect with the pay raise each year.
  c. An MHA is defined geographically by ZIP Code within the United States. Major military population areas are further identified by a combination of a two-digit code for the state and a three-digit numerical designation within the state. For small military population areas, ZIP Codes are aggregated into areas of similar housing cost and designated as county cost groups. |
| 2 BAH-Diff| The BAH-Diff is a fixed rate and is the difference between the with-dependent Basic Allowance for Quarters (BAQ) rate and the without-dependent BAQ rate as of December 31, 1997 based on the Service member’s grade and increased each year by the average pay raise percentage. |
| 3 BAH-Partial| The BAH-Partial rate is the difference in basic pay between the 1980 and 1981 reallocated pay raises and what those basic pay rates would have been without the raise reallocation. The rate is statutory and does not change. |
| 4 BAH-Transit| The BAH-Transit rate varies depending on the old PDS location and the housing allowance type received, unless a location-specific rate is payable. The default BAH-Transit rate is a fixed rate, which is the amount of BAQ on December 31, 1997, incremented by the average housing allowance increase each year. |
| 5 BAH-RC    | The BAH-RC rate for a period of active duty for a non-contingency operation of 30 or fewer days is a fixed rate, which is the BAQ amount on December 31, 1997, incremented by the average housing allowance increase each year. |
| 6 OHA       | a. OUSD (P&R) determines adequate housing costs in a locality for all Service members authorized OHA by location.
  b. OHA rate ceilings are calculated based on data provided by commanders OCONUS and actual rent data derived from pay systems.
  c. The PDS geographic location governs the OHA rate payable unless otherwise specified. See Overseas Housing Allowance (OHA) for how geographic locations are determined. |
| 7 FSH       | a. FSH-B is payable in a monthly amount equal to the without-dependent BAH rate for the same location applicable to the Service member’s grade and PDS.
  b. FSH-O is payable in a monthly amount up to the without-dependent OHA rate for the same location applicable to the Service member’s grade and PDS, and is computed under the same rules and conditions as OHA. |
B. Housing Allowance Start and Stop Dates. The authorizing document for OHA is the Department of Defense (DoD) DD Form 2367, OHA Report. Table 26-4 specifies the date to start BAH or OHA for a Service member with a dependent. Table 26-5 specifies the date to stop housing allowances based on changes in the status of a sole dependent. Table 26-6 specifies the date to stop BAH or OHA for reasons other than a change in the status of a dependent. Situations not covered in these tables are contained elsewhere in this chapter.

1. Start. Unless specifically authorized elsewhere in this Chapter, PDS housing allowance eligibility starts on a Service member’s reporting day to a new PDS. OHA starts on the day a Service member obtains private-sector housing. If the Service member is authorized a monetary allowance in lieu of transportation (MALT) plus per diem (MALT Plus) on the reporting day, OHA eligibility starts on the day after the Service member’s reporting day. When a home port change is involved, ordinarily a housing allowance based on the rate for the new home port starts on the effective date of the home port change.

*This applies to the sole dependent of a Service member. It applies to any dependent on whose behalf a Service member is authorized increased BAH or OHA. BAH or OHA starts with date of the Service member’s marriage even if the marriage occurs on same day as a divorce. When the biological parents of an illegitimate child marry, the child becomes a legitimate dependent for BAH or OHA purposes. Refer also to Table 26-28 and Table 26-29 for rules on when BAH and OHA start and stop when a Service member acquires a dependent.

2. Stop. Unless an extension is authorized or approved under paragraph 261002, or the PCS move is a close proximity move as specified in paragraphs 261001 and 261002, the OHA and the FSH-B or FSH-O allowances stop on any of the following:

   a. The day the Service member’s OHA, FSH-O, or FSH-B lease ends.

   b. The day before the Service member departs due to a PCS order.

   c. The day before the effective date a Service member’s assigned ship or unit changes its home port from OCONUS. However, a Service member without a dependent is authorized a housing allowance based on the old home port until the day the Service member moves back aboard the ship under all of the following conditions:

      (1) The Service member is undergoing a home port change.

      (2) The ship does not depart from the old home port before or on the home port change effective date.

      (3) Quarters on board the ship are not available (for example, because the ship is dry-docked).

2603 DETERMINING DEPENDENCY

260301. Dependent

A. Eligibility

1. A Service member’s lawful spouse and legitimate, unmarried, minor children are always dependents for housing allowance purposes, except as specified in this Section.
2. An unmarried minor child of an invalid marriage, or a marriage annulled as void or voidable, is a dependent for housing allowance purposes.

3. An incapacitated child over age 21, a ward of the court, or an unmarried child over age 21 and under age 23 who is attending college full time requires an “in-fact dependency,” as specified in Service regulations. The child is a secondary dependent and must be dependent upon the Service member for over one-half of the child’s support. The child’s income, not counting the Service member’s contributions, must be less than one-half of the child’s living expenses and the Service member’s contribution must be more than one-half of the child’s monthly living expenses.

B. No Authority on Dependent’s Behalf. A Service member is not authorized a housing allowance for any of the following:

1. A minor child entitled to basic pay as a uniformed Service member on active duty. This includes a minor child attending a military Service academy where the United States furnishes quarters.

2. A spouse on active duty in a Uniformed Service entitled to basic pay and allowances. See Section 2604 for housing allowances when two Service members married to each other are both entitled to basic pay and allowances.

3. A dependent for whom the Service member is no longer required to provide support.

4. A dependent for whom the Service member has not provided required proof of adequate support, when necessary as specified in paragraph 260303.

5. A dependent whom the Service member fails to support (see paragraph 260303).

6. A dependent whose whereabouts are unknown and whose absence and whereabouts remain unexplained.

7. A former spouse to whom the Service member is paying alimony.

8. A dependent who occupies Government quarters as a permanent residence without payment of a rental charge. See paragraph 260307 for an exception when the child is living with the Service member’s former or estranged spouse.

9. A child for whom the Service member pays child support and the following conditions exist:

   a. The child is in another active-duty Service member’s custody, including a former spouse, as specified in this Section.
b. The Service member with custody of the child is assigned to Government or Government-leased family quarters, or receives a with-dependent housing allowance on behalf of the child. This does not include privatized housing.

10. A child after adoption by a third party and the final adoption order or decree has been entered. When the Service member supports the child pending a final decree, authority for a housing allowance continues after an interlocutory decree of adoption has been entered if the decree does not change the legal relationship between the child and the Service member.

C. Spouse in Foreign Military. A Service member is authorized a housing allowance for a spouse in the military service of a government other than the United States. The Service member is authorized a housing allowance even if the foreign government furnishes a residence or pays a monetary allowance in lieu of a residence for the spouse.

260302. Determinations and Fraudulent Claims

Dependency must be determined before a housing allowance is authorized. After initial approval, the Services must maintain adequate levels of internal audit to assure the legality, propriety, and correctness of all housing allowance payments. See individual Service regulations for procedures.

A. Determinations. In determining relationship or dependency for housing allowance eligibility, the appropriate officials must apply the rules in this section. The Service Secretary or designee makes all determinations of relationships or dependency for a primary dependent. The designee may re-delegate. Otherwise, the Army disbursing officer or designee, the USAF Financial Services Office (FSO) or designee, and offices specified in this Section for the Navy and the USMC make determinations. The Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) determines relationships and dependency for secondary dependents and individuals whose status as a primary dependent is questionable for the Army, USAF, or Navy. The Commandant of the Marine Corps (CMC-MFP-1) determines relationships and dependency for secondary dependents and individuals whose status as a primary dependent is questionable for the USMC. Determinations for relationships or dependency for non-DoD Services is per Service regulations.

1. Dependent Status Certification. Upon arrival at a new PDS, each Service member authorized a housing allowance for a dependent must recertify the status of the dependent to the Secretary concerned to support a housing allowance on the dependent’s behalf. If a Service member fails to provide the certification, the housing allowance on the dependent’s behalf stops at the end of the month in which the certification is due. A housing allowance at the appropriate partial or without-dependent rate is paid unless the Service member is not authorized that allowance for some other reason. A housing allowance at the with-dependent rate is authorized effective the date the Service member provides proper certification. The higher rate is not retroactive unless the Service member’s commander certifies that the failure to recertify promptly was for reasons beyond the Service member’s control.
2. Dependency Re-determinations. Annual re-determination of dependency is required for a Service member who claims a housing allowance for any of the following dependents:

a. A parent, parent-in-law, stepparent, parent by adoption, or a person who serves in loco parentis.

b. A student 21 and 22 years of age.

c. An incapacitated child over age 21.

d. A ward of a court.

e. Any dependent of an RC member. The RC member must recertify the dependent’s status at least every 3rd year from the previous certification or when a dependent’s status changes.

C. Fraudulent Claims. Any Service member who submits a claim for a housing allowance that contains a false statement is subject to court-martial or criminal prosecution. Fraudulent acceptance of benefits may cause a civilian recipient to be subject to criminal prosecution. The law provides for severe penalties of imprisonment and a fine. For military personnel, it may include a punitive separation, total forfeitures, and confinement.

D. Marriage Status Determination. Any case in which the validity of a Service member’s marriage is questionable is a case of a doubtful relationship. This paragraph outlines different types of relationships where validity is doubtful for housing allowance purposes. Submit requests for determination on validity of a marriage in doubtful cases or for validation of payments as specified in Table 26-11.

1. Remarriage Within Prohibited Period Following Divorce. Under the laws of some states, a marriage is not dissolved until a specified period has elapsed after a divorce decree is granted, and remarriage is prohibited within the specified period. In all states that grant an interlocutory decree before granting a final divorce decree, remarriage may not occur before the final decree is granted.

2. Marriage by Proxy. Proxy marriages are valid if performed in a jurisdiction that recognizes common law marriages and has no statute or judicial determination prohibiting proxy marriages.

3. Marriage by Telephone. A marriage by telephone is recognized only if a statute or court decision authorizes or recognizes telephone marriages in the jurisdiction where the marriage was performed.

4. Common Law Marriages. Under laws of certain states, persons who do not obtain a license to marry or go through certain other formalities may enter into a common law marriage. Common law marriages entered into in those states are valid if they are contracted in accordance with state law.

5. Foreign Nation Divorce. A foreign nation divorce may or may not be recognized as valid in the United States depending on several factors. These factors include place of residence of the parties involved, whether they appeared in person to obtain the divorce, and applicable state laws. Any claim involving the remarriage of a Service member following a foreign nation divorce and any claim by, or on behalf of, the spouse from whom the Service member has obtained a foreign nation divorce are cases of doubtful relationship. A claim based on a Service member’s marriage to a person who has obtained a foreign nation divorce is also a doubtful case.

6. Void Marriage. If a Service member’s marriage is void, for example, due to a preexisting marriage of the spouse, the Service member has no lawful spouse and is not authorized a housing allowance at the with-dependent rate due to the purported marriage. When marriage invalidity is discovered, no further housing allowance payments at the with-dependent rate may be made. See Table 26-5 to determine when to stop housing allowance payments. The Service member may retain payments already received if they are validated under Chapter 12, for DoD Services or Service written material for non DoD Services. When validity of a marriage is questionable, submit the case to the office specified in Table 26-11 for a determination on the validity of the marriage and, if necessary, validation of payments already made.

7. Annulled Marriage. If a Service member’s marriage is annulled by a court decree, no further housing allowance payments may be made. The Service member may retain payments received before the effective date of the decree. Retention of payment in some annulment cases based on legal factors must be validated under Chapter 12, for DoD Services or Service written material for non-DoD Services. Submit all annulment cases to the office specified in Table 26-11 for review and, if necessary, validation of payments made.

Providing Support for Dependent

A. Proof of Support. Proof of support of a lawful spouse or unmarried, minor, legitimate child of a Service member is generally not required. However, when an appropriate office receives evidence or a complaint from a dependent of nonsupport or inadequate support, proof of adequate support is required as specified in this paragraph.

B. Non-support. A Service member who fails to support a dependent on whose behalf a housing allowance is received is not authorized a housing allowance on that dependent’s behalf. A Service member does not avoid the legal responsibility to comply with a court order for support by forfeiting a housing allowance. Housing allowances must be recouped for nonsupport or inadequate support periods. Subsequently paying support arrears does not authorize a Service member a housing allowance for the dependent unless one of the following caused the nonsupport or inadequate support:

1. The Service’s mission requirements.

2. Outside agencies’ actions determined by Service regulations to be beyond the Service member’s control.

C. Unstated Support Amount or Release from Support Responsibility. A legal separation agreement, court decree, judgment, or order that is silent on dependent support, does not state the dependent support amount, or absolves the Service member of dependent support responsibility does not affect a Service member’s housing allowance. This is true regardless of the jurisdiction in which the decree, agreement, or order was issued or of the dependent’s domicile. The Service member is authorized a housing allowance on behalf of a dependent if the Service member contributes to the dependent’s support in an amount that is not less than the applicable BAH-Diff rate.

D. Legal Separation Agreement or Court Order Stating Support Amount. When there is a court order or legal separation agreement stating the support amount, a Service member must contribute to the dependent’s support the amount specified. In no case may the support payments be less than the applicable BAH-Diff rate.

E. Joint Legal Custody. When a Service member is divorced from a person who is not a Service member, they share joint legal custody of a child, and the former spouse is awarded primary physical custody, then the Service member is a non-custodial parent for housing allowance purposes.

1. When the Service member’s court-ordered child support is less than the applicable BAH-Diff rate and the Service member is not residing in, or assigned to, Government quarters, the Service member is only authorized a housing allowance at the without-dependent rate.
2. When a Service member not assigned to Government quarters pays additional support to the former spouse who has primary custody of the child so that the total child support provided is equal to or more than the BAH-Diff rate, he or she is authorized a housing allowance at the with-dependent rate.

F. Temporary Custody. When a Service member has temporary custody of a child and they reside in a private-sector residence, the cost of maintaining the residence is not a factor in determining authority for the with-dependent housing allowance rate and may not be used instead of, or in addition to, child support to qualify for increased allowances. The dependent child must reside with the Service member on a non-temporary basis, which is a period of 91 or more consecutive days, for the Service member to qualify for the with-dependent housing allowance rate for the temporary period. The cost of maintaining a home may not be added to the amount of child support to qualify for the increased allowances.

G. Adequate Support. When a court order or legal separation agreement does not establish support requirements, a Service member must provide a support amount that is at least equal to the BAH-Diff rate applicable to the Service member’s grade. The support amount required to retain or receive a housing allowance for a dependent is not necessarily adequate to meet Service policies. The Service concerned may have additional requirements for support in the absence of a legal separation agreement or court order.

H. Increase in Support Required by Increase in BAH-Diff Rates. Whenever BAH-Diff rates increase, the minimum amount of dependent support required for housing allowance purposes increases to the new rate. A Service member receiving a housing allowance on behalf of a dependent must increase the amount of support within 60 days of the increase to continue receiving the housing allowance.

I. Settlement Agreement.

1. Property settlements made under a court order or written agreement are not considered support for housing allowance purposes.

2. Payments made under a settlement in place of support are considered support only for the period specified in the written agreement or court order.

3. A lump-sum settlement in place of support made under written agreement or court order is support for the period the lump sum would reasonably cover the dependent’s support.

J. Interlocutory Decree of Divorce. If an interlocutory decree of divorce does not provide for support to the former spouse, the Service member is not authorized a housing allowance for the former spouse after the date of the decree unless the Service member provides proof of support.
260304. Dependent Parent

A. Determination. A parent’s dependency is determined based on an affidavit submitted by the parent and any other evidence required under applicable regulations. A legal guardian may complete the form for a mentally incompetent parent. Table 26-13 specifies who determines a dependency relationship for the purposes of a housing allowance when the dependent claimed is a parent, including a person acting in loco parentis. If there is a question on whether the parent is or is not a dependent, then the authority in Table 26-13 submits a request through the appropriate chain of command to the authority in Table 26-11 or a dependency determination. When necessary, a request may be submitted through the appropriate chain of command to the Defense Office of Hearings and Appeals (DOHA) for a decision.

B. Dependency Requirement. A Service member is authorized a housing allowance on behalf of a parent who depends on the Service member for more than one-half of the parent’s support. The parent’s income, not counting the Service member’s contribution, must be less than one-half of the parent’s monthly living expenses and the Service member’s contribution must be more than one-half of the parent’s monthly living expenses. A parent’s residence in a charitable institution, public or private, does not prohibit the Service member from receiving a housing allowance for the parent when the following conditions are met as well as any other Service requirements:

1. Family Unit Rule. In determining a parent’s dependency, consider the total income and expenses of the family unit that includes the parent. Ordinarily, the Service member’s contribution to the expenses of the family unit must exceed one-half of its total expenses before any one person in the family unit can be considered dependent on the Service member. When application of the family unit rule results in manifest injustice, consider any other available evidence of dependency, and determination made according to principles of equity and good conscience.

2. Income. Unliquidated capital assets are not income, and parents are not required to deplete their capital assets to establish dependency on a Service member for housing allowance purposes. However, the following are considered income when determining whether a parent is dependent on the Service member:

a. Proceeds derived from the liquidation of capital assets.

b. Amounts placed in reserve for depreciation of property held for income ordinarily are available for a parent’s current living expenses.
c. Contributions made to a parent by a charitable organization.

d. Payments made to the parent from the Social Security Administration, unemployment compensation, and financial assistance from governmental agencies.

e. Pensions received by the parent.

f. Uninvested capital. If a parent has capital that is not invested, compute the income return at 5.25% a year.

C. Change in Dependent Status. If the parent becomes a dependent due to changed circumstances, and the Service member contributes over one-half of the parents’ support, a housing allowance is authorized from the date the contribution began. A Service member is authorized a housing allowance for any active-duty period when the parent is a dependent, whether the dependency occurred before or after the Service member entered service.

D. Stepparent. A stepparent or stepchild relationship ends upon divorce from the biological parent, but not necessarily upon the biological parent’s death. A housing allowance for a stepparent may be established after the biological parent’s death.

260305. Adopted Child, Stepchild, or Child Born out of Wedlock

An adopted child, a stepchild, and a child born out of wedlock are all considered primary dependents. As a result, a dependency determination is not required for these dependents.

A. Proof of Parentage. A Service member who claims a housing allowance for an adopted child, stepchild, or a child born out of wedlock must provide proof of parentage as follows:

1. For an adopted child, document showing the Service member is the child’s legal parent.

2. For a stepchild, a marriage license showing the Service member is married to the child’s legal parent and documentation showing that the Service member’s spouse is the child’s parent.

3. For a child born out of wedlock, a birth certificate with the Service member’s name cited is required. If the Service member’s name is not stated on the birth certificate or on a court order, obtain a signed affidavit of parentage (signed and sworn by a notary) from the Service member. If the child is not in the custody of the Service member parent, the case is treated as specified in the rules for BAH-Diff.
B. Support Requirements. A Service member may claim a dependent child, adopted child, stepchild, or out of wedlock child, for housing allowance purposes. The Service member is authorized a housing allowance if the Service member contributes to the dependent’s support and that support is at least equal to the applicable BAH-Diff. This includes a Service member authorized BAH-Diff and a Service member assigned to single-type Government quarters when the child is in the physical custody of another person.

260306. Child Living with Service Member’s Former Spouse

A. Former Spouse Married to Another Service Member

1. Child in Government Quarters. When a Service member’s child resides in Government quarters not assigned to the divorced Service member parent, that Service member is not authorized a housing allowance for the child.

2. Child not in Government Quarters. A housing allowance may not be paid for a child to both the stepparent and the natural parent at the same time. The natural parent has priority to a housing allowance for that child if providing adequate support.

B. Service Member Marries Someone Other than a Service Member. The Service member is not authorized a housing allowance for the child living with the former spouse. Subparagraph 261002.A.2 does not apply in the case of a Service member who is required to support a child in the custody of a former spouse when the Service member remarries and is assigned to or occupies family Government quarters.

C. Service Member Marries Another Service Member

1. The Service member is not authorized a housing allowance for the child living with the former spouse when the Service member remarries another Service member and is assigned to or occupies Government family type quarters. Subparagraph 261002.A.2 does not apply in the case of a Service member who is required to support a child in the custody of a former spouse when the Service member remarries another Service member and is assigned to or occupies family Government quarters.

2. A Service member is authorized a housing allowance for a child for whom the Service member is paying child support (59 Comp. Gen. 681 (1980)) if all of the following conditions are met:

a. The Service member is required to support a child in the custody of a former spouse.

b. He or she is married to another Service member with children born of this marriage.

c. The Service member lived in family-type Government quarters with the Service member spouse and children.
d. The Service member is assigned a permanent change of station (PCS) to a different PDS outside commuting distance.

e. The Service member’s current spouse—who is also a Service member—and children remain in Government quarters.

f. The Government quarters’ assignment is in or transferred to the remaining Service member’s name.

Note: This is based on the rule that a Service member’s housing allowances is determined independently of the uniformed spouse when the Service members are separated by orders and do not reside in the same household.

260307. Child Living with Service Member’s Former or Estranged Spouse

A. Former or Estranged Spouse is Service Member Assigned Family Government Quarters. When the Service member with custody of the child is assigned to, or occupies, adequate family-type Government quarters with the child while receiving child support, the Service member paying child support is not authorized a housing allowance for the child.

B. Former or Estranged Spouse in Family Government Quarters Visits Service Member. When a child who normally resides in family Government quarters with a Service member’s former or estranged spouse who is the custodial parent visits the Service member in a private-sector residence for 91 or more days, the visit is considered non-temporary. The Service member is then authorized a housing allowance for the child from the first day of the visit. If the visit is 90 or fewer days, a housing allowance for the child is not payable for any part of the visit.

260308. Dependent Confined in Penal or Correctional Institution

A. Housing Allowance Payable. Confinement of a Service member’s spouse or unmarried minor child in a penal or correctional institution does not affect the Service member’s authority for a housing allowance on the dependent’s behalf, unless any of the following conditions apply:

1. The Service member refuses to support the dependent.

2. The Service member has been relieved from supporting the dependent.

3. The period of confinement may extend beyond 5 years.

4. The case is otherwise doubtful.

B. Doubtful Cases. Submit doubtful cases or cases involving a sentence extending beyond 5 years to the addresses specified in Table 26-11. Do not pay a housing allowance on behalf of the dependent pending a decision.
2604 SERVICE MEMBER MARRIED TO ANOTHER SERVICE MEMBER

A. Dependent on Active Duty in a Uniformed Service. In accordance with 37 U.S.C. §421, a dependent who is on active duty in a Uniformed Service and is entitled to basic pay cannot be considered a dependent for housing allowance purposes.

B. One Service Member Enters a Non-Pay Status. When one Service member enters a non-pay status, the other Service member may claim the Service member not entitled to pay and allowances as a dependent and be authorized to draw BAH or OHA at the with-dependent rate for the duration of the non-pay status, if otherwise authorized, unless a dependent is confined in a penal or correctional institution (see paragraph 260308). A Service member may claim as a dependent a Service member on inactive duty for training (Reserve drills).

C. Service Member Serving on Sea Duty. See paragraph 261001 for two Service members married to each other when one or both are serving on sea duty.

D. BAH or OHA at the With-dependent Rate. When two Service members have a dependent, the Service members must choose which one will receive BAH or OHA at the with-dependent rate. If they cannot agree, then the senior Service member receives the with-dependent rate. The Service members may subsequently elect to transfer BAH authorization from one Service member to the other for any reason. Changes are effective as of the election date and may not be applied retroactively.

E. Child From a Prior Marriage or the Service Member’s Child Born out of Wedlock. When the dependent is a child from a prior marriage or the Service member’s child born out of wedlock, the two Service members may elect for the Service member with a dependent to receive BAH or OHA at the without-dependent rate when not occupying single-type Government quarters and the other Service member to receive BAH or OHA for stepchildren as specified in paragraph 260305. A Service member in a TDY status would maintain the BAH in effect at the PDS while in single-type Government quarters at the TDY location.

F. Other Housing Allowances. Other housing allowance paragraphs in this chapter (e.g., FSH, Service member on unaccompanied tour, BAH rate protection) also apply to a Service member married to another Service member.

260401. Both Service Members Married to Each Other Entitled to Basic Pay

A. Family-Type Quarters. When Service members married to each other jointly occupy family-type quarters, neither Service member is authorized BAH or OHA, even if no dependent resides in the quarters, unless a dependent is prevented by a military order from occupying quarters.

B. Separate Households. When both Service members maintain separate households at or in the vicinity of their PDS or PDSs, each is individually authorized BAH or OHA. Only one Service member may receive BAH or OHA at the with-dependent rate. When both Service members no longer share a common residence due to military orders, their authorization for increased allowances or assignment to Government quarters should be determined separately without regard to the general rule that all dependents of Service members are in the same class for the purpose of determining housing allowance authorizations. Each member is required to have physical custody of a dependent if both members are claiming a housing allowance authorization at the with-dependent rate. See paragraphs 260303 and 260403 for BAH or OHA for divorced or legally separated Services members.

C. Same or Adjacent Military Installations. Both Service members are considered to be stationed at the same or adjacent bases, or shore installations, when they are not prevented by distance from living together or they actually commute on a regular basis regardless of distance.

1. Each Service member is usually authorized BAH or OHA at the appropriate rate when family-type quarters are not assigned, notwithstanding the availability of adequate single quarters for either or both Service members.

2. When both Service members are authorized BAH or OHA at the same or adjacent military installation and are then separated geographically by orders, the Service member remaining at the old PDS ordinarily is authorized BAH or OHA continuation regardless of the availability of adequate single quarters.

D. Without-dependent. When neither Service member has other dependents and both are prevented by distance from living together, each is usually treated as a Service member without a dependent for BAH or OHA.

260402. Other Dependents

A. Dependent Parent. When one of the two married Service members is receiving a housing allowance at the with-dependent rate, the class of dependents includes either Service member’s parent. Only one Service member is authorized a housing allowance at the with-dependent rate or BAH-Diff for the one class of dependents when the Service members are assigned to the same or adjacent bases.

B. Dependent Parent or Child from Previous Relationship. When one or both Service members are authorized housing allowances for a child from a previous relationship or on behalf of a dependent parent, and the Service members marry and are stationed in the same area, all children and dependent parents of either Service member are the same class of dependents. Therefore, only one housing allowance at the with-dependent rate (including BAH-Diff) is payable. Any child born of their marriage, or adopted by them, is within the same class of dependents for housing allowances purposes.

1. If one Service member elects to stop receiving a housing allowance at the with-dependent rate, then the other Service member may claim the children for housing allowance purposes. A relationship determination is required, but ordinarily a dependency determination is not. In all instances of a Service member having a spouse on active duty, full details must be given showing the spouse’s full name, Social Security number, duty station, and branch of Service.
2. This does not apply to two Service members living together but not married. Two unmarried Service members living together are each authorized a housing allowance based on each Service member’s dependents.

260403. Dependent Custody Effects on Housing Allowances

A. Divorce or Legal Separation. The following rules apply when a divorce or separation occurred, or a decree or agreement was amended and the divorced or separated parents are both Service members. These rules apply in addition to those in paragraph 260303 and only when neither Service member is assigned to family-type Government quarters, unless otherwise specified.

1. Unless both Service members agree to the contrary, the custodial parent is authorized a housing allowance for the child, regardless of the child-support amount received by that Service member. In addition to the court order, a separate notarized agreement between the Service members must be provided for the non-custodial Service member to receive a housing allowance for the child.

2. When each Service member has legal and physical custody of one or more of the children of the marriage, each Service member is authorized a housing allowance for the children in their individual physical custody, regardless of child-support payments from one Service member to the other.

3. When a child of the marriage is in a third party’s custody, only one Service member is authorized a housing allowance for the child, even if both Service members are paying sufficient child support to qualify for the housing allowance. The senior Service member is authorized a housing allowance for the child when the two Service members do not agree on which person claims the authorization. If the Service members are of equal rank, date of rank determines which one receives a housing allowance for the child.

4. In joint legal custody cases, when physical custody changes from one parent to another, each parent is authorized a housing allowance for the child during those periods the child is actually in that parent’s physical custody.

5. When a non-custodial Service member pays child support to the custodial parent who also has another dependent who makes the Service member eligible for a housing allowance, there is a presumption that the custodial parent’s authorization is based on the dependent other than the child of the marriage. The housing allowance authorization for the custodial and non-custodial parents is determined individually.

6. When the dependent is no longer in one class, the housing allowance authorization for the custodial and non-custodial parents is determined individually. For example, if the non-custodial parent pays child support to a non-active duty parent for a child from a previous marriage or non-marriage relationship, the non-custodial parent may qualify for a housing allowance based solely on the basis of the Service member’s child support for the child (see paragraph 260301).
B. Voluntary Support Payments. Voluntary support payments must not be considered to determine housing allowance authorization unless there is a mutual agreement between the Service-member parents that the custodial Service member parent accepts the support payments.

2605 BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR HOUSING (BAH)

260501. BAH Rate Protection

The monthly BAH amount paid to a Service member must not be reduced due to changes in housing costs in the MHA, changes in the national monthly housing cost, or a Service member’s promotion. The BAH rate for an RC member is also protected, provided the RC member does not have a break in active service of 1 or more calendar days. This includes transitions in service status from Active Guard Reserve (AGR) duty to other active duty and back to AGR duty, or beginning a new active duty order or order extension without a break in active service. If the Service member is demoted or loses authority for BAH, then the Service member’s BAH rate protection at the current amount stops when the eligibility to BAH for a given MHA or County Cost Group (CCG) ends. The current BAH rate at the current duty location becomes the Service member’s new protected BAH rate.

260502. BAH Advance

A. Authority. Each Service must set regulations for advance BAH payment administration to include the preparation and disposition of vouchers and supporting papers. When allowed by Service regulations, a Service member’s commanding officer, his or her designee, or another designated official may authorize an advance BAH payment to pay advance rent, security deposits, or initial expenses due to occupying other than Government housing. An advance may also be authorized at any time during a Service member’s tour at the location concerned or when a Service member has relocated due to a PCS order. The Secretary concerned or the Secretary’s designee may authorize an advance BAH payment in circumstances and conditions other than those specified in this paragraph. Service regulations must set repayment procedures for advances made under special circumstances.

B. Timing. Ordinarily, the advance should not be disbursed more than 3 working days before the date payment under the lease or rental agreement must be made. In extenuating circumstances, the officials listed in this Chapter may authorize disbursement more than 3 working days before the date payment must be made. The BAH advance may be paid before or after the expenses occur. A Service member must request the advance payment within 30 days after incurring the expense.

C. Requirements. Housing expenses must be documented. Required documentation includes copies of the lease, utility company statement, and any other pertinent documentation necessary to support the housing expenses.
D. Amount. The advance amount is determined by the Service member’s current BAH rate, his or her ability to repay the advance, other advances of pay that may have been made, and any recurring pay deductions. The BAH advance is limited to a total of 3 months BAH that the Service member is expected to accrue. Expenses identified by a Service member used to purchase any real estate or living accommodations must not serve as a basis for authorizing or determining the amount of the advance.

E. Repayment. Repayment of the advance should be at a rate of at least one-twelfth of the amount advanced in equal monthly installments for the next 12 months. Collection action should begin on the 1st day of the month after the advance payment has been made.

1. When justified by the Service member and authorized by the Service member’s commanding officer, his or her designee, or another Service-designated official, start of collection action may be postponed for up to 3 months after the advance is made. Repayment may be spread over a period of more than 12 months, but must be limited to 24 months or the Service member’s scheduled tour at the location concerned, whichever is shorter.

2. Action must be taken immediately to recoup in a lump sum any BAH advance that the landlord has returned to the Service member upon receipt of information that the Service member has vacated the housing for which the advance was made. If the Service member chooses, he or she may repay in monthly installments any balance of an advance not returned by the landlord. The balance must be repaid during the months remaining on the existing loan repayment schedule.

B. Navy Barracks Privatization Test. Under the authority in 10 U.S.C. §2881a, the Navy is conducting a limited test of barracks privatization. The privatized barracks are defined as Government quarters for the purposes of the test. For a Service member occupying privatized barracks, a special BAH-Partial rate equal to a percentage of the PDS locality BAH at the without-dependent rate for the Service member’s grade is established. Table 26-15 specifies the applicable locations and percentages.

260504. BAH Differential (BAH-Diff)

A Service member assigned to single-type Government quarters or a single-type housing facility under a uniformed Service’s jurisdiction is not usually authorized more than BAH Partial. However, if the Service member is authorized BAH solely due to paying child support and the Service member is paying an amount equal to or greater than BAH-Diff, then he or she is authorized BAH-Diff. A Service member is not authorized BAH-Diff if the child support payment is less than the Service member’s applicable pay grade BAH-Diff amount. See paragraphs 260306, 260307, and 260403 if child is in the custody of another active duty member.
260505. Temporary BAH Increase

The Secretary of Defense may prescribe a temporary increase in BAH rates in an area the President declared as a major disaster area or at an installation that experienced a sudden increase in the number of assigned Service members. Payment of the higher BAH is only effective for an MHA or specified ZIP Codes within a county cost group. This authority expires December 31, 2019.

A. Eligibility. A temporary increase in BAH rates results in two different BAH rates for Service members assigned to the same ZIP Code. To receive the higher of the two BAH rates, a Service member must certify to the Secretary concerned that he or she incurred higher housing costs in an approved area due to a major disaster or sudden increase of military personnel assigned to an installation. The certification must be in a form acceptable to the approval authority. The Service member’s certification must document rent, or mortgage expense in the case of a homeowner, and utility expenses.

B. Approval. The approval authority is at a level specified through the Secretarial Process. If the total housing expense—rent or mortgage plus utility expenses—from the Service member’s certification is less than the existing BAH rate, no increase is authorized. If the total housing expense from the Service member’s certification is higher than the BAH rate during that time, then the Service member is authorized the increased rate effective the approval date of the MHA for an increased rate or the date the Service member started incurring the increased expenses, whichever is later.

C. Locations. Locations approved for a temporary BAH rate increase are listed in Table 26-16.

E. Termination. The increased allowance is paid through the day before the effective date of the next standard BAH rate change for the area. The new standard BAH rate applies on the effective date. There is no rate protection for temporarily increased rates.

2606 OVERSEAS HOUSING ALLOWANCE (OHA)

260601. OHA Overview

OHA is designed to cover actual rental costs for 80% of the assigned Service members. A Service member is reimbursed actual rental costs, limited to the maximum OHA rate for each locality and grade. OHA is not intended and must not be used for the personal enrichment of a Service member by including costs incurred for procuring or adapting a residence to accommodate renters or for vacation purposes. Disciplinary action may apply when housing allowances are used for other than the purpose intended.

A. OHA Types. There are two housing-allowance types paid under OHA—an upfront, lump sum (MIHA) for those who qualify and a monthly OHA, which includes a utility and recurring maintenance allowance.

B. Requirements. A Service member authorized to live in private-sector leased or owned housing is authorized OHA provided a DD 2367 is completed and approved. Payment of OHA requires a lease agreement or a verifiable purchase price. The senior officer of the Uniformed Services in the country concerned, or the individuals or offices designated for that purpose by the senior officer has approval authority.

1. The reported housing must be the actual residence that the Service member occupies and from which the Service member commutes to and from work daily. If a Service member is assigned on an unaccompanied tour or has a Secretarial waiver and is authorized OHA for a dependent who lives separately, the reported housing must be the actual residence that the Service member’s dependent occupies.

2. When a Service member is required to pay monthly rent at a specified fixed-exchange rate (dollar equivalency contract) for the lease duration because it is required by law or local custom, the Service member’s commanding officer, or designee, must enter the following statement in DD 2367 (Part C Remarks: “Dollar equivalency contract required. No other housing option available to the Service member.”) The Service member must enter the monthly rent equivalent in U.S. dollars into DD 2367 block 5b.
C. Monthly OHA Allowance. An OHA paid monthly includes the rental allowance and the utility and recurring maintenance allowance as specified in paragraphs 260602 and 260603.

D. MIHA. See (MIHA). The MIHA/Miscellaneous is an upfront, lump sum payment based on the average move-in costs for a Service member. The four payment types of MIHA are specified in Table 26-23.

E. Allowance Payable. OHA rates are based on a Service member’s PDS except as otherwise indicated in this chapter. OHA is not payable on the arrival day when MALT Plus is paid. Unless a special determination jointly issued by the Secretary concerned and the OUSD (P&R) authorizes a different rate due to special circumstances, the amount of OHA payable is as specified in this chapter.

F. OHA Unique Expenses. In some locations OCONUS, Service members incur housing expenses for items that are not incurred in the CONUS. Since not every Service member incurs these expenses and they vary in amount, do not occur monthly, and are significant, such expenses cannot be made a part of the utility and recurring maintenance allowance calculation. For these expenses, payment is a dollar for dollar reimbursement for a specifically authorized expense at designated authorized locations. Only the locations and expenses specified in Table 26-18 are authorized OHA unique expense reimbursement.

1. Criteria. A mandatory and excessive housing expense incurred periodically must meet all of the criteria mentioned to be authorized as an OHA unique expense eligible for reimbursement. The Secretary concerned or Secretarial Process, at Service discretion, may reimburse OHA unique expenses for the locations and specific expenses specified under this criteria. Each individual mandatory and excessive expense must meet all of the following criteria and be:

   a. Incurred by Service members receiving OHA at a duty station.

   b. An item or expense that exceeds 1% of spendable income for the typical Service member.

   c. An item or expense that is not purchased or paid by Service members based in the CONUS.

   d. Required by law.

   e. Authorized or approved by the Service Compensation representatives for reimbursement. These expenses must be verified by a valid receipt and paid on or after the effective date for the specific locations in Table 26-18. No expenses paid before this date can be reimbursed.

2. Submission. OUSD (P&R) does not accept requests from individual members for OHA unique expense authorization. All requests for specific expenses at specific locations must be forwarded through the Major Command level, then through the applicable Service representative to OUSD (P&R).

G. OHA Responsibilities. Commanders OCONUS, or their designees, must periodically provide data required for authorizing, changing, and terminating OHA for each locality OCONUS within their jurisdictions as specified by the OUSD (P&R). See Station Allowance Reporting Procedures and Responsibilities for the responsibilities of the Overseas Command or Commander, Senior Officer, and Country Allowance Coordinator.

260602. OHA Determining Monthly Rent

Monthly rent is the amount paid each month by a Service member for possession and use of private-sector housing, to include a mobile home or boat.

A. Determine Rent. The rent stated in the lease, or as otherwise agreed to by the landlord and the tenant in a written document, must be used in computing the OHA. The cost of parking at the duty location is not included in rent. The following rules apply for determining rent:

1. A recurring condominium or homeowner association fee paid by the Service member is prorated to a monthly charge and incorporated into the Service member’s rent.

2. A sharer’s monthly rent is determined by dividing the total monthly rent by the number of sharers occupying the dwelling.

3. In an arrangement by which a Service member pays rent in advance and the landlord agrees to reimburse the Service member all or substantially all of the rental money at the end of the lease agreement, the amount of rent used in computing a Service member’s OHA is zero.

4. If a Service member or dependent jointly occupy a dwelling with relatives or friends who own the dwelling, the rent amount is zero, even if there is a lease or written document. This restriction does not apply when the Service member or dependent leases lodging from a relative or friend with a bona fide, standard written lease, when the relative or friend concerned does not jointly occupy the leased dwelling and the relative or friend regularly rents the lodging involved. There is no authority to pay MIHA or the utility and recurring maintenance allowance when living with relatives or friends.
5. The cost of a separate lease for parking at or in the vicinity of the private-sector housing is added to the housing lease amount in determining his or her total rent.

6. See subparagraph 260602.C for a dwelling owned by a Service member.

B. Sharers. A sharer is authorized up to the maximum rental allowance set for a Service member without a dependent unless accompanied by one or more dependents (see Table 26-19). A sharer accompanied by a dependent is authorized up to the maximum rental allowance set for a Service member with-dependents.

1. Compute the authorized OHA for each sharer by adding the sharer’s prorated share of the rent paid or the maximum rental established for the sharer’s grade and locality, whichever is less, and the prorated monthly utility and recurring maintenance allowance.

2. A Service member authorized MIHA/Miscellaneous (see paragraph 260605) receives a full rather than prorated allowance. Only one sharer may claim reimbursement for any individual rent, security, or infectious-disease related expense.

3. A renter living in a completely separate unit of an owner-occupied multiplex dwelling owned by another Service member is not a “sharer,” and OHA is determined as if the renter occupied an unattached unit.

C. Private-Sector Housing Owned

1. Divide the actual purchase price—not an appraised value—of the private-sector housing by 120 to derive the monthly calculated “rent” for a private-sector dwelling owned by a Service member. Settlement costs, fees for title search, other legal and related costs are not included in determining the actual purchase price.

2. The amount of any personal installment-type loans and real estate equity loans obtained for renovating or repairing the current dwelling place are added to the actual purchase price before determining the rent.

   a. For this purpose, renovating means restoring to a previous condition, as by remodeling, and repairing means restoring to a sound condition after damage or injury, including fixing, setting right, renewing, or refreshing.

   b. A loan used to furnish or decorate the home—including such things as the addition of a hot tub or pool to a home purchased without such an amenity—or a loan for personal reasons, including a credit card or line of credit loan must not be used.

   c. To determine the monthly OHA rental equivalency when adding a loan described in this paragraph, add the loan amount to the original verifiable purchase price, divide the new total by 120, and the new “rental equivalency” starts from the loan start date.
d. The Service concerned must adjudicate loans. The Service member’s command should submit the request with all documentation through the appropriate channel specified in Table 26-2.

3. If a Service member or the Service member’s dependent inherits a dwelling or residence or otherwise receives it without purchasing it, the dwelling or residence purchase price is $0. In this case, the Service member is authorized to receive the utility and recurring maintenance allowance. If a Service member obtains a mortgage on the inherited dwelling or residence specifically for home improvements or takes out a loan to pay inheritance taxes on the residence or dwelling, the mortgage or loan cost may be used as an OHA housing cost.

4. If the dwelling is a multiplex unit owned by a Service member, the allowance claimed is based on the percentage of the multiplex unit’s square footage occupied by the Service member and dependent. The allowance equals the purchase price multiplied by that percentage and divided by 120. Renters of other units within the multiplex unit are not sharers.

5. If the Service member-owned dwelling place is a mobile home or boat, the monthly lot rental or berthing fee paid is added to this amount.

D. Maximum Rental Allowance. Use the Overseas Housing Allowance Calculator (OHA Calculator) to obtain the maximum amount of monthly rent considered. Maximum OHA rental allowances for each locality are based on reported actual rental cost data for Service members with-dependents residing in private-sector housing. If utilities are included in the rent, see paragraph 260603. See the OHA computation steps for calculation examples.

E. Rent Changes. Re-compute OHA if and when the rent changes.

260603. OHA Utility or Recurring Maintenance Allowance

A. Monthly Allowance. When rent does not include utilities or the Service member is a homeowner, the Service member is authorized the utility and recurring maintenance allowance. The utility and recurring maintenance allowance for each OHA locality is based on the with-dependent reported expenses for Service members who pay all or a majority of their utilities. It covers the utility costs for 80% of the Service members assigned to an area. It is paid to sharers on a prorated amount of the net allowance. It is paid to a Service member without a dependent, who is not a sharer, at 75% of the with-dependent rate.
B. Rent Includes All or Some Utilities. If any or all of the OHA utility component is included in the rent, then the amount is withheld from the utility and recurring maintenance allowance and then added to the Rental Allowance component before comparison with the Service member’s actual rent.

1. A Service member is not authorized the utility and recurring maintenance allowance when rent includes all utilities. However, when computing the OHA, the appropriate utility and recurring maintenance allowance is added to the Service member’s rental allowance.

2. When rent includes some utilities, the utility and recurring maintenance allowance is paid on a percentage basis. The locality climate code and the utility point score determine the percentage of the utility and recurring maintenance allowance that the Service member is authorized. However, when computing OHA, the amount for which the Service member is not authorized is added to the appropriate rental allowance ceiling.

   a. Locality climate codes are specified on each OHA locality table. The three climate codes are:

   (1) Code 1 (Cold). Long-term mean temperature of 45 °F or colder.

   (2) Code 2 (Moderate). Neither Code 1 nor Code 3.

   (3) Code 3 (Hot). Long-term mean temperature of 69 °F or warmer, except when the long-term mean for 1 or more months of the year drops to 45 °F or colder. In such instances, a climate code of 2 is assigned.

   b. Table 26-20 specifies the correct climate code to credit the Service member with appropriate points for each utility or service that is not included in the rent. Add the numbers to get the Service member’s total utility point score.

| 2          | Using the appropriate locality table, find the rental allowance for the Service member’s specific locality code and grade. For a Service member without-dependent, multiply the with-dependent rate by 90 percent. If rent includes:
  a. all utilities (block 7b checked on DD 2367), add the full utility and recurring maintenance allowance to the maximum rental allowance.
  b. some but not all utilities (block 7c checked on DD 2367), add the amount computed in Step 3 to the maximum rental allowance. |
| 3          | Locate the utility and recurring maintenance allowance from the locality table. Use the rules specified in paragraph 260603 to determine the utility amount allowed based on the amount of utilities included in the rent, if any. Rent includes:
  a. all utilities (block 7b checked on DD 2367). The Service member receives no separate utility and recurring maintenance allowance; however, this allowance is added to the rental allowance determined in Step 2.
  b. no utilities (block 7a checked on DD 2367). A Service member with a dependent who is not a sharer receives the full utility and recurring maintenance allowance. A Service member without-dependent who is not a sharer receives 75% of the with-dependent utility and recurring maintenance allowance. A sharer, with or without a dependent, receives a prorated share of the utility and recurring maintenance allowance.
  c. some utilities (block 7c checked on DD 2367). Determine the “Climate Code” from the applicable OHA locality table. Use the “Climate Code” and “Utility Point Score” tables to determine the percentage of utility and recurring maintenance allowance payment. The amount the Service member does not receive is added to the maximum rental allowance determined in Step 2. |

260605. Move-in Housing Allowance (MIHA)

A. General. MIHA exists to defray the move-in costs associated with occupying private-sector housing covered under the OHA program, whether leased or owned. MIHA is not payable to a Service member occupying Government or Government-leased housing. MIHA does not cover move-out costs. In most cases, a Service member authorized OHA is authorized MIHA. See (MIHA) for how to complete DD Form 2556, MIHA Claim. That form must accompany MIHA/Rent, MIHA/Security, or MIHA/Infectious Disease-related expenses. Various OHA Surveys are sent to Service members in private-sector leased housing to document utility and move-in expenses.

B. Rules and Information

1. To be authorized a MIHA, a Service member must be eligible for OHA.

2. An eligible Service member is authorized MIHA for one dwelling during a tour at a PDS unless a Government-funded local move occurs and the Service member occupies another dwelling covered by OHA.

3. There is no MIHA under any of the following circumstances:

   a. A local move would otherwise initiate a second or subsequent MIHA payment request unless that move is Government funded.

   b. A Service member complies with a PCS order but remains in the same dwelling, including an RC member called or ordered to active duty who is authorized OHA based on the primary residence at the time called or ordered to active duty.

   c. A Service member moves from Government quarters to private-sector housing for separation or retirement (see JTR, Chapter 5, Section 0519).

4. The four MIHA payment types are described in Table 26-23. See (MIHA) for qualifying areas and additional rules.

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| 2 MIHA/Rent         | Homeowners are ineligible. MIHA/Rent covers all reasonable rent-related expenses. These are fixed, one-time, nonrefundable charges levied on behalf of the landlord or a foreign government that the Service member must pay before or upon occupying a dwelling. All unreasonable expenditures, as determined by the AO, must be disallowed. The following are not included in MIHA/Rent:
  a. Expenses deferred until lease termination, such as a real estate agent fee, a redecoration fee if paid up-front, or a one-time lease tax.
  b. Advance rental payments, refundable deposits, or recurring costs. |
| 3 MIHA/Security     | MIHA/Security covers reasonable security related expenses for a Service member assigned to an area where dwellings require modification to minimize terrorist or criminal threat. See MIHA-Security locations. |
| 4 MIHA/Infectious Disease | Effective December 7, 2016, MIHA/Infectious Disease covers reasonable upgrades to the physical dwelling to prevent the spread of infectious disease, such as window or door screens, when the dwelling requires modification to minimize exposure to medical threats related to mosquito-transmitted diseases. See MIHA for MIHA Infectious Disease locations. |

5. Sharer Eligibility. Each Service member classified as a sharer and authorized MIHA is authorized the full MIHA/Miscellaneous allowance. Only one sharer may claim the individual expense for MIHA/Rent, MIHA/Security, and MIHA/Infectious Disease. Acceptable claims for MIHA/Rent, MIHA/Security, or MIHA/Infectious Disease must include DD 2556 proper documentation, and detailed receipts for all expenditures.

C. MIHA/Miscellaneous Expenses. The purchase price of an item included in Table 26-24 is generally authorized for the MIHA/Miscellaneous component of the OHA unless an item is purchased with the intent to ship it from the present PDS. An item intended to be shipped is not reportable. These expenses are associated with items necessary to make housing habitable. Table 26-24 lists the vast majority of reportable expenses, and also lists certain expense items that are not reportable. These lists are not exhaustive, but contain the vast majority of items commonly contained in each group.

260606. OHA Advance Payment

See Rental Advances for detailed information on areas with rental advance protection under OHA. Rental payments should be made on a month-to-month basis whenever possible to avoid the need for rental advances.

A. Authority

1. Advance Rent of Fewer than 4 Months, Security Deposits, or Initial Expenses. The Senior Officer in-country, or his or her designee, may authorize an advance OHA payment to pay advance rent, security deposits, or MIHA-related expenses due to occupying private-sector housing. The advance may be made at any time during the Service member’s tour. It also may be authorized when a Service member has located housing due to a PCS order.
Personal preference is not grounds for authorizing advance rent payment. Advance OHA is not authorized for lease arrangements in which the Service member lives rent free after making a one-time payment to the landlord with the anticipation that the rental amount is to be completely or substantially refunded at lease termination.

2. Advance Rent of 4 or More Months

   a. Rental advances of at least 4 months, but no more than 12 months, may be made only for the locations authorized by OUSD (P&R). Once OUSD (P&R) authorizes and lists a location for Rental advances, the Senior Officer in-country, or his or her designee, may authorize individual requests. Requests for approval are considered if the requirement for the advance rent exists for any of the following reasons:

   (1) Law.

   (2) Local custom for everyone, including local nationals.

   (3) Economic or market conditions preclude availability of secure housing, as confirmed by the U.S. Embassy.

   b. Requests to add locations must be submitted through the Country Senior Officer or Command as instructed in the Station Allowance Reporting Procedures and Responsibilities.

B. Amount. The amount to be advanced must be determined based on housing expenses, including advance rent and a security deposit, and the authorized OHA. Housing expenses must be documented. Expenses identified by a Service member for purchase of real estate or living accommodations must not be considered. The Service member’s ability to repay the advance must be considered in determining the advance amount. While the amount to be advanced should not exceed the estimated OHA total for 1 year, a larger amount may be authorized if needed to cover anticipated housing expenses. In no case may the advance payment exceed either of the following, whichever is less.

   1. Anticipated housing expenses.

   2. OHA anticipated to accrue for the Service member’s tour at that PDS.

C. Repayment

   1. Repayment Within 12 Months. Monthly repayment installments should be at a rate of one-twelfth of the amount advanced over 12 months. Collection action should begin on the 1st day of the month after payment of the advance.
2. Postpone Collection Start. When justified by the Service member and authorized by an official designated by the Service concerned, the collection start may be postponed for up to 3 months after the advance. Repayment may be spread over a period of more than 1 year, but must be limited to the Service member’s tour at the PDS.

3. Advance Rent Repayment Postponement Until the Service Member Vacates Housing. An official designated by the Service concerned may postpone repayment of advance rent until the Service member vacates the housing for which the advance rent was paid if earlier repayment would create an excessive economic burden.

4. Security Deposit Repayment Postponement Until the Service Member Vacates Housing. An official designated by the Service concerned may postpone repayment of the entire amount of a security deposit of $500 or more until the Service member vacates the housing for which the security deposit was paid if earlier repayment would create an excessive economic burden.

5. Recouping Lump Sum Returned by Landlord. Action to recoup in a lump sum of any OHA advance that has been returned to the Service member by the landlord must be taken immediately upon receipt of information that the Service member has vacated the housing for which the advance was made. Any balance of an advance not returned by the landlord may be repaid in monthly installments, if desired by the Service member, over the balance of the months remaining on the Service member’s existing loan repayment schedule.

6. Currency Fluctuation Effects. The Service concerned absorbs any loss due to currency fluctuations when liquidating advance security deposits. The Service member must pay to the Service any gains due to currency fluctuations. These currency protection procedures for security deposits apply without regard to the provisions for protection of rent advances in subparagraph 2606.06.D.

7. Pay System Reporting of Monthly Rent. In countries in which rate protection for advance rent has not been implemented the monthly rent entered in the respective pay system should be entered in U.S. dollars when a Service member has taken an advance for rent.

D. Advance Rent Currency Rate Protection. Rate protection may be provided for certain countries that have undergone a significant currency fluctuation. Countries previously authorized OHA Rental Advance Protection continue to have rent protected locality codes in the OHA Calculator until all previously protected Service members either permanently change stations or change quarters. Currency rate protection for additional advances is calculated using the exchange rate in effect at the time the new advance is paid. In countries in which rate protection for advance rent has been implemented, monthly rents for an advance rent are processed in dollars. See Service regulations for currency fluctuation loss or gain procedures. Rate protection is accomplished by comparing the OHA rate with the exchange rate in effect at the time the Service member received the advance with the greater of either of the following:

1. The rental allowance in effect at the time of the advance.
2. Any higher rental allowance implemented during the repayment period of the advance.

260607. Service Member Occupying a Government Trailer or Rental Guarantee Housing and OHA

Unless otherwise specified in this chapter, no housing allowance is payable to a Service member occupying housing constructed under the Rental Guarantee Housing Program as authorized in Section 302 of the Act of July 14, 1952, (66 Stat. 622) or Government trailers purchased under Section 408 of the Act of September 1, 1954, (68 Stat. 1126), or any other statute.

260608. OHA and Living Quarters Allowance (LQA) (DSSR §130) Paid Concurrently

A Service member is entitled to OHA at the with-dependent rate even if the Service member’s dependent spouse receives a LQA. Direct questions pertaining to LQA to the spouse’s Civilian Personnel Office (CPO) or Civilian Personnel Advisory Center (CPAC). Volume 7A has no authority to determine or control eligibility or entitlement of LQA for a civilian employee. See DSSR §130, and the Department of Defense Instruction (DoDI) 1400.25, Vol. 1250, Civilian Employee Overseas Allowances and Differentials.

260609. Observer to a UN Peacekeeping Organization

A Service member permanently assigned as an observer to a UN peacekeeping organization who receives a UN mission subsistence allowance, known as mission per diem, is also authorized a housing allowance under this Chapter. The housing allowance amount, when added to the UN mission subsistence allowance, cannot exceed the housing allowance of a Service member permanently assigned to other than a UN Peacekeeping Organization in the same area. This paragraph does not authorize a reduction in the UN mission subsistence allowance.

2607 FAMILY SEPARATION HOUSING (FSH) ALLOWANCE

FSH is payable to a Service member with a dependent for added housing expenses resulting from separation from the dependent. The separation must be caused by a Service member’s assignment on military or uniform orders to either a PDS OCONUS on an unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour or a PDS in the CONUS to which concurrent travel has been denied.

260701. Administration of FSH Allowance

A. Eligibility. For FSH to be payable, all of the following conditions must be met:

1. Dependent transportation to the PDS is not authorized at Government expense under 37 U.S.C. §476.

2. Dependent does not reside in the PDS vicinity.
3. Government quarters are not available for assignment to the Service member.

B. Allowances

1. There are two types of FSH: FSH-B and FSH-O.

   a. FSH-B is payable for an assignment at a PDS in Alaska or Hawaii or to a PDS in the CONUS to which concurrent travel has been denied. FSH-B is payable in a monthly amount equal to the without-dependent BAH rate applicable to the Service member’s grade and PDS. Payment starts upon submission of proof that Government quarters are not available and that the Service member has obtained private-sector housing.

   b. FSH-O is payable for an assignment at a PDS outside the United States. FSH-O is payable in a monthly amount up to, and under the same conditions as, the without-dependent OHA rate applicable to the Service member’s grade and PDS. OHA rules for determining monthly rent, utility and recurring maintenance allowance, MIHA, and advances apply to FSH-O.

2. A Service member may not be paid FSH-B or FSH-O in any of the following situations:

   a. The Service member’s only dependent is entitled to active duty basic pay.

   b. The Service member has no dependents other than a dependent for whom he or she is paying child support, but the Service member does not have legal custody and control of that child. This situation is fundamentally different from a Service member who has a spouse or children. A Service member with a spouse or any children is authorized transportation of any dependents, but the nature of the tour or the PDS location prevents dependent transportation to the PDS. A Service member who has a dependent solely due to child support is not eligible for transportation of that dependent under 37 U.S.C. §476, because the Service member does not have custody and control. The ineligibility for transportation, as opposed to a tour or location denial, prevents payment of FSH.

   c. The Service member is assigned to a PDS in the CONUS where concurrent travel is authorized.

   d. The Service member elects to not occupy available assigned Government quarters and resides in a private-sector residence for personal convenience.

   e. FSH-O or FSH-B is not authorized if all of the Service member’s dependents reside in the PDS vicinity. If some, but not all, of the dependents voluntarily reside near the PDS, FSH-O or FSH-B continues.

3. FSH-O or FSH-B continues uninterrupted while a Service member’s dependent visits at or near the Service member’s PDS, but not to exceed 90 continuous days.
Circumstances must clearly show that the dependent is not changing residence and that the visit is temporary and not intended to exceed 90 days.

a. If, for unforeseen reasons, such as due to illness or other emergency, a bona fide social visit lasts 91 or more days, FSH-O or FSH-B stops at the end of the 90-day period. FSH-O or FSH-B is authorized again on the day that the dependent departs from the PDS.

b. If one or more, but not all, dependents visit for longer than 90 days and the Service member is authorized a with-dependent housing allowance on behalf of the dependents who are not visiting or do not reside in the vicinity of the Service member’s PDS, then he or she is authorized FSH-O or FSH-B.

2608 GOVERNMENT QUARTERS

Assignment to Government quarters affects a Service member’s eligibility for BAH. A housing allowance, other than BAH-Partial or BAH-Diff, is not authorized for a Service member who is assigned to Government quarters appropriate to the Service member’s grade, rank, or rating and adequate for the Service member and dependents, if any.

260801. Responsibility for Assignment or Termination

A. Assignment or Termination of Government Quarters. The commander responsible for the Government quarters has the authority to assign and terminate the assignment. The commander also determines when quarters are adequate and suitable for assignment based on appropriate directives. Government quarters or housing facilities under the Uniformed Services’ control are considered to be assigned, suitable, and adequate whenever occupied by a Service member at the PDS without payment of rental charges. This includes under any of the following conditions:

1. When an organization or institution furnishes quarters to a Service member without charge on behalf of the United States.

2. When a foreign government furnishes quarters to a Service member without charge for the Service member’s official use.

3. When the quarters, furnished to a Service member without charge, are jointly assigned to one or more Service members without a dependent.

B. Voluntarily Vacating Assigned Quarters. A Service member is still considered to be assigned to Government quarters when he or she voluntarily vacates assigned quarters without the installation commander’s approval. A Service member in pay grade E-7 and above, without a dependent, may elect not to occupy assigned quarters unless denied permission by the Secretary Concerned.
C. Family Type Quarters

1. A Service member married to another Service member are both considered assigned to Government quarters when all of the following apply:
   a. Both are stationed at the same or adjacent installations.
   b. Both are able to reside in Government family quarters.
   c. Government family quarters are assigned to one of the Service members.

2. However, if there is a separation agreement, pending divorce, or marital discord that requires one Service member to obtain alternative private-sector housing, to be authorized a housing allowance the Service member not occupying family quarters must obtain a statement from the installation housing officer that Government housing is not assigned.

D. Quarters Assignment Date for Housing Allowance. A housing allowance continues to accrue through the day before a Service member is assigned Government quarters or begins to occupy Government quarters at the PDS.

E. Quarters Termination Date for Housing Allowance. Housing allowance accrues from the date the assignment to Government quarters ends or the date that quarters are vacated.

260802. Government Quarters Assigned or Occupied

A. Government Quarters Adequacy. The Commander responsible for the Government quarters determines their adequacy and appropriateness for assignment.

B. Quarters not Designated as Family-Type Quarters. A Service member who is not assigned to and does not occupy Government quarters is authorized a housing allowance for a dependent even if the dependent occupies Government quarters not designated as family-type quarters. Examples of such quarters include:

   1. Dormitory quarters occupied by a Service member’s child at a school for dependents of military personnel.

   2. A hospital room occupied by a dependent under 10 U.S.C. §1077, Dependents Medical Care Act. However, a Service member is not authorized a housing allowance when the dependent is hospitalized under the Dependent’s Medical Care Act and the Service member is assigned to and occupies Government quarters while the dependent is hospitalized even though private quarters are retained.

   3. Off-base housing or private-sector housing occupied by the Service member’s civilian spouse due to employment overseas with the DoD Education Activity (DoDEA) as a schoolteacher. The Service member must be separated from the spouse by official orders.
C. Quarters Furnished on Behalf of the United States. A Service member is not authorized a housing allowance for a dependent if the Service member and dependent is furnished adequate family-type quarters without rental charge. Examples of such family-type quarters include:

1. Quarters furnished to a Service member in an official capacity by a foreign government.
2. Quarters furnished by a state, county, municipal, or privately owned hospital to an officer serving on active duty as an intern or resident physician.
3. Quarters furnished by a college, university, or research facility as part of a fellowship, scholarship, or grant.

D. Quarters Occupied by Dependent. A Service member furnished single-type quarters is not authorized a housing allowance for any of the following:

1. A spouse who is a sole dependent and is furnished quarters in kind as a civilian employee at a Government hospital.
2. A spouse who is a sole dependent and is furnished Government quarters while serving with the American Red Cross overseas.
3. A sole dependent who is a student nurse in training at a Government hospital. However, a housing allowance is payable on behalf of a dependent who is a student nurse in training at a civilian hospital.
4. A civilian spouse who is a sole dependent and is furnished Government quarters while assigned overseas with DoDEA as a schoolteacher.
5. A dependent who occupies Government housing facilities and is evacuated to a safe haven. See subparagraph 260802.F for an exception when the Service member must continue to pay for private-sector housing.
6. Any dependent, if one or more of the Service member’s dependents occupy the quarters with the Service member on a permanent basis for more than 90 days, unless another dependent is officially prevented from residing with the Service member.

E. Rental Quarters (Other than Inadequate Quarters). A Service member and a dependent who occupy the following facilities on a rental basis are authorized a housing allowance.
1. Any housing facilities, including trailers, under the Government’s jurisdiction other than Government quarters constructed or designated for occupancy without charge. The Service member may sublease such quarters with or without charge to a temporary sublessee and neither the sublessor nor a Service member sublessee loses the right to a housing allowance.

2. A hotel on the grounds of a Service Academy. A Service member is authorized BAH while renting quarters in a hotel on the grounds of a Service Academy.

3. Quarters furnished to a Service member for service in a capacity other than that of a Service member.

F. Quarters at Safe Haven Temporarily Occupied by Dependents

1. A Service member is authorized a housing allowance for a dependent when both of the following occur:

   a. The Service member’s dependent occupies Government provided housing at a safe haven area after emergency evacuation from private-sector housing at the PDS.

   b. Due to conditions beyond the Service member’s control, the Service member is required to continue rent payment for the private-sector housing to keep the furnishings and belongings in the private-sector housing and to have housing available upon the dependent’s return.

2. This authority continues until a dependent is authorized to return to the Service member’s PDS or the dependent arrives at a designated place as specified in the JTR, Chapter 6.

G. Lease on Private-sector Rental or Leased Housing. When a Service member makes a local move from private-sector rented or leased housing to Government housing, a housing allowance is not payable for the remainder of the lease on the private-sector housing even though the Service member is required to honor the lease.

H. Limitation on Quarters Occupied by Service Member

1. When adequate quarters are not furnished for a Service member’s dependent, the Service member is not authorized BAH or OHA if the Service member occupies Government quarters that exceed the minimum standards for his or her grade “without-dependent.” This applies either at the PDS or TDY location unless the quarters are the only quarters available and either of the following conditions apply:

   a. The quarters are not suitable for joint occupancy.

   b. If suitable for joint occupancy, the quarters are jointly occupied with another Service member permanently assigned to the PDS.
2. This limitation does not apply to a Service member on medical hold or holdover personnel receiving outpatient medical treatment who have been designated as requiring a live-in non-medical attendant. The Service determines the housing standards for such personnel based on medical condition, treatment, non-medical attendant, and other relevant factors.

I. Additional Room Assigned to Chaplain. Assignment of an additional room to a chaplain for spiritual purposes does not affect the Service member’s authority for BAH or OHA. The chaplain must use the room for official duties and not as living quarters.

260803. Government Quarters Designated as Inadequate

A. Housing Allowance Authority. A Service member with-dependents may be assigned Government quarters designated as inadequate on a rental basis without loss of BAH. This does not apply to bachelor officer quarters, visiting officer quarters, guesthouses, and similar type facilities, or to assigned Government quarters undergoing ordinary repairs. An order stating that quarters were inadequate while repairs were being made cannot serve to authorize BAH during the period involved.

B. Effect of Subleasing Inadequate Government Quarters. The Service member may share the Government quarters with others or permit occupancy by others while on leave. The Service member may also sublet the Government quarters on a rental basis without loss of BAH, regardless of the amount of rent.

C. Rental Charge for Inadequate Government Quarters. The authority controlling the inadequate Government quarters establishes the procedures for collecting rent from the Service member at the Government quarters’ fair rental value. The rental charge for the Government quarters must be its fair rental value, limited to 75% of the Service member’s with-dependent BAH rate (see 10 U.S.C. §2830). The rental charge is independent of the amount and type of BAH paid to the Service member.

D. Effective Date of BAH and Rental Charge. BAH and rental charge begin on the date of the Service member’s assignment to such Government quarters or on the date the determination of inadequacy is effective, whichever is later.

E. Computation of BAH and Rental Charge. BAH and the rental charge are computed on a 30-day month basis and prorated at one thirtieth of the monthly rate for each day inadequate Government quarters are assigned. BAH is not paid for, nor is rent charged, for the 31st day of a month. When inadequate Government quarters are assigned on February 28, pay 3 days’ BAH and charge 3 days’ rent. Rent is not charged for the day the assignment ends; however, BAH accrues for the termination day.

F. Inadequate Government Quarters Re-designated Adequate. Rental charges and BAH end on the date rehabilitated inadequate Government quarters are re-designated as adequate Government quarters. If the Service member’s assignment to inadequate Government quarters continued during the rehabilitation period, the adequacy re-designation is effective the 1st day of the month following the month in which the rehabilitation was completed.
G. Two Service Members Married to Each Other—Each Authorized BAH. When two Service members married to each other jointly occupy inadequate family quarters on a rental basis, see section 2604 to determine their respective BAH rates. The rental charge for the Government quarters must be the assigned inadequate family-type Government quarters’ fair rental value, but must never exceed 75% of the with-dependent BAH rate that would be payable to a Service member of the same grade and rank as the Service member under whose eligibility the Government quarters are assigned. The BAH paid to the respective Service members does not affect the rent amount charged, even if a Service member is receiving BAH at the with-dependent rate. BAH is collected as specified in Service procedures. For inter-Service marriages, the rental charge is collected as specified in the procedures of the Service furnishing the Government quarters.

2609 PRIVATIZED HOUSING

“Privatized housing” is defined as housing units on or near a military facility in the United States or its territories and possessions that are acquired by or constructed by private persons under the authority of 10 U.S.C. §2871–§2885. The Service Secretary determines which privatized housing is suitable for use as military family housing. Each Service member occupying privatized housing is authorized a housing allowance in the same manner as a Service member not assigned to Government quarters. See subparagraph 260503.B for the Navy Barracks Privatization Test.

2610 ASSIGNMENT SITUATIONS

261001. Service Member Without-dependent

A Service member without a dependent entitled to basic pay is authorized BAH or OHA in the situations specified in Table 26-26 and as otherwise specified in this paragraph. Ordinarily BAH or OHA is based on the service member’s PDS and paid when adequate Government quarters are not provided at the PDS.

A. Service Member Away from PDS. A Service member away from the assigned PDS may occupy Government quarters designated for a Service member without-dependent at the TDY location without affecting the Service member’s authority to receive BAH or OHA or to be assigned quarters at the Service member’s PDS. Under such circumstances, a Service member may not occupy Government quarters that exceed the minimum standards specified for a Service member of that grade “without-dependent,” unless they are the only quarters available and are available for joint occupancy with other Service members. This limitation does not apply to a Service member who is on medical hold or is receiving outpatient medical treatment and has been designated as requiring a live-in non-medical attendant. The Service determines the housing standards for these personnel based on medical condition, treatment, non-medical attendant, and other relevant factors.
B. Government Quarters. A Service member is not authorized BAH or OHA if assigned or occupies Government Quarters suitable and adequate for the member’s grade at the PDS. Government Quarters occupied without payment of rental charges are deemed assigned as appropriate and adequate quarters. When not assigned to Government quarters at the PDS, BAH or OHA accrues while in a duty or authorized leave status not due to PCS. BAH or OHA continues if temporary Government quarters are occupied.

C. Service Member TDY. A Service member on TDY (including permissive travel) when no PCS is involved, is authorized to continue to receive BAH or OHA if authorized prior to the TDY. For a Service member below grade E-7 on a TDY without a PCS involved, authority for BAH or OHA does not exist during the TDY if quarters are assigned or furnished at the PDS, even if the quarters are vacated at the beginning of the TDY. BAH or OHA does not accrue if assigned quarters at the PDS.

D. PCS Between PDSs in Proximity. Ordinarily a housing allowance is paid based on the Service member’s PDS or the home port for a Service member assigned to a ship or afloat unit.

1. The Service may instead pay a housing allowance based on the old PDS rate in a situation involving a low or no-cost move. The determination of whether to base the housing allowance on the old PDS because it is inequitable to base it on the new PDS is made by the Secretary concerned or through the Secretarial Process.

2. When a Service member is ordered on a PCS between PDSs located in proximity to each other, housing allowances continue when the Service member continues to commute from the residence occupied while at the old PDS. The housing allowance continues from the time between the Service member’s detachment from the old PDS and reporting to the new PDS, unless otherwise prohibited in this Chapter.

3. If a Service member is reassigned under the conditions of a low-cost or no-cost PCS and is not authorized an HHG move, the housing allowance is based on the old PDS under the following conditions:

   a. The Service member requested the old PDS housing allowance.

   b. The Service-selected decision process determines that it would be inequitable to base the Service member’s allowances on the housing cost in the Service member’s new PDS area.

E. Service Member in Grade E-7 or Above not on Sea Duty. A Service member without a dependent in grade E-7 or above may elect at any time not to occupy Government quarters at the PDS and is authorized BAH or OHA unless the Secretary concerned or designee has determined that the Service member’s exercise of this option would adversely affect a training mission, military discipline, or readiness.
F. Service Member in Grade E-6 not on Sea Duty. A Service member without a dependent in grade E-6 assigned to inadequate Government quarters or to a housing facility under the jurisdiction of a Uniformed Service that does not meet DoD adequacy standards, may elect to not occupy such quarters and receive BAH or OHA instead. The Secretary concerned, or the designee, may deny BAH or OHA on determining that the Service member’s exercise of this option would adversely affect a training mission, military discipline, or readiness.

G. Service Member on Sea Duty. A Service member assigned on permanent duty to a ship ordinarily has Government Quarters available aboard that ship. The Secretary Concerned may determine that a ship or class of ships is inadequate for berthing a member in home port, in which case the ship or class of ships is not available as Government Quarters for housing allowance purposes. When quarters aboard a ship, deemed adequate for berthing, become temporarily unavailable due to maintenance or damage, Government Quarters are no longer available onboard the ship. The Service concerned provides guidance on payment of housing allowances or alternate berthing procedure for ships that become temporarily unavailable for berthing.

1. A Service member without a dependent in grade E-6 or above assigned to permanent sea duty aboard a ship may elect to not occupy assigned shipboard Government quarters and receive BAH or OHA. A Service member in pay grade E-6 or above is authorized to receive BAH or OHA after reporting to a deployed ship or afloat unit.

2. A Service member without a dependent in grade E-5 assigned to permanent sea duty aboard a ship cannot elect to not occupy assigned shipboard Government quarters and receive BAH or OHA. Under Service regulations, the Secretary concerned may authorize BAH or OHA to a Service member without a dependent who is serving in grade E-5 and is assigned to sea duty. When preparing regulations under this paragraph, the Secretary concerned must consider Government quarters availability for a Service member serving in grade E-5.

3. A Service member without a dependent in grade E-4 assigned to permanent sea duty aboard a ship cannot elect to not occupy assigned shipboard Government quarters and receive BAH or OHA. Under Service regulations, the Secretary concerned may authorize BAH or OHA to a Service member without a dependent who is serving in grade E-4 and is assigned to sea duty. When preparing regulations under this paragraph, the Secretary concerned must consider Government quarters availability for a Service member serving in grade E-4.

4. A Service member married to another Service member who is in a pay grade below E-6 is authorized BAH or OHA if assigned to permanent sea duty.

261002. Service Member With-dependent

A. Authorized BAH or OHA. Except for a Service member paying child support and assigned to Government quarters, a Service member with a dependent, who is entitled to basic pay is authorized BAH or OHA at the with-dependent rate when any of the following conditions are met:

1. Adequate Government quarters are not furnished for the Service member and dependent without a rental charge payment.

2. Adequate Government quarters are not furnished for the Service member’s dependent, or not all of the Service member’s dependents are authorized to occupy Government quarters assigned to the Service member. This does not apply when the child is living with the former spouse and the Service member has remarried.

3. A dependent is not en route or does not accompany the Service member to the PDS, or the PDS vicinity, which prevents assignment of family quarters. This situation does not prevent the Service member from receiving BAH or OHA for a dependent.

4. A single or divorced Service member who maintains legal and physical custody of a child before receipt of a PCS authorization or order to an unaccompanied tour may continue to be paid BAH at the with-dependent rate for the last PDS, or designated place, as specified in this paragraph. The divorce decree must state the specific period during which the Service member has legal and physical custody. BAH at the with-dependent rate is authorized only for the period the Service member would have the custody of the child if not serving on the unaccompanied tour. The Service member must, for military necessity, place the child in the physical custody of a relative or caregiver designated by the Service member, to be authorized BAH or OHA at the with-dependent rate.

5. A Service member, classified as with-dependent for housing purposes solely because the Service member is paying child support, is not authorized a housing allowance other than BAH-Diff if he or she is assigned to Government quarters or both of the following apply:
a. The Service member is assigned to sea duty in a grade above E-3.

b. The Service member is authorized to and does not occupy the assigned, unaccompanied Government quarters by choice.

B. Location Rate. Ordinarily a housing allowance is based on the Service member’s PDS, or the home port for a Service member assigned to a ship or afloat unit. However, the Service may determine that a Service member’s assignment to a PDS, or the circumstances of that assignment, requires a dependent to reside separately. Authorization or approval of a housing allowance based on the dependent’s location or old PDS is through the Service Secretary or through the Secretarial Process.

1. Low or No-Cost Moves. A Service may pay BAH or OHA based on the old PDS rate in situations involving low or no-cost moves and for situations in which the Service member and dependent are residing separately. The determination of whether it is inequitable to pay BAH or OHA based on the new PDS is through the Secretarial process. When a Service member is ordered on a PCS between PDSs located in proximity to each other and continues to commute from the residence occupied while at the old PDS, BAH or OHA continues from the time between the Service member’s detachment from the old PDS and reporting to the new PDS, unless otherwise prohibited in this Chapter. A Service member ordered on PCS with TDY, or leave en route is authorized BAH or OHA based on the old PDS during that period. If a Service member is reassigned under the conditions of a low-cost or no-cost PCS and is not authorized an HHG move, BAH or OHA may be based on the rate for the old PDS if both the following conditions are met:

a. It was requested by the Service member.

b. The decision of whether it would be inequitable or not to base the allowance on the housing cost in the new PDS area to which the Service member is reassigned, is determined through the Secretarial Process.

2. Unaccompanied or Dependent-Restricted Assignment OCONUS

a. BAH or OHA is based on the old PDS in a situation in which the Service member is making a PCS to a dependent-restricted or unaccompanied assignment OCONUS and the dependent remains at the Service member’s old PDS.

b. If the dependent of a Service member assigned to an unaccompanied tour moves to a designated place, the Service member is authorized BAH or OHA based on the dependent’s location. Payment based on the old PDS is not authorized.

3. Location Rate Changes. Location rate changes may be routinely authorized or approved when a Service member is:

a. Assigned to a PDS in an area at which sufficient housing quantities do not exist.
b. In receipt of a PCS order to a unit with a promulgated change of home port and dependents relocate to the announced home port (or authorized designated place in the United States) before the effective date of the home port change.

c. Assigned to “unusually arduous sea duty” and a dependent resides at or relocates to a designated place in the United States.

d. Assigned to or is in receipt of a PCS authorization or order to a ship entering overhaul involving a home port change and his or her dependent is not relocated due to the home port change.

e. Disadvantaged due to reassignment for reasons of improving mission capability and readiness of the unit, in receipt of a PCS authorization or order between PDSs located in the same proximity, and disallowed HHG movement. A determination must be issued through the Secretarial Process that implementing this policy in the interest of correcting an inequity incurred due to movement of the Service member for purposes of improving mission capability and unit readiness.

f. Assigned to an intermittent TDY or a TDY pending further orders.

g. Assigned to a Professional Military Education or training course that is scheduled for a duration of 1 year or less.

4. Multiple Dependent Locations. In instances when dependents are in multiple locations, the Service member must designate the dependent’s primary residence. The housing allowance rate is based on this primary residence.

5. Ship or Home Port

   a. A Service member assigned to duty aboard a ship or other afloat unit is authorized a with-dependent allowance when supported by a statement of the Service member’s commanding officer, or an officer designated by the commanding officer. The statement must specify that the dependent has established a residence at or in the home port vicinity. The applicable with-dependent allowance is payable even though the Service member is quartered in kind aboard a ship with his or her afloat unit. The rate payable is the rate applicable to the ship’s or afloat units’ home port.

   b. Change the housing allowance to the new home port rate on the effective date of the home port change if the Service member is currently assigned to, or is in receipt of a PCS order to a ship or other afloat unit with an announce home port change and his or her dependent is authorized travel to the new home port.
6. Other Circumstances. The Secretary concerned may determine that other circumstances may require a dependent to reside separately from the Service member and authorize or approve a housing allowance payment based on either the dependent’s location or the old PDS. If the Secretary concerned determined that an additional reason for a BAH or OHA waiver was acceptable, the Secretarial Process may then be used to authorize or approve individual cases based on that determination.

C. During Leave, Travel Status, Separation, and Other Situations. Table 26-27 and paragraph 261010 specify BAH or OHA accrual for a Service member entitled to basic pay with a dependent. In Table 26-27, the phrase “due to a PCS” refers to whether or not the Service member is en route to a new PDS under a PCS authorization or order.

261003. Service Member with Acquired Dependent

When a Service member acquires a dependent, for example, through marriage, birth, or adoption, a with-dependent housing allowance is authorized as of the date the dependent is acquired.

A. PDS in the CONUS. When the Service member is assigned to a PDS in the CONUS, the housing allowance is authorized based on the PDS. He or she may request through the Secretarial Process a housing allowance based on the dependent’s residence location. Table 26-28 specifies the changes in BAH or OHA when a Service member acquires a dependent while assigned in the CONUS.

B. PDS OCONUS

When a Service member is assigned at a PDS OCONUS and the dependent does not reside at or near the PDS OCONUS, the housing allowance is based on the dependent’s location. If the dependent does reside at or near the PDS OCONUS, the housing allowance is based on the PDS OCONUS.

261004. Service Member With-dependent Serves Unaccompanied or Dependent-Restricted Tour or “Unusually Arduous Sea Duty”

A Service member with a dependent who serves an unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour OCONUS or “unusually arduous sea duty” outside the United States is authorized a with-dependent housing allowance based on the dependent’s location. The housing allowance may be based on the old PDS if the dependent remained in the residence shared with the Service member before the PCS, did not relocate, and is not in Government quarters. The housing allowance for the dependent’s location may be authorized or approved to be effective on the date of the lease.

A. FSH Authorization. If the Service member is serving an unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour and single-type Government quarters are not available for assignment at the PDS OCONUS, and the dependent does not reside at or near the PDS, then FSH-O or FSH-B is also authorized. A Service member assigned to “unusually arduous sea duty” is not authorized FSH since Government quarters are available for assignment.
B. Dependent Visit. Table 26-31 specifies changes made to allowances when a dependent visits a Service member serving an unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour. If the Service member is in a BAH area, in Alaska or Hawaii, then the allowance specified in Table 26-30 is either BAH or FSH-B, as applicable. If the Service member is outside the United States, then the allowance is either OHA or FSH-O, as applicable. If all of a Service member’s dependents arrive at his or her PDS OCONUS and stay beyond 90 days, the Service member is not authorized OHA simply because the dependent is present. To be paid OHA the Service member must provide the required documentation (a completed and approved DD 2367) for private-sector leased or owned housing.

d. stop BAH or OHA based on the PDS on the day before the dependent departs.
e. reinstate the with-dependent allowance based on the dependent’s location and FSH as of the departure day. |

C. Initial Tour of Duty. When a Service member serves an unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour at the first PDS, in other words, the initial PDS when coming on active duty, payment of a with-dependent housing allowance is based on one of the designated locations specified in the JTR, Chapter 5, paragraph 050814 if the dependent has been authorized or approved to reside at one of those locations.

D. Transfer Between Unaccompanied or Dependent-Restricted Tours. A Service member transferred between unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tours, whose dependent does not move, continues to be authorized a with-dependent rate based on the dependent’s location. A Service member is authorized a with-dependent rate based on the dependent’s new location if the Service member is transferred between unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tours and the dependent moves from either:

1. The Service member’s old PDS (the PDS before the Service member was assigned on the first unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour) to a designated place.

2. A designated place to another designated place if the move is authorized or approved.

E. Dependent Relocates to Other OHA Location. If a dependent relocates from a designated place at personal expense to any other OHA location that is not in the vicinity of the Service member’s PDS, start OHA based on the new location effective the date private-sector housing is obtained once the required documentation is provided. If the dependent departed from an OHA area, stop the with-dependent allowance based on the designated place effective the day before the dependent departed that location. If the dependent departed from a BAH area, stop the with-dependent allowance the day before the dependent arrives at the new location.

F. Dependent Relocates to Other BAH Location. If the dependent relocates at personal expense from a designated place in a BAH area to a different location in a BAH area that is not at or near the Service member’s PDS, continue BAH based on the previously authorized location (either the old PDS or dependent location before the move). If the dependent relocates from a designated place in an OHA area to a location in a BAH area, start BAH based on the new location on the dependent’s arrival date and stop the OHA the day before dependent’s departure.

G. Situation-Based Rate for Housing Allowance. Table 26-32 specifies situation-based rate information. A housing allowance must not be paid if a Service member is assigned adequate family-type Government quarters at the PDS. Do not start the housing allowance until the Service member terminates the family-type Government quarters assignment.

1. If a Service member is assigned to an unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour at a PDS OCONUS and he or she is required to perform a TDY anywhere in the world, due to a transfer to another unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour, and the dependent continues to reside at the same location then continue to pay the housing allowance based on the dependent’s permanent residence.

2. If a Service member is assigned to an unaccompanied or dependent-restricted tour at a PDS OCONUS and the Service member is required to perform a TDY due to a transfer to the United States, and the dependent continues to reside at the same location then continue to pay a housing allowance based on the dependent’s permanent residence location through the day before the Service member’s reporting day to the new PDS. Start BAH or OHA based on the new PDS, the day the Service member reports at that PDS.

3. If a Service member is assigned to “unusually arduous sea duty” in the United States and the dependent is not residing with the Service member at the unit’s home port then pay BAH based on the unit’s home port. The Service member may request a waiver through the Secretarial process for BAH or OHA to be based on the old PDS if the dependent remained in the residence shared with the Service member before the PCS, or based on the dependent’s current location.

261005. Reserve Component (RC) Member

A DoD retired Service member ordered to active duty is authorized the same housing allowances as an RC member. A lease agreement or verifiable purchase price is required before OHA payment.

A. Order Duration. An RC member called or ordered to active duty for 30 or fewer days is authorized the RC rate (BAH-RC), except for contingency operations or for an AGR member. A Service member called or ordered to active duty for 31 or more days, except a Service member without a dependent during initial entry training, is authorized BAH or OHA. An RC member initially on a tour of 30 or fewer days who receives an order modification or assignment extension with a prospective, new active-duty period of 31 or more days receives BAH or OHA on the modification date. If the new period is 31 or more days, BAH-RC stops the day before the amendment or modification and BAH or OHA based on the primary residence starts on the modification date. Periods of active duty previously served may not be added together to meet the requirement for BAH or OHA that active duty exceeds 30 days. See paragraph 261010 for the rate for a Service member in accession pipeline travel.
1. Called or Ordered to Active Duty for 30 or Fewer Days. If the RC member is called or ordered to active duty for 30 or fewer days and the duty is not in support of a contingency operation, then start BAH-RC on the first day of active duty. If the duty is in support of a contingency operation, then start BAH or OHA based on the primary residence at the time called or ordered to active duty beginning on the first day of active duty.

2. Called or Ordered to Active Duty for Other than Training or Active Duty for Training (ADT) for 31 or More Days. An RC member called or ordered to ADT for a period lasting between 31 and 139 days, receives BAH or OHA based on the primary residence at the time called or ordered to ADT beginning on the first day of active duty. An RC member called or ordered to active duty for other than training for a period lasting between 31 and 180 days, except if he or she is without a dependent during initial entry training, is authorized BAH or OHA based on the primary residence beginning on the first day of active duty. This rate continues for the tour duration except as otherwise specified in this chapter.

3. Called or Ordered to ADT for 140 or More Days or Other than Training for 181 or More Days and Authorized HHG Transportation. Except when supporting a contingency operation, the initial rate ends on the day before the RC member reports at the duty location specified in the active-duty order. Whether or not the duty is in support of a contingency operation, BAH or OHA based on the primary residence starts at the time called or ordered to active duty for training, beginning on the first day of active duty and continues through the day before arrival at the PDS. BAH or OHA based on the PDS location begins on the day the RC member reports at that location. An RC member called or ordered to ADT for 140 or more days at one location or other than training for 181 or more days is authorized BAH or OHA in the same manner as a Service member already on active duty. OHA or BAH is not authorized for an RC member assigned adequate Government quarters to his or her grade and dependency status at the PDS.

4. Called or Ordered to ADT for 140 or More Days but not Authorized HHG Transportation. If the RC member is not authorized HHG transportation (e.g., duty is not performed for 140 or more days at one location), he or she receives BAH or OHA based on the primary residence at the time called or ordered to active duty, except as specified for an RC member OCONUS without a dependent. An RC member without a dependent authorized PCS allowances but not HHG transportation to a location OCONUS and Government quarters are not available, receives BAH or OHA based on the primary residence, unless the rate at the PDS is authorized or approved through the Secretarial Process.

5. Called or Ordered to Active Duty Other than Training for 181 or More Days but not Authorized HHG Transportation. An RC member called or ordered to active duty for other than training for 181 or more days who is not authorized HHG transportation for a PCS receives BAH or OHA based on the primary residence, except as specified for an RC member OCONUS without a dependent in subparagraph 261005.A.6. The member must be residing at any of the following locations at the time called or ordered to active duty:

   a. At locations outside the local commuting distance of the RC member’s primary residence and the duty is not for more than 180 consecutive days at one location.
b. At a location other than the RC member’s primary residence but authorized TDY allowances as specified in the JTR, Chapter 3.

c. At a location to which the RC member commutes from his or her primary residence.

d. At a location OCONUS for a prospective period of less than 12 months.

6. RC Member Without-dependent OCONUS. An RC member without a dependent—or who has no dependents other than for whom he or she is paying child support—and who is not authorized FSH as specified in Section 2607 receives BAH or OHA based on the primary residence. If the following conditions apply:

a. The RC member is authorized PCS allowances to a location OCONUS.

b. The RC member is not authorized PCS HHG transportation because the prospective period is less than 12 months. HHG transportation under a TDY order, as specified in the JTR, Chapter 2, does not affect this housing allowance authority.

c. Government quarters are not available at the PDS.

Then the Service may determine that it is inequitable to pay a housing allowance based on the primary residence. A housing allowance based on the PDS may be authorized or approved through the Secretarial Process. If Government quarters are available for assignment to the RC member at the PDS, he or she receives only BAH or OHA based on the primary residence.

7. Called or Ordered to Active Duty for Contingency. An RC member called or ordered to active duty in support of a contingency operation is authorized BAH or OHA based on the primary residence beginning on the first day of active duty. This rate is authorized even for duty of 30 or fewer days. This rate continues for the duration of the tour unless the RC member is authorized PCS HHG transportation, in which case the rate for the PDS would apply on the day the RC member reports to the PDS.

8. Injured or Physically Disabled While on Active Duty or on Inactive-Duty Training

a. An RC member injured or physically disabled due to an injury, illness, or disease incurred or aggravated in the line of duty during any of the following is authorized BAH or OHA:

(1) Performing active duty.

(2) While on inactive-duty training, other than work or study in connection with a correspondence course of an armed force, or attendance in an inactive status at an education institution under the sponsorship of an armed force or the USPHS.
(3) While authorized incapacitation pay, which may include BAH or OHA under DoDI 1241.01 (RC Line of Duty Determination for Medical and Dental Treatments and Incapacitation Pay Entitlements).

b. BAH or OHA is based on the primary residence and is paid beginning on the date the RC member becomes entitled to incapacitation pay. BAH or OHA for an eligible RC member may not be paid for more than 6 months except when, in the interest of fairness and equity, the Secretary concerned or the Secretary’s designee extends incapacitation pay. For offsets, see 37 U.S.C. §204(g) and (h), and DoDI 1241.01 (RC Line of Duty Determination for Medical and Dental Treatments and Incapacitation Pay Entitlements).

9. Order Modification or Amendment. When an RC member receives an order modification or amendment extending his or her assignment, the prospective new active-duty period determines the authority for housing allowances. If the prospective period is 140 or more days for training or 181 or more days and HHG are authorized for the PCS, the BAH-RC or BAH or OHA based on the primary residence stops the day before the modification or amendment and BAH or OHA based on the PDS begins on the modification date.

B. Contingency Operation. An RC member called or ordered to active duty in support of a contingency operation is authorized BAH or OHA for the duration of the tour. If the RC member receives a PCS order authorizing HHG transportation, BAH or OHA is based on the new PDS. However, if the Service member is called or ordered to active duty and a PCS order is not issued, BAH or OHA is based and paid on the primary residence location at the time called or ordered to active duty except for an AGR member.

C. AGR Member. An AGR member’s BAH or OHA is based on the PDS, even when the Service member is mobilized for active duty other than for AGR duty, provided the Service member does not have a break in service. The rate based on the PDS applies for the duration of the tour. If the AGR member receives a PCS order authorizing HHG transportation, BAH or OHA is based on the new PDS. However, if the Service member is called or ordered to active duty without a break in service and a PCS order authorizing HHG transportation is not issued, BAH or OHA is based and paid on the PDS location at the time called or ordered to active duty. A break in service occurs when 1 or more calendar days between active-duty service periods do not qualify as active-duty service. If an AGR member has a break in service when called to active duty for other than AGR duty, then the Service member is paid a housing allowance as for any other RC member (for example, the primary-residence rate).

D. RC Member Married to Service Member. Unless an RC member is assigned to a contingency operation or is an AGR member when he or she is called to active duty for 30 or fewer days, the RC member is authorized the RC rate (BAH-RC) without-dependent rate if he or she is not assigned to Government quarters and is married to another Service member on active duty without a dependent. For such an RC member on active duty for 31 or more days, each Service member is authorized BAH or OHA at the without-dependent rate. If a Service member in this situation has a dependent, BAH or OHA is paid as for an active-duty member.
261006. Government Defers Dependent Travel

A. When the Government defers dependent travel at Government expense to a Service member’s new PDS pending housing availability, in the CONUS or OCONUS, a with-dependent housing allowance continues to be paid at the old PDS rate, or at the rate for the dependent’s location if the dependent relocated there at Government expense. In a case in which the Secretarial Process previously authorized a housing allowance based on the dependent’s location, that rate continues.

B. FSH-O or FSH-B for the Service member’s location starts when the Service member obtains private-sector housing.

C. The payment of the with-dependent allowance and FSH-O or FSH-B continues for 60 days after dependent travel is authorized. If the 60-day time period expires, a dependent has not arrived at the Service member’s PDS, and an extension to the 60-day period has not been granted through the Secretarial Process, a housing allowance is not authorized for the dependent’s location. However, the Service member is authorized a with-dependent allowance based on the PDS location.

D. Table 26-34 specifies changes to a housing allowance when the Government defers a dependent’s travel to a duty station OCONUS.

261007. Dependent Travels Before or After Service Member

When a PCS order has been issued, the Service member’s family may perform PCS travel at a different time than the Service member.

A. Housing Allowance Based on Dependent’s Location or Old PDS. Unless otherwise authorized or approved, a Service member’s housing allowance is based on the PDS. If authorized or approved through the Secretarial Process, a Service member may be authorized a housing allowance based on the location at which a dependent maintains a permanent residence or the old PDS. Situations that are routinely authorized or approved at a lower level than the Service Secretary are listed in subparagraph 261002.B. An example of advance travel is the member’s family travels ahead to get settled before school starts. An example of delayed travel is the family remains at the old PDS until the school year ends.

B. Secretarial Determinations. The Secretary concerned may determine that other circumstances may require a dependent to reside separately from the Service member and authorize or approve a housing allowance payment based on either the dependent’s location or the old PDS. If the Secretary concerned determined that an additional reason for a BAH or OHA waiver was acceptable, the Secretarial Process may then be used to authorize or approve individual cases based on that determination.

C. Rates Applicable

1. If a dependent relocates, the rate applicable to the dependent’s new residence location is effective on the date the dependent arrives.

2. If the dependent does not relocate, the with-dependent allowance is based on the higher of the rates for the dependent’s location or the Service member’s old PDS and continues until the dependent departs the authorized or approved location.
3. A Service member is generally authorized BAH-Transit while on leave and travel between PDSs. However, in situations in which the Secretary concerned has authorized or approved an advance or delayed travel situation, the authorized or approved allowance at the with-dependent rate applies. In delayed travel situations, when the dependent departs the authorized or approved location, the allowance changes to the new PDS if the Service member has already arrived there or to the BAH-Transit if the Service member is still in transit.

D. Advance Travel. In all cases of advance travel, if the Service member is assigned Government quarters at the old PDS and a housing allowance has not been approved by the Secretarial process for the dependent’s location, do not start either BAH or OHA.

1. Table 26-37 specifies changes to housing allowances when the old PDS and new PDS are in the BAH area.

261008. Early Return of Dependent

A. Early Return at Government Expense

1. When all of a Service member’s dependents are returned from a PDS OCONUS at Government expense not due to a PCS, regardless of the reason for the return, the Service member is authorized a housing allowance at the with-dependent rate based on the dependent’s permanent residence location effective on the arrival day. If the dependent’s location is in an OHA area, start OHA on the date private-sector housing is acquired.

2. OHA, or BAH in Alaska or Hawaii, at the with-dependent rate for the Service member’s PDS OCONUS stops on the day before the day the rate for the dependent’s permanent residence starts. If the Service member resides in private-sector housing after the dependent’s departure and single-type Government quarters are not available, FSH-O or FSH-B for the Service member’s PDS location is authorized effective on the day the rate for the dependent’s permanent residence location begins. If Government quarters are assigned or made available to the Service member following a dependent’s departure, no housing allowance is payable for the Service member’s PDS.

3. Whether or not a Service member is assigned family Government quarters:
   a. If the dependent’s location is in a BAH area, start with-dependent BAH based on dependent residence location as of the dependent’s arrival date.
   b. If the dependent’s location is in an OHA area, start OHA on the date private-sector housing is acquired for the dependent (based on the paperwork).

4. When a Service member assigned to Government family-type quarters terminates the quarters assignment and single-type Government quarters are not available, start FSH effective on the termination date or the date private-sector housing for the Service member is acquired (based on the paperwork for OHA), whichever is later.

5. If a Service member is not assigned to Government family-type quarters then stop the with-dependent rate based on the PDS on the day before the allowance rate based on the dependent’s location starts. If single-type Government quarters are not available, start FSH-O or FSH-B the day the allowance based on the dependent’s location starts.

B. Early Return at Personal Expense. When all of a Service member’s dependents returned early from a PDS OCONUS at personal expense, the Service member is not authorized a second housing allowance and the housing allowance at the with-dependent rate based on the Service member’s PDS continues without change, unless there is an OHA-related paperwork change. If the Service member vacates family-type Government quarters that were occupied by the dependent before the dependent’s departure, the Service member is authorized an allowance at the with-dependent rate for the Service member’s PDS. If a Service member assigned family Government quarters at the PDS OCONUS terminates a Government quarters assignment:
1. If in a BAH area, start with-dependent BAH based on the PDS as of the termination date.

2. If in an OHA area, start with-dependent OHA based on the PDS as of the date (based on the paperwork) private-sector housing is acquired or the termination date, whichever is later.

261009. Evacuation of a Service Member’s PDS

A. Service Member with a Dependent

1. PDS OCONUS-Command-Sponsored Dependent (see Chapter 67)
   a. A Service member, whose command-sponsored dependent is evacuated and who was authorized a with-dependent housing allowance on the evacuation date, continues to be paid that allowance while the Service member’s PDS remains unchanged and the Service member continues to maintain private-sector housing, as long as the command-sponsored dependent is receiving evacuation allowances.

   b. If a dependent, command sponsored for OCONUS COLA, is authorized to return to the PDS after being evacuated, no housing allowance actions are required, whether or not the Service member is assigned quarters at the PDS.

   c. If a dependent’s return to the PDS is not authorized or approved, then the dependent must select a designated place and will continue to receive evacuation allowances as specified in the JTR, Chapter 6. A Service member is authorized a with-dependent allowance based on the location of the designated place beginning the day after the evacuation allowance ends, whether or not the Service member is assigned Government quarters at the PDS.

   (1) If the Service member is not assigned Government quarters at the PDS, OHA or BAH based on the PDS OCONUS stops on the day before the allowance based on the designated place starts.

   (2) If Government quarters are not available for the Service member at a PDS OCONUS, start FSH-O or FSH-B based on the PDS on the same day as the with-dependent allowance based on the designated place starts.

2. PDS OCONUS—Non-Command Sponsored Dependent
   a. If the evacuation occurs 89 or fewer days after a dependent arrived at the Service member’s PDS OCONUS and the Service member is still being paid a with-dependent allowance based on the dependent’s permanent residence or designated place as well as FSH-O or FSH-B based on the PDS OCONUS rate, then no changes in housing allowances are required. Whether the Service member is assigned Government quarters at the PDS is not a factor.
b. If the evacuation occurs 90 or more days after a dependent arrived at the Service member’s PDS OCONUS and the Service member is now being paid a with-dependent allowance based on the PDS, reinstate OHA or BAH based on the dependent’s prior permanent residence or designated place on the dependent’s departure day from the PDS. Stop the with-dependent OHA or BAH allowance based on the PDS the day before the dependent departs. If after the dependent departs and Government quarters are not available for the Service member, then start FSH based on the PDS on the day the dependent departs the PDS.

3. PDS in the CONUS

   a. A Service member who was authorized a with-dependent BAH on the date the dependent was evacuated continues to be paid BAH as long as the dependent is receiving evacuation allowances when both of the following conditions apply:

   (1) The Service member’s PDS remains unchanged.

   (2) The Service member continues to maintain private-sector housing.

   b. If a dependent is authorized to return to the PDS after being evacuated, no housing allowance actions are required. Whether the Service member is assigned Government quarters at the PDS is not a factor.

   c. If the return of a dependent to the PDS is not authorized or approved, the dependent is directed to select a designated place and continue to receive evacuation allowances as provided in the JTR, Chapter 6 until he or she establishes a permanent residence. A Service member is authorized a with-dependent allowance based on the designated place beginning the day after evacuation allowances end. BAH based on the PDS stops the day before evacuation allowances end.

B. Service Member Without-Dependent. A Service member without a dependent, who was authorized OHA or BAH at the PDS on the date an evacuation is ordered or authorized, and who continues to maintain a private-sector residence, continues to be authorized the allowance even though the Service member temporarily may be required to occupy Government quarters or be sent on a TDY. When the commanding officer believes the Service member will not be permitted to return to the private-sector housing in the foreseeable future, the commander must encourage the Service member to end the private-sector housing at the earliest practical date and end OHA or BAH concurrent with the private-sector housing termination.
261010. Service Member in Transit

BAH-Transit is a temporary housing allowance paid while a Service member is in a travel or leave status between PDSs, provided the Service member is not assigned Government quarters while at the old or new PDS. If the Service member performs a TDY en route at the new PDS, BAH or OHA for the new PDS begins the day of arrival in a TDY status at the new PDS. If the Service member performs a TDY en route at a location near, but outside the limits of, the new PDS or to the home port of a ship, afloat staff, or afloat unit, per diem stops as specified in the JTR, Chapter 5. BAH or OHA for the new PDS begins the day per diem stops.

A. Old PDS in the United States. A Service member’s old PDS is the PDS for BAH purposes from the day the Service member departs the old PDS through the day before the Service member reports to the new PDS in compliance with a PCS order. If the Service member had been residing in Government quarters at the old PDS, the Service member is authorized BAH as of the Government quarters termination date.

B. Old PDS Outside the United States. When a Service member’s old PDS is outside the United States, and the Service member is not assigned Government quarters, the Service member is authorized OHA through the day before departing the PDS outside the United States. The day the Service member departs, OHA is no longer authorized and the Service member is authorized BAH-Transit if the Service member is not receiving a with-dependent housing allowance for a dependent residing separately. If the Service member is being paid BAH at the with-dependent rate for a dependent residing separately, that BAH rate continues until the Service member arrives at the new PDS. If the Service member is being paid OHA at the with-dependent rate for a dependent residing separately, that OHA rate continues provided the dependent remains at the location outside the United States. If the dependent also performs PCS travel, BAH-Transit applies.

C. New Accession. A Service member in the accession pipeline includes a Service member who is undergoing initial entry training, including an RC member, a student—including Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) and Officer Candidate School—without prior military Service, or a Service academy graduate upon graduation, until arrival at the first PDS. The Service member remains in the accession pipeline until the Service member arrives at a PDS, including a training location of 20 or more weeks. An RC member remains in the accession pipeline until he or she completes entry-level training or arrives at a PDS, whichever occurs first.

1. Service Member Without-dependent. A Service member in the accession pipeline without a dependent is authorized BAH-Transit when in a travel, leave en route, or proceed time status while transferring from the initial entry training location, between training locations, and to the first PDS. For BAH authorization only (not locality rate), the training sites are defined as a PDS except for an RC member without a dependent. A Service member without a dependent is not authorized BAH (except BAH-Partial) while at the training locations since Government quarters are assigned at the PDS. An RC member without a dependent attending accession training is authorized BAH or OHA based on the primary residence location at the time called or ordered to active duty if the Service member maintains a residence and continues to be responsible for rent, or owns the residence.
2. Service Academy or ROTC Graduate Without-dependent. A Service academy or ROTC graduate without a dependent is authorized a housing allowance at the without-dependent rate for the graduation or commissioning location through the day before departure en route to the training location, if he or she:

   a. Remains on active duty at the graduation or commissioning location following graduation and commissioning before proceeding to another duty station.

   b. Is not assigned Government quarters.

3. Service Member with a Dependent. The BAH rate for a new accession with a dependent is based on the dependent’s location if the location is in the United States. If dependent is located outside the United States, BAH is based on the training site location. If an officer who was previously authorized a housing allowance at the without-dependent rate for the graduation or commissioning location specified in subparagraph 261010.C.2 acquires a dependent, the officer’s housing allowance at the with-dependent rate becomes based on the dependent’s location effective the date the dependent is acquired.

D. Retirement or Separation

1. From a PDS in the United States. A Service member’s old PDS is the PDS for BAH purposes from the day the Service member departs the old PDS through the separation or retirement date. If the Service member had been residing in Government quarters at the old PDS, the Service member is authorized BAH beginning the date Government quarters are terminated provided the Service member is still on active duty.

2. From a PDS Outside the United States

   a. Establishes Residence Outside the United States. A Service member at a PDS outside the United States, who is processing for retirement or separation or on leave after processing, and who intends to establish a residence in an OHA-based area after retirement or separation, is eligible for OHA. To be paid OHA under any of the circumstances listed, the Service member must provide a lease and a completed and approved 2367.

      (1) If the Service member continues to occupy private-sector leased or owned housing at or in the PDS vicinity, OHA continues until the date of separation or retirement.

      (2) If the Service member occupies private-sector leased or owned housing after vacating Government quarters or moves to different private-sector housing in the same country, OHA starts on the date the Service member obtains private-sector housing and stops on the date of separation or retirement.

      (3) If a Service member at a PDS outside the United States moves to a different country that is an OHA area to establish a residence after separation or retirement, the Service member is eligible for a housing allowance based on the residence location. OHA starts on the day the Service member obtains private-sector housing and stops on the date of separation or retirement. However, if the Service member is being paid OHA at the with-dependent for dependents residing separately, that OHA rate continues provided the dependents remain at the location OCONUS.

b. Returns to a U.S. Processing Station. If not assigned Government quarters, a Service member separating or retiring at a PDS outside the United States, who returns to the United States for retirement or separation processing, is authorized OHA through the day before departing the PDS outside the United States. The day the Service member departs that PDS, OHA is no longer authorized. The Service member is authorized the BAH rate for the retirement or separation processing location if he or she is not receiving a with-dependent housing allowance for a dependent residing separately. If the Service member is being paid a with-dependent BAH rate for a dependent residing separately, that BAH rate continues until the Service member separates or retires. NOAA’s Marine and Aviation Operations and Commissioned Personnel Centers are the processing stations for NOAA.

c. Returns to the United States After Completing Separation or Retirement Processing Overseas. If not assigned Government quarters, a Service member retiring or separating at a PDS outside the United States, who returns to the United States after completing retirement or separation processing at the overseas PDS, and who does not have a processing location within the United States, is authorized OHA through the day before departing the PDS outside the United States. The day the Service member departs that PDS, OHA is no longer authorized. The Service member is authorized the BAH rate for the leave address provided as part of the final processing if he or she is not receiving a housing allowance at the with-dependent rate for a dependent residing separately. If the Service member is being paid a BAH at the with-dependent rate for a dependent residing separately, that BAH rate continues until the Service member separates or retires.

E. Decision Process for a Service Member in Transit

1. In all cases for a Service member in transit:

a. If a Service member is assigned Government quarters adequate for the Service member and the dependent, if applicable, the Service member is not authorized BAH or OHA. Start BAH or OHA effective the date of quarters termination, if applicable.

b. If the Service member has a Secretarial waiver to pay BAH based on the previous PDS, or BAH based on the dependent’s location, then continue that rate until the Service member arrives at the new PDS. If a Secretarial waiver is for an OHA location, continue the OHA rate if the dependent remains at the OHA location.

c. Payment of OHA requires a lease agreement or a verifiable purchase price.
2. If a Service member is participating in the Educational Leave Program Relating to Continuing Public and Community Services, and the Service member is authorized BAH or OHA, start BAH or OHA based on the designated unit of assignment during scheduled school breaks or leave periods.

3. If a Service member receives an appropriate authorization or order associated with a prolonged hospitalization determination and is transferred from any PDS to a hospital in the United States for observation or treatment, pay BAH based on the hospital location if the Service member is authorized BAH.

4. Table 26-45 specifies housing allowances for a Service member in transit on a PCS. Table 26-46 specifies housing allowances for a Service member who is a new accession. Table 26-47 specifies housing allowances for a Service member awaiting final discharge or in processing for separation or retirement.

261011. Service Member in a Missing Status

A. Service Member Without-dependent. A Service member without a dependent carried in a missing status is authorized without-dependent BAH. Pay BAH at the without-dependent rate based on the PDS for a Service member whose PDS is in the United States. If the Service member had a Secretarial waiver to receive BAH based on the former PDS due to a low-cost or no-cost PCS, then that BAH rate continues. Pay BAH at the without-dependent rate based on the home of record (HOR) location for a Service member whose PDS is outside the United States. If the Service member’s HOR and PDS are outside the United States then pay the without-dependent BAH-Transit rate. See Chapter 34 (Pay Entitlement of Members Missing, Missing in Action, Interned, and Payments to Dependents).

B. Service Member With-dependent. A Service member with a dependent continues to receive the housing allowance authorized upon entering the missing status. If the dependent relocates, pay the housing allowance at the with-dependent rate based on the dependent’s location.
261012. Service Member in Confinement

Pretrial confinement, restraint other than confinement, or an adjudged sentence of restriction alone does not affect a Service member’s BAH authority.

A. Transferred to a Confinement Facility. When a Service member who is serving a court-martial sentence to confinement is transferred to a confinement facility, then the BAH or OHA rate is based on the dependent’s location if the Service member is authorized a housing allowance, other than BAH partial, while confined. A Service member is not authorized a housing allowance unless authorized basic pay. All rules concerning whether a Service member in civil or foreign confinement, including pre-trial, is authorized basic pay are covered in Chapter 1 (Creditable Service). This rule does not address a Service member’s authority for a housing allowance when civil or foreign authorities confine the Service member.

B. In Confinement

1. BAH or OHA does not accrue while the Service member is confined pursuant to a court-martial and the sentence is effective or approved or when the Service member was not receiving BAH or OHA on the day before confinement and Government quarters assignment was not terminated before or during confinement. Service procedures must specify how and by whom Government quarters termination must be certified. Confinement imposed pursuant to a court-martial sentence begins the date the sentence is adjudged (10 U.S.C. §857(a), (b)).

   a. If a Service member is in confinement in a guardhouse, brig, or correctional barracks pursuant to a court-martial—not including pretrial confinement, restraint other than confinement, or an adjudged sentence of restriction alone—then the Service member’s BAH or OHA accrues if the sentence is set aside or disapproved. The Service member must be otherwise authorized to receive BAH or OHA.

   b. A Service member without-dependents who is confined in a guardhouse, brig, or correctional barracks, was assigned to single-type, Government quarters before confinement, and remains assigned to such quarters during confinement is authorized BAH-Partial unless forfeiture of allowances was directed. If he or she is restrained in a status of arrest in assigned single-type Government quarters, and therefore not authorized BAH or OHA, then the Service member is authorized BAH-Partial unless forfeiture of allowances was directed.

2. For FSH, a Service member in military confinement or otherwise restricted by military authority continues FSH for 60 or fewer days without certificate from the Service member. The FSH may continue for more than 60 days, but payment must be supported by the Service member’s certification that he or she maintained private-sector housing at the PDS.
261013. Housing Allowance Following Service Member’s Death

BAH or OHA continuation or payment to the surviving dependent of a Service member who dies on active duty is authorized for 365 days. It is paid to the dependent when, on the date of the Service member’s death, the dependent either does not occupy Government quarters, is occupying Government quarters on a rental basis, or vacates Government quarters within 365 days of the Service member’s death.

A. Not Payable. The housing allowance is not payable to a dependent who killed the Service member, unless there is evidence that clearly absolves the dependent of any felonious intent. It also is not payable to a surviving dependent of an RC member if that RC member dies while on inactive duty.

B. Payment Priority. Payments to a surviving dependent are made first to the current spouse. If there is no current spouse, the housing allowance is divided equally among the dependents on whose behalf the deceased Service member was receiving a with-dependent housing allowance.

C. Payment Amount and Method. The housing allowance is paid in the same amount and in the same manner as the deceased Service member would have been paid. The housing allowance may be paid quarterly as an advance payment, but must be reconciled. Housing allowance payments to the dependent are not subject to collection of any debts owed by the deceased Service member to the United States.

D. Surviving Service Member Spouse. (37 U.S.C. §403(1)) The allowance in this paragraph may be paid to a deceased Service member’s spouse even if the spouse is also a Service member entitled to basic pay. The allowance is paid to the surviving Service member spouse in addition to any other pay and allowances to which the surviving Service member spouse is authorized as a Service member. The following payment rules apply:

1. Dual housing-allowance payments are authorized for a surviving Service member spouse.

2. When any dependents other than a surviving Service member spouse are involved, the housing allowances are paid in the same manner that was provided for before the Service member’s death. If the surviving Service member spouse was drawing the without-dependent housing allowance on the Service member’s date of death, that rate would continue for 365 days. On day 366, the surviving Service member spouse’s housing allowance could change to the with-dependent rate.

3. If the family vacates Government quarters, the surviving Service member spouse is paid the housing allowance that would have been paid to the deceased Service member, as well as the housing allowance to which the surviving Service member spouse is authorized. In this case, the surviving Service member spouse may determine on whose behalf the with-dependent and the without-dependent housing allowances are paid.
4. If the deceased Service member was receiving a with-dependent housing allowance solely for a dependent who may not be claimed by the surviving Service member spouse, the surviving Service member spouse is only authorized housing allowance continuation at the without-dependent rate. The remainder—the difference between the with-dependent and without-dependent rates—is divided equally among the dependents on whose behalf the deceased Service member was receiving the with-dependent rate.

E. Rate Defining Location

1. If a Service member with a dependent dies on active duty while assigned to a PDS in the United States, then the housing allowance for the dependent is based on the deceased Service member’s PDS, regardless of the location where the dependent chooses to reside unless the dependent is in receipt of a Secretarial waiver.

2. If a Service member with a dependent dies on active duty while assigned to a PDS outside the United States, then the housing allowance for the dependent is based on the location where the dependent resides, or chooses to reside, in the United States. If the dependent stays overseas, the housing allowance is based on the OHA rate—and the documented cost—for the location where the dependent resides. It then changes to BAH based on the United States location where the dependent later decides to reside on the date that any dependent arrives there or the date that all dependents have departed the PDS location, whichever is later. Authority exists for 365 days after the Service member’s death.

3. If a Service member with a dependent dies on active duty and a dependent resides in Government quarters, then the housing allowance for the dependent is based on the dependent’s location the day that the Government housing facilities were vacated. That rate continues for 365 days, less the number of days the Government housing facilities were occupied following the date of the Service member’s death. If the Government housing was outside the United States, pay the housing allowance based on the location where the dependent chooses to reside.

261014. Housing Flexibility for Certain Armed Forces Members With-dependents, Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Within the United States (37 USC §403a). Effective for PCS departures on or after October 1 2018.

A. General. An eligible Armed Forces member with-dependents may be permitted certain housing flexibility while under a PCS order within the United States during a covered relocation period (DoDI 1315.18, Encl 3, paragraph 10).

B. Eligibility. An Armed Forces member with-dependents with PCS orders within the United States that may be authorized housing flexibility under this paragraph is an Armed Forces member who has one of the following:

1. A spouse who is gainfully employed or enrolled in a degree, certificate or license granting program at the beginning of the covered relocation period.
2. One or more dependents attending an elementary or secondary school at the beginning of the covered relocation period.

3. One or more dependents enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program.

4. An immediate family member with a chronic or long-term illness at the beginning of the covered relocation period for whom the member is caring.

C. Covered Relocation Period. The covered relocation period begins 180 days before the date of the PCS, which is the date the Armed Forces member leaves the current PDS and ends 180 days after the date of the PCS. The Secretary concerned may lengthen or shorten the covered relocation period through the Secretarial process based on the needs of the Armed Forces. See the decision support tools.

D. Expiration. If the Armed Forces member’s eligibility expires for any reason during the covered relocation period, that period is terminated and housing is paid at the PDS where the Armed Forces member is assigned at that time. If the Armed Forces member departs the old PDS, and the persons that are the basis of the eligibility do not arrive at the new PDS within the covered relocation period, housing allowances are paid at new PDS location rate beginning the day after the relocation period ends.

E. Authority. The dependents of an Armed Forces member may perform PCS travel at a different time than the Armed Forces member once the PCS order has been issued. Unless otherwise authorized or approved, the Armed Forces member’s housing allowance is based on the PDS. However, an eligible Armed Forces member may request a housing allowance based on the dependents location. If authorized or approved through the Secretarial Process for dependents who relocate in advance or after the Armed Forces member, a housing allowance under this paragraph may be based on one of the following:

1. The new PDS.

2. The location the dependents reside when the Armed Forces member departs for the new PDS (only for the time the dependents reside in that area).

3. The area of the Armed Forces member’s former PDS, but only if different than the area the dependent resides.

CHAPTER 27

FAMILY SEPARATION ALLOWANCE (FSA)

2701 GENERAL

270101. Purpose

The chapter provides policy for FSA. FSA provides compensation for added expenses incurred because of an enforced family separation under one of the conditions in subparagraphs 270203.A.1 through 3. FSA is payable to qualified members serving inside or outside the United States. It is not authorized when a member performs duty at any station under permissive orders (except when subparagraph 270401.C applies).

270102. Authoritative Guidance

The pay policies and requirements established by the Department of Defense (DoD) in this chapter are derived primarily from, and prepared in accordance with Title 37, United States Code (U.S.C.), section 427. Due to the subject matter in this chapter, the list of authoritative sources is extensive. The specific statutes, regulations, and other applicable guidance that govern each individual section are listed in a reference section at the end of the chapter.

2702 ENTITLEMENT PROVISIONS

270201. Types Authorized

FSA is payable to members with dependents. FSA is payable in addition to any other allowance or per diem, to which a member may be entitled. The member, however, may not receive more than one payment of FSA for the same period, even though qualified for FSA - Restricted (FSA-R), FSA - Ship (FSA-S), and FSA - Temporary (FSA-T).

270202. Definitions

A. Dependents. The term “dependents” has the same meaning as defined in the Volume 7A, Definitions and is further defined in subparagraphs 270202.A.1 through 270202.A.3:

1. Child. A dependent child(ren) is an unmarried child(ren) of the member who is in the legal custody of the member. Legal custody includes a circumstance in which the member has been awarded joint physical and legal custody of a dependent child(ren) as a result of a court ordered custody agreement or finalized divorce decree, which provides that the child(ren) physically reside with the member on an equal basis (no less than 14 days during a month) as compared to the time the child(ren) reside(s) with the former spouse, and the member’s actual physical custody of the child(ren) is precluded due to an enforced family separation described under paragraph 270203. Such a custody arrangement must be stipulated in the signed court order or divorce decree, subject to the verification by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned. See subparagraph 270301.C.

270203. FSA

A. When Payable. FSA is payable to a member serving in any grade as a member with dependents. The member must meet all general requirements and one of the following conditions:

1. FSA - R

   a. The member’s dependents, including dependents acquired after the effective date of Permanent Change of Station (PCS) orders (see Table 27-1 (FSA Commencement Dates), rules 8 and 9), do not live in the vicinity of the member’s homeport/PDS, and their transportation to or near the PDS is not authorized at government expense (see paragraph 270401).

   b. Transportation of dependents is authorized at government expense, but member elects an unaccompanied tour of duty because a dependent cannot accompany the member to, or at that homeport/PDS due to certified medical reasons, regardless of the date on which the member first made the election to serve an unaccompanied tour.

2. FSA - S. The member is on duty aboard a ship, and the ship is away from the homeport continuously for more than 30 days.

NOTE: The dependents are not required to reside in the vicinity of the homeport.

3. FSA - T. The member is on Temporary Duty (TDY) or Temporary Assigned Duty (TAD) away from the PDS continuously for more than 30 days, and the member’s dependents do not reside at or near the TDY or TAD station. This includes members who are required to perform a period of the TDY or TAD before reporting to their initial station of assignment. Members on an unaccompanied tour are entitled to FSA-T for TDY or TAD periods of over 30 continuous days if the member’s dependents do not reside at or near the TDY or TAD station and they do not reside near the PDS as defined in paragraph 270303.

B. Amount Payable

Effective October 1, 2002, FSA is payable in a monthly amount of $250.

C. Conditions:

1. For specific commencement dates, see Table 27-1;
2. For overseas eligibility, see Table 27-2;
3. For specific dates to stop FSA, see Table 27-3; and
4. For specific conditions of entitlement, see Table 27-4.

D. Member Married to Member

1. FSA is payable to a member married to another member regardless of whether the member has any non-active duty dependents, when all other general conditions are met, and provided members were residing together immediately before being separated by reason of execution of military orders.

   a. Except as provided in subparagraph 270203.D.2, not more than one monthly FSA may be paid with respect to a married military couple for any month. Each member may be entitled to FSA within the same month, but both cannot simultaneously be entitled. Payment will be made to a member whose orders resulted in the separation. If both members receive orders requiring departure on the same day, then payment will go to the senior member.

   b. If a member meets the requirements for credit of FSA, but entitlement is precluded by an existing entitlement status of the spouse, then the second member may, if still qualified, immediately become entitled to FSA upon termination of the spouse’s status. The couple may qualify for sequential entitlements to FSA, provided military orders keep them continuously separated.

   c. In order to qualify for a subsequent entitlement to FSA, a married member couple, no longer separated by reason of military orders, must reestablish a joint household and reside together.

2. FSA is payable to both married members when they reside together with their dependents immediately before being separated from dependents, by competent orders to assignments prescribed in subparagraphs 270203.A.1 through 3. Each member’s entitlement is determined individually based on assignment and separation from dependents. The dual allowance will continue until one of the members is no longer assigned to one of those duty assignments. The other member will continue to receive the allowance until no longer assigned to one of those duty assignments. This is true even when both members are assigned to the same duty location away from their dependents.

3. In the case of a member married to another member, and the couple has a child, one member may claim the child for entitlement to Basic Allowance for Housing and the other member, when otherwise entitled, may claim the child for entitlement to FSA. The FSA entitlement may alternate between members based on the same dependent. However, FSA may not be paid simultaneously to both members on behalf of the same dependent, except as provided in subparagraph 270203.D.2. See subparagraph 270401.D.

2703 DEPENDENTS SEPARATION REQUIREMENTS

270301. Dependents

A member is not considered “a member with dependents” for FSA entitlement when:

A. The sole dependent is placed in an institution for a known period of over 1-year or for an indefinite period, which may be expected to exceed 1-year;

B. The sole dependent is a spouse legally separated or child(ren) in the legal custody of another person. An exception occurs when the member has joint physical and legal custody of the child(ren) and the child(ren) otherwise would reside with the member at least 14 days each month, for the current assignment. In such assignment, the member will be considered as a “member with dependents” for FSA entitlement;

C. The member has been awarded joint legal and physical custody of the child(ren) as a result of a court ordered custody agreement or finalized divorce decree, which provides that the child(ren) physically reside with the member less than 14 days during the month;

D. The member’s dependent parent does not reside in the home, which the member controls, supervises, and maintains for mutual use when circumstances permit; or

E. A dependent is entitled to active duty basic pay. This does not negate an entitlement to FSA to a couple comprised of a member married to another member with no other dependents. Such a couple is entitled to FSA.

270302. Temporary Social Visits by Dependents

A. FSA-R. Credit continues to accrue while the member’s dependents visit at or near the member’s PDS, but for no longer than 3 continuous months. Facts clearly must show that the dependents merely are visiting (not changing residence) and that the visit is temporary and not intended to exceed 3 months. If, for unforeseen reasons (due to illness or other emergency), a bona fide social visit extends beyond 3 months, then stop credit for FSA at the end of the 3-month period. If the visit initially is intended to exceed 3 months, then stop FSA credit the day before the dependents arrive at the member’s PDS. Credit is again authorized on and after the day that the dependents depart from the PDS. A member is entitled to FSA-R, even though one or more (but not all) dependents visit for longer than 3 months if the member is entitled on behalf of the dependents who are not visiting the member.

B. FSA-S. Credit continues to accrue to the member whose dependents are visiting at or near the duty station (or any port) continuously for 30 days or less. Facts must show that the dependents merely are visiting. If the visit exceeds 30 days, then entitlement to FSA-S ends on the day preceding the date of dependent arrival, unless the visit is extended because of illness or other emergency. Under such circumstances, payment of FSA-S is limited to 30 days. Entitlement to FSA-S exists if one or more (but not all) of the dependents visit for longer than 30 days if the member otherwise is entitled to FSA-S on behalf of the dependents who are not visiting the member.

C. FSA-T. Credit continues to accrue to a member whose dependents visit at or near the TDY or TAD continuously for 30 days or less. Facts must show that the dependents are merely visiting. If the visit exceeds 30 days, then the member is not entitled to FSA-T for any part of the period, unless the visit is extended because of illness or other emergency. Under such circumstances, payment of the allowance is limited to 30 days. Entitlement to FSA-T resumes on the day that the dependents depart the TDY or TAD, if the member’s TDY or TAD extends for more than 30 days from that date. Entitlement to FSA-T exists if one or more (but not all) of the dependents visit for longer than 30 days if the member otherwise is entitled on behalf of the dependents who are not visiting the member.

270303. Dependents Reside Near Duty Station

A. FSA does not accrue to a member if all of the dependents reside at or near the duty station. If some (but not all) of the dependents voluntarily reside near the duty station, then FSA may accrue on behalf of those dependents who do not reside at or near the duty station. Consider dependents as residing near a duty station if the member actually commutes daily, regardless of distance. Also, consider dependents as residing near a duty station if they live within a reasonable commuting distance of that station, whether or not the member commutes daily. A distance of 50 miles, one way, is normally considered to be within reasonable commuting distance of the station, but the 50-mile rule is not inflexible.

B. Unusual conditions may permit a determination that dependents do not live within a reasonable commuting distance, even though the distance involved is less than 50 miles one way. In a situation where the distance is less than 50 miles, but the time required to commute one way by commonly used route and method of transportation would exceed one and a half hours, the dependents will be considered as not residing near the member’s duty station, unless the member actually commutes daily.

C. If dependents are authorized concurrent travel with the member to the duty station and are subsequently authorized to reside at a point over 50 miles from the member’s duty station for personal reasons, rather than as a result of military restriction on dependents' travel, then FSA entitlement does not accrue.

D. In questionable cases, commanders may submit requests for determination through channels to the appropriate office listed:

1. Army: Deputy Chief of Staff, G-1
   ATTN: DAPE-PRC
   300 Army Pentagon
   Washington, DC 20310

2. Navy: Chief of Naval Operations, (N130)

2704 CONDITIONS OF ENTITLEMENT

270401. Entitlement Incident to Permanent Change of Station (PCS) Reassignments

A. Continental United States (CONUS) Assignments. Conditions of FSA entitlement incident to regular CONUS PCS reassignments and permissive PCS reassignments are detailed in subparagraphs 270401.A.1 through 270401.A.4.

1. Entitlement to FSA upon regular PCS is authorized only when movement of a member’s dependents to the new PDS is not authorized at government expense.

2. Members are entitled to FSA-S when performing duty onboard a ship if the ship is away from the homeport for more than 30 continuous days. If, however, the ship arrives and remains at a port other than the homeport for a period of more than 30 days at a location where the member’s dependents reside, then payment of the FSA-S is precluded if the member resides with the dependents. A member is entitled to FSA-S for redeployment if the member returned to the homeport after the original deployment for a period of 30 days or less and redeployed for a period of more than 30 continuous days.

3. A member who is otherwise entitled to transportation of dependents at government expense, but whose dependent cannot accompany the member to or at that homeport/PDS due to certified medical reasons, is entitled to FSA under this subparagraph.
4. A member who otherwise is authorized movement of dependents at government expense to PDS is not so authorized when he or she is voluntarily reassigned on PCS under permissive orders. Separation from dependents under these circumstances is not an enforced separation due to government requirements. The member, therefore, is not entitled to FSA under this subparagraph.

B. Waiver Provision. See subparagraph 270401.D. for circumstances in which waivers may be granted.

C. Overseas Assignments. Dependents are permitted in some areas overseas and not permitted in others (dependent-restricted areas). A member selected for PCS overseas to an area where his or her dependents are permitted must elect to serve either an unaccompanied or an accompanied tour.

1. Except as waived by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned, a member electing to serve an unaccompanied tour, in lieu of an accompanied tour at a PDS where his or her dependents are permitted, is not entitled to FSA-R for such a tour. A member who is in receipt of accompanied tour orders, and subsequently requests to serve an unaccompanied tour, to include a dependents-restricted tour, in lieu of an accompanied tour at a PDS where his or her dependents are permitted, is not entitled to FSA-R for such a tour. Secretarial waiver of this policy may be granted in situations where it would be inequitable to deny FSA-R to a member because of the unusual family or operational circumstances.

2. See applicable procedures for tour elections and secretarial waiver in the appropriate individual Military Service regulation.

3. Refer to Table 27-2 (FSA-R, Overseas Assignment) for FSA entitlement for otherwise eligible members assigned PCS overseas.

4. A member who voluntarily is reassigned PCS (overseas) under permissive orders from the station where he or she already is entitled to FSA-R remains entitled if reassigned to an area overseas where dependents are not permitted (dependent-restricted tour) or under circumstances authorized by secretarial waiver.

D. Unusual Family or Operational Circumstances Defined. Unusual family or operational circumstances are defined as those in which the Secretary of the Military Department concerned determines that it is in the best interest of the government to permit payment of FSA to members who, through no fault of their own, must relocate in an unaccompanied status under certain circumstances.

1. The Military Services may waive provisions of subparagraphs 270401.A.1, 2, and 3 when it is in the best interest of the government to permit payment to members who, through no fault of their own, must relocate in an unaccompanied status for reasons of equity in the unusual family or operational circumstances. Waiver under these circumstances is effective upon the date granted. This approval authority is hereby granted to:
27-10

a. Service Secretaries or their designated representatives at the headquarters level which governs compensation policy; or

b. Combatant commands and Service major commands.

2. Waiver authority should be used prudently.

3. Waiver under these circumstances is effective upon the date granted:

a. When ordered to a new overseas duty station where terrorist activity would make it inappropriate for dependents to accompany the member; or

b. When ships in overhaul make temporary homeport changes.

4. Provided the requirements of subparagraph 270203.A are met, other than the requirement that the member’s dependents reside at the homeport or PDS, a waiver issued by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned will apply to the entire period of the deployment, an interim period, and redeployment.

E. Delays Caused by the Government (Table 27-2, Note 4). The following are examples of delays in transportation of dependents due to government reasons:

Example 1: On July 1, a member’s advance application for concurrent travel of dependents to the overseas station was disapproved by the CONUS commander due to lack of available government-owned transportation facilities. The commander’s disapproval contained a statement that the anticipated delay for movement of dependents is more than 60 days. The member departed the old station on July 6 and arrived at the overseas station on July 7 where government quarters were not available. Dependents joined the member on September 26 having performed travel under orders dated September 10. The member was entitled to FSA for the period July 6 through September 25.

Example 2: The member applied for a dependency determination for his or her dependent mother on June 3 and was transferred overseas on September 14. After arrival overseas, the member received approval of the dependency application for his or her dependent mother retroactive to May 1. The mother was not authorized concurrent travel to the member’s PDS because the determination of dependency had not been made on the effective date of those orders. Delay in processing the dependency application was caused by the government. Before the transfer overseas, the member had maintained quarters to be shared with his or her mother. An enforced separation resulted upon transfer overseas. Credit for FSA accrues from the date the member departed from the PDS or the first day of authorized travel time, whichever is later, through the day before the date that his or her dependent mother arrived at the overseas station.

F. Changes in Tour Elections. See Table 27-2, rules 12 and 13.
G. Dependents Evacuated. A member is entitled to FSA if separated from dependents as a result of either an authorized evacuation or an ordered evacuation, provided that the requirements for FSA are otherwise met. Payment does not begin until the 31st day of an ordered evacuation. FSA is not payable when evacuation is due to member or dependent misconduct.

H. Dependents’ Travel Prohibited Under Immigration Laws. No entitlement to FSA-R accrues if a dependent is authorized transportation at government expense but is not eligible under immigration laws for entry into the United States before a member reports to the new PDS. (Entitlement to FSA-T or FSA-S is not affected by this subparagraph.)

270402. Unit Ordered on Exercise for More Than 30 Days

Otherwise qualified members of a unit are entitled to FSA-T when the unit is ordered on an exercise for more than 30 days.

270403. FSA During a Missing Status

FSA-T continues to accrue to a qualified member while in a missing status unless there is a change in the status of the dependents, which would terminate entitlement. See Table 27-3 (Date to Stop FSA). A member may qualify for FSA-T while in a missing status if a continuous period of more than 30 days is completed after entry into the missing status. See paragraph 270404.

Example: A member departed the PDS on TDY or TAD August 9, was downed by hostile fire while flying over enemy territory on September 2, remained in a missing status until November 4, and returned to PDS on November 10. The member qualified for FSA-T on September 8. If otherwise qualified, then entitlement exists for FSA-T for the period August 9 to November 9.

270404. Computation of Single or Multiple Periods of More Than 30 Days

A. FSA-T for Single Periods. Credit for FSA-T may not be applied until the member has been on TDY or TAD away from his PDS continuously for more than 30 days. Compute this period as follows:

1. Count actual number of days in the month, including the day the member departs the PDS on TDY or TAD and the day of return to the PDS. Include the 31st day of the month in this computation, even though payment is made on a 30-day month basis, as prescribed in Chapter 1, section 0102.

2. Include days of authorized travel time to and from the TDY or TAD station. When there is no delay enroute chargeable as leave, count the day of departure from the PDS and the day of return to the PDS. When delay enroute chargeable as leave is authorized, count the constructive day of departure and the constructive day of return. Compute these days as follows:
a. Constructive day of departure from the PDS is either the actual date of detachment plus days of authorized leave, proceed time, and permissive travel days used or the first day of authorized travel, whichever is later.

b. Constructive day of return to the PDS is the actual date of return minus number of days leave authorized and used, minus the number of permissive travel days actually used.

Example 1: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered TDY or TAD to site B for training of approximately 30 days. Training is to begin June 1. The member is authorized travel by privately owned conveyance (POC) as more advantageous to the government, and 5 days of leave enroute. The member departs from site A on May 25 and uses 5 days of leave enroute to site B. The member completes the training on June 27, departs from site B on June 28, and returns to duty at site A on June 30. Constructive day of departure is May 30. The period of absence is 32 days (May 30 - June 30). If a member qualifies under paragraph 270203, then entitlement exists to FSA-T for 30 days (i.e., there is no entitlement for May 31 and June 30).

Example 2: Circumstances are the same as in Example 1, except that the member uses 5 days of leave after completion of training. The member departs from site A on May 30, completes training on June 27, departs from site B on June 28, and returns to duty at site A on July 5. The constructive day of return is June 30. The period of absence is 32 days, computed as in Example 1. If the member otherwise qualifies, then entitlement exists to FSA-T for 30 days.

3. When TDY or TAD is authorized in conjunction with PCS, include days of authorized travel time to the TDY or TAD station and from the TDY or TAD station to the new duty station. When there is no delay enroute or proceed time involved, count the day of departure from the old duty station and the day of arrival at the new duty station. When delay enroute and proceed time are authorized and used, the day of departure from the old station and the day of arrival at the new station will be constructed in the manner indicated in subparagraphs 270404.A.2.a and b. Proceed time authorized and used will be included with the delay when making the computation. Consecutive assignments to TDY or TAD in conjunction with PCS may be combined in determining the 30-day period.

4. Under specific circumstances, when travel in connection with TDY or TAD is performed by POC for the convenience of the traveler, payment based on actual travel expenses may be more economical to the government than payment based on constructive travel time over a usually traveled route. In that case, the Joint Travel Regulations (JTR) authorizes travel payment based on the actual mode of transportation. In computing the more than 30 days required for entitlement to FSA-T under these circumstances, ensure that the computation is based on the mode of transportation, which governed payment of a particular member’s travel allowance. Computation for FSA-T entitlement under this subparagraph is not necessarily based on constructive travel time.
5. If a member’s TDY or TAD status is interrupted, then do not combine days before the interruption with those after the interruption to compute a continuous period of more than 30 days. Periods of leave, hospitalization, military confinement in a pay status, or short visits to the PDS do not interrupt the period unless the member is relieved from the attachment to the TDY or TAD station. A member who returns to the PDS to assume a duty status (such as participation in official flights) does interrupt a period of TDY or TAD. If leave enroute is authorized after detachment from the TDY or TAD station, then add constructive travel time from the TDY or TAD station to the PDS to the period of TDY or TAD in determining the 30-day period.

B. FSA-T for Multiple Periods of Deployment. Provided the conditions of subparagraph 270203.A.3 are met, the periods of FSA-T eligibility for multiple periods of TDY or TAD deployment, including the periods between such deployments, are calculated as follows:

1. Count. Although payment is made on a 30-day month basis, count the actual number of days in each applicable month, to include the 31st day of the month, as one of the actual days.

2. Computation. Calculate the FSA-T period of the initial TDY or TAD deployment to determine the initial deployment period as described in subparagraph 270404.A.

3. Interim and Redeployment Period
   a. The interim period begins on the day after the initial deployment through the day prior to redeployment. The interim period must be 30 days or less.
   b. The redeployment period begins the day that the member departs the PDS and ends upon return to the PDS. The redeployment period must be more than 30 days and will be added to the interim period.

Example 1: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered to perform TDY or TAD at site B for 45 days, with departure from PDS on January 2 and return to PDS on February 15. The member departs from PDS on March 18 for redeployment of 35 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-T for the initial deployment, he or she is eligible for continued FSA-T for the total 65 days of interim/redeployment period (actual interim period of 30 days and redeployment of 35 days).

Example 2: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered to perform TDY or TAD at site B for 60 days, with departure from PDS on March 1 and return to PDS on April 29. The member departs from PDS on May 31 for redeployment of 40 days. Although the member qualified for the initial 60-day period deployment, he or she is ineligible for the interim period. The actual interim period is 31 days (April 30 - May 30). The member would be entitled to FSA-T for the actual redeployment period (40 days).
Example 3: The member permanently stationed at site A is ordered to perform TDY or TAD at site B for 31 days, with departure from PDS on June 1 and returns to the PDS on July 1. The member departs from PDS on July 2 for redeployment of 41 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-T for the initial deployment of 31 days, he or she is eligible for the continued FSA-T for the interim/redeployment period (actual interim period is 0 days, actual redeployment period is 41 days).

C. FSA-S for Single Periods. Credit for FSA-S may not be applied until the member has been on duty onboard a ship away from the homeport of the ship for a continuous period of more than 30 days. Periods of leave, TAD, hospitalization, military confinement in a pay status, or short visits by the member (not the ship) to the homeport of the ship do not interrupt the qualifying period unless the member is detached (PCS) from the ship. Consecutive assignments to duty onboard two or more ships away from the homeport may be combined to meet this requirement. See Example 5. In computing the continuous period of more than 30 days, count the actual number of calendar days (including the 31st day of the month) that the member was on duty onboard a ship while it was away from its homeport. Include in this computation the day of departure onboard a ship from its homeport (or the day the member joins or rejoins a ship away from its homeport, if applicable) and the day of return onboard a ship to its homeport. The following examples show how to compute the more-than-30-day period and the related amount of FSA-S payable.

Example 1: A member onboard a ship that departs its homeport on June 15 and returns on July 15 is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $250 (actual period of 16 days in June and 15 days in July = 31 days; 16 days in June and 14 days in July = 30 days for payment).

Example 2: A member onboard a ship that departs its homeport on October 5 and returns on November 4 is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $241.83 (actual period of 27 days in October and 4 days in November = 31 days; 26 days in October and 3 days in November = 29 days for payment).

Example 3: A member onboard a ship that departs from its homeport on February 25 (non-leap year) and returns on March 26 is not entitled to FSA-S since the absence is not more than 30 days (actual period of 4 days in February and 26 days in March).

Example 4: A member who reports onboard a ship on May 25 while it is away from the homeport and returns with the ship to the homeport on June 30 is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $291.67 (actual period of 7 days in May and 30 days in June = 37 days; 6 days in May and 29 days in June = 35 days for payment).

Example 5: A member onboard a ship A that departed from its homeport on August 2 was transferred (PCS) to ship B on August 18 (detached and attached the same day) while ship B was away from its homeport. The member remains aboard ship B until it returns to the homeport on September 6. The member is entitled to FSA-S in the amount of $283.33 (actual period of 30 days in August and 6 days in...
September = 36 days; 29 days in August and 5 days in September = 34 days for payment).

D. FSA-S for Multiple Periods of Deployment. Provided the conditions of subparagraph 270203.A.2 are met, the periods of FSA-S eligibility for multiple periods of TDY or TAD deployment aboard a ship, including the period between such deployments, are calculated as follows:

1. Count. Although payment is made on a 30-day month basis, count the actual number of days in each applicable month by including the 31st day of the month as one of the actual days.

2. Computation. Calculate the FSA-S period of the initial deployment aboard a ship as described in subparagraph 270404.C.

3. Interim and Redeployment Period

   a. The interim period begins on the day after the initial deployment through the day prior to redeployment. The interim period must be 30 days or less.

   b. The redeployment period begins on the day that the member departs the ship’s homeport and ends upon returning to the homeport. The redeployment period must be more than 30 days and will be added to the interim period.

Example 1: A member is onboard a ship that departed from the homeport on January 2 and returned to the homeport on February 15. The same member is onboard a ship that departed from the homeport on March 18 for a redeployment of 35 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-S for the initial deployment, the member is eligible for continued FSA-S for the total 65 days of interim/redeployment period (actual interim period of 30 days and redeployment of 35 days).

Example 2: A member is onboard a ship that departed from the homeport on March 1 and returned to the homeport on April 29. The member also was onboard a ship that departed the homeport on May 31 for a redeployment of 40 days. Although the member qualified for the initial 60-day deployment, the member is ineligible for the interim period. Consequently, the actual interim period is 31 days (April 30 through May 30). The member would be entitled to FSA-S for the actual redeployment (40 days).

Example 3: A member is onboard a ship that departed from the homeport on June 1 and returned to the homeport on July 1. The same member was onboard a ship that departed the homeport July 2 for a redeployment of 41 days. Since the member qualified for FSA-S for the initial deployment of 31 days, the member is eligible for the continued FSA-S for the interim/redeployment period (actual interim period is 0 days, actual redeployment period is 41 days).
E. Restrictions. The following restrictions apply to subparagraphs 270404.A and B:

1. There are separate 30-day requirements to qualify for FSA-T or FSA-S, and periods of TDY or TAD and duty aboard ship while away from homeport may not be combined for the purpose of FSA entitlement.

2. Periods of hospitalization or TDY or TAD for more than 30 days by the member at a place residing with his or her dependents may not be included when calculating whether the 30-day requirement was met.

270405. Ship Moves from Homeport

When a ship moves from its homeport to another port within 50 miles of the homeport (or one and a half hours travel time as prescribed in paragraph 270303), those members attached to the ship, whose dependents do not reside at or near such homeport under the criteria of paragraph 270303, do not become entitled to FSA-S.

Example 1: A member, upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location outside the current 50-mile (or one and a half hours travel time) limit from the homeport of the ship. When the movement of the ship is less than 50 miles (or one and a half hours travel time) from the homeport, FSA-S is not payable to those members. If, however, the ship moves more than 50 miles (or one and a half hours travel time) from the homeport, then FSA-S is payable if members otherwise are entitled.

Example 2: A member, upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location outside the current 50-mile (or one and a half hours) limit of the ship’s homeport of the ship. Subsequently, the ship moves from the homeport and, on the 29th day, docks at a port inside the 50-mile (or one and a half hours travel time) limit of the homeport for 5 days. The ship then returns to the homeport. The docking of the ship within the 50-mile limit would, for purposes of this example, have the same consequence as if the ship had returned to its homeport since (a) the member’s dependents do not reside at or near the homeport, and (b) the ship did not move to a location more than 50 miles (or one and a half hours travel time) from the port. Therefore, entitlement to FSA-S does not accrue.

Example 3: A member, upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location outside the current 50-mile (or one and a half hours) limit of the homeport of the ship, but actually commutes. The movement of the ship from the homeport results in the member being unable to commute. In this example, the member’s dependents would be considered as being in the area of the homeport. Since, after movement of the ship to a new location, the member is unable to commute, the member would meet the requirement for FSA-S, provided the dependents resided more than 50 miles (or one and a half hours travel time) from the new location.
Example 4: A member, upon reassignment to a ship, moves the family to a location within the 50-mile (or one and a half hours travel time) limit, the movement of the ship resulting in the residence being located outside the 50-mile (or one and a half hours travel time) limit for some of the members, but not all. Those members whose dependents reside more than 50 miles (or one and a half hours travel time) from the ship’s new location and who do not commute, would fulfill the vicinity requirement for entitlement to FSA-S. Those members whose dependents reside within 50 miles (or one and a half hours travel time) of the ship’s new location of the ship would not become entitled to FSA-S by virtue of the ship’s movement.

NOTES:
1. Do not pay FSA-T or FSA-S until the member has been on TDY or TAD or on duty aboard ship away from homeport continuously for more than 30 days (or, if applicable, for more than 30 days after the date that a dependent is acquired). In computing the amount payable, the 31st day of any month should be excluded from the computation and February should be treated as if it actually had 30 days. (See paragraph 270404.)
2. Does not apply if the ship is in a port (other than its homeport) located within commuting distance of the residence of the member’s dependents continuously for more than 30 days. Also, see paragraph 270405.
3. The effective date of PCS orders is the date a member is required to begin travel from the old PDS or the last TDY or TAD, in order to arrive at the new PDS on the date authorized by the mode of transportation authorized. (JTR, Appendix A, Effective Date of PCS Order)
4. A member who acquired an initial dependent after the date of departure from old station enroute PCS to CONUS from overseas or enroute PCS within CONUS, but no later than the effective date of the PCS order, is entitled to travel for dependent at government expense based on JTR, Chapter 5. Therefore, the member is not entitled to FSA-R. (In this case, no tour election provision exists to overcome the travel provision.)
5. If already started under paragraph 270302, the entitlement continues upon departure of dependents from the duty station.
6. FSA-R does not accrue if the member was onboard a ship when the change in homeport was declared, except under paragraph 270401.

</table>

NOTES:
1. In all cases, entitlement exists only if dependents do not live at or near the duty station. (See paragraph 270303.) In areas where dependents are not permitted, member does not have to apply for transportation of dependents or to elect type of tour.
2. These tours include dependent restricted tours and situations where the member is not authorized to serve an accompanied-with-dependents tour in those locations where such tours are authorized.
3. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may waive the provision in this rule to authorize FSA-R in cases where unusual family or operational circumstances exist for the member. See subparagraph 270401.D for conditions subject to waiver and individual Military Service regulations for procedures for requesting a waiver from the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.
4. Where dependents’ travel delay is not due to government reasons, but member is required to perform TDY or TAD enroute, family separation for period of TDY or TAD is considered to be due to military requirements and member is entitled to FSA-R under Table 27-4, rule 11.
5. Delays due to government reasons include:
   a. lack of transportation facilities,
   b. disapproval by CONUS commanders,
   c. disapproval for reasons of health (i.e., pregnancy of wife), and
   d. insufficient service retainability or time remaining in the overseas tour.
6. FSA-R continues if member acted timely to apply for transportation of the dependents and the application was disapproved because of the lack of service retainability or time remaining in the overseas tour.

2. If a delay enroute and/or proceed time is authorized and used, then use a constructive date of arrival. Constructive date will be computed by deducting the number of days' leave and/or proceed time authorized and used from the actual date of arrival.
3. If delay enroute and/or proceed time is authorized, then use the constructive date. (See subparagraph 270404.A.)
4. Applies when stay in the institution is initially not expected to exceed 1-year.
5. FSA-S continues if the member is detached and attached the same day to another ship away from its homeport.

NOTES:
1. Must meet the requirements of paragraph 270203.
2. A new determination of entitlement is required if member’s PDS changes.
3. More than 90 days is prolonged hospitalization.
4. Members are not entitled to FSA-R or FSA-T during authorized leave enroute or proceed time (see Table 27-1, rules 1 and 2). See Table 27-3, rule 9 for date to stop FSA.
5. If the dependent’s residence is within commuting distance of the place where member is in such status, then FSA-S will continue for 30 days only.
6. Does not apply if member is detached and attached the same day to another ship away from its homeport (subparagraph 270404.B).
7. Not more than one monthly allowance may be paid with respect to each member of a married military couple for any month. The dual allowance will continue until one of the members is no longer assigned to one of those duty assignments. The other member will continue to receive the allowance until no longer assigned to one of those duty assignments.
